PREFACE

These volumes of West's Texas Statutes and Codes include, in compact and convenient form, the text of all the general and permanent laws of the State of Texas enacted through the Regular Session and First Called Session of the 63rd Legislature, and the Texas Constitution, as amended through November 6, 1973.

The laws in West's Texas Statutes and Codes are under the same classification as Vernon's Annotated Texas Statutes and Vernon's Texas Codes Annotated. Therefore, the user of this edition may go from any article or section herein to the same article or section in the annotated editions, where the complete constructions of the laws by the state and federal courts, historical data relative to the origin and development of the law, and other helpful research aids, are conveniently available.

Scope of Volumes

Volume 1 contains the Constitution of the State of Texas; the Business and Commerce Code; the Education Code; the Family Code; the Penal Code; Penal Auxiliary Laws (Liquor Control Act; Game, Fish and Oysters); the Code of Criminal Procedure; and the Water Code. The Business and Commerce, Education, Family, Penal and Water Codes are units of the Texas Legislative Council's on-going statutory revision program, authorized by Civil Statutes, Art. 5429b-1.

Volume 2 contains the Business Corporation Act; Title 32, Corporations, of the Civil Statutes; the Election Code; the Insurance Code; Title 78, Insurance, of the Civil Statutes; the Probate Code; and Title 122, Taxation, and Title 122A, Taxation-General, of the Civil Statutes.

Volumes 3 to 5 contain the balance of the text of the Civil Statutes.

Tables

Disposition Tables are provided following each Code and throughout the Civil Statutes, providing a means of tracing repealed subject matter to parallel provisions.

Special laws pertaining to education and water, which were neither repealed by, nor incorporated into, the Education and Water Codes, are tabulated following the respective Codes.

Additionally, Disposition Table 2 of the Penal Code shows the new official citations or classifications of unrepealed articles of the Texas Penal Code of 1925.

PREFACE

Indexes

A separate detailed descriptive word Index follows the Constitution, each Code and the Penal Auxiliary Laws to facilitate the search for specific provisions found therein. Laws in the Civil Statutes may be located by means of the Topical Index at the end of Volume 5.

That the general, great and essential principles of liberty and free government may be recognized and established, we declare:

§ 1. Freedom and Sovereignty of State

Sec. 1. Texas is a free and independent State, subject only to the Constitution of the United States, and the maintenance of our free institutions and the perpetuity of the Union depend upon the preservation of the right of local self-government, unimpaired to all the States.

[Adopted Feb. 15, 1876.]

§ 2. Inherent Political Power; Republican Form of Government

Sec. 2. All political power is inherent in the people, and all free governments are founded on their authority, and instituted for their benefit. The faith of the people of Texas stands pledged to the preservation of a republican form of government, and, subject to this limitation only, they have at all times the inalienable right to alter, reform or abolish their government in such manner as they may think expedient.

[Adopted Feb. 15, 1876.]

§ 3. Equal Rights

Sec. 3. All free men, when they form a social compact, have equal rights, and no man, or set of men, is entitled to exclusive separate public emoluments, or privileges, but in consideration of public services.

[Adopted Feb. 15, 1876.]

§ 3a. Equality Under the Law

Sec. 3a. Equality under the law shall not be denied or abridged because of sex, race, color, creed, or national origin. This amendment is self-operative. [Adopted Nov. 7, 1972.]

§ 4. Religious Tests

Sec. 4. No religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office, or public trust, in this State; nor shall any one be excluded from holding office on account of his religious sentiments, provided he acknowledge the existence of a Supreme Being.

[Adopted Feb. 15, 1876.]

§ 5. Witnesses not Disqualified by Religious Beliefs; Oaths and Affirmations

Sec. 5. No person shall be disqualified to give evidence in any of the Courts of this State on account of his religious opinions, or for the want of any religious belief, but all oaths or affirmations shall be administered in the mode most binding upon the conscience, and shall be taken subject to the pains and penalties of perjury.

§ 6. Freedom of Worship

Sec. 6. All men have a natural and indefeasible right to worship Almighty God according to the dictates of their own consciences. No man shall be compelled to attend, erect or support any place of worship, or to maintain any ministry against his consent. No human authority ought, in any case whatever, to control or interfere with the rights of conscience in matters of religion, and no preference shall ever be given by law to any religious society or mode of worship. But it shall be the duty of the Legislature to pass such laws as may be necessary to protect equally every religious denomination in the peaceable enjoyment of its own mode of public worship.

§ 7. Appropriations for Sectarian Purposes

Sec. 7. No money shall be appropriated, or drawn from the Treasury for the benefit of any sect, or religious society, theological or religious seminary; nor shall property belonging to the State be appropriated for any such purposes.

§ 8. Freedom of Speech and Press; Libel

Sec. 8. Every person shall be at liberty to speak, write or publish his opinions on any subject, being responsible for the abuse of that privilege; and no law shall ever be passed curtailing the liberty of speech or of the press. In prosecutions for the publication of papers, investigating the conduct of officers, or men in public capacity, or when the matter published is proper for public information, the truth thereof may be given in evidence. And in all indictments for libels, the jury shall have the right to determine the law and the facts, under the direction of the court, as in other cases.

§ 9. Searches and Seizures

Sec. 9. The people shall be secure in their persons, houses, papers and possessions, from all unreasonable seizures or searches, and no warrant to search any place, or to seize any person or thing, shall issue without describing them as near as may be, nor without probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation.

§ 10. Rights of Accused in Criminal Prosecutions

Sec. 10. In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall have a speedy public trial by an impartial jury. He shall have the right to demand the nature and cause of the accusation against him, and to have a copy thereof. He shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself, and shall have the right of being heard by himself or counsel, or both, shall be confronted by the witnesses against him and shall have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, except that when the witness resides out of the State and the offense charged is in violation of any of the anti-trust laws of this State, the defendant and the State shall have the right to produce and have the evidence admitted by deposition, under such rules and laws as the Legislature may hereafter provide; and no person shall be held to answer for a criminal offense, unless on an indictment of a grand jury, except in cases in which the punishment is by fine or imprisonment, otherwise than in the penitentiary, in cases of impeachment, and in cases arising in the army or navy, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger.

§ 11. Bail

Sec. 11. All prisoners shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, unless for capital offenses, when the proof is evident; but this provision shall not be so construed as to prevent bail after indictment found upon examination of the evidence, in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

§ 11-a. Multiple Convictions; Denial of Bail

Sec. 11-a. Any person accused of a felony less than capital in this State, who has been theretofore twice convicted of a felony, the second conviction being subsequent to the first, both in point of time of commission of the offense and conviction therefor may, after a hearing, and upon evidence substantially showing the guilt of the accused, be denied bail pending trial, by any judge of a court of record or magistrate in this State; provided, however, that if the accused is not accorded a trial upon the accusation within sixty (60) days from the time of his incarceration upon such charge, the order denying bail shall be automatically set aside, unless a continuance is obtained upon the motion or request of the accused; provided, further, that the right of appeal to the Court of Criminal Appeals of this State is expressly accorded the accused for a review of any judgment or order made hereunder.

§ 12. Habeas Corpus

Sec. 12. The writ of habeas corpus is a writ of right, and shall never be suspended. The Legislature shall enact laws to render the remedy speedy and effectual.

[Adopted Feb. 15, 1876.]

§ 13. Excessive Bail or Fines; Cruel and Unusual Punishment; Remedy by Due Course of Law.

Sec. 13. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel or unusual punishment inflicted. All courts shall be open, and every person for an injury done him, in his lands, goods, person or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law.

§ 14. Double Jeopardy

Sec. 14. No person, for the same offense, shall be twice put in jeopardy of life or liberty, nor shall a person be again put upon trial for the same offense, after a verdict of not guilty in a court of competent jurisdiction.

§ 15. Right of Trial by Jury

Sec. 15. The right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate. The Legislature shall pass such laws as may be needed to regulate the same, and to maintain its purity and efficiency. Provided, that the Legislature may provide for the temporary commitment, for observation and/or treatment, of mentally ill persons not charged with a criminal offense, for a period of time not to exceed ninety (90) days, by order of the County Court without the necessity of a trial by jury.

[Adopted Feb. 15, 1876. Amended Aug. 24, 1935.]

§ 15-a. Commitment of Persons of Unsound Mind

Sec. 15-a. No person shall be committed as a person of unsound mind except on competent medical or psychiatric testimony. The Legislature may enact all laws necessary to provide for the trial, adjudication of insanity and commitment of persons of unsound mind and to provide for a method of appeal from judgments rendered in such cases. Such laws may provide for a waiver of trial by jury, in cases where the person under inquiry has not been charged with the commission of a criminal offense, by the concurrence of the person under inquiry, or his next of kin, and an attorney ad litem appointed by a judge of either the County or Probate Court of the county where the trial is being held, and shall provide for a method of service of notice of such trial upon the person under inquiry and of his right to demand a trial by jury.

[Adopted Nov. 6, 1956.]

§ 16. Bills of Attainder; Ex Post Facto or Retroactive Laws; Impairing Obligation of Contracts

Sec. 16. No bill of attainder, ex post facto law, retroactive law, or any law impairing the obligation of contracts, shall be made.

[Adopted Feb. 15, 1876.]

§ 17. Taking, Damaging or Destroying Property for Public Use; Special Privileges and Immunities; Control of Privileges and Franchises

Sec. 17. No person's property shall be taken, damaged or destroyed for or applied to public use without adequate compensation being made, unless by the consent of such person; and, when taken, except for the use of the State, such compensation shall be first made, or secured by a deposit of money; and no irrevocable or uncontrollable grant of special privileges or immunities, shall be made; but all privileges and franchises granted by the Legislature, or created under its authority shall be subject to the control thereof.

§ 18. Imprisonment for Debt

Sec. 18. No person shall ever be imprisoned for debt.

[Adopted Feb. 15, 1876.]

§ 19. Deprivation of Life, Liberty, Etc.; Due Course of Law

Sec. 19. No citizen of this State shall be deprived of life, liberty, property, privileges or immunities, or in any manner disfranchised, except by the due course of the law of the land.

[Adopted Feb. 15, 1876.]

§ 20. Outlawry or Transportation for Offence

Sec. 20. No citizen shall be outlawed, nor shall any person be transported out of the State for any offence committed within the same.

[Adopted Feb. 15, 1876.]

§ 21. Corruption of Blood; Forfeiture of Estate; Descent in Case of Suicide

Sec. 21. No conviction shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture of estate, and the estates of those who destroy their own lives shall descend or vest as in case of natural death.

§ 22. Treason

Sec. 22. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it, or adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort; and no person shall be convicted of treason except on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

[Adopted Feb. 15, 1876.]

§ 23. Right to Keep and Bear Arms

Sec. 23. Every citizen shall have the right to keep and bear arms in the lawful defence of himself or the State; but the Legislature shall have power, by law, to regulate the wearing of arms, with a view to prevent crime.

Sec. 48-a. In addition to the powers given the Legislature under Section 48, Article III, it shall have the right to levy taxes to establish a fund to provide retirement, disability and death benefits for persons employed in the public schools, colleges and universities supported wholly or partly by the state; provided that the amount contributed by the state to such fund each year shall be equal to the aggregate amount required by law to be paid into the fund by such employees, and shall not exceed at any time six per centum (6%) of the compensation paid each such person by the state and/or school districts; and provided that no person shall be eligible for retirement who has not rendered ten (10) years of creditable service in such employment, and in no case shall any person retire before either attaining the age fifty-five (55) or completing thirty (30) years of creditable service, but shall be entitled to refund of moneys paid into the fund.

Moneys coming into such fund shall be managed and invested as provided in Section 48b of Section III of the Constitution of Texas; provided a sufficient sum shall be kept on hand to meet payments as they become due each year under such retirement plan, as may be provided by law; and provided that the recipients of such retirement fund shall not be eligible for any other state pension retirement funds or direct aid from the State of Texas, unless such other state pension or retirement fund, contributed by the state, is released to the State of Texas as a condition to receiving such other pension aid; providing, however, that this Section shall not amend, alter, or repeal Section 63 of Article 16 of the Constitution of Texas as adopted November, 1954, or any enabling legislation passed pursuant thereto. [Adopted Nov. 3, 1936. Amended Nov. 6, 1956; Nov. 5, 1968.]

§ 48 - b. Teacher Retirement System of Texas

Sec. 48-b. There is hereby created as an agency of the State of Texas the Teacher Retirement System of Texas, the rights of membership in which, the retirement privileges and benefits thereunder, and the management and operations of which shall be governed by the provisions herein contained and by present or hereafter enacted Acts of the Legislature not inconsistent herewith. The general administration and responsibility for the proper operation of said system are hereby vested in a State Board of Trustees, to be known as the State Board of Trustees of the Teacher Retirement System of Texas, which Board shall be constituted and shall serve as may now or hereafter be provided by the Legislature. Said Board shall exercise such powers as are herein provided together with such other powers and duties not inconsistent herewith as may be prescribed by the Legislature. All moneys from whatever source coming into the Fund to provide retirement, disability, and death benefits for persons employed in the public schools, colleges, and universities supported wholly or partly by the state and all other securities, moneys, and assets of the Teacher Retirement System of Texas shall be administered by said Board and said Board shall be the trustees thereof. The Treasurer of the State of Texas shall be custodian of said moneys and securities. Said Board is hereby authorized and empowered to acquire, hold, manage, purchase, sell, assign, trade, transfer, and dispose of any securities, evidences of debt, and other investments in which said securities, moneys, and assets have been or may hereafter be invested by said Board. Said Board is hereby authorized and empowered to invest and reinvest any of said moneys, securities, and assets, as well as the proceeds of any of such investments, in bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness issued, or assumed or guaranteed in whole or in part, by the United States or any agency of the United States, or by the State of Texas, or by any county, city, school district, municipal corporation, or other political subdivision of the State of Texas, both general and special obligations; or in home office facilities to be used in administering the Teacher Retirement System including land, equipment, and office building; or in such corporation bonds, notes, other evidences or indebtedness, and corporation stocks, including common and preferred stocks, of any corporation created or existing under the laws of the United States or of any of the states of the United States, as said Board may deem to be proper investments; provided that in making each and all of such investments said Board shall exercise the judgment and care under the circumstances then prevailing which men of ordinary prudence, discretion, and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs, not in regard to speculation but in regard to the permanent disposition of their funds, considering the probable income therefrom as well as probable safety of their capital; and further provided, that a sufficient sum shall be kept on hand to meet payments as they become due each year under such retirement plan, as may now or hereafter be provided by law. Unless investments authorized herein are hereafter further restricted by an Act of the Legislature, no more than one per cent (1%) of the book value of the total assets of the Teacher Retirement System shall be invested in the stock of any one (1) corporation, nor shall more than five per cent (5%) of the voting stock of any one (1) corporation be owned; and provided further, that stocks eligible for purchase shall be restricted to stocks of companies incorporated within the United States which have paid cash dividends for ten (10) consecutive years or longer immediately prior to the date of purchase and which, except for bank stocks and insurance stocks, are listed upon an exchange registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission or its successors; and provided further, that so long as less than $500,000-

000 of said Fund is invested in the government and municipal securities enumerated above, not more than thirty-three and one-third per cent (33⅓%) of the Fund shall be invested at any given time in common stocks. This Amendment shall be self-enacting and shall become effective immediately upon its adoption without any enabling legislation. This Section shall not alter, amend or repeal the first paragraph of Section 48a of Article III of the Constitution of Texas as amended November 6, 1956, or any legislation passed pursuant thereto. This Section shall not alter, amend or repeal the second paragraph of Section 48a of Article III of the Constitution of Texas as amended November 6, 1956, or any legislation passed pursuant thereto, except insofar as the provisions of the second paragraph of Section 48a and any legislation passed pursuant thereto, may limit or restrict the provisions hereof and only to the extent of such limitation or restriction.

§ 48 - d. Rural Fire Prevention Districts

Sec. 48-d. The Legislature shall have the power to provide for the establishment and creation of rural fire prevention districts and to authorize a tax on the ad valorem property situated in said districts not to exceed Three (3¢) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation for the support thereof; provided that no tax shall be levied in support of said districts until approved by vote of the people residing therein.

§ 49. State Debts

Sec. 49. No debt shall be created by or on behalf of the State, except to supply casual deficiencies of revenue, repel invasion, suppress insurrection, defend the State in war, or pay existing debt; and the debt created to supply deficiencies in the revenue, shall never exceed in the aggregate at any one time two hundred thousand dollars.

[Adopted Feb. 15, 1876].

§ 49 - a. Financial Statement and Estimate by Comptroller of Public Accounts; Limitation of Appropriations; Bonds

Sec. 49-a. It shall be the duty of the Comptroller of Public Accounts in advance of each Regular Session of the Legislature to prepare and submit to the Governor and to the Legislature upon its convening a statement under oath showing fully the financial condition of the State Treasury at the close of the last fiscal period and an estimate of the probable receipts and disbursements for the then current fiscal year. There shall also be contained in said statement an itemized estimate of the anticipated revenue based on the laws then in effect that will be received by and for the State from all sources showing the fund accounts to be credited during the succeeding biennium and said statement shall contain such other information as may be required by law. Supplemental statements shall be submitted at any Special Session of the Legislature and at such other times as may be necessary to show probable changes.

From and after January 1, 1945, save in the case of emergency and imperative public necessity and with a four-fifths vote of the total membership of each House, no appropriation in excess of the cash and anticipated revenue of the funds from which such appropriation is to be made shall be valid. From and after January 1, 1945, no bill containing an appropriation shall be considered as passed or be sent to the Governor for consideration until and unless the Comptroller of Public Accounts endorses his certificate thereon showing that the amount appropriated is within the amount estimated to be available in the affected funds. When the Comptroller finds an appropriation bill exceeds the estimated revenue he shall endorse such finding thereon and return to the House in which same originated. Such information shall be immediately made known to both the House of Representatives and the Senate and the necessary steps shall be taken to bring such appropriation to within the revenue, either by providing additional revenue or reducing the appropriation.

For the purpose of financing the outstanding obligations of the General Revenue Fund of the State and placing its current accounts on a cash basis the Legislature of the State of Texas is hereby authorized to provide for the issuance, sale, and retirement of serial bonds, equal in principal to the total outstanding, valid, and approved obligations owing by said fund on September 1, 1943, provided such bonds shall not draw interest in excess of two (2) per cent per annum and shall mature within twenty (20) years from date.

§ 49 - b. Veterans' Land Program

Sec. 49-b. By virtue of prior Amendments to this Constitution, there has been created a governmental agency of the State of Texas performing governmental duties which has been designated the Veterans' Land Board. Said Board shall continue to function for the purposes specified in all of the prior Constitutional Amendments except as modified herein. Said Board shall be composed of the Commissioner of the General Land Office and two (2) citizens of the State of Texas, one (1) of whom shall be well versed in veterans' affairs and one (1) of whom shall be well versed in finances. One (1) such citizen member shall, with the advice and consent of the Senate, be appointed biennially by the Governor to serve for a term of four (4) years; but the members serving on said Board on the date of adoption hereof shall complete the terms to which they were appointed. In the event of the resignation or death of any such citizen member, the Governor shall appoint a replacement to serve for the unexpired portion of the term to which the deceased or resigning member had been appointed. The compensation for said citizen members shall be as is now or may hereafter be fixed by the Legislature; and each shall make bond in such amount as is now or may hereafter be prescribed by the Legislature.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office shall act as Chairman of said Board and shall be the administrator of the Veterans' Land Program under such terms and restrictions as are now or may hereafter be provided by law. In the absence or illness of said Commissioner, the Chief Clerk of the General Land Office shall be the Acting Chairman of said Board with the same duties and powers that said Commissioner would have if present.

The Veterans' Land Board may provide for, issue and sell not be exceed Five Hundred Million Dollars ($500,000,000) in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the Veterans' Land Fund, Four Hundred Million Dollars ($400,000,000) of which have heretofore been issued and sold. Such bonds or obligations shall be sold for not less than par value and accrued interest; shall be issued in such forms, denominations, and upon such terms as are now or may hereafter be provided by law; shall be issued and sold at such times, at such places, and in such installments as may be determined by said Board; and shall bear a rate or rates of interest as may be fixed by said Board but the weighted average annual interest rate, as that phrase is commonly and ordinarily used and understood in the municipal bond market, of all the bonds issued and sold in any installment of any bonds may not exceed the rate specified in Section 65 of this Article. All bonds or obligations issued and sold hereunder shall, after execution by the Board, approval by the Attorney General of Texas, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchaser or purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of Texas; and all bonds heretofore issued and sold by said Board are hereby in all respects validated and declared to be general obligations of the State of Texas. In order to prevent default in the payment of principal or interest on any such bonds, the Legislature shall appropriate a sufficient amount to pay the same.

In the sale of any such bonds or obligations, a preferential right of purchase shall be given to the administrators of the various Teacher Retirement Funds, the Permanent University Funds, and the Permanent School Funds.

Said Veterans' Land Fund shall consist of any lands heretofore or hereafter purchased by said Board, until the sale price therefor, together with any interest and penalties due, have been received by said Board (although nothing herein shall be construed to prevent said Board from accepting full payment for a portion of any tract), and of the moneys attributable to any bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board which moneys so attributable shall include but shall not be limited to the proceeds from the issuance and sale of such bonds; the moneys received from the sale or resale of any lands, or rights therein, purchased with such proceeds; the moneys received from the sale or resale of any lands, or rights therein, purchased with other moneys attributable to such bonds; the interest and penalties received from the sale or resale of such lands, or rights therein; the bonuses, income, rents, royalties, and any other pecuniary benefit received by said Board from any such lands; sums received by way of indemnity or forfeiture for the failure of any bidder for the purchase of any such bonds to comply with his bid and accept and pay for such bonds or for the failure of any bidder for the purchase of any lands comprising a part of said Fund to comply with his bid and accept and pay for any such lands; and interest received from investments of any such moneys. The principal and interest on the bonds heretofore and hereafter issued by said Board shall be paid out of the moneys of said Fund in conformance with the Constitutional provisions authorizing such bonds; but the moneys of said Fund which are not immediately committed to the payment of principal and interest on such bonds, the purchase of lands as herein provided, or the payment of expenses as herein provided may be invested in bonds or obligations of the United States until such funds are needed for such purposes.

All moneys comprising a part of said Fund and not expended for the purposes herein provided shall be a part of said Fund until there are sufficient moneys therein to retire fully all of the bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board, at which time all such moneys remaining in said Fund, except such portion thereof as may be necessary to retire all such bonds which portion shall be set aside and retained in said Fund for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law. All moneys becoming a part of said Fund thereafter shall likewise be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund.

When a Division of said Fund (each Division consisting of the moneys attributable to the bonds issued and sold pursuant to a single Constitutional authorization and the lands purchased therewith) contains sufficient moneys to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division, the moneys thereof, except such portion as may be needed to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division which portion shall be set aside and remain a part of such Division for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, may be used for the purpose of paying the principal and the interest thereon, together with the expenses herein authorized, of any other bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board. Such use shall be a matter for the discretion and direction of said Board; but there may be no such use of any such moneys contrary to the rights of any holder of any of the bonds issued and sold by said Board or violative of any contract to which said Board is a party.

The Veterans' Land Fund shall be used by said Board for the purpose of purchasing lands situated in the State of Texas owned by the United States or any governmental agency thereof, owned by the Texas Prison System or any other governmental agency of the State of Texas, or owned by any person, firm, or corporation. All lands thus purchased shall be acquired at the lowest price obtainable, to be paid for in cash, and shall be a part of said Fund. Such lands heretofore or hereafter purchased and comprising a part of said Fund are hereby declared to be held for a governmental purpose, although the individual purchasers thereof shall be subject to taxation to the same extent and in the same manner as are purchasers of lands dedicated to the Permanent Free Public School Fund.

The lands of the Veterans' Land Fund shall be sold by said Board in such quantities, on such terms, at such prices, at such rates of interest and under such rules and regulations as are now or may hereafter be provided by law to veterans who served not less than ninety (90) continuous days, unless sooner discharged by reason of a service-connected disability, on active duty in the Army, Navy, Air Force, Coast Guard or Marine Corps of the United States after September 16, 1940 and who, upon the date of filing his or her application to purchase any such land is a citizen of the United States, is a bona fide resident of the State of Texas, and has not been dishonorably discharged from any branch of the Armed Forces above-named and who at the time of his or her enlistment, induction, commissioning, or drafting was a bona fide resident of the State of Texas, or who has resided in Texas at least five (5) years prior to the date of filing his or her application, and provided that in the event of the death of an eligible Texas Veteran after the veteran has filed with the Board an application and contract of sale to purchase through the Board the tract selected by him or her and before the purchase has been completed, then the surviving spouse may complete the transaction. The foregoing notwithstanding, any lands in the Veterans' Land Fund which have been first offered for sale to veterans and which have not been sold may be sold or resold to such purchasers, in such quantities, and on such terms, and at such prices and rates of interest, and under such rules and regulations as are now or may hereafter be provided by law.

Said Veterans' Land Fund, to the extent of the moneys attributable to any bonds hereafter issued and sold by said Board may be used by said Board, as is now or may hereafter be provided by law, for the purpose of paying the expenses of surveying, monumenting, road construction, legal fees, recordation fees, advertising and other like costs necessary or incidental to the purchase and sale, or resale, of any lands purchased with any of the moneys attributable to such additional bonds, such expenses to be added to the price of such lands when sold, or resold, by said Board; for the purpose of paying the expenses of issuing, selling, and delivering any such additional bonds; and for the purpose of meeting the expenses of paying the interest or principal due or to become due on any such additional bonds.

All of the moneys attributable to any series of bonds hereafter issued and sold by said Board (a "series of bonds" being all of the bonds issued and sold in a single transaction as a single installment of bonds) may be used for the purchase of lands as herein provided, to be sold as herein provided, for a period ending eight (8) years after the date of sale of such series of bonds; provided, however, that so much of such moneys as may be necessary to pay interest on bonds hereafter issued and sold shall be set aside for that purpose in accordance with the resolution adopted by said Board authorizing the issuance and sale of such series of bonds. After such eight (8) year period, all of such moneys shall be set aside for the retirement of any bonds hereafter issued and sold and to pay interest thereon, together with any expenses as provided herein, in accordance with the resolution or resolutions authorizing the issuance and sale of such additional bonds, until there are sufficient moneys to retire all of the bonds hereafter issued and sold, at which time all such moneys then remaining a part of said Veterans' Land Fund and thereafter becoming a part of said Fund shall be governed as elsewhere provided herein.

This Amendment being intended only to establish a basic framework and not to be a comprehensive treatment of the Veterans' Land Program, there is hereby reposed in the Legislature full power to implement and effectuate the design and objects of this Amendment, including the power to delegate such duties, responsibilities, functions, and authority to the Veterans' Land Board as it believes necessary.

Should the Legislature enact any enabling laws in anticipation of this Amendment, no such law shall be void by reason of its anticipatory nature.

This Amendment shall become effective upon its adoption.

[Adopted Nov. 13, 1951. Amended Nov. 6, 1956, Eff. Jan. 1, 1957; Nov. 8, 1960; Nov. 6, 1962; Nov. 11, 1967; Nov. 6, 1973.]

§ 49 - c. Texas Water Development Board; Bond Issue; Texas Water Development Fund

Sec. 49-c. There is hereby created as an agency of the State of Texas the Texas Water Development Board to exercise such powers as necessary under this provision together with such other duties and restrictions as may be prescribed by law. The qualifications, compensation, and number of members of said Board shall be determined by law. They shall be appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate in the manner and for such terms as may be prescribed by law.

The Texas Water Development Board shall have the authority to provide for, issue and sell general obligation bonds of the State of Texas in an amount not to exceed One Hundred Million Dollars (\$100,000,000). The Legislature of Texas, upon two-thirds ( $\frac{2}{3}$ ) vote of the elected Members of each House, may authorize the Board to issue additional bonds in an amount not exceeding One Hundred Million Dollars (\$100,000,000). The bonds authorized herein or permitted to be authorized by the Legislature shall be called "Texas Water Development Bonds," shall be executed in such form, denominations and upon such terms as may be prescribed by law, provided, however, that the bonds shall not bear more than four per cent (4%) interest per annum; they may be issued in such installments as the Board finds feasible and practical in accomplishing the purpose set forth herein.

All moneys received from the sale of State bonds shall be deposited in a fund hereby created in the State Treasury to be known as the Texas Water Development Fund to be administered (without further appropriation) by the Texas Water Development Board in such manner as prescribed by law.

Such fund shall be used only for the purpose of aiding or making funds available upon such terms and conditions as the Legislature may prescribe, to the various political subdivisions or bodies politic and corporate of the State of Texas including river authorities, conservation and reclamation districts and districts created or organized or authorized to be created or organized under Article XVI, Section 59 or Article III, Section 52, of this Constitution, interstate compact commissions to which the State of Texas is a party and municipal corporations, in the conservation and development of the water resources of this State, including the control, storing and preservation of its storm and flood waters and the waters of its rivers and streams, for all useful and lawful purposes by the acquisition, improvement, extension, or construction of dams, reservoirs and other water storage projects, including any system necessary for the transportation of water from storage to points of treatment and/or distribution, including facilities for transporting water therefrom to wholesale purchasers, or for any one or more of such purposes or methods.

Any or all financial assistance as provided herein shall be repaid with interest upon such terms, conditions and manner of repayment as may be provided by law.

While any of the bonds authorized by this provision or while any of the bonds that may be authorized by the Legislature under this provision, or any interest on any of such bonds, is outstanding and unpaid, there is hereby appropriated out of the first moneys coming into the Treasury in each fiscal year, not otherwise appropriated by this Constitution, an amount which is sufficient to pay the principal and interest on such bonds that mature or become due during such fiscal year, less the amount in the sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year.

The Legislature may provide for the investment of moneys available in the Texas Water Development Fund, and the interest and sinking funds established for the payment of bonds issued by the Texas Water Development Board. Income from such investment shall be used for the purposes prescribed by the Legislature. The Legislature may also make appropriations from the General Revenue Fund for paying administrative expenses of the Board.

From the moneys received by the Texas Water Development Board as repayment of principal for financial assistance or as interest thereon, there shall be deposited in the interest and sinking fund for the bonds authorized by this Section sufficient moneys to pay the interest and principal to become due during the ensuing year and sufficient to establish and maintain a reserve in said fund equal to the average annual principal and interest requirements on all outstanding bonds issued under this Section. If any year prior to December 31, 1982 moneys are received in excess of the foregoing requirements then such excess shall be deposited to the Texas Water Development Fund, and may be used for administrative expenses of the Board and for the same purposes and upon the same terms and conditions prescribed for the proceeds derived from the sale of such State bonds. No grant of financial assistance shall be made under the provisions of this Section after December 31, 1982, and all moneys thereafter received as repayment of principal for financial assistance or as interest thereon shall be deposited in the interest and sinking fund for the State bonds; except that such amount as may be required to meet the administrative expenses of the Board may be annually set aside; and provided, that after all State bonds have been fully paid with interest, or after there are on deposit in the interest and sinking fund sufficient moneys to pay all future maturities of principal and interest, additional moneys so received shall be deposited to the General Revenue Fund.

All bonds issued hereunder shall after approval by the Attorney General, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of Texas.

Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such acts shall not be void by reason of their anticipatory nature.

[Adopted Nov. 5, 1957.]

§ 49 - d. Acquisition and Development of Water Storage Facilities; Filtration, Treatment and Transportation of Water; Enlargement of Reservoirs

Sec. 49-d. It is hereby declared to be the policy of the State of Texas to encourage the optimum development of the limited number of feasible sites available for the construction or enlargement of dams and reservoirs for conservation of the public waters of the state, which waters are held in trust for the use and benefit of the public. The proceeds from the sale of the additional bonds authorized hereunder deposited in the Texas Water Development Fund and the proceeds of bonds previously authorized by Article III, Section 49-c of this Constitution, may be used by the Texas Water Development Board, under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe by General Law, including the requirement of a permit for storage or beneficial use, for the additional purposes of acquiring and developing storage facilities, and any system or works necessary for the filtration, treatment and transportation of water from storage to points of treatment, filtration and/or distribution, including facilities for transporting water therefrom to wholesale purchasers, or for any one or more of such purposes or methods; provided, however, the Texas Water Development Fund or any other state fund provided for water development, transmission, transfer or filtration shall not be used to finance any project which contemplates or results in the removal from the basin of origin of any surface water necessary to supply the reasonably foreseeable future water requirements for the next ensuing fifty-year period within the river basin of origin, except on a temporary, interim basis.

Under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe by General Law the Texas Water Development Fund may be used for the conservation and development of water for useful purposes by construction or reconstruction or enlargement of reservoirs constructed or to be constructed or enlarged within the State of Texas or on any stream constituting a boundary of the State of Texas, together with any system or works necessary for the filtration, treatment and/or transportation of water, by any one or more of the following governmental agencies: by the United States of America or any agency, department or instrumentality thereof; by the State of Texas or any agency, department or instrumentality thereof; by political subdivisions or bodies politic and corporate of the state; by interstate compact commissions to which the State of Texas is a party; and by municipal corporations. The Legislature shall provide terms and conditions under which the Texas Water Development Board may sell, transfer or lease, in whole or in part, any reservoir and associated system or works which the Texas Water Development Board has financed in whole or in part.

Under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe by General Law, the Texas Water Development Board may also execute long-term contracts with the United States or any of its agencies for the acquisition and development of storage facilities in reservoirs constructed or to be constructed by the Federal Government. Such contracts when executed shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas in the same manner and with the same effect as state bonds issued under the authority of the preceding Section 49-c of this Constitution, and the provisions in said Section 49-c with respect to payment of principal and interest on state bonds issued shall likewise apply with respect to payment of principal and interest required to be paid by such contracts. If storage facilities are acquired for a term of years, such contracts shall contain provisions for renewal that will protect the state's investment.

The aggregate of the bonds authorized hereunder shall not exceed $200,000,000 and shall be in addition to the aggregate of the bonds previously authorized by said Section 49-c of Article III of this Constitution. The Legislature upon two-thirds (2/3) vote of the elected members of each House, may authorize the Board to issue all or any portion of such $200,000,000 in additional bonds herein authorized.

The Legislature shall provide terms and conditions for the Texas Water Development Board to sell, transfer or lease, in whole or in part, any acquired storage facilities or the right to use such storage facilities together with any associated system or works necessary for the filtration, treatment or transportation of water at a price not less than the direct cost of the Board in acquiring same; and the Legislature may provide terms and conditions for the Board to sell any unappropriated public waters of the state that might be stored in such facilities. As a prerequisite to the purchase of such storage or water, the applicant therefor shall have secured a valid permit from the Texas Water Commission or its successor authorizing the acquisition of such storage facilities or the water impounded therein. The money received from any sale, transfer or lease of storage facilities or associated system or works shall be used to pay principal and interest on state bonds issued or contractual obligations incurred by the Texas Water Development Board, provided that when moneys are sufficient to pay the full amount of indebtedness then outstanding and the full amount of interest to accrue thereon, any further sums received from the sale, transfer or lease of such storage facilities or associated system or works may be used for the acquisition of additional storage facilities or associated system or works or for providing financial assistance as authorized by said Section 49-c. Money received from the sale of water, which shall include standby service, may be used for the operation and maintenance of acquired facilities, and for the payment of principal and interest on debt incurred.

Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this Amendment, such Acts shall not be void by reason of their anticipatory character.

§ 49 - d - 1. Texas Water Development Bonds; Additional Issue

Sec. 49-d-1. (a) The Texas Water Development Board shall upon direction of the Texas Water Quality Board, or any successor agency designated by the Legislature, issue additional Texas Water Development Bonds up to an additional aggregate principal amount of One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000) to provide grants, loans, or any combination of grants and loans for water quality enhancement purposes as established by the Legislature. The Texas Water Quality Board or any successor agency designated by the Legislature may make such grants and loans to political subdivisions or bodies politic and corporate of the State of Texas, including municipal corporations, river authorities, conservation and reclamation districts, and districts created or organized or authorized to be created or organized under Article XVI, Section 59, or Article III, Section 52, of this Constitution, state agencies, and interstate agencies and compact commissions to which the State of Texas is a party, and upon such terms and conditions as the Legislature may authorize by general law. The bonds shall be issued for such terms, in such denominations, form and installments, and upon such conditions as the Legislature may authorize.

(b) The proceeds from the sale of such bonds shall be deposited in the Texas Water Development Fund to be invested and administered as prescribed by law.

(c) The bonds authorized in this Section 49-d-1 and all bonds authorized by Sections 49-c and 49-d of Article III shall bear interest at not more than 6% per annum and mature as the Texas Water Development Board shall prescribe, subject to the limitations as may be imposed by the Legislature.

(d) The Texas Water Development Fund shall be used for the purposes heretofore permitted by, and subject to the limitations in Sections 49-c, 49-d and 49-d-1; provided, however, that the financial assistance may be made pursuant to the provisions of Sections 49-c, 49-d and 49-d-1 subject only to the availability of funds and without regard to the provisions in Section 49-c that such financial assistance shall terminate after December 31, 1982.

(e) Texas Water Development Bonds are secured by the general credit of the State and shall after approval by the Attorney General, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of Texas.

(f) Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such Acts shall not be void by reason of their anticipatory character.

[Adopted May 18, 1971.]

§ 49 - e. Texas Park Development Fund

Sec. 49-e. The Parks and Wildlife Department, or its successor vested with the powers, duties, and authority which deals with the operation, maintenance, and improvement of State Parks, shall have the authority to provide for, issue and sell general obligation bonds of the State of Texas in an amount not to exceed Seventy-Five Million Dollars ($75,000,000). The bonds authorized herein shall be called "Texas Park Development Bonds," shall be executed in such form, denominations, and upon such terms as may be prescribed by law, provided, however, that the bonds shall bear a rate or rates of interest as may be fixed by the Parks and Wildlife Department or its successor, but the weighted average annual interest rate, as that phrase is commonly and ordinarily used and understood in the municipal bond market, of all the bonds issued and sold in any installment of any bonds, shall not exceed four and one-half percent (4½%) interest per annum; they may be issued in such installments as said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, finds feasible and practical in accomplishing the purpose set forth herein.

All moneys received from the sale of said bonds shall be deposited in a fund hereby created with the State Treasurer to be known as the Texas Park Development Fund to be administered (without further appropriation) by the said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, in such manner as prescribed by law.

Such fund shall be used by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe by general law, for the purposes of acquiring lands from the United States, or any governmental agency thereof, from any governmental agency of the State of Texas, or from any person, firm, or corporation, for State Park Sites and for developing said sites as State Parks.

While any of the bonds authorized by this provision, or any interest on any such bonds, is outstanding and unpaid, there is hereby appropriated out of the first moneys coming into the Treasury in each fiscal year, not otherwise appropriated by this Constitution, an amount which is sufficient to pay the principal and interest on such bonds that mature or become due during such fiscal year, less the amount in the interest and sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year, which includes any receipts derived during the prior fiscal year by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, from admission charges to State Parks, as the Legislature may prescribe by general law.

The Legislature may provide for the investment of moneys available in the Texas Park Development Fund and the interest and sinking fund established for the payment of bonds issued by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor. Income from such investment shall be used for the purposes prescribed by the Legislature.

From the moneys received by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor, from the sale of the bonds issued hereunder, there shall be deposited in the interest and sinking fund for the bonds authorized by this section sufficient moneys to pay the interest to become due during the State fiscal year in which the bonds were issued. After all bonds have been fully paid with interest, or after there are on deposit in the interest and sinking fund sufficient moneys to pay all future maturities of principal and interest, additional moneys received from admission charges to State Parks shall be deposited to the State Parks Fund, or any successor fund which may be established by the Legislature as a depository for Park revenue earned by said Parks and Wildlife Department, or its said successor.

All bonds issued hereunder shall after approval by the Attorney General, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of Texas.

Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such Acts shall not be void by reason of their anticipatory nature.

(1) Subject to the further provisions of this Section, the Legislature shall provide for the retirement and compensation of Justices and Judges of the Appellate Courts and District and Criminal District Courts on account of length of service, age and disability, and for their reassignment to active duty where and when needed. The office of every such Justice and Judge shall become vacant when the incumbent reaches the age of seventy-five (75) years or such earlier age, not less than seventy (70) years, as the Legislature may prescribe; but, in the case of an incumbent whose term of office includes the effective date of this Amendment, this provision shall not prevent him from serving the remainder of said term nor be applicable to him before his period or periods of judicial service shall have reached a total of ten (10) years.

(2) There is hereby created the State Judicial Qualifications Commission, to consist of nine (9) members, to wit: (i) two (2) Justices of Courts of Civil Appeals; (ii) two (2) District Judges; (iii) two (2) members of the State Bar, who have respectively practiced as such for over ten (10) consecutive years next preceding their selection; (iiii) three (3) citizens, at least thirty (30) years of age, not licensed to practice law nor holding any salaried public office or employment; provided that no person shall be or remain a member of the Commission, who does not maintain physical residence within this State, or who resides in, or holds a judgeship within or for, the same Supreme Judicial District as another member of the Commission, or who shall have ceased to retain the qualifications above specified for his respective class of membership. Commissioners of classes (i) and (ii) above shall be chosen by the Supreme Court with advice and consent of the Senate, those of class (iii) by the Board of Directors of the State Bar under regulations to be prescribed by the Supreme Court with advice and consent of the Senate, and those of class (iiii) by appointment of the Governor with advice and consent of the Senate.

(3) The regular term of office of Commissioners shall be six (6) years; but the initial members of Commissioners may succeed themselves in office only if having served less than three (3) consecutive years.

(4) Commissioners shall receive no compensation for their services as such. The Legislature shall provide for the payment of the necessary expense for the operation of the Commission.

(5) The Commission may hold its meetings, hearings and other proceedings at such times and places as it shall determine but shall meet at Austin at least once each year. It shall annually select one of its members as Chairman. A quorum shall consist of five (5) members. Proceedings shall be by majority vote of those present, except that recommendations for retirement, censure, or removal of any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section shall be by affirmative vote of at least five (5) members.

(6) A. Any Justice or Judge of the Appellate Courts and District and Criminal District Courts, any County Judge, and any Judge of a County Court at Law, a Court of Domestic Relations, a Juvenile Court, a Probate Court, or a Corporation or Municipal Court, and any Justice of the Peace, and any Judge or presiding officer of any special court created by the Legislature as provided in Section 1, Article V, of this Constitution, may, subject to the other provisions hereof, be removed from office for willful or persistent conduct, which is clearly inconsistent with the proper performance of his said duties or casts public discredit upon the judiciary or administration of justice; or any person holding such office may be censured, in lieu of removal from office, under procedures provided for by the Legislature.

B. Any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of this subsection who is eligible for retirement benefits under the laws of this state providing for judicial retirement may be involuntarily retired, and any person holding an office named in that paragraph who is not eligible for retirement benefits under such laws may be removed from office, for disability seriously interfering with the performance of his duties, which is, or is likely to become, permanent in nature.

(7) The Commission shall keep itself informed as fully as may be of circumstances relating to the misconduct or disability of particular persons holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, receive complaints or reports, formal or informal, from any source in this behalf and make such preliminary investigations as it may determine. Its orders for the attendance or testimony of witnesses or for the production of documents at any hearing or investigation shall be enforceable by contempt proceedings in the District Court.

(8) After such investigation as it deems necessary, the Commission may in its discretion issue a private reprimand, or if the Commission determines that the situation merits such action, it may order a hearing to be held before it concerning the removal, or retirement of a person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, or it may in its discretion request the Supreme Court to appoint an active or retired District Judge or Justice of a Court of Civil Appeals as a Master to hear and take evidence in any such matter, and to report thereon to the Commission. If, after hearing, or after considering the record and report of a Master, the Commission finds good cause therefor, it shall issue an order of public censure or it shall recommend to the Supreme Court the removal, or retirement, as the case may be, of the person in question holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section and shall thereupon file with the Clerk of the Supreme Court the entire record before the Commission.

(9) The Supreme Court shall review the record of the proceedings on the law and facts and in its discretion may, for good cause shown, permit the introduction of additional evidence and shall order public censure, retirement or removal, as it finds just and proper, or wholly reject the recommendation. Upon an order for involuntary retirement for disability or an order for removal, the office in question shall become vacant. The rights of an incumbent so retired to retirement benefits shall be the same as if his retirement had been voluntary.

(10) All papers filed with and proceedings before the Commission or a Master shall be confidential, and the filing of papers with, and the giving of testimony before, the Commission, Master or the Supreme Court shall be privileged; provided that upon being filed in the Supreme Court the record loses its confidential character.

(11) The Supreme Court shall by rule provide for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court. Such rule shall afford to any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, against whom a proceeding is instituted to cause his retirement or removal, due process of law for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court in the same manner that any person whose property rights are in jeopardy in an adjudicatory proceeding is entitled to due process of law, regardless of whether or not the interest of the person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section in remaining in active status is considered to be a right or a privilege. Due process shall include the right to notice, counsel, hearing, confrontation of his accusers, and all such other incidents of due process as are ordinarily available in proceedings whether or not misfeasance is charged, upon proof of which a penalty may be imposed.

(12) No person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section shall sit as a member of the Commission or Supreme Court in any proceeding involving his own retirement or removal.

(13) This Section 1-a is alternative to and cumulative of, the methods of removal of persons holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section provided elsewhere in this Constitution. [Adopted Nov. 2, 1948. Amended Nov. 2, 1965; Nov. 3, 1970.]

Eighty-five per cent (85%) of such funds shall be allocated by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas on June 1, 1966, and fifteen per cent (15%) of such funds shall be allocated by said Comptroller on June 1, 1972, based on the following determinations:

(1) Ninety per cent (90%) of the funds allocated on June 1, 1966, shall be allocated to state institutions based on projected enrollment increases published by the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System for fall 1966 to fall 1978.

(2) Ten per cent (10%) of the funds allocated on June 1, 1966 shall be allocated to certain of the eligible state institutions based on the number of additional square feet needed in educational and general facilities by such eligible state institution to meet the average square feet per full time equivalent student of all state senior institutions (currently numbering twenty-two).

This Amendment shall be self-enacting. It shall become operative or effective upon its adoption so as to supersede and repeal the former provisions of this Section; provided further, that nothing herein shall be construed as impairing the obligation incurred by any outstanding notes or bonds heretofore issued by any state institution of higher learning under this Section prior to the adoption of this Amendment but such notes or bonds shall be paid, both as to principal and interest, from the fund as allocated to any such institution.

Sec. 1-a. From and after January 1, 1951, no State ad valorem tax shall be levied upon any property within this State for general revenue purposes. From and after January 1, 1951, the several counties of the State are authorized to levy ad valorem taxes upon all property within their respective boundaries for county purposes, except the first Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) value of residential homesteads of married or unmarried adults, male or female, including those living alone, not to exceed thirty cents (30¢) on each One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation, in addition to all other ad valorem taxes authorized by the Constitution of this State, provided the revenue derived therefrom shall be used for construction and maintenance of Farm to Market Roads or for Flood Control, except as herein otherwise provided.

§ 1 - c. Effectiveness of Resolution

§ 1 - d. Assessment of Lands designated for Agricultural Use

Sec. 1-d. (a) All land owned by natural persons which is designated for agricultural use in accordance with the provisions of this Section shall be assessed for all tax purposes on the consideration of only those factors relative to such agricultural use. "Agricultural use" means the raising of livestock or growing of crops, fruit, flowers, and other products of the soil under natural conditions as a business venture for profit, which business is the primary occupation and source of income of the owner.

(b) For each assessment year the owner wishes to qualify his land under provisions of this Section as designated for agricultural use he shall file with the local tax assessor a sworn statement in writing describing the use to which the land is devoted.

(c) Upon receipt of the sworn statement in writing the local tax assessor shall determine whether or not such land qualifies for the designation as to agricultural use as defined herein and in the event it so qualifies he shall designate such land as being for agricultural use and assess the land accordingly.

(d) Such local tax assessor may inspect the land and require such evidence of use and source of income as may be necessary or useful in determining whether or not the agricultural use provision of this article applies.

(e) No land may qualify for the designation provided for in this Act unless for at least three (3) successive years immediately preceding the assessment date the land has been devoted exclusively for agricultural use, or unless the land has been continuously developed for agriculture during such time.

(f) Each year during which the land is designated for agricultural use, the local tax assessor shall note on his records the valuation which would have been made had the land not qualified for such designation under this Section. If designated land is subsequently diverted to a purpose other than that of agricultural use, or is sold, the land shall be subject to an additional tax. The additional tax shall equal the difference between taxes paid or payable, hereunder, and the amount of tax payable for the preceding three years had the land been otherwise assessed. Until paid, there shall be a lien for additional taxes and interest on land assessed under the provisions of this Section.

(g) The valuation and assessment of any minerals or subsurface rights to minerals shall not come within the provisions of this Section.

2. The State ad valorem tax authorized by Article VII, Section 3, of this Constitution shall be imposed at the following rates on each One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation for the years 1968 through 1974: On January 1, 1968, Thirty-five Cents (35¢); on January 1, 1969, Thirty Cents (30¢); on January 1, 1970, Twenty-five Cents (25¢); on January 1, 1971, Twenty Cents (20¢); on January 1, 1972, Fifteen Cents (15¢); on January 1, 1973, Ten Cents (10¢); on January 1, 1974, Five Cents (5¢); and thereafter no such tax for school purposes shall be levied and collected. 3. The State ad valorem tax of Two Cents (2¢) on the One Hundred Dollars valuation levied by Article VII, Section 17, of this Constitution shall not be levied after December 31, 1976. At any time prior to December 31, 1976, the Legislature may establish a trust fund solely for the benefit of the widows of Confederate veterans and such Texas Rangers and their widows as are eligible for retirement or disability pensions under the provisions of Article XVI, Section 66, of this Constitution, and after such fund is established the ad valorem tax levied by Article VII, Section 17, shall not thereafter be levied.

4. Unless otherwise provided by the Legislature, after December 31, 1976 all delinquent State ad valorem taxes together with penalties and interest thereon, less lawful costs of collection, shall be used to secure bonds issued for permanent improvements at institutions of higher learning, as authorized by Article VII, Section 17, of this Constitution.

5. The fees paid by the State for both assessing and collecting State ad valorem taxes shall not exceed two per cent (2%) of the State taxes collected. This subsection shall be self-executing.

A disabled veteran is a veteran of the armed services of the United States who is classified as disabled by the Veterans' Administration or by a successor to that agency; or the military service in which he served. The spouse and children of any member of the United States Armed Forces who loses his life while on active duty will be granted an exemption from taxation for property valued at up to $2,500. A deceased disabled veteran's surviving spouse and children may be granted an exemption which in the aggregate is equal to the exemption to which the decedent was entitled at the time he died.

§ 1. Creation of Counties

Sec. 1. The Legislature shall have power to create counties for the convenience of the people subject to the following provisions:

First. In the territory of the State exterior to all counties now existing, no new counties shall be created with a less area than nine hundred square miles, in a square form, unless prevented by pre-existing boundary lines. Should the State lines render this impracticable in border counties, the area may be less. The territory referred to may, at any time, in whole or in part, be divided into counties in advance of population and attached, for judicial and land surveying purposes, to the most convenient organized county or counties.

Second. Within the territory of any county or counties now existing, no new county shall be created with a less area than seven hundred square miles, nor shall any such county now existing be reduced to a less area than seven hundred square miles. No new counties shall be created so as to approach nearer than twelve miles of the county seat of any county from which it may in whole or in part be taken. Counties of a less area than nine hundred, but of seven hundred or more square miles, within counties now existing, may be created by a two-thirds vote of each House of the Legislature, taken by yeas and nays and entered on the journals. Any county now existing may be reduced to an area of not less than seven hundred square miles by a like two-thirds vote. When any part of a county is stricken off and attached to, or created into another county, the part stricken off shall be holden for and obliged to pay its proportion of all the liabilities then existing, of the county from which it was taken, in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

Third. No part of any existing county shall be detached from it and attached to another existing county until the proposition for such change shall have been submitted, in such manner as may be provided by law, to a vote of the electors of both counties, and shall have received a majority of those voting on the question in each.

§ 1-A. Counties bordering on Gulf of Mexico or Tidewater Limits Thereof; Regulation of Motor Vehicles on Beaches

Sec. 1-A. The Legislature may authorize the governing body of any county bordering on the Gulf of Mexico or the tidewater limits thereof to regulate and restrict the speed, parking and travel of motor vehicles on beaches available to the public by virtue of public right and the littering of such beaches.

Nothing in this amendment shall increase the rights of any riparian or littoral landowner with regard to beaches available to the public by virtue of public right or submerged lands.

The Legislature may enact any laws not inconsistent with this Section which it may deem necessary to permit said counties to implement, enforce and administer the provisions contained herein.

Should the Legislature enact legislation in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such legislation shall not be invalid by reason of its anticipatory character.

§ 2. Removal of County Seats

Sec. 2. The Legislature shall pass laws regulating the manner of removing county seats, but no county seat situated within five miles of the geographical centre of the county shall be removed, except by a vote of two-thirds of all the electors voting on the subject. A majority of such electors, however, voting at such election, may remove a county seat from a point more than five miles from the geographical centre of the county to a point within five miles of such centre, in either case the centre to be determined by a certificate from the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

HOME RULE CHARTERS

§ 3. Repealed. Aug. 5, 1969

HOSPITAL DISTRICTS

§ 4. County-wide Hospital Districts

Sec. 4. The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of county-wide Hospital Districts in counties having a population in excess of 190,000 and in Galveston County, with power to issue bonds for the purchase, acquisition, construction, maintenance and operation of any county owned hospital, or where the hospital system is jointly operated by a county and city within the county, and to provide for the transfer to the county-wide Hospital District of the title to any land, buildings or equipment, jointly or separately owned, and for the assumption by the district of any outstanding bonded indebtedness theretofore issued by any county or city for the establishment of hospitals or hospital facilities; to levy a tax not to exceed seventy-five ($.75) cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation of all taxable property within such district, provided, however, that such district shall be approved at an election held for that purpose, and that only qualified, property taxpaying voters in such county shall vote therein; provided further, that such Hospital District shall assume full responsibility for providing medical and hospital care to needy inhabitants of the county, and thereafter such county and cities therein shall not levy any other tax for hospital purposes; and provided further that should such Hospital District construct, maintain and support a hospital or hospital system, that the same shall never become a charge against the State of Texas, nor shall any direct appropriation ever be made by the Legislature for the construction, maintenance or improvement of the said hospital or hospitals. Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such Acts shall not be invalid because of their anticipatory character.

§ 5. City of Amarillo; Wichita County; Jefferson County; Creation of Hospital Districts

Sec. 5. (a) The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of two hospital districts, one to be coextensive with and have the same boundaries as the incorporated City of Amarillo, as such boundaries now exist or as they may hereafter be lawfully extended, and the other to be coextensive with Wichita County.

If such district or districts are created, they may be authorized to levy a tax not to exceed Seventy-five Cents (75¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation of taxable property within the district; provided, however, no tax may be levied until approved by a majority vote of the participating resident qualified property taxpaying voters who have duly rendered their property for taxation. The maximum rate of tax may be changed at subsequent elections so long as obligations are not impaired, and not to exceed the maximum limit of Seventy-five Cents (75¢) per One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation, and no election shall be required by subsequent changes in the boundaries of the City of Amarillo.

If such tax is authorized, no political subdivision or municipality within or having the same boundaries as the district may levy a tax for medical or hospital care for needy individuals, nor shall they maintain or erect hospital facilities, but the district shall by resolution assume all such responsibilities and shall assume all of the liabilities and obligations (including bonds and warrants) of such subdivisions or municipalities or both. The maximum tax rate submitted shall be sufficient to discharge such obligations, liabilities, and responsibilities, and to maintain and operate the hospital system, and the Legislature may authorize the district to issue tax bonds for the purpose of the purchase, construction, acquisition, repair or renovation of improvements and initially equipping the same, and such bonds shall be payable from said Seventy-five Cents (75¢) tax. The Legislature shall provide for transfer of title to properties to the district.

(b) The Legislature may by law permit the County of Potter (in which the City of Amarillo is partially located) to render financial aid to that district by paying a part of the expenses of operating and maintaining the system and paying a part of the debts of the district (whether assumed or created by the district) and may authorize the levy of a tax not to exceed Ten Cents (10¢) per One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation (in addition to other taxes permitted by this Constitution) upon all property within the county but without the City of Amarillo at the time such levy is made for such purposes. If such tax is authorized, the district shall by resolution assume the responsibilities, obligations, and liabilities of the county in the manner and to the extent hereinabove provided for political subdivisions having boundaries coextensive with the district, and the county shall not thereafter levy taxes (other than herein provided) for hospital purposes nor for providing hospital care for needy individuals of the county.

(c) The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of a hospital district within Jefferson County, the boundaries of which shall include only the area comprising the Jefferson County Drainage District No. 7 and the Port Arthur Independent School District, as such boundaries existed on the first day of January, 1957, with the power to issue bonds for the sole purpose of purchasing a site for, and the construction and initial equipping of, a hospital system, and with the power to levy a tax of not to exceed Seventy-five Cents (75¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation of property therein for the purpose of paying the principal and interest on such bonds.

The creation of such hospital district shall not be final until approved at an election by a majority of the resident property taxpaying voters voting at said election who have duly rendered their property for taxation upon the tax rolls of either said Drainage or said School District, nor shall such bonds be issued or such tax be levied until so approved by such voters.

The district shall not have the power to levy any tax for maintenance or operation of the hospital or facilities, but shall contract with other political subdivisions of the state or private individuals, associations, or corporations for such purposes.

If the district hereinabove authorized is finally created, no other hospital district may be created embracing any part of the territory within its boundaries, but the Legislature by law may authorize the creation of a hospital district incorporating therein the remainder of Jefferson County, having the powers and duties and with the limitations presently provided by Article IX, Section 4, of the Constitution of Texas, except that such district shall be confirmed at an election wherein the resident qualified property taxpaying voters who have duly rendered their property within such proposed district for taxation on the county rolls, shall be authorized to vote. A majority of those participating in the election voting in favor of the district shall be necessary for its confirmation and for bonds to be issued.

(d) Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such Acts shall not be invalid because of their anticipatory character.

[Adopted Nov. 4, 1958.]

§ 6. Lamar County Hospital District; Abolition; Transfer of Assets

Sec. 6. On the effective date of this Amendment, the Lamar County Hospital District is abolished. The Commissioners Court of Lamar County may provide for the transfer or for the disposition of the assets of the Lamar County Hospital District.

§ 7. Hidalgo County; Hospital District; Creation; Tax Rate

Sec. 7. The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of a Hospital District co-extensive with Hidalgo County, having the powers and duties and with the limitations presently provided in Article IX, Section 5(a), of the Constitution of Texas, as it applies to Hidalgo County, except that the maximum rate of tax that the said Hidalgo County Hospital District may be authorized to levy shall be ten cents (10¢) per One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation of taxable property within the District subject to district taxation.

[Adopted Nov. 8, 1960.]

§ 8. County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County; Hospital District; Creation; Tax Rate

Sec. 8. (a) The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of a Hospital District to be co-extensive with the limits of County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County, Texas.

If such District is created, it may be authorized to levy a tax not to exceed seventy-five cents (75¢) on the One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation of taxable property within the District; provided, however, no tax may be levied until approved by a majority vote of the participating resident qualified property tax-paying voters who have duly rendered their property for taxation. The maximum rate of tax may be changed at subsequent elections so long as obligations are not impaired, and not to exceed the maximum limit of seventy-five cents (75¢) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation, and no election shall be required by subsequent changes in the boundaries of the Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County.

If such tax is authorized, no political subdivision or municipality within or having the same boundaries as the District may levy a tax for medical or hospital care for needy individuals, nor shall they maintain or erect hospital facilities, but the District shall by resolution assume all such responsibilities and shall assume all of the liabilities and obligations (including bonds and warrants) of such subdivisions or municipalities or both. The maximum tax rate submitted shall be sufficient to discharge such obligations, liabilities, and responsibilities, and to maintain and operate the hospital system, and the Legislature may authorize the District to issue tax bonds for the purpose of the purchase, construction, acquisition, repair or renovation of improvements and initially equipping the same, and such bonds shall be payable from said seventy-five cent (75¢) tax. The Legislature shall provide for transfer of title to properties to the District.

(b) The Legislature may by law permit the County of Comanche to render financial aid to that District by paying a part of the expenses of operating and maintaining the system and paying a part of the debts of the District (whether assumed or created by the District) and may authorize the levy of a tax not to exceed ten cents (10¢) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation (in addition to other taxes permitted by this Constitution) upon all property within the County but without the County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County at the time such levy is made for such purposes. If such tax is authorized, the District shall by resolution assume the responsibilities, obligations, and liabilities of the County in the manner and to the extent hereinabove provided for political subdivisions having boundaries co-extensive with the District, and the County shall not thereafter levy taxes (other than herein provided) for hospital purposes nor for providing hospital care for needy individuals of the County.

(c) Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such Acts shall not be invalid because of their anticipatory character.

[Adopted Nov. 8, 1960.]

§ 9. Hospital Districts; Creation, Operation, Powers, Duties and Dissolution

Sec. 9. The Legislature may by law provide for the creation, establishment, maintenance and operation of hospital districts composed of one or more counties or all or any part of one or more counties with power to issue bonds for the purchase, construction, acquisition, repair or renovation of buildings and improvements and equipping same, for hospital purposes; providing for the transfer to the hospital district of the title to any land, buildings, improvements and equipment located wholly within the district which may be jointly or separately owned by any city, town or county, providing that any district so created shall assume full responsibility for providing medical and hospital care for its needy inhabitants and assume the outstanding indebtedness incurred by cities, towns and counties for hospital purposes prior to the creation of the district, if same are located wholly within its boundaries, and a pro rata portion of such indebtedness based upon the then last approved tax assessment rolls of the included cities, towns and counties if less than all the territory thereof is included within the district boundaries; providing that after its creation no other municipality or political subdivision shall have the power to levy taxes or issue bonds or other obligations for hospital purposes or for providing medical care within the boundaries of the district; providing for the levy of annual taxes at a rate not to exceed seventy-five cents (75¢) on the One Hundred Dollar valuation of all taxable property within such district for the purpose of meeting the requirements of the district's bonds, the indebtedness assumed by it and its maintenance and operating expenses, providing that such district shall not be created or such tax authorized unless approved by a majority of the qualified property taxpaying electors thereof voting at an election called for the purpose; and providing further that the support and maintenance of the district's hospital system shall never become a charge against or obligation of the State of Texas nor shall any direct appropriation be made by the Legislature for the construction, maintenance or improvement of any of the facilities of such district.

Provided, however, that no district shall be created except by act of the Legislature and then only after thirty (30) days' public notice to the district affected, and in no event may the Legislature provide for a district to be created without the affirmative vote of a majority of the taxpaying voters in the district concerned.

The Legislature may also provide for the dissolution of hospital districts provided that a process is afforded by statute for:

- (1) determining the desire of a majority of the qualified voters within the district to dissolve it;
- (2) disposing of or transferring the assets, if any, of the district; and

(3) satisfying the debts and bond obligations, if any, of the district, in such manner as to protect the interests of the citizens within the district, including their collective property rights in the assets and property of the district, provided, however, that any grant from federal funds, however dispensed, shall be considered an obligation to be repaid in satisfaction and provided that no election to dissolve shall be held more often than once each year. In such connection, the statute shall provide against disposal or transfer of the assets of the district except for due compensation unless such assets are transferred to another governmental agency, such as a county, embracing such district and using such transferred assets in such a way as to benefit citizens formerly within the district.

The Legislature may provide for a voluntary merger into the System herein authorized by this Constitutional Amendment of any System of Retirement, Disability and Death Compensation Benefits which may now exist or that may hereafter be established under subsection (b) of Section 62 of Article XVI of the Texas Constitution; providing further that the Texas Legislature in the enabling statute will make the determination as to the amount of money that will be contributed by the county or other political subdivision of the state or political subdivision of the county to the State-wide System of Retirement, Disability and Death Benefits, and the Legislature shall further provide that the amount of money contributed by the county or other political subdivision of the state or subdivision of the county shall equal the amount paid for the same purpose from the income of each officer and employee covered by this State-wide System.

It is the further intention of the Legislature, in submitting this Constitutional Amendment, that the officers and employees of the county or other political subdivision of the state or political subdivision of a county may be included in these systems regardless of whether the county or other political subdivision of the state or political subdivision of the county participates in the Retirement, Disability and Death Benefit System authorized by this Constitutional Amendment, or whether they participate in a System under the provisions of subsection (b) of Section 62 of Article XVI of the Texas Constitution as the same is herein amended.

Section

1. Proposed Amendments; Submission to Voters; Adoption.
2. Constitutional Revision Commission; Establishment; Report; 1974 Constitutional Convention.

§ 1. Proposed Amendments; Submission to Voters; Adoption

Sec. 1. The Legislature, at any regular session, or at any special session when the matter is included within the purposes for which the session is convened, may propose amendments revising the Constitution, to be voted upon by the qualified electors for statewide offices and propositions, as defined in the Constitution and statutes of this State. The date of the elections shall be specified by the Legislature. The proposal for submission must be approved by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House, entered by yeas and nays on the journals.

A brief explanatory statement of the nature of a proposed amendment, together with the date of the election and the wording of the proposition as it is to appear on the ballot, shall be published twice in each newspaper in the State which meets requirements set by the Legislature for the publication of official notices of officers and departments of the state government. The explanatory statement shall be prepared by the Secretary of State and shall be approved by the Attorney General. The Secretary of State shall send a full and complete copy of the proposed amendment or amendments to each county clerk who shall post the same in a public place in the courthouse at least 30 days prior to the election on said amendment. The first notice shall be published not more than 60 days nor less than 50 days before the date of the election, and the second notice shall be published on the same day in the succeeding week. The Legislature shall fix the standards for the rate of charge for the publication, which may not be higher than the newspaper's published national rate for advertising per column inch.

The election shall be held in accordance with procedures prescribed by the Legislature, and the returning officer in each county shall make returns to the Secretary of State of the number of legal votes cast at the election for and against each amendment. If it appears from the returns that a majority of the votes cast have been cast in favor of an amendment, it shall become a part of this Constitution, and proclamation thereof shall be made by the Governor. [Adopted Feb. 15, 1876. Amended Nov. 7, 1972.]

Sec. 2. (a) When the legislature convenes in regular session in January, 1973, it shall provide by concurrent resolution for the establishment of a constitutional revision commission. The legislature shall appropriate money to provide an adequate staff, office space, equipment, and supplies for the commission.

(b) The commission shall study the need for constitutional change and shall report its recommendations to the members of the legislature not later than November 1, 1973.

(c) The members of the 63rd Legislature shall be convened as a constitutional convention at noon on the second Tuesday in January, 1974. The lieutenant governor shall preside until a chairman of the convention is elected. The convention shall elect other officers it deems necessary, adopt temporary and permanent rules, and publish a journal of its proceedings. A person elected to fill a vacancy in the 63rd Legislature before dissolution of the convention becomes a member of the convention on taking office as a member of the legislature.

(d) Members of the convention shall receive compensation, mileage, per diem as determined by a five member committee, to be composed of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Speaker of the House, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and Chief Justice of the Court of Criminal Appeals. This shall not be held in conflict with Article XVI, Section 33 of the Texas Constitution. The convention may provide for the expenses of its members and for the employment of a staff for the convention, and for these purposes may by resolution appropriate money from the general revenue fund of the state treasury. Warrants shall be drawn pursuant to vouchers signed by the chairman or by a person authorized by him in writing to sign them.

(e) The convention, by resolution adopted on the vote of at least two-thirds of its members, may submit for a vote of the qualified electors of this state a new constitution which may contain alternative articles or sections, or may submit revisions of the existing constitution which may contain alternative articles or sections. Each resolution shall specify the date of the election, the form of the ballots, and the method of publicizing the proposals to be voted on. To be adopted, each proposal must receive the favorable vote of the majority of those voting on the proposal. The conduct of the election, the canvassing of the votes, and the reporting of the returns shall be as provided for elections under Section 1 of this article.

