CHAPTER THREE. DEFINITIONS

Art. 3.01. Words and Phrases

All words, phrases and terms used in this Code are to be taken and understood in their usual acceptance in common language, except where specially defined.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 909, ch. 341, § 1, eff. June 19, 1975.]

Saving provisions. Section 7 of the 1975 Act provided:

"Sec. 7. (a) Except as provided in Subsections (b) and (c) of this section, this Act applies only to offenses committed on or after its effective date, and a criminal action for an offense committed before this Act's effective date is governed by the law existing before the effective date, which law is continued in effect for this purpose, as if this Act were not in force. For purposes of this section, an offense is committed on or after the effective date of this Act if any element of the offense occurs on or after the effective date."

"(b) Conduct constituting an offense under existing law that is repealed by this Act and that does not constitute an offense under this Act may not be prosecuted after the effective date of this Act. If, on the effective date of this Act, a criminal action is pending for conduct that was an offense under the laws repealed by this Act and that does not constitute an offense under this Act, the action is dismissed on the effective date of this Act. However, a conviction existing on the effective date of this Act for conduct constituting an offense under laws repealed by this Act is valid and unaffected by this Act. For purposes of this section, "conviction" means a finding of guilt in a court of competent jurisdiction, and it is of no consequence that the conviction is not final."

"(c) In a criminal action pending on or commenced on or after the effective date of this Act, for an offense committed before the effective date, the defendant, if adjudged guilty, shall be assessed punishment under this Act if he so elects by written motion filed with the trial court before the sentencing hearing begins."

HABEAS CORPUS

CHAPTER ELEVEN. HABEAS CORPUS

Art. 11.07. Return to Certain County; Procedure After Conviction

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 1]

Sec. 2. (a) After final conviction in any felony case, the writ must be made returnable to the Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas at Austin, Texas.

(b) Whenever a petition for writ of habeas corpus is filed after final conviction in a felony case, the clerk shall transfer or assign it to the court in which the conviction being challenged was obtained. When the petition is received by that court, a writ of habeas corpus, returnable to the Court of Criminal Appeals, shall issue by operation of law. The clerk of that court shall make appropriate notation thereof, assign to the case a file number (ancillary to that of the conviction being challenged), and send a copy of the petition by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the attorney representing the state in that court, who shall have 15 days in which it may answer the petition. Matters alleged in the petition not admitted by the state are deemed denied.

(c) Within 20 days of the expiration of the time in which the state is allowed to answer, it shall be the duty of the convicting court to decide whether there are controverted, previously unresolved