(f) The convention may be dissolved by resolution adopted on the vote of at least two-thirds of its members; but it is automatically dissolved at 11:59 p. m. on May 31, 1974, unless its duration is extended for a period not to exceed 60 days by resolution adopted on the vote of at least two-thirds of its members.

(g) The Bill of Rights of the present Texas Constitution shall be retained in full.

Enactment

The Uniform Commercial Code was first enacted in Texas in 1965 (Acts 1965, chapter 721) to become effective at midnight June 30, 1966. Section 10-102 of the Code as then enacted repealed numerous existing provisions of the Texas Statutes relating to commercial transactions, but provided that transactions validly entered into before the effective date and the rights, duties and interests flowing from them should remain valid thereafter and could be terminated, completed, consummated or enforced as required or permitted by any statute or other law amended or repealed by the Act as though such repeal or amendment had not occurred.

Acts 1967, chapter 785, reenacted the Uniform Commercial Code as a part of the Business and Commerce Code and repealed Acts 1965, chapter 721. However, section 5 of the 1967 Act provided in part that the repeal of a statute by the Act did not affect the prior operation of the statute or any prior action taken under it.

The text of the Texas Uniform Commercial Code as set out herein is identified by section rather than article numbers. The section numbers correspond to the section numbers of the Uniform Commercial Code, except that as enacted in 1967 a period has been substituted for a dash so that section 1-101 in the official text is section 1.101 in the Texas Code, and so on. Additionally, most lettered subsections and numbered subdivisions of the Texas Code have been substituted for the numbered subsections and lettered subdivisions of the official text so that subdivision (a) of subsection (2) of section 1-102 in the official text is subdivision (1) of subsection (b) of section 1.102 in the Texas Code, and so on.

Effective Date

Section 3 of Acts 1967, ch. 785 provided that "This Act takes effect on September 1, 1967."

§ 1.101. Short Title

This title may be cited as Uniform Commercial Code.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 1.102. Purposes; Rules of Construction; Variation by Agreement

(a) This title shall be liberally construed and applied to promote its underlying purposes and policies.

(b) Underlying purposes and policies of this title are

- (1) to simplify, clarify and modernize the law governing commercial transactions;
- (2) to permit the continued expansion of commercial practices through custom, usage and agreement of the parties;
- (3) to make uniform the law among the various jurisdictions.

(c) The effect of provisions of this title may be varied by agreement, except as otherwise provided in this title and except that the obligations of good faith, diligence, reasonableness and care prescribed by this title may not be disclaimed by agreement but the parties may by agreement determine the standards by which the performance of such obligations is to be measured if such standards are not manifestly unreasonable.

(d) The presence in certain provisions of this title of the words "unless otherwise agreed" or words of similar import does not imply that the effect of other provisions may not be varied by agreement under Subsection (c).

(e) In this title unless the context otherwise requires

- (1) words in the singular number include the plural, and in the plural include the singular;
- (2) words of the masculine gender include the feminine and the neuter, and when the sense so indicates words of the neuter gender may refer to any gender.

§ 1.104. Construction Against Implicit Repeal

This title being a general body of law intended as a unified coverage of its subject matter, no part of it shall be deemed to be impliedly repealed by subsequent legislation if such construction can reasonably be avoided.

§ 1.105. Territorial Application of the Title; Parties' Power to Choose Applicable Law

(a) Except as provided hereafter in this section, when a transaction bears a reasonable relation to this state and also to another state or nation the parties may agree that the law either of this state or of such other state or nation shall govern their rights and duties. Failing such agreement this title applies to transactions bearing an appropriate relation to this state.

(b) Where one of the following provisions of this title specifies the applicable law, that provision governs and a contrary agreement is effective only to the extent permitted by the law (including the conflict of laws rules) so specified:

Rights of creditors against sold goods. Section 2.402.

Applicability of the chapter on Bank Deposits and Collections. Section 4.102.

Bulk transfers subject to the chapter on Bulk Transfers. Section 6.102.

Applicability of the chapter on Investment Securities. Section 8.106.

§ 1.106. Remedies to be Liberally Administered

(b) Any right or obligation declared by this title is enforceable by action unless the provision declaring it specifies a different and limited effect.

§ 1.108. Severability

If any provision or clause of this title or application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the title which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this title are declared to be severable.

SUBCHAPTER B. GENERAL DEFINITIONS AND PRINCIPLES OF INTERPRETATION

§ 1.201. General Definitions

Subject to additional definitions contained in the subsequent chapters of this title which are applicable to specific chapters or subchapters thereof, and unless the context otherwise requires, in this title:

(1) "Action" in the sense of a judicial proceeding includes recoupment, counterclaim, set-off, suit in equity and any other proceedings in which rights are determined.

(2) "Aggrieved party" means a party entitled to resort to a remedy.

(3) "Agreement" means the bargain of the parties in fact as found in their language or by implication from other circumstances including course of dealing or usage of trade or course of performance as provided in this title (Sections 1.205 and 2.208). Whether an agreement has legal consequences is determined by the provisions of this title, if applicable; otherwise by the law of contracts (Section 1.103). (Compare "Contract".)

(4) "Bank" means any person engaged in the business of banking.

(5) "Bearer" means the person in possession of an instrument, document of title, or security payable to bearer or indorsed in blank.

(6) "Bill of lading" means a document evidencing the receipt of goods for shipment issued by a person engaged in the business of transporting or forwarding goods, and includes an airbill. "Airbill" means a document serving for air transportation as a bill of lading does for marine or rail transportation, and includes an air consignment note or air waybill.

(7) "Branch" includes a separately incorporated foreign branch of a bank.

(8) "Burden of establishing" a fact means the burden of persuading the triers of fact that the existence of the fact is more probable than its non-existence.

(9) "Buyer in ordinary course of business" means a person who in good faith and without knowledge that the sale to him is in violation of the ownership rights or security interest of a third party in the goods buys in ordinary course from a person in the business of selling goods of that kind but does not include a pawnbroker. All persons who sell minerals or the like (including oil and gas) at wellhead or minehead shall be deemed to be persons in the business of selling goods of that kind. "Buying" may be for cash or by exchange of other property or on secured or unsecured credit and includes receiving goods or documents of title under a pre-existing contract for sale but does not include a transfer in bulk or as security for or in total or partial satisfaction of a money debt.

(10) "Conspicuous": A term or clause is conspicuous when it is so written that a reasonable person against whom it is to operate ought to have noticed it. A printed heading in capitals (as: Non-Negotiable Bill of Lading) is conspicuous. Language in the body of a form is "conspicuous" if it is in larger or other contrasting type or color. But in a telegram any stated term is "conspicuous". Whether a term or clause is "conspicuous" or not is for decision by the court.

(11) "Contract" means the total legal obligation which results from the parties' agreement as affected by this title and any other applicable rules of law. (Compare "Agreement".)

(12) "Creditor" includes a general creditor, a secured creditor, a lien creditor and any representative of creditors, including an assignee for the benefit of creditors, a trustee in bankruptcy, a receiver in equity and an executor or administrator of an insolvent debtor's or assignor's estate.

(13) "Defendant" includes a person in the position of defendant in a cross-action or counterclaim.

(14) "Delivery" with respect to instruments, documents of title, chattel paper or securities means voluntary transfer of possession.

(15) "Document of title" includes bill of lading, dock warrant, dock receipt, warehouse receipt or order for the delivery of goods, and also any other document which in the regular course of business or financing is treated as adequately evidencing that the person in possession of it is entitled to receive, hold and dispose of the document and the goods it covers. To be a document of title a document must purport to be issued by or addressed to a bailee and purport to cover goods in the bailee's possession which are either identified or are fungible portions of an identified mass.

(16) "Fault" means wrongful act, omission or breach.

(17) "Fungible" with respect to goods or securities means goods or securities of which any unit is, by nature or usage of trade, the equivalent of any other like unit. Goods which are not fungible shall be deemed fungible for the purposes of this title to the extent that under a particular agreement or document unlike units are treated as equivalents.

(18) "Genuine" means free of forgery or counterfeiting.

(19) "Good faith" means honesty in fact in the conduct or transaction concerned.

(20) "Holder" means a person who is in possession of a document of title or an instrument or an investment security drawn, issued or indorsed to him or to his order or to bearer or in blank.

(21) To "honor" is to pay or to accept and pay, or where a credit so engages to purchase or discount a draft complying with the terms of the credit.

(22) "Insolvency proceedings" includes any assignment for the benefit of creditors or other proceedings intended to liquidate or rehabilitate the estate of the person involved.

(23) A person is "insolvent" who either has ceased to pay his debts in the ordinary course of business or cannot pay his debts as they become due or is insolvent within the meaning of the federal bankruptcy law.

(24) "Money" means a medium of exchange authorized or adopted by a domestic or foreign government as a part of its currency.

(25) A person has "notice" of a fact when

(A) he has actual knowledge of it; or

(B) he has received a notice or notification of it; or

(C) from all the facts and circumstances known to him at the time in question he has reason to know that it exists.

A person "knows" or has "knowledge" of a fact when he has actual knowledge of it. "Discover" or "learn" or a word or phrase of similar import refers to knowledge rather than to reason to know. The time and circumstances under which a notice or notification may cease to be effective are not determined by this title.

(26) A person "notifies" or "gives" a notice or notification to another by taking such steps as may be reasonably required to inform the other in ordinary course whether or not such other actually comes to know of it. A person "receives" a notice or notification when

(A) it comes to his attention; or

(B) it is duly delivered at the place of business through which the contract was made or at any other place held out by him as the place for receipt of such communications.

(27) Notice, knowledge or a notice or notification received by an organization is effective for a particular transaction from the time when it is brought to the attention of the individual conducting that transaction, and in any event from the time when it would have been brought to his attention if the organization had exercised due diligence. An organization exercises due diligence if it maintains reasonable routines for communicating significant information to the person conducting the transaction and there is reasonable compliance with the routines. Due diligence does not require an individual acting for the organization to communicate information unless such communication is part of his regular duties or unless he has reason to know of the transaction and that the transaction would be materially affected by the information.

(28) "Organization" includes a corporation, government or governmental subdivision or agency, business trust, estate, trust, partnership or association, two or more persons having a joint or common interest, or any other legal or commercial entity.

(29) "Party", as distinct from "third party", means a person who has engaged in a transaction or made an agreement within this title.

(30) "Person" includes an individual or an organization (See Section 1.102).

(31) "Presumption" or "presumed" means that the trier of fact must find the existence of the fact presumed unless and until evidence is introduced which would support a finding of its non-existence.

(32) "Purchase" includes taking by sale, discount, negotiation, mortgage, pledge, lien, issue or reissue, gift or any other voluntary transaction creating an interest in property.

(33) "Purchaser" means a person who takes by purchase.

(34) "Remedy" means any remedial right to which an aggrieved party is entitled with or without resort to a tribunal.

(35) "Representative" includes an agent, an officer of a corporation or association, and a trustee, executor or administrator of an estate, or any other person empowered to act for another.

(36) "Rights" includes remedies.

(37) "Security interest" means an interest in personal property or fixtures which secures payment or performance of an obligation. The retention or reservation of title by a seller of goods notwithstanding shipment or delivery to the buyer (Section 2.401) is limited in effect to a reservation of a "security interest." The term also includes any interest of a buyer of accounts or chattel paper which is subject to Chapter 9. The special property interest of a buyer of goods on identification of such goods to a contract for sale under Section 2.401 is not a "security interest", but a buyer may also acquire a "security interest" by complying with Chapter 9. Unless a lease or consignment is intended as security, reservation of title thereunder is not a "security interest" but a consignment is in any event subject to the provisions on consignment sales (Section 2.326). Whether a lease is intended as security is to be determined by the facts of each case; however, (A) the inclusion of an option to purchase does not of itself make the lease one intended for security, and (B) an agreement that upon compliance with the terms of the lease the lessee shall become or has the option to become the owner of the property for no additional consideration or for a nominal consideration does make the lease one intended for security.

(38) "Send" in connection with any writing or notice means to deposit in the mail or deliver for transmission by any other usual means of communication with postage or cost of transmission provided for and properly addressed and in the case of an instrument to an address specified thereon or otherwise agreed, or if there be none to any address reasonable under the circumstances. The receipt of any writing or notice within the time at which it would have arrived if properly sent has the effect of a proper sending.

(39) "Signed" includes any symbol executed or adopted by a party with present intention to authenticate a writing.

(40) "Surety" includes guarantor.

(41) "Telegram" includes a message transmitted by radio, teletype, cable, any mechanical method of transmission, or the like.

(42) "Term" means that portion of an agreement which relates to a particular matter.

(43) "Unauthorized" signature or indorsement means one made without actual, implied or apparent authority and includes a forgery.

(44) "Value". Except as otherwise provided with respect to negotiable instruments and bank collections (Sections 3.303, 4.208 and 4.209) a person gives "value" for rights if he acquires them

(A) in return for a binding commitment to extend credit or for the extension of immediately available credit whether or not drawn upon and whether or not a charge-back is provided for in the event of difficulties in collection; or

(B) as security for or in total or partial satisfaction of a pre-existing claim; or

(C) by accepting delivery pursuant to a pre-existing contract for purchase; or

(D) generally, in return for any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract.

(45) "Warehouse receipt" means a receipt issued by a person engaged in the business of storing goods for hire.

(46) "Written" or "writing" includes printing, typewriting or any other intentional reduction to tangible form.

§ 1.202. Prima Facie Evidence by Third Party Documents

A document in due form purporting to be a bill of lading, policy or certificate of insurance, official weigher's or inspector's certificate, consular invoice, or any other document authorized or required by the contract to be issued by a third party shall be prima facie evidence of its own authenticity and genuineness and of the facts stated in the document by the third party.

§ 1.203. Obligation of Good Faith

Every contract or duty within this title imposes an obligation of good faith in its performance or enforcement.

§ 1.204. Time; Reasonable Time; "Seasonably"

(a) Whenever this title requires any action to be taken within a reasonable time, any time which is not manifestly unreasonable may be fixed by agreement.

(b) What is a reasonable time for taking any action depends on the nature, purpose and circumstances of such action.

(c) An action is taken "seasonably" when it is taken at or within the time agreed or if no time is agreed at or within a reasonable time.

§ 1.205. Course of Dealing and Usage of Trade

(a) A course of dealing is a sequence of previous conduct between the parties to a particular transaction which is fairly to be regarded as establishing a common basis of understanding for interpreting their expressions and other conduct.

(b) A usage of trade is any practice or method of dealing having such regularity of observance in a place, vocation or trade as to justify an expectation that it will be observed with respect to the transaction in question. The existence and scope of such a usage are to be proved as facts. If it is established that such a usage is embodied in a written trade code or similar writing the interpretation of the writing is for the court.

(c) A course of dealing between parties and any usage of trade in the vocation or trade in which they are engaged or of which they are or should be aware give particular meaning to and supplement or qualify terms of an agreement.

(d) The express terms of an agreement and an applicable course of dealing or usage of trade shall be construed wherever reasonable as consistent with each other; but when such construction is unreasonable express terms control both course of dealing and usage of trade and course of dealing controls usage of trade.

(e) An applicable usage of trade in the place where any part of performance is to occur shall be used in interpreting the agreement as to that part of the performance.

(f) Evidence of a relevant usage of trade offered by one party is not admissible unless and until he has given the other party such notice as the court finds sufficient to prevent unfair surprise to the latter.

§ 1.206. Statute of Frauds for Kinds of Personal Property Not Otherwise Covered

(a) Except in the cases described in Subsection (b) of this section a contract for the sale of personal property is not enforceable by way of action or defense beyond $5,000 in amount or value of remedy unless there is some writing which indicates that a contract for sale has been made between the parties at a defined or stated price, reasonably identifies the subject matter, and is signed by the party against whom enforcement is sought or by his authorized agent.

(b) Subsection (a) of this section does not apply to contracts for the sale of goods (Section 2.201) nor of securities (Section 8.319) nor to security agreements (Section 9.203).

§ 1.207. Performance or Acceptance Under Reservation of Rights

A party who with explicit reservation of rights performs or promises performance or assents to performance in a manner demanded or offered by the other party does not thereby prejudice the rights reserved. Such words as "without prejudice", "under protest" or the like are sufficient.

§ 1.208. Option to Accelerate at Will

A term providing that one party or his successor in interest may accelerate payment or performance or require collateral or additional collateral "at will" or "when he deems himself insecure" or in words of similar import shall be construed to mean that he shall have power to do so only if he in good faith believes that the prospect of payment or performance is impaired. The burden of establishing lack of good faith is on the party against whom the power has been exercised.

§ 2.101. Short Title

This chapter may be cited as Uniform Commercial Code—Sales.

§ 2.102. Scope; Certain Security and Other Transactions Excluded From This Chapter

Unless the context otherwise requires, this chapter applies to transactions in goods; it does not apply to any transaction which although in the form of an unconditional contract to sell or present sale is intended to operate only as a security transaction nor does this chapter impair or repeal any statute regulating sales to consumers, farmers or other specified classes of buyers.

"Consignor". Section 7.102.

"Consumer goods". Section 9.109.

(d) In addition Chapter 1 contains general definitions and principles of construction and interpretation applicable throughout this chapter.

§ 2.104. Definitions: "Merchant"; "Between Merchants"; "Financing Agency"

(a) "Merchant" means a person who deals in goods of the kind or otherwise by his occupation holds himself out as having knowledge or skill peculiar to the practices or goods involved in the transaction or to whom such knowledge or skill may be attributed by his employment of an agent or broker or other intermediary who by his occupation holds himself out as having such knowledge or skill.

(b) "Financing agency" means a bank, finance company or other person who in the ordinary course of business makes advances against goods or documents of title or who by arrangement with either the seller or the buyer intervenes in ordinary course to make or collect payment due or claimed under the contract for sale, as by purchasing or paying the seller's draft or making advances against it or by merely taking it for collection whether or not documents of title accompany the draft. "Financing agency" includes also a bank or other person who similarly intervenes between persons who are in the position of seller and buyer in respect to the goods (Section 2.707).

(c) "Between merchants" means in any transaction with respect to which both parties are chargeable with the knowledge or skill of merchants.

§ 2.105. Definitions: Transferability; "Goods"; "Future" Goods; "Lot"; "Commercial Unit"

(a) "Goods" means all things (including specially manufactured goods) which are movable at the time of identification to the contract for sale other than the money in which the price is to be paid, investment securities (Chapter 8) and things in action. "Goods" also includes the unborn young of animals and growing crops and other identified things attached to realty as described in the section on goods to be severed from realty (Section 2.107).

(b) Goods must be both existing and identified before any interest in them can pass. Goods which are not both existing and identified are "future" goods. A purported present sale of future goods or of any interest therein operates as a contract to sell.

(c) There may be a sale of a part interest in existing identified goods.

(d) An undivided share in an identified bulk of fungible goods is sufficiently identified to be sold although the quantity of the bulk is not determined. Any agreed proportion of such a bulk or any quantity thereof agreed upon by number, weight or other measure may to the extent of the seller's interest in the bulk be sold to the buyer who then becomes an owner in common.

(e) "Lot" means a parcel or a single article which is the subject matter of a separate sale or delivery, whether or not it is sufficient to perform the contract.

(f) "Commercial unit" means such a unit of goods as by commercial usage is a single whole for purposes of sale and division of which materially impairs its character or value on the market or in use. A commercial unit may be a single article (as a machine) or a set of articles (as a suite of furniture or an assortment of sizes) or a quantity (as a bale, gross, or carload) or any other unit treated in use or in the relevant market as a single whole.

§ 2.106. Definitions: "Contract"; "Agreement"; "Contract for Sale"; "Sale"; "Present Sale"; "Conforming" to Contract; "Termination"; "Cancellation"

(a) In this chapter unless the context otherwise requires "contract" and "agreement" are limited to those relating to the present or future sale of goods. "Contract for sale" includes both a present sale of goods and a contract to sell goods at a future time. A "sale" consists in the passing of title from the seller to the buyer for a price (Section 2.401). A "present sale" means a sale which is accomplished by the making of the contract.

(b) Goods or conduct including any part of a performance are "conforming" or conform to the contract when they are in accordance with the obligations under the contract.

(c) "Termination" occurs when either party pursuant to a power created by agreement or law puts an end to the contract otherwise than for its breach. On "termination" all obligations which are still executory on both sides are discharged but any right based on prior breach or performance survives.

(d) "Cancellation" occurs when either party puts an end to the contract for breach by the other and its effect is the same as that of "termination" except that the cancelling party also retains any remedy for breach of the whole contract or any unperformed balance.

§ 2.107. Goods to be Severed From Realty: Recording

(a) A contract for the sale of minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or a structure or its materials to be removed from realty is a contract for the sale of goods within this chapter if they are to be severed by the seller but until severance a purported present sale thereof which is not effective as a transfer of an interest in land is effective only as a contract to sell.

(b) A contract for the sale apart from the land of growing crops or other things attached to realty and capable of severance without material harm thereto but not described in Subsection (a) or of timber to be cut is a contract for the sale of goods within this chapter whether the subject matter is to be severed by the buyer or by the seller even though it forms part of the realty at the time of contracting, and the parties can by identification effect a present sale before severance.

(c) The provisions of this section are subject to any third party rights provided by the law relating to realty records, and the contract for sale may be executed and recorded as a document transferring an interest in land and shall then constitute notice to third parties of the buyer's rights under the contract for sale.

SUBCHAPTER B. FORM, FORMATION AND READJUSTMENT OF CONTRACT

§ 2.201. Formal Requirements; Statute of Frauds

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section a contract for the sale of goods for the price of $500 or more is not enforceable by way of action or defense unless there is some writing sufficient to indicate that a contract for sale has been made between the parties and signed by the party against whom enforcement is sought or by his authorized agent or broker. A writing is not insufficient because it omits or incorrectly states a term agreed upon but the contract is not enforceable under this paragraph beyond the quantity of goods shown in such writing.

(b) Between merchants if within a reasonable time a writing in confirmation of the contract and sufficient against the sender is received and the party receiving it has reason to know its contents, it satisfies the requirements of Subsection (a) against such party unless written notice of objection to its contents is given within ten days after it is received.

(c) A contract which does not satisfy the requirements of Subsection (a) but which is valid in other respects is enforceable

(1) if the goods are to be specially manufactured for the buyer and are not suitable for sale to others in the ordinary course of the seller's business and the seller, before notice of repudiation is received and under circumstances which reasonably indicate that the goods are for the buyer, has made either a substantial beginning of their manufacture or commitments for their procurement; or

(2) if the party against whom enforcement is sought admits in his pleading, testimony or otherwise in court that a contract for sale was made, but the contract is not enforceable under this provision beyond the quantity of goods admitted; or

(3) with respect to goods for which payment has been made and accepted or which have been received and accepted (Section 2.606).

§ 2.202. Final Written Expression: Parol or Extrinsic Evidence

Terms with respect to which the confirmatory memoranda of the parties agree or which are otherwise set forth in a writing intended by the parties as a final expression of their agreement with respect to such terms as are included therein may not be contradicted by evidence of any prior agreement or of a contemporaneous oral agreement but may be explained or supplemented

(1) by course of dealing or usage of trade (Section 1.205) or by course of performance (Section 2.208); and

(2) by evidence of consistent additional terms unless the court finds the writing to have been intended also as a complete and exclusive statement of the terms of the agreement.

§ 2.203. Seals Inoperative

The affixing of a seal to a writing evidencing a contract for sale or an offer to buy or sell goods does not constitute the writing a sealed instrument and the law with respect to sealed instruments does not apply to such a contract or offer.

§ 2.204. Formation in General

(a) A contract for sale of goods may be made in any manner sufficient to show agreement, including conduct by both parties which recognizes the existence of such a contract.

(b) An agreement sufficient to constitute a contract for sale may be found even though the moment of its making is undetermined.

(c) Even though one or more terms are left open a contract for sale does not fail for indefiniteness if the parties have intended to make a contract and there is a reasonably certain basis for giving an appropriate remedy.

§ 2.205. Firm Offers

An offer by a merchant to buy or sell goods in a signed writing which by its terms gives assurance that it will be held open is not revocable, for lack of consideration, during the time stated or if no time is stated for a reasonable time, but in no event may such period of irrevocability exceed three months; but any such term of assurance on a form supplied by the offeree must be separately signed by the offeror.

§ 2.206. Offer and Acceptance in Formation of Contract

(a) Unless otherwise unambiguously indicated by the language or circumstances

(1) an offer to make a contract shall be construed as inviting acceptance in any manner and by any medium reasonable in the circumstances;

(2) an order or other offer to buy goods for prompt or current shipment shall be construed as inviting acceptance either by a prompt promise to ship or by the prompt or current shipment of conforming or non-conforming goods, but such a shipment of non-conforming goods does not constitute an acceptance if the seller seasonably notifies the buyer that the shipment is offered only as an accommodation to the buyer.

(b) Where the beginning of a requested performance is a reasonable mode of acceptance an offeror who is not notified of acceptance within a reasonable time may treat the offer as having lapsed before acceptance.

§ 2.207. Additional Terms in Acceptance or Confirmation

(a) A definite and seasonable expression of acceptance or a written confirmation which is sent within a reasonable time operates as an acceptance even though it states terms additional to or different from those offered or agreed upon, unless acceptance is expressly made conditional on assent to the additional or different terms.

(b) The additional terms are to be construed as proposals for addition to the contract. Between merchants such terms become part of the contract unless:

(1) the offer expressly limits acceptance to the terms of the offer;

(2) they materially alter it; or

(3) notification of objection to them has already been given or is given within a reasonable time after notice of them is received.

(c) Conduct by both parties which recognizes the existence of a contract is sufficient to establish a contract for sale although the writings of the parties do not otherwise establish a contract. In such case the terms of the particular contract consist of those terms on which the writings of the parties agree, together with any supplementary terms incorporated under any other provisions of this title.

§ 2.208. Course of Performance or Practical Construction

(a) Where the contract for sale involves repeated occasions for performance by either party with knowledge of the nature of the performance and opportunity for objection to it by the other, any course of performance accepted or acquiesced in within objection shall be relevant to determine the meaning of the agreement.

(b) The express terms of the agreement and any such course of performance, as well as any course of dealing and usage of trade, shall be construed whenever reasonable as consistent with each other; but when such construction is unreasonable, express terms shall control course of performance and course of performance shall control both course of dealing and usage of trade (Section 1.205).

(c) Subject to the provisions of the next section on modification and waiver, such course of performance shall be relevant to show a waiver or modification of any term inconsistent with such course of performance.

§ 2.209. Modification, Rescission and Waiver

(a) An agreement modifying a contract within this chapter needs no consideration to be binding.

(b) A signed agreement which excludes modification or rescission except by a signed writing cannot be otherwise modified or rescinded, but except as between merchants such a requirement on a form supplied by the merchant must be separately signed by the other party.

(c) The requirements of the statute of frauds section of this chapter (Section 2.201) must be satisfied if the contract as modified is within its provisions.

(d) Although an attempt at modification or rescission does not satisfy the requirements of Subsection (b) or (c) it can operate as a waiver.

(e) A party who has made a waiver affecting an executory portion of the contract may retract the waiver by reasonable notification received by the other party that strict performance will be required of any term waived, unless the retraction would be unjust in view of a material change of position in reliance on the waiver.

§ 2.210. Delegation of Performance; Assignment of Rights

(a) A party may perform his duty through a delegate unless otherwise agreed or unless the other party has a substantial interest in having his original promisor perform or control the acts required by the contract. No delegation of performance relieves the party delegating of any duty to perform or any liability for breach.

(b) Unless otherwise agreed all rights of either seller or buyer can be assigned except where the assignment would materially change the duty of the other party, or increase materially the burden or risk imposed on him by his contract, or impair materially his chance of obtaining return performance. A right to damages for breach of the whole contract or a right arising out of the assignor's due performance of his entire obligation can be assigned despite agreement otherwise.

(c) Unless the circumstances indicate the contrary a prohibition of assignment of "the contract" is to be construed as barring only the delegation to the assignee of the assignor's performance.

(d) An assignment of "the contract" or of "all my rights under the contract" or an assignment in similar general terms is an assignment of rights and unless the language or the circumstances (as in an assignment for security) indicate the contrary, it is a delegation of performance of the duties of the assignor and its acceptance by the assignee constitutes a promise by him to perform those duties. This promise is enforceable by either the assignor or the other party to the original contract.

(e) The other party may treat any assignment which delegates performance as creating reasonable grounds for insecurity and may without prejudice to his rights against the assignor demand assurances from the assignee (Section 2.609).

SUBCHAPTER C. GENERAL OBLIGATION AND CONSTRUCTION OF CONTRACT

§ 2.301. General Obligations of Parties

The obligation of the seller is to transfer and deliver and that of the buyer is to accept and pay in accordance with the contract.

§ 2.302. Unconscionable Contract or Clause

(a) If the court as a matter of law finds the contract or any clause of the contract to have been unconscionable at the time it was made the court may refuse to enforce the contract, or it may enforce the remainder of the contract without the unconscionable clause, or it may so limit the application of any unconscionable clause as to avoid any unconscionable result.

(b) When it is claimed or appears to the court that the contract or any clause thereof may be unconscionable the parties shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity to present evidence as to its commercial setting, purpose and effect to aid the court in making the determination.

§ 2.303. Allocation or Division of Risks

Where this chapter allocates a risk or a burden as between the parties "unless otherwise agreed", the agreement may not only shift the allocation but may also divide the risk or burden.

§ 2.304. Price Payable in Money, Goods, Realty, or Otherwise

(a) The price can be made payable in money or otherwise. If it is payable in whole or in part in goods each party is a seller of the goods which he is to transfer.

(b) Even though all or part of the price is payable in an interest in realty the transfer of the goods and the seller's obligations with reference to them are subject to this chapter, but not the transfer of the interest in realty or the transferor's obligations in connection therewith.

§ 2.305. Open Price Term

(a) The parties if they so intend can conclude a contract for sale even though the price is not settled. In such a case the price is a reasonable price at the time for delivery if

- (1) nothing is said as to price; or
- (2) the price is left to be agreed by the parties and they fail to agree; or
- (3) the price is to be fixed in terms of some agreed market or other standard as set or recorded by a third person or agency and it is not so set or recorded.

(b) A price to be fixed by the seller or by the buyer means a price for him to fix in good faith.

(c) When a price left to be fixed otherwise than by agreement of the parties fails to be fixed through fault of one party the other may at his option treat the contract as cancelled or himself fix a reasonable price.

(d) Where, however, the parties intend not to be bound unless the price be fixed or agreed and it is not fixed or agreed there is no contract. In such a case the buyer must return any goods already received or if unable so to do must pay their reasonable value at the time of delivery and the seller must return any portion of the price paid on account.

§ 2.306. Output, Requirements and Exclusive Dealings

(a) A term which measures the quantity by the output of the seller or the requirements of the buyer means such actual output or requirements as may occur in good faith, except that no quantity unreasonably disproportionate to any stated estimate or in the absence of a stated estimate to any normal or otherwise comparable prior output or requirements may be tendered or demanded.

(b) A lawful agreement by either the seller or the buyer for exclusive dealing in the kind of goods concerned imposes unless otherwise agreed an obligation by the seller to use best efforts to supply the goods and by the buyer to use best efforts to promote their sale.

§ 2.307. Delivery in Single Lot or Several Lots

Unless otherwise agreed all goods called for by a contract for sale must be tendered in a single delivery and payment is due only on such tender but where the circumstances give either party the right to make or demand delivery in lots the price if it can be apportioned may be demanded for each lot.

§ 2.308. Absence of Specified Place for Delivery

Unless otherwise agreed

(1) the place for delivery of goods is the seller's place of business or if he has none his residence; but

(2) in a contract for sale of identified goods which to the knowledge of the parties at the time of contracting are in some other place, that place is the place for their delivery; and

(3) documents of title may be delivered through customary banking channels.

§ 2.309. Absence of Specific Time Provisions; Notice of Termination

(a) The time for shipment or delivery or any other action under a contract if not provided in this chapter or agreed upon shall be a reasonable time.

(b) Where the contract provides for successive performances but is indefinite in duration it is valid for a reasonable time but unless otherwise agreed may be terminated at any time by either party.

(c) Termination of a contract by one party except on the happening of an agreed event requires that reasonable notification be received by the other party and an agreement dispensing with notification is invalid if its operation would be unconscionable.

§ 2.310. Open Time for Payment or Running of Credit; Authority to Ship Under Reservation

Unless otherwise agreed

(1) payment is due at the time and place at which the buyer is to receive the goods even though the place of shipment is the place of delivery; and

(2) if the seller is authorized to send the goods he may ship them under reservation, and may tender the documents of title, but the buyer may inspect the goods after their arrival before payment is due unless such inspection is inconsistent with the terms of the contract (Section 2.513); and

(3) if delivery is authorized and made by way of documents of title otherwise than by Subdivision (2) then payment is due at the time and place at which the buyer is to receive the documents regardless of where the goods are to be received; and

(4) where the seller is required or authorized to ship the goods on credit the credit period runs from the time of shipment but post-dating the invoice or delaying its dispatch will correspondingly delay the starting of the credit period.

§ 2.311. Options and Cooperation Respecting Performance

(a) An agreement for sale which is otherwise sufficiently definite (Subsection (c) of Section 2.204) to be a contract is not made invalid by the fact that it leaves particulars of performance to be specified by one of the parties. Any such specification must be made in good faith and within limits set by commercial reasonableness.

(b) Unless otherwise agreed specifications relating to assortment of the goods are at the buyer's option and except as otherwise provided in Subsections (a)(3) and (c) of Section 2.319 specifications or arrangements relating to shipment are at the seller's option.

(c) Where such specification would materially affect the other party's performance but is not seasonably made or where one party's cooperation is necessary to the agreed performance of the other but is not seasonably forthcoming, the other party in addition to all other remedies

(1) is excused for any resulting delay in his own performance; and

(2) may also either proceed to perform in any reasonable manner or after the time for a material part of his own performance treat the failure to specify or to cooperate as a breach by failure to deliver or accept the goods.

§ 2.312. Warranty of Title and Against Infringement; Buyer's Obligation Against Infringement

(a) Subject to Subsection (b) there is in a contract for sale a warranty by the seller that

(1) the title conveyed shall be good, and its transfer rightful; and

(2) the goods shall be delivered free from any security interest or other lien or encumbrance of which the buyer at the time of contracting has no knowledge.

(b) A warranty under Subsection (a) will be excluded or modified only by specific language or by circumstances which give the buyer reason to know that the person selling does not claim title in himself or that he is purporting to sell only such right or title as he or a third person may have.

(c) Unless otherwise agreed a seller who is a merchant regularly dealing in goods of the kind warrants that the goods shall be delivered free of the rightful claim of any third person by way of infringement or the like but a buyer who furnishes specifications to the seller must hold the seller harmless against any such claim which arises out of compliance with the specifications.

§ 2.313. Express Warranties by Affirmation, Promise, Description, Sample

(a) Express warranties by the seller are created as follows:

(1) Any affirmation of fact or promise made by the seller to the buyer which relates to the goods and becomes part of the basis of the bargain creates an express warranty that the goods shall conform to the affirmation or promise.

(2) Any description of the goods which is made part of the basis of the bargain creates an express warranty that the goods shall conform to the description.

(3) Any sample or model which is made part of the basis of the bargain creates an express warranty that the whole of the goods shall conform to the sample or model.

(b) It is not necessary to the creation of an express warranty that the seller use formal words such as "warrant" or "guarantee" or that he have a specific intention to make a warranty, but an affirmation merely of the value of the goods or a statement purporting to be merely the seller's opinion or commendation of the goods does not create a warranty.

§ 2.314. Implied Warranty: Merchantability; Usage of Trade

(a) Unless excluded or modified (Section 2.316), a warranty that the goods shall be merchantable is implied in a contract for their sale if the seller is a merchant with respect to goods of that kind. Under this section the serving for value of food or drink to be consumed either on the premises or elsewhere is a sale.

(b) Goods to be merchantable must be at least such as

(1) pass without objection in the trade under the contract description; and

(2) in the case of fungible goods, are of fair average quality within the description; and

(3) are fit for the ordinary purposes for which such goods are used; and

(4) run, within the variations permitted by the agreement, of even kind, quality and quantity within each unit and among all units involved; and

(5) are adequately contained, packaged, and labeled as the agreement may require; and

(6) conform to the promises or affirmations of fact made on the container or label if any.

(c) Unless excluded or modified (Section 2.316) other implied warranties may arise from course of dealing or usage of trade.

§ 2.315. Implied Warranty: Fitness for Particular Purpose

Where the seller at the time of contracting has reason to know any particular purpose for which the goods are required and that the buyer is relying on the seller's skill or judgment to select or furnish suitable goods, there is unless excluded or modified under the next section an implied warranty that the goods shall be fit for such purpose.

§ 2.316. Exclusion or Modification of Warranties

(a) Words or conduct relevant to the creation of an express warranty and words or conduct tending to negate or limit warranty shall be construed wherever reasonable as consistent with each other; but subject to the provisions of this chapter on parol or extrinsic evidence (Section 2.202) negation or limitation is inoperative to the extent that such construction is unreasonable.

(b) Subject to Subsection (c), to exclude or modify the implied warranty of merchantability or any part of it the language must mention merchantability and in case of a writing must be conspicuous, and to exclude or modify any implied warranty of fitness the exclusion must be by a writing and conspicuous. Language to exclude all implied warranties of fitness is sufficient if it states, for example, that "There are no warranties which extend beyond the description on the face hereof."

(c) Notwithstanding Subsection (b)

(1) unless the circumstances indicate otherwise, all implied warranties are excluded by expressions like "as is", "with all faults" or other language which in common understanding calls the buyer's attention to the exclusion of warranties and makes plain that there is no implied warranty; and

(2) when the buyer before entering into the contract has examined the goods or the sample or model as fully as he desired or has refused to examine the goods there is no implied warranty with regard to defects which an examination ought in the circumstances to have revealed to him; and

(3) an implied warranty can also be excluded or modified by course of dealing or course of performance or usage of trade.

(d) Remedies for breach of warranty can be limited in accordance with the provisions of this chapter on liquidation or limitation of damages and on contractual modification of remedy (Sections 2.718 and 2.719).

(e) The implied warranties of merchantability and fitness shall not be applicable to the furnishing of human blood, blood plasma, or other human tissue or organs from a blood bank or reservoir of such other tissues or organs. Such blood, blood plasma or tissue or organs shall not for the purpose of this Title be considered commodities subject to sale or barter, but shall be considered as medical services.

§ 2.317. Cumulation and Conflict of Warranties Express or Implied

Warranties whether express or implied shall be construed as consistent with each other and as cumulative, but if such construction is unreasonable the intention of the parties shall determine which warranty is dominant. In ascertaining that intention the following rules apply:

(1) Exact or technical specifications displace an inconsistent sample or model or general language of description.

(2) A sample from an existing bulk displaces inconsistent general language of description.

(3) Express warranties displace inconsistent implied warranties other than an implied warranty of fitness for a particular purpose.

§ 2.318. Chapter Neutral on Question of Third Party Beneficiaries of Warranties of Quality and on Need for Privity of Contract

This chapter does not provide whether anyone other than a buyer may take advantage of an express or implied warranty of quality made to the buyer or whether the buyer or anyone entitled to take advantage of a warranty made to the buyer may sue a third party other than the immediate seller for deficiencies in the quality of the goods. These matters are left to the courts for their determination.

§ 2.319. F.O.B. and F.A.S. Terms

(a) Unless otherwise agreed the term F.O.B. (which means "free on board") at a named place, even though used only in connection with the stated price, is a delivery term under which

(1) when the term is F.O.B. the place of shipment, the seller must at that place ship the goods in the manner provided in this chapter (Section 2.504) and bear the expense and risk of putting them into the possession of the carrier; or

(2) when the term is F.O.B. the place of destination, the seller must at his own expense and risk transport the goods to that place and there tender delivery of them in the manner provided in this chapter (Section 2.503);

(3) when under either Subdivision (1) or (2) the term is also F.O.B. vessel, car or other vehicle, the seller must in addition at his own expense and risk load the goods on board. If the term is F.O.B. vessel the buyer must name the vessel and in an appropriate case the seller must comply with the provisions of this chapter on the form of bill of lading (Section 2.323).

(b) Unless otherwise agreed the term F.A.S. vessel (which means "free alongside") at a named port, even though used only in connection with the stated price, is a delivery term under which the seller must

(1) at his own expense and risk deliver the goods alongside the vessel in the manner usual in that port or on a dock designated and provided by the buyer; and

(2) obtain and tender a receipt for the goods in exchange for which the carrier is under a duty to issue a bill of lading.

(c) Unless otherwise agreed in any case falling within Subsection (a)(1) or (3) or Subsection (b) the buyer must seasonably give any needed instructions for making delivery, including when the term is F.A.S. or F.O.B. the loading berth of the vessel and in an appropriate case its name and sailing date. The seller may treat the failure of needed instructions as a failure of cooperation under this chapter (Section 2.311). He may also at his option move the goods in any reasonable manner preparatory to delivery or shipment.

(d) Under the term F.O.B. vessel or F.A.S. unless otherwise agreed the buyer must make payment against tender of the required documents and the seller may not tender nor the buyer demand delivery of the goods in substitution for the documents.

§ 2.320. C.I.F. and C. & F. Terms

(a) The term C.I.F. means that the price includes in a lump sum the cost of the goods and the insurance and freight to the named destination. The term C. & F. or C.F. means that the price so includes cost and freight to the named destination.

(b) Unless otherwise agreed and even though used only in connection with the stated price and destination, the term C.I.F. destination or its equivalent requires the seller at his own expense and risk to

(1) put the goods into the possession of a carrier at the port for shipment and obtain a negotiable bill or bills of lading covering the entire transportation to the named destination; and

(2) load the goods and obtain a receipt from the carrier (which may be contained in the bill of lading) showing that the freight has been paid or provided for; and

(3) obtain a policy or certificate of insurance, including any war risk insurance, of a kind and on terms then current at the port of shipment in the usual amount, in the currency of the contract, shown to cover the same goods covered by the bill of lading and providing for payment of loss to the order of the buyer or for the account of whom it may concern; but the seller may add to the price the amount of the premium for any such war risk insurance; and

(4) prepare an invoice of the goods and procure any other documents required to effect shipment or to comply with the contract; and

(5) forward and tender with commercial promptness all the documents in due form and with any indorsement necessary to perfect the buyer's rights.

(c) Unless otherwise agreed the term C. & F. or its equivalent has the same effect and imposes upon the seller the same obligations and risks as a C.I.F. term except the obligation as to insurance.

(d) Under the term C.I.F. or C. & F. unless otherwise agreed the buyer must make payment against tender of the required documents and the seller may not tender nor the buyer demand delivery of the goods in substitution for the documents.

§ 2.321. C.I.F. or C. & F.: "Net Landed Weights"; "Payment on Arrival"; Warranty of Condition on Arrival

Under a contract containing a term C.I.F. or C. & F.

(a) Where the price is based on or is to be adjusted according to "net landed weights", "delivered weights", "out turn" quantity or quality or the like, unless otherwise agreed the seller must reasonably estimate the price. The payment due on tender of the documents called for by the contract is the amount so estimated, but after final adjustment of the price a settlement must be made with commercial promptness.

(b) An agreement described in Subsection (a) or any warranty of quality or condition of the goods on arrival places upon the seller the risk of ordinary deterioration, shrinkage and the like in transportation but has no effect on the place or time of identification to the contract for sale or delivery or on the passing of the risk of loss.

(c) Unless otherwise agreed where the contract provides for payment on or after arrival of the goods the seller must before payment allow such preliminary inspection as is feasible; but if the goods are lost delivery of the documents and payment are due when the goods should have arrived.

§ 2.322. Delivery "Ex-Ship"

(a) Unless otherwise agreed a term for delivery of goods "ex-ship" (which means from the carrying vessel) or in equivalent language is not restricted to a particular ship and requires delivery from a ship which has reached a place at the named port of destination where goods of the kind are usually discharged.

(b) Under such a term unless otherwise agreed

(1) the seller must discharge all liens arising out of the carriage and furnish the buyer with a direction which puts the carrier under a duty to deliver the goods; and

(2) the risk of loss does not pass to the buyer until the goods leave the ship's tackle or are otherwise properly unloaded.

§ 2.323. Form of Bill of Lading Required in Overseas Shipment; "Overseas"

(a) Where the contract contemplates overseas shipment and contains a term C.I.F. or C. & F. or F.O.B. vessel, the seller unless otherwise agreed must obtain a negotiable bill of lading stating that the goods have been loaded on board or, in the case of a term C.I.F. or C. & F., received for shipment.

(b) Where in a case within Subsection (a) a bill of lading has been issued in a set of parts, unless otherwise agreed if the documents are not to be sent from abroad the buyer may demand tender of the full set; otherwise only one part of the bill of lading need be tendered. Even if the agreement expressly requires a full set

(1) due tender of a single part is acceptable within the provisions of this chapter on cure of improper delivery (Subsection (a) of Section 2.508); and

(2) even though the full set is demanded, if the documents are sent from abroad the person tendering an incomplete set may nevertheless require payment upon furnishing an indemnity which the buyer in good faith deems adequate.

(c) A shipment by water or by air or a contract contemplating such shipment is "overseas" insofar as by usage of trade or agreement it is subject to the commercial, financing or shipping practices characteristic of international deep water commerce.

§ 2.324. "No Arrival, No Sale" Term

Under a term "no arrival, no sale" or terms of like meaning, unless otherwise agreed,

(1) the seller must properly ship conforming goods and if they arrive by any means he must tender them on arrival but he assumes no obligation that the goods will arrive unless he has caused the non-arrival; and

(2) where without fault of the seller the goods are in part lost or have so deteriorated as no longer to conform to the contract or arrive after the contract time, the buyer may proceed as if there had been casualty to identified goods (Section 2.613).

§ 2.325. "Letter of Credit" Term; "Confirmed Credit"

(a) Failure of the buyer seasonably to furnish an agreed letter of credit is a breach of the contract for sale.

(b) The delivery to seller of a proper letter of credit suspends the buyer's obligation to pay. If the letter of credit is dishonored, the seller may on seasonable notification to the buyer require payment directly from him.

(c) Unless otherwise agreed the term "letter of credit" or "banker's credit" in a contract for sale means an irrevocable credit issued by a financing agency of good repute and, where the shipment is overseas, of good international repute. The term "confirmed credit" means that the credit must also carry the direct obligation of such an agency which does business in the seller's financial market.

§ 2.326. Sale on Approval and Sale or Return; Consignment Sales and Rights of Creditors

(a) Unless otherwise agreed, if delivered goods may be returned by the buyer even though they conform to the contract, the transaction is

(1) a "sale on approval" if the goods are delivered primarily for use, and

(2) a "sale or return" if the goods are delivered primarily for resale.

(b) Except as provided in Subsection (c), goods held on approval are not subject to the claims of the buyer's creditors until acceptance; goods held on sale or return are subject to such claims while in the buyer's possession.

(c) Where goods are delivered to a person for sale and such person maintains a place of business at which he deals in goods of the kind involved, under a name other than the name of the person making delivery, then with respect to claims of creditors of the person conducting the business the goods are deemed to be on sale or return. The provisions of this subsection are applicable even though an agreement purports to reserve title to the person making delivery until payment or resale or uses such words as "on consignment" or "on memorandum". However, this subsection is not applicable if the person making delivery

(1) complies with an applicable law providing for a consignor's interest or the like to be evidenced by a sign, or

(2) establishes that the person conducting the business is generally known by his creditors to be substantially engaged in selling the goods of others, or

(3) complies with the filing provisions of the chapter on Secured Transactions (Chapter 9).

(d) Any "or return" term of a contract for sale is to be treated as a separate contract for sale within the statute of frauds section of this chapter (Section 2.201) and as contradicting the sale aspect of the contract within the provisions of this chapter on parol or extrinsic evidence (Section 2.202).

§ 2.327. Special Incidents of Sale on Approval and Sale or Return

(a) Under a sale on approval unless otherwise agreed

(1) although the goods are identified to the contract the risk of loss and the title do not pass to the buyer until acceptance; and

(2) use of the goods consistent with the purpose of trial is not acceptance but failure seasonably to notify the seller of election to return the goods is acceptance, and if the goods conform to the contract acceptance of any part is acceptance of the whole; and

(3) after due notification of election to return, the return is at the seller's risk and expense but a merchant buyer must follow any reasonable instructions.

(b) Under a sale or return unless otherwise agreed

(1) the option to return extends to the whole or any commercial unit of the goods while in substantially their original condition, but must be exercised seasonably; and

(2) the return is at the buyer's risk and expense.

§ 2.328. Sale by Auction

(a) In a sale by auction if goods are put up in lots each lot is the subject of a separate sale.

(b) A sale by auction is complete when the auctioneer so announces by the fall of the hammer or in other customary manner. Where a bid is made while the hammer is falling in acceptance of a prior bid the auctioneer may in his discretion reopen the bidding or declare the goods sold under the bid on which the hammer was falling.

(c) Such a sale is with reserve unless the goods are in explicit terms put up without reserve. In an auction with reserve the auctioneer may withdraw the goods at any time until he announces completion of the sale. In an auction without reserve, after the auctioneer calls for bids on an article or lot, that article or lot cannot be withdrawn unless no bid is made within a reasonable time. In either case a bidder may retract his bid until the auctioneer's announcement of completion of the sale, but a bidder's retraction does not revive any previous bid.

(d) If the auctioneer knowingly receives a bid on the seller's behalf or the seller makes or procures such a bid, and notice has not been given that liberty for such bidding is reserved, the buyer may at his option avoid the sale or take the goods at the price of the last good faith bid prior to the completion of the sale. This subsection shall not apply to any bid at a forced sale.

SUBCHAPTER D. TITLE, CREDITORS AND GOOD FAITH PURCHASERS

§ 2.401. Passing of Title; Reservation for Security; Limited Application of This Section

Each provision of this chapter with regard to the rights, obligations and remedies of the seller, the buyer, purchasers or other third parties applies irrespective of title to the goods except where the provision refers to such title. Insofar as situations are not covered by the other provisions of this chapter and matters concerning title become material the following rules apply:

(a) Title to goods cannot pass under a contract for sale prior to their identification to the contract (Section 2.501), and unless otherwise explicitly agreed the buyer acquires by their identification a special property as limited by this title. Any retention or reservation by the seller of the title (property) in goods shipped or delivered to the buyer is limited in effect to a reservation of a security interest. Subject to these provisions and to the provisions of the chapter on Secured Transactions (Chapter 9), title to goods passes from the seller to the buyer in any manner and on any conditions explicitly agreed on by the parties.

(b) Unless otherwise explicitly agreed title passes to the buyer at the time and place at which the seller completes his performance with reference to the physical delivery of the goods, despite any reservation of a security interest and even though a document of title is to be delivered at a different time or place; and in particular and despite any reservation of a security interest by the bill of lading

(1) if the contract requires or authorizes the seller to send the goods to the buyer but does not require him to deliver them at destination, title passes to the buyer at the time and place of shipment; but

(2) if the contract requires delivery at destination, title passes on tender there.

(c) Unless otherwise explicitly agreed where delivery is to be made without moving the goods,

(1) if the seller is to deliver a document of title, title passes at the time when and the place where he delivers such documents; or

(2) if the goods are at the time of contracting already identified and no documents are to be delivered, title passes at the time and place of contracting.

(d) A rejection or other refusal by the buyer to receive or retain the goods, whether or not justified, or a justified revocation of acceptance reverts title to the goods in the seller. Such reversion occurs by operation of law and is not a "sale".

§ 2.402. Rights of Seller's Creditors Against Sold Goods

(a) Except as provided in Subsections (b) and (c), rights of unsecured creditors of the seller with respect to goods which have been identified to a contract for sale are subject to the buyer's rights to recover the goods under this chapter (Section 2.502 and 2.716).

(b) A creditor of the seller may treat a sale or an identification of goods to a contract for sale as void if as against him a retention of possession by the seller is fraudulent under any rule of law of the state where the goods are situated, except that retention of possession in good faith and current course of trade by a merchant-seller for a commercially reasonable time after a sale or identification is not fraudulent.

(c) Nothing in this chapter shall be deemed to impair the rights of creditors of the seller

(1) under the provisions of the chapter on Secured Transactions (Chapter 9); or

(2) where identification to the contract or delivery is made not in current course of trade but in satisfaction of or as security for a pre-existing claim for money, security or the like and is made under circumstances which under any rule of law of the state where the goods are situated would apart from this chapter constitute the transaction a fraudulent transfer or voidable preference.

§ 2.403. Power to Transfer; Good Faith Purchase of Goods; "Entrusting"

(a) A purchaser of goods acquires all title which his transferor had or had power to transfer except that a purchaser of a limited interest acquires rights only to the extent of the interest purchased. A person with voidable title has power to transfer a good title to a good faith purchaser for value. When goods have been delivered under a transaction of purchase the purchaser has such power even though

(1) the transferor was deceived as to the identity of the purchaser, or

(2) the delivery was in exchange for a check which is later dishonored, or

(3) it was agreed that the transaction was to be a "cash sale", or

(4) the delivery was procured through fraud punishable as larcenous under the criminal law.

(b) Any entrusting of possession of goods to a merchant who deals in goods of that kind gives him power to transfer all rights of the entruster to a buyer in ordinary course of business.

(c) "Entrusting" includes any delivery and any acquiescence in retention of possession regardless of any condition expressed between the parties to the delivery or acquiescence and regardless of whether the procurement of the entrusting or the possessor's disposition of the goods have been such as to be larcenous under the criminal law.

(d) The rights of other purchasers of goods and of lien creditors are governed by the chapters on Secured Transactions (Chapter 9), Bulk Transfers (Chapter 6) and Documents of Title (Chapter 7).

SUBCHAPTER E. PERFORMANCE

§ 2.501. Insurable Interest in Goods; Manner of Identification of Goods

(a) The buyer obtains a special property and an insurable interest in goods by identification of existing goods as goods to which the contract refers even though the goods so identified are non-conforming and he has an option to return or reject them. Such identification can be made at any time and in any manner explicitly agreed to by the parties. In the absence of explicit agreement identification occurs

(1) when the contract is made if it is for the sale of goods already existing and identified;

(2) if the contract is for the sale of future goods other than those described in Subdivision

(3), when goods are shipped, marked or otherwise designated by the seller as goods to which the contract refers;

(3) when the crops are planted or otherwise become growing crops or the young are conceived if the contract is for the sale of unborn young to be born within twelve months after contracting or for the sale of crops to be harvested within twelve months or the next normal harvest season after contracting whichever is longer.

(b) The seller retains an insurable interest in goods so long as title to or any security interest in the goods remains in him and where the identification is by the seller alone he may until default or insolvency or notification to the buyer that the identification is final substitute other goods for those identified.

(c) Nothing in this section impairs any insurable interest recognized under any other statute or rule of law.

§ 2.502. Buyer's Right to Goods on Seller's Insolvency

(a) Subject to Subsection (b) and even though the goods have not been shipped a buyer who has paid a part or all of the price of goods in which he has a special property under the provisions of the immediately preceding section may on making and keeping good a tender of any unpaid portion of their price recover them from the seller if the seller becomes insolvent within ten days after receipt of the first installment on their price.

(b) If the identification creating his special property has been made by the buyer he acquires the right to recover the goods only if they conform to the contract for sale.

§ 2.503. Manner of Seller's Tender of Delivery

(a) Tender of delivery requires that the seller put and hold conforming goods at the buyer's disposition and give the buyer any notification reasonably necessary to enable him to take delivery. The manner, time and place for tender are determined by the agreement and this chapter, and in particular

(1) tender must be at a reasonable hour, and if it is of goods they must be kept available for the period reasonably necessary to enable the buyer to take possession; but

(2) unless otherwise agreed the buyer must furnish facilities reasonably suited to the receipt of the goods.

(b) Where the case is within the next section respecting shipment tender requires that the seller comply with its provisions.

(c) Where the seller is required to deliver at a particular destination tender requires that he comply with Subsection (a) and also in any appropriate case tender documents as described in Subsections (d) and (e) of this section.

(d) Where goods are in the possession of a bailee and are to be delivered without being moved

(1) tender requires that the seller either tender a negotiable document of title covering such goods or procure acknowledgement by the bailee of the buyer's right to possession of the goods; but

(2) tender to the buyer of a non-negotiable document of title or of a written direction to the bailee to deliver is sufficient tender unless the buyer seasonably objects, and receipt by the bailee of notification of the buyer's rights fixes those rights as against the bailee and all third persons; but risk of loss of the goods and of any failure by the bailee to honor the non-negotiable document of title or to obey the direction remains on the seller until the buyer has had a reasonable time to present the document or direction, and a refusal by the bailee to honor the document or to obey the direction defeats the tender.

(e) Where the contract requires the seller to deliver documents

(1) he must tender all such documents in correct form, except as provided in this chapter with respect to bills of lading in a set (Subsection (b) of Section 2.323); and

(2) tender through customary banking channels is sufficient and dishonor of a draft accompanying the documents constitutes non-acceptance or rejection.

§ 2.504. Shipment by Seller

Where the seller is required or authorized to send the goods to the buyer and the contract does not require him to deliver them at a particular destination, then unless otherwise agreed he must

(1) put the goods in the possession of such a carrier and make such a contract for their transportation as may be reasonable having regard to the nature of the goods and other circumstances of the case; and

(2) obtain and promptly deliver or tender in due form any document necessary to enable the buyer to obtain possession of the goods or otherwise required by the agreement or by usage of trade; and

(3) promptly notify the buyer of the shipment.

Failure to notify the buyer under Subdivision (3) or to make a proper contract under Subdivision (1) is a ground for rejection only if material delay or loss ensues.

§ 2.505. Seller's Shipment Under Reservation

(a) Where the seller has identified goods to the contract by or before shipment:

(1) his procurement of a negotiable bill of lading to his own order or otherwise reserves in him a security interest in the goods. His procurement of the bill to the order of a financing agency or of the buyer indicates in addition only the seller's expectation of transferring that interest to the person named.

(2) a non-negotiable bill of lading to himself or his nominee reserves possession of the goods as security but except in a case of conditional delivery (Subsection (b) of Section 2.507) a non-negotiable bill of lading naming the buyer as consignee reserves no security interest even though the seller retains possession of the bill of lading.

(b) When shipment by the seller with reservation of a security interest is in violation of the contract for sale it constitutes an improper contract for transportation within the preceding section but impairs neither the rights given to the buyer by shipment and identification of the goods to the contract nor the seller's powers as a holder of a negotiable document.

§ 2.506. Rights of Financing Agency

(a) A financing agency by paying or purchasing for value a draft which relates to a shipment of goods acquires to the extent of the payment or purchase and in addition to its own rights under the draft and any document of title securing it any rights of the shipper in the goods including the right to stop delivery and the shipper's right to have the draft honored by the buyer.

(b) The right to reimbursement of a financing agency which has in good faith honored or purchased the draft under commitment to or authority from the buyer is not impaired by subsequent discovery of defects with reference to any relevant document which was apparently regular on its face.

§ 2.507. Effect of Seller's Tender; Delivery on Condition

(a) Tender of delivery is a condition to the buyer's duty to accept the goods and, unless otherwise agreed, to his duty to pay for them. Tender entitles the seller to acceptance of the goods and to payment according to the contract.

(b) Where payment is due and demanded on the delivery to the buyer of goods or documents of title, his right as against the seller to retain or dispose of them is conditional upon his making the payment due.

§ 2.508. Cure by Seller of Improper Tender or Delivery; Replacement

(a) Where any tender or delivery by the seller is rejected because non-conforming and the time for performance has not yet expired, the seller may seasonably notify the buyer of his intention to cure and may then within the contract time make a conforming delivery.

(b) Where the buyer rejects a non-conforming tender which the seller had reasonable grounds to believe would be acceptable with or without money allowance the seller may if he seasonably notifies the buyer have a further reasonable time to substitute a conforming tender.

§ 2.509. Risk of Loss in the Absence of Breach

(a) Where the contract requires or authorizes the seller to ship the goods by carrier

(1) if it does not require him to deliver them at a particular destination, the risk of loss passes to the buyer when the goods are duly delivered to the carrier even though the shipment is under reservation (Section 2.505); but

(2) if it does require him to deliver them at a particular destination and the goods are there duly tendered while in the possession of the carrier, the risk of loss passes to the buyer when the goods are there duly so tendered as to enable the buyer to take delivery.

(b) Where the goods are held by a bailee to be delivered without being moved, the risk of loss passes to the buyer

(1) on his receipt of a negotiable document of title covering the goods; or

(2) on acknowledgement by the bailee of the buyer's right to possession of the goods; or

(3) after his receipt of a non-negotiable document of title or other written direction to deliver, as provided in Subsection (d)(2) of Section 2.503.

(c) In any case not within Subsection (a) or (b), the risk of loss passes to the buyer on his receipt of the goods if the seller is a merchant; otherwise the risk passes to the buyer on tender of delivery.

(d) The provisions of this section are subject to contrary agreement of the parties and to the provisions of this chapter on sale on approval (Section 2.327) and on effect of breach on risk of loss (Section 2.510).

§ 2.510. Effect of Breach on Risk of Loss

(a) Where a tender or delivery of goods so fails to conform to the contract as to give a right of rejection the risk of their loss remains on the seller until cure or acceptance.

(b) Where the buyer rightfully revokes acceptance he may to the extent of any deficiency in his effective insurance coverage treat the risk of loss as having rested on the seller from the beginning.

(c) Where the buyer as to conforming goods already identified to the contract for sale repudiates or is otherwise in breach before risk of their loss has passed to him, the seller may to the extent of any deficiency in his effective insurance coverage treat the risk of loss as resting on the buyer for a commercially reasonable time.

§ 2.511. Tender of Payment by Buyer; Payment by Check

(a) Unless otherwise agreed tender of payment is a condition to the seller's duty to tender and complete any delivery.

(b) Tender of payment is sufficient when made by any means or in any manner current in the ordinary course of business unless the seller demands payment in legal tender and gives any extension of time reasonably necessary to procure it.

(c) Subject to the provisions of this title on the effect of an instrument on an obligation (Section 3.802), payment by check is conditional and is defeated as between the parties by dishonor of the check on due presentment.

§ 2.512. Payment by Buyer Before Inspection

(a) Where the contract requires payment before inspection non-conformity of the goods does not excuse the buyer from so making payment unless

(1) the non-conformity appears without inspection; or

(2) despite tender of the required documents circumstances would justify injunction against honor under the provisions of this title (Section 5.114).

(b) Payment pursuant to Subsection (a) does not constitute an acceptance of goods or impair the buyer's right to inspect or any of his remedies. [Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 2.513. Buyer's Right to Inspection of Goods

(a) Unless otherwise agreed and subject to Subsection (c), where goods are tendered or delivered or identified to the contract for sale, the buyer has a right before payment or acceptance to inspect them at any reasonable place and time and in any reasonable manner. When the seller is required or authorized to send the goods to the buyer, the inspection may be after their arrival.

(b) Expenses of inspection must be borne by the buyer but may be recovered from the seller if the goods do not conform and are rejected.

(c) Unless otherwise agreed and subject to the provisions of this chapter on C.I.F. contracts (Subsection (c) of Section 2.321), the buyer is not entitled to inspect the goods before payment of the price when the contract provides

(1) for delivery "C.O.D." or on other like terms; or

(2) for payment against documents of title, except where such payment is due only after the goods are to become available for inspection.

(d) A place or method of inspection fixed by the parties is presumed to be exclusive but unless otherwise expressly agreed it does not postpone identification or shift the place for delivery or for passing the risk of loss. If compliance becomes impossible, inspection shall be as provided in this section unless the place or method fixed was clearly intended as an indispensable condition failure of which avoids the contract.

§ 2.514. When Documents Deliverable on Acceptance; When on Payment

Unless otherwise agreed documents against which a draft is drawn are to be delivered to the drawee on acceptance of the draft if it is payable more than three days after presentment; otherwise, only on payment.

§ 2.515. Preserving Evidence of Goods in Dispute

In furtherance of the adjustment of any claim or dispute

(1) either party on reasonable notification to the other and for the purpose of ascertaining the facts and preserving evidence has the right to inspect, test and sample the goods including such of them as may be in the possession or control of the other; and

(2) the parties may agree to a third party inspection or survey to determine the conformity or condition of the goods and may agree that the findings shall be binding upon them in any subsequent litigation or adjustment.

SUBCHAPTER F. BREACH, REPUDIATION AND EXCUSE

§ 2.601. Buyer's Rights on Improper Delivery

Subject to the provisions of this chapter on breach in installment contracts (Section 2.612) and unless otherwise agreed under the sections on contractual limitations of remedy (Sections 2.718 and 2.719), if the goods or the tender of delivery fail in any respect to conform to the contract, the buyer may

- (1) reject the whole; or
- (2) accept the whole; or
- (3) accept any commercial unit or units and reject the rest.

§ 2.602. Manner and Effect of Rightful Rejection

(a) Rejection of goods must be within a reasonable time after their delivery or tender. It is ineffective unless the buyer seasonably notifies the seller.

(b) Subject to the provisions of the two following sections on rejected goods (Sections 2.603 and 2.604),

(1) after rejection any exercise of ownership by the buyer with respect to any commercial unit is wrongful as against the seller; and

(2) if the buyer has before rejection taken physical possession of goods in which he does not have a security interest under the provisions of this chapter (Subsection (c) of Section 2.711), he is under a duty after rejection to hold them with reasonable care at the seller's disposition for a time sufficient to permit the seller to remove them; but

(3) the buyer has no further obligations with regard to goods rightfully rejected.

(c) The seller's rights with respect to goods wrongfully rejected are governed by the provisions of this chapter on Seller's remedies in general (Section 2.703).

§ 2.603. Merchant Buyer's Duties as to Rightfully Rejected Goods

(a) Subject to any security interest in the buyer (Subsection (c) of Section 2.711), when the seller has no agent or place of business at the market of rejection a merchant buyer is under a duty after rejection of goods in his possession or control to follow any reasonable instructions received from the seller with respect to the goods and in the absence of such instructions to make reasonable efforts to sell them for the seller's account if they are perishable or threaten to decline in value speedily. Instructions are not reasonable if on demand indemnity for expenses is not forthcoming.

(b) When the buyer sells goods under Subsection (a), he is entitled to reimbursement from the seller or out of the proceeds for reasonable expenses of caring for and selling them, and if the expenses include no selling commission then to such commission as is usual in the trade or if there is none to a reasonable sum not exceeding ten per cent on the gross proceeds.

(c) In complying with this section the buyer is held only to good faith and good faith conduct hereunder is neither acceptance nor conversion nor the basis of an action for damages.

§ 2.604. Buyer's Options as to Salvage of Rightfully Rejected Goods

Subject to the provisions of the immediately preceding section on perishables if the seller gives no instructions within a reasonable time after notification of rejection the buyer may store the rejected goods for the seller's account or reship them to him or resell them for the seller's account with reimbursement as provided in the preceding section. Such action is not acceptance or conversion.

§ 2.605. Waiver of Buyer's Objections by Failure to Particularize

(a) The buyer's failure to state in connection with rejection a particular defect which is ascertainable by reasonable inspection precludes him from relying on the unstated defect to justify rejection or to establish breach

(1) where the seller could have cured it if stated seasonably; or

(2) between merchants when the seller has after rejection made a request in writing for a full and final written statement of all defects on which the buyer proposes to rely.

(b) Payment against documents made without reservation of rights precludes recovery of the payment for defects apparent on the face of the documents.

§ 2.606. What Constitutes Acceptance of Goods

(a) Acceptance of goods occurs when the buyer

(1) after a reasonable opportunity to inspect the goods signifies to the seller that the goods are conforming or that he will take or retain them in spite of their non-conformity; or

(2) fails to make an effective rejection (Subsection (a) of Section 2.602), but such acceptance does not occur until the buyer has had a reasonable opportunity to inspect them; or

(3) does any act inconsistent with the seller's ownership; but if such act is wrongful as against the seller it is an acceptance only if ratified by him.

(b) Acceptance of a part of any commercial unit is acceptance of that entire unit.

§ 2.607. Effect of Acceptance; Notice of Breach; Burden of Establishing Breach After Acceptance; Notice of Claim or Litigation to Person Answerable Over

(a) The buyer must pay at the contract rate for any goods accepted.

(b) Acceptance of goods by the buyer precludes rejection of the goods accepted and if made with knowledge of a non-conformity cannot be revoked because of it unless the acceptance was on the reasonable assumption that the non-conformity would be seasonably cured but acceptance does not of itself impair any other remedy provided by this chapter for non-conformity.

(c) Where a tender has been accepted

(1) the buyer must within a reasonable time after he discovers or should have discovered any breach notify the seller of breach or be barred from any remedy; and

(2) if the claim is one for infringement or the like (Subsection (c) of Section 2.312) and the buyer is sued as a result of such a breach he must so notify the seller within a reasonable time after he receives notice of the litigation or be barred from any remedy over for liability established by the litigation.

(d) The burden is on the buyer to establish any breach with respect to the goods accepted.

(e) Where the buyer is sued for breach of a warranty or other obligation for which his seller is answerable over

(1) he may give his seller written notice of the litigation. If the notice states that the seller may come in and defend and that if the seller does not do so he will be bound in any action against him by his buyer by any determination of fact common to the two litigations, then unless the seller after seasonable receipt of the notice does come in and defend he is so bound.

(2) if the claim is one for infringement or the like (Subsection (c) of Section 2.312) the original seller may demand in writing that his buyer turn over to him control of the litigation including settlement or else be barred from any remedy over and if he also agrees to bear all expense and to satisfy any adverse judgment, then unless the buyer after seasonable receipt of the demand does turn over control the buyer is so barred.

(f) The provisions of Subsections (c), (d) and (e) apply to any obligation of a buyer to hold the seller harmless against infringement or the like (Subsection (c) of Section 2.312).

§ 2.608. Revocation of Acceptance in Whole or in Part

(a) The buyer may revoke his acceptance of a lot or commercial unit whose non-conformity substantially impairs its value to him if he has accepted it

(1) on the reasonable assumption that its non-conformity would be cured and it has not been seasonably cured; or

(2) without discovery of such non-conformity if his acceptance was reasonably induced either by the difficulty of discovery before acceptance or by the seller's assurances.

(b) Revocation of acceptance must occur within a reasonable time after the buyer discovers or should have discovered the ground for it and before any substantial change in condition of the goods which is not caused by their own defects. It is not effective until the buyer notifies the seller of it.

(c) A buyer who so revokes has the same rights and duties with regard to the goods involved as if he had rejected them.

§ 2.609. Right to Adequate Assurance of Performance

(a) A contract for sale imposes an obligation on each party that the other's expectation of receiving due performance will not be impaired. When reasonable grounds for insecurity arise with respect to the performance of either party the other may in writing demand adequate assurance of due performance and until he receives such assurance may if commercially reasonable suspend any performance for which he has not already received the agreed return.

(b) Between merchants the reasonableness of grounds for insecurity and the adequacy of any assurance offered shall be determined according to commercial standards.

(c) Acceptance of any improper delivery or payment does not prejudice the aggrieved party's right to demand adequate assurance of future performance.

(d) After receipt of a justified demand failure to provide within a reasonable time not exceeding thirty days such assurance of due performance as is adequate under the circumstances of the particular case is a repudiation of the contract.

§ 2.610. Anticipatory Repudiation

When either party repudiates the contract with respect to a performance not yet due the loss of which will substantially impair the value of the contract to the other, the aggrieved party may

(1) for a commercially reasonable time await performance by the repudiating party; or

(2) resort to any remedy for breach (Section 2.703 or Section 2.711), even though he has notified the repudiating party that he would await the latter's performance and has urged retraction; and

(3) in either case suspend his own performance or proceed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter on the seller's right to identify goods to the contract notwithstanding breach or to salvage unfinished goods (Section 2.704).

§ 2.611. Retraction of Anticipatory Repudiation

(a) Until the repudiating party's next performance is due he can retract his repudiation unless the aggrieved party has since the repudiation cancelled or materially changed his position or otherwise indicated that he considers the repudiation final.

(b) Retraction may be by any method which clearly indicates to the aggrieved party that the repudiating party intends to perform, but must include any assurance justifiably demanded under the provisions of this chapter (Section 2.609).

(c) Retraction reinstates the repudiating party's rights under the contract with due excuse and allowance to the aggrieved party for any delay occasioned by the repudiation.

§ 2.612. "Installment Contract"; Breach

(a) An "installment contract" is one which requires or authorizes the delivery of goods in separate lots to be separately accepted, even though the contract contains a clause "each delivery is a separate contract" or its equivalent.

(b) The buyer may reject any installment which is non-conforming if the non-conformity substantially impairs the value of that installment and cannot be cured or if the non-conformity is a defect in the required documents; but if the non-conformity does not fall within Subsection (c) and the seller gives adequate assurance of its cure the buyer must accept that installment.

(c) Whenever non-conformity or default with respect to one or more installments substantially impairs the value of the whole contract there is a breach of the whole. But the aggrieved party reinstates the contract if he accepts a non-conforming installment without seasonably notifying of cancellation or if he brings an action with respect only to past installments or demands performance as to future installments.

§ 2.613. Casualty to Identified Goods

Where the contract requires for its performance goods identified when the contract is made, and the goods suffer casualty without fault of either party before the risk of loss passes to the buyer, or in a proper case under a "no arrival, no sale" term (Section 2.324) then

(1) if the loss is total the contract is avoided; and

(2) if the loss is partial or the goods have so deteriorated as no longer to conform to the contract the buyer may nevertheless demand inspection and at his option either treat the contract as avoided or accept the goods with due allowance from the contract price for the deterioration or the deficiency in quantity but without further right against the seller.

§ 2.614. Substituted Performance

(a) Where without fault of either party the agreed berthing, loading, or unloading facilities fail or an agreed type of delivery becomes unavailable or the agreed manner of delivery otherwise becomes commercially impracticable but a commercially reasonable substitute is available, such substitute performance must be tendered and accepted.

(b) If the agreed means or manner of payment fails because of domestic or foreign governmental regulation, the seller may withhold or stop delivery unless the buyer provides a means or manner of payment which is commercially a substantial equivalent. If delivery has already been taken, payment by the means or in the manner provided by the regulation discharges the buyer's obligation unless the regulation is discriminatory, oppressive or predatory.

§ 2.615. Excuse by Failure of Presupposed Conditions

Except so far as a seller may have assumed a greater obligation and subject to the preceding section on substituted performance:

(1) Delay in delivery or non-delivery in whole or in part by a seller who complies with Subdivisions (2) and (3) is not a breach of his duty under a contract for sale if performance as agreed has been made impracticable by the occurrence of a contingency the non-occurrence of which was a basic assumption on which the contract was made or by compliance in good faith with any applicable foreign or domestic governmental regulation or order whether or not it later proves to be invalid.

(2) Where the causes mentioned in Subdivision (1) affect only a part of the seller's capacity to perform, he must allocate production and deliveries among his customers but may at his option include regular customers not then under contract as well as his own requirements for further manufacture. He may so allocate in any manner which is fair and reasonable.

(3) The seller must notify the buyer seasonably that there will be delay or non-delivery and, when allocation is required under Subdivision (2), of the estimated quota thus made available for the buyer.

§ 2.616. Procedure on Notice Claiming Excuse

(a) Where the buyer receives notification of a material or indefinite delay or an allocation justified under the preceding section he may by written notification to the seller as to any delivery concerned, and where the prospective deficiency substantially impairs the value of the whole contract under the provisions of this chapter relating to breach of installment contracts (Section 2.612), then also as to the whole,

(1) terminate and thereby discharge any unexecuted portion of the contract; or

(2) modify the contract by agreeing to take his available quota in substitution.

(b) If after receipt of such notification from the seller the buyer fails so to modify the contract within a reasonable time not exceeding thirty days the contract lapses with respect to any deliveries affected.

(c) The provisions of this section may not be negated by agreement except insofar as the seller has assumed a greater obligation under the preceding section.

SUBCHAPTER G. REMEDIES

§ 2.701. Remedies for Breach of Collateral Contracts Not Impaired

Remedies for breach of any obligation or promise collateral or ancillary to a contract for sale are not impaired by the provisions of this chapter.

§ 2.702. Seller's Remedies on Discovery of Buyer's Insolvency

(a) Where the seller discovers the buyer to be insolvent he may refuse delivery except for cash including payment for all goods theretofore delivered under the contract, and stop delivery under this chapter (Section 2.705).

(b) Where the seller discovers that the buyer has received goods on credit while insolvent he may reclaim the goods upon demand made within ten days after the receipt, but if misrepresentation of solvency has been made to the particular seller in writing within three months before delivery the ten day limitation does not apply. Except as provided in this subsection the seller may not base a right to reclaim goods on the buyer's fraudulent or innocent misrepresentation of solvency or of intent to pay.

(c) The seller's right to reclaim under Subsection (b) is subject to the rights of a buyer in ordinary course or other good faith purchaser or lien creditor under this chapter (Section 2.403). Successful reclamation of goods excludes all other remedies with respect to them.

§ 2.703. Seller's Remedies in General

Where the buyer wrongfully rejects or revokes acceptance of goods or fails to make a payment due on or before delivery or repudiates with respect to a part or the whole, then with respect to any goods directly affected and, if the breach is of the whole contract (Section 2.612), then also with respect to the whole undelivered balance, the aggrieved seller may

- (1) withhold delivery of such goods;
- (2) stop delivery by any bailee as hereafter provided (Section 2.705);
- (3) proceed under the next section respecting goods still unidentified to the contract;
- (4) resell and recover damages as hereafter provided (Section 2.706);
- (5) recover damages for non-acceptance (Section 2.708) or in a proper case the price (Section 2.709);
- (6) cancel.

§ 2.704. Seller's Right to Identify Goods to the Contract Notwithstanding Breach or to Salvage Unfinished Goods

(a) An aggrieved seller under the preceding section may

- (1) identify to the contract conforming goods not already identified if at the time he learned of the breach they are in his possession or control;
- (2) treat as the subject of resale goods which have demonstrably been intended for the particular contract even though those goods are unfinished.

(b) Where the goods are unfinished an aggrieved seller may in the exercise of reasonable commercial judgment for the purposes of avoiding loss and of effective realization either complete the manufacture and wholly identify the goods to the contract or cease manufacture and resell for scrap or salvage value or proceed in any other reasonable manner.

§ 2.705. Seller's Stoppage of Delivery in Transit or Otherwise

(a) The seller may stop delivery of goods in the possession of a carrier or other bailee when he discovers the buyer to be insolvent (Section 2.702) and may stop delivery of carload, truckload, plane-load or larger shipments of express or freight when the buyer repudiates or fails to make a payment due before delivery or if for any other reason the seller has a right to withhold or reclaim the goods.

(b) As against such buyer the seller may stop delivery until

- (1) receipt of the goods by the buyer; or
- (2) acknowledgment to the buyer by any bailee of the goods except a carrier that the bailee holds the goods for the buyer; or

(3) such acknowledgment to the buyer by a carrier by reshipment or as warehouseman; or

(4) negotiation to the buyer of any negotiable document of title covering the goods.

(1) To stop delivery the seller must so notify as to enable the bailee by reasonable diligence to prevent delivery of the goods.

(2) After such notification the bailee must hold and deliver the goods according to the directions of the seller but the seller is liable to the bailee for any ensuing charges or damages.

(3) If a negotiable document of title has been issued for goods the bailee is not obliged to obey a notification to stop until surrender of the document.

(4) A carrier who has issued a non-negotiable bill of lading is not obliged to obey a notification to stop received from a person other than the consignor.

§ 2.706. Seller's Resale Including Contract for Resale

(a) Under the conditions stated in Section 2.703 on seller's remedies, the seller may resell the goods concerned or the undelivered balance thereof. Where the resale is made in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner the seller may recover the difference between the resale price and the contract price together with any incidental damages allowed under the provisions of this chapter (Section 2.710), but less expenses saved in consequence of the buyer's breach.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in Subsection (c) or unless otherwise agreed resale may be at public or private sale including sale by way of one or more contracts to sell or of identification to an existing contract of the seller. Sale may be as a unit or in parcels and at any time and place and on any terms but every aspect of the sale including the method, manner, time, place and terms must be commercially reasonable. The resale must be reasonably identified as referring to the broken contract, but it is not necessary that the goods be in existence or that any or all of them have been identified to the contract before the breach.

(c) Where the resale is at private sale the seller must give the buyer reasonable notification of his intention to resell.

(d) Where the resale is at public sale

(1) only identified goods can be sold except where there is a recognized market for a public sale of futures in goods of the kind; and

(2) it must be made at a usual place or market for public sale if one is reasonably available and except in the case of goods which are perishable or threaten to decline in value speedily the seller must give the buyer reasonable notice of the time and place of the resale; and

(3) if the goods are not to be within the view of those attending the sale the notification of sale must state the place where the goods are located and provide for their reasonable inspection by prospective bidders; and

(4) the seller may buy.

(e) A purchaser who buys in good faith at a resale takes the goods free of any rights of the original buyer even though the seller fails to comply with one or more of the requirements of this section.

(f) The seller is not accountable to the buyer for any profit made on any resale. A person in the position of a seller (Section 2.707) or a buyer who has rightfully rejected or justifiably revoked acceptance must account for any excess over the amount of his security interest, as hereinafter defined (Subsection (c) of Section 2.711).

§ 2.707. "Person in the Position of a Seller"

(a) A "person in the position of a seller" includes as against a principal an agent who has paid or become responsible for the price of goods on behalf of his principal or anyone who otherwise holds a security interest or other right in goods similar to that of a seller.

(b) A person in the position of a seller may as provided in this chapter withhold or stop delivery (Section 2.705) and resell (Section 2.706) and recover incidental damages (Section 2.710).

§ 2.708. Seller's Damages for Non-Acceptance or Repudiation

(a) Subject to Subsection (b) and to the provisions of this chapter with respect to proof of market price (Section 2.723), the measure of damages for non-acceptance or repudiation by the buyer is the difference between the market price at the time and place for tender and the unpaid contract price together with any incidental damages provided in this chapter (Section 2.710), but less expenses saved in consequence of the buyer's breach.

(b) If the measure of damages provided in Subsection (a) is inadequate to put the seller in as good a position as performance would have done then the measure of damages is the profit (including reasonable overhead) which the seller would have made from full performance by the buyer, together with any incidental damages provided in this chapter (Section 2.710), due allowance for costs reasonably incurred and due credit for payments or proceeds of resale.

§ 2.709. Action for the Price

(a) When the buyer fails to pay the price as it becomes due the seller may recover, together with any incidental damages under the next section, the price

(1) of goods accepted or of conforming goods lost or damaged within a commercially reasonable time after risk of their loss has passed to the buyer; and

(2) of goods identified to the contract if the seller is unable after reasonable effort to resell them at a reasonable price or the circumstances reasonably indicate that such effort will be unavailing.

(b) Where the seller sues for the price he must hold for the buyer any goods which have been identified to the contract and are still in his control except that if resale becomes possible he may resell them at any time prior to the collection of the judgment.

The net proceeds of any such resale must be credited to the buyer and payment of the judgment entitles him to any goods not resold.

(c) After the buyer has wrongfully rejected or revoked acceptance of the goods or has failed to make a payment due or has repudiated (Section 2.610), a seller who is held not entitled to the price under this section shall nevertheless be awarded damages for nonacceptance under the preceding section.

§ 2.710. Seller's Incidental Damages

Incidental damages to an aggrieved seller include any commercially reasonable charges, expenses or commissions incurred in stopping delivery, in the transportation, care and custody of goods after the buyer's breach, in connection with return or resale of the goods or otherwise resulting from the breach.

§ 2.711. Buyer's Remedies in General; Buyer's Security Interest in Rejected Goods

(a) Where the seller fails to make delivery or repudiates or the buyer rightfully rejects or justifiably revokes acceptance then with respect to any goods involved, and with respect to the whole if the breach goes to the whole contract (Section 2.612), the buyer may cancel and whether or not he has done so may in addition to recovering so much of the price as has been paid

(1) "cover" and have damages under the next section as to all the goods affected whether or not they have been identified to the contract; or

(2) recover damages for non-delivery as provided in this chapter (Section 2.713).

(b) Where the seller fails to deliver or repudiates the buyer may also

(1) if the goods have been identified recover them as provided in this chapter (Section 2.502); or

(2) in a proper case obtain specific performance or replevy the goods as provided in this chapter (Section 2.716).

(c) On rightful rejection or justifiable revocation of acceptance a buyer has a security interest in goods in his possession or control for any payments made on their price and any expenses reasonably incurred in their inspection, receipt, transportation, care and custody and may hold such goods and resell them in like manner as an aggrieved seller (Section 2.706).

§ 2.712. "Cover"; Buyer's Procurement of Substitute Goods

(a) After a breach within the preceding section the buyer may "cover" by making in good faith and without unreasonable delay any reasonable purchase of or contract to purchase goods in substitution for those due from the seller.

(b) The buyer may recover from the seller as damages the difference between the cost of cover and the contract price together with any incidental or consequential damages as hereinafter defined (Section 2.715), but less expenses saved in consequence of the seller's breach.

(c) Failure of the buyer to effect cover within this section does not bar him from any other remedy. [Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 2.713. Buyer's Damages for Non-Delivery or Repudiation

(a) Subject to the provisions of this chapter with respect to proof of market price (Section 2.723), the measure of damages for non-delivery or repudiation by the seller is the difference between the market price at the time when the buyer learned of the breach and the contract price together with any incidental and consequential damages provided in this chapter (Section 2.715), but less expenses saved in consequence of the seller's breach.

(b) Market price is to be determined as of the place for tender or, in cases of rejection after arrival or revocation of acceptance, as of the place of arrival.

§ 2.714. Buyer's Damages for Breach in Regard to Accepted Goods

(a) Where the buyer has accepted goods and given notification (Subsection (c) of Section 2.607) he may recover as damages for any non-conformity of tender the loss resulting in the ordinary course of events from the seller's breach as determined in any manner which is reasonable.

(b) The measure of damages for breach of warranty is the difference at the time and place of acceptance between the value of the goods accepted and the value they would have had if they had been as warranted, unless special circumstances show proximate damages of a different amount.

(c) In a proper case any incidental and consequential damages under the next section may also be recovered.

§ 2.715. Buyer's Incidental and Consequential Damages

(a) Incidental damages resulting from the seller's breach include expenses reasonably incurred in inspection, receipt, transportation and care and custody of goods rightfully rejected, any commercially reasonable charges, expenses or commissions in connection with effecting cover and any other reasonable expense incident to the delay or other breach.

(b) Consequential damages resulting from the seller's breach include

(1) any loss resulting from general or particular requirements and needs of which the seller at the time of contracting had reason to know and which could not reasonably be prevented by cover or otherwise; and

(2) injury to person or property proximately resulting from any breach of warranty.

§ 2.716. Buyer's Right to Specific Performance or Replevin

(a) Specific performance may be decreed where the goods are unique or in other proper circumstances.

(b) The decree for specific performance may include such terms and conditions as to payment of the price, damages, or other relief as the court may deem just.

(c) The buyer has a right of replevin for goods identified to the contract if after reasonable effort he is unable to effect cover for such goods or the circumstances reasonably indicate that such effort will be unavailing or if the goods have been shipped under reservation and satisfaction of the security interest in them has been made or tendered.

§ 2.717. Deduction of Damages from the Price

The buyer on notifying the seller of his intention to do so may deduct all or any part of the damages resulting from any breach of the contract from any part of the price still due under the same contract.

§ 2.718. Liquidation or Limitation of Damages; Deposits

(a) Damages for breach by either party may be liquidated in the agreement but only at an amount which is reasonable in the light of the anticipated or actual harm caused by the breach, the difficulties of proof of loss, and the inconvenience or non-feasibility of otherwise obtaining an adequate remedy. A term fixing unreasonably large liquidated damages is void as a penalty.

(b) Where the seller justifiably withholds delivery of goods because of the buyer's breach, the buyer is entitled to restitution of any amount by which the sum of his payments exceeds

(1) the amount to which the seller is entitled by virtue of terms liquidating the seller's damages in accordance with Subsection (a), or

(2) in the absence of such terms, twenty percent of the value of the total performance for which the buyer is obligated under the contract or $500, whichever is smaller.

(c) The buyer's right to restitution under Subsection (b) is subject to offset to the extent that the seller establishes

(1) a right to recover damages under the provisions of this chapter other than Subsection (a), and

(2) the amount or value of any benefits received by the buyer directly or indirectly by reason of the contract.

(d) Where a seller has received payment in goods their reasonable value or the proceeds of their resale shall be treated as payments for the purposes of Subsection (b); but if the seller has notice of the buyer's breach before reselling goods received in part performance, his resale is subject to the conditions laid down in this chapter on resale by an aggrieved seller (Section 2.706).

§ 2.719. Contractual Modification or Limitation of Remedy

(a) Subject to the provisions of Subsections (b) and (c) of this section and of the preceding section on liquidation and limitation of damages,

(1) the agreement may provide for remedies in addition to or in substitution for those provided in this chapter and may limit or alter the measure of damages recoverable under this chapter, as by limiting the buyer's remedies to return of the goods and repayment of the price or to repair and replacement of non-conforming goods or parts; and

(2) resort to a remedy as provided is optional unless the remedy is expressly agreed to be exclusive, in which case it is the sole remedy.

(b) Where circumstances cause an exclusive or limited remedy to fail of its essential purpose, remedy may be had as provided in this title.

(c) Consequential damages may be limited or excluded unless the limitation or exclusion is unconscionable. Limitation of consequential damages for injury to the person in the case of consumer goods is prima facie unconscionable but limitation of damages where the loss is commercial is not.

§ 2.720. Effect of "Cancellation" or "Rescission" on Claims for Antecedent Breach

Unless the contrary intention clearly appears, expressions of "cancellation" or "rescission" of the contract or the like shall not be construed as a renunciation or discharge of any claim in damages for an antecedent breach.

§ 2.721. Remedies for Fraud

Remedies for material misrepresentation or fraud include all remedies available under this chapter for non-fraudulent breach. Neither rescission or a claim for rescission of the contract for sale nor rejection or return of the goods shall bar or be deemed inconsistent with a claim for damages or other remedy.

§ 2.722. Who Can Sue Third Parties for Injury to Goods

Where a third party so deals with goods which have been identified to a contract for sale as to cause actionable injury to a party to that contract

(1) a right of action against the third party is in either party to the contract for sale who has title to or a security interest or a special property or an insurable interest in the goods; and if the goods have been destroyed or converted a right of action is also in the party who either bore the risk of loss under the contract for sale or has since the injury assumed that risk as against the other;

(2) if at the time of the injury the party plaintiff did not bear the risk of loss as against the other party to the contract for sale and there is no arrangement between them for disposition of the recovery, his suit or settlement is, subject to his own interest, as a fiduciary for the other party to the contract;

(3) either party may with the consent of the other sue for the benefit of whom it may concern.

§ 2.723. Proof of Market Price: Time and Place

(a) If an action based on anticipatory repudiation comes to trial before the time for performance with respect to some or all of the goods, any damages based on market price (Section 2.708 or Section 2.713) shall be determined according to the price of such goods prevailing at the time when the aggrieved party learned of the repudiation.

(b) If evidence of a price prevailing at the times or places described in this chapter is not readily available the price prevailing within any reasonable time before or after the time described or at any other place which in commercial judgment or under usage of trade would serve as a reasonable substitute for the one described may be used, making any proper allowance for the cost of transporting the goods to or from such other place.

(c) Evidence of a relevant price prevailing at a time or place other than the one described in this chapter offered by one party is not admissible unless and until he has given the other party such notice as the court finds sufficient to prevent unfair surprise.

§ 2.724. Admissibility of Market Quotations

Whenever the prevailing price or value of any goods regularly bought and sold in any established commodity market is in issue, reports in official publications or trade journals or in newspapers or periodicals of general circulation published as the reports of such market shall be admissible in evidence. The circumstances of the preparation of such a report may be shown to affect its weight but not its admissibility.

§ 2.725. Statute of Limitations in Contracts for Sale

(a) An action for breach of any contract for sale must be commenced within four years after the cause of action has accrued. By the original agreement the parties may reduce the period of limitation to not less than one year but may not extend it.

(b) A cause of action accrues when the breach occurs, regardless of the aggrieved party's lack of knowledge of the breach. A breach of warranty occurs when tender of delivery is made, except that where a warranty explicitly extends to future performance of the goods and discovery of the breach must await the time of such performance the cause of action accrues when the breach is or should have been discovered.

(c) Where an action commenced within the time limited by Subsection (a) is so terminated as to leave available a remedy by another action for the same breach such other action may be commenced after the expiration of the time limited and within six months after the termination of the first action unless the termination resulted from voluntary discontinuance or from dismissal for failure or neglect to prosecute.

(d) This section does not alter the law on tolling of the statute of limitations nor does it apply to causes of action which have accrued before this title becomes effective.

§ 3.103. Limitations on Scope of Chapter

(a) This chapter does not apply to money, documents of title or investment securities.

(b) The provisions of this chapter are subject to the provisions of the chapter on Bank Deposits and Collections (Chapter 4) and Secured Transactions (Chapter 9).

§ 3.104. Form of Negotiable Instruments; "Draft"; "Check"; "Certificate of Deposit"; "Note"

(a) Any writing to be a negotiable instrument within this chapter must

- (1) be signed by the maker or drawer; and
- (2) contain an unconditional promise or order to pay a sum certain in money and no other promise, order, obligation or power given by the maker or drawer except as authorized by this chapter; and
- (3) be payable on demand or at a definite time; and
- (4) be payable to order or to bearer.

(b) A writing which complies with the requirements of this section is

- (1) a "draft" ("bill of exchange") if it is an order;
- (2) a "check" if it is a draft drawn on a bank and payable on demand;
- (3) a "certificate of deposit" if it is an acknowledgment by a bank of receipt of money with an engagement to repay it;
- (4) a "note" if it is a promise other than a certificate of deposit.

(c) As used in other chapters of this title, and as the context may require, the terms "draft", "check", "certificate of deposit" and "note" may refer to instruments which are not negotiable within this chapter as well as to instruments which are so negotiable.

§ 3.105. When Promise or Order Unconditional

(a) A promise or order otherwise unconditional is not made conditional by the fact that the instrument

(1) is subject to implied or constructive conditions; or

(2) states its consideration, whether performed or promised, or the transaction which gave rise to the instrument, or that the promise or order is made or the instrument matures in accordance with or "as per" such transaction; or

(3) refers to or states that it arises out of a separate agreement or refers to a separate agreement for rights as to prepayment or acceleration; or

(4) states that it is drawn under a letter of credit; or

(5) states that it is secured, whether by mortgage, reservation of title or otherwise; or

(6) indicates a particular account to be debited or any other fund or source from which reimbursement is expected; or

(7) is limited to payment out of a particular fund or the proceeds of a particular source, if the instrument is issued by a government or governmental agency or unit; or

(8) is limited to payment out of the entire assets of a partnership, unincorporated association, trust or estate by or on behalf of which the instrument is issued.

(b) A promise or order is not unconditional if the instrument

(1) states that it is subject to or governed by any other agreement; or

(2) states that it is to be paid only out of a particular fund or source except as provided in this section.

§ 3.106. Sum Certain

(a) The sum payable is a sum certain even though it is to be paid

(1) with stated interest or by stated installments; or

(2) with stated different rates of interest before and after default or a specified date; or

(3) with a stated discount or addition if paid before or after the date fixed for payment; or

(4) with exchange or less exchange, whether at a fixed rate or at the current rate; or

(5) with costs of collection or an attorney's fee or both upon default.

(b) Nothing in this section shall validate any term which is otherwise illegal.

§ 3.107. Money

(a) An instrument is payable in money if the medium of exchange in which it is payable is money at the time the instrument is made. An instrument payable in "currency" or "current funds" is payable in money.

(b) A promise or order to pay a sum stated in a foreign currency is for a sum certain in money and, unless a different medium of payment is specified in the instrument, may be satisfied by payment of that number of dollars which the stated foreign currency will purchase at the buying sight rate for that currency on the day on which the instrument is payable or, if payable on demand, on the day of demand. If such an instrument specifies a foreign currency as the medium of payment the instrument is payable in that currency.

§ 3.108. Payable on Demand

Instruments payable on demand include those payable at sight or on presentation and those in which no time for payment is stated.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.109. Definite Time

(a) An instrument is payable at a definite time if by its terms it is payable

- (1) on or before a stated date or at a fixed period after a stated date; or
- (2) at a fixed period after sight; or
- (3) at a definite time subject to any acceleration; or
- (4) at a definite time subject to extension at the option of the holder, or to extension to a further definite time at the option of the maker or acceptor or automatically upon or after a specified act or event.

(b) An instrument which by its terms is otherwise payable only upon an act or event uncertain as to time of occurrence is not payable at a definite time even though the act or event has occurred.

§ 3.110. Payable to Order

(a) An instrument is payable to order when by its terms it is payable to the order or assigns of any person therein specified with reasonable certainty, or to him or his order, or when it is conspicuously designated on its face as "exchange" or the like and names a payee. It may be payable to the order of

- (1) the maker or drawer; or
- (2) the drawee; or
- (3) a payee who is not maker, drawer or drawee; or
- (4) two or more payees together or in the alternative; or
- (5) an estate, trust or fund, in which case it is payable to the order of the representative of such estate, trust or fund or his successors; or
- (6) an office, or an officer by his title as such in which case it is payable to the principal but the incumbent of the office or his successors may act as if he or they were the holder; or
- (7) a partnership or unincorporated association, in which case it is payable to the partnership or association and may be indorsed or transferred by any person thereto authorized.

(b) An instrument not payable to order is not made so payable by such words as "payable upon return of this instrument properly indorsed."

(c) An instrument made payable both to order and to bearer is payable to order unless the bearer words are handwritten or typewritten.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.111. Payable to Bearer

An instrument is payable to bearer when by its terms it is payable to

- (1) bearer or the order of bearer; or
- (2) a specified person or bearer; or
- (3) "cash" or the order of "cash", or any other indication which does not purport to designate a specific payee.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.112. Terms and Omissions Not Affecting Negotiability

(a) The negotiability of an instrument is not affected by

- (1) the omission of a statement of any consideration or of the place where the instrument is drawn or payable; or
- (2) a statement that collateral has been given to secure obligations either on the instrument or otherwise of an obligor on the instrument or that in case of default on those obligations the holder may realize on or dispose of the collateral; or
- (3) a promise or power to maintain or protect collateral or to give additional collateral; or
- (4) a term authorizing a confession of judgment on the instrument if it is not paid when due; or
- (5) a term purporting to waive the benefit of any law intended for the advantage or protection of any obligor; or
- (6) a term in a draft providing that the payee by indorsing or cashing it acknowledges full satisfaction of an obligation of the drawer; or
- (7) a statement in a draft drawn in a set of parts (Section 3.801) to the effect that the order is effective only if no other part has been honored.

(b) Nothing in this section shall validate any term which is otherwise illegal.

§ 3.113. Seal

An instrument otherwise negotiable is within this chapter even though it is under a seal.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.114. Date, Antedating, Postdating

(a) The negotiability of an instrument is not affected by the fact that it is undated, antedated or postdated.

(b) Where an instrument is antedated or postdated the time when it is payable is determined by the stated date if the instrument is payable on demand or at a fixed period after date.

(c) Where the instrument or any signature thereon is dated, the date is presumed to be correct.

§ 3.115. Incomplete Instruments

(a) When a paper whose contents at the time of signing show that it is intended to become an instrument is signed while still incomplete in any necessary respect it cannot be enforced until completed, but when it is completed in accordance with authority given it is effective as completed.

(b) If the completion is unauthorized the rules as to material alteration apply (Section 3.407), even though the paper was not delivered by the maker or drawer; but the burden of establishing that any completion is unauthorized is on the party so asserting.

§ 3.116. Instruments Payable to Two or More Persons

An instrument payable to the order of two or more persons

(1) if in the alternative is payable to any one of them and may be negotiated, discharged or enforced by any of them who has possession of it;

(2) if not in the alternative is payable to all of them and may be negotiated, discharged or enforced only by all of them.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.117. Instruments Payable With Words of Description

An instrument made payable to a named person with the addition of words describing him

(1) as agent or officer of a specified person is payable to his principal but the agent or officer may act as if he were the holder;

(2) as any other fiduciary for a specified person or purpose is payable to the payee and may be negotiated, discharged or enforced by him;

(3) in any other manner is payable to the payee unconditionally and the additional words are without effect on subsequent parties.

§ 3.118. Ambiguous Terms and Rules of Construction

The following rules apply to every instrument:

(1) Where there is doubt whether the instrument is a draft or a note the holder may treat it as either. A draft drawn on the drawer is effective as a note.

(2) Handwritten terms control typewritten and printed terms, and typewritten control printed.

(3) Words control figures except that if the words are ambiguous figures control.

(4) Unless otherwise specified a provision for interest means interest at the judgment rate at the place of payment from the date of the instrument, or if it is undated from the date of issue.

(5) Unless the instrument otherwise specifies two or more persons who sign as maker, acceptor or drawer or indorser and as a part of the same transaction are jointly and severally liable even though the instrument contains such words as "I promise to pay."

(6) Unless otherwise specified consent to extension authorizes a single extension for not longer than the original period. A consent to extension, expressed in the instrument, is binding on secondary parties and accommodation makers. A holder may not exercise his option to extend an instrument over the objection of a maker or acceptor or other party who in accordance with Section 3.604 tenders full payment when the instrument is due.

§ 3.119. Other Writings Affecting Instrument

(a) As between the obligor and his immediate obligee or any transferee the terms of an instrument may be modified or affected by any other written agreement executed as a part of the same transaction, except that a holder in due course is not affected by any limitation of his rights arising out of the separate written agreement if he had no notice of the limitation when he took the instrument.

(b) A separate agreement does not affect the negotiability of an instrument.

§ 3.120. Instruments "Payable Through" Bank

An instrument which states that it is "payable through" a bank or the like designates that bank as a collecting bank to make presentment but does not of itself authorize the bank to pay the instrument.

§ 3.121. Instruments Payable at Bank

A note or acceptance which states that it is payable at a bank is the equivalent of a draft drawn on the bank payable when it falls due out of any funds of the maker or acceptor in current account or otherwise available for such payment.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.122. Accrual of Cause of Action

(a) A cause of action against a maker or an acceptor accrues

(1) in the case of a time instrument on the day after maturity;

(2) in the case of a demand instrument upon its date or, if no date is stated, on the date of issue.

(b) A cause of action against the obligor of a demand or time certificate of deposit accrues upon demand, but demand on a time certificate may not be made until on or after the date of maturity.

(c) A cause of action against a drawer of a draft or an indorser of any instrument accrues upon demand following dishonor of the instrument. Notice of dishonor is a demand.

(d) Unless an instrument provides otherwise, interest runs at the rate provided by law for a judgment

(1) in the case of a maker, acceptor or other primary obligor of a demand instrument, from the date of demand;

(2) in all other cases from the date of accrual of the cause of action.

SUBCHAPTER B. TRANSFER AND NEGOTIATION

§ 3.201. Transfer: Right to Indorsement

(a) Transfer of an instrument vests in the transferee such rights as the transferor has therein, except that a transferee who has himself been a party to any fraud or illegality affecting the instrument or who as a prior holder had notice of a defense or claim against it cannot improve his position by taking from a later holder in due course.

(b) A transfer of a security interest in an instrument vests the foregoing rights in the transferee to the extent of the interest transferred.

(c) Unless otherwise agreed any transfer for value of an instrument not then payable to bearer gives the transferee the specifically enforceable right to have the unqualified indorsement of the transferor. Negotiation takes effect only when the indorsement is made and until that time there is no presumption that the transferee is the owner.

§ 3.202. Negotiation

(a) Negotiation is the transfer of an instrument in such form that the transferee becomes a holder. If the instrument is payable to order it is negotiated by delivery with any necessary indorsement; if payable to bearer it is negotiated by delivery.

(b) An indorsement must be written by or on behalf of the holder and on the instrument or on a paper so firmly affixed thereto as to become a part thereof.

(c) An indorsement is effective for negotiation only when it conveys the entire instrument or any unpaid residue. If it purports to be of less it operates only as a partial assignment.

(d) Words of assignment, condition, waiver, guaranty, limitation or disclaimer of liability and the like accompanying an indorsement do not affect its character as an indorsement.

§ 3.203. Wrong or Misspelled Name

Where an instrument is made payable to a person under a misspelled name or one other than his own he may indorse in that name or his own or both; but signature in both names may be required by a person paying or giving value for the instrument.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.204. Special Indorsement; Blank Indorsement

(a) A special indorsement specifies the person to whom or to whose order it makes the instrument payable. Any instrument specially indorsed becomes payable to the order of the special indorsee and may be further negotiated only by his indorsement.

(b) An indorsement in blank specifies no particular indorsee and may consist of a mere signature. An instrument payable to order and indorsed in blank becomes payable to bearer and may be negotiated by delivery alone until specially indorsed.

(c) The holder may convert a blank indorsement into a special indorsement by writing over the signature of the indorser in blank any contract consistent with the character of the indorsement.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.205. Restrictive Indorsements

An indorsement is restrictive which either

- (1) is conditional; or
- (2) purports to prohibit further transfer of the instrument; or
- (3) includes the words "for collection", "for deposit", "pay any bank", or like terms signifying a purpose of deposit or collection; or

(4) otherwise states that it is for the benefit or use of the indorser or of another person.
[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.206. Effect of Restrictive Indorsement

(a) No restrictive indorsement prevents further transfer or negotiation of the instrument.

(b) An intermediary bank, or a payor bank which is not the depositary bank, is neither given notice nor otherwise affected by a restrictive indorsement of any person except the bank's immediate transferor or the person presenting for payment.

(c) Except for an intermediary bank, any transferee under an indorsement which is conditional or includes the words "for collection", "for deposit", "pay any bank", or like terms (Subdivisions (1) and (3) of Section 3.205) must pay or apply any value given by him for or on the security of the instrument consistently with the indorsement and to the extent that he does so he becomes a holder for value. In addition such transferee is a holder in due course if he otherwise complies with the requirements of Section 3.302 on what constitutes a holder in due course.

(d) The first taker under an indorsement for the benefit of the indorser or another person (Subdivision (4) of Section 3.205) must pay or apply any value given by him for or on the security of the instrument consistently with the indorsement and to the extent that he does so he becomes a holder for value. In addition such taker is a holder in due course if he otherwise complies with the requirements of Section 3.302 on what constitutes a holder in due course. A later holder for value is neither given notice nor otherwise affected by such restrictive indorsement unless he has knowledge that a fiduciary or other person has negotiated the instrument in any transaction for his own benefit or otherwise in breach of duty (Subsection (b) of Section 3.304).

§ 3.207. Negotiation Effective Although It May Be Rescinded

(a) Negotiation is effective to transfer the instrument although the negotiation is

- (1) made by an infant, a corporation exceeding its powers, or any other person without capacity; or
- (2) obtained by fraud, duress or mistake of any kind; or
- (3) part of an illegal transaction; or
- (4) made in breach of duty.

(b) Except as against a subsequent holder in due course such negotiation is in an appropriate case subject to rescission, the declaration of a constructive trust or any other remedy permitted by law.

§ 3.208. Reacquisition

Where an instrument is returned to or reacquired by a prior party he may cancel any indorsement which is not necessary to his title and reissue or further negotiate the instrument, but any intervening party is discharged as against the reacquiring party and subsequent holders not in due course and if his indorsement has been cancelled is discharged as against subsequent holders in due course as well. [Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

SUBCHAPTER C. RIGHTS OF A HOLDER

§ 3.301. Rights of a Holder

The holder of an instrument whether or not he is the owner may transfer or negotiate it and, except as otherwise provided in Section 3.603 on payment or satisfaction, discharge it or enforce payment in his own name.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.302. Holder in Due Course

(a) A holder in due course is a holder who takes the instrument

(1) for value; and

(2) in good faith; and

(3) without notice that it is overdue or has been dishonored or of any defense against or claim to it on the part of any person.

(b) A payee may be a holder in due course.

(c) A holder does not become a holder in due course of an instrument:

(1) by purchase of it at judicial sale or by taking it under legal process; or

(2) by acquiring it in taking over an estate; or

(3) by purchasing it as part of a bulk transaction not in regular course of business of the transferor.

(d) A purchaser of a limited interest can be a holder in due course only to the extent of the interest purchased.

§ 3.303. Taking for Value

A holder takes the instrument for value

(1) to the extent that the agreed consideration has been performed or that he acquires a security interest in or a lien on the instrument otherwise than by legal process; or

(2) when he takes the instrument in payment of or as security for an antecedent claim against any person whether or not the claim is due; or

(3) when he gives a negotiable instrument for it or makes an irrevocable commitment to a third person.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.304. Notice to Purchaser

(a) The purchaser has notice of a claim or defense if

(1) the instrument is so incomplete, bears such visible evidence of forgery or alteration, or is otherwise so irregular as to call into question its validity, terms or ownership or to create an ambiguity as to the party to pay; or

(2) the purchaser has notice that the obligation of any party is voidable in whole or in part, or that all parties have been discharged.

(b) The purchaser has notice of a claim against the instrument when he has knowledge that a fiduciary has negotiated the instrument in payment of or as security for his own debt or in any transaction for his own benefit or otherwise in breach of duty.

(c) The purchaser has notice that an instrument is overdue if he has reason to know

(1) that any part of the principal amount is overdue or that there is an uncured default in payment of another instrument of the same series; or

(2) that acceleration of the instrument has been made; or

(3) that he is taking a demand instrument after demand has been made or more than a reasonable length of time after its issue. A reasonable time for a check drawn and payable within the states and territories of the United States and the District of Columbia is presumed to be thirty days.

(d) Knowledge of the following facts does not of itself give the purchaser notice of a defense or claim

(1) that the instrument is antedated or post-dated;

(2) that it was issued or negotiated in return for an executory promise or accompanied by a separate agreement, unless the purchaser has notice that a defense or claim has arisen from the terms thereof;

(3) that any party has signed for accommodation;

(4) that an incomplete instrument has been completed, unless the purchaser has notice of any improper completion;

(5) that any person negotiating the instrument is or was a fiduciary;

(6) that there has been default in payment of interest on the instrument or in payment of any other instrument, except one of the same series.

(e) The filing or recording of a document does not of itself constitute notice within the provisions of this chapter to a person who would otherwise be a holder in due course.

(f) To be effective notice must be received at such time and in such manner as to give a reasonable opportunity to act on it.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.305. Rights of a Holder in Due Course

To the extent that a holder is a holder in due course he takes the instrument free from

(a) all claims to it on the part of any person; and

(b) all defenses of any party to the instrument with whom the holder has not dealt except

(1) infancy, to the extent that it is a defense to a simple contract; and

(2) such other incapacity, or duress, or illegality of the transaction, as renders the obligation of the party a nullity; and

(3) such misrepresentation as has induced the party to sign the instrument with neither knowledge nor reasonable opportunity to obtain knowledge of its character or its essential terms; and

(4) discharge in insolvency proceedings; and

(5) any other discharge of which the holder has notice when he takes the instrument.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.306. Rights of One Not Holder in Due Course

Unless he has the rights of a holder in due course any person takes the instrument subject to

- (1) all valid claims to it on the part of any person; and
- (2) all defenses of any party which would be available in an action on a simple contract; and
- (3) the defenses of want or failure of consideration, non-performance of any condition precedent, non-delivery, or delivery for a special purpose (Section 3.408); and
- (4) the defense that he or a person through whom he holds the instrument acquired it by theft, or that payment or satisfaction to such holder would be inconsistent with the terms of a restrictive indorsement. The claim of any third person to the instrument is not otherwise available as a defense to any party liable thereon unless the third person himself defends the action for such party.

§ 3.307. Burden of Establishing Signatures, Defenses and Due Course

(a) Unless specifically denied in the pleadings each signature on an instrument is admitted. When the effectiveness of a signature is put in issue

- (1) the burden of establishing it is on the party claiming under the signature; but
- (2) the signature is presumed to be genuine or authorized except where the action is to enforce the obligation of a purported signer who has died or become incompetent before proof is required.

(b) When signatures are admitted or established, production of the instrument entitles a holder to recover on it unless the defendant establishes a defense.

(c) After it is shown that a defense exists a person claiming the rights of a holder in due course has the burden of establishing that he or some person under whom he claims is in all respects a holder in due course.

SUBCHAPTER D. LIABILITY OF PARTIES

§ 3.401. Signature

(a) No person is liable on an instrument unless his signature appears thereon.

(b) A signature is made by use of any name, including any trade or assumed name, upon an instrument, or by any word or mark used in lieu of a written signature.

§ 3.402. Signature in Ambiguous Capacity

Unless the instrument clearly indicates that a signature is made in some other capacity it is an indorsement.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.403. Signature by Authorized Representative

(a) A signature may be made by an agent or other representative, and his authority to make it may be established as in other cases of representation. No particular form of appointment is necessary to establish such authority.

(b) An authorized representative who signs his own name to an instrument

- (1) is personally obligated if the instrument neither names the person represented nor shows that the representative signed in a representative capacity;
- (2) except as otherwise established between the immediate parties, is personally obligated if the instrument names the person represented but does not show that the representative signed in a representative capacity, or if the instrument does not name the person represented but does show that the representative signed in a representative capacity.

(c) Except as otherwise established the name of an organization preceded or followed by the name and office of an authorized individual is a signature made in a representative capacity.

§ 3.404. Unauthorized Signatures

(a) Any unauthorized signature is wholly inoperative as that of the person whose name is signed unless he ratifies it or is precluded from denying it; but it operates as the signature of the unauthorized signer in favor of any person who in good faith pays the instrument or takes it for value.

(b) Any unauthorized signature may be ratified for all purposes of this chapter. Such ratification does not of itself affect any rights of the person ratifying against the actual signer.

§ 3.405. Imposters; Signature in Name of Payee

(a) An indorsement by any person in the name of a named payee is effective if

- (1) an imposter by use of the mails or otherwise has induced the maker or drawer to issue the instrument to him or his confederate in the name of the payee; or
- (2) a person signing as or on behalf of a maker or drawer intends the payee to have no interest in the instrument; or
- (3) an agent or employee of the maker or drawer has supplied him with the name of the payee intending the latter to have no such interest.

(b) Nothing in this section shall affect the criminal or civil liability of the person so indorsing.

§ 3.406. Negligence Contributing to Alteration or Unauthorized Signature

Any person who by his negligence substantially contributes to a material alteration of the instrument or to the making of an unauthorized signature is precluded from asserting the alteration or lack of authority against a holder in due course or against a drawee or other payor who pays the instrument in good faith and in accordance with the reasonable commercial standards of the drawee's or payor's business.

§ 3.407. Alteration

(a) Any alteration of an instrument is material which changes the contract of any party thereto in any respect, including any such change in

- (1) the number or relations of the parties; or
- (2) an incomplete instrument, by completing it otherwise than as authorized; or
- (3) the writing as signed, by adding to it or by removing any part of it.

(b) As against any person other than a subsequent holder in due course

(1) alteration by the holder which is both fraudulent and material discharges any party whose contract is thereby changed unless that party assents or is precluded from asserting the defense;

(2) no other alteration discharges any party and the instrument may be enforced according to its original tenor, or as to incomplete instruments according to the authority given.

(c) A subsequent holder in due course may in all cases enforce the instrument according to its original tenor, and when an incomplete instrument has been completed, he may enforce it as completed.

§ 3.408. Consideration

Want or failure of consideration is a defense against any person not having the rights of a holder in due course (Section 3.305), except that no consideration is necessary for an instrument or obligation thereon given in payment of or as security for an antecedent obligation of any kind. Nothing in this section shall be taken to displace any statute outside this title under which a promise is enforceable notwithstanding lack or failure of consideration. Partial failure of consideration is a defense pro tanto whether or not the failure is in an ascertained or liquidated amount.

§ 3.409. Draft Not an Assignment

(a) A check or other draft does not of itself operate as an assignment of any funds in the hands of the drawee available for its payment, and the drawee is not liable on the instrument until he accepts it.

(b) Nothing in this section shall affect any liability in contract, tort or otherwise arising from any letter of credit or other obligation or representation which is not an acceptance.

§ 3.410. Definition and Operation of Acceptance

(a) Acceptance is the drawee's signed engagement to honor the draft as presented. It must be written on the draft, and may consist of his signature alone. It becomes operative when completed by delivery or notification.

(b) A draft may be accepted although it has not been signed by the drawer or is otherwise incomplete or is overdue or has been dishonored.

(c) Where the draft is payable at a fixed period after sight and the acceptor fails to date his acceptance the holder may complete it by supplying a date in good faith.

§ 3.411. Certification of a Check

(a) Certification of a check is acceptance. Where a holder procures certification the drawer and all prior indorsers are discharged.

(b) Unless otherwise agreed a bank has no obligation to certify a check.

(c) A bank may certify a check before returning it for lack of proper indorsement. If it does so the drawer is discharged.

§ 3.412. Acceptance Varying Draft

(a) Where the drawee's proffered acceptance in any manner varies the draft as presented the holder may refuse the acceptance and treat the draft as dishonored in which case the drawee is entitled to have his acceptance cancelled.

(b) The terms of the draft are not varied by an acceptance to pay at any particular bank or place in the United States, unless the acceptance states that the draft is to be paid only at such bank or place.

(c) Where the holder assents to an acceptance varying the terms of the draft each drawer and indorser who does not affirmatively assent is discharged.

§ 3.413. Contract of Maker, Drawer and Acceptor

(a) The maker or acceptor engages that he will pay the instrument according to its tenor at the time of his engagement or as completed pursuant to Section 3.115 on incomplete instruments.

(b) The drawer engages that upon dishonor of the draft and any necessary notice of dishonor or protest he will pay the amount of the draft to the holder or to any indorser who takes it up. The drawer may disclaim this liability by drawing without recourse.

(c) By making, drawing or accepting the party admits as against all subsequent parties including the drawee the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse.

§ 3.414. Contract of Indorser; Order of Liability

(a) Unless the indorsement otherwise specifies (as by such words as "without recourse") every indorser engages that upon dishonor and any necessary notice of dishonor and protest he will pay the instrument according to its tenor at the time of his indorsement to the holder or to any subsequent indorser who takes it up, even though the indorser who takes it up was not obligated to do so.

(b) Unless they otherwise agree indorsers are liable to one another in the order in which they indorse, which is presumed to be the order in which their signatures appear on the instrument.

§ 3.415. Contract of Accommodation Party

(a) An accommodation party is one who signs the instrument in any capacity for the purpose of lending his name to another party to it.

(b) When the instrument has been taken for value before it is due the accommodation party is liable in the capacity in which he has signed even though the taker knows of the accommodation.

(c) As against a holder in due course and without notice of the accommodation oral proof of the accommodation is not admissible to give the accommodation party the benefit of discharges dependent on his character as such. In other cases the accommodation character may be shown by oral proof.

(d) An indorsement which shows that it is not in the chain of title is notice of its accommodation character.

(e) An accommodation party is not liable to the party accommodated, and if he pays the instrument has a right of recourse on the instrument against such party.

§ 3.416. Contract of Guarantor

(a) "Payment guaranteed" or equivalent words added to a signature mean that the signer engages that if the instrument is not paid when due he will pay it according to its tenor without resort by the holder to any other party.

(b) "Collection guaranteed" or equivalent words added to a signature mean that the signer engages that if the instrument is not paid when due he will pay it according to its tenor, but only after the holder has reduced his claim against the maker or acceptor to judgment and execution has been returned unsatisfied, or after the maker or acceptor has become insolvent or it is otherwise apparent that it is useless to proceed against him.

(c) Words of guaranty which do not otherwise specify guarantee payment.

(d) No words of guaranty added to the signature of a sole maker or acceptor affect his liability on the instrument. Such words added to the signature of one of two or more makers or acceptors create a presumption that the signature is for the accommodation of the others.

(e) When words of guaranty are used presentment, notice of dishonor and protest are not necessary to charge the user.

(f) Any guaranty written on the instrument is enforceable notwithstanding any statute of frauds.

§ 3.417. Warranties on Presentment and Transfer

(a) Any person who obtains payment or acceptance and any prior transferor warrants to a person who in good faith pays or accepts that

(1) he has a good title to the instrument or is authorized to obtain payment or acceptance on behalf of one who has a good title; and

(2) he has no knowledge that the signature of the maker or drawer is unauthorized, except that this warranty is not given by a holder in due course acting in good faith

(A) to a maker with respect to the maker's own signature; or

(B) to a drawer with respect to the drawer's own signature, whether or not the drawer is also the drawee; or

(C) to an acceptor of a draft if the holder in due course took the draft after the acceptance or obtained the acceptance without knowledge that the drawer's signature was unauthorized; and

(3) the instrument has not been materially altered, except that this warranty is not given by a holder in due course acting in good faith

(A) to the maker of a note; or

(B) to the drawer of a draft whether or not the drawer is also the drawee; or

(C) to the acceptor of a draft with respect to an alteration made prior to the acceptance if the holder in due course took the draft after the acceptance, even though the acceptance provided "payable as originally drawn" or equivalent terms; or

(D) to the acceptor of a draft with respect to an alteration made after the acceptance.

(b) Any person who transfers an instrument and receives consideration warrants to his transferee and if the transfer is by indorsement to any subsequent holder who takes the instrument in good faith that

(1) he has a good title to the instrument or is authorized to obtain payment or acceptance on behalf of one who has a good title and the transfer is otherwise rightful; and

(2) all signatures are genuine or authorized; and

(3) the instrument has not been materially altered; and

(4) no defense of any party is good against him; and

(5) he has no knowledge of any insolvency proceeding instituted with respect to the maker or acceptor or the drawer of an unaccepted instrument.

(c) By transferring "without recourse" the transferor limits the obligation stated in Subsection (b)(4) to a warranty that he has no knowledge of such a defense.

(d) A selling agent or broker who does not disclose the fact that he is acting only as such gives the warranties provided in this section, but if he makes such disclosure warrants only his good faith and authority.

§ 3.418. Finality of Payment or Acceptance

Except for recovery of bank payments as provided in the chapter on Bank Deposits and Collections (Chapter 4) and except for liability for breach of warranty on presentment under the preceding section, payment or acceptance of any instrument is final in favor of a holder in due course, or a person who has in good faith changed his position in reliance on the payment.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.419. Conversion of Instrument; Innocent Representative

(a) An instrument is converted when

(1) a drawee to whom it is delivered for acceptance refuses to return it on demand; or

(2) any person to whom it is delivered for payment refuses on demand either to pay or to return it; or

(3) it is paid on a forged indorsement.

(b) In an action against a drawee under Subsection (a) the measure of the drawee's liability is the face amount of the instrument. In any other action under Subsection (a) the measure of liability is presumed to be the face amount of the instrument.

(c) Subject to the provisions of this title concerning restrictive indorsements a representative, including a depository or collecting bank, who has in good faith and in accordance with the reasonable commercial standards applicable to the business of such representative dealt with an instrument or its proceeds on behalf of one who was not the true owner is not liable in conversion or otherwise to the true owner beyond the amount of any proceeds remaining in his hands.

(d) An intermediary bank or payor bank which is not a depository bank is not liable in conversion solely by reason of the fact that proceeds of an item indorsed restrictively (Sections 3.205 and 3.206) are not paid or applied consistently with the restrictive indorsement of an indorser other than its immediate transferor.

SUBCHAPTER E. PRESENTMENT, NOTICE OF DISHONOR AND PROTEST

§ 3.501. When Presentment, Notice of Dishonor, and Protest Necessary or Permissible

(a) Unless excused (Section 3.511) presentment is necessary to charge secondary parties as follows:

(1) presentment for acceptance is necessary to charge the drawer and indorsers of a draft where the draft so provides, or is payable elsewhere than at the residence or place of business of the drawee, or its date of payment depends upon such presentment. The holder may at his option present for acceptance any other draft payable at a stated date;

(2) presentment for payment is necessary to charge any indorser;

(3) in the case of any drawer, the acceptor of a draft payable at a bank or the maker of a note payable at a bank, presentment for payment is necessary, but failure to make presentment discharges such drawer, acceptor or maker only as stated in Section 3.502(a)(2).

(b) Unless excused (Section 3.511)

(1) notice of any dishonor is necessary to charge any indorser;

(2) in the case of any drawer, the acceptor of a draft payable at a bank or the maker of a note payable at a bank, notice of any dishonor is necessary, but failure to give such notice discharges such drawer, acceptor or maker only as stated in Section 3.502(a)(2).

(c) Unless excused (Section 3.511) protest of any dishonor is necessary to charge the drawer and indorsers of any draft which on its face appears to be drawn or payable outside of the states, territories, dependencies and possessions of the United States, the District of Columbia and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. The holder may at his option make protest of any dishonor of any other instrument and in the case of a foreign draft may on insolvency of the acceptor before maturity make protest for better security.

(d) Notwithstanding any provision of this section, neither presentment nor notice of dishonor nor protest is necessary to charge an indorser who has indorsed an instrument after maturity.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1; Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2466, ch. 830, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.]

§ 3.502. Unexcused Delay; Discharge

(a) Where without excuse any necessary presentment or notice of dishonor is delayed beyond the time when it is due

(1) any indorser is discharged; and

(2) any drawer or the acceptor of a draft payable at a bank or the maker of a note payable at a bank who because the drawee or payor bank becomes insolvent during the delay is deprived of funds maintained with the drawee or payor bank to cover the instrument may discharge his liability by written assignment to the holder of his rights against the drawee or payor bank in respect of such funds, but such drawer, acceptor or maker is not otherwise discharged.

(b) Where without excuse a necessary protest is delayed beyond the time when it is due any drawer or indorser is discharged.

§ 3.503. Time of Presentment

(a) Unless a different time is expressed in the instrument the time for any presentment is determined as follows:

(1) where an instrument is payable at or a fixed period after a stated date any presentment for acceptance must be made on or before the date it is payable;

(2) where an instrument is payable after sight it must either be presented for acceptance or negotiated within a reasonable time after date or issue whichever is later;

(3) where an instrument shows the date on which it is payable presentment for payment is due on that date;

(4) where an instrument is accelerated presentment for payment is due within a reasonable time after the acceleration;

(5) with respect to the liability of any secondary party presentment for acceptance or payment of any other instrument is due within a reasonable time after such party becomes liable thereon.

(b) A reasonable time for presentment is determined by the nature of the instrument, any usage of banking or trade and the facts of the particular case. In the case of an uncertified check which is drawn and payable within the United States and which is not a draft drawn by a bank the following are presumed to be reasonable periods within which to present for payment or to initiate bank collection:

(1) with respect to the liability of the drawer, thirty days after date or issue whichever is later; and

(2) with respect to the liability of an indorser, seven days after his indorsement.

(c) Where any presentment is due on a day which is not a full business day for either the person making presentment or the party to pay or accept, presentment is due on the next following day which is a full business day for both parties.

(d) Presentment to be sufficient must be made at a reasonable hour, and if at a bank during its banking day.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.504. How Presentment Made

(a) Presentment is a demand for acceptance or payment made upon the maker, acceptor, drawee or other payor by or on behalf of the holder.

(b) Presentment may be made

(1) by mail, in which event the time of presentment is determined by the time of receipt of the mail; or

(2) through a clearing house; or

(3) at the place of acceptance or payment specified in the instrument or if there be none at the place of business or residence of the party to accept or pay. If neither the party to accept or pay nor anyone authorized to act for him is present or accessible at such place presentment is excused.

(c) It may be made

(1) to any one of two or more makers, acceptors, drawees or other payors; or

(2) to any person who has authority to make or refuse the acceptance or payment.

(d) A draft accepted or a note made payable at a bank in the United States must be presented at such bank.

(e) In the cases described in Section 4.210 presentment may be made in the manner and with the result stated in that section.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.505. Rights of Party to Whom Presentment Is Made

(a) The party to whom presentment is made may without dishonor require

(1) exhibition of the instrument; and

(2) reasonable identification of the person making presentment and evidence of his authority to make it if made for another; and

(3) that the instrument be produced for acceptance or payment at a place specified in it, or if there be none at any place reasonable in the circumstances; and

(4) a signed receipt on the instrument for any partial or full payment and its surrender upon full payment.

(b) Failure to comply with any such requirement invalidates the presentment but the person presenting has a reasonable time in which to comply and the time for acceptance or payment runs from the time of compliance.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.506. Time Allowed for Acceptance or Payment

(a) Acceptance may be deferred without dishonor until the close of the next business day following presentment. The holder may also in a good faith effort to obtain acceptance and without either dishonor of the instrument or discharge of secondary parties allow postponement of acceptance for an additional business day.

(b) Except as a longer time is allowed in the case of documentary drafts drawn under a letter of credit, and unless an earlier time is agreed to by the party to pay, payment of an instrument may be deferred without dishonor pending reasonable examination to determine whether it is properly payable, but payment must be made in any event before the close of business on the day of presentment.

§ 3.507. Dishonor; Holder's Right of Recourse; Term Allowing Re-Presentment

(a) An instrument is dishonored when

(1) a necessary or optional presentment is duly made and due acceptance or payment is refused or cannot be obtained within the prescribed time or in case of bank collections the instrument is seasonably returned by the midnight deadline (Section 4.301); or

(2) presentment is excused and the instrument is not duly accepted or paid.

(b) Subject to any necessary notice of dishonor and protest, the holder has upon dishonor an immediate right of recourse against the drawers and indorsers.

(c) Return of an instrument for lack of proper indorsement is not dishonor.

(d) A term in a draft or an indorsement thereof allowing a stated time for re-presentment in the event of any dishonor of the draft by nonacceptance if a time draft or by nonpayment if a sight draft gives the holder as against any secondary party bound by the term an option to waive the dishonor without affecting the liability of the secondary party and he may present again up to the end of the stated time.

§ 3.508. Notice of Dishonor

(a) Notice of dishonor may be given to any person who may be liable on the instrument by or on behalf of the holder or any party who has himself received notice, or any other party who can be compelled to pay the instrument. In addition an agent or bank in whose hands the instrument is dishonored may give notice to his principal or customer or to another agent or bank from which the instrument was received.

(b) Any necessary notice must be given by a bank before its midnight deadline and by any other person before midnight of the third business day after dishonor or receipt of notice of dishonor.

(c) Notice may be given in any reasonable manner. It may be oral or written and in any terms which identify the instrument and state that it has been dishonored. A misdescription which does not mislead the party notified does not vitiate the notice. Sending the instrument bearing a stamp, ticket or writing stating that acceptance or payment has been refused or sending a notice of debit with respect to the instrument is sufficient.

(d) Written notice is given when sent although it is not received.

(e) Notice to one partner is notice to each although the firm has been dissolved.

(f) When any party is in insolvency proceedings instituted after the issue of the instrument notice may be given either to the party or to the representative of his estate.

(g) When any party is dead or incompetent notice may be sent to his last known address or given to his personal representative.

(h) Notice operates for the benefit of all parties who have rights on the instrument against the party notified.

§ 3.509. Protest; Noting for Protest

(a) A protest is a certificate of dishonor made under the hand and seal of a United States consul or vice-consul or a notary public or other person authorized to certify dishonor by the law of the place where dishonor occurs. It may be made upon information satisfactory to such person.

(b) The protest must identify the instrument and certify either that due presentment has been made or the reason why it is excused and that the instrument has been dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment.

(c) The protest may also certify that notice of dishonor has been given to all parties or to specified parties.

(d) Subject to Subsection (e) any necessary protest is due by the time that notice of dishonor is due.

(e) If, before protest is due, an instrument has been noted for protest by the officer to make protest, the protest may be made at any time thereafter as of the date of the noting.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.510. Evidence of Dishonor and Notice of Dishonor

The following are admissible as evidence and create a presumption of dishonor and of any notice of dishonor therein shown:

(1) a document regular in form as provided in the preceding section which purports to be a protest;

(2) the purported stamp or writing of the drawee, payor bank or presenting bank on the instrument or accompanying it stating that acceptance or payment has been refused for reasons consistent with dishonor;

(3) any book or record of the drawee, payor bank, or any collecting bank kept in the usual course of business which shows dishonor, even though there is no evidence of who made the entry.

§ 3.511. Waived or Excused Presentment, Protest or Notice of Dishonor or Delay Therein

(a) Delay in presentment, protest or notice of dishonor is excused when the party is without notice that it is due or when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond his control and he exercises reasonable diligence after the cause of the delay ceases to operate.

(b) Presentment or notice or protest as the case may be is entirely excused when

(1) the party to be charged has waived it expressly or by implication either before or after it is due; or

(2) such party has himself dishonored the instrument or has countermanded payment or otherwise has no reason to expect or right to require that the instrument be accepted or paid; or

(3) by reasonable diligence the presentment or protest cannot be made or the notice given.

(c) Presentment is also entirely excused when

(1) the maker, acceptor or drawee of any instrument except a documentary draft is dead or in insolvency proceedings instituted after the issue of the instrument; or

(2) acceptance or payment is refused but not for want of proper presentment.

(d) Where a draft has been dishonored by nonacceptance a later presentment for payment and any notice of dishonor and protest for nonpayment are excused unless in the meantime the instrument has been accepted.

(e) A waiver of protest is also a waiver of presentment and of notice of dishonor even though protest is not required.

(f) Where a waiver of presentment or notice or protest is embodied in the instrument itself it is binding upon all parties; but where it is written above the signature of an indorser it binds him only. [Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

SUBCHAPTER F. DISCHARGE

§ 3.601. Discharge of Parties

(a) The extent of the discharge of any party from liability on an instrument is governed by the sections on

(1) payment or satisfaction (Section 3.603); or

(2) tender of payment (Section 3.604); or

(3) cancellation or renunciation (Section 3.605); or

(4) impairment of right of recourse or of collateral (Section 3.606); or

(5) reacquisition of the instrument by a prior party (Section 3.208); or

(6) fraudulent and material alteration (Section 3.407); or

(7) certification of a check (Section 3.411); or

(8) acceptance varying a draft (Section 3.412); or

(9) unexcused delay in presentment or notice of dishonor or protest (Section 3.502).

(b) Any party is also discharged from his liability on an instrument to another party by any other act or agreement with such party which would discharge his simple contract for the payment of money.

(c) The liability of all parties is discharged when any party who has himself no right of action or recourse on the instrument

(1) reacquires the instrument in his own right; or

(2) is discharged under any provision of this Chapter, except as otherwise provided with respect to discharge for impairment of recourse or of collateral (Section 3.606).

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1; Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2466, ch. 830, § 2, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.]

§ 3.602. Effect of Discharge Against Holder in Due Course

No discharge of any party provided by this chapter is effective against a subsequent holder in due course unless he has notice thereof when he takes the instrument.

§ 3.603. Payment or Satisfaction

(a) The liability of any party is discharged to the extent of his payment or satisfaction to the holder even though it is made with knowledge of a claim of another person to the instrument unless prior to such payment or satisfaction the person making the claim either supplies indemnity deemed adequate by the party seeking the discharge or enjoins payment or satisfaction by order of a court of competent jurisdiction in an action in which the adverse claimant and the holder are parties. This subsection does not, however, result in the discharge of the liability

(1) of a party who in bad faith pays or satisfies a holder who acquired the instrument by theft or who (unless having the rights of a holder in due course) holds through one who so acquired it; or

(2) of a party (other than an intermediary bank or a payor bank which is not a depository bank) who pays or satisfies the holder of an instrument which has been restrictively indorsed in a manner not consistent with the terms of such restrictive indorsement.

(b) Payment or satisfaction may be made with the consent of the holder by any person including a stranger to the instrument. Surrender of the instrument to such a person gives him the rights of a transferee (Section 3.201).

§ 3.604. Tender of Payment

(a) Any party making tender of full payment to a holder when or after it is due is discharged to the extent of all subsequent liability for interest, costs and attorney's fees.

(b) The holder's refusal of such tender wholly discharges any party who has a right of recourse against the party making the tender.

(c) Where the maker or acceptor of an instrument payable otherwise than on demand is able and ready to pay at every place of payment specified in the instrument when it is due, it is equivalent to tender.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.605. Cancellation and Renunciation

(a) The holder of an instrument may even without consideration discharge any party

(1) in any manner apparent on the face of the instrument or the indorsement, as by intentionally cancelling the instrument or the party's signature by destruction or mutilation, or by striking out the party's signature; or

(2) by renouncing his rights by a writing signed and delivered or by surrender of the instrument to the party to be discharged.

(b) Neither cancellation nor renunciation without surrender of the instrument affects the title thereto.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.606. Impairment of Recourse or of Collateral

(a) The holder discharges any party to the instrument to the extent that without such party's consent the holder

(1) without express reservation of rights releases or agrees not to sue any person against whom the party has to the knowledge of the holder a right of recourse or agrees to suspend the right to enforce against such person the instrument or collateral or otherwise discharges such person, except that failure or delay in effecting any required presentment, protest or notice of dishonor with respect to any such person does not discharge any party as to whom presentment, protest or notice of dishonor is effective or unnecessary; or

(2) unjustifiably impairs any collateral for the instrument given by or on behalf of the party or any person against whom he has a right of recourse.

(b) By express reservation of rights against a party with a right of recourse the holder preserves

(1) all his rights against such party as of the time when the instrument was originally due; and

(2) the right of the party to pay the instrument as of that time; and

(3) all rights of such party to recourse against others.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

SUBCHAPTER G. ADVICE OF INTERNATIONAL SIGHT DRAFT

§ 3.701. Letter of Advice of International Sight Draft

(a) A "letter of advice" is a drawer's communication to the drawee that a described draft has been drawn.

(b) Unless otherwise agreed when a bank receives from another bank a letter of advice of an international sight draft the drawee bank may immediately debit the drawer's account and stop the running of interest pro tanto. Such a debit and any resulting credit to any account covering outstanding drafts leaves in the drawer full power to stop payment or otherwise dispose of the amount and creates no trust or interest in favor of the holder.

(c) Unless otherwise agreed and except where a draft is drawn under a credit issued by the drawee, the drawee of an international sight draft owes the drawer no duty to pay an unadvised draft but if it does so and the draft is genuine, may appropriately debit the drawer's account.

SUBCHAPTER H. MISCELLANEOUS

§ 3.801. Drafts in a Set

(a) Where a draft is drawn in a set of parts, each of which is numbered and expressed to be an order only if no other part has been honored, the whole of the parts constitutes one draft but a taker of any part may become a holder in due course of the draft.

(b) Any person who negotiates, indorses or accepts a single part of a draft drawn in a set thereby becomes liable to any holder in due course of that part as if it were the whole set, but as between different holders in due course to whom different parts have been negotiated the holder whose title first accrues has all rights to the draft and its proceeds.

(c) As against the drawee the first presented part of a draft drawn in a set is the part entitled to payment, or if a time draft to acceptance and payment. Acceptance of any subsequently presented part renders the drawee liable thereon under Subsection (b). With respect both to a holder and to the drawer payment of a subsequently presented part of a draft payable at sight has the same effect as payment of a check notwithstanding an effective stop order (Section 4.407).

(d) Except as otherwise provided in this section, where any part of a draft in a set is discharged by payment or otherwise the whole draft is discharged. [Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.802. Effect of Instrument on Obligation for Which It Is Given

(a) Unless otherwise agreed where an instrument is taken for an underlying obligation

(1) the obligation is pro tanto discharged if a bank is drawer, maker or acceptor of the instrument and there is no recourse on the instrument against the underlying obligor; and

(2) in any other case the obligation is suspended pro tanto until the instrument is due or if it is payable on demand until its presentment. If the instrument is dishonored action may be maintained on either the instrument or the obligation; discharge of the underlying obligor on the instrument also discharges him on the obligation.

(b) The taking in good faith of a check which is not postdated does not of itself so extend the time on the original obligation as to discharge a surety. [Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 3.803. Notice to Third Party

Where a defendant is sued for breach of an obligation for which a third person is answerable over under this chapter he may give the third person written notice of the litigation, and the person notified may then give similar notice to any other person who is answerable over to him under this chapter. If the notice states that the person notified may come in and defend and that if the person notified does not do so he will in any action against him by the person giving the notice be bound by any determination of fact common to the two litigations, then unless after reasonable receipt of the notice the person notified does come in and defend he is so bound.

§ 3.804. Lost, Destroyed or Stolen Instruments

The owner of an instrument which is lost, whether by destruction, theft or otherwise, may maintain an action in his own name and recover from any party liable thereon upon due proof of his ownership, the facts which prevent his production of the instrument and its terms. The court may require security indemnifying the defendant against loss by reason of further claims on the instrument.

§ 3.805. Instruments Not Payable to Order or to Bearer

This chapter applies to any instrument whose terms do not preclude transfer and which is otherwise negotiable within this chapter but which is not payable to order or to bearer, except that there can be no holder in due course of such an instrument.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS AND DEFINITIONS

§ 4.101. Short Title

This chapter may be cited as Uniform Commercial Code—Bank Deposits and Collections.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 4.102. Applicability

(a) To the extent that items within this chapter are also within the scope of Chapters 3 and 8, they are subject to the provisions of those chapters. In the event of conflict the provisions of this chapter govern those of Chapter 3 but the provisions of Chapter 8 govern those of this chapter.

(b) The liability of a bank for action or non-action with respect to any item handled by it for purposes of presentment, payment or collection is governed by the law of the place where the bank is located. In the case of action or non-action by or at a branch or separate office of a bank, its liability is governed by the law of the place where the branch or separate office is located.

§ 4.103. Variation by Agreement; Measure of Damages; Certain Action Constituting Ordinary Care

(a) The effect of the provisions of this chapter may be varied by agreement except that no agreement can disclaim a bank's responsibility for its own lack of good faith or failure to exercise ordinary care or can limit the measure of damages for such lack or failure; but the parties may by agreement determine the standards by which such responsibility is to be measured if such standards are not manifestly unreasonable.

(b) Federal Reserve regulations and operating letters, clearing house rules, and the like, have the effect of agreements under Subsection (a), whether or not specifically assented to by all parties interested in items handled.

(c) Action or non-action approved by this chapter or pursuant to Federal Reserve regulations or operating letters constitutes the exercise of ordinary care and, in the absence of special instructions, action or non-action consistent with clearing house rules and the like or with a general banking usage not disapproved by this chapter, prima facie constitutes the exercise of ordinary care.

(d) The specification or approval of certain procedures by this chapter does not constitute disapproval of other procedures which may be reasonable under the circumstances.

(e) The measure of damages for failure to exercise ordinary care in handling an item is the amount of the item reduced by an amount which could not have been realized by the use of ordinary care, and where there is bad faith it includes other damages, if any, suffered by the party as a proximate consequence.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 4.105. "Depository Bank"; "Intermediary Bank"; "Collecting Bank"; "Payor Bank"; "Presenting Bank"; "Remitting Bank"

In this chapter unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Depository bank" means the first bank to which an item is transferred for collection even though it is also the payor bank;

(2) "Payor bank" means a bank by which an item is payable as drawn or accepted;

(3) "Intermediary bank" means any bank to which an item is transferred in course of collection except the depository or payor bank;

(4) "Collecting bank" means any bank handling the item for collection except the payor bank;

(5) "Presenting bank" means any bank presenting an item except a payor bank;

(6) "Remitting bank" means any payor or intermediary bank remitting for an item.

§ 4.106. Separate Office of a Bank

A branch or separate office of a bank is a separate bank for the purpose of computing the time within which and determining the place at or to which action may be taken or notices or orders shall be given under this chapter and under Chapter 3.

§ 4.107. Time of Receipt of Items

(a) For the purpose of allowing time to process items, prove balances and make the necessary entries on its books to determine its position for the day, a bank may fix an afternoon hour of two P.M. or later as a cut-off hour for the handling of money and items and the making of entries on its books.

(b) Any item or deposit of money received on any day after a cut-off hour so fixed or after the close of the banking day may be treated as being received at the opening of the next banking day.

§ 4.108. Delays

(a) Unless otherwise instructed, a collecting bank in a good faith effort to secure payment may, in the case of specific items and with or without the approval of any person involved, waive, modify or extend time limits imposed or permitted by this title for a period not in excess of an additional banking day without discharge of secondary parties and without liability to its transferor or any prior party.

(b) Delay by a collecting bank or payor bank beyond time limits prescribed or permitted by this title or by instructions is excused if caused by interruption of communication facilities, suspension of payments by another bank, war, emergency conditions or other circumstances beyond the control of the bank provided it exercises such diligence as the circumstances require.

§ 4.109. Process of Posting

The "process of posting" means the usual procedure followed by a payor bank in determining to pay an item and in recording the payment including one or more of the following or other steps as determined by the bank:

(1) verification of any signature;

(2) ascertaining that sufficient funds are available;

(3) affixing a "paid" or other stamp;

(4) entering a charge or entry to a customer's account;

(5) correcting or reversing an entry or erroneous action with respect to the item.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

SUBCHAPTER B. COLLECTION OF ITEMS: DEPOSITORY AND COLLECTING BANKS

§ 4.201. Presumption and Duration of Agency Status of Collecting Banks and Provisional Status of Credits; Applicability of Chapter; Item Indorsed "Pay Any Bank"

(a) Unless a contrary intent clearly appears and prior to the time that a settlement given by a collecting bank for an item is or becomes final (Subsection (c) of Section 4.211 and Sections 4.212 and 4.213) the bank is an agent or sub-agent of the owner of the item and any settlement given for the item is provisional. This provision applies regardless of the form of indorsement or lack of indorsement and even though credit given for the item is subject to immediate withdrawal as of right or is in fact withdrawn; but the continuance of ownership of an item by its owner and any rights of the owner to proceeds of the item are subject to rights of a collecting bank such as those resulting from outstanding advances on the item and valid rights of setoff. When an item is handled by banks for purposes of presentment, payment and collection, the relevant provisions of this chapter apply even though action of parties clearly establishes that a particular bank has purchased the item and is the owner of it.

(b) After an item has been indorsed with the words "pay any bank" or the like, only a bank may acquire the rights of a holder

(1) until the item has been returned to the customer initiating collection; or

(2) until the item has been specially indorsed by a bank to a person who is not a bank.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 4.202. Responsibility for Collection; When Action Seasonable

- (a) A collecting bank must use ordinary care in
  - (1) presenting an item or sending it for presentment; and
  - (2) sending notice of dishonor or non-payment or returning an item other than a documentary draft to the bank's transferor or directly to the depository bank under Subsection (b) of Section 4.212 after learning that the item has not been paid or accepted, as the case may be; and
  - (3) settling for an item when the bank receives final settlement; and
  - (4) making or providing for any necessary protest; and
  - (5) notifying its transferor of any loss or delay in transit within a reasonable time after discovery thereof.

(b) A collecting bank taking proper action before its midnight deadline following receipt of an item, notice or payment acts seasonably; taking proper action within a reasonably longer time may be seasonable but the bank has the burden of so establishing.

(c) Subject to Subsection (a)(1), a bank is not liable for the insolvency, neglect, misconduct, mistake or default of another bank or person or for loss or destruction of an item in transit or in the possession of others.

§ 4.203. Effect of Instructions

Subject to the provisions of Chapter 3 concerning conversion of instruments (Section 3.419) and the provisions of both Chapter 3 and this chapter concerning restrictive indorsements only a collecting bank's transferor can give instructions which affect the bank or constitute notice to it and a collecting bank is not liable to prior parties for any action taken pursuant to such instructions or in accordance with any agreement with its transferor.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 4.204. Methods of Sending and Presenting; Sending Direct to Payor Bank

(a) A collecting bank must send items by reasonably prompt method taking into consideration any relevant instructions, the nature of the item, the number of such items on hand, and the cost of collection involved and the method generally used by it or others to present such items.

- (b) A collecting bank may send
  - (1) any item direct to the payor bank;
  - (2) any item to any non-bank payor if authorized by its transferor; and
  - (3) any item other than documentary drafts to any non-bank payor, if authorized by Federal Reserve regulation or operating letter, clearing house rule or the like.

(c) Presentment may be made by a presenting bank at a place where the payor bank has requested that presentment be made.

§ 4.205. Supplying Missing Indorsement; No Notice from Prior Indorsement

(a) A depository bank which has taken an item for collection may supply any indorsement of the customer which is necessary to title unless the item contains the words "payee's indorsement required" or the like. In the absence of such a requirement a statement placed on the item by the depository bank to the effect that the item was deposited by a customer or credited to his account is effective as the customer's indorsement.

(b) An intermediary bank, or payor bank which is not a depository bank, is neither given notice nor otherwise affected by a restrictive indorsement of any person except the bank's immediate transferor.

§ 4.206. Transfer Between Banks

Any agreed method which identifies the transferor or bank is sufficient for the item's further transfer to another bank.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 4.207. Warranties of Customer and Collecting Bank on Transfer or Presentment of Items; Time for Claims

(a) Each customer or collecting bank who obtains payment or acceptance of an item and each prior customer and collecting bank warrants to the payor bank or other payor who in good faith pays or accepts the item that

(1) he has a good title to the item or is authorized to obtain payment or acceptance on behalf of one who has a good title; and

(2) he has no knowledge that the signature of the maker or drawer is unauthorized, except that this warranty is not given by any customer or collecting bank that is a holder in due course and acts in good faith

(A) to a maker with respect to the maker's own signature; or

(B) to a drawer with respect to the drawer's own signature, whether or not the drawer is also the drawee; or

(C) to an acceptor of an item if the holder in due course took the item after the acceptance or obtained the acceptance without knowledge that the drawer's signature was unauthorized; and

(3) the item has not been materially altered, except that this warranty is not given by any customer or collecting bank that is a holder in due course and acts in good faith

(A) to the maker of a note; or

(B) to the drawer of a draft whether or not the drawer is also the drawee; or

(C) to the acceptor of an item with respect to an alteration made prior to the acceptance if the holder in due course took the item after the acceptance, even though the acceptance provided "payable as originally drawn" or equivalent terms; or

(D) to the acceptor of an item with respect to an alteration made after the acceptance.

(b) Each customer and collecting bank who transfers an item and receives a settlement or other consideration for it warrants to his transferee and to any subsequent collecting bank who takes the item in good faith that

(1) he has a good title to the item or is authorized to obtain payment or acceptance on behalf of one who has a good title and the transfer is otherwise rightful; and

(2) all signatures are genuine or authorized; and

(3) the item has not been materially altered; and

(4) no defense of any party is good against him; and

(5) he has no knowledge of any insolvency proceeding instituted with respect to the maker or acceptor or the drawer of an unaccepted item.

In addition each customer and collecting bank so transferring an item and receiving a settlement or other consideration engages that upon dishonor and any necessary notice of dishonor and protest he will take up the item.

(c) The warranties and the engagement to honor set forth in the two preceding subsections arise notwithstanding the absence of indorsement or words of guaranty or warranty in the transfer or presentment and a collecting bank remains liable for their breach despite remittance to its transferor. Damages for breach of such warranties or engagement to honor shall not exceed the consideration received by the customer or collecting bank responsible plus finance charges and expenses related to the item, if any.

(d) Unless a claim for breach of warranty under this section is made within a reasonable time after the person claiming learns of the breach, the person liable is discharged to the extent of any loss caused by the delay in making claim.

§ 4.208. Security Interest of Collecting Bank in Items, Accompanying Documents and Proceeds

(a) A bank has a security interest in an item and any accompanying documents or the proceeds of either

(1) in case of an item deposited in an account to the extent to which credit given for the item has been withdrawn or applied;

(2) in case of an item for which it has given credit available for withdrawal as of right, to the extent of the credit given whether or not the credit is drawn upon and whether or not there is a right of charge-back; or

(3) if it makes an advance on or against the item.

(b) When credit which has been given for several items received at one time or pursuant to a single agreement is withdrawn or applied in part the security interest remains upon all the items, any accompanying documents or the proceeds of either. For the purpose of this section, credits first given are first withdrawn.

(c) Receipt by a collecting bank of a final settlement for an item is a realization on its security interest in the item, accompanying documents and proceeds. To the extent and so long as the bank does not receive final settlement for the item or give up possession of the item or accompanying documents for purposes other than collection, the security interest continues and is subject to the provisions of Chapter 9 except that

(1) no security agreement is necessary to make the security interest enforceable (Subsection (a)(2) of Section 9.203); and

(2) no filing is required to perfect the security interest; and

(3) the security interest has priority over conflicting perfected security interests in the item, accompanying documents or proceeds.

§ 4.209. When Bank Gives Value for Purposes of Holder in Due Course

For purposes of determining its status as a holder in due course, the bank has given value to the extent that it has a security interest in an item provided that the bank otherwise complies with the requirements of Section 3.302 on what constitutes a holder in due course.

§ 4.210. Presentment by Notice of Item Not Payable by, Through or at a Bank; Liability of Secondary Parties

(a) Unless otherwise instructed, a collecting bank may present an item not payable by, through or at a bank by sending to the party to accept or pay a written notice that the bank holds the item for acceptance or payment. The notice must be sent in time to be received on or before the day when presentment is due and the bank must meet any requirement of the party to accept or pay under Section 3.505 by the close of the bank's next banking day after it knows of the requirement.

(b) Where presentment is made by notice and neither honor nor request for compliance with a requirement under Section 3.505 is received by the close of business on the day after maturity or in the case of demand items by the close of business on the third banking day after notice was sent, the presenting bank may treat the item as dishonored and charge any secondary party by sending him notice of the facts.

§ 4.211. Media of Remittance; Provisional and Final Settlement in Remittance Cases

(a) A collecting bank may take in settlement of an item

(1) a check of the remitting bank or of another bank on any bank except the remitting bank; or

(2) a cashier's check or similar primary obligation of a remitting bank which is a member of or clears through a member of the same clearing house or group as the collecting bank; or

(3) appropriate authority to charge an account of the remitting bank or of another bank with the collecting bank; or

(4) if the item is drawn upon or payable by a person other than a bank, a cashier's check, certified check or other bank check or obligation.

(b) If before its midnight deadline the collecting bank properly dishonors a remittance check or authorization to charge on itself or presents or forwards for collection a remittance instrument of or on another bank which is of a kind approved by Subsection (a) or has not been authorized by it, the collecting bank is not liable to prior parties in the event of the dishonor of such check, instrument or authorization.

(c) A settlement for an item by means of a remittance instrument or authorization to charge is or becomes a final settlement as to both the person making and the person receiving the settlement

(1) if the remittance instrument or authorization to charge is of a kind approved by Subsection (a) or has not been authorized by the person receiving the settlement and in either case the person receiving the settlement acts seasonably before its midnight deadline in presenting, forwarding for collection or paying the instrument or authorization,—at the time the remittance instrument or authorization is finally paid by the payor by which it is payable;

(2) if the person receiving the settlement has authorized remittance by a non-bank check or obligation or by a cashier's check remitting bank which is not of a kind approved by Subsection (a)(2);—at the time of the receipt of such remittance check or obligation; or

(3) if in a case not covered by Subdivision (1) or (2) the person receiving the settlement fails to seasonably present, forward for collection, pay or return a remittance instrument or authorization to it to charge before its midnight deadline,—at such midnight deadline.

§ 4.212. Right of Charge-Back or Refund

(a) If a collecting bank has made provisional settlement with its customer for an item and itself fails by reason of dishonor, suspension of payments by a bank or otherwise to receive a settlement for the item which is or becomes final, the bank may revoke the settlement given by it, charge back the amount of any credit given for the item to its customer's account or obtain refund from its customer whether or not it is able to return the items if by its midnight deadline or within a longer reasonable time after it learns the facts it returns the item or sends notification of the facts. These rights to revoke, charge-back and obtain refund terminate if and when a settlement for the item received by the bank is or becomes final (Subsection (c) of Section 4.211 and Subsections (b) and (c) of Section 4.213).

(b) Within the time and manner prescribed by this section and Section 4.301, an intermediary or payor bank, as the case may be, may return an unpaid item directly to the depository bank and may send for collection a draft on the depository bank and obtain reimbursement. In such case, if the depository bank has received provisional settlement for the item, it must reimburse the bank drawing the draft and any provisional credits for the item between banks shall become and remain final.

(c) A depository bank which is also the payor may charge-back the amount of an item to its customer's account or obtain refund in accordance with the section governing return of an item received by a payor bank for credit on its books (Section 4.301).

(d) The right to charge-back is not affected by

(1) prior use of the credit given for the item; or

(2) failure by any bank to exercise ordinary care with respect to the item but any bank so failing remains liable.

(e) A failure to charge-back or claim refund does not affect other rights of the bank against the customer or any other party.

(f) If credit is given in dollars as the equivalent of the value of an item payable in a foreign currency the dollar amount of any charge-back or refund shall be calculated on the basis of the buying sight rate for the foreign currency prevailing on the day when the person entitled to the charge-back or refund learns that it will not receive payment in ordinary course.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 4.213. Final Payment of Item by Payor Bank; When Provisional Debits and Credits Become Final; When Certain Credits Become Available for Withdrawal

(a) An item is finally paid by a payor bank when the bank has done any of the following, whichever happens first:

(1) paid the item in cash; or

(2) settled for the item without reserving a right to revoke the settlement and without having such right under statute, clearing house rule or agreement; or

(3) completed the process of posting the item to the indicated account of the drawer, maker or other person to be charged therewith; or

(4) made a provisional settlement for the item and failed to revoke the settlement in the time and manner permitted by statute, clearing house rule or agreement.

Upon a final payment under Subdivisions (2), (3) or (4) the payor bank shall be accountable for the amount of the item.

(b) If provisional settlement for an item between the presenting and payor banks is made through a clearing house or by debits or credits in an account between them, then to the extent that provisional debits or credits for the item are entered in accounts between the presenting and payor banks or between the presenting and successive prior collecting banks seriatim, they become final upon final payment of the item by the payor bank.

(c) If a collecting bank receives a settlement for an item which is or becomes final (Subsection (c) of Section 4.211, Subsection (b) of Section 4.213) the bank is accountable to its customer for the amount of the item and any provisional credit given for the item in an account with its customer becomes final.

(d) Subject to any right of the bank to apply the credit to an obligation of the customer, credit given by a bank for an item in an account with its customer becomes available for withdrawal as of right

(1) in any case where the bank has received a provisional settlement for the item,—when such settlement becomes final and the bank has had a reasonable time to learn that the settlement is final;

(2) in any case where the bank is both a depository bank and a payor bank and the item is finally paid,—at the opening of the bank's second banking day following receipt of the item.

(e) A deposit of money in a bank is final when made but, subject to any right of the bank to apply the deposit to an obligation of the customer, the deposit becomes available for withdrawal as of right at the opening of the bank's next banking day following receipt of the deposit.

§ 4.214. Insolvency and Preference

(a) Any item in or coming into the possession of a payor or collecting bank which suspends payment and which item is not finally paid shall be returned by the receiver, trustee or agent in charge of the closed bank to the presenting bank or the closed bank's customer.

(b) If a payor bank finally pays an item and suspends payments without making a settlement for the item with its customer or the presenting bank which settlement is or becomes final, the owner of the item has a preferred claim against the payor bank.

(c) If a payor bank gives or a collecting bank gives or receives a provisional settlement for an item and thereafter suspends payments, the suspension does not prevent or interfere with the settlement becoming final if such finality occurs automatically upon the lapse of certain time or the happening of certain events (Subsection (c) of Section 4.211, Subsections (a)(4), (b) and (c) of Section 4.213).

(d) If a collecting bank receives from subsequent parties settlement for an item which settlement is or becomes final and suspends payments without making a settlement for the item with its customer which is or becomes final, the owner of the item has a preferred claim against such collecting bank.

SUBCHAPTER C. COLLECTION OF ITEMS: PAYOR BANKS

§ 4.301. Deferred Posting; Recovery of Payment by Return of Items; Time of Dishonor

(a) Where an authorized settlement for a demand item (other than a documentary draft) received by a payor bank otherwise than for immediate payment over the counter has been made before midnight of the banking day of receipt the payor bank may revoke the settlement and recover any payment if before it has made final payment (Subsection (a) of Section 4.213) and before its midnight deadline it

(1) returns the item; or

(2) sends written notice of dishonor or non-payment if the item is held for protest or is otherwise unavailable for return.

(b) If a demand item is received by a payor bank for credit on its books it may return such item or send notice of dishonor and may revoke any credit given or recover the amount thereof withdrawn by its customer, if it acts within the time limit and in the manner specified in the preceding subsection.

(c) Unless previous notice of dishonor has been sent an item is dishonored at the time when for purposes of dishonor it is returned or notice sent in accordance with this section.

(d) An item is returned:

(1) as to an item received through a clearing house, when it is delivered to the presenting or last collecting bank or to the clearing house or is sent or delivered in accordance with its rules; or

(2) in all other cases, when it is sent or delivered to the bank's customer or transferor or pursuant to his instructions.

§ 4.302. Payor Bank's Responsibility for Late Return of Item

In the absence of a valid defense such as breach of a presentment warranty (Subsection (a) of Section 4.207), settlement effected or the like, if an item is presented on and received by a payor bank the bank is accountable for the amount of

(1) a demand item other than a documentary draft whether properly payable or not if the bank, in any case where it is not also the depository bank, retains the item beyond midnight of the banking day of receipt without settling for it or, regardless of whether it is also the depository bank, does not pay or return the item or send notice of dishonor until after its midnight deadline; or

(2) any other properly payable item unless within the time allowed for acceptance or payment of that item the bank either accepts or pays the item or returns it and accompanying documents.

§ 4.303. When Items Subject to Notice, Stop-Order, Legal Process or Setoff; Order in Which Items May be Charged or Certified

(a) Any knowledge, notice or stop-order received by, legal process served upon or setoff exercised by a payor bank, whether or not effective under other rules of law to terminate, suspend or modify the bank's right or duty to pay an item or to charge its customer's account for the item, comes too late to so terminate, suspend or modify such right or duty if the knowledge, notice, stop-order or legal process is received or served and a reasonable time for the bank to act thereon expires or the setoff is exercised after the bank has done any of the following:

(1) accepted or certified the item;

(2) paid the item in cash;

(3) settled for the item without reserving a right to revoke the settlement and without having such right under statute, clearing house rule or agreement;

(4) completed the process of posting the item to the indicated account of the drawer, maker or other person to be charged therewith or otherwise has evidenced by examination of such indicated account and by action its decision to pay the item; or

(5) become accountable for the amount of the item under Subsection (a)(4) of Section 4.213 and Section 4.302 dealing with the payor bank's responsibility for late return of items.

(b) Subject to the provisions of Subsection (a) items may be accepted, paid, certified or charged to the indicated account of its customer in any order convenient to the bank.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

SUBCHAPTER D. RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN PAYOR BANK AND ITS CUSTOMER

§ 4.401. When Bank May Charge Customer's Account

(a) As against its customer, a bank may charge against his account any item which is otherwise properly payable from that account even though the charge creates an overdraft.

(b) A bank which in good faith makes payment to a holder may charge the indicated account of its customer according to

- (1) the original tenor of his altered item; or
- (2) the tenor of his completed item, even though the bank knows the item has been completed unless the bank has notice that the completion was improper.

§ 4.402. Bank's Liability to Customer for Wrongful Dishonor

A payor bank is liable to its customer for damages proximately caused by the wrongful dishonor of an item. When the dishonor occurs through mistake liability is limited to actual damages proved. If so proximately caused and proved damages may include damages for an arrest or prosecution of the customer or other consequential damages. Whether any consequential damages are proximately caused by the wrongful dishonor is a question of fact to be determined in each case.

§ 4.403. Customer's Right to Stop Payment; Burden of Proof of Loss

(a) A customer may by order to his bank stop payment of any item payable for his account but the order must be received at such time and in such manner as to afford the bank a reasonable opportunity to act on it prior to any action by the bank with respect to the item described in Section 4.303.

(b) An order is binding upon the bank only if it is in writing, dated, signed, and describes the item with certainty. An order is effective for only six months unless renewed in writing.

(c) The burden of establishing the fact and amount of loss resulting from the payment of an item contrary to a binding stop payment order is on the customer.

§ 4.404. Bank Not Obligated to Pay Check More Than Six Months Old

A bank is under no obligation to a customer having a checking account to pay a check, other than a certified check, which is presented more than six months after its date, but it may charge its customer's account for a payment made thereafter in good faith.

§ 4.405. Death or Incompetence of Customer

(a) A payor or collecting bank's authority to accept, pay or collect an item or to account for proceeds of its collection if otherwise effective is not rendered ineffective by incompetence of a customer of either bank existing at the time the item is issued or its collection is undertaken if the bank does not know of an adjudication of incompetence. Neither death nor incompetence of a customer revokes such authority to accept, pay, collect or account until the bank knows of the fact of death or of an adjudication of incompetence and has reasonable opportunity to act on it.

(b) Even with knowledge a bank may for ten days after the date of death pay or certify checks drawn on or prior to that date unless ordered to stop payment by a person claiming an interest in the account.

§ 4.406. Customer's Duty to Discover and Report Unauthorized Signature or Alteration

(a) When a bank sends to its customer a statement of account accompanied by items paid in good faith in support of the debit entries or holds the statement and items pursuant to a request or instructions of its customer or otherwise in a reasonable manner makes the statement and items available to the customer, the customer must exercise reasonable care and promptness to examine the statement and items to discover his unauthorized signature or any alteration on an item and must notify the bank promptly after discovery thereof.

(b) If the bank establishes that the customer failed with respect to an item to comply with the duties imposed on the customer by Subsection (a) the customer is precluded from asserting against the bank

(1) his unauthorized signature or any alteration on the item if the bank also establishes that it suffered a loss by reason of such failure; and

(2) an unauthorized signature or alteration by the same wrongdoer on any other item paid in good faith by the bank after the first item and statement was available to the customer for a reasonable period not exceeding fourteen calendar days and before the bank receives notification from the customer of any such unauthorized signature or alteration.

(c) The preclusion under Subsection (b) does not apply if the customer establishes lack of ordinary care on the part of the bank in paying the item(s).

(d) Without regard to care or lack of care of either the customer or the bank a customer who does not within one year from the time the statement and items are made available to the customer (Subsection (a)) discover and report his unauthorized signature or any alteration on the face or back of the item or does not within three years from that time discover and report any unauthorized indorsement is precluded from asserting against the bank such unauthorized signature or indorsement or such alteration.

(e) If under this section a payor bank has a valid defense against a claim of a customer upon or resulting from payment of an item and waives or fails upon request to assert the defense the bank may not assert against any collecting bank or other prior party presenting or transferring the item a claim based upon the unauthorized signature or alteration giving rise to the customer's claim.

§ 4.407. Payor Bank's Right to Subrogation on Improper Payment

If a payor bank has paid an item over the stop payment order of the drawer or maker or otherwise under circumstances giving a basis for objection by the drawer or maker, to prevent unjust enrichment and only to the extent necessary to prevent loss to the bank by reason of its payment of the item, the payor bank shall be subrogated to the rights

(1) of any holder in due course on the item against the drawer or maker; and

(2) of the payee or any other holder of the item against the drawer or maker either on the item or under the transaction out of which the item arose; and

(3) of the drawer or maker against the payee or any other holder of the item with respect to the transaction out of which the item arose.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

SUBCHAPTER E. COLLECTION OF DOCUMENTARY DRAFTS

§ 4.501. Handling of Documentary Drafts; Duty to Send for Presentment and to Notify Customer of Dishonor

A bank which takes a documentary draft for collection must present or send the draft and accompanying documents for presentment and upon learning that the draft has not been paid or accepted in due course must seasonably notify its customer of such fact even though it may have discounted or bought the draft or extended credit available for withdrawal as of right.

§ 4.502. Presentment of "On Arrival" Drafts

When a draft or the relevant instructions require presentment "on arrival", "when goods arrive" or the like, the collecting bank need not present until in its judgment a reasonable time for arrival of the goods has expired. Refusal to pay or accept because the goods have not arrived is not dishonor; the bank must notify its transferor of such refusal but need not present the draft again until it is instructed to do so or learns of the arrival of the goods.

§ 4.503. Responsibility of Presenting Bank for Documents and Goods; Report of Reasons for Dishonor; Referee in Case of Need

Unless otherwise instructed and except as provided in Chapter 5 a bank presenting a documentary draft

(1) must deliver the documents to the drawee on acceptance of the draft if it is payable more than three days after presentment; otherwise, only on payment; and

(2) upon dishonor, either in the case of presentment for acceptance or presentment for payment, may seek and follow instructions from any referee in case of need designated in the draft or if the presenting bank does not choose to utilize his services it must use diligence and good faith to ascertain the reason for dishonor, must notify its transferor of the dishonor and of the results of its effort to ascertain the reasons therefor and must request instructions.

But the presenting bank is under no obligation with respect to goods represented by the documents except to follow any reasonable instructions seasonably received; it has a right to reimbursement for any expense incurred in following instructions and to prepayment of or indemnity for such expenses.

§ 4.504. Privilege of Presenting Bank to Deal With Goods; Security Interest for Expenses

(a) A presenting bank which, following the dishonor of a documentary draft, has seasonably requested instructions but does not receive them within a reasonable time may store, sell, or otherwise deal with the goods in any reasonable manner.

(b) For its reasonable expenses incurred by action under Subsection (a) the presenting bank has a lien upon the goods or their proceeds, which may be foreclosed in the same manner as an unpaid seller's lien.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 5.101. Short Title

This chapter may be cited as Uniform Commercial Code—Letters of Credit.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 5.102. Scope

(a) This chapter applies

(1) to a credit issued by a bank if the credit requires a documentary draft or a documentary demand for payment; and

(2) to a credit issued by a person other than a bank if the credit requires that the draft or demand for payment be accompanied by a document of title; and

(3) to a credit issued by a bank or other person if the credit is not within Subdivision (1) or (2) but conspicuously states that it is a letter of credit or is conspicuously so entitled.

(b) Unless the engagement meets the requirements of Subsection (a), this chapter does not apply to engagements to make advances or to honor drafts or demands for payment, to authorities to pay or purchase, to guarantees or to general agreements.

(c) This chapter deals with some but not all of the rules and concepts of letters of credit as such rules or concepts have developed prior to this title or may hereafter develop. The fact that this chapter states a rule does not by itself require, imply or negate application of the same or a converse rule to a situation not provided for or to a person not specified by this chapter.

§ 5.103. Definitions

(a) In this chapter unless the context otherwise requires

(1) "Credit" or "letter of credit" means an engagement by a bank or other person made at the request of a customer and of a kind within the scope of this chapter (Section 5.102) that the issuer will honor drafts or other demands for payment upon compliance with the conditions specified in the credit. A credit may be either revocable or irrevocable. The engagement may be either an agreement to honor or a statement that the bank or other person is authorized to honor.

(2) A "documentary draft" or a "documentary demand for payment" is one honor of which is conditioned upon the presentation of a document or documents. "Document" means any paper including document of title, security, invoice, certificate, notice of default and the like.

(3) An "issuer" is a bank or other person issuing a credit.

(4) A "beneficiary" of a credit is a person who is entitled under its terms to draw or demand payment.

(5) An "advising bank" is a bank which gives notification of the issuance of a credit by another bank.

(6) A "confirming bank" is a bank which engages either that it will itself honor a credit already issued by another bank or that such a credit will be honored by the issuer or a third bank.

(7) A "customer" is a buyer or other person who causes an issuer to issue a credit. The term also includes a bank which procures issuance or confirmation on behalf of that bank's customer.

(b) Other definitions applying to this chapter and the sections in which they appear are:

- "Notation Credit". Section 5.108.
- "Presenter". Section 5.112(c).

(c) Definitions in other chapters applying to this chapter and the sections in which they appear are:

- "Accept" or "Acceptance". Section 3.410.
- "Contract for sale". Section 2.106.
- "Draft". Section 3.104.
- "Holder in due course". Section 3.302.
- "Midnight deadline". Section 4.104.
- "Security". Section 8.102.

(d) In addition, Chapter contains general definitions and principles of construction and interpretation applicable throughout this chapter.

§ 5.104. Formal Requirements; Signing

(a) Except as otherwise required in Subsection (a)(3) of Section 5.102 on scope, no particular form of phrasing is required for a credit. A credit must be in writing and signed by the issuer and a confirmation must be in writing and signed by the confirming bank. A modification of the terms of a credit or confirmation must be signed by the issuer or confirming bank.

(b) A telegram may be a sufficient signed writing if it identifies its sender by an authorized authentication. The authentication may be in code and the authorized naming of the issuer in an advice of credit is a sufficient signing.

§ 5.105. Consideration

No consideration is necessary to establish a credit or to enlarge or otherwise modify its terms.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 5.106. Time and Effect of Establishment of Credit

(a) Unless otherwise agreed a credit is established

(1) as regards the customer as soon as a letter of credit is sent to him or the letter of credit or an authorized written advice of its issuance is sent to the beneficiary; and

(2) as regards the beneficiary when he receives a letter of credit or an authorized written advice of its issuance.

(b) Unless otherwise agreed once an irrevocable credit is established as regards the customer it can be modified or revoked only with the consent of the customer and once it is established as regards the beneficiary it can be modified or revoked only with his consent.

(c) Unless otherwise agreed after a revocable credit is established it may be modified or revoked by the issuer without notice to or consent from the customer or beneficiary.

(d) Notwithstanding any modification or revocation of a revocable credit any person authorized to honor or negotiate under the terms of the original credit is entitled to reimbursement for or honor of any draft or demand for payment duly honored or negotiated before receipt of notice of the modification or revocation and the issuer in turn is entitled to reimbursement from its customer.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 5.107. Advice of Credit; Confirmation; Error in Statement of Terms

(a) Unless otherwise specified an advising bank by advising a credit issued by another bank does not assume any obligation to honor drafts drawn or demands for payment made under the credit but it does assume obligation for the accuracy of its own statement.

(b) A confirming bank by confirming a credit becomes directly obligated on the credit to the extent of its confirmation as though it were its issuer and acquires the rights of an issuer.

(c) Even though an advising bank incorrectly advises the terms of a credit it has been authorized to advise the credit is established as against the issuer to the extent of its original terms.

(d) Unless otherwise specified the customer bears as against the issuer all risks of transmission and reasonable translation or interpretation of any message relating to a credit.

§ 5.108. "Notation Credit"; Exhaustion of Credit

(a) A credit which specifies that any person purchasing or paying drafts drawn or demands for payment made under it must note the amount of the draft or demand on the letter or advice of credit is a "notation credit".

(b) Under a notation credit

(1) a person paying the beneficiary or purchasing a draft or demand for payment from him acquires a right to honor only if the appropriate notation is made and by transferring or forwarding for honor the documents under the credit such a person warrants to the issuer that the notation has been made; and

(2) unless the credit or a signed statement that an appropriate notation has been made accompanies the draft or demand for payment the issuer may delay honor until evidence of notation has been procured which is satisfactory to it but its obligation and that of its customer continue for a reasonable time not exceeding thirty days to obtain such evidence.

(c) If the credit is not a notation credit

(1) the issuer may honor complying drafts or demands for payment presented to it in the order in which they are presented and is discharged pro tanto by honor of any such draft or demand;

(2) as between competing good faith purchasers of complying drafts or demands the person first purchasing has priority over a subsequent purchaser even though the later purchased draft or demand has been first honored.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 5.109. Issuer's Obligation to Its Customer

(a) An issuer's obligation to its customer includes good faith and observance of any general banking usage but unless otherwise agreed does not include liability or responsibility

1 West's Tex. Stats. & Codes—10

(1) for performance of the underlying contract for sale or other transaction between the customer and the beneficiary; or

(2) for any act or omission of any person other than itself or its own branch or for loss or destruction of a draft, demand or document in transit or in the possession of others; or

(3) based on knowledge or lack of knowledge of any usage of any particular trade.

(b) An issuer must examine documents with care so as to ascertain that on their face they appear to comply with the terms of the credit but unless otherwise agreed assumes no liability or responsibility for the genuineness, falsification or effect of any document which appears on such examination to be regular on its face.

(c) A non-bank issuer is not bound by any banking usage of which it has no knowledge.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 5.110. Availability of Credit in Portions; Presenter's Reservation of Lien or Claim

(a) Unless otherwise specified a credit may be used in portions in the discretion of the beneficiary.

(b) Unless otherwise specified a person by presenting a documentary draft or demand for payment under a credit relinquishes upon its honor all claims to the documents and a person by transferring such draft or demand or causing such presentation authorizes such relinquishment. An explicit reservation of claim makes the draft or demand non-complying.

§ 5.111. Warranties on Transfer and Presentment

(a) Unless otherwise agreed the beneficiary by transferring or presenting a documentary draft or demand for payment warrants to all interested parties that the necessary conditions of the credit have been complied with. This is in addition to any warranties arising under Chapters 3, 4, 7 and 8.

(b) Unless otherwise agreed a negotiating, advising, confirming, collecting or issuing bank presenting or transferring a draft or demand for payment under a credit warrants only the matters warranted by a collecting bank under Chapter 4 and any such bank transferring a document warrants only the matters warranted by an intermediary under Chapters 7 and 8.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 5.112. Time Allowed for Honor or Rejection; Withholding Honor or Rejection by Consent; "Presenter"

(a) A bank to which a documentary draft or demand for payment is presented under a credit may without dishonor of the draft, demand or credit

(1) defer honor until the close of the third banking day following receipt of the documents; and

(2) further defer honor if the presenter has expressly or impliedly consented thereto.

Failure to honor within the time here specified constitutes dishonor of the draft or demand and of the credit except as otherwise provided in Subsection (d) of Section 5.114 on conditional payment.

(b) Upon dishonor the bank may unless otherwise instructed fulfill its duty to return the draft or demand and the documents by holding them at the disposal of the presenter and sending him an advice to that effect.

(c) "Presenter" means any person presenting a draft or demand for payment for honor under a credit even though that person is a confirming bank or other correspondent which is acting under an issuer's authorization.

§ 5.113. Indemnities

(a) A bank seeking to obtain (whether for itself or another) honor, negotiation or reimbursement under a credit may give an indemnity to induce such honor, negotiation or reimbursement.

(b) An indemnity agreement inducing honor, negotiation or reimbursement

(1) unless otherwise explicitly agreed applies to defects in the documents but not in the goods; and

(2) unless a longer time is explicitly agreed expires at the end of ten business days following receipt of the documents by the ultimate customer unless notice of objection is sent before such expiration date. The ultimate customer may send notice of objection to the person from whom he received the documents and any bank receiving such notice is under a duty to send notice to its transferor before its midnight deadline.

§ 5.114. Issuer's Duty and Privilege to Honor; Right to Reimbursement

(a) An issuer must honor a draft or demand for payment which complies with the terms of the relevant credit regardless of whether the goods or documents conform to the underlying contract for sale or other contract between the customer and the beneficiary. The issuer is not excused from honor of such a draft or demand by reason of an additional general term that all documents must be satisfactory to the issuer, but an issuer may require that specified documents must be satisfactory to it.

(b) Unless otherwise agreed when documents appear on their face to comply with the terms of a credit but a required document does not in fact conform to the warranties made on negotiation or transfer of a document of title (Section 7.507) or of a security (Section 8.306) or is forged or fraudulent or there is fraud in the transaction

(1) the issuer must honor the draft or demand for payment if honor is demanded by a negotiating bank or other holder of the draft or demand which has taken the draft or demand under the credit and under circumstances which would make it a holder in due course (Section 3.302) and in an appropriate case would make it a person to whom a document of title has been duly negotiated (Section 7.502) or a bona fide purchaser of a security (Section 8.302); and

(2) in all other cases as against its customer, an issuer acting in good faith may honor the draft or demand for payment despite notification from the customer of fraud, forgery or other defect not apparent on the face of the documents but a court of appropriate jurisdiction may enjoin such honor.

(c) Unless otherwise agreed an issuer which has duly honored a draft or demand for payment is entitled to immediate reimbursement of any payment made under the credit and to be put in effectively available funds not later than the day before maturity of any acceptance made under the credit.

(d) When a credit provides for payment by the issuer on receipt of notice that the required documents are in the possession of a correspondent or other agent of the issuer

(1) any payment made on receipt of such notice is conditional; and

(2) the issuer may reject documents which do not comply with the credit if it does so within three banking days following its receipt of the documents; and

(3) in the event of such rejection, the issuer is entitled by charge back or otherwise to return of the payment made.

(e) In the case covered by Subsection (d) failure to reject documents within the time specified in Subdivision (2), constitutes acceptance of the documents and makes the payment final in favor of the beneficiary.

§ 5.115. Remedy for Improper Dishonor or Anticipatory Repudiation

(a) When an issuer wrongfully dishonors a draft or demand for payment presented under a credit the person entitled to honor has with respect to any documents the rights of a person in the position of a seller (Section 2.707) and may recover from the issuer the face amount of the draft or demand together with incidental damages under Section 2.710 on seller's incidental damages and interest but less any amount realized by resale or other use or disposition of the subject matter of the transaction. In the event no resale or other utilization is made the documents, goods or other subject matter involved in the transaction must be turned over to the issuer on payment of judgment.

(b) When an issuer wrongfully cancels or otherwise repudiates a credit before presentment of a draft or demand for payment drawn under it the beneficiary has the rights of a seller after anticipatory repudiation by the buyer under Section 2.610 if he learns of the repudiation in time reasonably to avoid procurement of the required documents. Otherwise the beneficiary has an immediate right of action for wrongful dishonor.

§ 5.116. Transfer and Assignment

(a) The right to draw under a credit can be transferred or assigned only when the credit is expressly designated as transferable or assignable.

(b) Even though the credit specifically states that it is nontransferable or nonassignable the beneficiary may before performance of the conditions of the credit assign his right to proceeds. Such an assignment is an assignment of an account under Chapter 9 on Secured Transactions and is governed by that chapter except that

(1) the assignment is ineffective until the letter of credit or advice of credit is delivered to the assignee which delivery constitutes perfection of the security interest under Chapter 9; and

(2) the issuer may honor drafts or demands for payment drawn under the credit until it receives a notification of the assignment signed by the beneficiary which reasonably identifies the credit involved in the assignment and contains a request to pay the assignee; and

(3) after what reasonably appears to be such a notification has been received the issuer may without dishonor refuse to accept or pay even to a person otherwise entitled to honor until the letter of credit or advice of credit is exhibited to the issuer.

(c) Except where the beneficiary has effectively assigned his right to draw or his right to proceeds, nothing in this section limits his right to transfer or negotiate drafts or demands drawn under the credit. [Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1; Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 998, ch. 400, § 4, eff. Jan. 1, 1974.]

§ 5.117. Insolvency of Bank Holding Funds for Documentary Credit

(a) Where an issuer or an advising or confirming bank or a bank which has for a customer procured issuance of a credit by another bank becomes insolvent before final payment under the credit and the credit is one to which this chapter is made applicable by Subdivision (1) or (2) of Section 5.102(a) on scope, the receipt or allocation of funds or collateral to secure or meet obligations under the credit shall have the following results:

(1) to the extent of any funds or collateral turned over after or before the insolvency as indemnity against or specifically for the purpose of payment of drafts or demands for payment drawn under the designated credit, the drafts or demands are entitled to payment in preference over depositors or other general creditors of the issuer or bank; and

(2) on expiration of the credit or surrender of the beneficiary's rights under it unused any person who has given such funds or collateral is similarly entitled to return thereof; and

(3) a charge to a general or current account with a bank if specifically consented to for the purpose of indemnity against or payment of drafts or demands for payment drawn under the designated credit falls under the same rules as if the funds had been drawn out in cash and then turned over with specific instructions.

(b) After honor or reimbursement under this section the customer or other person for whose account the insolvent bank has acted is entitled to receive the documents involved.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 6.101. Short Title

This chapter may be cited as Uniform Commercial Code—Bulk Transfers.

§ 6.102. "Bulk Transfers"; Transfers of Equipment; Enterprises Subject to This Chapter; Bulk Transfers Subject to This Chapter

(a) A "bulk transfer" is any transfer in bulk and not in the ordinary course of the transferor's business of a major part of the materials, supplies, merchandise or other inventory (Section 9.109) of an enterprise subject to this chapter.

(b) A transfer of a substantial part of the equipment (Section 9.109) of such an enterprise is a bulk transfer if it is made in connection with a bulk transfer of inventory, but not otherwise.

(c) The enterprises subject to this chapter are all those whose principal business is the sale of merchandise from stock, including those who manufacture what they sell.

(d) Except as limited by the following section all bulk transfers of goods located within this state are subject to this chapter.

§ 6.103. Transfers Excepted From This Chapter

The following transfers are not subject to this chapter:

(1) Those made to give security for the performance of an obligation;

(2) General assignments for the benefit of all the creditors of the transferor, and subsequent transfers by the assignee thereunder;

(3) Transfers in settlement or realization of a lien or other security interest;

(4) Sales by executors, administrators, receivers, trustees in bankruptcy, or any public officer under judicial process;

(5) Sales made in the course of judicial or administrative proceedings for the dissolution or reorganization of a corporation and of which notice is sent to the creditors of the corporation pursuant to order of the court or administrative agency;

(6) Transfers to a person maintaining a known place of business in this state who becomes bound to pay the debts of the transferor in full and gives public notice of that fact, and who is solvent after becoming so bound;

(7) A transfer to a new business enterprise organized to take over and continue the business, if public notice of the transaction is given and the new enterprise assumes the debts of the transferor and he receives nothing from the transaction except an interest in the new enterprise junior to the claims of creditors;

(8) Transfers of property which are exempt from execution.

Public notice under Subdivision (6) or (7) may be given by publishing once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation where the transferor had its principal place of business in this state an advertisement including the names and addresses of the transferor and transferee and the effective date of the transfer.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 6.104. Schedule of Property, List of Creditors

(a) Except as provided with respect to auction sales (Section 6.108), a bulk transfer subject to this chapter is ineffective against any creditor of the transferor unless:

(1) The transferee requires the transferor to furnish a list of his existing creditors prepared as stated in this section; and

(2) The parties prepare a schedule of the property transferred sufficient to identify it; and

(3) The transferee preserves the list and schedule for six months next following the transfer and permits inspection of either or both and copying therefrom at all reasonable hours by any creditor of the transferor, or files the list and schedule in the office of the County Clerk of the county in which the transferor had its principal place of business in this state.

(b) The list of creditors must be signed and sworn to or affirmed by the transferor or his agent. It must contain the names and business addresses of all creditors of the transferor, with the amounts when known, and also the names of all persons who are known to the transferor to assert claims against him even though such claims are disputed. If the transferor is the obligor of an outstanding issue of bonds, debentures or the like as to which there is an indenture trustee, the list of creditors need include only the name and address of the indenture trustee and the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the issue.

(c) Responsibility for the completeness and accuracy of the list of creditors rests on the transferor, and the transfer is not rendered ineffective by errors or omissions therein unless the transferee is shown to have had knowledge.

§ 6.105. Notice to Creditors

In addition to the requirements of the preceding section, any bulk transfer subject to this chapter except one made by auction sale (Section 6.108) is ineffective against any creditor of the transferor unless at least ten days before he takes possession of the goods or pays for them, whichever happens first, the transferee gives notice of the transfer in the manner and to the persons hereafter provided (Section 6.107).

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 6.106. Application of the Proceeds

In addition to the requirements of the two preceding sections:

(1) Upon every bulk transfer subject to this chapter for which new consideration becomes payable except those made by sale at auction it is the duty of the transferee to assure that such consideration is applied so far as necessary to pay those debts of the transferor which are either shown on the list furnished by the transferor (Section 6.104) or filed in writing in the place stated in the notice (Section 6.107) within thirty days after the mailing of such notice. This duty of the transferee runs to all the holders of such debts, and may be enforced by any of them for the benefit of all.

(2) If any of said debts are in dispute the necessary sum may be withheld from distribution until the dispute is settled or adjudicated.

(3) If the consideration payable is not enough to pay all of the said debts in full distribution shall be made pro rata.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 6.107. The Notice

(a) The notice to creditors (Section 6.105) shall state:

(1) that a bulk transfer is about to be made; and

(2) the names and business addresses of the transferor and transferee, and all other business names and addresses used by the transferor within three years last past so far as known to the transferee; and

(3) whether or not all the debts of the transferor are to be paid in full as they fall due as a result of the transaction, and if so, the address to which creditors should send their bills.

(b) If the debts of the transferor are not to be paid in full as they fall due or if the transferee is in doubt on that point then the notice shall state further:

(1) the location and general description of the property to be transferred and the estimated total of the transferor's debts;

(2) the address where the schedule of property and list of creditors (Section 6.104) may be inspected;

(3) whether the transfer is to pay existing debts and if so the amount of such debts and to whom owing;

(4) whether the transfer is for new consideration and if so the amount of such consideration and the time and place of payment; and

(5) if for new consideration the time and place where creditors of the transferor are to file their claims.

(c) The notice in any case shall be delivered personally or sent by registered or certified mail to all the persons shown on the list of creditors furnished by the transferor (Section 6.104) and to all other persons who are known to the transferee to hold or assert claims against the transferor.

§ 6.108. Auction Sales; "Auctioneer"

(a) A bulk transfer is subject to this chapter even though it is by sale at auction, but only in the manner and with the results stated in this section.

(b) The transferor shall furnish a list of his creditors and assist in the preparation of a schedule of the property to be sold, both prepared as before stated (Section 6.104).

(c) The person or persons other than the transferor who direct, control or are responsible for the auction are collectively called the "auctioneer". The auctioneer shall:

(1) receive and retain the list of creditors and prepare and retain the schedule of property for the period stated in this chapter (Section 6.104);

(2) give notice of the auction personally or by registered or certified mail at least ten days before it occurs to all persons shown on the list of creditors and to all other persons who are known to him to hold or assert claims against the transferor; and

(3) assure that the net proceeds of the auction are applied as provided in this chapter (Section 6.106).

(d) Failure of the auctioneer to perform any of these duties does not affect the validity of the sale or the title of the purchasers, but if the auctioneer knows that the auction constitutes a bulk transfer such failure renders the auctioneer liable to the creditors of the transferor as a class for the sums owing to them from the transferor up to but not exceeding the net proceeds of the auction. If the auctioneer consists of several persons their liability is joint and several.

§ 6.109. What Creditors Protected; Credit for Payment to Particular Creditors

(a) The creditors of the transferor mentioned in this chapter are those holding claims based on transactions or events occurring before the bulk transfer, but creditors who become such after notice to creditors is given (Sections 6.105 and 6.107) are not entitled to notice.

(b) Against the aggregate obligation imposed by the provisions of this chapter concerning the application of the proceeds (Section 6.106 and Subsection (c)(3) of 6.108) the transferee or auctioneer is entitled to credit for sums paid to particular creditors of the transferor, not exceeding the sums believed in good faith at the time of the payment to be properly payable to such creditors.

§ 6.110. Subsequent Transfers

When the title of a transferee to property is subject to a defect by reason of his noncompliance with the requirements of this chapter, then:

(1) a purchaser of any of such property from such transferee who pays no value or who takes with notice of such noncompliance takes subject to such defect, but

(2) a purchaser for value in good faith and without such notice takes free of such defect.

§ 6.111. Limitation of Actions and Levies

No action under this chapter shall be brought nor levy made more than six months after the date on which the transferee took possession of the goods unless the transfer has been concealed. If the transfer has been concealed, actions may be brought or levies made within six months after its discovery.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 7.102. Definitions and Index of Definitions

(a) In this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Bailee" means the person who by a warehouse receipt, bill of lading or other document of title acknowledges possession of goods and contracts to deliver them.

(2) "Consignee" means the person named in a bill to whom or to whose order the bill promises delivery.

(3) "Consignor" means the person named in a bill as the person from whom the goods have been received for shipment.

(4) "Delivery order" means a written order to deliver goods directed to a warehouseman, carrier or other person who in the ordinary course of business issues warehouse receipts or bills of lading.

(5) "Document" means document of title as defined in the general definitions in Chapter 1 (Section 1.201).

(6) "Goods" means all things which are treated as movable for the purposes of a contract of storage or transportation.

(7) "Issuer" means a bailee who issues a document except that in relation to an unaccepted delivery order it means the person who orders the possessor of goods to deliver. Issuer includes any person for whom an agent or employee purports to act in issuing a document if the agent or employee has real or apparent authority to issue documents, notwithstanding that the issuer received no goods or that the goods were misdescribed or that in any other respect the agent or employee violated his instructions.

(8) "Warehouseman" is a person engaged in the business of storing goods for hire.

(b) Other definitions applying to this chapter or to specified subchapters thereof, and the sections in which they appear are:

"Duly negotiate". Section 7.501.

"Person entitled under the document". Section 7.403(d).

(c) Definitions in other chapters applying to this chapter and the sections in which they appear are:

"Contract for sale". Section 2.106.

"Overseas". Section 2.323.

§ 7.103. Relation of Chapter to Treaty, Statute, Tariff, Classification or Regulation

To the extent that any treaty or statute of the United States, regulatory statute of this state or tariff, classification or regulation filed or issued pursuant thereto is applicable, the provisions of this chapter are subject thereto.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 7.104. Negotiable and Non-Negotiable Warehouse Receipt, Bill of Lading or Other Document of Title

(a) A warehouse receipt, bill of lading or other document of title is negotiable

(1) if by its terms the goods are to be delivered to bearer or to the order of a named person; or

(2) where recognized in overseas trade, if it runs to a named person or assigns.

(b) Any other document is non-negotiable. A bill of lading in which it is stated that the goods are consigned to a named person is not made negotiable by a provision that the goods are to be delivered only against a written order signed by the same or another named person.

SUBCHAPTER B. WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS: SPECIAL PROVISIONS

(a) A warehouse receipt may be issued by any warehouseman.

(b) Where goods including distilled spirits and agricultural commodities are stored under a statute requiring a bond against withdrawal or a license for the issuance of receipts in the nature of warehouse receipts, a receipt issued for the goods has like effect as a warehouse receipt even though issued by a person who is the owner of the goods and is not a warehouseman.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 7.202. Form of Warehouse Receipt; Essential Terms; Optional Terms

(a) A warehouse receipt need not be in any particular form.

(b) Unless a warehouse receipt embodies within its written or printed terms each of the following, the warehouseman is liable for damages caused by the omission to a person injured thereby:

(1) the location of the warehouse where the goods are stored;

(2) the date of issue of the receipt;

(3) the consecutive number of the receipt;

(4) a statement whether the goods received will be delivered to the bearer, to a specified person, or to a specified person or his order;

(5) the rate of storage and handling charges, except that where goods are stored under a field warehousing arrangement a statement of that fact is sufficient on a non-negotiable receipt;

(6) a description of the goods or of the packages containing them;

(7) the signature of the warehouseman, which may be made by his authorized agent;

(8) if the receipt is issued for goods of which the warehouseman is owner, either solely or jointly or in common with others, the fact of such ownership; and

(9) a statement of the amount of advances made and of liabilities incurred for which the warehouseman claims a lien or security interest (Section 7.209). If the precise amount of such advances made or of such liabilities incurred is, at the time of the issue of the receipt, unknown to the warehouseman or to his agent who issues it, a statement of the fact that advances have been made or liabilities incurred and the purpose thereof is sufficient.

(c) A warehouseman may insert in his receipt any other terms which are not contrary to the provisions of this title and do not impair his obligation of delivery (Section 7.403) or his duty of care (Section 7.204). Any contrary provisions shall be ineffective. [Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 7.203. Liability for Non-Receipt or Misdescription

A party to or purchaser for value in good faith of a document of title other than a bill of lading relying in either case upon the description therein of the goods may recover from the issuer damages caused by the non-receipt or misdescription of the goods, except to the extent that the document conspicuously indicates that the issuer does not know whether any part or all of the goods in fact were received or conform to the description, as where the description is in terms of marks or labels or kind, quantity or condition, or the receipt or description is qualified by "contents, condition and quality unknown", "said to contain" or the like, if such indication be true, or the party or purchaser otherwise has notice.

§ 7.204. Duty of Care; Contractual Limitation of Warehouseman's Liability

(a) A warehouseman is liable for damages for loss of or injury to the goods caused by his failure to exercise such care in regard to them as a reasonably careful man would exercise under like circumstances but unless otherwise agreed he is not liable for damages which could not have been avoided by the exercise of such care.

(b) Damages may be limited by a term in the warehouse receipt or storage agreement limiting the amount of liability in case of loss or damage, and setting forth a specific liability per article or item, or value per unit of weight, beyond which the warehouseman shall not be liable; provided, however, that such liability may on written request of the bailor at the time of signing such storage agreement or within a reasonable time after receipt of the warehouse receipt be increased on part or all of the goods thereunder, in which event increased rates may be charged based on such increased valuation, but that no such increase shall be permitted contrary to a lawful limitation of liability contained in the warehouseman's tariff, if any. No such limitation is effective with respect to the warehouseman's liability for conversion to his own use.

(c) Reasonable provisions as to the time and manner of presenting claims and instituting actions based on the bailment may be included in the warehouse receipt or tariff.

(d) This section does not impair or repeal Texas Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, Articles 5545 and 5546.

§ 7.205. Title Under Warehouse Receipt Defeated in Certain Cases

A buyer in the ordinary course of business of fungible goods sold and delivered by a warehouseman who is also in the business of buying and selling such goods takes free of any claim under a warehouse receipt even though it has been duly negotiated.

§ 7.206. Termination of Storage at Warehouseman's Option

(a) A warehouseman may on notifying the person or whose account the goods are held and any other person known to claim an interest in the goods require payment of any charges and removal of the goods from the warehouse at the termination of the period of storage fixed by the document, or, if no period is fixed, within a stated period not less than thirty days after the notification. If the goods are not removed before the date specified in the notification, the warehouseman may sell them in accordance with the provisions of the section on enforcement of a warehouseman's lien (Section 7.210).

(b) If a warehouseman in good faith believes that the goods are about to deteriorate or decline in value to less than the amount of his lien within the time prescribed in Subsection (a) for notification, advertisement and sale, the warehouseman may specify in the notification any reasonable shorter time for removal of the goods and in case the goods are not removed, may sell them at public sale held not less than one week after a single advertisement or posting.

(c) If as a result of a quality or condition of the goods of which the warehouseman had no notice at the time of deposit the goods are a hazard to other property or to the warehouse or to persons, the warehouseman may sell the goods at public or private sale without advertisement on reasonable notification to all persons known to claim an interest in the goods. If the warehouseman after a reasonable effort is unable to sell the goods he may dispose of them in any lawful manner and shall incur no liability by reason of such disposition.

(d) The warehouseman must deliver the goods to any person entitled to them under this chapter upon due demand made at any time prior to sale or other disposition under this section.

(e) The warehouseman may satisfy his lien from the proceeds of any sale or disposition under this section but must hold the balance for delivery on the demand of any person to whom he would have been bound to deliver the goods.

§ 7.207. Goods Must be Kept Separate; Fungible Goods

(a) Unless the warehouse receipt otherwise provides, a warehouseman must keep separate the goods covered by each receipt so as to permit at all times identification and delivery of those goods except that different lots of fungible goods may be commingled.

(b) Fungible goods so commingled are owned in common by the persons entitled thereto and the warehouseman is severally liable to each owner for that owner's share. Where because of overissue a mass of fungible goods is insufficient to meet all the receipts which the warehouseman has issued against it, the persons entitled include all holders to whom overissued receipts have been duly negotiated.

§ 7.208. Altered Warehouse Receipts

Where a blank in a negotiable warehouse receipt has been filled in without authority, a purchaser for value and without notice of the want of authority may treat the insertion as authorized. Any other unauthorized alteration leaves any receipt enforceable against the issuer according to its original tenor.

§ 7.209. Lien of Warehouseman

(a) (1) A warehouseman has a lien against the bailor on the goods covered by a warehouse receipt or on the proceeds thereof in his possession for charges for storage or transportation (including demurrage and terminal charges), insurance, labor, or charges present or future in relation to the goods, and for expenses necessary for preservation of the goods or reasonably incurred in their sale pursuant to law.

(2) If the person on whose account the goods are held is liable for like charges or expenses in relation to other goods whenever deposited and it is stated in the receipt that a lien is claimed for charges and expenses in relation to other goods, the warehouseman also has a lien against him for such charges and expenses whether or not the other goods have been delivered by the warehouseman. But against a person to whom a negotiable warehouse receipt is duly negotiated a warehouseman's lien is limited to charges in an amount or at a rate specified on the receipt or if no charges are so specified then to a reasonable charge for storage of the goods covered by the receipt subsequent to the date of the receipt.

(b) The warehouseman may also reserve a security interest against the bailor for a maximum amount specified on the receipt for charges other than those specified in Subsection (a), such as for money advanced and interest. Such a security interest is governed by the chapter on Secured Transactions (Chapter 9).

(c) A warehouseman's lien for a security interest under Subsection (b) is effective against any person who so entrusted the bailor with possession of the goods that a pledge of them by him to a good faith purchaser for value would have been valid but is not effective against a person as to whom the document confers no right in the goods covered by it under Section 7.503. However, the warehouseman's specific lien for charges and expenses under Subsection (a)(1) is effective against any security interest. If the warehouseman learns of a perfected security interest owned by a person as to whom the document confers no right in the goods covered by it under Section 7.503 against the goods and fails thereafter to give such secured party (Section 9.105) written notice of the accrued and unpaid charges and expenses at the time when they have accrued for between two and six months, then the warehouseman's specific lien under Subsection (a)(1) is effective as against such secured party only with respect to unpaid charges and expenses which have accrued by the end of six months.

(d) A warehouseman loses his lien on any goods which he voluntarily delivers or which he unjustifiably refuses to deliver.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1; Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 3048, ch. 1010, § 1, eff. June 15, 1971.]

§ 7.210. Enforcement of Warehouseman's Lien

(a) Except as provided in Subsection (b), a warehouseman's lien may be enforced by public or private sale of the goods in block or in parcels, at any time or place and on any terms which are commercially reasonable, after notifying all persons known to claim an interest in the goods. Such notification must include a statement of the amount due, the nature of the proposed sale and the time and place of any public sale. The fact that a better price could have been obtained by a sale at a different time or in a different method from that selected by the warehouseman is not of itself sufficient to establish that the sale was not made in a commercially reasonable manner. If the warehouseman either sells the goods in the usual manner in any recognized market therefor, or if he sells at the price current in such market at the time of his sale, or if he has otherwise sold in conformity with commercially reasonable practices among dealers in the type of goods sold, he has sold in a commercially reasonable manner. A sale of more goods than apparently necessary to be offered to insure satisfaction of the obligation is not commercially reasonable except in cases covered by the preceding sentence.

(b) A warehouseman's lien on goods other than goods stored by a merchant in the course of his business may be enforced only as follows:

(1) All persons known to claim an interest in the goods must be notified.

(2) The notification must be delivered in person or sent by registered or certified letter to the last known address of any person to be notified.

(3) The notification must include an itemized statement of the claim, a description of the goods subject to the lien, a demand for payment within a specified time not less than ten days after receipt of the notification, and a conspicuous statement that unless the claim is paid within that time the goods will be advertised for sale and sold by auction at a specified time and place.

(4) The sale must conform to the terms of the notification.

(5) The sale must be held at the nearest suitable place to that where the goods are held or stored.

(6) After the expiration of the time given in the notification, an advertisement of the sale must be published once a week for two weeks consecutively in a newspaper of general circulation where the sale is to be held. The advertisement must include a description of the goods, the name of the person on whose account they are being held, and the time and place of the sale. The sale must take place at least fifteen days after the first publication. If there is no newspaper of general circulation where the sale is to be held, the advertisement must be posted at least ten days before the sale in not less than six conspicuous places in the neighborhood of the proposed sale.

(c) Before any sale pursuant to this section any person claiming a right in the goods may pay the amount necessary to satisfy the lien and the reasonable expenses incurred under this section. In that event the goods must not be sold, but must be retained by the warehouseman subject to the terms of the receipt and this chapter.

(d) The warehouseman may buy at any public sale pursuant to this section.

(e) A purchaser in good faith of goods sold to enforce a warehouseman's lien takes the goods free of any rights of persons against whom the lien was valid, despite noncompliance by the warehouseman with the requirements of this section.

(f) The warehouseman may satisfy his lien from the proceeds of any sale pursuant to this section but must hold the balance, if any, for delivery on demand to any person to whom he would have been bound to deliver the goods.

(g) The rights provided by this section shall be in addition to all other rights allowed by law to a creditor against his debtor.

(h) Where a lien is on goods stored by a merchant in the course of his business the lien may be enforced in accordance with either Subsection (a) or (b).

(i) The warehouseman is liable for damages caused by failure to comply with the requirements for sale under this section and in case of willful violation is liable for conversion.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

SUBCHAPTER C. BILLS OF LADING: SPECIAL PROVISIONS

§ 7.301. Liability for Non-Receipt or Misdescription; "Said to Contain"; "Shipper's Load and Count"; Improper Handling

(a) A consignee of a non-negotiable bill who has given value in good faith or a holder to whom a negotiable bill has been duly negotiated relying in either case upon the description therein of the goods, or upon the date therein shown, may recover from the issuer damages caused by the misdating of the bill or the non-receipt or misdescription of the goods, except to the extent that the document indicates that the issuer does not know whether any part or all of the goods in fact were received or conform to the description, as where the description is in terms of marks or labels or kind, quantity, or condition or the receipt or description is qualified by "contents or condition of contents of packages unknown", "said to contain", "shipper's weight, load and count" or the like, if such indication be true.

(b) When goods are loaded by an issuer who is a common carrier, the issuer must count the packages of goods if package freight and ascertain the kind and quantity of bulk freight. In such cases "shipper's weight, load and count" or other words indicating that the description was made by the shipper are ineffective except as to freight concealed by packages.

(c) When bulk freight is loaded by a shipper who makes available to the issuer adequate facilities for weighing such freight, an issuer who is a common carrier must ascertain the kind and quantity within a reasonable time after receiving the written request of the shipper to do so. In such cases "shipper's weight" or other words of like purport are ineffective.

(d) The issuer may by inserting in the bill the words "shipper's weight, load and count" or other words of like purport indicate that the goods were loaded by the shipper; and if such statement be true the issuer shall not be liable for damages caused by the improper loading. But their omission does not imply liability for such damages.

(e) The shipper shall be deemed to have guaranteed to the issuer the accuracy at the time of shipment of the description, marks, labels, number, kind, quantity, condition and weight, as furnished by him; and the shipper shall indemnify the issuer against damage caused by inaccuracies in such particulars. The right of the issuer to such indemnity shall in no way limit his responsibility and liability under the contract of carriage to any person other than the shipper.

§ 7.302. Through Bills of Lading and Similar Documents

(a) The issuer of a through bill of lading or other document embodying an undertaking to be performed in part by persons acting as its agents or by connecting carriers is liable to anyone entitled to recover on the document for any breach by such other persons or by a connecting carrier of its obligation under the document but to the extent that the bill covers an undertaking to be performed overseas or in territory not contiguous to the continental United States or an undertaking including matters other than transportation this liability may be varied by agreement of the parties.

(b) Where goods covered by a through bill of lading or other document embodying an undertaking to be performed in part by persons other than the issuer are received by any such person, he is subject with respect to his own performance while the goods are in his possession to the obligation of the issuer. His obligation is discharged by delivery of the goods to another such person pursuant to the document, and does not include liability for breach by any other such persons or by the issuer.

(c) The issuer of such through bill of lading or other document shall be entitled to recover from the connecting carrier or such other person in possession of the goods when the breach of the obligation under the document occurred, the amount it may be required to pay to anyone entitled to recover on the document therefor, as may be evidenced by any receipt, judgment, or transcript thereof, and the amount of any expense reasonably incurred by it in defending any action brought by anyone entitled to recover on the document therefor.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 7.303. Diversion; Reconsignment; Change of Instructions

(a) Unless the bill of lading otherwise provides, the carrier may deliver the goods to a person or destination other than that stated in the bill or may otherwise dispose of the goods on instructions from

(1) the holder of a negotiable bill; or

(2) the consignor on a non-negotiable bill notwithstanding contrary instructions from the consignee; or

(3) the consignee on a non-negotiable bill in the absence of contrary instructions from the consignor, if the goods have arrived at the billed destination or if the consignee is in possession of the bill; or

(4) the consignee on a non-negotiable bill if he is entitled as against the consignor to dispose of them.

(b) Unless such instructions are noted on a negotiable bill of lading, a person to whom the bill is duly negotiated can hold the bailee according to the original terms.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 7.304. Bills of Lading in a Set

(a) Except where customary in overseas transportation, a bill of lading must not be issued in a set of parts. The issuer is liable for damages caused by violation of this subsection.

(b) Where a bill of lading is lawfully drawn in a set of parts, each of which is numbered and expressed to be valid only if the goods have not been delivered against any other part, the whole of the parts constitute one bill.

(c) Where a bill of lading is lawfully issued in a set of parts and different parts are negotiated to different persons, the title of the holder to whom the first due negotiation is made prevails as to both the document and the goods even though any later holder may have received the goods from the carrier in good faith and discharged the carrier's obligation by surrender of his part.

(d) Any person who negotiates or transfers a single part of a bill of lading drawn in a set is liable to holders of that part as if it were the whole set.

(e) The bailee is obliged to deliver in accordance with Subchapter D of this chapter against the first presented part of a bill of lading lawfully drawn in a set. Such delivery discharges the bailee's obligation on the whole bill.

§ 7.305. Destination Bills

(a) Instead of issuing a bill of lading to the consignor at the place of shipment a carrier may at the request of the consignor procure the bill to be issued at destination or at any other place designated in the request.

(b) Upon request of anyone entitled as against the carrier to control the goods while in transit and on surrender of any outstanding bill of lading or other receipt covering such goods, the issuer may procure a substitute bill to be issued at any place designated in the request.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 7.306. Altered Bills of Lading

An unauthorized alteration or filling in of a blank in a bill of lading leaves the bill enforceable according to its original tenor.

§ 7.307. Lien of Carrier

(a) A carrier has a lien on the goods covered by a bill of lading for charges subsequent to the date of its receipt of the goods for storage or transportation (including demurrage and terminal charges) and for expenses necessary for preservation of the goods incident to their transportation or reasonably incurred in their sale pursuant to law. But against a purchaser for value of a negotiable bill of lading a carrier's lien is limited to charges stated in the bill or the applicable tariffs, or if no charges are stated then to a reasonable charge.

(b) A lien for charges and expenses under Subsection (a) on goods which the carrier was required by law to receive for transportation is effective against the consignor or any person entitled to the goods unless the carrier had notice that the consignor lacked authority to subject the goods to such charges and expenses. Any other lien under Subsection (a) is effective against the consignor and any person who permitted the bailor to have control or possession of the goods unless the carrier had notice that the bailor lacked such authority.

(c) A carrier loses his lien on any goods which he voluntarily delivers or which he unjustifiably refuses to deliver.

§ 7.308. Enforcement of Carrier's Lien

(a) A carrier's lien may be enforced by public or private sale of the goods, in bloc or in parcels, at any time or place and on any terms which are commercially reasonable, after notifying all persons known to claim an interest in the goods. Such notification must include a statement of the amount due, the nature of the proposed sale and the time and place of any public sale. The fact that a better price could have been obtained by a sale at a different time or in a different method from that selected by the carrier is not of itself sufficient to establish that the sale was not made in a commercially reasonable manner. If the carrier either sells the goods in the usual manner in any recognized market therefor or if he sells at the price current in such market at the time of his sale or if he has otherwise sold in conformity with commercially reasonable practices among dealers in the type of goods sold he has sold in a commercially reasonable manner. A sale of more goods than apparently necessary to be offered to ensure satisfaction of the obligation is not commercially reasonable except in cases covered by the preceding sentence.

(b) Before any sale pursuant to this section any person claiming a right in the goods may pay the amount necessary to satisfy the lien and the reasonable expenses incurred under this section. In that event the goods must not be sold, but must be retained by the carrier subject to the terms of the bill and this chapter.

(c) The carrier may buy at any public sale pursuant to this section.

(d) A purchaser in good faith of goods sold to enforce a carrier's lien takes the goods free of any rights of persons against whom the lien was valid, despite noncompliance by the carrier with the requirements of this section.

(e) The carrier may satisfy his lien from the proceeds of any sale pursuant to this section but must hold the balance, if any, for delivery on demand to any person to whom he would have been bound to deliver the goods.

(f) The rights provided by this section shall be in addition to all other rights allowed by law to a creditor against his debtor.

(g) A carrier's lien may be enforced in accordance with either Subsection (a) or the procedure set forth in Subsection (b) of Section 7.210.

(h) The carrier is liable for damages caused by failure to comply with the requirements for sale under this section and in case of willful violation is liable for conversion.

§ 7.309. Duty of Care; Contractual Limitation of Carrier's Liability

(a) A carrier who issues a bill of lading whether negotiable or non-negotiable must exercise the degree of care in relation to the goods which a reasonably careful man would exercise under like circumstances. This subsection does not repeal or change any law or rule of law which imposes liability upon a common carrier for damages not caused by its negligence.

(b) Damages may be limited by a provision that the carrier's liability shall not exceed a value stated in the document if the carrier's rates are dependent upon value and the consignor by the carrier's tariff is afforded an opportunity to declare a higher value or a value as lawfully provided in the tariff, or where no tariff is filed he is otherwise advised of such opportunity; but no such limitation is effective with respect to the carrier's liability for conversion to its own use.

(c) Reasonable provisions as to the time and manner of presenting claims and instituting actions based on the shipment may be included in a bill of lading or tariff.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

SUBCHAPTER D. WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS AND BILLS OF LADING: GENERAL OBLIGATIONS

§ 7.401. Irregularities in Issue of Receipt or Bill or Conduct of Issuer

The obligations imposed by this chapter on an issuer apply to a document of title regardless of the fact that

(1) the document may not comply with the requirements of this chapter or of any other law or regulation regarding its issue, form or content; or

(2) the issuer may have violated laws regulating the conduct of his business; or

(3) the goods covered by the document were owned by the bailee at the time the document was issued; or

(4) the person issuing the document does not come within the definition of warehouseman if it purports to be a warehouse receipt.

§ 7.402. Duplicate Receipt or Bill; Overissue

Neither a duplicate nor any other document of title purporting to cover goods already represented by an outstanding document of the same issuer confers any right in the goods, except as provided in the case of bills in a set, overissue of documents for fungible goods substitutes for lost, stolen or destroyed documents. But the issuer is liable for damages caused by his overissue or failure to identify a duplicate document as such by conspicuous notation on its face.

§ 7.403. Obligation of Warehouseman or Carrier to Deliver; Excuse

(a) The bailee must deliver the goods to a person entitled under the document who complies with Subsections (b) and (c), unless and to the extent that the bailee establishes any of the following:

(1) delivery of the goods to a person whose receipt was rightful as against the claimant;

(2) damage to or delay, loss or destruction of the goods for which the bailee is not liable, but the burden of establishing negligence in case of damage or destruction by fire is on the person entitled under the document;

(3) previous sale or other disposition of the goods in lawful enforcement of a lien or on warehouseman's lawful termination of storage;

(4) the exercise by a seller of his right to stop delivery pursuant to the provisions of the chapter on Sales (Section 2.705);

(5) a diversion, reconsignment or other disposition pursuant to the provisions of this chapter (Section 7.303) or tariff regulating such right;

(6) release, satisfaction or any other fact affording a personal defense against the claimant;

(7) any other lawful excuse.

(b) A person claiming goods covered by a document of title must satisfy the bailee's lien where the bailee so requests or where the bailee is prohibited by law from delivering the goods until the charges are paid.

(c) Unless the person claiming is one against whom the document confers no right under Section 7.503(a), he must surrender for cancellation or notation of partial deliveries any outstanding negotiable document covering the goods, and the bailee must cancel the document or conspicuously note the partial delivery thereon or be liable to any person to whom the document is duly negotiated.

(d) "Person entitled under the document" means holder in the case of a negotiable document, or the person to whom delivery is to be made by the terms of or pursuant to written instructions under a non-negotiable document.

§ 7.404. No Liability for Good Faith Delivery Pursuant to Receipt or Bill

A bailee who in good faith including observance of reasonable commercial standards has received goods and delivered or otherwise disposed of them according to the terms of the document of title or pursuant to this chapter is not liable therefor. This rule applies even though the person from whom he received the goods had no authority to procure the document or to dispose of the goods and even though the person to whom he delivered the goods had no authority to receive them.

SUBCHAPTER E. WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS AND BILLS OF LADING: NEGOTIATION AND TRANSFER

§ 7.501. Form of Negotiation and Requirements of "Due Negotiation"

(a) A negotiable document of title running to the order of a named person is negotiated by his indorsement and delivery. After his indorsement in blank or to bearer any person can negotiate it by delivery alone.

(b) (1) A negotiable document of title is also negotiated by delivery alone when by its original terms it runs to bearer.

(2) When a document running to the order of a named person is delivered to him the effect is the same as if the document had been negotiated.

(c) Negotiation of a negotiable document of title after it has been indorsed to a specified person requires indorsement by the special indorsee as well as delivery.

(d) A negotiable document of title is "duly negotiated" when it is negotiated in the manner stated in this section to a holder who purchases it in good faith without notice of any defense against or claim to it on the part of any person and for value, unless it is established that the negotiation is not in the regular course of business or financing or involves receiving the document in settlement or payment of a money obligation.

(e) Indorsement of a non-negotiable document neither makes it negotiable nor adds to the transferee's rights.

(f) The naming in a negotiable bill of a person to be notified of the arrival of the goods does not limit the negotiability of the bill nor constitute notice to a purchaser thereof of any interest of such person in the goods.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 7.502. Rights Acquired by Due Negotiation

(a) Subject to the following section and to the provisions of Section 7.205 on fungible goods, a holder to whom a negotiable document of title has been duly negotiated acquires thereby:

(1) title to the document;

(2) title to the goods;

(3) all rights accruing under the law of agency or estoppel, including rights to goods delivered to the bailee after the document was issued; and

(4) the direct obligation of the issuer to hold or deliver the goods according to the terms of the document free of any defense or claim by him except those arising under the terms of the document or under this chapter. In the case of a delivery order the bailee's obligation accrues only upon acceptance and the obligation acquired by the holder is that the issuer and any indorser will procure the acceptance of the bailee.

(b) Subject to the following section, title and rights so acquired are not defeated by any stoppage of the goods represented by the document or by surrender of such goods by the bailee, and are not impaired even though the negotiation or any prior negotiation constituted a breach of duty or even though any person has been deprived of possession of the document by misrepresentation, fraud, accident, mistake, duress, loss, theft or conversion, or even though a previous sale or other transfer of the goods or document has been made to a third person.

§ 7.503. Document of Title to Goods Defeated in Certain Cases

(a) A document of title confers no right in goods against a person who before issuance of the document had a legal interest or a perfected security interest in them and who neither

(1) delivered or entrusted them or any document of title covering them to the bailor or his nominee with actual or apparent authority to ship, store or sell or with power to obtain delivery under this chapter (Section 7.403) or with power of disposition under this title (Sections 2.403 and 9.307) or other statute or rule of law; nor

(2) acquiesced in the procurement by the bailor or his nominee of any document of title.

(b) Title to goods based upon an unaccepted delivery order is subject to the rights of anyone to whom a negotiable warehouse receipt or bill of lading covering the goods has been duly negotiated. Such a title may be defeated under the next section to the same extent as the rights of the issuer or a transferee from the issuer.

(c) Title to goods based upon a bill of lading issued to a freight forwarder is subject to the rights of anyone to whom a bill issued by the freight forwarder is duly negotiated; but delivery by the carrier in accordance with Subchapter D of this chapter pursuant to its own bill of lading discharges the carrier's obligation to delivery.

§ 7.504. Rights Acquired in the Absence of Due Negotiation; Effect of Diversion; Seller's Stoppage of Delivery

(a) A transferee of a document, whether negotiable or non-negotiable, to whom the document has been delivered but not duly negotiated, acquires the title and rights which his transferor had or had actual authority to convey.

(b) In the case of a non-negotiable document, until but not after the bailee receives notification of the transfer, the rights of the transferee may be defeated

(1) by those creditors of the transferor who could treat the sale as void under Section 2.402; or

(2) by a buyer from the transferor in ordinary course of business if the bailee has delivered the goods to the buyer or received notification of his rights; or

(3) as against the bailee by good faith dealings of the bailee with the transferor.

(c) A diversion or other change of shipping instructions by the consignor in a non-negotiable bill of lading which causes the bailee not to deliver to the consignee defeats the consignee's title to the goods if they have been delivered to a buyer in ordinary course of business and in any event defeats the consignee's rights against the bailee.

(d) Delivery pursuant to a non-negotiable document may be stopped by a seller under Section 2.705, and subject to the requirement of due notification there provided. A bailee honoring the seller's instructions is entitled to be indemnified by the seller against any resulting loss or expense.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 7.505. Indorser Not a Guarantor for Other Parties

The indorsement of a document of title issued by a bailee does not make the indorser liable for any default by the bailee or by previous indorsers.

§ 7.506. Delivery Without Indorsement: Right to Compel Indorsement

The transferee of a negotiable document of title has a specifically enforceable right to have his transferor supply any necessary indorsement but the transfer becomes a negotiation only as of the time the indorsement is supplied.

§ 7.507. Warranties on Negotiation or Transfer of Receipt or Bill

Where a person negotiates or transfers a document of title for value otherwise than as a mere intermediary under the next following section, then unless otherwise agreed he warrants to his immediate purchaser only in addition to any warranty made in selling the goods

(1) that the document is genuine; and

(2) that he has no knowledge of any fact which would impair its validity or worth; and

(3) that his negotiation or transfer is rightful and fully effective with respect to the title to the document and the goods it represents.

§ 7.508. Warranties of Collecting Bank as to Documents

A collecting bank or other intermediary known to be entrusted with documents on behalf of another or with collection of a draft or other claim against delivery of documents warrants by such delivery of the documents only its own good faith and authority. This rule applies even though the intermediary has purchased or made advances against the claim or draft to be collected.

§ 7.509. Receipt or Bill: When Adequate Compliance With Commercial Contract

The question whether a document is adequate to fulfill the obligations of a contract for sale or the conditions of a credit is governed by the chapters on Sales (Chapter 2) and on Letters of Credit (Chapter 5).

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

SUBCHAPTER F. WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS AND BILLS OF LADING: MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 7.601. Lost and Missing Documents

(a) If a document has been lost, stolen or destroyed, a court may order delivery of the goods or issuance of a substitute document and the bailee may without liability to any person comply with such order. If the document was negotiable the claimant must post security approved by the court to indemnify any person who may suffer loss as a result of a non-surrender of the document. If the document was not negotiable, such security may be required at the discretion of the court. The court may also in its discretion order payment of the bailee's reasonable costs and counsel fees.

(b) A bailee who without court order delivers goods to a person claiming under a missing negotiable document is liable to any person injured thereby, and if the delivery is not in good faith becomes liable for conversion. Delivery in good faith is not conversion if made in accordance with a filed classification or tariff or, where no classification or tariff is filed, if the claimant posts security with the bailee in an amount at least double the value of the goods at the time of posting to indemnify any person injured by the delivery who files a notice of claim within one year after the delivery.

§ 7.602. Attachment of Goods Covered by a Negotiable Document

Except where the document was originally issued upon delivery of the goods by a person who had no power to dispose of them, no lien attaches by virtue of any judicial process to goods in the possession of a bailee for which a negotiable document of title is outstanding unless the document be first surrendered to the bailee or its negotiation enjoined, and the bailee shall not be compelled to deliver the goods pursuant to process until the document is surrendered to him or impounded by the court. One who purchases the document for value without notice of the process or injunction takes free of the lien imposed by judicial process.

§ 7.603. Conflicting Claims; Interpleader

If more than one person claims title or possession of the goods, the bailee is excused from delivery until he has had a reasonable time to ascertain the validity of the adverse claims or to bring an action to compel all claimants to interplead and may compel such interpleader, either in defending an action for non-delivery of the goods, or by original action, whichever is appropriate.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 8.101. Short Title

This chapter may be cited as Uniform Commercial Code—Investment Securities.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 8.102. Definitions and Index of Definitions

(a) In this chapter unless the context otherwise requires

- (1) A "security" is an instrument which

(A) is issued in bearer or registered form; and

(B) is of a type commonly dealt in upon securities exchanges or markets or commonly recognized in any area in which it is issued or dealt in as a medium for investment; and

(C) is either one of a class or series or by its terms is divisible into a class or series of instruments; and

(D) evidences a share, participation or other interest in property or in an enterprise or evidences an obligation of the issuer.

(2) A writing which is a security is governed by this chapter and not by Uniform Commercial Code—Commercial Paper even though it also meets the requirements of that chapter. This chapter does not apply to money.

(3) A security is in "registered form" when it specifies a person entitled to the security or to the rights it evidences and when its transfer may be registered upon books maintained for that purpose by or on behalf of an issuer or the security so states.

(4) A security is in "bearer form" when it runs to bearer according to its terms and not by reason of any indorsement.

(b) A "subsequent purchaser" is a person who takes other than by original issue.

(c) A "clearing corporation" is a corporation

(1) at least ninety per cent of the capital stock of which is held by or for one or more persons (other than individuals), each of whom

(A) is subject to supervision or regulation pursuant to the provisions of federal or state banking laws or state insurance laws, or

(B) is a broker or dealer or investment company registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934<sup>1</sup> or the Investment Company Act of 1940,<sup>2</sup> or

(C) is a national securities exchange or association registered under a statute of the United States such as the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and none of whom, other than a national securities exchange or association, holds in excess of 20 per cent of the capital stock of such corporation; and

(2) any remaining capital stock of which is held by individuals who have purchased such capital stock at or prior to the time of their taking office as directors of such corporation and who have purchased only so much of such capital stock as may be necessary to permit them to qualify as such directors.

(d) A "custodian bank" is any bank or trust company which is supervised and examined by state or federal authority having supervision over banks and which is acting as custodian for a clearing corporation.

§ 8.103. Issuer's Lien

A lien upon a security in favor of an issuer thereof is valid against a purchaser only if the right of the issuer to such lien is noted conspicuously on the security.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 8.104. Effect of Overissue; "Overissue"

(a) The provisions of this chapter which validate a security or compel its issue or reissue do not apply to the extent that validation, issue or reissue would result in overissue; but

(1) if an identical security which does not constitute an overissue is reasonably available for purchase, the person entitled to issue or validation may compel the issuer to purchase and deliver such a security to him against surrender of the security, if any, which he holds; or

(2) if a security is not so available for purchase, the person entitled to issue or validation may recover from the issuer the price he or the last purchaser for value paid for it with interest from the date of his demand.

(b) "Overissue" means the issue of securities in excess of the amount which the issuer has corporate power to issue.

§ 8.105. Securities Negotiable; Presumptions

(a) Securities governed by this chapter are negotiable instruments.

(b) In any action on a security

(1) unless specifically denied in the pleadings, each signature on the security or in a necessary indorsement is admitted;

(2) when the effectiveness of a signature is put in issue the burden of establishing it is on the party claiming under the signature but the signature is presumed to be genuine or authorized;

(3) when signatures are admitted or established production of the instrument entitles a holder to recover on it unless the defendant establishes a defense or a defect going to the validity of the security; and

(4) after it is shown that a defense or defect exists the plaintiff has the burden of establishing that he or some person under whom he claims is a person against whom the defense or defect is ineffective (Section 8.202).

§ 8.106. Applicability

The validity of a security and the rights and duties of the issuer with respect to registration of transfer are governed by the law (including the conflict of laws rules) of the jurisdiction of organization of the issuer.

§ 8.107. Securities Deliverable; Action for Price

(a) Unless otherwise agreed and subject to any applicable law or regulation respecting short sales, a person obligated to deliver securities may deliver any security of the specified issue in bearer form or registered in the name of the transferee or indorsed to him or in blank.

(b) When the buyer fails to pay the price as it comes due under a contract of sale the seller may recover the price

(1) of securities accepted by the buyer; and

(2) of other securities if efforts at their resale would be unduly burdensome or if there is no readily available market for their resale.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

SUBCHAPTER B. ISSUE—ISSUER

§ 8.201. "Issuer"

(a) With respect to obligations on or defenses to a security "issuer" includes a person who

(1) places or authorizes the placing of his name on a security (otherwise than as authenticating trustee, registrar, transfer agent or the like) to evidence that it represents a share, participation or other interest in his property or in an enterprise or to evidence his duty to perform an obligation evidenced by the security; or

(2) directly or indirectly creates fractional interests in his rights or property which fractional interests are evidenced by securities; or

(3) becomes responsible for or in place of any other person described as an issuer in this section.

(b) With respect to obligations on or defenses to a security a guarantor is an issuer to the extent of his guaranty whether or not his obligation is noted on the security.

(c) With respect to registration of transfer (Subchapter D of this chapter) "issuer" means a person on whose behalf transfer books are maintained.

§ 8.202. Issuer's Responsibility and Defenses; Notice of Defect or Defense

(a) Even against a purchaser for value and without notice, the terms of a security include those stated on the security and those made part of the security by reference to another instrument, indenture or document or to a constitution, statute, ordinance, rule, regulation, order or the like to the extent that the terms so referred to do not conflict with the stated terms. Such a reference does not of itself charge a purchaser for value with notice of a defect going to the validity of the security even though the security expressly states that a person accepting it admits such notice.

(b) (1) A security other than one issued by a government or governmental agency or unit even though issued with a defect going to its validity is valid in the hands of a purchaser for value and without notice of the particular defect unless the defect involves a violation of constitutional provisions in which case the security is valid in the hands of a subsequent purchaser for value and without notice of the defect.

(2) The rule of Subdivision (1) applies to an issuer which is a government or governmental agency or unit only if either there has been substantial compliance with the legal requirements governing the issue or the issuer has received a substantial consideration for the issue as a whole or for the particular security and a stated purpose of the issue is one for which the issuer has power to borrow money or issue the security.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in the case of certain unauthorized signatures on issue (Section 8.205), lack of genuineness of a security is a complete defense even against a purchaser for value and without notice.

(d) All other defenses of the issuer including non-delivery and conditional delivery of the security are ineffective against a purchaser for value who has taken without notice of the particular defense.

(e) Nothing in this section shall be construed to affect the right of a party to a "when, as and if issued" or a "when distributed" contract to cancel the contract in the event of a material change in the character of the security which is the subject of the contract or in the plan or arrangement pursuant to which such security is to be issued or distributed.

§ 8.203. Staleness as Notice of Defects or Defenses

(a) After an act or event which creates a right to immediate performance of the principal obligation evidenced by the security or which sets a date on or after which the security is to be presented or surrendered for redemption or exchange, a purchaser is charged with notice of any defect in its issue or defense of the issuer

(1) if the act or event is one requiring the payment of money or the delivery of securities or both on presentation or surrender of the security and such funds or securities are available on the date set for payment or exchange and he takes the security more than one year after that date; and

(2) if the act or event is not covered by Subdivision (1) and he takes the security more than two years after the date set for surrender or presentation or the date on which such performance became due.

(b) A call which has been revoked is not within Subsection (a).

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 8.204. Effect of Issuer's Restrictions on Transfer

Unless noted conspicuously on the security a restriction on transfer imposed by the issuer even though otherwise lawful is ineffective except against a person with actual knowledge of it.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 8.205. Effect of Unauthorized Signature on Issue

An unauthorized signature placed on a security prior to or in the course of issue is ineffective except that the signature is effective in favor of a purchaser for value and without notice of the lack of authority if the signing has been done by

(1) an authenticating trustee, registrar, transfer agent or other person entrusted by the issuer with the signing of the security or of similar securities or their immediate preparation for signing; or

(2) an employee of the issuer or of any of the foregoing entrusted with responsible handling of the security.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 8.206. Completion or Alteration of Instrument

(a) Where a security contains the signatures necessary to its issue or transfer but is incomplete in any other respect

(1) any person may complete it by filling in the blanks as authorized; and

(2) even though the blanks are incorrectly filled in, the security as completed is enforceable by a purchaser who took it for value and without notice of such incorrectness.

(b) A complete security which has been improperly altered even though fraudulently remains enforceable but only according to its original terms.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 8.207. Rights of Issuer With Respect to Registered Owners

(a) Prior to due presentment for registration of transfer of a security in registered form the issuer or indenture trustee may treat the registered owner as the person exclusively entitled to vote, to receive notifications and otherwise to exercise all the rights and powers of an owner.

(b) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to affect the liability of the registered owner of a security for calls, assessments or the like.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 8.208. Effect of Signature of Authenticating Trustee, Registrar or Transfer Agent

(a) A person placing his signature upon a security as authenticating trustee, registrar, transfer agent or the like warrants to a purchaser for value without notice of the particular defect that

(1) the security is genuine; and

(2) his own participation in the issue of the security is within his capacity and within the scope of the authorization received by him from the issuer; and

(3) he has reasonable grounds to believe that the security is in the form and within the amount the issuer is authorized to issue.

(b) Unless otherwise agreed, a person by so placing his signature does not assume responsibility for the validity of the security in other respects.

SUBCHAPTER C. PURCHASE

§ 8.301. Rights Acquired by Purchaser; "Adverse Claim"; Title Acquired by Bona Fide Purchaser

(a) Upon delivery of a security the purchaser acquires the rights in the security which his transferor had or had actual authority to convey except that a purchaser who has himself been a party to any fraud or illegality affecting the security or who as a prior holder had notice of an adverse claim cannot improve his position by taking from a later bona fide purchaser. "Adverse claim" includes a claim that a transfer was or would be wrongful or that a particular adverse person is the owner of or has an interest in the security.

(b) A bona fide purchaser in addition to acquiring the rights of a purchaser also acquires the security free of any adverse claim.

(c) A purchaser of a limited interest acquires rights only to the extent of the interest purchased. [Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 8.302. "Bona Fide Purchaser"

A "bona fide purchaser" is a purchaser for value in good faith and without notice of any adverse claim who takes delivery of a security in bearer form or of one in registered form issued to him or indorsed to him or in blank.

§ 8.303. "Broker"

"Broker" means a person engaged for all or part of his time in the business of buying and selling securities, who in the transaction concerned acts for, or buys a security from or sells a security to a customer. Nothing in this chapter determines the capacity in which a person acts for purposes of any other statute or rule to which such person is subject.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 8.304. Notice to Purchaser of Adverse Claims

(a) A purchaser (including a broker for the seller or buyer but excluding an intermediary bank) of a security is charged with notice of adverse claims if

(1) the security whether in bearer or registered form has been indorsed "for collection" or "for surrender" or for some other purpose not involving transfer; or

(2) the security is in bearer form and has on it an unambiguous statement that it is the property of a person other than the transferor. The mere writing of a name on a security is not such a statement.

(b) The fact that the purchaser (including a broker for the seller or buyer) has notice that the security is held for a third person or is registered in the name of or indorsed by a fiduciary does not create a duty of inquiry into the rightfulness of the transfer or constitute notice of adverse claims. If, however, the purchaser (excluding an intermediary bank) has knowledge that the proceeds are being used or that the transaction is for the individual benefit of the fiduciary or otherwise in breach of duty, the purchaser is charged with notice of adverse claims.

§ 8.305. Staleness as Notice of Adverse Claims

An act or event which creates a right to immediate performance of the principal obligation evidenced by the security or which sets a date on or after which the security is to be presented or surrendered for redemption or exchange does not of itself constitute any notice of adverse claims except in the case of a purchase

(1) after one year from any date set for such presentment or surrender for redemption or exchange; or

(2) after six months from any date set for payment of money against presentation or surrender of the security if funds are available for payment on that date.

§ 8.306. Warranties on Presentment and Transfer

(a) A person who presents a security for registration of transfer or for payment or exchange warrants to the issuer that he is entitled to the registration, payment or exchange. But a purchaser for value without notice of adverse claims who receives a new, reissued or reregistered security on registration of transfer warrants only that he has no knowledge of any unauthorized signature (Section 8.311) in a necessary indorsement.

(b) A person by transferring a security to a purchaser for value warrants only that

(1) his transfer is effective and rightful; and

(2) the security is genuine and has not been materially altered; and

(3) he knows no fact which might impair the validity of the security.

(c) Where a security is delivered by an intermediary known to be entrusted with delivery of the security on behalf of another or with collection of a draft or other claim against such delivery, the intermediary by such delivery warrants only his own good faith and authority even though he has purchased or made advances against the claim to be collected against the delivery.

(d) A pledgee or other holder for security who redelivers the security received, or after payment and on order of the debtor delivers that security to a third person makes only the warranties of an intermediary under Subsection (c).

(e) A broker gives to his customer and to the issuer and a purchaser the warranties provided in this section and has the rights and privileges of a purchaser under this section. The warranties of and in favor of the broker acting as an agent are in addition to applicable warranties given by and in favor of his customer.

§ 8.307. Effect of Delivery Without Indorsement; Right to Compel Indorsement

Where a security in registered form has been delivered to a purchaser without a necessary indorsement he may become a bona fide purchaser only as of the time the indorsement is supplied, but against the transferor the transfer is complete upon delivery and the purchaser has a specifically enforceable right to have any necessary indorsement supplied.

§ 8.308. Indorsement, How Made; Special Indorsement; Indorser Not a Guarantor; Partial Assignment

(a) An indorsement of a security in registered form is made when an appropriate person signs on it or on a separate document an assignment or transfer of the security or a power to assign or transfer it or when the signature of such person is written without more upon the back of the security.

(b) An indorsement may be in blank or special. An indorsement in blank includes an indorsement to bearer. A special indorsement specifies the person to whom the security is to be transferred, or who has power to transfer it. A holder may convert a blank indorsement into a special indorsement.

(c) "An appropriate person" in Subsection (a) means

(1) the person specified by the security or by special indorsement to be entitled to the security; or

(2) where the person so specified is described as a fiduciary but is no longer serving in the described capacity,—either that person or his successor; or

(3) where the security or indorsement so specifies more than one person as fiduciaries and one or more are no longer serving in the described capacity,—the remaining fiduciary or fiduciaries, whether or not a successor has been appointed or qualified; or

(4) where the person so specified is an individual and is without capacity to act by virtue of death, incompetence, infancy or otherwise,—his executor, administrator, guardian or like fiduciary; or

(5) where the security or indorsement so specifies more than one person as tenants by the entirety or with right of survivorship and by reason of death all cannot sign,—the survivor or survivors; or

(6) a person having power to sign under applicable law or controlling instrument; or

(7) to the extent that any of the foregoing persons may act through an agent,—his authorized agent.

(d) Unless otherwise agreed the indorser by his indorsement assumes no obligation that the security will be honored by the issuer.

(e) An indorsement purporting to be only of part of a security representing units intended by the issuer to be separately transferable is effective to the extent of the indorsement.

(f) Whether the person signing is appropriate is determined as of the date of signing and an indorsement by such a person does not become unauthorized for the purposes of this chapter by virtue of any subsequent change of circumstances.

(g) Failure of a fiduciary to comply with a controlling instrument or with the law of the state having jurisdiction of the fiduciary relationship, including any law requiring the fiduciary to obtain court approval of the transfer, does not render his indorsement unauthorized for the purposes of this chapter.

§ 8.309. Effect of Indorsement Without Delivery

An indorsement of a security whether special or in blank does not constitute a transfer until delivery of the security on which it appears or if the indorsement is on a separate document until delivery of both the document and the security.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 8.310. Indorsement of Security in Bearer Form

An indorsement of a security in bearer form may give notice of adverse claims (Section 8.304) but does not otherwise affect any right to registration the holder may possess.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 8.311. Effect of Unauthorized Indorsement

Unless the owner has ratified an unauthorized indorsement or is otherwise precluded from asserting its ineffectiveness

(1) he may assert its ineffectiveness against the issuer or any purchaser other than a purchaser for value and without notice of adverse claims who has in good faith received a new, reissued or re-registered security on registration of transfer; and

(2) an issuer who registers the transfer of a security upon the unauthorized indorsement is subject to liability for improper registration (Section 8.404).

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 8.312. Effect of Guaranteeing Signature or Indorsement

(a) Any person guaranteeing a signature of an indorser of a security warrants that at the time of signing

(1) the signature was genuine; and

(2) the signer was an appropriate person to indorse (Section 8.308); and

(3) the signer had legal capacity to sign.

But the guarantor does not otherwise warrant the rightfulness of the particular transfer.

(b) Any person may guarantee an indorsement of a security and by so doing warrants not only the signature (Subsection (a)) but also the rightfulness of the particular transfer in all respects. But no issuer may require a guarantee of indorsement as a condition to registration of transfer.

(c) The foregoing warranties are made to any person taking or dealing with the security in reliance on the guarantee and the guarantor is liable to such person for any loss resulting from breach of the warranties.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 8.313. When Delivery to the Purchaser Occurs; Purchaser's Broker as Holder

(a) Delivery to a purchaser occurs when

(1) he or a person designated by him acquires possession of a security; or

(2) his broker acquires possession of a security specially indorsed to or issued in the name of the purchaser; or

(3) his broker sends him confirmation of the purchase and also by book entry or otherwise identifies a specific security in the broker's possession as belonging to the purchaser; or

(4) with respect to an identified security to be delivered while still in the possession of a third person when that person acknowledges that he holds for the purchaser; or

(5) appropriate entries on the books of a clearing corporation are made under Section 8.320.

(b) The purchaser is the owner of a security held for him by his broker, but is not the holder except as specified in Subdivisions (2), (3) and (5) of Subsection (a). Where a security is part of a fungible bulk the purchaser is the owner of a proportionate property interest in the fungible bulk.

(c) Notice of an adverse claim received by the broker or by the purchaser after the broker takes delivery as a holder for value is not effective either as to the broker or as to the purchaser. However, as between the broker and the purchaser the purchaser may demand delivery of an equivalent security as to which no notice of an adverse claim has been received.

§ 8.314. Duty to Deliver, When Completed

(a) Unless otherwise agreed where a sale of a security is made on an exchange or otherwise through brokers

(1) the selling customer fulfills his duty to deliver when he places such a security in the possession of the selling broker or of a person designated by the broker or if requested causes an acknowledgment to be made to the selling broker that it is held for him; and

(2) the selling broker including a correspondent broker acting for a selling customer fulfills his duty to deliver by placing the security or a like security in the possession of the buying broker or a person designated by him or by effecting clearance of the sale in accordance with the rules of the exchange on which the transaction took place.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this section and unless otherwise agreed, a transferor's duty to deliver a security under a contract of purchase is not fulfilled until he places the security in form to be negotiated by the purchaser in the possession of the purchaser or of a person designated by him or at the purchaser's request causes an acknowledgment to be made to the purchaser that it is held for him. Unless made on an exchange a sale to a broker purchasing for his own account is within this subsection and not within Subsection (a).

§ 8.315. Action Against Purchaser Based Upon Wrongful Transfer

(a) Any person against whom the transfer of a security is wrongful for any reason, including his incapacity, may against anyone except a bona fide purchaser reclaim possession of the security or obtain possession of any new security evidencing all or part of the same rights or have damages.

(b) If the transfer is wrongful because of an unauthorized indorsement, the owner may also reclaim or obtain possession of the security or new security even from a bona fide purchaser if the ineffectiveness of the purported indorsement can be asserted against him under the provisions of this chapter on unauthorized indorsements (Section 8.311).

(c) The right to obtain or reclaim possession of a security may be specifically enforced and its transfer enjoined and the security impounded pending the litigation.

§ 8.316. Purchaser's Right to Requisites for Registration of Transfer on Books

Unless otherwise agreed the transferor must on due demand supply his purchaser with any proof of his authority to transfer or with any other requisite which may be necessary to obtain registration of the transfer of the security but if the transfer is not for value a transferor need not do so unless the purchaser furnishes the necessary expenses. Failure to comply with a demand made within a reasonable time gives the purchaser the right to reject or rescind the transfer.

§ 8.317. Attachment or Levy Upon Security

(a) No attachment or levy upon a security or any share or other interest evidenced thereby which is outstanding shall be valid until the security is actually seized by the officer making the attachment or levy but a security which has been surrendered to the issuer may be attached or levied upon at the source.

(b) A creditor whose debtor is the owner of a security shall be entitled to such aid from courts of appropriate jurisdiction, by injunction or otherwise, in reaching such security or in satisfying the claim by means thereof as is allowed at law or in equity in regard to property which cannot readily be attached or levied upon by ordinary legal process.

§ 8.318. No Conversion by Good Faith Delivery

An agent or bailee who in good faith (including observance of reasonable commercial standards if he is in the business of buying, selling or otherwise dealing with securities) has received securities and sold, pledged or delivered them according to the instructions of his principal is not liable for conversion or for participation in breach of fiduciary duty although the principal had no right to dispose of them.

§ 8.319. Statute of Frauds

A contract for the sale of securities is not enforceable by way of action or defense unless

(1) there is some writing signed by the party against whom enforcement is sought or by his authorized agent or broker sufficient to indicate that a contract has been made for sale of a stated quantity of described securities at a defined or stated price; or

(2) delivery of the security has been accepted or payment has been made but the contract is enforceable under this provision only to the extent of such delivery or payment; or

(3) within a reasonable time a writing in confirmation of the sale or purchase and sufficient against the sender under Subdivision (1) has been received by the party against whom enforcement is sought and he has failed to send written objection to its contents within ten days after its receipt; or

(4) the party against whom enforcement is sought admits in his pleading, testimony or otherwise in court that a contract was made for sale of a stated quantity of described securities at a defined or stated price.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 8.320. Transfer or Pledge within a Central Depository System

(a) If a security

(1) is in the custody of a clearing corporation or of a custodian bank or a nominee of either subject to the instructions of the clearing corporation; and

(2) is in bearer form or indorsed in blank by an appropriate person or registered in the name of the clearing corporation or custodian bank or a nominee of either; and

(3) is shown on the account of a transferor or pledgor on the books of the clearing corporation; then, in addition to other methods, a transfer or pledge of the security or any interest therein may be effected by the making of appropriate entries on the books of the clearing corporation reducing the account of the transferor or pledgor and increasing the account of the transferee or pledgee by the amount of the obligation or the number of shares or rights transferred or pledged.

(b) Under this section entries may be with respect to like securities or interests therein as a part of a fungible bulk and may refer merely to a quantity of a particular security without reference to the name of the registered owner, certificate or bond number or the like and, in appropriate cases, may be on a net basis taking into account other transfers or pledges of the same security.

(c) A transfer or pledge under this section has the effect of a delivery of a security in bearer form or duly indorsed in blank (Section 8.301) representing the amount of the obligation or the number of shares or rights transferred or pledged. If a pledge or the creation of a security interest is intended, the making of entries has the effect of a taking of delivery by the pledgee or a secured party (Sections 9.304 and 9.305). A transferee or pledgee under this section is a holder.

(d) A transfer or pledge under this section does not constitute a registration of transfer under Subchapter D of this chapter.

(e) That entries made on the books of the clearing corporation as provided in Subsection (a) are not appropriate does not affect the validity or effect of the entries nor the liabilities or obligations of the clearing corporation to any person adversely affected thereby.

SUBCHAPTER D: REGISTRATION

§ 8.401. Duty of Issuer to Register Transfer

(a) Where a security in registered form is presented to the issuer with a request to register transfer, the issuer is under a duty to register the transfer as requested if

(1) the security is indorsed by the appropriate person or persons (Section 8.308); and

(2) reasonable assurance is given that those indorsements are genuine and effective (Section 8.402); and

(3) the issuer has no duty to inquire into adverse claims or has discharged any such duty (Section 8.403); and

(4) any applicable law relating to the collection of taxes has been complied with; and

(5) the transfer is in fact rightful or is to a bona fide purchaser.

(b) Where an issuer is under a duty to register a transfer of a security the issuer is also liable to the person presenting it for registration or his principal for loss resulting from any unreasonable delay in registration or from failure or refusal to register the transfer.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 8.402. Assurance That Indorsements Are Effective

(a) The issuer may require the following assurance that each necessary indorsement (Section 8.308) is genuine and effective

(1) in all cases, a guarantee of the signature (Subsection (a) of Section 8.312) of the person indorsing; and

(2) where the indorsement is by an agent, appropriate assurance of authority to sign;

(3) where the indorsement is by a fiduciary, appropriate evidence of appointment or incumbency;

(4) where there is more than one fiduciary, reasonable assurance that all who are required to sign have done so;

(5) where the indorsement is by a person not covered by any of the foregoing, assurance appropriate to the case corresponding as nearly as may be to the foregoing.

(b) A "guarantee of the signature" in Subsection (a) means a guarantee signed by or on behalf of a person reasonably believed by the issuer to be responsible. The issuer may adopt standards with respect to responsibility provided such standards are not manifestly unreasonable.

(c) "Appropriate evidence of appointment or incumbency" in Subsection (a) means

(1) in the case of a fiduciary appointed or qualified by a court, a certificate issued by or under the direction or supervision of that court or an officer thereof and dated within sixty days before the date of presentation for transfer; or

(2) in any other case, a copy of a document showing the appointment or a certificate issued by or on behalf of a person reasonably believed by the issuer to be responsible or, in the absence of such a document or certificate, other evidence reasonably deemed by the issuer to be appropriate. The issuer may adopt standards with respect to such evidence provided such standards are not manifestly unreasonable. The issuer is not charged with notice of the contents of any document obtained pursuant to this Subdivision (2) except to the extent that the contents relate directly to the appointment or incumbency.

(d) The issuer may elect to require reasonable assurance beyond that specified in this section but if it does so and for a purpose other than that specified in Subsection (c)(2) both requires and obtains a copy of a will, trust, indenture, articles of co-partnership, by-laws or other controlling instrument it is charged with notice of all matters contained therein affecting the transfer.

§ 8.403. Limited Duty of Inquiry

(a) An issuer to whom a security is presented for registration is under a duty to inquire into adverse claims if

(1) a written notification of an adverse claim is received at a time and in a manner which affords the issuer a reasonable opportunity to act on it prior to the issuance of a new, re-issued or re-registered security and the notification identifies the claimant, the registered owner and the issue of which the security is a part and provides an address for communications directed to the claimant; or

(2) the issuer is charged with notice of an adverse claim from a controlling instrument which it has elected to require under Subsection (d) of Section 8.402.

(b) The issuer may discharge any duty of inquiry by any reasonable means, including notifying an adverse claimant by registered or certified mail at the address furnished by him or if there be no such address at his residence or regular place of business that the security has been presented for registration of transfer by a named person, and that the transfer will be registered unless within thirty days from the date of mailing the notification, either

(1) an appropriate restraining order, injunction or other process issues from a court of competent jurisdiction; or

(2) an indemnity bond sufficient in the issuer's judgment to protect the issuer and any transfer agent, registrar or other agent of the issuer involved, from any loss which it or they may suffer by complying with the adverse claim is filed with the issuer.

(c) Unless an issuer is charged with notice of an adverse claim from a controlling instrument which it has elected to require under Subsection (d) of Section 8.402 or receives notification of an adverse claim under Subsection (a) of this section, where a security presented for registration is indorsed by the appropriate person or persons the issuer is under no duty to inquire into adverse claims. In particular

(1) an issuer registering a security in the name of a person who is a fiduciary or who is described as a fiduciary is not bound to inquire into the existence, extent, or correct description of the fiduciary relationship and thereafter the issuer may assume without inquiry that the newly registered owner continues to be the fiduciary until the issuer receives written notice that the fiduciary is no longer acting as such with respect to the particular security;

(2) an issuer registering transfer on an indorsement by a fiduciary is not bound to inquire whether the transfer is made in compliance with a controlling instrument or with the law of the state having jurisdiction of the fiduciary relationship, including any law requiring the fiduciary to obtain court approval of the transfer; and

(3) the issuer is not charged with notice of the contents of any court record or file or other recorded or unrecorded document even though the document is in its possession and even though the transfer is made on the indorsement of a fiduciary to the fiduciary himself or to his nominee.

§ 8.404. Liability and Non-Liability for Registration

(a) Except as otherwise provided in any law relating to the collection of taxes, the issuer is not liable to the owner or any other person suffering loss as a result of the registration of a transfer of a security if

(1) there were on or with the security the necessary indorsements (Section 8.308); and

(2) the issuer had no duty to inquire into adverse claims or has discharged any such duty (Section 8.403).

(b) Where an issuer has registered a transfer of a security to a person not entitled to it the issuer on demand must deliver a like security to the true owner unless

(1) the registration was pursuant to Subsection (a); or

(2) the owner is precluded from asserting any claim for registering the transfer under Subsection (a) of the following section; or

(3) such delivery would result in overissue, in which case the issuer's liability is governed by Section 8.104.

§ 8.405. Lost, Destroyed and Stolen Securities

(a) Where a security has been lost, apparently destroyed or wrongfully taken and the owner fails to notify the issuer of that fact within a reasonable time after he has notice of it and the issuer registers a transfer of the security before receiving such a notification, the owner is precluded from asserting against the issuer any claim for registering the transfer under the preceding section or any claim to a new security under this section.

(b) Where the owner of a security claims that the security has been lost, destroyed or wrongfully taken, the issuer must issue a new security in place of the original security if the owner

(1) so requests before the issuer has notice that the security has been acquired by a bona fide purchaser; and

(2) files with the issuer a sufficient indemnity bond; and

(3) satisfies any other reasonable requirements imposed by the issuer.

(c) If, after the issue of the new security, a bona fide purchaser of the original security presents it for registration of transfer, the issuer must register the transfer unless registration would result in overissue, in which event the issuer's liability is governed by Section 8.104. In addition to any rights on the indemnity bond, the issuer may recover the new security from the person to whom it was issued or any person taking under him except a bona fide purchaser.

§ 8.406. Duty of Authenticating Trustee, Transfer Agent or Registrar

(a) Where a person acts as authenticating trustee, transfer agent, registrar, or other agent for an issuer in the registration of transfers of its securities or in the issue of new securities or in the cancellation of surrendered securities

(1) he is under a duty to the issuer to exercise good faith and due diligence in performing his functions; and

(2) he has with regard to the particular functions he performs the same obligation to the holder or owner of the security and has the same rights and privileges as the issuer has in regard to those functions.

(b) Notice to an authenticating trustee, transfer agent, registrar or other such agent is notice to the issuer with respect to the functions performed by the agent.

SUBCHAPTER A. SHORT TITLE, APPLICABILITY AND DEFINITIONS

§ 9.101. Short Title

This chapter may be cited as Uniform Commercial Code—Secured Transactions.

§ 9.102. Policy and Subject Matter of Chapter

(a) Except as otherwise provided in Section 9.104 on excluded transactions, this chapter applies

(1) to any transaction (regardless of its form) which is intended to create a security interest in personal property or fixtures including goods, documents, instruments, general intangibles, chattel paper or accounts; and also

(2) to any sale of accounts or chattel paper.

(b) This chapter applies to security interests created by contract including pledge, assignment, chattel mortgage, chattel trust, trust deed, factor's lien, equipment trust, conditional sale, trust receipt, other lien or title retention contract and lease or consignment intended as security. This chapter does not apply to statutory liens except as provided in Section 9.310.

(c) The application of this chapter to a security interest in a secured obligation is not affected by the fact that the obligation is itself secured by a transaction or interest to which this chapter does not apply. [Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1; Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 999, ch. 400, § 5, eff. Jan. 1, 1974.]

§ 9.103. Perfection of Security Interests in Multiple State Transactions

(a) Documents, instruments and ordinary goods.

(1) This subsection applies to documents and instruments and to goods other than those covered by a certificate of title described in Subsection (b), mobile goods described in Subsection (c), and minerals described in Subsection (e).

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, perfection and the effect of perfection or non-perfection of a security interest in collateral are governed by the law of the jurisdiction where the collateral is when the last event occurs on which is based the assertion that the security interest is perfected or unperfected.

(3) If the parties to a transaction creating a purchase money security interest in goods in one jurisdiction understand at the time that the security interest attaches that the goods will be kept in another jurisdiction, then the law of the other jurisdiction governs the perfection and the effect of perfection or non-perfection of the security interest from the time it attaches until 30 days after the debtor receives possession of the goods and thereafter if the goods are taken to the other jurisdiction before the end of the 30-day period.

(4) When collateral is brought into and kept in this state while subject to a security interest perfected under the law of the jurisdiction from which the collateral was removed, the security interest remains perfected, but if action is required by Subchapter C of this chapter<sup>1</sup> to perfect the security interest,

(A) if the action is not taken before the expiration of the period of perfection in the other jurisdiction or the end of four months after the collateral is brought into this state, whichever period first expires, the security interest becomes unperfected at the end of that period and is thereafter deemed to have been unperfected as against a person who became a purchaser after removal;

(B) if the action is taken before the expiration of the period specified in paragraph (A), the security interest continues perfected thereafter;

(C) for the purpose of priority over a buyer of consumer goods (Subsection (b) of Section 9.307), the period of the effectiveness of a filing in the jurisdiction from which the collateral is removed is governed by the rules with respect to perfection in paragraphs (A) and (B).

(b) Certificate of title.

(1) This subsection applies to goods covered by a certificate of title issued under a statute of this state or of another jurisdiction under the law of which indication of a security interest on the certificate is required as a condition of perfection.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, perfection and the effect of perfection or non-perfection of the security interest are governed by the law (including the conflict of laws rules) of the jurisdiction issuing the certificate until four months after the goods are removed from that jurisdiction and thereafter until the goods are registered in another jurisdiction, but in any event not beyond surrender of the certificate. After the expiration of that period, the goods are not covered by the certificate of title within the meaning of this section.

(3) Except with respect to the rights of a buyer described in the next paragraph, a security interest, perfected in another jurisdiction otherwise than by notation of a certificate of title, in goods brought into this state and thereafter covered by a certificate of title issued by this state is subject to the rules stated in paragraph (4) of Subsection (a).

(4) If goods are brought into this state while a security interest therein is perfected in any manner under the law of the jurisdiction from which the goods are removed and a certificate of title is issued by this state and the certificate does not show that the goods are subject to the security interest or that they may be subject to security interests not shown on the certificate, the security interest is subordinate to the rights of a buyer of the goods who is not in the business of selling goods of that kind to the extent that he gives value and receives delivery of the goods after issuance of the certificate and without knowledge of the security interest.

(c) Accounts, general intangibles and mobile goods.

(1) This subsection applies to accounts (other than an account described in Subsection (e) on minerals) and general intangibles and to goods which are mobile and which are of a type normally used in more than one jurisdiction, such as motor vehicles, trailers, rolling stock, airplanes, shipping containers, road building and construction machinery and commercial harvesting machinery and the like, if the goods are equipment or are inventory leased or held for lease by the debtor to others, and are not covered by a certificate of title described in Subsection (b).

(2) The law (including the conflict of laws rules) of the jurisdiction in which the debtor is located governs the perfection and the effect of perfection or non-perfection of the security interest.

(3) If, however, the debtor is located in the jurisdiction which is not a part of the United States, and which does not provide for perfection of the security interest by filing or recording in that jurisdiction, the law of the jurisdiction in the United States in which the debtor has its major executive office in the United States governs the perfection and the effect of perfection or non-perfection of the security interest through filing. In the alternative, if the debtor is located in a jurisdiction which is not a part of the United States or Canada and the collateral is accounts or general intangibles for money due or to become due, the security interest may be perfected by notification to the account debtor. As used in this paragraph, "United States" includes its territories and possessions and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

(4) A debtor shall be deemed located at his place of business if he has one, at his chief executive office if he has more than one place of business, otherwise at his residence. If, however, the debtor is a foreign air carrier under the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended,<sup>2</sup> it shall be deemed located at the designated office of the agent upon whom service of process may be made on behalf of the foreign air carrier.

(5) A security interest perfected under the law of the jurisdiction of the location of the debtor is perfected until the expiration of four months after a change of the debtor's location to another jurisdiction, or until perfection would have ceased by the law of the first jurisdiction, whichever period first expires. Unless perfected in the new jurisdiction before the end of that period, it becomes unperfected thereafter and is deemed to have been unperfected as against a person who became a purchaser after the change.

(d) Chattel paper.

The rules stated for goods in Subsection (a) apply to a possessory security interest in chattel paper. The rules stated for accounts in Subsection (c) apply to a non-possessory security interest in chattel paper, but the security interest may not be perfected by notification to the account debtor.

(e) Minerals.

Perfection and the effect of perfection or non-perfection of a security interest which is created by a debtor who has an interest in minerals or the like (including oil and gas) before extraction and which attaches thereto as extracted, or which attaches to an account resulting from the sale thereof at the wellhead or minehead are governed by the law (including the conflict of laws rules) of the jurisdiction wherein the wellhead or minehead is located.

§ 9.105. Definitions and Index of Definitions

(a) In this chapter unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Account debtor" means the person who is obligated on an account, chattel paper or general intangible;

(2) "Chattel paper" means a writing or writings which evidence both a monetary obligation and a security interest in or a lease of specific goods, but a charter or other contract involving the use or hire of a vessel is not chattel paper. When a transaction is evidenced both by such a security agreement or a lease and by an instrument or a series of instruments, the group of writings taken together constitutes chattel paper;

(3) "Collateral" means the property subject to a security interest, and includes accounts and chattel paper which have been sold;

(4) "Debtor" means the person who owes payment or other performance of the obligation secured, whether or not he owns or has rights in the collateral, and includes the seller of accounts or chattel paper. Where the debtor and the owner of the collateral are not the same person, the term "debtor" means the owner of the collateral in any provision of the chapter dealing with the collateral, the obligor in any provision dealing with the obligation, and may include both where the context so requires;

(5) "Deposit account" means a demand, time, savings, passbook or like account maintained with a bank, savings and loan association, credit union or like organization, other than an account evidenced by a certificate of deposit;

(6) "Document" means document of title as defined in the general definitions of Chapter 1 (Section 1.201), and a receipt of the kind described in Subsection (b) of Section 7.201;

(7) "Encumbrance" includes real estate mortgages and other liens on real estate and all other rights in real estate that are not ownership interests;

(8) "Goods" includes all things which are movable at the time the security interest attaches or which are fixtures (Section 9.313), but does not include money, documents, instruments, accounts, chattel paper, general intangibles, or minerals or the like (including oil and gas) before extraction. "Goods" also includes standing timber which is to be cut and removed under a conveyance or contract for sale, the unborn young of animals, and growing crops;

(9) "Instrument" means a negotiable instrument (defined in Section 3.104), or a security (defined in Section 8.102) or any other writing which evidences a right to the payment of money and is not itself a security agreement or lease and is of a type which is in ordinary course of business transferred by delivery with any necessary indorsement or assignment;

(10) "Mortgage" means a consensual interest created by a real estate mortgage, a trust deed on real estate, or the like;

(11) An advance is made "pursuant to commitment" if the secured party has bound himself to make it, whether or not a subsequent event of default or other event not within his control has relieved or may relieve him from his obligation;

(12) "Security agreement" means an agreement which creates or provides for a security interest;

(13) "Secured party" means a lender, seller or other person in whose favor there is a security interest, including a person to whom accounts or chattel paper have been sold. When the holders of obligations issued under an indenture of trust, equipment trust agreement or the like are represented by a trustee or other person, the representative is the secured party.

§ 9.106. Definitions: "Account"; "General Intangibles"

"Account" means any right to payment for goods sold or leased or for services rendered which is not evidenced by an instrument or chattel paper, whether or not it has been earned by performance. "General intangibles" means any personal property (including things in action) other than goods, accounts, chattel paper, documents, instruments, and money. All rights to payment earned or unearned under a charter or other contract involving the use or hire of a vessel and all rights incident to the charter or contract are accounts.

§ 9.107. Definitions: "Purchase Money Security Interest"

A security interest is a "purchase money security interest" to the extent that it is

(1) taken or retained by the seller of the collateral to secure all or part of its price; or

(2) taken by a person who by making advances or incurring an obligation gives value to enable the debtor to acquire rights in or the use of collateral if such value is in fact so used.

§ 9.108. When After-Acquired Collateral Not Security For Antecedent Debt

Where a secured party makes an advance, incurs an obligation, releases a perfected security interest, or otherwise gives new value which is to be secured in whole or in part by after-acquired property his security interest in the after-acquired collateral shall be deemed to be taken for new value and not as security for an antecedent debt if the debtor acquires his rights in such collateral either in the ordinary course of his business or under a contract of purchase made pursuant to the security agreement within a reasonable time after new value is given.

§ 9.109. Classification of Goods; "Consumer Goods"; "Equipment"; "Farm Products"; "Inventory"

Goods are

(1) "consumer goods" if they are used or bought for use primarily for personal, family or household purposes;

(2) "equipment" if they are used or bought for use primarily in business (including farming or a profession) or by a debtor who is a non-profit organization or a governmental subdivision or agency or if the goods are not included in the definitions of inventory, farm products or consumer goods;

(3) "farm products" if they are crops or livestock or supplies used or produced in farming operations or if they are products of crops or livestock in their unmanufactured states (such as ginned cotton, wool-clip, maple syrup, milk and eggs), and if they are in the possession of a debtor engaged in raising, fattening, grazing or other farming operations. If goods are farm products they are neither equipment nor inventory;

(4) "inventory" if they are held by a person who holds them for sale or lease or to be furnished under contracts of service or if he has so furnished them, or if they are raw materials, work in process or materials used or consumed in a business. Inventory of a person is not to be classified as his equipment.

§ 9.110. Sufficiency of Description

For the purposes of this chapter any description of personal property or real estate is sufficient whether or not it is specific if it reasonably identifies what is described.

§ 9.111. Applicability of Bulk Transfer Laws

The creation of a security interest is not a bulk transfer under Chapter 6 (see Section 6.103).

§ 9.112. Where Collateral is Not Owned by Debtor

Unless otherwise agreed, when a secured party knows that collateral is owned by a person who is not the debtor, the owner of the collateral is entitled to receive from the secured party any surplus under Section 9.502(b) or under Section 9.504(a), and is not liable for the debt or for any deficiency after resale, and he has the same right as the debtor

- (1) to receive statements under Section 9.208;
- (2) to receive notice of and to object to a secured party's proposal to retain the collateral in satisfaction of the indebtedness under Section 9.505;
- (3) to redeem the collateral under Section 9.506;
- (4) to obtain injunctive or other relief under Section 9.507(a); and
- (5) to recover losses caused to him under Section 9.208(b).

§ 9.113. Security Interests Arising Under Chapter on Sales

A security interest arising solely under the chapter on Sales (Chapter 2) is subject to the provisions of this chapter except that to the extent that and so long as the debtor does not have or does not lawfully obtain possession of the goods

- (1) no security agreement is necessary to make the security interest enforceable; and
- (2) no filing is required to perfect the security interest; and
- (3) the rights of the secured party on default by the debtor are governed by the chapter on Sales (Chapter 2).

§ 9.114. Consignment

(a) A person who delivers goods under a consignment which is not a security interest and who would be required to file under this chapter by Subsection (c)(3) of Section 2.326 has priority over a secured party who is or becomes a creditor of the consignee and who would have a perfected security interest in the goods if they were the property of the consignee, and also has priority with respect to identifiable cash proceeds received on or before delivery of the goods to a buyer, if

- (1) the consignor complies with the filing provision of the chapter on Sales with respect to consignments (Subsection (c)(3) of Section 2.326) before the consignee receives possession of the goods; and
- (2) the consignor gives notification in writing to the holder of the security interest if the holder has filed a financing statement covering the same types of goods before the date of the filing made by the consignor; and
- (3) the holder of the security interest receives the notification within five years before the consignee receives possession of the goods; and
- (4) the notification states that the consignor expects to deliver goods on consignment to the consignee, describing the goods by item or type.

(b) In the case of a consignment which is not a security interest and in which the requirements of the preceding subsection have not been met, a person who delivers goods to another is subordinate to a person who would have a perfected security interest in the goods if they were the property of the debtor.

SUBCHAPTER B. VALIDITY OF SECURITY AGREEMENT AND RIGHTS OF PARTIES THERETO

§ 9.201. General Validity of Security Agreement

Except as otherwise provided by this title a security agreement is effective according to its terms between the parties, against purchasers of the collateral and against creditors. Nothing in this chapter validates any charge or practice illegal under any statute or regulation thereunder governing usury, small loans, retail installment sales, or the like, or extends the application of any such statute or regulation to any transaction not otherwise subject thereto.

§ 9.202. Title to Collateral Immaterial

Each provision of this chapter with regard to rights, obligations and remedies applies whether title to collateral is in the secured party or in the debtor. [Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1; Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 999, ch. 400, § 5, eff. Jan. 1, 1974.]

§ 9.203. Attachment and Enforceability of Security Interest; Proceeds, Formal Requirements

(a) Subject to the provisions of Section 4.208 on the security interest of a collecting bank and Section 9.113 on a security interest arising under the chapter on Sales, a security interest is not enforceable against the debtor or third parties with respect to the collateral and does not attach unless

(1) the collateral is in the possession of the secured party pursuant to agreement or the debtor has signed a security agreement which contains a description of the collateral and in addition, when the security interest covers crops growing or to be grown or timber to be cut, a description of the land concerned; and

(2) value has been given; and

(3) the debtor has rights in the collateral.

(b) A security interest attaches when it becomes enforceable against the debtor with respect to the collateral. Attachment occurs as soon as all of the events specified in Subsection (a) have taken place unless explicit agreement postpones the time of attaching.

(c) Unless otherwise agreed a security agreement gives the secured party the rights to proceeds provided by Section 9.306.

(d) A transaction, although subject to this chapter, is also subject to Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, and in the case of conflict between the provisions of this Chapter and any such statute, the provisions of such statute control. Failure to comply with any applicable statute has only the effect which is specified therein. [Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1; Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2466, ch. 830, § 5, eff. Sept. 1, 1969; Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 999, ch. 400, § 5, eff. Jan. 1, 1974.]

§ 9.204. After-Acquired Property; Future Advances

(a) Except as provided in Subsection (b), a security agreement may provide that any or all obligations covered by the security agreement are to be secured by after-acquired collateral.

(b) No security interest attaches under an after-acquired property clause to consumer goods other than accessions (Section 9.314) when given as additional security unless the debtor acquires rights in them within ten days after the secured party gives value.

(c) Obligations covered by a security agreement may include future advances or other value whether or not the advances or value are given pursuant to commitment (Subsection (a) of Section 9.105).

§ 9.205. Use or Disposition of Collateral Without Accounting Permissible

A security interest is not invalid or fraudulent against creditors by reason of liberty in the debtor to use, commingle or dispose of all or part of the collateral (including returned or repossessed goods) or to collect or compromise accounts or chattel paper, or to accept the return of goods or make repossessions, or to use, commingle or dispose of proceeds, or by reason of the failure of the secured party to require the debtor to account for proceeds or replace collateral. This section does not relax the requirements of possession where perfection of a security interest depends upon possession of the collateral by the secured party or by a bailee.

§ 9.206. Agreement Not to Assert Defenses Against Assignee; Modification of Sales Warranties Where Security Agreement Exists

(a) Subject to any statute or decision which establishes a different rule for buyers or lessees of consumer goods, an agreement by a buyer or lessee that he will not assert against an assignee any claim or defense which he may have against the seller or lessor is enforceable by an assignee who takes his assignment for value, in good faith and without notice of a claim or defense, except as to defenses of a type which may be asserted against a holder in due course of a negotiable instrument under the chapter on Commercial Paper (Chapter 3). A buyer who as part of one transaction signs both a negotiable instrument and a security agreement makes such an agreement.

(b) When a seller retains a purchase money security interest in goods the chapter on Sales (Chapter 2) governs the sale and any disclaimer, limitation or modification of the seller's warranties.

§ 9.207. Rights and Duties When Collateral is in Secured Party's Possession

(a) A secured party must use reasonable care in the custody and preservation of collateral in his possession. In the case of an instrument or chattel paper reasonable care includes taking necessary steps to preserve rights against prior parties unless otherwise agreed.

(b) Unless otherwise agreed, when collateral is in the secured party's possession

(1) reasonable expenses (including the cost of any insurance and payment of taxes or other charges) incurred in the custody, preservation, use or operation of the collateral are chargeable to the debtor and are secured by the collateral;

(2) the risk of accidental loss or damage is on the debtor to the extent of any deficiency in any effective insurance coverage;

(3) the secured party may hold as additional security any increase or profits (except money) received from the collateral, but money so received, unless remitted to the debtor, shall be applied in reduction of the secured obligation;

(4) the secured party must keep the collateral identifiable but fungible collateral may be commingled;

(5) the secured party may repledge the collateral upon terms which do not impair the debtor's right to redeem it.

(c) A secured party is liable for any loss caused by his failure to meet any obligation imposed by the preceding subsections but does not lose his security interest.

(d) A secured party may use or operate the collateral for the purpose of preserving the collateral or its value or pursuant to the order of a court of appropriate jurisdiction or, except in the case of consumer goods, in the manner and to the extent provided in the security agreement.

§ 9.208. Request for Statement of Account or List of Collateral

(a) A debtor may sign a statement indicating what he believes to be the aggregate amount of unpaid indebtedness as of a specified date and may send it to the secured party with a request that the statement be approved or corrected and returned to the debtor. When the security agreement or any other record kept by the secured party identifies the collateral a debtor may similarly request the secured party to approve or correct a list of the collateral.

(b) The secured party must comply with such a request within two weeks after receipt by sending a written correction or approval. If the secured party claims a security interest in all of a particular type of collateral owned by the debtor he may indicate that fact in his reply and need not approve or correct an itemized list of such collateral. If the secured party without reasonable excuse fails to comply he is liable for any loss caused to the debtor thereby; and if the debtor has properly included in his request a good faith statement of the obligation or a list of the collateral or both the secured party may claim a security interest only as shown in the statement against persons misled by his failure to comply. If he no longer has an interest in the obligation or collateral at the time the request is received he must disclose the name and address of any successor in interest known to him and he is liable for any loss caused to the debtor as a result of failure to disclose. A successor in interest is not subject to this section until a request is received by him.

(c) A debtor is entitled to such a statement once every six months without charge. The secured party may require payment of a charge not exceeding $10 for each additional statement furnished.

SUBCHAPTER C. RIGHTS OF THIRD PARTIES; PERFECTED AND UNPERFECTED SECURITY INTERESTS; RULES OF PRIORITY

§ 9.301. Persons Who Take Priority Over Unperfected Security Interests; Right of "Lien Creditor"

(a) Except as otherwise provided in Subsection (b), an unperfected security interest is subordinate to the rights of

(1) persons entitled to priority under Section 9.312;

(2) a person who becomes a lien creditor before the security interest is perfected;

(3) in the case of goods, instruments, documents, and chattel paper, a person who is not a secured party and who is a transferee in bulk or other buyer not in ordinary course of business, or is a buyer of farm products in ordinary course of business, to the extent that he gives value and receives delivery of the collateral without knowledge of the security interest and before it is perfected;

(4) in the case of accounts and general intangibles, a person who is not a secured party and who is a transferee to the extent that he gives value without knowledge of the security interest and before it is perfected.

(b) If the secured party files with respect to a purchase money security interest before or within ten days after the debtor receives possession of the collateral, he takes priority over the rights of a transferee in bulk or of a lien creditor which arise between the time the security interest attaches and the time of filing.

(c) A "lien creditor" means a creditor who has acquired a lien on the property involved by attachment, levy or the like and includes an assignee for benefit of creditors from the time of assignment, and a trustee in bankruptcy from the date of the filing of the petition or a receiver in equity from the time of appointment.

(d) A person who becomes a lien creditor while a security interest is perfected takes subject to the security interest only to the extent that it secures advances made before he becomes a lien creditor or within 45 days thereafter or made without knowledge of the lien or pursuant to a commitment entered into without knowledge of the lien.

§ 9.302. When Filing is Required to Perfect Security Interest; Security Interests to Which Filing Provisions of This Article Do Not Apply

(a) A financing statement must be filed to perfect all security interests except the following:

(1) a security interest in collateral in possession of the secured party under Section 9.305;

(2) a security interest temporarily perfected in instruments or documents without delivery under Section 9.304 or in proceeds for a 10 day period under Section 9.306;

(3) a security interest created by an assignment of a beneficial interest in a trust or a decedent's estate;

(4) a purchase money security interest in consumer goods; but notation on a certificate of title is required for goods covered by a statute referred to in Subsection (c)(2); and fixture filing is required for priority over conflicting interests in fixtures to the extent provided in Section 9.313;

(5) an assignment of accounts which does not alone or in conjunction with other assignments to the same assignee transfer a significant part of the outstanding accounts of the assignor;

(6) a security interest of a collecting bank (Section 4.208) or arising under the Chapter on Sales (see Section 9.113) or covered in Subsection (c) of this Section;

(7) an assignment for the benefit of all the creditors of the transferor, and subsequent transfers by the assignee thereunder.

(b) If a secured party assigns a perfected security interest, no filing under this Chapter is required in order to continue the perfected status of the security interest against creditors of and transferees from the original debtor.

(c) The filing of a financing statement otherwise required by this Chapter is not necessary or effective to perfect a security interest in property subject to

(1) a statute or treaty of the United States which provides for a national or international registration or a national or international certificate of title or which specifies a place of filing different from that specified in this Chapter for filing of the security interest; or

(2) the following statutes of this state; the Certificate of Title Act, as amended (Article 1436—1, Vernon's Texas Penal Code);<sup>1</sup> but during any period in which collateral is inventory held for sale by a person who is in the business of selling goods of that kind, the filing provisions of this Chapter (Subchapter D)<sup>2</sup> apply to a security interest in that collateral created by him as debtor; or Subchapter A, Chapter 35, Title 4, Business & Commerce Code;<sup>3</sup> or

(3) a certificate of title statute of another jurisdiction under the law of which indication of a security interest on the certificate is required as a condition of perfection (Subsection (b) of Section 9.103).

(d) Compliance with a statute or treaty described in Subsection (c) is equivalent to the filing of a financing statement under this Chapter, and a security interest in property subject to the statute or treaty can be perfected only by compliance therewith except as provided in Section 9.103 on multiple state transactions. Duration and renewal of perfection of a security interest perfected by compliance with the statute or treaty are governed by the provisions of the statute or treaty; in other respects the security interest is subject to this Chapter.

§ 9.303. When Security Interest is Perfected; Continuity of Perfection

(a) A security interest is perfected when it has attached and when all of the applicable steps required for perfection have been taken. Such steps are specified in Sections 9.302, 9.304, 9.305 and 9.306. If such steps are taken before the security interest attaches, it is perfected at the time when it attaches.

(b) If a security interest is originally perfected in any way permitted under this chapter and is subsequently perfected in some other way under this chapter, without an intermediate period when it was unperfected, the security interest shall be deemed to be perfected continuously for the purposes of this chapter.

§ 9.304. Perfection of Security Interest in Instruments, Documents and Goods Covered by Documents; Perfection by Permissive Filing; Temporary Perfection Without Filing or Transfer of Possession

(a) A security interest in chattel paper or negotiable documents may be perfected by filing. A security interest in money or instruments (other than instruments which constitute part of chattel paper) can be perfected only by the secured party's taking possession, except as provided in Subsections (d) and (e) of this section and Subsections (b) and (c) of Section 9.306 on proceeds.

(b) During the period that goods are in the possession of the issuer of a negotiable document therefor, a security interest in the goods is perfected by perfecting a security interest in the document, and any security interest in the goods otherwise perfected during such period is subject thereto.

(c) A security interest in goods in the possession of a bailee other than one who has issued a negotiable document therefor is perfected by issuance of a document in the name of the secured party or by the bailee's receipt of notification of the secured party's interest or by filing as to the goods.

(d) A security interest in instruments or negotiable documents is perfected without filing or the taking of possession for a period of 21 days from the time it attaches to the extent that it arises for new value given under a written security agreement.

(e) A security interest remains perfected for a period of 21 days without filing where a secured party having a perfected security interest in an instrument, a negotiable document or goods in possession of a bailee other than one who has issued a negotiable document therefor

(1) makes available to the debtor the goods or documents representing the goods for the purpose of ultimate sale or exchange or for the purpose of loading, unloading, storing, shipping, transshipping, manufacturing, processing or otherwise dealing with them in a manner preliminary to their sale or exchange, but priority between conflicting security interests in the goods is subject to Subsection (c) of Section 9.312; or

(2) delivers the instrument to the debtor for the purpose of ultimate sale or exchange or of presentation, collection, renewal or registration of transfer.

(f) After the 21 day period in Subsections (d) and (e) perfection depends upon compliance with applicable provisions of this chapter.

§ 9.305. When Possession by Secured Party Perfects Security Interest Without Filing

A security interest in letters of credit and advices of credit (Subsection (b)(1) of Section 5.116), goods, instruments, money, negotiable documents or chattel paper may be perfected by the secured party's taking possession of the collateral. If such collateral other than goods covered by a negotiable document is held by a bailee, the secured party is deemed to have possession from the time the bailee receives notification of the secured party's interest. A security interest is perfected by possession from the time possession is taken without relation back and continues only so long as possession is retained, unless otherwise specified in this chapter. The security interest may be otherwise perfected as provided in this chapter before or after the period of possession by the secured party.

§ 9.306. "Proceeds"; Secured Party's Rights on Disposition of Collateral

(a) "Proceeds" includes whatever is received upon the sale, exchange, collection or other disposition of collateral or proceeds. Insurance payable by reason of loss or damage to the collateral is proceeds, except to the extent that it is payable to a person other than a party to the security agreement. Money, checks, deposit accounts and the like are "cash proceeds". All other proceeds are "non-cash proceeds".

(b) Except where this chapter otherwise provides, a security interest continues in collateral notwithstanding sale, exchange or other disposition thereof unless the disposition was authorized by the secured party in the security agreement or otherwise, and also continues in any identifiable proceeds including collections received by the debtor.

(c) The security interest in proceeds is a continuously perfected security interest if the interest in the original collateral was perfected but it ceases to be a perfected security interest and becomes unperfected ten days after receipt of the proceeds by the debtor unless

(1) a filed financing statement covers the original collateral and the proceeds are collateral in which a security interest may be perfected by filing in the office or offices where the financing statement has been filed and, if the proceeds are acquired with cash proceeds, the description of collateral in the financing statement indicates the types of property constituting the proceeds; or

(2) a filed financing statement covers the original collateral and the proceeds are identifiable cash proceeds; or

(3) the security interest in the proceeds is perfected before the expiration of the ten day period. Except as provided in this section, a security interest in proceeds can be perfected only by the methods or under the circumstances permitted in this chapter for original collateral of the same type.

(d) In the event of insolvency proceedings instituted by or against a debtor, a secured party with a perfected security interest in proceeds has a perfected security interest only in the following proceeds:

(1) in identifiable non-cash proceeds and in separate deposit accounts containing only proceeds;

(2) in identifiable cash proceeds in the form of money which is neither commingled with other money nor deposited in a deposit account prior to the insolvency proceedings;

(3) in identifiable cash proceeds in the form of checks and the like which are not deposited in a deposit account prior to the insolvency proceedings; and

(4) in all cash and deposit accounts of the debtor in which proceeds have been commingled with other funds, but the perfected security interest under this Subdivision (4) is

(A) subject to any right of set-off; and

(B) limited to an amount not greater than the amount of any cash proceeds received by the debtor within ten days before the institution of the insolvency proceedings less the sum of (I) the payments to the secured party on account of cash proceeds received by the debtor during such period and (II) the cash proceeds received by the debtor during such period to which the secured party is entitled under Subdivisions (1) through (3) of this Subsection (d).

(e) If a sale of goods results in an account or chattel paper which is transferred by the seller to a secured party, and if the goods are returned to or are repossessed by the seller or the secured party, the following rules determine priorities:

(1) If the goods were collateral at the time of sale for an indebtedness of the seller which is still unpaid, the original security interest attaches again to the goods and continues as a perfected security interest if it was perfected at the time when the goods were sold. If the security interest was originally perfected by a filing which is still effective, nothing further is required to continue the perfected status; in any other case, the secured party must take possession of the returned or repossessed goods or must file.

(2) An unpaid transferee of the chattel paper has a security interest in the goods against the transferor. Such security interest is prior to a security interest asserted under Subdivision (1) to the extent that the transferee of the chattel paper was entitled to priority under Section 9.308.

(3) An unpaid transferee of the account has a security interest in the goods against the transferor. Such security interest is subordinate to a security interest asserted under Subdivision (1).

(4) A security interest of an unpaid transferee asserted under Subdivision (2) or (3) must be perfected for protection against creditors of the transferor and purchasers of the returned or repossessed goods.

§ 9.307. Protection of Buyers of Goods

(a) A buyer in ordinary course of business (Subdivision (9) of Section 1.201) other than a person buying farm products from a person engaged in farming operations takes free of a security interest created by his seller even though the security interest is perfected and even though the buyer knows of its existence.

(b) In the case of consumer goods, a buyer takes free of a security interest even though perfected if he buys without knowledge of the security interest, for value and for his own personal, family or household purposes unless prior to the purchase the secured party has filed a financing statement covering such goods.

(c) A buyer other than a buyer in ordinary course of business (Subsection (a) of this section) takes free of a security interest to the extent that it secures future advances made after the secured party acquires knowledge of the purchase, or more than 45 days after the purchase, whichever first occurs, unless made pursuant to a commitment entered into without knowledge of the purchase and before the expiration of the 45 day period.

§ 9.308. Purchase of Chattel Paper and Instruments

A purchaser of chattel paper or an instrument who gives new value and takes possession of it in the ordinary course of his business has priority over a security interest in the chattel paper or instrument

(1) which is perfected under Section 9.304 (permissive filing and temporary perfection) or under Section 9.306 (perfection as to proceeds) if he acts without knowledge that the specific paper or instrument is subject to a security interest; or

(2) which is claimed merely as proceeds of inventory subject to a security interest (Section 9.306) even though he knows that the specific paper or instrument is subject to the security interest.

§ 9.309. Protection of Purchasers of Instruments and Documents

Nothing in this chapter limits the rights of a holder in due course of a negotiable instrument (Section 3.302) or a holder to whom a negotiable document of title has been duly negotiated (Section 7.501) or a bona fide purchaser of a security (Section 8.301) and such holders or purchasers take priority over an earlier security interest even though perfected. Filing under this chapter does not constitute notice of the security interest to such holders or purchasers.

§ 9.310. Priority of Certain Liens Arising by Operation of Law

When a person in the ordinary course of his business furnishes services or materials with respect to goods subject to a security interest, a lien upon goods in the possession of such person given by statute or rule of law for such materials or services takes priority over a perfected security interest unless the lien is statutory and the statute expressly provides otherwise.

§ 9.311. Alienability of Debtor's Rights: Judicial Process

The debtor's rights in collateral may be voluntarily or involuntarily transferred (by way of sale, creation of a security interest, attachment, levy, garnishment or other judicial process) notwithstanding a provision in the security agreement prohibiting any transfer or making the transfer constitute a default.

§ 9.312. Priorities Among Conflicting Security Interests in the Same Collateral

(a) The rules of priority stated in other sections of this subchapter and in the following sections shall govern when applicable: Section 4.208 with respect to the security interests of collecting banks in items being collected, accompanying documents and proceeds; Section 9.103 on security interests related to other jurisdictions; Section 9.114 on consignments.

(b) A perfected security interest in crops for new value given to enable the debtor to produce the crops during the production season and given not more than three months before the crops become growing crops by planting or otherwise takes priority over an earlier perfected security interest to the extent that such earlier interest secures obligations due more than six months before the crops become growing crops by planting or otherwise, even though the person giving new value had knowledge of the earlier security interest.

(c) A perfected purchase money security interest in inventory has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same inventory and also has priority in identifiable cash proceeds received on or before the delivery of the inventory to a buyer if

(1) the purchase money security interest is perfected at the time the debtor receives possession of the inventory; and

(2) the purchase money secured party gives notification in writing to the holder of the conflicting security interest if the holder had filed a financing statement covering the same types of inventory (i) before the date of the filing made by the purchase money secured party, or (ii) before the beginning of the 21 day period where the purchase money security interest is temporarily perfected without filing or possession (Subsection (e) of Section 9.304); and

(3) the holder of the conflicting security interest receives the notification within five years before the debtor receives possession of the inventory; and

(4) the notification states that the person giving the notice has or expects to acquire a purchase money security interest in inventory of the debtor, describing such inventory by item or type.

(d) A purchase money security interest in collateral other than inventory has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same collateral or its proceeds if the purchase money security interest is perfected at the time the debtor receives possession of the collateral or within ten days thereafter.

(e) In all cases not governed by other rules stated in this section (including cases of purchase money security interests which do not qualify for the special priorities set forth in Subsections (c) and (d) of this section), priority between conflicting security interests in the same collateral shall be determined according to the following rules:

(1) Conflicting security interests rank according to priority in time of filing or perfection. Priority dates from the time a filing is first made covering the collateral or the time the security interest is first perfected, whichever is earlier, provided that there is no period thereafter when there is neither filing nor perfection.

(2) So long as conflicting security interests are unperfected, the first to attach has priority.

(f) For the purposes of Subsection (e) a date of filing or perfection as to collateral is also a date of filing or perfection as to proceeds.

(g) If future advances are made while a security interest is perfected by filing or the taking of possession, the security interest has the same priority for the purposes of Subsection (e) with respect to the future advances as it does with respect to the first advance. If a commitment is made before or while the security interest is so perfected, the security interest has the same priority with respect to advances made pursuant thereto. In other cases a perfected security interest has priority from the date the advance is made.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1; Acts 1973, 63rd
Leg., p. 999, ch. 400, § 5, eff. Jan. 1, 1974.]

§ 9.313. Priority of Security Interests in Fixtures

(a) In this section and in the provisions of Subchapter D of this chapter<sup>1</sup> referring to fixture filing, unless the context otherwise requires

(1) goods are "fixtures" when they become so related to particular real estate that an interest in them arises under the real estate law of the state in which the real estate is situated;

(2) a "fixture filing" is the filing in the office where a mortgage on the real estate would be filed or recorded of a financing statement covering goods which are or are to become fixtures and conforming to the requirements of Subsection (e) of Section 9.402;

(3) a mortgage is a "construction mortgage" to the extent that it secures an obligation incurred for the construction of an improvement on land including the acquisition cost of the land, if the recorded writing so indicates.

(b) A security interest under this chapter may be created in goods which are fixtures or may continue in goods which become fixtures, but no security interest exists under this chapter in ordinary building materials incorporated into an improvement on land.

(c) This chapter does not prevent creation of an encumbrance upon fixtures pursuant to real estate law.

(d) A perfected security interest in fixtures has priority over the conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the real estate where

(1) the security interest is a purchase money security interest, the interest of the encumbrancer or owner arises before the goods become fixtures, the security interest is perfected by a fixture filing before the goods become fixtures or within ten days thereafter, and the debtor has an interest of record in the real estate or is in possession of the real estate; or

(2) the security interest is perfected by a fix-ture filing before the interest of the encumbrancer or owner is of record, the security interest has priority over any conflicting interest of a predecessor in title of the encumbrancer or owner, and the debtor has an interest of record in the real estate or is in possession of the real estate; or

(3) the fixtures are readily removable factory or office machines or readily removable replacements of domestic appliances which are consumer goods, and before the goods become fixtures the security interest is perfected by any method permitted by this chapter; or

(4) the conflicting interest is a lien on the real estate obtained by legal or equitable proceedings after the security interest was perfected by any method permitted by this chapter.

(e) A security interest in fixtures, whether or not perfected, has priority over the conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the real estate where

(1) the encumbrancer or owner has consented in writing to the security interest or has dis-claimed an interest in the goods as fixtures; or

(2) the debtor has a right to remove the goods as against the encumbrancer or owner. If the debtor's right terminates, the priority of the security interest continues for a reasonable time.

(f) Notwithstanding Subdivision (1) of Subsection
(d) but otherwise subject to Subsections (d) and (e), a security interest in fixtures is subordinate to a construction mortgage recorded before the goods become fixtures if the goods become fixtures before the completion of the construction. To the extent that it is given to refinance a construction mortgage, a mortgage has this priority to the same extent as the construction mortgage.

(g) In cases not within the preceding subsections, a security interest in fixtures is subordinate to the conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the related real estate who is not the debtor.

(h) When the secured party has priority over all owners and encumbrancers of the real estate, he may, on default, subject to the provisions of Subchapter E,<sup>2</sup> remove his collateral from the real estate but he must reimburse any encumbrancer or owner of the real estate who is not the debtor and who has not otherwise agreed for the cost of repair of any physical injury, but not for any diminution in value of the real estate caused by the absence of the goods removed or by any necessity of replacing them. A person entitled to reimbursement may refuse permission to remove until the secured party gives adequate security for the performance of this obligation.

§ 9.314. Accessions

(a) A security interest in goods which attaches before they are installed in or affixed to other goods takes priority as to the goods installed or affixed (called in this section "accessions") over the claims of all persons to the whole except as stated in Subsection (c) and subject to Section 9.315(a).

(b) A security interest which attaches to goods after they become part of a whole is valid against all persons subsequently acquiring interests in the whole except as stated in Subsection (c) but is invalid against any person with an interest in the whole at the time the security interest attaches to the goods who has not in writing consented to the security interest or disclaimed in interest in the goods as part of the whole.

(c) The security interests described in Subsections (a) and (b) do not take priority over

(1) a subsequent purchaser for value of any interest in the whole; or

(2) a creditor with a lien on the whole subsequently obtained by judicial proceedings; or

(3) a creditor with a prior perfected security interest in the whole to the extent that he makes subsequent advances if the subsequent purchase is made, the lien by judicial proceedings obtained or the subsequent advance under the prior perfected security interest is made or contracted for without knowledge of the security interest and before it is perfected. A purchaser of the whole at a foreclosure sale other than the holder of a perfected security interest purchasing at his own foreclosure sale is a subsequent purchaser within this section.

(d) When under Subsections (a) or (b) and (c) a secured party has an interest in accessions which has priority over the claims of all persons who have interests in the whole, he may on default subject to the provisions of Subchapter E remove his collateral from the whole but he must reimburse any encumbrancer or owner of the whole who is not the debtor and who has not otherwise agreed for the cost of repair of any physical injury but not for any diminution in value of the whole caused by the absence of the goods removed or by any necessity for replacing them. A person entitled to reimbursement may refuse permission to remove until the secured party gives adequate security for the performance of this obligation.

§ 9.315. Priority When Goods are Commingled or Processed

(a) If a security interest in goods was perfected and subsequently the goods or a part thereof have become part of a product or mass, the security interest continues in the product or mass if

(1) the goods are so manufactured, processed, assembled or commingled that their identity is lost in the product or mass; or

(2) a financing statement covering the original goods also covers the product into which the goods have been manufactured, processed or assembled.

In a case to which Subdivision (2) applies, no separate security interest in that part of the original goods which has been manufactured, processed or assembled into the product may be claimed under Section 9.314.

(b) When under Subsection (a) more than one security interest attaches to the product or mass, they rank equally according to the ratio that the cost of the goods to which each interest originally attached bears to the cost of the total product or mass.

§ 9.316. Priority Subject to Subordination

Nothing in this chapter prevents subordination by agreement by any person entitled to priority.

1 West's Tex.Stats. & Codes—12

§ 9.317. Secured Party not Obligated on Contract of Debtor

The mere existence of a security interest or authority given to the debtor to dispose of or use collateral does not impose contract or tort liability upon the secured party for the debtor's acts or omissions.

§ 9.318. Defenses Against Assignee; Modification of Contract After Notification of Assignment; Term Prohibiting Assignment Ineffective; Identification and Proof of Assignment

(a) Unless an account debtor has made an enforceable agreement not to assert defenses or claims arising out of a sale as provided in Section 9.206 the rights of an assignee are subject to

(1) all the terms of the contract between the account debtor and assignor and any defense or claim arising therefrom; and

(2) any other defense or claim of the account debtor against the assignor which accrues before the account debtor receives notification of the assignment.

(b) So far as the right to payment or a part thereof under an assigned contract has not been fully earned by performance, and notwithstanding notification of the assignment, any modification or substitution for the contract made in good faith and in accordance with reasonable commercial standards is effective against an assignee unless the account debtor has otherwise agreed but the assignee acquires corresponding rights under the modified or substituted contract. The assignment may provide that such modification or substitution is a breach by the assignor.

(c) The account debtor is authorized to pay the assignor until the account debtor receives notification that the amount due or to become due has been assigned and that payment is to be made to the assignee. A notification which does not reasonably identify the rights assigned is ineffective. If requested by the account debtor, the assignee must seasonably furnish reasonable proof that the assignment has been made and unless he does so the account debtor may pay the assignor.

(d) A term in any contract between an account debtor and an assignor is ineffective if it prohibits assignment of an account or prohibits creation of a security interest in a general intangible for money due or to become due or requires the account debtor's consent to such assignment or security interest.

SUBCHAPTER D. FILING

§ 9.401. Place of Filing; Erroneous Filing; Removal of Collateral

(a) The proper place to file in order to perfect a security interest is as follows:

(1) when the collateral is equipment used in farming operations, or farm products, or accounts or general intangibles arising from or relating to the sale of farm products by a farmer, or consumer goods, then in the office of the

County Clerk in the county of the debtor's residence or if the debtor is not a resident of this state then in the office of the County Clerk in the county where the goods are kept, and in addition when the collateral is crops growing or to be grown in the office of the County Clerk in the county where the land is located;

(2) when the collateral is timber to be cut or is minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or accounts subject to Subsection (e) of Section 9.103, or when the financing statement is filed as a fixture filing (Section 9.313) and the collateral is goods which are or are to become fixtures, then in the office of the County Clerk in the county where a mortgage on the real estate would be filed or recorded;

(3) in all other cases, in the office of the Secretary of State.

(b) A filing which is made in good faith in an improper place or not in all of the places required by this section is nevertheless effective with regard to any collateral as to which the filing complied with the requirements of this chapter and is also effective with regard to collateral covered by the financing statement against any person who has knowledge of the contents of such financing statement.

(c) A filing which is made in the proper county continues effective for four months after a change to another county of the debtor's residence or place of business or the location of the collateral, whichever controlled the original filing. It becomes ineffective thereafter unless a copy of the financing statement signed by the secured party is filed in the new county within said period. The security interest may also be perfected in the new county after the expiration of the four-month period; in such case perfection dates from the time of perfection in the new county. A change in the use of the collateral does not impair the effectiveness of the original filing.

(d) The rules stated in Section 9.103 determine whether filing is necessary in this state.

(e) For the purposes of this section, the residence of an organization is its place of business if it has one or its chief executive office if it has more than one place of business.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 1985, ch. 735, § 4; Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1; Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 999, ch. 400, § 5, eff. Jan. 1, 1974.]

§ 9.402. Formal Requisites of Financing Statement; Amendments; Mortgage as Financing Statement

(a) A financing statement is sufficient if it gives the names of the debtor and the secured party, is signed by the debtor, gives an address of the secured party from which information concerning the security interest may be obtained, gives a mailing address of the debtor and contains a statement indicating the types, or describing the items, of collateral. A financing statement may be filed before a security agreement is made or a security interest otherwise attaches. When the financing statement covers crops growing or to be grown, the statement must also contain a description of the real estate concerned. When the financing statement covers timber to be cut or covers minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or accounts subject to Subsection (e) of

Section 9.103, or when the financing statement is filed as a fixture filing (Section 9.313) and the collateral is goods which are or are to become fixtures, the statement must also comply with Subsection (e). A copy of the security agreement is sufficient as a financing statement if it contains the above information and is signed by the debtor. A carbon, photographic or other reproduction of a security agreement or a financing statement is sufficient as a financing statement if the security agreement so provides or if the original has been filed in this state.

(b) A financing statement which otherwise complies with Subsection (a) is sufficient when it is signed by the secured party instead of the debtor if it is filed to perfect a security interest in

(1) collateral already subject to a security interest in another jurisdiction when it is brought into this state, or when the debtor's location is changed to this state. Such a financing statement must state that the collateral was brought into this state or that the debtor's location was changed to this state under such circumstances; or

(2) proceeds under Section 9.306 if the security interest in the original collateral was perfected. Such a financing statement must describe the original collateral; or

(3) collateral as to which the filing has lapsed; or

(4) collateral acquired after a change of name, identity or corporate structure of the debtor (Subsection (g)).

(c) A form substantially as follows is sufficient to comply with Subsection (a):

Name of debtor (or assignor) _____
 Address _____
 Name of secured party (or assignee) _____
 Address _____

1. This financing statement covers the following types (or items) of property:

(Describe) _____

2. (If collateral is crops) The above described crops are growing or are to be grown on:
 (Describe Real Estate) _____

3. (If applicable) The above goods are to become fixtures on (or where appropriate substitute either "The above timber is standing on _____" or "The above minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or accounts will be financed at the wellhead or minehead of the well or mine located on _____")

(Describe Real Estate) _____

and this financing statement is to be filed for record in the real estate records. (If the debtor does not have an interest of record) The name of a record owner is _____

4. (If products of collateral are claimed) Products of the Collateral are also covered.

(use _____ whichever _____

Signature of Debtor (or Assignor) is _____ applicable)

 Signature of Secured Party (or Assignee)

(d) A financing statement may be amended by filing a writing signed by both the debtor and the secured party. An amendment does not extend the period of effectiveness of a financing statement. If any amendment adds collateral, it is effective as to the added collateral only from the filing date of the amendment. In this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the term "financing statement" means the original financing statement and any amendments.

(e) A financing statement covering timber to be cut or covering minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or accounts subject to Subsection (e) of Section 9.103, or a financing statement filed as a fixture filing (Section 9.313), must show that it covers this type of collateral, must recite that it is to be filed for record in the real estate records, and the financing statement must contain a description of the real estate sufficient if it were contained in a mortgage of the real estate to give constructive notice of the mortgage under the law of this state. If the debtor does not have an interest of record in the real estate, the financing statement must show the name of the record owner.

(f) A mortgage is effective as a financing statement filed as a fixture filing from the date of its filing for record if (1) the goods are described in the mortgage by item or type, (2) the goods are or are to become fixtures related to the real estate described in the mortgage, (3) the mortgage complies with the requirements for a financing statement in this section other than a recital that it is to be filed in the real estate records, and (4) the mortgage is duly recorded. No fee with reference to the financing statement is required other than the regular recording and satisfaction fees with respect to the mortgage.

(g) A financing statement sufficiently shows the name of the debtor if it gives the individual, partnership or corporate name of the debtor, whether or not it adds other trade names or the names of partners. Where the debtor so changes his name or in the case of an organization its name, identity or corporate structure that a filed financing statement becomes seriously misleading, the filing is not effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the debtor more than four months after the change, unless a new appropriate financing statement is filed before the expiration of that time. A filed financing statement remains effective with respect to collateral transferred by the debtor even though the secured party knows of or consents to the transfer.

(h) A financing statement substantially complying with the requirements of this section is effective even though it contains minor errors which are not seriously misleading.

§ 9.403. What Constitutes Filing; Duration of Filing; Effect of Lapsed Filing; Duties of Filing Officer

(a) Presentation for filing of a financing statement and tender of the filing fee or acceptance of the statement by the filing officer constitutes filing under this chapter.

(b) Except as provided in Subsection (f) a filed financing statement is effective for a period of five years from the date of filing. The effectiveness of a filed financing statement lapses on the expiration of the five year period unless a continuation statement is filed prior to the lapse. If a security interest perfected by filing exists at the time insolvency proceedings are commenced by or against the debtor, the security interest remains perfected until termination of the insolvency proceedings and thereafter for a period of sixty days or until expiration of the five year period, whichever occurs later. Upon lapse the security interest becomes unperfected, unless it is perfected without filing. If the security interest becomes unperfected upon lapse, it is deemed to have been unperfected as against a person who became a purchaser or lien creditor before lapse.

(c) A continuation statement may be filed by the secured party within six months prior to the expiration of the five year period specified in Subsection (b). Any such continuation statement must be signed by the secured party, identify the original statement by file number and state that the original statement is still effective. A continuation statement signed by a person other than the secured party of record must be accompanied by a separate written statement of assignment signed by the secured party of record and complying with Subsection (b) of Section 9.405, including payment of the required fee. Upon timely filing of the continuation statement, the effectiveness of the original statement is continued for five years after the last date to which the filing was effective whereupon it lapses in the same manner as provided in Subsection (b) unless another continuation statement is filed prior to such lapse. Succeeding continuation statements may be filed in the same manner to continue the effectiveness of the original statement. Unless a statute on disposition of public records provides otherwise, the filing officer may remove a lapsed statement from the files and destroy it immediately if he has retained a microfilm or other photographic record, or in other cases after one year after the lapse. The filing officer shall so arrange matters by physical annexation of financing statements to continuation statements or other related filings, or by other means, that if he physically destroys the financing statements of a period more than five years past, those which have been continued by a continuation statement or which are still effective under Subsection (f) shall be retained.

(d) Except as provided in Subsection (g) a filing officer shall mark each statement with a file number and with the date and hour of filing and shall hold the statement or a microfilm or other photographic copy thereof for public inspection. In addition the filing officer shall index the statements according to the name of the debtor and shall note in the index the file number and the address of the debtor given in the statement.

(e) The uniform fee for filing and indexing and for stamping a copy furnished by the secured party to show the date and place of filing for an original financing statement or for a continuation statement shall be $3.00 if the statement is in the standard form prescribed by the Secretary of State and otherwise shall be $6.00, plus in each case, if the financing statement is subject to Subsection (e) of Section

9.402, $3.00. The secured party may at his option show a trade name for any person.

(f) A real estate mortgage which is effective as a fixture filing under Subsection (f) of Section 9.402 remains effective as a fixture filing until the mortgage is released or satisfied of record or its effectiveness otherwise terminates as to the real estate.

(g) When a financing statement covers timber to be cut or covers minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or accounts subject to Subsection (e) of Section 9.103, or is filed as a fixture filing, it shall be filed for record and the filing officer shall index it under the names of the debtor and any owner of record shown on the financing statement in the same fashion as if they were the mortgagors in a mortgage of the real estate described, and, to the extent that the law of this state provides for indexing of mortgages under the name of the mortgagee, under the name of the secured party as if he were the mortgagee thereunder, or where indexing is by description in the same fashion as if the financing statement were a mortgage of the real estate described.

(h) The filing and other fees paid to the Secretary of State under this chapter shall be deposited in the general revenue fund of the state treasury.

§ 9.404. Termination statement

(a) If a financing statement covering consumer goods is filed on or after January 1, 1974, then within one month or within ten days following written demand by the debtor after there is no outstanding secured obligation and no commitment to make advances, incur obligations or otherwise give value, the secured party must file with each filing officer with whom the financing statement was filed, a termination statement to the effect that he no longer claims a security interest under the financing statement which shall be identified by file number. In other cases whenever there is no outstanding secured obligation and no commitment to make advances, incur obligations or otherwise give value, the secured party must on written demand by the debtor send the debtor, for each filing officer with whom the financing statement was filed, a termination statement to the effect that he no longer claims a security interest under the financing statement, which shall be identified by file number. A termination statement signed by a person other than the secured party of record must be accompanied by a separate written statement of assignment signed by the secured party of record and complying with Subsection (b) of Section 9.405, including payment of the required fee. If the affected secured party fails to file such a termination statement as required by this subsection, or to send such a termination statement within ten days after proper demand therefor he shall be liable to the debtor for $100, and in addition for any loss caused to the debtor by such failure.

(b) On presentation to the filing officer of such a termination statement he must note it in the index. If he has received the termination statement in duplicate, he shall return one copy of the termination statement to the secured party stamped to show the time of receipt thereof. If the filing officer has a microfilm or other photographic record of the financing statement, and of any related continuation statement, statement of assignment and statement of release, he may remove the originals from the files at any time after receipt of the termination statement, or if he has no such record, he may remove them from the files at any time after one year after receipt of the termination statement.

(c) If the termination statement is in the standard form prescribed by the Secretary of State, the uniform fee for filing and indexing the termination statement shall be $3.00, and otherwise shall be $6.00.

§ 9.405. Assignment of Security Interest: Duties of Filing Officer; Fees

(a) A financing statement may disclose an assignment of a security interest in the collateral described in the financing statement by indication in the financing statement of the name and address of the assignee or by an assignment itself or a copy thereof on the face or back of the statement. On presentation to the filing officer of such a financing statement the filing officer shall mark the same as provided in Section 9.403(d). The uniform fee for filing, indexing, and furnishing filing data for a financing statement so indicating an assignment shall be $3.00 if the statement is in the standard form prescribed by the Secretary of State and otherwise shall be $6.00.

(b) A secured party may assign of record all or a part of his rights under a financing statement by the filing in the place where the original financing statement was filed of a separate written statement of assignment signed by the secured party of record and setting forth the name of the secured party of record and the debtor, the file number and the date of filing of the financing statement and the name and address of the assignee and containing a description of the collateral assigned. A copy of the assignment is sufficient as a separate statement if it complies with the preceding sentence. On presentation to the filing officer of such a separate statement, the filing officer shall mark such separate statement with the date and hour of the filing. He shall note the assignment on the index of the financing statement, or in the case of a fixture filing, or a filing covering timber to be cut, or covering minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or accounts subject to Subsection (e) of Section 9.103, he shall index the assignment under the name of the assignor as grantor and, to the extent that the law of this state provides for indexing the assignment of a mortgage under the name of the assignee, he shall index the assignment of the financing statement under the name of the assignee. The uniform fee for filing, indexing and furnishing filing data about such a separate statement of assignment shall be $3.00 if the statement is in the standard form prescribed by the Secretary of State and otherwise shall be $6.00. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection, an assignment of record of a security interest in a fixture contained in a mortgage effective as a fixture filing (Subsection (f) of Section 9.402) may be made only by an assignment of the mortgage in the manner provided by the law of this state other than this code.

(c) After the disclosure of filing of an assignment under this section, the assignee is the secured party of record.

§ 9.406. Release of Collateral; Duties of Filing Officer; Fees

A secured party of record may by his signed statement release all or a part of any collateral described in a filed financing statement. The statement of release is sufficient if it contains a description of the collateral being released, the name and address of the debtor, the name and address of the secured party, and the file number of the financing statement. A statement of release signed by a person other than the secured party of record must be accompanied by a separate written statement of assignment signed by the secured party of record and complying with Subsection (b) of Section 9.405, including payment of the required fee. Upon presentation of such a statement of release to the filing officer he shall mark the statement with the hour and date of filing and shall note the same upon the margin of the index of the filing of the financing statement. The uniform fee for filing and noting such a statement of release shall be $3.00 if the statement is in the standard form prescribed by the Secretary of State and otherwise shall be $6.00.

§ 9.407. Information From Filing Officer

(a) If the person filing any financing statement, termination statement, statement of assignment, or statement of release, furnishes the filing officer a copy thereof, the filing officer shall upon request note upon the copy the file number and date and hour of the filing of the original and deliver or send the copy to such person.

(b) Upon request of any person, the filing officer shall issue his certificate showing whether there is on file on the date and hour stated therein, any presently effective financing statement naming a particular debtor and any statement of assignment thereof and if there is, giving the date and hour of filing of each such statement and the names and addresses of each secured party therein. The uniform fee for such a certificate shall be $5.00 if the request for the certificate is in the standard form prescribed by the Secretary of State and otherwise shall be $10.00. Upon request the filing officer shall furnish a copy of any filed financing statement or statement of assignment for a uniform fee of $1.00 per page, at not less than $5.00 per request concerning a debtor.

§ 9.408. Financing Statements Covering Consigned or Leased Goods

A consignor or lessor of goods may file a financing statement using the terms "consignor," "consignee," "lessor," "lessee" or the like instead of the terms specified in Section 9.402. The provisions of this subchapter shall apply as appropriate to such a financing statement but its filing shall not of itself be a factor in determining whether or not the consignment or lease is intended as security (Section 1.201(37)). However, if it is determined for other reasons that the consignment or lease is so intended, a security interest of the consignor or lessor which attaches to the consigned or lease goods is perfected by such filing.

§ 9.409. Prescribed Forms

(a) The Secretary of State may prescribe the forms to be used in making any filing or in requesting any information of the filing officer under this chapter. Where the Secretary of State has prescribed the form and a person fails to use this form, the fee shall be twice that specified in the preceding sections.

(b) The filing and other fees paid to the Secretary of State under this chapter shall be deposited in the General Revenue Fund of the State Treasury.

SUBCHAPTER E. DEFAULT

§ 9.501. Default; Procedure When Security Agreement Covers Both Real and Personal Property

(a) When a debtor is in default under a security agreement, a secured party has the rights and remedies provided in this subchapter and except as limited by Subsection (c) those provided in the security agreement. He may reduce his claim to judgment, foreclose or otherwise enforce the security interest by any available judicial procedure. If the collateral is documents the secured party may proceed either as to the documents or as to the goods covered thereby. A secured party in possession has the rights, remedies and duties provided in Section 9.207. The rights and remedies referred to in this subsection are cumulative.

(b) After default, the debtor has the rights and remedies provided in this subchapter, those provided in the security agreement and those provided in Section 9.207.

(c) To the extent that they give rights to the debtor and impose duties on the secured party, the rules stated in the subsections referred to below may not be waived or varied except as provided with respect to compulsory disposition of collateral (Subsection (c) of Section 9.504 and Section 9.505) and with respect to redemption of collateral (Section 9.506) but the parties may by agreement determine the standards by which the fulfillment of these rights and duties is to be measured if such standards are not manifestly unreasonable:

(1) Subsection (b) of Section 9.502 and Subsection (b) of Section 9.504 insofar as they require accounting for surplus proceeds of collateral;

(2) Subsection (c) of Section 9.504 and Subsection (a) of Section 9.505 which deal with disposition of collateral;

(3) Subsection (b) of Section 9.505 which deals with acceptance of collateral as discharge of obligation;

(4) Section 9.506 which deals with redemption of collateral; and

(5) Subsection (a) of Section 9.507 which deals with the secured party's liability for failure to comply with this subchapter.

(d) If the security agreement covers both real and personal property, the secured party may proceed under this subchapter as to the personal property or he may proceed as to both the real and the personal property in accordance with his rights and remedies in respect of the real property in which case the provisions of this subchapter do not apply.

(e) When a secured party has reduced his claim to judgment the lien of any levy which may be made upon his collateral by virtue of any execution based upon the judgment shall relate back to the date of the perfection of the security interest in such collateral. A judicial sale, pursuant to such execution, is a foreclosure of security interest by judicial procedure within the meaning of this section, and the secured party may purchase at the sale and thereafter hold the collateral free of any other requirements of this chapter.

§ 9.502. Collection Rights of Secured Party

(a) When so agreed and in any event on default the secured party is entitled to notify an account debtor or the obligor on an instrument to make payment to him whether or not the assignor was theretofore making collections on the collateral, and also to take control of any proceeds to which he is entitled under Section 9.306.

(b) A secured party who by agreement is entitled to charge back uncollected collateral or otherwise to full or limited recourse against the debtor and who undertakes to collect from the account debtors or obligors must proceed in a commercially reasonable manner and may deduct his reasonable expenses of realization from the collections. If the security agreement secures an indebtedness, the secured party must account to the debtor for any surplus, and unless otherwise agreed, the debtor is liable for any deficiency. But, if the underlying transaction was a sale of accounts or chattel paper, the debtor is entitled to any surplus or is liable for any deficiency only if the security agreement so provides.

§ 9.503. Secured Party's Right to Take Possession After Default

Unless otherwise agreed a secured party has on default the right to take possession of the collateral. In taking possession a secured party may proceed without judicial process if this can be done without breach of the peace or may proceed by action. If the security agreement so provides the secured party may require the debtor to assemble the collateral and make it available to the secured party at a place to be designated by the secured party which is reasonably convenient to both parties. Without removal a secured party may render equipment unusable, and may dispose of collateral on the debtor's premises under Section 9.504.

§ 9.504. Secured Party's Right to Dispose of Collateral After Default; Effect of Disposition

(a) A secured party after default may sell, lease or otherwise dispose of any or all of the collateral in its then condition or following any commercially reasonable preparation or processing. Any sale of goods is subject to the chapter on Sales (Chapter 2). The proceeds of disposition shall be applied in the order following to

(1) the reasonable expenses of retaking, holding, preparing for sale or lease, selling, leasing and the like and, to the extent provided for in the agreement and not prohibited by law, the reasonable attorneys' fees and legal expenses incurred by the secured party;

(2) the satisfaction of indebtedness secured by the security interest under which the disposition is made;

(3) the satisfaction of indebtedness secured by any subordinate security interest in the collateral if written notification of demand therefor is received before distribution of the proceeds is completed. If requested by the secured party, the holder of a subordinate security interest must seasonably furnish reasonable proof of his interest, and unless he does so, the secured party need not comply with his demand.

(b) If the security interest secures an indebtedness, the secured party must account to the debtor for any surplus, and, unless otherwise agreed, the debtor is liable for any deficiency. But if the underlying transaction was a sale of accounts or chattel paper, the debtor is entitled to any surplus or is liable for any deficiency only if the security agreement so provides.

(c) Disposition of the collateral may be by public or private proceedings and may be made by way of one or more contracts. Sale or other disposition may be as a unit or in parcels and at any time and place and on any terms but every aspect of the disposition including the method, manner, time, place and terms must be commercially reasonable. Unless collateral is perishable or threatens to decline speedily in value or is of a type customarily sold on a recognized market, reasonable notification of the time and place of any public sale or reasonable notification of the time after which any private sale or other intended disposition is to be made shall be sent by the secured party to the debtor, if he has not signed after default a statement renouncing or modifying his right to notification of sale. In the case of consumer goods no other notification need be sent. In other cases notification shall be sent to any other secured party who has duly filed a financial statement indexed in the name of the debtor in this state or from whom the secured party has received (before sending his notification to the debtor or before the debtor's renunciation of his rights) written notice of a claim of an interest in the collateral. The secured party may buy at any public sale and if the collateral is of a type customarily sold in a recognized market or is of a type which is the subject of widely distributed standard price quotations he may buy at private sale.

(d) When collateral is disposed of by a secured party after default, the disposition transfers to a purchaser for value all of the debtor's rights therein, discharges the security interest under which it is made and any security interest or lien subordinate thereto. The purchaser takes free of all such rights and interests even though the secured party fails to comply with the requirements of this subchapter or of any judicial proceedings

(1) in the case of a public sale, if the purchaser has no knowledge of any defects in the sale and if he does not buy in collusion with the secured party, other bidders or the person conducting the sale; or

(2) in any other case, if the purchaser acts in good faith.

(e) A person who is liable to a secured party under a guaranty, indorsement, repurchase agreement or the like and who receives a transfer of collateral from the secured party or is subrogated to his rights has thereafter the rights and duties of the secured party. Such a transfer of collateral is not a sale or disposition of the collateral under this chapter.

§ 9.505. Compulsory Disposition of Collateral; Acceptance of the Collateral as Discharge of Obligation

(a) If the debtor has paid sixty per cent of the cash price in the case of a purchase money security interest in consumer goods or sixty per cent of the loan in the case of another security interest in consumer goods, and has not signed after default a statement renouncing or modifying his rights under this subchapter a secured party who has taken possession of collateral must dispose of it under Section 9.504 and if he fails to do so within ninety days after he takes possession the debtor at his option may recover in conversion or under Section 9.507(a) on secured party's liability.

(b) In any other case involving consumer goods or any other collateral a secured party in possession may, after default, propose to retain the collateral in satisfaction of the obligation. Written notice of such proposal shall be sent to the debtor if he has not signed after default a statement renouncing or modifying his rights under this subsection. In the case of consumer goods no other notice need be given. In other cases notice shall be sent to any other secured party who has duly filed a financial statement indexed in the name of the debtor in this state or from whom the secured party has received (before sending his notice to the debtor or before the debtor's renunciation of his rights) written notice of a claim of an interest in the collateral. If the secured party receives objection in writing from a person entitled to receive notification within twenty-one days after the notice was sent, the secured party must dispose of the collateral under Section 9.504. In the absence of such written objection the secured party may retain the collateral in satisfaction of the debtor's obligation.

§ 9.506. Debtor's Right to Redeem Collateral

At any time before the secured party has disposed of collateral or entered into a contract for its disposition under Section 9.504 or before the obligation has been discharged under Section 9.505(b) the debtor or any other secured party may unless otherwise agreed in writing after default redeem the collateral by tendering fulfillment of all obligations secured by the collateral as well as the expenses reasonably incurred by the secured party in retaking, holding and preparing the collateral for disposition, in arranging for the sale, and to the extent provided in the agreement and not prohibited by law, his reasonable attorneys' fees and legal expenses.

§ 9.507. Secured Party's Liability for Failure to Comply With This Subchapter

(a) If it is established that the secured party is not proceeding in accordance with the provisions of this subchapter disposition may be ordered or restrained on appropriate terms and conditions. If the disposition has occurred the debtor or any person entitled to notification or whose security interest has been made known to the secured party prior to the disposition has a right to recover from the secured party any loss caused by a failure to comply with the provisions of this subchapter. If the collateral is consumer goods, the debtor has a right to recover in any event an amount not less than the credit service charge plus ten per cent of the principal amount of the debt or the time price differential plus ten per cent of the cash price.

(b) The fact that a better price could have been obtained by a sale at different time or in a different method from that selected by the secured party is not of itself sufficient to establish that the sale was not made in a commercially reasonable manner. If the secured party either sells the collateral in the usual manner in any recognized market therefor or if he sells at the price current in such market at the time of his sale or if he has otherwise sold in conformity with reasonable commercial practices among dealers in the type of property sold he has sold in a commercially reasonable manner. The principles stated in the two preceding sentences with respect to sales also apply as may be appropriate to other types of disposition. A disposition which has been approved in any judicial proceeding or by any bona fide creditors' committee or representative of creditors shall conclusively be deemed to be commercially reasonable, but this sentence does not indicate that any such approval must be obtained in any case nor does it indicate that any disposition not so approved is not commercially reasonable.

This Act<sup>1</sup> (referred to as the "1973 amendments") takes effect on January 1, 1974.

§ 11.102. Preservation of Old Transition Provisions

The provisions of Article 10 of the Uniform Commercial Code, as amended, shall continue to apply to the amended code, and for this purpose this code as amended shall be considered one continuous statute.

§ 11.103. Transition to 1973 Amendments—General Rule

Transactions validly entered into after June 30, 1966, and before January 1, 1974, and which were subject to the provisions of this title and which would be subject to the 1973 amendments if they had been entered into on or after January 1, 1974, and the rights, duties and interests flowing from such transactions remain valid on and after the latter date and may be terminated, completed, consummated or enforced as required or permitted by the 1973 amendments. Security interests arising out of such transactions which are perfected when the 1973 amendments become effective shall remain perfected until they lapse as provided in the code as amended, and may be continued as permitted by the code as amended, except as stated in Section 11.105.

§ 11.104. Transition Provision on Change of Requirement of Filing

A security interest for the perfection of which filing or the taking of possession was required under this code and which attached prior to January 1, 1974, but was not perfected shall be deemed perfected on January 1, 1974, if this code as amended permits perfection without filing or authorizes filing in the office or offices where a prior ineffective filing was made.

§ 11.105. Transition Provision on Change of Place of Filing

(a) A financing statement or continuation statement filed prior to January 1, 1974, which shall not have lapsed prior to January 1, 1974, shall remain effective for the period provided in the code before January 1, 1974, but not less than five years after the filing.

(b) With respect to any collateral acquired by the debtor on or after January 1, 1974, any effective financing statement or continuation statement described in this section shall apply only if the filing or filings are in the office or offices that would be appropriate to perfect the security interests in the new collateral under the code with its 1973 amendments.

(c) The effectiveness of any financing statement or continuation statement filed prior to January 1, 1974, may be continued by a continuation statement as permitted by this code with 1973 amendments, except that if this code with 1973 amendments, requires a filing or a filing for record in an office where there was no previous financing statement, a new financing statement conforming to Section 11.106 shall be filed or filed for record in that office.

(d) If the record of a mortgage of real estate would have been effective as a fixture filing of goods described therein if the 1973 amendments had been in effect on the date of the filing for record of the mortgage, the mortgage shall be deemed effective as a fixture filing as to such goods under Subsection (f) of Section 9.402 of this code, as amended, on January 1, 1974.

§ 11.106. Required Refilings

(a) If a security interest is perfected or has priority when the 1973 amendments take effect as to all persons or as to certain persons without any filing or recording, and if the filing of a financing statement would be required for the perfection or priority of the security interest against those persons under the 1973 amendments, the perfection and priority rights of the security interest continue until January 1, 1977. The perfection will then lapse unless a financing statement is filed as provided in Subsection (d) or unless the security interest is perfected otherwise than by filing.

(b) If a security interest is perfected when the 1973 amendments take effect under a law other than this title which requires no further filing, refiling or recording to continue its perfection, perfection continues until and will lapse on January 1, 1977, unless a financing statement is filed as provided in Subsection (d) or unless the security interest is perfected otherwise than by filing, or unless under Subsection (c) of Section 9.302 the other law continues to govern filing.

(c) If a security interest is perfected by a filing, refiling or recording under a law repealed by this Act which required further filing, refiling or recording to continue its perfection, perfection continues and will lapse on the date provided by the law so repealed for such further filing, refiling or recording unless a financing statement is filed as provided in Subsection (d) or unless the security interest is perfected otherwise than by filing.

(d) A financing statement may be filed within six months before the perfection of a security interest would otherwise lapse. Any such financing statement may be signed by either the debtor or the secured party. It must identify the security agreement, statement or notice (however denominated in any statute or other law repealed or modified by this Act), state the office where and the date when the last filing, refiling or recording, if any, was made with respect thereto, and the filing number, if any, or book and page, if any, of recording and further state that the security agreement, statement or notice, however denominated, in another filing office under this title or under any statute or other law repealed or modified by this Act is still effective. Section 9.401 and Section 9.103 determine the proper place to file such a financing statement. Except as specified in this subsection, the provisions of Section 9.403(c) for continuation statements apply to such a financing statement.

§ 11.107. Transition Provisions as to Priorities

Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, this title as it existed before the 1973 amendments took effect shall apply to any questions of priority if the positions of the parties were fixed prior to January 1, 1974. In other cases questions of priority shall be determined by this title with 1973 amendments.

§ 11.108. Presumption That Rule of Law Continues Unchanged

Unless a change in law has clearly been made, the provisions of this title with 1973 amendments shall be deemed declaratory of the meaning of the title.

SUBCHAPTER A. DEFINITIONS AND PROHIBITIONS

§ 15.01. Monopoly Defined

A "monopoly" is a combination or consolidation of two or more corporations effected by

(1) bringing the direction of their affairs under common management or control to create, or where the common management or control tends to create, a trust as defined in Section 15.02 of this code; or

(2) one corporation acquiring (in whole or part and whether directly, through trustees, or otherwise) the stock, bonds, franchise or other rights, or physical property of one or more other corporations to prevent or lessen, or where the acquisition tends to prevent or lessen, competition.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 15.02. Trust Defined

(a) In this section, unless the context requires a different definition, "person" does not include municipal corporation. (No source citation.)

(b) A "trust" is a combination of capital, skill, or acts by two or more persons to

(1) restrict, or tend to restrict, trade, commerce, aids to commerce, the preparation of tangible personal property for market or transportation, or the free pursuit of a lawful business; or

(2) fix, maintain, increase, or reduce the price of tangible personal property, the cost of insurance, or the cost of preparing tangible personal property for market or transportation; or

(3) prevent or lessen competition in

(A) the manufacture, transportation, sale, or purchase of tangible personal property;

(B) the business of insurance;

(C) aids to commerce; or

(D) preparing tangible personal property for market or transportation; or

(4) affect, control, or establish the price of tangible personal property, or the cost of transportation, insurance, or preparing tangible personal property for market or transportation; or

(5) agree

(A) not to sell, dispose of, transport, or prepare tangible personal property for market or transportation, or not to make an insurance contract, at a price below a common standard or figure;

(B) to maintain the price of tangible personal property, the charge for transportation or insurance, or the cost of preparing tangible personal property for market or transportation at a fixed or graded figure;

(C) to affect or maintain the price of tangible personal property or the cost of transportation, insurance, or preparing tangible personal property for market or transportation in order to preclude free competition between or among themselves or others in the sale or transportation of tangible personal property, in the business of transportation or insurance, or in preparing tangible personal property for market or transportation; or

(D) to pool, combine, or unite an interest they have in the sale or purchase of tangible personal property, or in the charge for transportation, insurance, or preparing tangible personal property for market or transportation, so that the price of the tangible personal property, or charge for transportation, insurance, or preparing tangible personal property for market or transportation, might be in any manner affected; or

(6) regulate, fix, or limit the output of tangible personal property, or the amount of insurance undertaken, or the amount of work performed in preparing tangible personal property for market or transportation; or

(7) refrain from engaging in business, or from buying or selling tangible personal property, partially or entirely in this state.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 15.03. Conspiracy in Restraint of Trade Defined

(a) It is a conspiracy in restraint of trade for

(1) two or more persons engaged in buying or selling tangible personal property to agree not to buy from or sell to another person tangible personal property;

(2) two or more persons to agree to boycott, or threaten not to buy from or sell to, a person because that person buys from or sells to another person;

(3) two or more persons to agree to boycott, or not to deal with, the tangible personal property of another person; or

(4) an employer and labor union or other organization to agree or combine so that

(A) a person is denied the right to work for an employer because of membership or nonmembership in the labor union or other organization; or

(B) membership or nonmembership in the labor union or other organization is made a condition of obtaining or keeping a job with the employer.

(b) It is not a conspiracy in restraint of trade for

(1) employees to agree to quit their employment, or to refuse to deal with tangible personal property of their immediate employer, unless their refusal to deal with tangible personal property of their immediate employer is intended to induce, or has the effect of inducing, that employer to refrain from buying or otherwise acquiring tangible personal property from a person; or

(2) persons to agree to refer for employment a migratory farm worker who works on seasonal crops if the referral is made irrespective of whether or not the worker belongs to a labor union or other organization.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 15.04. Monopoly, Trust, and Conspiracy in Restraint of Trade Prohibited; Agreement Violating Prohibition Void

(a) Every monopoly, trust, and conspiracy in restraint of trade, as defined in Sections 15.01, 15.02, and 15.03 of this code, respectively, is illegal and prohibited.

(b) An agreement violating the prohibition against a monopoly, trust, or conspiracy in restraint of trade contained in Subsection (a) of this section is void and unenforceable in law or equity.

§ 15.05. Public Utility Prohibited from Injuring Competition or Discriminating in Rates

(a) In this section, unless the context requires a different definition, "utility" means an individual, company, partnership, or corporation in the business of transporting or selling natural gas, electric current and power, telephone or telegraph service, or a similar public utility.

(b) No utility may intentionally prevent or hinder legitimate competition among utilities. No utility doing business in more than one municipality or county may discriminate between or among persons in rates, prices, or kinds of service for the purpose of injuring a competitor or preventing or hindering competition among utilities.

(c) For purposes of this section,

(1) "subsidiary utility" means a utility that is controlled by another individual, company, partnership, or corporation;

(2) "controlling company" means an individual, company, partnership, or corporation that controls a subsidiary utility;

(3) the act of a subsidiary utility is the act of its controlling company and of every other subsidiary utility of that controlling company;

(4) the act of a controlling company is the act of each of its subsidiary utilities; and

(5) the costs of production and transportation shall be considered in determining whether or not discrimination in rates, prices, or kinds of service exists.

(d) A utility's reduction of rates or prices below those required by an ordinance or proposed in a petition is prima facie evidence of an intent to prevent competition or injure a competitor if

(1) a municipality has required by ordinance, or its governing body, a majority of its citizens, or a majority of the residents of a community served by the utility has requested by petition, that the utility lower the rates or prices charged for its services;

(2) the petition proposes rates or prices for the utility to charge which the municipality, its citizens, or the residents believe to be fair and reasonable;

(3) the utility first refuses or fails to reduce its rates or prices;

(4) within 12 months after the refusal or failure another utility begins, or attempts to begin, serving the municipality or community; and

(5) the reduction is made after the other utility began, or attempted to begin, serving the municipality or community.

(e) It is not prima facie evidence of an intent to prevent competition or injure a competitor for a utility to reduce its rates or prices to the level of those charged by the municipality or a competing utility, even though the reduced rates or prices are below those required by the ordinance or requested in the petition.

(f) A utility adjudged guilty of violating a provision of Subsection (b) of this section forfeits its charter or articles of incorporation (or permit or certificate of authority) and right to do business in this state. The attorney general on learning of the violation shall file suit, or institute quo warranto proceedings, in a district court in any county in this state to obtain the forfeiture.

§ 15.06. Publication Tying Arrangement Prohibited

(a) No wholesale distributor or news agency, or its agent or employee, may require or demand that a retailer purchase or accept from the wholesale distributor or news agency a particular publication so that the retailer can obtain another publication from the wholesale distributor or news agency.

(b) A wholesale distributor or news agency, or its agent or employee, who violates a provision of Subsection (a) of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction is punishable by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months or by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by both.

[Sections 15.07 to 15.11 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER B. PROCEDURE AND EVIDENCE

§ 15.12. Declaratory Judgment Action

(a) A person (other than a foreign corporation not having a permit or certificate of authority to do business in this state) uncertain of whether or not his action or proposed action violates or will violate the prohibition contained in Section 15.04 of this code may file suit against the state for declaratory judgment, citing this section as authority, in one of the Travis County district courts.

(b) Citation and all process in the suit shall be served on the attorney general, who shall represent the state. The petition shall describe in detail the person's action, or proposed action, and all other relevant facts, and the court in its declaratory judgment shall fully recite the action, or proposed action, and other facts considered.

(c) A declaratory judgment granted under this section which rules that action or proposed action does not violate the prohibition contained in Section 15.04 of this code

(1) shall be strictly construed and may not be extended by implication to an action or fact not recited in the judgment;

(2) does not bind the state with reference to a person not a party to the suit in which the judgment was granted; and

(3) does not estop the state from subsequently establishing a violation of the prohibition contained in Section 15.04 of this code based on an action or fact not recited in the declaratory judgment, which action or fact, when combined with an action or fact recited in the judgment, constitutes a violation of the prohibition contained in Section 15.04 of this code.

(d) A person filing suit under this section shall pay all costs of the suit.

§ 15.13. Attorney General's Assistants

An assistant attorney general, county attorney, district attorney, or criminal district attorney acting under the attorney general's direction has the powers and duties of the attorney general set out in Sections 15.14-15.17 of this code.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 15.14. Discovery Procedure

(a) If the attorney general believes that a person knows of a violation of the prohibition contained in Section 15.04 of this code, he may apply to the county judge or to a justice of the peace in the county where the person is located to compel the examination of the person.

(b) Upon receipt of the application, the county judge or justice of the peace shall

- (1) summon the person as in a criminal case;
- (2) administer an oath to him;
- (3) transcribe his statement;
- (4) have him swear to and sign his statement; and
- (5) deliver his statement to the attorney general.

(c) A person summoned under Subsection (b) of this section is guilty of contempt of court if he fails to

- (1) appear in response to the summons;
- (2) make a sworn statement of the facts he knows; or
- (3) sign his written statement.

(d) A person guilty of contempt under Subsection (c) of this section may be

- (1) fined not more than $100; and
- (2) attached and imprisoned in the county jail until he makes a full statement about the facts he knows.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 15.15. Party to Suit May Subpoena Witness

(a) A party to a suit brought to enforce the prohibition contained in Section 15.04 of this code, or to enforce the laws conserving natural resources, may apply to the clerk of the court in which the suit is pending to subpoena a witness located anywhere in the state. On receipt of the application, the clerk shall issue the subpoena applied for but may not issue more than five subpoenas each for state witnesses and defense witnesses without first obtaining the court's written approval.

(b) A witness subpoenaed under Subsection (a) of this section who fails to appear and testify in compliance with the subpoena is guilty of contempt of court and may be

- (1) fined not more than $100; and
- (2) attached and imprisoned in the county jail until he appears in court and testifies about the facts he knows.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 15.16. State May Compel Attendance of Defendant and Production of Documentary Evidence

(a) In this section, unless the context requires a different definition,

- (1) "witness" includes
  - (A) director, officer, agent, and employee of a defendant corporation or joint stock association;
  - (B) member of a defendant partnership; and
  - (C) individual defendant; and

(2) "court" includes special commissioner appointed under Section 15.19 of this code.

(b) The attorney general in a suit brought to enforce the prohibition contained in Section 15.04 of this code, or to enforce the laws regulating corporations, may request the appearance and testimony of a witness, and his production of documentary evidence, at a place in or out of the state by written application to the court in term time or vacation.

(c) The attorney general in the application shall

- (1) state the name and address of each witness whose testimony he wishes to take;
- (2) describe in a general way the documentary evidence he wishes produced; and
- (3) state the place where and the time when the witness is to appear and testify or produce documentary evidence.

(d) On receipt of the attorney general's application, the court shall immediately issue a written notice, directed to the witness and defendant or his attorney, requiring the defendant or his attorney to notify the witness of the place where and the time when he is to appear and testify or produce documentary evidence.

(e) A defendant or his attorney notified by written notice issued under Subsection (d) of this section

- (1) that a witness is wanted to testify shall immediately inform the witness of the place where and time when he is required to appear and testify; and
- (2) to produce documentary evidence shall produce the evidence if it belongs to the defendant or is under his control at the place and time specified in the notice.

(f) A witness notified under Subsection (e) of this section shall remain in attendance before the court from day to day until discharged by the court. [Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 15.17. Sanction for Failure to Appear or Produce Documentary Evidence

(a) The court on motion of the attorney general and after a hearing shall strike all of the defendant's pleadings and render default judgment against him if a witness fails or refuses to appear and testify or produce documentary evidence in compliance with a written notice issued under Section 15.16(d) of this code.

(b) A defendant's pleadings may not be stricken, nor default judgment rendered against him, if the defendant

(1) files with the court a sworn statement that

- (A) a witness's failure or refusal to attend and testify was due to no act or fault of the defendant;
- (B) documentary evidence demanded was not in defendant's possession or control and could not be produced; and
- (C) defendant complied with the written notice to the best of his ability; and

(2) the court after a hearing is satisfied that the defendant's statement is true.

(c) The court after the hearing provided in Subsection (b)(2) of this section may make additional orders concerning evidence that it considers necessary.

§ 15.18. Service of Written Notice

(b) Written notice issued under Section 15.16(d) of this code may be served, and the return completed for it, by a sheriff, constable, or a disinterested person competent to make oath of the fact of service. The person serving the written notice shall deliver a copy to the person to be served, or to his attorney, shall endorse (either on the original notice or on an attachment to it) the date, time, and manner of service and the name of the person served, and shall sign the return. If the person serving the written notice is not a sheriff or constable, he shall swear to the return before someone authorized to administer an oath.

§ 15.19. Special Commissioner Appointed to Take Evidence

(a) A party to a suit brought to enforce the prohibition contained in Section 15.04 of this code, or to enforce the laws regulating corporations, may apply in term time or vacation to the court in which the suit is pending for appointment of a special commissioner to take evidence at a location in or out of the state as designated in the application. Upon receipt of the application, the court shall appoint a disinterested person as special commissioner, who shall qualify by taking the constitutional oath of office.

(b) A special commissioner appointed under Subsection (a) of this section may

(1) issue

(A) a written notice under Section 15.16(d) of this code, or a subpoena, to compel the attendance and testimony of a witness or the production of documentary evidence; and

(B) an attachment for a witness;

(2) punish for contempt of court to the extent provided by law for the court appointing him;

(3) administer an oath to a witness; and

(4) have a witness examined orally and his testimony transcribed, sworn to, and signed by the witness.

(c) The special commissioner shall

- (19) representing that a guarantee or warranty confers or involves rights or remedies which it does not have or involve, provided, however, that nothing in this subchapter shall be construed to expand the implied warranty of merchantability as defined in Sections 2.314 through 2.318 of the Business & Commerce Code to involve obligations in excess of those which are appropriate to the goods; or
- (20) selling or offering to sell, either directly or associated with the sale of goods or services, a right of participation in a multi-level distributorship. As used herein, "multi-level distribu-torship" means a sales plan for the distribution of goods or services in which promises of rebate or payment are made to individuals, conditioned upon those individuals recommending or securing additional individuals to assume positions in the sales operation, and where the rebate or payment is not exclusively conditioned on or in relation to proceeds from the retail sales of goods.

(c) It is the intent of the legislature that in construing Subsection (a) of this section the courts to the extent possible will be guided by Subsection (b) of this section and the interpretations given by the Federal Trade Commission and federal courts to Section 5(a)(1) of the Federal Trade Commission Act [15 U.S.C.A. 45(a)(1)].

§ 17.47. Restraining Orders

(a) Whenever the consumer protection division has reason to believe that any person is engaging in, has engaged in, or is about to engage in any act or practice declared to be unlawful by this subchapter, and that proceedings would be in the public interest, the division may bring an action in the name of the state against the person to restrain by temporary or permanent injunction the use of such method, act, or practice. The consumer protection division may bring any action under this section against a licensed insurer or insurance agent for a violation of this subchapter, Article 21.21, Texas Insurance Code, as amended, or the rules and regulations of the State Board of Insurance issued under Article 21.21, Texas Insurance Code, as amended, only on the written request of the State Board of Insurance or the commissioner of insurance.

Nothing herein shall require the consumer protection division to notify such person that court action is or may be under consideration. Provided, however, the consumer protection division shall, at least seven days prior to instituting such court action, contact such person to inform him in general of the alleged unlawful conduct. Cessation of unlawful conduct after such prior contact shall not render such court action moot under any circumstances, and such injunctive relief shall lie even if such person has ceased such unlawful conduct after such prior contact. Such prior contact shall not be required if, in the opinion of the consumer protection division, there is good cause to believe that such person would evade service of process if prior contact were made or that such person would destroy relevant records if prior contact were made.

(b) An action brought under Subsection (a) of this section may be commenced in the district court of the county in which the person against whom it is brought resides, has his principal place of business, is doing business, or in the district court of the county where the transaction occurred, or, on the consent of the parties, in a district court of Travis County. The court may issue temporary or permanent injunctions to restrain and prevent violations of this subchapter and the injunctions shall be issued without bond.

(c) In addition to the request for a temporary or permanent injunction in a proceeding brought under Subsection (a) of this section, the consumer protection division, on a finding by the court that the defendant has engaged or is engaging in a practice declared to be unlawful by this subchapter, may request a civil penalty of not more than $2,000 per violation, not to exceed a total of $10,000, to be paid to the state.

(d) The court may make such additional orders or judgments as are necessary to compensate identifiable persons for actual damages or restoration of money or property, real or personal, which may have been acquired by means of any act or practice restrained. Damages may not include any damages incurred beyond a point two years prior to the institution of the action by the consumer protection division. Orders of the court may also include the appointment of a receiver or a sequestration of assets if a person who has been ordered by a court to make restitution under this section has failed to do so within three months after the order to make restitution has become final and nonappealable.

(e) Any person who violates the terms of an injunction under this section shall forfeit and pay to the state a civil penalty of not more than $10,000 per violation, not to exceed $50,000. In determining whether or not an injunction has been violated the court shall take into consideration the maintenance of procedures reasonably adapted to insure compliance with the injunction. For the purposes of this section, the district court issuing the injunction shall retain jurisdiction, and the cause shall be continued, and in these cases, the consumer protection division, or the district or county attorney with prior notice to the consumer protection division, acting in the name of the state, may petition for recovery of civil penalties under this section.

(f) An order of the court awarding civil penalties under Subsection (e) of this section applies only to violations of the injunction incurred prior to the awarding of the penalty order. Second or subsequent violations of an injunction issued under this section are subject to the same penalties set out in Subsection (e) of this section.

§ 17.48. Duty of District and County Attorney

(a) It is the duty of the district and county attorneys to lend to the consumer protection division any assistance requested in the commencement and prosecutions of action under this subchapter.

(b) A district or county attorney, with prior written notice to the consumer protection division, may institute and prosecute actions seeking injunctive relief under this subchapter, after complying with the prior contact provisions of Subsection (a) of Section 17.47 of this subchapter. On request, the consumer protection division shall assist the district or county attorney in any action taken under this subchapter. If an action is prosecuted by a district or county attorney alone, he shall make a full report to the consumer protection division including the final disposition of the matter. No district or county attorney may bring an action under this section against any licensed insurer or licensed insurance agent transacting business under the authority and jurisdiction of the State Board of Insurance unless first requested in writing to do so by the State Board of Insurance, the commissioner of insurance, or the consumer protection division pursuant to a request by the State Board of Insurance or commissioner of insurance.

§ 17.49. Exemptions

(a) Nothing in this subchapter shall apply to the owner or employees of a regularly published newspaper, magazine, or telephone directory, or broadcast station, or billboard, wherein any advertisement in violation of this subchapter is published or disseminated, unless it is established that the owner or employees of the advertising medium have knowledge of the false, deceptive, or misleading acts or practices declared to be unlawful by this subchapter, or had a direct or substantial financial interest in the sale or distribution of the unlawfully advertised good or service. Financial interest as used in this section relates to an expectation which would be the direct result of such advertisement.

(b) Nothing in this subchapter shall apply to acts or practices authorized under specific rules or regulations promulgated by the Federal Trade Commission under Section 5(a)(1) of the Federal Trade Commission Act [15 U.S.C.A. 145(a)(1)]. The provisions of this subchapter do apply to any act or practice prohibited or not specifically authorized by a rule or regulation of the Federal Trade Commission. An act or practice is not specifically authorized if no rule or regulation has been issued on the act or practice.

§ 17.50. Relief for Consumers

(a) A consumer may maintain an action if he has been adversely affected by any of the following:

(1) the use or employment by any person of an act or practice declared to be unlawful by Section 17.46 of this subchapter;

(2) a failure by any person to comply with an express or implied warranty;

(3) any unconscionable action or course of action by any person; or

(4) the use or employment by any person of an act or practice in violation of Article 21.21, Texas Insurance Code, as amended, or rules or regulations issued by the State Board of Insurance under Article 21.21, Texas Insurance Code, as amended.

(b) In a suit filed under this section, each consumer who prevails may obtain:

(1) three times the amount of actual damages plus court costs and attorneys' fees reasonable in relation to the amount of work expended;

(2) an order enjoining such acts or failure to act;

(3) orders necessary to restore to any party to the suit any money or property, real or personal, which may have been acquired in violation of this subchapter; and

(4) any other relief which the court deems proper, including the appointment of a receiver or the revocation of a license or certificate authorizing a person to engage in business in this state if the judgment has not been satisfied within three months of the date of the final judgment. The court may not revoke or suspend a license to do business in this state or appoint a receiver to take over the affairs of a person who has failed to satisfy a judgment if the person is a licensee of or regulated by a state agency which has statutory authority to revoke or suspend a license or to appoint a receiver or trustee.

(c) On a finding by the court that an action under this section was groundless and brought in bad faith or for the purpose of harassment, the court may award to the defendant reasonable attorneys' fees in relation to the amount of work expended, and court costs.

§ 17.51. Class Actions

(a) If a consumer has been damaged in an amount in excess of $10 by an unlawful method, act, or practice contained in Subsection (b) of Section 17.46 of this subchapter, an act or practice in violation of Article 21.21, Texas Insurance Code, as amended, or rules or regulations issued by the State Board of Insurance under Article 21.21, Texas Insurance Code, as amended, or by an act or practice or type of act or practice occurring subsequent to the time the act or practice or type of act or practice was declared unlawful or deceptive to the consumer by a final judgment of an appellate court of proper jurisdiction and venue of this state that was reported officially, a consumer may bring an action on behalf of himself and other consumers if the unlawful act or practice has caused damage to the other consumers who are similarly situated, to recover damages and relief as provided in this subchapter.

(b) A plaintiff who prevails in a class action under this subchapter may recover:

(1) court costs and attorneys' fees reasonable in relation to the amount of work expended in addition to actual damages;

(2) an order enjoining the act or failure to act;

(3) any orders which may be necessary to restore to any party to the suit any money or property, real or personal, which may have been acquired in violation of this subchapter; and

(4) any other relief which the court deems proper including the appointment of a receiver or revocation of a license or certificate to engage in business in this state if the judgment has not been satisfied within six months of the date of issuance of the final judgment. The court may not revoke or suspend a license to do business in this state or appoint a receiver to take over the affairs of a person who has failed to satisfy a judgment if the person is a licensee of or regulated by a state agency which has statutory authority to revoke or suspend a license or to appoint a receiver or trustee.

(c) On a finding by the court that an action under this section was brought in bad faith or for purposes of harassment, the court may award to the defendant reasonable attorneys' fees in relation to the work expended, and court costs.

(d) An action under this section may not be maintained or shall be stayed if proceedings regarding an administrative class action under Section 14, Article 21.21, Texas Insurance Code, as amended, have been initiated regarding the same acts or practices and the same defendant in the action under this section.

§ 17.52. Class Action: Procedure

(a) The court shall permit one or more members of a class to sue or be sued as representative parties on behalf of the class only if:

(1) the class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable;

(2) there are questions of law or fact common to the class;

(3) the claims or defenses of the representative parties are typical of the claims or defenses of the class; and

(4) the representative parties will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the class.

(b) An action may be maintained as a class action if the prerequisites of Subsection (a) of this section are satisfied and in addition:

(1) the prosecution of separate actions by or against individual members of the class would create a risk of:

(A) inconsistent or varying adjudications with respect to individual members of the class which would establish incompatible standards of conduct for the party opposing the class; or

(B) adjudications with respect to individual members of the class which would as a practical matter be dispositive of the interests of the other members not parties to the adjudications or substantially impair or impede their ability to protect their interests; or

(2) the party opposing the class has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to the class, thereby making appropriate final injunctive relief or corresponding declaratory relief with respect to the class as a whole; or

(3) the court finds that the questions of law or fact common to the members of the class predominate over any questions affecting only individual members, and that a class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy. The matters pertinent to the findings include:

(A) the interest of members of the class in individually controlling the prosecution or defense of separate actions;

(B) the extent and nature of any litigation concerning the controversy already commenced by or against members of the class;

(C) the desirability or undesirability of controversy concentrating the litigation of the claims in the particular forum; and

(D) the difficulties likely to be encountered in the management of a class action.

(c) In construing this section, the courts of Texas shall be guided by the decisions of the federal courts interpreting Rule 23, Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

(d) As soon as practicable after the commencement of an action brought as a class action, the court shall determine by order whether it is to be maintained as a class action. An order under this subsection may be altered or amended before a decision on the merits. An order determining that the action may or may not be brought as a class action is an interlocutory order which is appealable and the procedures provided in Rule 385, Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, apply.

(e) If the action is permitted as a class action, the court shall direct to the members of the class the best notice practicable under the circumstances, including individual notice to all members who can be identified through reasonable effort.

(f) The notice shall contain a statement that:

(1) the court will exclude the member notified from the class if he so requests by a specified date;

(2) the judgment, whether favorable or not, will include all members who do not request exclusion; and

(3) any member who does not request exclusion, if he desires, may enter an appearance through counsel.

(g) A class action may not be dismissed, settled, or compromised without the approval of the court, and notice of the proposed dismissal, settlement, or compromise shall be given to all members of the class in such manner as the court directs.

(h) When appropriate, an action may be brought or maintained as a class action with respect to particular issues or a class may be divided into subclasses and each subclass treated as a class, and the provisions of this section shall be construed and applied accordingly.

(i) The judgment in a class action shall describe those to whom the notice was directed and who have not requested exclusion and those the court finds to be members of the class. The court shall direct to the members of the class the best notice practicable under the circumstances, including individual notice to all members who can be identified through reasonable effort.

(j) In the conduct of a class action the court may make appropriate orders:

(1) determining the course of proceedings or prescribing measures to prevent undue repetition or complication in the presentation of evidence or argument;

(2) requiring, for the protection of the members of the class or otherwise for the fair conduct of the action, that notice be given in such manner as the court may direct to some or all of the members or to the attorney general of any step in the action, or of the proposed extent of the judgment, or of the opportunity of members to signify whether they consider the representation fair and adequate, to intervene and present claims or defenses, or otherwise to come into the action;

(3) imposing conditions on the representative parties or on intervenors;

(4) requiring that the pleadings be amended to eliminate allegations as to representation of absent persons, and that the action proceed accordingly; or

(5) dealing with similar procedural matters.

(k) The filing of a suit under this section tolls the statute of limitations for bringing a suit by an individual under Section 17.50 of this subchapter. An order of the court denying the bringing of a suit as a class action does not affect the ability of an individual to bring the same or a similar suit under Section 17.50 of this subchapter.

§ 17.53. Preliminary Notice

(a) At least 30 days prior to the commencement of a suit for damages under Section 17.51 of this subchapter, the consumer must notify the intended defendant of his complaint and make demand that the defendant provide relief to the consumer and others similarly situated.

(b) The notice must be in writing and sent by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, to the place where the transaction occurred, the intended defendants' principal place of business in this state, or if neither will effect notice, to the office of the Secretary of State of Texas.

(c) An action for injunctive relief under Section 17.51 of this subchapter may be commenced without compliance with Subsection (a) of this section. Not less than 30 days after the commencement of an action for injunctive relief, and after compliance with the provisions of Subsection (a) of this section, the consumer may amend his complaint without leave of court to include a request for damages.

(d) No damages may be awarded to a consumer class under this section if within 30 days of receipt of the notice the intended defendant furnished the consumer, by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, a written offer of settlement. The offer of settlement must include a statement that:

(1) all consumers similarly situated have been adequately identified or a reasonable effort to identify such other consumers has been made, and a description of the class so identified and the method employed to identify them;

(2) all consumers so identified have been notified that upon their request the intended defendant will provide relief to the consumer and all others similarly situated, and a complete explanation of the relief being afforded and a copy of the notice or communication which the intended defendant is providing to the members of the class;

(3) the relief being afforded the consumer has been, or if said offer is accepted by the consumer, will be given within a stated reasonable period of time; and

(4) the practice complained of has ceased.

(e) Attempts to comply with the provisions of this section by a person receiving a demand shall be an offer to compromise and shall be inadmissible as evidence. Attempts to comply with a demand shall not be considered an admission of engaging in an unlawful act or practice. Evidence of compliance or attempts to comply with the provisions of this section may be introduced by a defendant for the purpose of establishing good faith or to show compliance with the provisions of this section.

§ 17.54. Damages: Defense

No award of damages may be given in any action filed under Section 17.51 of this subchapter if the defendant:

(1) proves that the action complained of resulted from a bona fide error notwithstanding the use of reasonable procedures adopted to avoid any error; and

(2) made restitution of any consideration received from any member of the class.

§ 17.55. Promotional Material

If damages or civil penalties are assessed against the seller of goods or services for advertisements or promotional material in a suit filed under Section 17.47, 17.48, 17.50, or 17.51 of this subchapter, the seller of the goods or services has a cause of action against a third party for the amount of damages or civil penalties assessed against the seller plus attorneys' fees on a showing that:

(1) the seller received the advertisements or promotional material from the third party;

(2) the seller's only action with regard to the advertisements or promotional material was to disseminate the material; and

(3) the seller has ceased disseminating the material.

§ 17.56. Venue

An action brought under Section 17.50 or 17.51 of this subchapter may be commenced in the county in which the person against whom the suit is brought resides, has his principal place of business, or is doing business.

§ 17.57. Subpoenas

The clerk of a district court at the request of any party to a suit pending in his court which is brought under this subchapter shall issue a subpoena for any witness or witnesses who may be represented to reside within 100 miles of the courthouse of the county in which the suit is pending or who may be found within such distance at the time of trial. The clerk shall issue a separate subpoena and a copy thereof for each witness subpoenaed. When an action is pending in Travis County on the consent of the parties a subpoena may be issued for any witness or witnesses who may be represented to reside within 100 miles of the courthouse of a county in which the suit could otherwise have been brought or who may be found within such distance at the time of the trial.

§ 17.58. Voluntary Compliance

(a) In the administration of this subchapter the consumer protection division may accept assurance of voluntary compliance with respect to any act or practice which violates this subchapter from any person who is engaging in, has engaged in, or is about to engage in the act or practice. The assurance shall be in writing and shall be filed with and subject to the approval of the district court in the county in which the alleged violator resides or does business or in the district court of Travis County.

(b) The acceptance of an assurance of voluntary compliance may be conditioned on the stipulation that the person in violation of this subchapter restore to any person in interest any money or property, real or personal, which may have been acquired by means of acts or practices which violate this subchapter.

(c) An assurance of voluntary compliance shall not be considered an admission of prior violation of this subchapter. However, unless an assurance has been rescinded by agreement of the parties or voided by a court for good cause, subsequent failure to comply with the terms of an assurance is prima facie evidence of a violation of this subchapter.

(d) Matters closed by the filing of an assurance of voluntary compliance may be reopened at any time. Assurances of voluntary compliance shall in no way affect individual rights of action under this subchapter, except that the rights of individuals with regard to money or property received pursuant to a stipulation in the voluntary compliance under Subsection (b) of this section are governed by the terms of the voluntary compliance.

§ 17.59. Powers of Receiver

(a) When a receiver is appointed by the court under this subchapter, he shall have the power to sue for, collect, receive, and take into his possession all the goods and chattels, rights and credits, money, and effects, lands, tenements, books, records, documents, papers, choses in action, bills, notes, and property of every description, derived by means of any practice declared to be illegal and prohibited by this subchapter, including property with which such property has been mingled if it cannot be identified in kind because of the commingling, and to sell, convey, and assign the property and hold and dispose of the proceeds under the direction of the court. Any person who has suffered damages as a result of use or employment of any unlawful practices and submits proof to the satisfaction of the court that he has in fact been damaged, may participate with general creditors in the distribution of the assets to the extent he has sustained out-of-pocket losses. In the case of a partnership or business entity, the receiver shall settle the estate and distribute the assets under the direction of the court. The court shall have jurisdiction of all questions arising in the proceedings and may make any orders or judgments required.

(b) If the claims of consumers remain unsatisfied after distribution of the assets, the court may order that all persons who knowingly participated in the unlawful enterprise be held jointly and severally liable to the extent of the unsatisfied consumer claims if such person:

(1) contributed substantial personal services, money, credit, real, personal, or mixed property, or any other thing of substantial value with the expectation of sharing in the profits of the enterprise; and

(2) had knowledge or should have had knowledge of the unlawful purpose of the enterprise at the time such things of value were contributed, or freely continued in the association or other relationship after gaining knowledge of the unlawful purpose of the enterprise.

§ 17.60. Reports and Examinations

Whenever the consumer protection division has reason to believe that a person is engaging in, has engaged in, or is about to engage in any act or practice declared to be unlawful by this subchapter, or when it reasonably believes it to be in the public interest to conduct an investigation to ascertain whether any person is engaging in, has engaged in, or is about to engage in any such act or practice, an authorized member of the division may:

(1) require the person to file on the prescribed forms a statement or report in writing, under oath or otherwise, as to all the facts and circumstances concerning the alleged violation and such other data and information as the consumer protection division deems necessary;

(2) examine under oath any person in connection with this alleged violation;

(3) examine any merchandise or sample of merchandise deemed necessary and proper; and

(4) pursuant to an order of the appropriate court, impound any sample of merchandise that is produced in accordance with this subchapter and retain it in the possession of the division until the completion of all proceedings in connection with which the merchandise is produced.

This section shall not apply to licensed insurers or licensed insurance agents transacting an insurance business in this state under the authority and jurisdiction of the State Board of Insurance unless the State Board of Insurance or the Insurance Commissioner has requested in writing that the consumer protection division file an action under Section 17.47 of this subchapter.

§ 17.61. Civil Investigative Demand

(a) Whenever the consumer protection division believes that any person may be in possession, custody, or control of the original copy of any documentary material relevant to the subject matter of an investigation of a possible violation of this subchapter, an authorized agent of the division may execute in writing and serve on the person a civil investigative demand requiring the person to produce the documentary material and permit inspection and copying. This section shall not apply to licensed insurers or licensed insurance agents transacting an insurance business in this state under the authority and jurisdiction of the State Board of Insurance unless the State Board of Insurance or the Insurance Commissioner has requested in writing that the consumer protection division file an action under Section 17.47 of this subchapter.

(b) Each demand shall:

(1) state the statute and section under which the alleged violation is being investigated, and the general subject matter of the investigation;

(2) describe the class or classes of documentary material to be produced with reasonable specificity so as to fairly indicate the material demanded;

(3) prescribe a return date within which the documentary material is to be produced; and

(4) identify the members of the consumer protection division to whom the documentary material is to be made available for inspection and copying.

(c) A civil investigative demand may contain a requirement or disclosure of documentary material which would be discoverable under the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.

(d) Service of any demand may be made by:

(1) delivering a duly executed copy of the demand to the person to be served or to a partner or to any officer or agent authorized by appointment or by law to receive service of process on behalf of that person;

(2) delivering a duly executed copy of the demand to the principal place of business in the state of the person to be served;

(3) mailing by registered mail or certified mail a duly executed copy of the demand addressed to the person to be served at the principal place of business in this state, or if the person has no place of business in this state, to his principal office or place of business.

(e) Documentary material demanded pursuant to this section shall be produced for inspection and copying during normal business hours at the principal office or place of business of the person served, or at other times and places as may be agreed on by the person served and the consumer protection division.

(f) No documentary material produced pursuant to a demand under this section, unless otherwise ordered by a court for good cause shown, shall be produced for inspection or copying by, nor shall its contents be disclosed to any person other than the authorized employee of the consumer protection division without the consent of the person who produced the material. The consumer protection division shall prescribe reasonable terms and conditions allowing the documentary material to be available for inspection and copying by the person who produced the material or any duly authorized representative of that person. The consumer protection division may use the documentary material or copies of it as it determines necessary in the enforcement of this subchapter, including presentation before any court. Any material which contains trade secrets shall not be presented except with the approval of the court in which the action is pending after adequate notice to the person furnishing the material.

(g) At any time before the return date specified in the demand, or within 20 days after the demand has been served, whichever period is shorter, a petition to extend the return date for, or to modify or set aside the demand, stating good cause, may be filed in the district court in the county where the parties reside, or a district court of Travis County.

(h) A person on whom a demand is served under this section shall comply with the terms of the demand unless otherwise provided by a court order.

(i) Personal service of a similar investigative demand under this section may be made on any person outside of this state if the person has engaged in conduct in violation of this subchapter. Such persons shall be deemed to have submitted themselves to the jurisdiction of this state within the meaning of this section.

§ 17.62. Penalties

(a) Any person who, with intent to avoid, evade, or prevent compliance, in whole or in part, with Section 17.60 or 17.61 of this subchapter, removes from any place, conceals, withholds, or destroys, mutilates, alters, or by any other means falsifies any documentary material or merchandise or sample of merchandise is guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction is punishable by a fine of not more than $5,000 or by confinement in the county jail for not more than one year, or both.

(b) If a person fails to comply with a directive of the consumer protection division under Section 17.60 of this subchapter or with a civil investigative demand for documentary material served on him under Section 17.61 of this subchapter, or if satisfactory copying or reproduction of the material cannot be done and the person refuses to surrender the material, the consumer protection division may file in the district court in the county in which the person resides, is found, or transacts business, and serve on the person, a petition for an order of the court for enforcement of Sections 17.60 and 17.61 of this subchapter. If the person transacts business in more than one county, the petition shall be filed in the county in which the person maintains his principal place of business, or in another county agreed on by the parties to the petition.

(c) When a petition is filed in the district court in any county under this section, the court shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine the matter presented and to enter any order required to carry into effect the provisions of Sections 17.60 and 17.61 of this subchapter. Any final order entered is subject to appeal to the Texas Supreme Court. Failure to comply with any final order entered under this section is punishable by contempt.

§ 17.63. Application

The provisions of this subchapter apply only to acts or practices occurring after the effective date of this subchapter, except a right of action or power granted to the attorney general under Chapter 10, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended,<sup>1</sup> prior to the effective date of this subchapter.

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 23.01. Definitions

In this chapter, unless the context requires a different definition,

(1) "assigned estate" means all the real and personal estate of an assigning debtor passing to the consenting creditors under an assignment by virtue of Section 23.02 or 23.09(b) of this code;

(2) "assignee" means an assignee for the benefit of creditors;

(3) "assigning debtor" means a person executing an assignment;

(4) "assignment" means a general assignment for the benefit of creditors made under this chapter;

(5) "consenting creditor" means a creditor who has consented to an assignment in one of the ways provided by Section 23.30 of this code; and

(6) "real and personal estate" does not include property exempt by law from execution.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 23.02. Nature and Effect of Assignment

(a) A debtor may assign his real and personal estate under this chapter to an assignee for the benefit of the debtor's creditors.

(b) An assigning debtor shall provide in the assignment for distribution of all his real and personal estate to each consenting creditor in proportion to each consenting creditor's claim.

(c) Regardless of an expression to the contrary, an assignment passes all an assigning debtor's real and personal estate to each consenting creditor in proportion to each consenting creditor's claim.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

[Sections 23.03 to 23.07 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER B. THE ASSIGNMENT

§ 23.08. Form and Content of Assignment

(a) For an assignment to be valid,

(1) the assigning debtor must make the assignment in writing; and

(2) it must be proved or acknowledged and recorded in the manner provided by law for the conveyance of real estate.

(b) The assigning debtor shall attach to his assignment an inventory containing the following information:

(1) a list naming each creditor of the assigning debtor;

(2) the resident address, if known, of each creditor;

(3) the amount owed each creditor and the type of debt;

(4) the consideration for the debt and the place where the debt arose;

(5) a description of each existing judgment or security for the payment of the debt;

(6) a schedule of all the assigning debtor's real and personal estate at the date of the assignment;

(7) a description of

(A) each encumbrance on the real and personal estate; and

(B) each voucher and security relating to the estate; and

(8) the value of the estate.

(c) The assigning debtor shall sign the inventory required by Subsection (b) of this section and swear that it is just and true.

§ 23.09. Fraud Does Not Defeat Assignment

(a) An assignment is not affected and a consenting creditor is not deprived of his proportionate share of the assigned estate by the fraudulent act or intent of the assigning debtor or assignee. A consenting creditor is a proper party to a suit filed to enforce a right under an assignment, or to protect an interest in an assigned estate.

(b) Except as to an innocent purchaser for value, a transfer of property made in contemplation of an assignment with an intent to defeat, delay, defraud, or give preference to a creditor is void and the property passes under the assignment rather than by the transfer.

(c) An assignee may sue to recover property transferred with an intent described in Subsection (b) of this section, and when the property is recovered, the assignee shall apply it for the benefit of the assigning debtor's creditors along with property belonging to the assigned estate already in the assignee's possession. If an assignee neglects or refuses to sue to recover property transferred with an intent described in Subsection (b) of this section, a creditor, after securing the assignee against cost or liability, may sue in the assignee's name to recover the property.

§ 23.10. Assignment Discharges Debtor

If an assigning debtor makes an assignment, he is discharged from liability on the claim of a consenting creditor unless the consenting creditor does not receive at least one-third of the amount allowed on his claim against the assigned estate.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

[Sections 23.11 to 23.15 reserved for expansion]

(1) with a surety who must be approved by the judge of either the county or district court in the county of the assignee's residence;

(3) in an amount fixed by the county or district judge;

(4) payable to the state; and

(5) which inures to the benefit of the assigning debtor and each of the creditors.

(d) The assignee shall file the bond with the county clerk of the county in which the assigning debtor resides and then the assignee shall take possession of the assigned estate and carry out the assignment.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 23.17. Notice of Assignee's Appointment

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 23.18. Replacement of Assignee

(a) A county or district court of the county in which the assignee resides shall remove or replace the assignee on application of the assigning debtor or a creditor, or on its own motion,

(1) if the court is satisfied that the assignee has not executed and filed the bond required by Sections 23.16(c) and (d) of this code;

(2) if the assignee refuses or fails to serve for any reason; or

(3) for good cause.

(b) On removal, resignation, or death of the assignee, the court shall appoint in writing a new assignee in term time or vacation.

(c) As soon as the new assignee executes and files a bond as required by Sections 23.16(c) and (d) of this code, he shall take possession of the assigned estate and carry out the assignment.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 23.19. Assignee's Duty to Distribute Assigned Estate

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 23.20. Discount of Claim Not Due and Allowance of Secured Claim

(a) The assignee may allow a claim which is not due at its present value by discounting it at the legal rate.

(b) If a creditor holds collateral to secure his claim worth less than his claim, the assignee may estimate the value of the collateral and allow the creditor as a claim against the assigned estate only the difference between the value of the collateral and the amount of the claim.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 23.21. Assignee's Entitlement to Compensation

An assignee is entitled to reasonable compensation for his services and reimbursement for his necessary expenses, including an attorney's fee, all of which shall be fixed by the county or district court who approved his bond. The compensation, expenses, and attorney's fee fixed by the county or district court shall be paid out of the assigned estate.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 23.22. Examination of Debtor or Other Person

(a) The court in which a proceeding involving an assigned estate has been filed may, after reasonable notice to each person concerned, compel any person to answer questions under oath on

(1) application of a creditor of the assigning debtor; or

(2) its own motion.

(b) The court may compel attendance and an answer to any question concerning the assigned estate by writ or order as in other cases. Questions asked and answers given during the examination shall be in writing, the person examined shall swear to and sign his answers before the clerk, and the questions and answers shall be filed with the clerk for use by anyone interested in the proceeding.

(c) The court shall charge the cost of the examination against the applicant or the assigned estate, as the court deems proper.

(1) all property which came into his possession under the assignment; and

(2) how and to whom he distributed the property.

(b) The assignee shall also deposit in the registry of the court who approved his bond money belonging to the assigned estate still in his possession at the time he files his report under Subsection (a) of this section. The court shall distribute the money under this chapter to the consenting creditors and assignee and, in the case of surplus, to the nonconsenting creditors and assigning debtor.

§ 23.24. Time Limit on Bringing Action Against Assignee

An action against an assignee based on his conduct in carrying out the assignment, as shown in his report filed under Section 23.23(a) of this code, must be brought within 12 months after the report is filed or the action is barred.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

[Sections 23.25 to 23.29 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER D. DUTIES AND RIGHTS OF CREDITORS

(b) If a creditor is not given actual notice of an assignment, but subsequently learns of the assignment, he may consent to the assignment at any time before the first distribution of the assigned estate is begun.

(c) Receipt by a creditor of payment for part of his claim from the assignee is conclusive evidence of the creditor's consent to the assignment.

(A) the claim is true;

(B) the debt is just; and

(C) all proper credits or offsets have been allowed against the claim.

(b) The assignee shall allow a claim filed under Subsection (a) of this section against the assigned estate unless he has good reason to believe the claim is not just and true.

(c) If a creditor does not file a statement in the time required by Subsection (a) of this section, he is not entitled to receive any of the assigned estate.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

(2) the expense of carrying out the assignment.

[Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 2343, ch. 785, § 1.]

§ 33.02. Registration In the Name of a Fiduciary

A corporation or transfer agent registering a security in the name of a person who is a fiduciary or who is described as a fiduciary is not bound to inquire into the existence, extent, or correct description of the fiduciary relationship; and thereafter the corporation and its transfer agent may assume without inquiry that the newly registered owner continues to be the fiduciary until the corporation or transfer agent receives written notice that the fiduciary is no longer acting as such with respect to the particular security.

§ 33.03. Assignment by a Fiduciary

Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a corporation or transfer agent making a transfer of a security pursuant to an assignment by a fiduciary

(1) may assume without inquiry that the assignment, even though to the fiduciary himself or to his nominee, is within his authority and capacity and is not in breach of his fiduciary duties;

(2) may assume without inquiry that the fiduciary has complied with any controlling instrument and with the law of the jurisdiction governing the fiduciary relationship, including any law requiring the fiduciary to obtain court approval of the transfer; and

(3) is not charged with notice of and is not bound to obtain or examine any court record or any recorded or unrecorded document relating to the fiduciary relationship or the assignment.

§ 33.05. Evidence of Appointment or Incumbency

(a) A corporation or transfer agent making a transfer pursuant to an assignment by a fiduciary who is not the registered owner shall obtain the following evidence of appointment or incumbency:

(1) in case of a fiduciary appointed or qualified by a court, a certificate issued by that court or an officer thereof and dated within 60 days before the transfer; or

(2) in any other case, a copy of a document showing the appointment or a certificate issued by or on behalf of a person reasonably believed by the corporation or transfer agent to be responsible or, in the absence of such a document or certificate, other evidence reasonably deemed by the corporation or transfer agent to be appropriate.

§ 33.06. Adverse Claims

(a) A person asserting a claim of beneficial interest adverse to the transfer of a security pursuant to an assignment by a fiduciary may give the corporation or transfer agent written notice of the claim. The corporation or transfer agent is not put on notice unless the written notice identifies the claimant, the registered owner, and the issue of which the security is a part, provides an address for communications directed to the claimant, and is received before the transfer. Nothing in this chapter relieves the corporation or transfer agent of any liability for making or refusing to make the transfer after it is so put on notice, unless it proceeds in the manner authorized in Subsection (b) of this section.

(b) As soon as practicable after the presentation of a security for transfer pursuant to an assignment by a fiduciary, a corporation or transfer agent which has received notice of a claim of beneficial interest adverse to the transfer may send notice of the presentation by registered or certified mail to the claimant at the address given by him. If the corporation or transfer agent so mails this notice, it shall withhold the transfer for 30 days after the mailing and shall then make the transfer unless restrained by court order.

§ 33.07. Nonliability of Corporation and Transfer Agent

§ 35.02. Filing Utility Security Instruments With Secretary of State; Perfection; Notice

(a) Payment of the statutory filing fee and deposit for filing in the office of the Secretary of State of a security instrument executed by a utility which states conspicuously on its title page: "This Instrument Grants A Security Interest By A Utility" shall, subject to the provisions of Subsection (b) of this section

(1) constitute perfection of a security interest created by the security instrument in any personal property (including goods which are, or are to become, fixtures) in which a security interest may be perfected by filing under Chapter 9 of this code, located in this state, and owned by the utility when the security instrument was executed or to be acquired by the utility after execution of the security instrument; and

(2) be taken and held as notice to all persons of the existence of such security instrument and the interest granted therein, as security, in any real property (or fixtures thereon, or to be placed thereon) located in this state and owned by the utility when the security instrument was executed or to be acquired by the utility after the execution of the security instrument; provided that the security instrument shall first be proven, acknowledged or certified as otherwise required by law for the recording of real property mortgages.

(b) For perfection or notice to be effective as to a particular item of property, the filed security instrument must

(1) identify the property by type, character, or description if it is presently owned personal property (including fixtures); provided that for such purposes, any description of personal property or real estate is sufficient whether or not it is specific if it reasonably identifies what is described;

(2) provide a description of the property if it is presently owned real property; and

(3) state conspicuously on its title page: "This Instrument Contains After-Acquired Property Provisions" if the property is to be acquired after the execution of the security instrument.

(c) Filing under this section satisfies any requirement of

(1) filing of the security instrument or a financing statement in the office of a county clerk where such would otherwise be necessary to perfect a security interest; and

(2) recording of the security instrument in the office of a county clerk where such would otherwise cause the security instrument to be effective and valid as to all creditors and subsequent purchasers for valuable consideration without notice.

(d) The provisions in Chapter 9 of this code pertaining to priorities and remedies shall apply to security interests in personal property (including fixtures) perfected under this section.

§ 35.03. Duration of Notice

The perfection or notice provided by any security instrument filed under Section 35.02 of this code is effective from the date of deposit for filing until the interest granted as security is released by the filing of a termination statement, or a release of all or a part of the property, signed by the secured party, and no renewal, refiling or continuation statement shall be required to continue such effectiveness.

§ 35.04. Notice of Name Change, Merger or Consolidation

(a) Where a utility changes its name or merges or consolidates with another person after the deposit for filing of a security instrument executed by it, a written statement of the name change, merger or consolidation shall promptly be deposited for filing in the office of the Secretary of State. Any such statement must be signed by the secured party and the utility, identify the appropriate security instrument by file number, and state the name of the utility after the name change, merger or consolidation.

(b) A security instrument deposited for filing before the name change, merger or consolidation is not effective to provide perfection or notice of interests granted as security under Section 35.02 of this Chapter in property acquired by the utility more than four months after the name change, merger or consolidation, unless the written statement is deposited for filing as required by Subsection (a) before the expiration of that time.

§ 35.05. Filing of Security Instruments and Statement of Name Change, Merger or Consolidation by Secretary of State; Fees

(a) The Secretary of State shall endorse upon any security instrument and any statement of name change, merger, or consolidation deposited for filing in his office, the day and hour of receipt and the file number assigned to it. Such endorsement shall, in the absence of other evidence, be conclusive proof of the time and fact of deposit for filing.

(b) The Secretary of State shall retain in his office all security instruments and statements of name change, merger, or consolidation deposited in his office and shall file such in adequate filing devices.

(c) The uniform fee for filing and indexing a security instrument, or an instrument supplementary or amendatory thereto, and a statement of name change, merger, or consolidation and for stamping a copy of such documents, furnished by the secured party or the utility, to show the date and place of filing shall be $6.00.

§ 35.06. Information From Secretary of State

Upon the request of any person, the Secretary of State shall issue his certificate showing whether there is on file on the date and hour stated therein, any presently effective security instrument naming a particular utility, and if there is, giving the date and hour of filing of such instrument and the names and addresses of each secured party therein. The uniform fee for such a certificate shall be $5.00 if the request for the certificate is in the standard form prescribed by the Secretary of State, and otherwise shall be $10.00. Upon request the Secretary of State shall furnish a copy of any filed security instrument for a uniform fee of $1.00 per page, but not less than $5.00 nor more than $50.00 per request concerning a particular utility.

§ 35.07. Recording of Notice in County of Real Property; Separate Index by County Clerk of Security Instruments and Continuation Statements

(a) If any security instrument filed with the office of the Secretary of State under Section 35.02 of this code grants an interest, as security, in any real property owned by the utility, a notice of utility security instrument affecting real property shall be recorded in the office of the county clerk in the county where the real property is located, stating

(1) the name of the utility which executed the security instrument;

(2) that a security instrument affecting real property in the county has been executed by the utility; and

(3) that such security instrument was filed, and other security instruments may be on file, in the office of the Secretary of State.

(b) It shall not be necessary to record a notice regarding other security instruments executed by the utility, and the notice recorded under Subsection (a) of this section shall be sufficient to provide notice of any and all other security instruments

(1) executed by the utility;

(2) filed in the office of the Secretary of State; and

(3) granting an interest, as security, in any real property, and fixtures thereto, located in the county where such notice was recorded.

(c) Notices recorded under Subsection (a) of this section shall be recorded and indexed by the county clerk in the same records and indices as are mortgages on real property.

(d) The county clerk shall maintain a separate index of utility security instruments and continuation statements recorded under prior law.

Such service credits shall be determined and regulated by Sections 3.22-3.25 of this code.

[Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1453, ch. 405, § 1, eff. May 26, 1971.]

§ 3.22. Prior Service Credits

(a) Under the rules and regulations adopted by the State Board of Trustees each person on becoming a member of the retirement system for the first time shall file a detailed statement of all his prior service as a teacher or auxiliary employee in Texas.

(b) Subject to the restrictions in Subsection (a) of this section and to such other rules and regulations as they may adopt, the State Board of Trustees, as soon as practicable after the filing of the statements of service, shall verify and adjust the service claimed and shall grant one year of prior service credit for each year of prior service approved.

(c) After verification and adjustment, the State Board of Trustees shall notify each member of the number of years of prior service credits which have been granted.

(d) Nothing in this section shall require the filing of new claims for credits by members who have previously verified and had prior service credits approved.

(e) In addition to teachers who became members in 1937, and auxiliaries who became members in 1949, any member who has credit for five consecutive years of membership service and who has no unpaid, waived, withdrawn, or delinquent service shall be entitled to credit for prior service.

(f) Any member shall be entitled to one year of prior service credit for each year of military duty performed during World War I or within a period of 12 months thereafter.

[Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1454, ch. 405, § 1, eff. May 26, 1971.]

§ 3.23. Membership Service Credits

(a) Under such rules and regulations as the State Board of Trustees may adopt, a member shall be allowed membership service credit for each year of service rendered in accordance with the provisions of this chapter if he has made and maintained with the retirement system all deposits and payments required by this chapter or prior existing laws.

(b) Any member who performed one or more years of military duty while a member of the retirement system shall be permitted to deposit to his individual account in the member savings account for each year of duty an amount equal to his deposits made with the retirement system during the last preceding full year of service as a teacher or auxiliary employee. He shall then be entitled to one year of membership service credit for each year of military duty.

(c) Any member who performed one or more years of military duty during World War II and within a period of 12 months thereafter shall be permitted to deposit to his individual account in the member savings account for each year of such military duty, but not to exceed five years, an amount equal to his deposits made with the retirement system during the first full year of service as a teacher or auxiliary employee after becoming a member of the retirement system. He shall then be entitled to one year of membership service credit for each year of military duty.

(d) Any member who performed one or more years of service as educational adviser in the Civilian Conservation Corps shall be permitted to deposit to his individual account in the member savings account for each year of service as an educational adviser, but not to exceed five years, an amount equal to his deposits made with the Retirement System during the first full year of service as a teacher or auxiliary employee after becoming a member of the Retirement System. He shall then be entitled to one year of membership service credit for each year of educational adviser duty.

§ 3.24. Military Leave Credits

Military leave credit shall be granted to any member who has performed, or may perform, a period of military duty, but who failed or fails to make deposits entitling him under this chapter to membership service credit. The member shall be credited with a year of service for each year of military duty in determining his eligibility for retirement under this chapter, but military leave credit shall not be included in calculating the amount of benefits payable to the member upon retirement.

[Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1455, ch. 405, § 1, eff. May 26, 1971.]

§ 3.25. Reinstatement of Service Credits

(a) Any teacher or auxiliary employee who has executed a waiver of membership in the retirement system shall have the privilege of electing to receive full membership service credit, provided such teacher or auxiliary employee after becoming a member of the retirement system shall deposit all back deposits, assessments, and dues which he would have paid or deposited had he been a member of the retirement system during each of the years he actually taught or was employed as an auxiliary employee in the public schools following the date on which he first became eligible for membership in the retirement system, together with interest from the date each amount was payable at the rate of five percent per annum. One-half of the interest shall be credited to the state contribution account.

(b) Any person who terminates or has terminated membership in the retirement system by withdrawal of deposits or by absence from service shall have the privilege of reinstating such terminated membership by rendering service for five subsequent consecutive creditable years or seven subsequent creditable years within any ten-year period and depositing the amount withdrawn plus membership fees for the years during which membership was terminated plus a reinstatement fee of two and one-half percent per annum from the date of withdrawal to date of redeposit. The reinstatement fee shall be credited to the state contribution account.

(c) Any person who terminates or has terminated membership in the retirement system by retiring under the provisions of Section 3.31 of this chapter shall have the privilege of reinstating such terminated membership by rendering service for five consecutive years and depositing both an amount equal to service retirement benefits received plus a reinstatement fee of two and one-half percent per annum from the date of his return to employment to the date of redeposit and an amount equal to six percent of his total annual compensation after his return to employment plus a reinstatement fee of two and one-half percent per annum on each year's annual compensation from the end of the respective year of service to the date of deposit plus membership fees for the years after his return to employment. Upon payment of the amount required by this subsection the reinstated member shall receive credit for each year's service both before and after his initial retirement. Reinstatement fees shall be credited to the state contribution account.

(d) The amounts to be deposited shall be determined in each case by the State Board of Trustees and no person shall be granted retirement upon such service credits until the amount so determined is paid in full.

§ 3.26. Purchase of Credit for Out-of-State Teaching

(a) Any member of the retirement system who has been employed as a teacher in any public school system maintained in whole or in part by any other state or territory of the United States or by the United States for children of United States citizens may purchase equivalent membership service credits under this retirement system for such teaching.

(b) For each year that out-of-state service credit is desired, the member shall deposit to his individual account with the retirement system 12 percent of the annual compensation received during his first year as a teacher of this state which is both after the out-of-state teaching and September 1, 1956, or, in the event the member has no creditable service in Texas after September 1, 1956, 12 percent of his rate of annual compensation during his last creditable year of service in Texas prior to that date and subsequent to the out-of-state teaching. A deposit for at least one year's credit must be made with the initial application and all payments for out-of-state service for which credit is desired must be made before retirement.

(c) For each year that deposits are made, the member shall be granted immediately upon payment of the required deposit one year's membership service credit subject, however, to the special conditions which are:

(1) No person shall be allowed to acquire credits on the basis of teaching employment outside this state in excess of one year for each two years of service in Texas.

(2) In the event credits for employment outside this state must be disallowed in part because of the member's failure to qualify the non-Texas service under the provisions of this section, his deposits made for the years disallowed (considered to be those last purchased) will be refunded to him.

(3) No more than 10 years' total credit can be purchased under the provisions of this section.

(d) No member by reason of any credits purchased for non-Texas teaching employment shall be entitled to service retirement benefits under this chapter until he has actually rendered at least 10 years of creditable service in Texas, excluding any credit for non-Texas employment. Equivalent membership service credits granted for out-of-state teaching shall not be used in computing the member's "best-ten-years-average compensation."

(e) All such deposits shall be credited, pending retirement, to the member's individual account in the member savings account.

SUBCHAPTER C. BENEFITS

§ 3.31. Service Retirement Benefits

(a) The date of retirement for any eligible member shall be the last day of any month in which he makes written application to the State Board of Trustees, or in which he satisfies the age and service requirements of this subsection, whichever is later.

A member who retires after the effective date of this chapter shall be eligible to retire:

(1) with a standard service retirement benefit consisting of a standard annuity (calculated as provided in Section 3.02(a)(20) of this code) payable in monthly installments during such retired member's life, provided he has completed 10 or more years of creditable service and has attained the age of 65 years;

(2) with a service retirement allowance consisting of the actuarial equivalent of the standard service retirement benefit allowable under Subsection (a)(1) of this section for a like amount of creditable service reduced for early retirement from age 65, provided he has completed at least 15 years of creditable service and has attained the age of 55 years;

(3) with a standard service retirement benefit consisting of a standard annuity (calculated as provided in Section 3.02(a)(20) of this code) payable in monthly installments during such retired member's life, provided he has completed 20 or more years of creditable service and has attained the age of 60 years;

(4) with a service retirement allowance consisting of the actuarial equivalent of the standard service retirement benefit allowable under Subsection (a)(3) of this section for a like amount of service reduced for early retirement from age 60, provided he has completed at least 20 years of creditable service and has attained the age of 55 years; or

(5) with a service retirement allowance consisting of the actuarial equivalent of the standard service retirement benefit allowable under Subsection (a)(3) of this section for a like amount of creditable service reduced for early retirement from age 60, provided he has completed 30 or more years of creditable service.

(b) In lieu of any service retirement benefit allowable under Subsection (a) of this section, a member may elect, by giving notice to the State Board of Trustees in writing before the date fixed for retirement, to receive the actuarial equivalent of the benefit in the form of a reduced monthly amount payable throughout his lifetime, with provision for:

(1) Option One: on his death, the same monthly payments shall be made to and continued throughout the life of the person nominated by the member's written designation filed with the State Board of Trustees prior to his retirement; or

(2) Option Two: on his death, one-half of the same monthly payments shall be made to and continued throughout the life of the person nominated by the member's written designation filed with the State Board of Trustees prior to his retirement; or

(3) Option Three: on his death before 60 monthly payments have been made, they shall continue to the person nominated by the member in writing, or to such person's executor or administrator, until the remainder of the 60 payments have been made; or

(4) Option Four: on his death before 120 monthly payments have been made, they shall continue to the person nominated by the member in writing, or to such person's executor or administrator, until the remainder of the 120 payments have been made; or

(5) Option Five: any other benefit arrangement approved by the State Board of Trustees and certified by the actuary to constitute the actuarial equivalent of the standard annuity retirement benefit to which the member is entitled under Subsection (a) of this section.

(c) A teacher member who takes service retirement upon or after attaining 65 years of age and completing 10 or more but less than 20 years of creditable service shall in any event be entitled to receive a minimum standard service retirement benefit of $75 per month or its actuarial equivalent.

(d) An auxiliary member who retires upon or after attaining 60 years of age and completing 20 or more years of creditable service shall in any event be entitled to receive a minimum standard service retirement benefit of $95 per month or its actuarial equivalent. An auxiliary member who takes service retirement on or after attaining 65 years of age and completing 10 or more but less than 20 years of creditable service shall in any event be entitled to receive a minimum standard service retirement benefit of $60 per month or its actuarial equivalent.

(e) A teacher member who has retired or who retires on a standard service retirement benefit shall in any event be entitled to receive a minimum standard service retirement benefit of $6.50 per month for each year of prior service credit and membership service credit to which he is entitled. A teacher member who has retired or who retires on a service retirement allowance or option other than a standard service retirement benefit shall in any event be entitled to receive the actuarial equivalent of a minimum standard service retirement benefit of $6.50 per month for each year of prior service credit and membership service credit to which he is entitled.

(f) No annuity payment authorized under the provisions of this chapter shall be made for any fraction of a month in which the annuitant dies.

(g) At any time before his date of retirement a member by giving written notice to the State Board of Trustees may revoke his application for retirement and may make, revoke, or change his selection of an option as provided in Subsection (b) of this section. Except as specifically provided in this chapter, no person who has retired under the provisions of this chapter may revoke his retirement nor make, revoke, or change his selection of an option under Subsection (b) of this section.

[Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1456, ch. 405, § 1, eff. May 26, 1971; Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 393, ch. 173, §§ 3, 4, eff. Aug. 27, 1973.]

§ 3.32. Disability Benefits

(a) Upon application of a member, or (where the member is unable to make application) of his employer or legal representative acting in behalf of the member, the State Board of Trustees may, after the filing of said application, retire such member upon the applicable disability benefit set out below if the medical board after a medical examination, certifies that the member is mentally or physically disabled from further performance of duty and that such disability is probably permanent.

(b) If the member has less than 10 years of creditable service at the date of his retirement, he shall be paid a monthly disability benefit of $50 for the duration of such disability, or for life, or for a period equal to the number of months of creditable service rendered by such member prior to date of such retirement, whichever term is shortest.

(c) If the member has more than 10 years of creditable service, but is not eligible for service retirement, he shall receive for the duration of his disability the standard annuity calculated on the basis of his creditable service to date of retirement, or the sum of $50 per month, whichever is greater. In the event the disability retirement occurs after or continues until he attains 60 years of age, his disability shall be conclusively presumed continuous for the remainder of his life.

(d) Once each year during the first five years following disability retirement and once every three years thereafter, the State Board of Trustees may require any member who retired on a disability benefit and who has not yet attained age 60 to undergo a medical examination by a physician or physicians designated by the State Board of Trustees at the retired member's residence or any other place mutually agreed upon. Should he refuse to submit to at least one such medical examination during any authorized examination period, his allowance shall be discontinued until he consents to an examination; if his refusal continues for one year, all his rights to his allowance shall be revoked by the State Board of Trustees.

(e) If a person under 60 years of age who is receiving a disability retirement benefit is restored to active service, or if the medical board certifies to the State Board of Trustees that he is no longer physically or mentally disabled from further performance of duty and the State Board of Trustees concurs, his allowance shall be discontinued, he shall again become a member of the retirement system and the sum in his account before disability retirement, less all disability benefits paid to him, shall be transferred from the retired reserve account to his individual account in the member savings account. On restoration to membership, any creditable service used to compute a member's benefit when he retired shall be restored to full force and effect.

(f) If a person receiving a disability retirement benefit is gainfully employed, his allowance shall be suspended or reduced to an amount by which his salary earned during his last year of creditable service exceeds his present earnings. Should his earnings later change, his allowance may be further modified, but shall never exceed his original allowance.

(g) No member eligible for service retirement without reduction shall be allowed to retire on a disability allowance.

§ 3.33. Beneficiary Designation

(a) Any member may provide in writing on a form the State Board of Trustees prescribes that the benefits payable under this chapter in the event of his death shall be paid to the designated beneficiary. The member may change or revoke a designation previously made by filing with the State Board of Trustees, on a form it prescribes, a notice of change or revocation.

(b) In the event a member fails to designate a beneficiary, or the designated beneficiary predeceases the member and there is no designation effective at the date of death, the death benefits and election right to survivor benefits shall vest (in the order listed) with

(1) the surviving widow or surviving dependent widower of the deceased; or

(2) the children of the deceased in equal portions; or

(3) the dependent parent or parents of the deceased in equal portions.

(c) If none of the persons named in Subsection (b)(1), (2), and (3) of this section survive, then, to the member's estate, or to his heirs, in complete discharge of all claims for death and survivor benefits under this chapter, there shall be paid

(1) the return of the accumulated contributions of the member; or

(2) a $500 lump sum if death occurs after retirement.

[Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1458, ch. 405, § 1, eff. May 26, 1971.]

§ 3.34. Death Benefits

(a) If a member dies before retirement and during any school year in which he is in service, his eligible designated beneficiary shall be paid, at the beneficiary's election, the greatest of the following amounts in the manner the State Board of Trustees by rule may prescribe:

(1) the annual compensation of the member for the preceding school year; or

(2) the rate of annual compensation of the member for the current school year; or

(3) 60 monthly payments equal to the monthly installments of a standard annuity (calculated as provided in Section 3.02(a)(20) of this code); or

(4) an annuity payable for the designated beneficiary's life with payments equal to those under Option One in Section 3.31(b)(1) of this code had the member retired at the end of the month preceding his death; or

(5) the accumulated contributions of the member's member savings account.

(b) In the event the designated beneficiary is other than a surviving widow, dependent widower, child, grandchild, brother, sister, or dependent parent of the deceased, or other person financially dependent on the deceased, the death benefits payable to the beneficiary under the provisions of this chapter shall be limited to the accumulated contributions in the member's member savings account.

(c) If a member dies during an absence from service, his designated beneficiary shall be paid:

(1) the same benefits payable upon the member's death in active service if the absence of the member from service was due to sickness, accident, or other cause which the State Board of Trustees determines to be involuntary or in furtherance of the objectives or welfare of the public school system, or during a period when he was eligible to retire or would become eligible without further service to retire within five years of his last covered employment; or

(2) the accumulated contributions in the member's individual account if the absence of the member from service was not the result of sickness, accident, or other justifiable cause determined in this chapter.

[Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1459, ch. 405, § 1, eff. May 26, 1971; Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 394, ch. 173, § 5, eff. Aug. 27, 1973.]

§ 3.35. Survivor Benefits

(a) If a teacher member dies before retirement, his designated beneficiary (if entitled to a death benefit other than the accumulated contributions of the member) may elect, in lieu of the applicable death benefit authorized under Section 3.34 of this code, to receive a lump sum payment of $500 plus the following applicable survivor benefits:

(1) if the designated beneficiary is the widow, dependent widower, or dependent parent of the deceased member, he may elect to receive for life a monthly benefit of $75 commencing at age 65 or immediately if the beneficiary has already attained that age; or

(2) if the designated beneficiary is the widow or dependent widower of the deceased and has one or more children under 18 years of age or has the custody of one or more children of the deceased under 18 years of age, he may elect to receive a monthly benefit of $150 until the youngest child attains the age of 18 years, and at that time all payments shall cease until the beneficiary attains age 65 when he shall receive for life a monthly benefit of $75; or

(3) if the designated beneficiary or beneficiaries are the deceased's dependent children under the age of 18 years, they may, on election of their guardian, receive a total monthly benefit of $150 so long as there are two or more such children under 18 years of age; thereafter, when there is only one child remaining under 18 years of age, he may receive $75 per month until attaining 18 years.

(b) If the designated beneficiary is a widow, dependent widower, or dependent parent of the deceased, the benefits payable under Subsection (a)(1) and (2) of this section shall cease upon the beneficiary's death or remarriage; in that event, however, payment of the benefits provided in Subsection (a)(3) of this section will commence if applicable.

(c) If an auxiliary member dies before retirement, his designated beneficiary or beneficiaries shall be entitled to the same elections provided in Subsection (a) of this section except that the monthly benefits shall be two-thirds of the amount payable to the beneficiary or beneficiaries of a deceased teacher member if his rate of compensation for his last year of employment was less than $3,800.

[Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1459, ch. 405, § 1, eff. May 26, 1971.]

§ 3.36. Benefits Payable Upon Death After Retirement

(a) If a retired member dies while receiving a retirement benefit, his eligible designated beneficiary shall be entitled to the same survivor benefits provided for designated beneficiaries of members in active service at death. Any benefit payable to the designated beneficiary under a service retirement option previously elected by the deceased shall not be affected by the beneficiary's eligibility for survivor benefits. The lump sum payment of $500 shall be made regardless of the beneficiary's eligibility for any other survivor benefit.

(b) If a member retires upon a disability retirement benefit and dies while drawing his benefit, his beneficiary may elect to receive, in lieu of the benefit provided in Subsection (a) of this section, the same death benefit to which he would have been entitled had the deceased been in active service at death, less all disability payments made to the deceased.

(c) An unremarried widow or widower, as designated beneficiary of a member of the retirement system with 25 or more years of creditable service who died prior to April 8, 1957, shall be entitled to receive survivor benefits provided in this chapter for beneficiaries of members with a creditable year of service, except that the $500 lump sum amount shall not be payable, and provided that such beneficiary did not receive or is not receiving a death benefit other than the return of the member's deposits plus accumulated interest.

(d) Any unremarried widow or widower, as designated beneficiary of a retired member who did not have a creditable year of service after November 23, 1956, and who died prior to August 23, 1963, while receiving a retirement annuity from the retirement system, shall be entitled to receive survivor benefits provided elsewhere in this chapter, except that the lump sum amount shall not be payable.

(e) Benefits provided in Subsections (c) and (d) of this section shall become effective on the last day of the month in which the qualified beneficiary applies to the retirement system in such form as may be prescribed by the State Board of Trustees and payments shall be due from and after that date only, and the same age requirements specified elsewhere in this chapter shall apply to the provisions of these subsections.

(f) Upon the death of a retired member receiving service retirement benefits under Subsection (a) of Section 3.31 or service retirement benefits under Subsections (b)(1), (2) or (5) of Section 3.31 of this chapter when the retired member's designated beneficiary predeceases him, there shall be paid to the designated beneficiary, or to those provided in Subsections (b) and (c) of Section 3.33 of this chapter if there is no designated beneficiary in existence at the time of the retired member's death, an amount equal to the retired member's accumulated contributions less the total amount of service retirement benefits paid pursuant to Section 3.31 of this chapter to the retired member.

(g) Upon the death of a retired member's designated beneficiary who is receiving an annuity under Option One or Option Two as provided by Subsection (b) of Section 3.31 of this chapter or under Option Five of that subsection, if such option results in a total payment of benefits which is less than the accumulated contributions of the retired member, the estate or the heirs of the beneficiary shall be refunded an amount equal to the accumulated contributions of the retired member less the total amount of service retirement benefits paid pursuant to Section 3.31 of this chapter to the retired member and his designated beneficiary.

(h) Payments provided by Subsections (f) and (g) of this section shall not affect the right of an eligible beneficiary to receive survivor benefits provided in this chapter nor the right of any beneficiary to receive the lump sum payment of $500 as provided in Subsection (a) of this section.

[Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1460, ch. 405, § 1, eff. May 26, 1971; Acts 1973, 63rd Leg., p. 394, ch. 173, § 6, eff. Aug. 27, 1973.]

§ 3.37. Employment After Retirement

(a) Any person receiving a service retirement benefit from the retirement system may be employed in the public schools of Texas:

(1) on a part-time day-to-day basis only not to exceed 80 school days in any one school year as a substitute for an employee who is absent from duty;

(2) as a substitute in a vacant position until such position can be filled, but not to exceed 30 days, but any substitute employment in a vacant position shall be deducted from the 80 days permitted as a substitute for an absent employee; or

(3) on as much as a one-third time basis if the retired member is over age 60.

(b) This employment will not affect any person's rights to any benefits under the retirement system. However, it will not entitle a person to additional creditable service under the retirement system and the person so employed shall not be required to make further contributions to the system.

(c) A person who reports for duty as a substitute during any day and works any portion of that day, shall be considered to have worked one day. The State Board of Trustees of the retirement system shall by rule define "one-third time basis" and shall adopt rules governing the employment of a substitute.

(d) A person receiving a service retirement from the retirement system who is employed in any position in the public schools of Texas except as provided in this section, shall forfeit all retirement benefits for any month in which such employment occurs. Employment which begins as substituting may become permanent employment. A person who substitutes on a day-to-day basis in a regular position for an absent employee for more than 80 school days or for more than 30 school days in a vacant position and then continues in the same position shall be considered to have been a regular employee since the first day of employment and forfeits his retirement benefits for all months of employment in that position.

§ 3.38. Limited Adjustment of Benefits in Effect

(a) Except as provided in this section, nothing in this chapter is intended to affect benefits allowed prior to May 31, 1971, by reason of retirement or death, prior to such date, of a member of the system.

(b) Beginning with the first day of March, 1971, a retired member shall have his monthly benefit increased by 10 percent of the amount he received during the preceding month or would have received the preceding month if his benefit had not been suspended.

(c) Beginning with the first day of March, 1971, any person who, as beneficiary of a member, is receiving a benefit under the provisions of Section 3.01(b) or Section 3.04(a)(3) or Section 3.04(a)(4) of Chapter 41, Acts of the Regular Session of the 61st Texas Legislature, 1969,<sup>1</sup> shall have his monthly benefit increased by 10 percent of the amount he received during the preceding month.

(d) If, after increasing benefits to retired teacher members and beneficiaries of retired teacher members as provided in Subsections (b) and (c) of this section, the benefit is still less than the minimum benefit provided in Section 3.31(e) of this code, then the retired teacher member or his beneficiary shall be entitled to receive the minimum or the actuarial equivalent of the minimum provided by Section 3.31(e) of this code.

(e) Any person with more than 20 years and less than 25 years of service who has retired under a provision of the laws which governed the Teacher Retirement System of Texas granting a retirement annuity based upon the actuarial equivalent of a standard service retirement benefit reduced for early retirement from age 65 shall receive an annuity recomputed under the terms of Subsection (a)(4) of Section 3.31 of this chapter. The increase in payments to those affected shall begin on the last day of the month of the effective date of this subsection and shall not be retroactive to their respective dates of retirement.

§ 3.39. Optional Deductions for Medicare Payments

Any eligible person receiving retirement benefits under Section 3.31 of this chapter may authorize in writing the retirement system to deduct from his monthly annuity payment the amount required as a monthly premium for hospital insurance benefits provided to uninsured individuals not otherwise eligible for medical insurance for the aged as provided by Part A of Title XVIII of the Social Security Act<sup>1</sup> and for supplementary medical insurance benefits for the aged as provided by Part B of Title XVIII of the Social Security Act.<sup>2</sup> The retirement system shall, upon making these authorized deductions, pay the required premiums for the retired member to the Treasury of the United States subject to the laws of the United States and the rules and regulations of the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare concerning the time and manner of payment.

SUBCHAPTER D. ADMINISTRATION AND ORGANIZATION

§ 3.51. Establishment of Accounts

According to the purpose for which they are held, all assets of the retirement system shall be credited to one of five accounts: the member savings account, the state contribution account, the retired reserve account, the interest account, and the expense account.

Such schools shall be administered by a centrally located school district designated by the Central Education Agency in each such county, and the school districts accepting the designation shall provide appropriate physical facilities, buildings, equipment, supplies, materials, and transportation to all eligible children residing in the county without regard to school district boundaries.

(b) The provisions of this section may apply to any two contiguous counties whose cumulative population exceeds 140,000 but does not exceed 335,000, according to the last preceding federal census, provided that such two-county day schools shall be administered by one school district designated by the Central Education Agency.

(c) School districts in counties contiguous to those authorized to operate a bi-county day school for the deaf may participate in the day school for the deaf program upon approval by the Central Education Agency of requests from a school district in a county contiguous to those counties authorized to operate the bi-county day school and the school district designated to conduct the school. Participation of school districts in counties contiguous to those authorized to operate the bi-county day school for the deaf shall be on the same basis as for school districts within the counties authorized to operate the school.

(d) (1) All deaf children between the scholastic ages of 6 and 21, inclusive, residing in the county or multi-county providing a day school program herein authorized for such scholastics, shall be eligible to attend the school designated by the operating district.

(2) Provided, however, not later than June 1, the governing board of any school district, within a county or multi-county which has in operation a day school program approved under this law, may file with the Central Education Agency notice withdrawing for a next ensuing school year from such day school program to operate in lieu thereof an exceptional children program providing for the education of all its resident deaf children under applicable provisions of Subsection (4)a of Section 1 of Article III, Chapter 334, Acts of the 51st Legislature, 1949, as amended (Article 2922-13,<sup>1</sup> Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(e) Deaf children between the scholastic ages of 6 and 13, inclusive, in such counties (heretofore eligible for admission in the Texas School for the Deaf) shall not be eligible for admission to the Texas School for the Deaf except upon recommendation of the superintendent of the operating district with the concurrence of the superintendent of the Texas School for the Deaf.

(f) Students between the scholastic ages of 6 and 13, inclusive, enrolled in the Texas School for the Deaf prior to August 28, 1961, from counties herein authorized to provide and which do provide countywide day schools shall have the option of continuing their program at Texas School for the Deaf or returning to their homes to attend the designated day schools authorized by this code.

(g) Children enrolled in the countywide day schools in such counties, who become 14 years of age on or before December 31, shall be eligible for admission to the Texas School for the Deaf or to continue their academic training and program of vocational planning, guidance, and training in the special day school.

(h) Total cost of operating countywide day schools authorized by this section shall be borne entirely by the state and shall be paid from the foundation school program fund. Such costs shall be considered and included by the Foundation School Fund Budget Committee in estimating the funds needed for purposes of the Foundation School Program and such countywide day school program. No part of the operating costs herein provided for shall be charged to any of the school districts of this state.

(i) Operating costs for the program in each county shall be determined and paid on the basis of the following factors:

(1) one teacher unit shall be allocated for every eight eligible deaf pupils or major fraction of eight, except that in the case of a bi-county day school authorized by Subsection (b) of this section which has participating school districts as authorized by Subsection (c) of this section one teacher unit shall be allocated for every seven eligible deaf pupils or major fraction of seven;

(2) schools with 15 or more teacher units shall be allocated a full-time principal unit except that a bi-county day school authorized by Subsection (b) of this section which has participating school districts as authorized by Subsection (c) of this section shall be allocated a full-time principal unit;

(3) one supervisor shall be allocated for every 10 teacher units but not to exceed three supervisors; provided, however, that each approved school shall have at least one supervisor;

(4) one visiting teacher unit shall be allocated for each countywide or bi-county day school for the deaf;

(5) salaries of the teacher, supervisor, principal, and visiting teacher shall be determined, respectively, in accordance with the official salary schedule of the district where the day school is established;

(6) an operation expense allotment, including transportation, of $700 per each eligible deaf pupil enrolled in the program each current school year;

(7) one initial allotment in the amount of $3,000 per each teacher unit approved for the first year of operation only shall be allowed for the acquisition of transportation vehicles, auditory and other classroom equipment, and other aids and adjustments needed for training the deaf pupils in this program; and

(8) an allocation of $1,000 operating fund for each continuing teacher unit activated for the 1969-1970 school year shall be made.

(j) No state funds provided for in Subsection (i) of this section shall be used for any other purpose than for the countywide special day schools for the deaf program herein referred to.

(k) The Central Education Agency shall approve the educational program for the countywide day schools, and the program shall be comparable to that of the Texas School for the Deaf.

(l) Except for school districts in any county already participating in the operation of countywide special day schools for the deaf, school districts in counties contiguous to counties participating in bi-county day schools for the deaf and also school districts in counties contiguous to those counties authorized to be added under this subsection may participate in the multi-county day school for the deaf program upon approval by the Texas Education Agency of requests from the applying school district and the school district designated to conduct the school. Participation of school districts in all counties authorized to be added to the multi-county day school for the deaf program by this subsection shall be on the same basis as for school districts within the counties already included in the program.

(m) For the purposes of this section, any bi-county day school for the deaf which serves one or more additional counties may be referred to as a multi-county day school.

(n) The legislature by the addition of this and the following subsections to this Section 11.10, Texas Education Code, intends to continue a process of providing better education available to deaf children on a statewide basis in Texas, and to afford all deaf children an opportunity for achievement more equal to their peers with normal hearing.

(o) To carry out legislative intent and the objectives of subsections (n) and the following subsections of this Section 11.10, the Central Education Agency shall employ a Director of Deaf Education (at a salary not exceeding $30,000) with the responsibility to develop and administer a comprehensive statewide plan for deaf education services including continuing diagnosis and evaluation, counseling and teaching, and designed to accomplish the following objectives:

(1) Assisting and counseling parents of children of any age whose hearing is determined by professionally acceptable evaluation to be non-functional for education purposes, such assistance and counseling to be provided in each of the regional day school programs for the deaf hereinbelow authorized, and admitting all children between the ages of three and 21 whose hearing is determined by professionally acceptable evaluation to be nonfunctional for educational purposes to the regional day school programs for the deaf; and

(2) Enabling a majority or as many as may be practicable of deaf children to reside with their parents or guardians and be afforded compensatory education in their home school districts or in facilities of regional day school programs for the deaf; and

(3) Enabling deaf children who are unable to attend schools at their place of residence and whose parents or guardians live too far from facilities of regional day school programs for the deaf for daily commuting or to be accommodated five nights a week in foster homes or other residential school facilities provided for by the Central Education Agency in order that such children may attend a regional day school program for the deaf; and

(4) Enrolling children in the Texas School for the Deaf at Austin or any other educational facility for the deaf upon the joint recommendations of the Director of Deaf Education, the superintendent of the child's regional day school program for the deaf, and the Superintendent of the Texas School for the Deaf at Austin, admitting to the Texas School for the Deaf only those children whose needs can best be met in that institution, designating the Texas School for the Deaf as the principal regional school for the central region of the state and Superintendent of the Texas School for the Deaf as the superintendent of the central region; and

(5) Encouraging children enrolled in regional day school programs for the deaf who have demonstrated ability to do so to return to regular school classes on a part-time, full-time or trial basis. Supplemental aid from the regional day school program for the deaf shall be made available to such children; and

(6) Recognizing the need for development of oral communications abilities in deaf children and the ability of many to achieve high educational excellence through that method, but also recognizing the inability of some to gain their education successfully by this means, the comprehensive plan developed by the Central Education Agency will call for the use of methods of communication which will best meet the needs of each individual deaf child in this state, with each child to be examined thoroughly so as to ascertain his potential for communications through oral means. The state director and regional superintendents may establish separate programs to accommodate diverse communication methodologies.

(p) The Central Education Agency shall apportion the state into not more than eight nor less than five areas each furnishing a regional day school program for the deaf. Geographic areas of each regional day school program for the deaf may be revised by the Central Education Agency for betterment of education for the deaf. Activities of a regional day school program for the deaf may be conducted on more than one site.

(q) The Central Education Agency shall employ a superintendent for each regional day school program for the deaf. These superintendents shall be responsible to the Director of Deaf Education of the Central Education Agency.

It is the intent of the legislature that local resources be utilized to the fullest practicable extent in the establishment and operation of the regional day school programs for the deaf. Regional superintendents are authorized and expected to contract with any qualified public or private organization or qualified individuals for diagnostic, evaluation and instructional services or any other services incidental to the education of deaf children, including transportation and/or maintenance.

Upon the recommendation of regional superintendents of the regional day school programs for the deaf the Central Education Agency shall employ educational and other personnel, may purchase or lease real or personal property, may accept gifts or grants of real or personal property or services from any source, public or private, including independent school districts and any institution of higher learning in this state, for the purpose of establishing and operating regional day school programs for the deaf.

The Central Education Agency may provide by rule or regulation that upon establishment of each regional school the countywide school(s) in that region shall become a part of the regional school operation and that all equipment, classroom supplies, and other personal property owned by the countywide schools shall become the property of the regional day school. When any such programs are combined, the directors and employees of the former countywide schools shall be employed in appropriate, substantially similar capacities within the regional day school program for that region.

(r) Costs of operation of the regional day school programs for the deaf shall be borne by the state and paid from the Foundation School Program Fund. Such costs shall be considered and included by the Foundation School Fund Budget Committee in estimating the needs for purposes of the Foundation School Program and the regional day school programs for the deaf. However, funds allocated to countywide schools shall remain so allocated except in those regions in which the countywide program has been made a part of the appropriate region, as aforesaid. Funds specially appropriated to the regional day school program by the General Appropriations Act of the 63rd Legislature, or any substitute therefor, shall be used so as to implement as completely as may be possible the provisions of this Act during the next biennium and in accordance with a budget of expenditures approved by the State Board of Education with the first funds, however, hereby required to be expended for staffing and planning of the regional day school program. Such funds may be used in conjunction with funds from the Foundation School Program Fund in accordance with rules and regulations adopted by the Central Education Agency, the allocation and reallocation of which is hereby authorized. While the principal cost of educating deaf children shall be borne by the state, independent school districts and all institutions of higher learning in the state are hereby authorized and encouraged to make available real or personal property or services in cooperation with the regional day school programs for the deaf for any activities related to education and betterment of education of deaf children including but not limited to research and personnel training and development. It is the intent of the legislature in enacting this subsection that the use of all of the educational resources of this state be maximized to carry out the intent and objectives of this Act.

(s) Operating costs for the program in each regional day school program for the deaf shall be determined and paid on the following basis:

(1) An estimated allocation of $2,700 for each student enrolled in the program of the regional day school program for the deaf in any current year.

(2) Considering that the professional leadership represented in the new positions of Director of Deaf Education and regional superintendents is vital to the effect of this Act, salaries for these positions shall permit recruitment and retention of properly qualified persons.

(3) Teachers, principals, supervisors, counselors, para-professional and supporting personnel shall be employed in such numbers as the Central Education Agency finds to be necessary to establish and operate the regional day school programs for the deaf, and such numbers shall not be less than student-professional ratios known to be requisite for success in education of deaf children. Salaries of all personnel employed in the regional day school programs for the deaf shall be determined in accordance with policies established by the State Board of Education, but in no case shall such salaries be less than salaries paid for comparable positions in any school district comprising any part of the geographic area of the regional day school program for the deaf.

(t) To assure effective implementation of this Act the Central Education Agency shall upon the passage of this Act institute planning and research designed to accomplish the intent and objectives set forth herein including employment of the Director of Deaf Education and other personnel considered essential to meet the operational date specified for this Act.

(u) The regional day school programs for the deaf shall commence operation to the fullest extent possible on September 1, 1974.

(a) The Central Education Agency may under the rules and regulations of the State Board of Education contract with private schools for the deaf to provide education and training for deaf children who are eligible for admission to the Texas School for the Deaf.

(b) Any contract authorized by this section shall provide for standards of education and training, and standards for buildings, equipment, and facilities at least equal to those provided by the Texas School for the Deaf.

(c) The amount paid under a contract authorized by this section on account of each eligible child shall not exceed the average cost per child under the program of countywide day schools for the deaf.

(d) The cost of this program shall be borne entirely by the state and shall be paid from the Foundation School Program. The total cost of this program shall be considered and included by the Foundation School Fund Budget Committee in estimating the funds needed for the Foundation School Program.

(c) The program for non-English speaking children shall cover a period of not to exceed four and one-half months.

(d) Any non-English speaking child who is at least five years of age and who will be eligible to enter the first grade in the ensuing school year may be enrolled.

(e) The Central Education Agency shall establish the academic requirements for teachers who teach in this program and issue certificates to those who meet such standards.

(f) The cost of operating this program shall be borne by the state and each participating district on the same percentage basis applicable to financing the Foundation School Program within the district. The state's share of the cost of the program shall include a monthly salary not to exceed one-half the prevailing minimum salary schedule with increments as prescribed for classroom teachers in Subchapter D, Chapter 16 of this code,<sup>1</sup> as well as a maintenance and operational allotment of $50 per month for each teacher. The state's share of the cost shall be paid from the foundation school program fund, and shall be considered by the Foundation School Fund Budget Committee in estimating the funds needed for Foundation School Program purposes.

(g) This program shall not be set up in any school district, or combination of school districts, unless at least 15 children qualify. The extent to which any school district shall participate in the foundation school program fund over and above the first unit shall be based on an average daily attendance of 20 eligible pupils. No state funds provided for in this section shall be used by the school district for any purpose other than for the non-English speaking program.

(a) The Central Education Agency shall establish and develop a State program for the education of deaf adults. (e) The budget cost of operating the Central Education Agency which is paid from the foundation school program fund shall be included in the estimated cost of the Foundation School Program which is computed by the State Board of Education in March of each year for the determination of the local fund assignment to be charged to each school district.

§ 11.30. Authority to Enter Into Contracts for Grants

For the maintenance and improvement of state educational programs and activities in the public schools, the State Board of Education may enter into contracts for grants from both public and private organizations and may expend such funds under the terms and for the specific purposes contracted.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2764, ch. 889, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.]

§ 11.31. Teacher-Training Programs

(a) The State Board of Education shall develop and publicize a program specifically designed to encourage and facilitate the entry into public-school teaching and into teacher-training programs of a corps of intelligent, mature, and concerned persons who have received bachelor's degrees from accredited institutions of higher education.

(b) The State Board of Education and the institutions of higher learning in this state that are approved for teacher education shall cooperate to develop procedures for the individual evaluation and appraisal of the training and training needs of persons applying for teacher certification who have possessed a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution of higher learning for a period of three years or longer and who are eligible under the laws of Texas to be certified, and to provide to these persons teacher-training programs that are appropriate to their needs and that can be completed in a reasonable time.

(c) The president or chancellor of each college or university in this state approved for teacher training shall appoint a three-member evaluation team to perform the individual evaluation and determine the individual training needs referred to in Subsection (b) of this section. The evaluation team shall be comprised of two members of the faculty of the department or school of education and

(1) one member from the school or college of arts and sciences if the individual is applying for evaluation for elementary certification; or

(2) one member from the teaching field of the individual if the applicant is applying for evaluation for secondary certification.

(d) More than one team as described in Subsection (c) of this section may be appointed at an institution when needed.

(e) When an applicant meeting the requirements in Subsection (b) of this section seeks to become certified to teach in the public schools of Texas, he shall present his transcript and any information covering any work experience or additional qualifications to an institution of higher learning approved for teacher education. The institution's evaluation team shall evaluate the applicant's transcript and work experience and, when practicable, interview the applicant to determine any deficiencies in either professional or content preparation, in the area of teaching specialization chosen by the applicant. The evaluation team shall give due consideration to the applicant's work experience, as well as to his academic record, and to any other evidence bearing upon his qualification as a teacher. The evaluation team shall then recommend what additional course work or other preparation is needed by the applicant to qualify for certification under standards established by the State Board of Education. While the applicant is pursuing the study and preparation recommended by the evaluation team, he will remain under its general guidance. His training may be reevaluated by the team when necessary, as when any teaching experience is acquired by the applicant either in student teaching or under emergency permit. When the team finds the applicant has satisfactorily met the requirements for certification, the team shall recommend him for a provisional certificate.

(f) The State Board of Education, with the advice and assistance of the state commissioner of education, shall develop a pattern of minimum standards for the certification of persons under this section. The pattern shall recognize the role and responsibility of the evaluation teams. As far as the training of persons under this section is concerned, the board shall allow the waiver of any current requirements for the provisional certificate not stipulated or implied by the standards developed for the guidance of institutions for this particular program. However, nothing in this section shall be construed as permitting more requirements of an applicant under this section than would be made in an undergraduate program of teacher preparation; to the contrary, the legislative intent of this section is that, in recognition of the maturity, experience, and level of achievement of applicants in this program, course requirements would more likely be reduced, compressed, or combined, and would be more freely interchangeable with similar courses.

(g) The Central Education Agency is hereby authorized and directed to prepare, or have prepared, publicity materials, and to make these materials available for use to television and radio stations, newspapers and other periodicals, and any other appropriate communications media, to encourage qualified persons to enter the teaching profession and to publicize the training program directed in this section, as well as other teacher-training programs. The Central Education Agency is hereby authorized to use for this purpose any funds that have been or may be appropriated to it, and to accept and spend for this purpose any gifts or donations of funds made for this purpose.

(h) When the commissioner of education shall so direct, in the case of applicants seeking to enter this program to qualify to teach in trade or industrial courses, the requirement herein for a bachelor's degree may be waived.

(i) The State Board of Education, with the advice and assistance of the state commissioner of education, is hereby authorized to establish such rules and regulations as are not inconsistent with the provisions of this section and which may be necessary to implement and carry out the legislative policy expressed herein.

§ 11.311. Student Teacher Centers

(a) To provide college students facilities and supervision for student teaching experience required by law as a prerequisite to the issuance of a valid Texas teaching certificate, it is necessary that joint responsibility among the colleges or universities approved for teacher education by the State Board of Education of this state, the Texas public school districts, and the State of Texas be hereby established.

(b) The Central Education Agency, with the assistance of colleges, universities, and public school personnel, shall establish standards for approval of public school districts to serve as Student Teacher Centers, and define the cooperative relationship between the college or university and the public school which serves the student teaching program.

The board shall prescribe rules under which such textbooks adopted and approved shall be introduced or used by or in the public schools of the state.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2776, ch. 889, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.]

§ 12.17. Public Notice of Adoptions to be Made

(d) The bids shall be submitted in two forms, one in which is stated the allowance made for books then in use and the property of the state when offered in exchange for the new books to be adopted under this code; the other without stating the allowance for presently owned books, which would remain the property of the state. The allowance and condition for exchange, if agreed to and accepted by the state, shall be enforced only during the two scholastic years following a change in books.

(e) Information which shall also be printed, stamped, or pasted in each copy of each book filed with the commissioner of education shall be:

(b) Such deposits shall be returned to the unsuccessful bidders on certificate of the commissioner of education that no contract has been awarded on the bid for which the sum was deposited.

(c) When any successful bidder has been awarded a contract and has filed his bond and contract with the State Board of Education and they have been approved, the State Board of Education shall make an order on the treasurer of the state reciting such facts, and the treasurer shall return the deposit of such bidder to him.

(d) If any successful bidder fails to make and execute the contract and bond as provided in this subchapter, the deposit made by the successful bidder shall be forfeited to the state absolutely and the treasurer shall place the deposit of the bidder in the state treasury to the credit of the available school fund, and the State Board of Education may readvertise for other bids to supply the book or books.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2777, ch. 889, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.]

§ 12.20. Affidavit of Eligibility and Agency

(b) Each affidavit filed must contain the following:

(2) the names of any persons who may have at any time during the preceding year received, either directly or indirectly, any money or other thing of value from the bidder by way of emolument for services rendered in this state, either directly or indirectly, in securing or attempting to secure contracts for the sale of books of the publisher or in promoting the sale of such books to the State of Texas;

(3) a statement that no member of the State Board of Education or of the State Textbook Committee is in any way interested, directly or indirectly, in the individual, firm, or corporation bidding; and

(4) a statement that the antitrust affidavits and other materials required by Section 12.22 of this code have been filed.

(c) In the event any publisher, after filing the affidavit, shall employ an attorney or other representative to assist in securing the award of a contract by the State Board of Education, he shall disclose such employment to the board by filing a supplementary affidavit before any contract in which he is interested shall be awarded.

(d) A publisher who cannot or does not comply with the provisions of this section shall not be eligible to bid.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2778, ch. 889, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.]

§ 12.21. Affidavit as Warranty

The statements made in all affidavits filed by a publisher shall be considered warranties and, if found to be untrue, shall subject the contract to forfeiture and authorize a recovery on the bond to the full amount thereof, as liquidated damages, unless it is shown that such misstatement or nondisclosure of fact was unintentional or an oversight on the part of the publisher.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2778, ch. 889, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.]

§ 12.22. Antitrust Regulations

(a) No book or books shall be purchased from any person, firm, or corporation who is a member of or connected with any trust.

(b) The affidavits (as shall be applicable to the bidder) which the State Board of Education shall require all persons, firms, and corporations bidding for a contract to file with the board, on or before the date selected by the board for receiving sealed bids for textbook adoptions, and in order to carry out the requirement of Subsection (a) of this section, are as follows:

(1) Each person, firm, or corporation shall file a sworn affidavit that said person, firm, or corporation is not a trust and is not connected either directly or indirectly with a trust.

(2) Each person, firm, or corporation shall file a sworn affidavit stating whether the person, firm, or corporation is interested, or whether the person, firm, or any member thereof, or any individual stockholder of such corporation is interested or acting as a director, trustee, or stockholder, either directly or indirectly or through a third party, or in any manner in any other textbook publishing house. This statement shall be sworn to by the person, a member of such firm, or the president, secretary, and each of the directors of a corporation.

(3) Each firm bidding for a contract supplying books shall present a sworn statement signed by all its members, showing the names of all members of the firm, and stating whether any other person, firm, or corporation has any financial interest in the firm, and also whether any individual members of the firm have any financial interest in any other textbook publishing firm or corporation or textbook publishers.

(c) The State Board of Education shall also require the corporations, persons, or firms to file attested copies of all written agreements entered into and existing between them and others engaged in the textbook publishing business.

§ 12.23. Consideration of Bids

(a) The State Board of Education shall meet at the time and place mentioned in the public notice of adoptions to be made, as specified in Section 12.17 of this code. The board shall then and there open and examine the sealed proposals received.

(b) No bid shall be considered from, and no contract shall be made with, any publisher who has failed to establish his eligibility in compliance with the terms of Section 12.20 of this code;

(c) No bid shall be considered and no book or books shall be purchased from any person, firm, or corporation who is a member of or connected with any trust, or if, in the opinion of the State Board of Education, the affidavit, written agreements, or other facts presented in compliance with the terms of Section 12.22 of this code are violations of the anti-trust laws of the State of Texas or opposed to public policy.

(d) No person, not the author or publisher or the bona fide permanent and regular employee of the publisher, shall appear before the State Board of Education in behalf of any book submitted to the board for adoption or seek to influence the members thereof.

§ 12.24. Selection and Adoption

(a) The State Board of Education shall make a full and complete investigation of all books and accompanying bids. The textbooks shall be selected and adopted after a careful examination and consideration of all books presented.

(b) The books selected and adopted shall be those which in the opinion of the board are most acceptable for use in the schools. Quality, mechanical construction, paper, print, price, authorship, literary merit, and other relevant matters shall be given such weight in making the decisions as the board may deem advisable.

(c) No textbook shall be adopted until it has been read carefully and examined by at least a majority of the State Textbook Committee.

(d) The State Board of Education shall proceed without delay to adopt for use in the public schools of this state textbooks on all branches authorized by this chapter; but if the bids submitted are not satisfactory, the board may postpone the selection of the books or a part of them to such time as the board may select, and after readvertising, new bids may be received and acted on by the board in the same manner as original bids.

(e) If no texts on any prescribed subject are submitted by any particular publisher or publishers that meet the requirements of the schools, as may be determined by the board, then it shall be the duty of the board to instruct the commissioner of education to investigate the book market for the purpose of securing bids with a view of providing at the most reasonable price or prices possible, the best available texts on subjects that are to be adopted by the board for the schools of Texas.

§ 12.25. Maximum Price

The maximum price which the State Board of Education shall contract to pay, f. o. b. the Texas depository of the publisher, for any books to be used in the public schools of this state shall not exceed the minimum price at which the publisher sells the book in wholesale quantities, f. o. b. the publisher's publishing house, after all discounts have been deducted. Any contract made for the purchase of books for use in the public schools of Texas at a higher price than the maximum price fixed by the preceding sentence of this section shall be void.

§ 12.26. Bond

(a) The bidder to whom any contract may have been awarded shall execute a good and sufficient bond payable to the State of Texas. The bond shall be in an amount which the State Board of Education deems advisable but not less than $2,500 for each textbook adopted by the State Board of Education for use in the public schools of the state. The bond shall be approved by the State Board of Education and shall be conditioned that the contractor shall faithfully perform all the conditions of the contract.

(b) For the purpose of securing satisfactory bond a series of pamphlet writing books shall be considered as one textbook, a series of pamphlet drawing books shall be considered as one textbook, and a series of band, chorus, or orchestra pamphlet-type books shall be considered as one textbook.

(c) The bond shall not be exhausted by a single recovery thereon, but may be sued on from time to time until the full amount is recovered.

(d) The State Board of Education may, at any time, on 20 days' notice, require a new bond to be given and in the event the contractor shall fail to furnish new bond, the contract of the contractor may at the option of the State Board of Education, be forfeited.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2780, ch. 889, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.]

§ 12.27. Preparation and Execution of Contract and Bond

(a) The contract and bond shall be prepared by the attorney general, and be payable in Travis County, Texas, and shall be deposited in the office of the secretary of state.

(b) Each contract shall be duly signed by the publishing house or its authorized officers and agents; and if it is found to be in accordance with all the provisions of this chapter, and if the bond required by this chapter is presented and duly approved, the State Board of Education shall approve the contract and order it to be signed on behalf of the board by the chairman.

(c) All contracts shall be made in duplicate, one copy to remain in custody of the secretary of state and be copied or appear reproduced in full in the minutes of the meeting of the State Board of Education in a well-bound book, and the other copy to be delivered to the company or its agent.

§ 12.28. Provisions for Updating Books

(a) Every contract shall contain a provision that the State Board of Education may, during the life of the contract, on giving one year's previous notice to the publishers of the book or books, order the changes, amendments, and additions to the book or books so selected and adopted as in the discretion of the board shall keep them up-to-date and abreast of the times. Such revisions shall not be made more often than at two-year intervals.

(b) If in the judgment of the State Board of Education changes or revisions make it impractical for the revised books to be used in the same class with the old books, the publishers shall be required to give the same exchange terms as were given when the books were first adopted, and the exchange period shall extend two years from the time the revised books are first put into use in the schools.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed to give the State Board of Education power or authority to abandon any book or books originally contracted for.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2781, ch. 889, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.]

§ 12.29. Other Contract Provisions

(a) The State Board of Education shall specify the duration of time of all adoption contracts, which shall be for a period the board may determine but not to exceed six years.

(b) The right to exclusive use of new books during the first three years of the term of any contract shall be waived by the contracting publishers to provide for the gradual introduction of new books.

(c) No contract shall ever be made that binds the state to buy a specific number of a specific quantity of textbooks, but all contracts shall be for such books as the state may need.

(d) Each contract shall provide or be construed to authorize that any book adopted in the contract by the State Board of Education may be sold by the publisher designated depository to any person, or to private and/or parochial schools, or state institutions of this state at the same rate and discount as those granted to the state, provided advance payment accompanies the purchase.

(e) Each contract shall contain a clause to the effect that, if the contract is cancelled by reason of fraud, collusion, or material breach, the full amount of the bond given by the contractor shall be considered as liquidated damages to be recovered out of the bond by the state at the suit of the attorney general.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2781, ch. 889, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.]

§ 12.30. Announcement of Adoption

(a) As soon as the State Board of Education has entered into the contract for the furnishing of books for the public schools of this state under the provisions of this chapter, it shall be the duty of the board to issue its proclamations of such facts to the people of the state.

(b) As soon as practical after the adoption of the textbooks provided for in this chapter, the commissioner of education shall address to the county superintendents and to the presidents of the school boards in independent school districts and to the presidents of school boards in common school districts having 300 or more scholastic population a circular letter which shall contain a list of all the books and such other information as he may deem advisable.

§ 12.31. Central Depositories

(a) All parties with whom existing book contracts have been or hereafter may be made shall establish or designate a depository in some city of this State approved by the State Board of Education as the shipping point for depositories, where a stock of their goods to supply all immediate demands shall be kept. All contractors not maintaining their own separate or individual depository shall designate and/or maintain a joint agency or depository in a city of this State approved by the State Board as the shipping point for depositories. At such approved depository each contractor joining in such joint depository shall keep on hand a sufficient stock of books to supply the schools of the State.

(b) The designation of any depository(ies) for purposes as required in above subsection (a), and/or any change thereof shall be subject to the approval of the State Board of Education.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2782, ch. 889, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969; Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 2427, ch. 775, § 1, eff. Aug. 30, 1971.]

§ 12.32. Enforcement of Contracts

(a) Any person, firm, or corporation with whom a contract has been entered into under the provisions of this chapter, shall designate the secretary of state of Texas as its agent, on whom citation shall be served, and all other writs and processes, in the event any suit shall be brought against the person, firm, or corporation.

(b) The commissioner of education shall carefully label and file away the copies of books adopted as furnished for examination to the State Board of Education; the copies shall be securely kept and the standard of quality and mechanical excellence of the books so furnished under contract shall be maintained during the continuance of the contract.

(c) Complaints regarding textbook service or quality shall be made both to the commissioner of education and to the state depository designated by the contractor of the books. In the event a complaint does not receive reasonable prompt attention, the complaint shall be taken to the county judge, who shall report the fact to the attorney general. The attorney general shall bring suit on account of the failure in the name of the State of Texas in a district court of Travis County, and shall recover on the bond given by the contractor for the full value of the books not furnished as required, and an additional sum of $100. Each day of failure to furnish the books shall constitute a separate offense. The amounts so recovered shall be placed to the credit of the state textbook fund.

§ 12.33. Cancellation of Contracts

(a) Any contract entered into under the provisions of this chapter may be cancelled by the state in a suit instituted by the attorney general for fraud, or collusion, or material breach of the contract on the part of either party to the contract or any member of the State Board of Education or any person, firm, or corporation, or their agents making the bond or contract.

(b) For the cancellation of any such contract the attorney general is authorized to bring suit in the proper court of Travis County.

(c) In case of the cancellation of any contract as provided for, the damages shall be fixed at not less than the amount of the bond, to be recovered as liquidated damages in the same suit canceling contract. Because of the difficulty of determining the damages that might accrue by reason of fraud, collusion, or material breach, and cancellation of a contract, the full amount of the bond given by the contractor shall be considered as liquidated damages to be recovered by the state at the suit of the attorney general.

(d) In the event it is established that any antitrust regulation as specified in Section 12.22 of this code has been violated, the violation shall be held to be fraud and collusion, and the attorney general shall bring suit on the bond of that person, firm, or corporation, and on proof of violation shall recover the liquidated damages as provided for in this section.

§ 12.34. Continuing or Discontinuing Textbooks

(a) It shall be the duty of the State Board of Education to meet annually on the second Monday in November and at such other times as it may deem necessary for the purpose of considering the advisability of continuing or discontinuing, at the expiration of each current contract, any or all of the state-adopted textbooks in use in the public schools of Texas and for making such adoptions as are provided for in this chapter.

(b) Adoptions for the total number of different texts shall be so arranged that contracts on not more than one-sixth of the total number of different basal subjects shall expire in any one year or shall be changed in any one year. The series of pamphlet books referred to in Section 12.26(b) of this code shall each be considered as one book.

(c) Before making any change in the adopted series, the board shall, on thorough investigation, satisfy itself that a change is necessary for the best interest of the school children and that such change is consistent with financial economy.

(d) Before the board shall determine to displace any book on which the contract is expiring, it shall, before making a new contract for a new text, ascertain through the office of the commissioner of education the number of usable books of the kind on which the contract has expired or is about to expire, there are on hand, and also the estimated number of books that would be required to supply the needs of the schools of the state using the books for the first, second, and third years immediately succeeding the expiration of the contract on the books. The purpose of furnishing such an estimate of the number of books needed shall be to give the textbook publishers only an approximation as to the possible quantity of books which the state may need, but the state shall not be bound to any specific quantity.

(e) At the time the commissioner of education undertakes to secure a statement of the number of usable books on hand, as provided above, he shall also secure from the superintendents of independent school districts and of common school districts having 300 or more scholastic population and from county superintendents an expression as to whether or not they believe the existing text should be readopted or a new text adopted, and such information shall be for the use of the State Board of Education, but the board shall not be bound to readopt the old text or to adopt a new text by reason of such expression of preference by the superintendents.

(f) The board shall then secure from the publisher of the book on which the contract has expired or is about to expire a bid or offer for the furnishing of such textbooks to meet the actual necessities of the schools of the state during the first-, second-, and/or third-year period, allowing the state, however, a margin of 25 percent over, or 25 percent under, the estimated number to be required.

(g) If, upon consideration of the cost of the books required to supply such needs for such a period, it appears to the board that it will be economical to do so, it may make a contract with such publishers to furnish such books during said first-, second-, and/or third-year period with a view to using up the entire supply of such books on hand instead of wasting the same at the expiration of the original contract. At the expiration of the period, the board shall then make a contract for a textbook on the subject.

(h) Unless new textbooks better suited to the requirements of the schools are offered to supplant existing textbooks at a price and in quality satisfactory to the board, the board shall renew the existing contracts for such period as may be deemed advisable not to exceed a period of six years.

(i) Whenever the contractor supplying any book agrees to renew the contract on the same terms for a period of not less than two years nor more than six years, the members of the State Board of Education shall give preference to the offer of the company holding the contract if they shall thereby secure as good or better books at a lower price than by making a different contract.

(j) It shall always be lawful for the board to renew a contract on such terms that in its judgment may be for the best interest of the state.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2784, ch. 889, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.]

§ 12.35. Purchase and Distribution

(a) The purchase and distribution of free textbooks for the state shall be under the management of the commissioner of education, subject to the approval of the State Board of Education.

(b) One copy of each textbook used in the work taught by the teacher shall be issued by the school trustees, or their representatives, to each teacher as a desk copy. These books shall be returned to the trustees or their representatives at the close of the session.

(c) Books purchased in accordance with the terms of this chapter shall be delivered to the school districts f. o. b. the Texas depository of the publisher and shall be shipped by freight, parcel post, or express, as may be set out in the requisition.

(d) If it is necessary for the publisher or the depository to prepay any shipping charge, it shall be repaid by the state, in the same manner that the books are paid for, and in addition to the bill for books.

(e) The State Department of Education may direct the route by which books shall be shipped.

(f) Bills for textbooks purchased by the state on requisitions as provided for in this chapter shall be paid by warrants on the state treasury made by the state comptroller of public accounts on receipt of bills approved by the commissioner of education. (b) Within one week subsequent to the first school day in April compiled reports as to the maximum attendance for the school shall be made by the principal to the superintendent or, if there is no district superintendent, the report shall be made to the county superintendent having jurisdiction of the district.

(c) Each superintendent of an independent school district, and each principal of a school district classified as common having a scholastic population of 300 or more and electing to have its books requisitioned and distributed directly to the district, shall compile maximum attendance reports and make such reports to the commissioner of education.

(d) Each county superintendent shall compile reports of the schools classified as common and under his jurisdiction (except for those electing to requisition directly as provided in Subsection (c) of this section), and make a report to the commissioner of education.

(e) Books needed as reported in Subsection (d) of this section shall be requisitioned and distributed entirely through the office of the county superintendent. However, any school district classified as common with a scholastic population of 300 or more may elect to have its books requisitioned and distributed in the same manner as are those for independent school districts. The duties of the county superintendent with reference to the care and distribution of textbooks shall be subject to the approval of the county school board and the commissioner of education.

(f) Reports as to the maximum attendance of each school shall be made to the commissioner of education as prescribed in Subsections (c) and (d) of this section not later than April 25 of each year. Blank forms for such reports and for the requisition of textbooks shall be prepared and furnished by the State Department of Education.

Requisitions shall be made through the commissioner of education and furnished by him to the state depository designated by contractors of books not later than June 1 of each year; but in cases of unforeseen emergency the designated state depository shall fill orders for books on requisition approved by the State Department of Education.

(h) Requisitions for textbooks shall be delivered to the county superintendent by each principal or superintendent of those school districts whose books are requisitioned and distributed through the county superintendent.

(i) Requisitions for supplementary readers and other textbooks may be made at convenient times during the session and should be made within one month in advance of the time the books will be needed.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2785, ch. 889, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.]

§ 12.62. Local Adoptions

(a) No public school in the state shall use any textbook unless it has been previously adopted and approved by the State Board of Education.

(b) In each subject of the elementary and high school grades, one or more of the several textbooks of each multiple list adopted may be selected by local school officials; but all of the schools in any one district, or all districts under the supervision of any one county school system (county school board and/or superintendent) must select the same book or books for all of the schools within the system.

(c) Once textbooks are selected from the multiple lists, they shall be continued in use in that school system for the entire period of the adoption or for a minimum period of not less than five years.

(d) Supplementary readers for pre-primer, primer, first, second, and third grades shall be distributed on a quota of not more than 300 percent of the enrollment for each of the grades to which the book is assigned.

(e) Supplementary readers for the fourth through the eighth grades shall be distributed on a quota basis not in excess of 200 percent of the grade enrollment to which the books are assigned.

(f) Agriculture and homemaking textbooks for grades 9 through 12 shall be distributed on a quota basis not in excess of 220 percent of the subject enrollment.

(g) All other books not specified in this section shall be supplied on the basis of one book for each pupil enrolled in the subject for which the book is adopted and not to exceed the total enrollment for the subject plus the teachers' copies.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2786, ch. 889, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.]

§ 12.63. Title, Custody, and Disposition

(a) After purchase according to the provisions of this chapter, all textbooks are and shall remain the property of the State of Texas.

(b) Specific rules as to the requisition, distribution, care, use, and disposal of books may be made by the commissioner of education, subject to the approval of the State Board of Education. Such rules shall not conflict with the provisions of this code.

(c) Textbooks shall be subject to inspection by any agent or inspector authorized by those having charge of the local textbook service or authorized by the commissioner of education subject to approval of the State Board of Education.

(d) The commissioner of education with the approval of the State Board of Education may provide for the disposition of those textbooks which are no longer in fit condition to be used for instruction purposes, or for the disposition of discarded books remaining the property of the state. In case of the disuse of books in fair condition, inspectors of the State Department of Education may require continuance of their use.

(e) The school trustees of each district shall be designated as the legal custodians of the books and shall have the power to make such arrangements for the distribution of books to the pupils as they may deem most effective and economical.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2786, ch. 889, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.]

(b) The bond shall be approved by the county judge of the county in which the school is situated and by the commissioner of education; deposited with the commissioner; and conditioned on the faithful discharge by the member or employee of his duties under his employment and under this section and on his faithfully accounting for all books coming into his possession and for all money received from the sale thereof.

§ 12.65. Distribution; Handling

(a) The district school trustees may delegate, under such terms as they deem best, to their employees power to requisition and distribute books and to manage books, but such delegations of authority shall not be at variance with the provisions of this code or with the rules for free textbooks formulated by the commissioner of education and approved by the State Board of Education.

(b) All books shall have on one inside cover a printed label stating that the book is the property of the state. Schools shall number all books, placing the number on the printed label. Teachers shall keep a record of the number of all books issued to each pupil. Books must be covered by the pupil under the direction of the teacher. Books must be returned to the teacher at the close of the session or when the pupil withdraws from school.

(c) Each pupil, or his parent or guardian, shall be responsible to the teacher for all books not returned by the pupil, and any pupil failing to return all books shall forfeit his right to free textbooks until the books previously issued but not returned are paid for by the parent or guardian.

(d) Teachers and school officers must make such reports as to the use, care, and condition of free textbooks as may be required by the local trustees or by the State Department of Education. The salary for any month of any teacher or employee who neglects to make the report at the proper time may be withheld until each report is received in a condition satisfactory in form and content.

(e) No teacher or employee of the school engaged in the distribution of textbooks under this code as the agent or employee of the state, or of any county or district in the state, shall, in connection with this distribution, sell or distribute, or in any way handle, any kind of school furniture or supplies, such as desks, stoves, blackboards, crayons, erasers, pens, ink, pencils, tablets, etc.

All such contracts shall be in writing, in such form as may be promulgated by or approved by the commissioner of education, and shall embody the terms and conditions of employment hereinafter set forth, and such other provisions not inconsistent with this subchapter as may be appropriate.

§ 13.102. Probationary Contract

Any person who is employed as a teacher by any school district for the first time, or who has not been employed by such district for three consecutive school years subsequent to August 28, 1967, shall be employed under a "probationary contract," which shall be for a fixed term as therein stated; provided, that no such contract shall be for a term exceeding three school years beginning on September 1 next ensuing from the making of such contract; and provided further that no such contract shall be made which extends the probationary contract period beyond the end of the third consecutive school year of such teacher's employment by the school district, unless the board of trustees determines and recites that it is in doubt whether the particular teacher should be given a continuing contract, in which event a probationary contract may be made with such teacher for a term ending with the fourth consecutive school year of such teacher's employment with the school district, at which time the employment of such teacher by such school district shall be terminated, or such teacher shall be employed under a continuing contract as hereinafter provided.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2925, ch. 889, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969; Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1474, ch. 405, §§ 2, 54(1).]

In event of failure to give such notice of intention to terminate within the time above specified, the board of trustees shall thereby elect to employ such probationary teacher in the same capacity, and under probationary contract status for the succeeding school year if the teacher has been employed by such district for less than three successive school years, or in a continuing contract position if such teacher has been employed during three consecutive school years.

§ 13.104. Hearing

In event a teacher holding a probationary contract is notified of the intention of the board of trustees to terminate his employment at the end of his current contract period, he shall have a right upon written request to a hearing before the board of trustees, and at such hearing, the teacher shall be given the reasons for termination of his employment. After such hearing, the board of trustees may confirm or revoke its previous action of termination; but in any event, the decision of the board of trustees shall be final and non-appealable.

§ 13.106. Continuing Contract

Any teacher employed by a school district who is performing his third, or where permitted fourth, consecutive year of service with the district under probationary contract, and who is elected to employment by the board of trustees of such district for the succeeding year, shall be notified in writing of his election to continuing contract status with such district, and such teacher shall within 30 days after such notification file with the board of trustees of the employing school district notification in writing of his acceptance of the continuing contract, beginning with the school year following the conclusion of his period of probationary contract employment. Failure of the teacher to accept the contract within such 30 day period shall be considered a refusal on the part of the teacher to accept the contract.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2926, ch. 889, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969; Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1475, ch. 405, §§ 2, 54(1).]

- (1) resigns, or retires under the teacher retirement system;
- (2) is released from employment by the school district at the end of a school year because of necessary reduction of personnel as herein defined;
- (3) is discharged for lawful cause, as defined in Section 13.109 of this code and in accordance with the procedures hereinafter provided;

The board of trustees may grant to a person who has served as superintendent, principal, supervisor, or other person employed in any administrative position for which certification is required, at the completion of his service in such capacity, a continuing contract to serve as a teacher, and the period of service in such other capacity shall be construed as contract service as a teacher within the meaning of this subchapter.

(b) In the event the grounds for the proposed action relate to the inability or failure of the teacher to perform his assigned duties, the action shall be based upon the written recommendation by the superintendent of schools, filed with the board of trustees. Any teacher so discharged or dismissed or returned to probationary contract status shall be entitled, as a matter of right, to a copy of each and every evaluation report, or any other memorandum in writing which has been made touching or concerning the fitness or conduct of such teacher, by requesting in writing a copy of the same.

(c) Within 10 days after request for hearing made by the teacher, the board of trustees shall fix a time and place of hearing, which shall be held before the proposed action shall be effective. Such hearing shall be public unless the teacher requests in writing that it be private.

(d) At such hearing, the teacher may employ counsel, if desired, and shall have the right to hear the evidence upon which the charges are based, to cross-examine all adverse witnesses, and to present evidence in opposition thereto, or in extenuation.

If the proposed action be discharge of the teacher for any of the reasons set forth in Section 13.109 of this code, the teacher may be suspended without pay by order of the board of trustees, or by the superintendent of schools if such power has been delegated to him by express regulation previously adopted by the board of trustees, but in such event the hearing shall not be delayed for more than 15 days after request for hearing, unless by written consent of the teacher.

If the teacher upon notification of any such proposed action fails to request a hearing within 10 days thereafter, or after a hearing as hereinabove provided, the board of trustees shall take such action and shall enter such order as it deems lawful and appropriate. If the teacher is reinstated, he shall immediately be paid any compensation withheld during any period of suspension without pay. (b) If the board of trustees shall order the continuing contract status of any teacher holding such a contract abrogated at the end of any school year and such teacher returned to probationary contract status, or if the board of trustees shall order that any teacher holding a continuing contract be dismissed at the end of the school year, or that any teacher holding a probationary contract shall be dismissed at the end of a school year before the end of the employment period covered by such probationary contract, the teacher affected by such order, after filing notice of appeal with the board of trustees, may appeal to the commissioner of education by mailing a copy of the notice of appeal to the commissioner within 15 days after written notice of the action taken by the board of trustees has been given to the teacher.

(c) Either party to an appeal to the commissioner shall have the right to appeal from his decision to the State Board of Education, according to the procedures prescribed by the State Board of Education. The decision of the State Board of Education shall be final on all questions of fact, but shall be subject to appeal to the district court of any county in which such school district or portion thereof lies, if the decision of the state board:

(1) is not supported in the record by substantial evidence;

(2) is arbitrary or capricious; or

(3) is in error in the application of existing law to the facts of the case.

(d) Trial procedure in the district court shall be the same as that accorded other civil cases on the docket of said court, with the decision of the trial court to be subject to the same rights of appeal under the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure as is accorded other civil cases so tried.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2928, ch. 889, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969; Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1478, ch. 405, §§ 2, 54(1).]

Under no circumstances shall the substantial evidence rule as interpreted and applied by the courts of Texas in other cases ever be used or applied to appeals prosecuted under the provisions of this subchapter.

(A) such securities, prior to their purchase, must have been diligently investigated by the attorney general of Texas both as to their form and as to their legal compliance with applicable laws;

(B) the attorney general's certificate of validity procured by the party offering such bonds, obligations, or pledges must accompany these securities when they are submitted for registration to the state comptroller, who must preserve the certificates;

(C) such securities shall be purchased under the provisions of Subsection (b) of this section;

(D) these public securities, if purchased, and when certified and registered as specified above, shall be incontestable unless issued fraudulently or in violation of a constitutional limitation, and the certificates of the attorney general shall be prima facie evidence of the validity of the bonds and coupons thereto; and

(E) after the issuing political subdivision of Texas has received the proceeds from the sales of such public securities, the issuing agency shall be estopped to deny their validity, and the same shall be held to be valid and binding obligations;

(6) preferred stocks and common stocks as to the State Board of Education may deem to be proper investments for the permanent school fund, under the following rules and regulations:

(A) in making all such investments the State Board of Education shall exercise the judgment and care under the circumstances then prevailing which men of ordinary prudence, discretion, and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs, not in regard to speculation but in regard to the permanent disposition of their funds, considering the probable income therefrom as well as the probable safety of their capital;

(B) stocks eligible for purchase are restricted to stocks of companies incorporated within the United States which have paid dividends for five consecutive years or longer immediately prior to the date of purchase and which, except for bank stocks and insurance stocks, are listed upon an exchange registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission or its successors;

(C) not more than one percent of the permanent school fund may be invested in stock issued by one corporation nor shall more than five percent of the voting stock of any one corporation be owned;

(c) The authorized officer of the offering school district must notify the State Board of Education of all bids received for its offered bonds, either as first issue or as securities issued in lieu of outstanding bonds held for the account of the permanent school fund.

(d) Before the option to purchase or exchange is exercised, the offered school district bonds must be carefully examined by the State Board of Education and must be found to be safe and proper investment for the fund, and unless satisfied, the board may decline to purchase same. Such offered securities must fulfill the following requirements:

(B) The right to enforce such collection shall never be barred by any law or limitation.

(e) The commissioner of education shall have authority, subject to the approval of the State Board of Education to exercise the option provided for in this section and to exercise a waiver of purchase when the securities offered do not meet eligibility requirements. When and if the commissioner of education exercises the option given by law for the purchase of securities, such exercise shall prevent the sale of the securities to any other party until the State Board of Education, at its next meeting, has had opportunity either to approve or to disapprove such purchase.

(f) If the State Board of Education elects to exercise its option to purchase, it shall order purchase of securities at the price offered by the best bona fide bidder and shall notify and direct the state comptroller to purchase the securities as an investment for the permanent school fund.

(g) If the State Board of Education shall refuse or shall have refused to purchase all or any part of the bonds offered by any such political subdivision, or from the parties to whom the bonds were issued, the offering authority shall sell the bonds to the best bona fide bidder; but the State Board of Education may thereafter purchase such bonds or obligations, subject to the same restrictions provided governing the purchase of such from the political subdivision. When so purchased, such obligations shall be subject to all rights and powers provided by law governing the same when purchased by the State Board of Education from the issuing authority.

(2) None may be exchanged for a public security having a principal value less than the principal value of the security exchanged; and

(b) In making each and all of such sales the State Board of Education shall exercise the judgment and care under the circumstances then prevailing which men of ordinary prudence, discretion, and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs not in regard to speculation but in regard to the permanent disposition of their funds, considering the probable income therefrom as well as the probable safety of their capital.

(c) When any obligations are sold or exchanged as provided in Subsection (a) of this section, the state treasurer shall make delivery of the obligations sold or exchanged in accordance with the directions of the State Board of Education.

(b) If the State Board of Education authorizes the purchase of a public security at less than par, the discount received in the purchase shall be paid to the available school fund when the bonds, obligations, or pledges are paid off and discharged.

(b) The governing body of the respective political subdivision desiring to pay off and discharge any such bonded indebtedness owned by the fund shall make such desire known by direct application in writing to the State Board of Education, at least 30 days before any interest paying date on the bonds, describing the bonds or part thereof it desires to pay off and discharge. The application shall be accompanied by an affidavit stating that only such tax money as may be collected by virtue of tax levy made for the specific purpose of providing a sinking fund and paying interest on the particular bonds to be redeemed shall be expended in the redemption, taking up, or paying off the bonds.

(c) The State Board of Education upon receipt of such application and affidavit shall take action on them in such manner as it may deem best and notify the applicant whether the application is refused or granted in whole or in part.

(d) It shall be unlawful for any person on whom any duty rests in carrying out the provisions of this section to give or receive any commission, premium, or compensation for the performance of such duty.

(b) The State Board of Education may compel any such school district to levy a tax sufficient to meet the interest and principal payments as then or later due.

(c) If any such district furnishes to the State Board of Education satisfactory proof that its taxing ability is insufficient, the State Board of Education may require the district to exhaust all legal remedies in collecting taxes then delinquent, and to levy a tax at the maximum lawful rate on the bona fide valuation of taxable property located in the district.

(d) Revenue collected by either method specified in Subsections (b) and (c) of this section shall be distributed proportionately to all owners of the defaulted securities and shall be in compliance with the following rules:

(1) The proportionate share for each owner will be based on the interest and principal requirements of the original security before authorized refunding; and

(2) Prior acceptance of refunding securities will not reduce an owner's proportionate share.

(e) As long as any such school district is delinquent in its payments of principal and/or interest on any of its bonds owned by the permanent school fund, the State Board of Education shall have the authority to specify the method of crediting payments to the state made by the district as to principal and interest.

(f) The comptroller of public accounts shall not issue any warrant from the foundation school fund to or for the benefit of any district which has been for as long as two years in default in the payment of principal or interest on any security owned by the permanent school fund unless and until the State Board of Education certifies that the district has satisfactorily complied with the appropriate provisions of this section, in which event the comptroller shall resume making payments to or for the benefit of the district, including the making of pretermitted payments.

§ 15.07. Authorized Refunding of Defaulted School Bonds

(a) In compliance with the provisions of this section, the State Board of Education is authorized to revise, readjust, modify, refinance, or refund defaulted bonds issued by any school district in Texas and owned by either the permanent school fund or the available school fund.

(b) Application must be made to the State Board of Education by the district which issued the bonds and must show that:

(1) delinquent interest totals at least 50 percent of the principal amount of the bonds; and

(2) taxable valuation has decreased to such an extent that a full application of the proceeds of the voted authorized tax authorized to be levied on the $100 taxable property valuation will not meet interest and principal annually maturing on the bonds.

(c) The State Board of Education may effect a refunding of the debt due and to become due only if the board finds that:

(1) the district is unable to pay the sums already matured and the sums contracted to be paid as they mature by paying annually to the State Board of Education the full proceeds of a 50-cent tax levy on the $100 of all taxable valuation of property within the district;

(2) the taxable valuation of property in the district has decreased at least 75 percent since the bonds were issued and that the decrease was not caused by the district or any of its officials;

(3) the district for a period of at least five years before applying to the State Board of Education for refunding has levied a tax of 50 cents on the $100 of taxable valuation of property in the district, and that despite such levies, the aggregate amount due the State Board of Education exceeds the aggregate amount due at the beginning of the period;

(4) no additional bonds of the district have been authorized and sold during the five-year period immediately preceding the application; and

(5) the district has in good faith endeavored to pay its debt in accordance with the contract evidenced by the bonds held for the account of the permanent school fund or the available school fund.

(d) If the conditions specified in Subsection (c) of this section are found to exist, the district shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be insolvent, and the State Board of Education may exchange the bonds, interest coupons, and other evidences of indebtedness for new refunding bonds of the district issued in compliance with the following regulations:

(1) The principal amount of the refunding bonds shall not be less than the total amount of the bonds, matured interest coupons, accrued interest, and interest on delinquent interest then actually due to the permanent school fund and/or the available school fund;

(2) The rate of interest to be borne by the refunding bonds may be lower than that borne by the bonds to be refunded if in consideration of the interest reduction the district agrees to levy a tax each year for a period of 40 years at a rate sufficient to produce annually a sum equal to 90 percent of the amount that can be calculated by the levy of a tax at the rate of 50 cents on the $100 of taxable valuation of property as determined by the latest approved tax roll of the district, and in determining the rate of interest to be borne by the refunding bonds, the State Board of Education shall be governed by the following:

(A) The State Board of Education is authorized to require the rate to be such percent per annum as in its judgment will represent the maximum rate that can be paid by the district and still permit an orderly and certain retirement of the refunding bonds within 40 years from their date;

(B) The interest rate of refunding bonds to be received in exchange for bonds owned by the permanent school fund shall not be less than the minimum rate at which bonds may then be purchased as investments for the permanent school fund; and

(C) The rate of interest of refunding bonds to be received in exchange for bonds owned by the available school fund may be set by the State Board of Education at any rate which it deems feasible, and such refunding bonds may, at the discretion of the State Board of Education, be made non-interest bearing to such date as may be fixed by the board.

(e) No revision, readjustment, modification, refinancing, or refunding shall be made by the State Board of Education that will release or extinguish any debt or obligation then due and payable to the permanent school fund or to the available school fund.

(f) Except as otherwise provided or permitted by this section, the refunding of the bonds of school districts herein authorized shall be in compliance with the general provisions with regard to the refunding of school district bonds as specified in this code.

§ 15.08. Refunding Other Defaulted Obligations

(a) Defaulted obligations (other than bonds of school districts as provided in Section 15.07 of this code) due the available school fund may be refinanced or refunded with the approval of the State Board of Education in compliance with the provisions of this section.

(b) "Defaulted obligations," as used herein, shall include delinquent interest whether represented by coupons or not, interest on delinquent interest, and any other form of obligation due the available school fund.

(c) The obligor must make application to the State Board of Education and show:

(1) that the obligations due the available school fund have been in default in whole or in part for a continuous period of at least 15 years; and

(2) that the obligor is not in default in the payment of the principal of any bonds owned by the permanent school fund.

(d) If the State Board of Education finds that the above-specified requirements have been met, it may approve a refinancing or the issuance of refunding bonds on the conditions:

(1) that the refunding bonds must mature serially in not exceeding 40 years from the date of issuance;

(2) that the principal amount of the refunding bonds shall be not less than the total amount of the obligations then in default and due the available school fund;

(3) that the refunding bonds shall bear interest at such rate or rates as may be determined by the State Board of Education to be for the best interest of the available school fund.

(e) The State Board of Education in its discretion is authorized to accept refunding bonds in lieu of either matured or unmatured bonds held for the benefit of the permanent school fund, provided that the rate of interest on the new refunding bonds is at least the same rate as that of the bonds being refunded.

(f) Refunding bonds issued with the approval or pursuant a refunding agreement with the State Board of Education in compliance with either this section or Section 15.07 shall, on the order of the State Board of Education, be exchanged by the state treasurer for the defaulted obligations they have been issued to refund.

§ 15.09. Jurisdiction

The district courts of Travis County shall have jurisdiction of any suit on bonds or obligations belonging to the permanent school fund, or purchased therewith, concurrent with that of any other court having jurisdiction in said case.

§ 15.10. Duties of the State Comptroller of Public Accounts

(a) On or before July 1 of each year, the comptroller of public accounts shall estimate the amount of the available school fund receivable from every source during the coming scholastic year and report this estimate to the State Board of Education.

(b) On or before the meeting of each regular session of the legislature, the comptroller of public accounts shall report to the legislature an estimate of the amount of the available school fund to be received for the succeeding two years, and the several sources from which the same accrues, and which may be subject to appropriation for the establishment and support of public schools.

(c) On or before the first working day of each month, the comptroller shall certify to the state commissioner of education the total amount of money collected from every source during the preceding month and on hand to the credit of the available school fund.

(d) On receipt of certificates issued to him by the commissioner of education, the comptroller shall draw his warrants on the state treasurer and in favor of the treasurer (depository) of the available school fund of each school district for the amounts stated in the certificates. All such warrants shall be registered and transmitted to the state treasurer.

§ 15.11. Duties of the State Treasurer

(a) At least 30 days before each regular session of the legislature and 10 days before any special session at which there can be legislation respecting the public schools, the state treasurer shall report to the governor the condition of the permanent school fund and the available school fund, the amount of each and the manner of its disbursement.

(b) The treasurer shall provide the State Board of Education with the reports specified in Subsection (a) of this section, and with such additional reports as to those funds which the State Board of Education may request.

(c) The treasurer shall see to it that no portion of either the permanent school fund or the available school fund is used to pay any warrant drawn against any other fund.

(d) The treasurer shall receive and hold in a special deposit and keep account for all properties belonging to the available school fund. All warrants drawn on this fund by the comptroller of public accounts pursuant to certificate of the state commissioner of education must be registered by the state treasurer and then transmitted to the commissioner of education; and when properly endorsed shall be paid by the treasurer in the order of their presentation.

(e) On order of the State Board of Education, the treasurer shall exchange or accept refunding bonds in lieu of:

(1) either matured or unmatured bonds held for the benefit of the permanent school fund, which are being refunded under the terms of this chapter;

(2) defaulted obligations held for the benefit of the available school fund, provided that the refunding bonds are issued in compliance with Section 15.08 of this code;

(3) defaulted obligations of any school district of Texas held for the benefit of the permanent school fund or the available school fund, provided the refunding bonds are issued in compliance with Section 15.07 of this code;

(4) refunding bonds of any school district of Texas for school bonds not matured held by the state treasurer for the permanent school fund, when such new refunding bonds are issued by the school district in compliance with this code.

(f) The state treasurer shall be the custodian of all securities in which the school funds of the state have been or may hereafter be invested, and shall keep the securities in his custody until paid off, discharged, or otherwise disposed of by the proper authorities of the state, and on the proper installment of any interest or dividend, shall see that the proper credit is given, and the coupons on bonds, when paid, shall be properly separated therefrom and cancelled by the treasurer.

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 16.01. Purpose

The purpose of the Foundation School Program is to guarantee to each child of school age in Texas the availability of a Minimum Foundation School Program for nine full months of the year and to establish the eligibility requirements for the public school districts of Texas in connection therewith.

§ 16.02. Disposition of Money Appropriated

Appropriations enacted by the legislature for the promotion of the educational opportunities afforded by this state under this Foundational School Program shall be paid in accordance with the requirements and in the manner provided in this chapter. [Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2810, ch. 889, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969.]

§ 16.03. Status of Private and Parochial Schools

§ 16.04. Program Eligibility

(a) Beginning with the scholastic year 1973-1974, any child in this state over 5 and under 21 years of age at the beginning of the scholastic year, who has not yet graduated from high school shall be entitled to the benefits of the Basic Foundation School Program for the ensuing school year. Such eligible child shall be admitted tuition-free to the public school of the district in which he, his parents or legal guardian resides.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of Subsection (a) of this section, the program of preschool education shall be extended first to "educationally handicapped" children as preparation for the regular school program in which such children will participate in subsequent years. For purposes of this section, a child is "educationally handicapped" if he cannot speak, read, and comprehend the English language or if he is from a family whose income, according to standards promulgated by the State Board of Education, is at or below a subsistence level. The program shall include an appreciation for the cultural and familial traditions of the child's parents and also an awareness and appreciation of the broader world in which the child must live; assist the child in developing appropriate language skills; prepare the child to participate in the world of his peers and the broader cultural stream into which he will progressively move as he matures; begin the development of the mental and physical skills and cooperative attitudes needed for adequate performance in a school setting; and begin the development of his unique character and personality traits.

(c) The benefits of this program for preschool education may be extended on a first priority basis to "educationally handicapped" children on a full day program school year basis.

(d) Provided, however, for the school years beginning 1973-74, and through 1976-77 inclusive, a public school kindergarten program shall be offered on a one-half day basis for all other eligible children who become five (5) years of age on or before September 1 of the scholastic year. Such kindergarten program(s) shall be operated on a one-half day basis for Foundation School Program unit eligibility allotment purposes beginning the school year 1973-74. Provided further that any school district may choose to operate a full day program for the first half of the school year for one-half, approximately, of its kindergarten children and operate a full day program the latter half of such year for the remainder of its kindergarten children.

(e) Beginning with the school year 1977-1978 and thereafter, school districts may choose to operate kindergartens on a full day basis for Foundation School Program unit allotment eligibility purposes. Provided further that any school district may choose to operate a full day program for all its kindergarten children for one semester only.

(f) A scholastic is a student in average daily attendance within the age limits prescribed in this section.

SUBCHAPTER C. PROFESSIONAL UNITS

§ 16.11. Professional Units—Allotment—General Rules

(a) The total number of professional units allotted to each district shall be the sum of the professional units, hereinafter prescribed, for classroom teachers, vocational teachers, special service teachers, teachers of exceptional children, supervisors and/or counselors, full-time and/or part-time principals, and superintendents.

(b) Such professional unit allotments shall be contingent upon the employment of qualified personnel and upon the payment of not less than the minimum salary as prescribed in this chapter.

(c) No district will be required to employ professional personnel for the full number of professional units for which it is eligible, but where a fewer number are employed, grants shall be based upon the number actually employed during the current school year; and

(d) All personnel allotted under the Foundation School Program shall be allocated to school districts on the basis of current average daily attendance without regard to race, creed, or color of students.

(e) In addition to the method of allocating professional units under the Minimum Foundation Program on the basis of current average daily attendance, any school district may choose to utilize the preceding year's average daily attendance to establish the basis for allocation of professional units in compliance with the formulas in this chapter.

(f) Where a school district is consolidated or contracted with another district, or annexed in whole or part to another district or districts, or where the number of grades taught has been reduced, or where the scholastics are transferred to another district, or where there is an annual fluctuation in the attendance in the district, or where for any reason there is a marked increase or decrease in the attendance of any school district, adjustments in professional allotments shall be made by the state commissioner of education subject to the applicable rules and regulations of the State Board of Education.

(g) Attendance in grades not classified to be taught by the county school board shall not be included in determining professional unit eligibility.

(h) Attendance of non-resident scholastics whose grades are taught in their home districts shall not count for teacher eligibility, unless the transfer of such scholastics has been approved by the county school board and the state commissioner of education.

(i) Any school district which is not dormant as defined in Section 16.80 of this code may, with approval of the boards of trustees of the districts concerned, the county school superintendent, and the state commissioner of education, contract for a period of one year to transfer its entire scholastic enrollment, both white and colored, to a contiguous district. The scholastic census rolls of both districts shall be combined, the per capita apportionment paid directly to the receiving district, and the combined average daily attendance used in determining the number of professional units for which the receiving district shall be eligible.

(j) Any school district containing 100 square miles or more and having fewer than one pupil per square mile, and which operates and maintains a four-year accredited high school, may be allotted by the state commissioner of education the number of professional units determinable as earned by the application of a sparse-area formula approved by the State Board of Education. The state commissioner of education shall consider in making such allotments the density and distribution of population in the district, road conditions, and the proximity of the school to another four-year accredited high school.

(k) In determining the number of professional units allotted to each school district in the foundation school program, the attendance of orphan, dependents, or neglected children who are wards of the state shall be considered eligible average daily attendance in the receiving school district or districts to which these children are transferred after approval by the county school board and the state commissioner of education.

[Acts 1969, 61st Leg., p. 2810, ch. 889, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1969; Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 1510, ch. 405, § 34, eff. May 26, 1971.]

(c) Additional vocational teacher units for four-year accredited high schools may be allotted according to needs determined by a survey of the community and approved by the commissioner of education.

(d) A district having an accredited high school which qualifies, according to the rules and regulations of the State Board of Education, for less than one vocational teacher unit, may be allotted by the commissioner of education a fractional part of a vocational teacher professional unit. A fractional part of a vocational teacher professional unit shall entitle a district to employ a part-time vocational teacher or assign a classroom teacher to serve as part-time vocational teacher.

(e) Each school district having a four-year accredited high school shall be eligible, under rules and regulations as approved by the State Board of Education, for such specialized vocational supervisor units and vocational counselor units as there is a need thereof, and in the number determined by application of formulas adopted by the State Board of Education and subject to approval by the commissioner of education.

(f) Vocational professional unit allotments, except classroom teachers who also served as part-time vocational teachers, shall be made in addition to other professional unit allotments. Vocational teacher units shall be included in determining the total current operating cost for each district. In addition to this allowance, there shall be an additional allocation of $400 for each vocational teacher unit.

(g) School districts which, because of limited enrollments, tax resources, or facilities are unable to offer appropriate vocational education in all occupational areas needed may enter into contracts with post-secondary public institutions, as defined by the State Board of Education, to provide for such appropriate vocational education instruction provided the instructors and instructional materials and equipment utilized meet secondary school program requirements.

(h) Such contracts shall be executed pursuant to rules and regulations of the State Board for Vocational Education (State Board of Education) and the cost to the state shall not exceed the cost that would result if said programs were operated by the respective school districts entering into such contracts.

§ 16.16. Comprehensive Special Education Program for Exceptional Children

(a) It is the intention of this section to provide for a comprehensive special education program for exceptional children in Texas.

(b) As used in this section:

(1) "Exceptional children" means children between the ages of 3 and 21, inclusive, with educational handicaps (physical, retarded, emotionally disturbed, and/or children with language and/or learning disabilities) as hereinafter more specifically defined; autistic children; and children leaving and not attending public school for a time because of pregnancy—which disabilities render regular services and classes of the public schools inconsistent with their educational needs.

(2) "Physically handicapped children" means children of educable mind whose body functions or members are so impaired from any cause that they cannot be adequately or safely educated in the regular classes of the public schools without the provision of special services.

(3) "Mentally retarded children" means children whose mental capacity is such that they cannot be adequately educated in the regular classes of the public schools without the provision of special services.

(4) "Emotionally disturbed children" means children whose emotional condition is medically and/or psychologically determined to be such that they cannot be adequately and safely educated in the regular classes of the public schools without the provision of special services.

(5) "Language and/or learning disabled children" means children who are so deficient in the acquisition of language and/or learning skills including, but not limited to, the ability to reason, think, speak, read, write, spell, or to make mathematical calculations, as identified by educational and/or psychological and/or medical diagnosis that they must be provided special services for educational progress. The term "language and/or learning disabled children" shall also apply to children diagnosed as having specific developmental dyslexia.

(6) "Special services" required for the instruction of or program for exceptional children means special teaching in the public school curriculum within and/or without the regular classroom; corrective teaching, such as lipreading, speech correction, sight conservation, corrective health habits; transportation, special seats, books, instructional media and supplies; professional counseling with students and parents; supervision of professional services and pupil evaluation services; established teaching techniques for children with language and/or learning disabilities.

(c) Under rules, regulations and/or formulae adopted by the State Board of Education subject to the provisions of this section, exceptional children teacher units, in addition to other professional and paraprofessional unit allotments herein authorized, shall be allotted to any eligible school district in the number determinable thereunder. Exceptional children teacher units for pupils who are both severely physically handicapped and mentally retarded shall be allocated on a separate formula from other type units.

(d) Professional personnel for the operation and maintenance of a program of special education shall be:

- (1) exceptional children teachers;
- (2) special education supervisors;
- (3) special education counselors;
- (4) special service teachers, such as itinerant teachers of the homebound and visiting teachers, whose duties may or may not be performed in whole or in part on the campus of any school; and

(5) psychologists and other pupil evaluation specialists. The minimum salary for such specialist to be used in computing salary allotment for purposes of this section shall be established by the commissioner of education.

(e) Paraprofessional personnel for the operation and maintenance of a program of special education shall consist of persons engaged as teacher aides, who may or may not hold a teacher certificate. The qualifications and minimum salary levels of paraprofessional personnel for salary allotment purposes of this section shall be established by the commissioner of education.

(f) Quantitative bases for the allotment of all special education unit personnel under Subsection (c) of this section shall be established by the commissioner of education under rules adopted by the State Board of Education. Any school district, at its expense, may employ any special education personnel in excess of its state allotment, may supplement the minimum salary allotted by the state for any special education personnel, and any district is authorized at local expense to pay for all or part of further or continuing training or education of its special education personnel.

(g) Special education unit personnel may be employed and/or utilized on a full-time, part-time, or upon a consultative basis, or may be allotted by the commissioner of education, pursuant to cooperative districts' agreement, jointly to serve two or more school districts. Two or more school districts may operate jointly their special education program and any school district may contract where feasible with any other school district for all or any part of the program of special education for the children of either district, under rules and regulations established by the commissioner of education.

(h) To each school district operating an approved special education program there shall also be allotted a special service allowance in an amount to be determined by the commissioner of education for pupil evaluation, special seats, books, instructional media and other supplies required for quality instruction.

(i) To each school district operating an approved special education program, there shall be allotted also a transportation allowance for transporting of children in special education programs who are unable to attend the special education program for exceptional children in public school unless such special transportation is provided. The annual transportation allotment shall be $150 per exceptional child pupil receiving such transportation. Such allocated transportation funds shall be used only for transportation purposes for children who are enrolled in a program of special education or who are eligible for such enrollment.

(j) The minimum monthly base pay and increments for teaching experience for an exceptional children teacher or a special service teacher conducting a 9, 10, 11, or 12 months special education program approved by the commissioner of education shall be the same as that of a classroom teacher as provided in the Foundation Program Act; provided that special education teachers shall have qualifications approved by the commissioner of education. The annual salary of special education teachers shall be the monthly base salary, plus increments, multiplied by 9, 10, 11, or 12, as applicable.

(k) The minimum monthly base pay and increments for teaching experience for special education counselors and supervisors engaged in a 9, 10, 11, or 12 months special education program approved by the commissioner of education shall be the same as that of a counselor and/or supervisor as provided in the Foundation Program Act; provided that such counselors and supervisors shall have qualifications approved by the commissioner of education. The annual salary of special education counselors and supervisors shall be the monthly base salary, plus increments, multiplied by 9, 10, 11, or 12, as applicable.

(l) The salary costs of special education teacher units, other professional and paraprofessional units authorized in Subsections (c), (d), and (e) of this section, operating costs as provided in Subsection (h), and transportation costs as provided in Subsection (i), computed as other costs of the Foundation School Program Act for local fund assignment purposes thereof, shall be paid from the Foundation Program School Fund. Provided further, that any school district may supplement any part of the comprehensive special education program it operates or participates in with funds or sources available to it from local source, public and/or private.

(m) Under rules and regulations of the State Board of Education, eligible school districts may contract with nonprofit community mental health and/or mental retardation centers, public or private, or any other nonprofit organization, institution, or agency approved by the State Board of Education, for the provision of services to exceptional children as defined by this section, who reside with their parents or guardians.

(n) Special education program units shall be included in determining the total current operating cost for each district.

(b) The basic allotment shall be one supervisor or counselor unit for the first 40 classroom teacher units and one supervisor or counselor unit for each additional 50 classroom teacher units, or major fractional part thereof. If a district is eligible for one such unit, the district may employ for such unit either a supervisor or a counselor, but not both. If a district is eligible for two or more such units, the district may employ supervisors only, counselors only, or a combination of the two to the extent of total eligibility.

(c) Districts having fewer than 40 classroom teacher units may enter, by vote of their respective governing boards, into one cooperative agreement to provide supervisors and/or counselors to be recommended and supervised by the county superintendent and employed by the county school board. Under such agreements the combined classroom teacher units of the cooperating districts shall be used in calculating eligibility for supervisor and/or counselor units, but if the county employs a supervisor from the county administrative funds, 40 classroom teacher units shall be deducted from the combined total. The state commissioner of education shall, upon the county superintendent's certification of such agreement, allot to each district party to such agreement a fractional part of a supervisor or counselor unit, said fraction to be not greater than the number of approved classroom teacher units for that district divided by 40.

(f) To districts having 20 or more approved classroom teacher units there shall be allotted one full-time principal unit for the first 20 classroom teacher units and one full-time principal unit for each additional 30 classroom teacher units, but fractions shall not be considered in computing principal allotments.

(g) Part-time principal units, in addition to full-time principal unit allowances provided above, shall be allowed as follows: one from the first 20 classroom teachers, and one from each additional 30 classroom teachers. Service as part-time principal shall be in addition to part-time classroom duties. Those so designated shall receive an additional allowance as hereinafter provided in this chapter.
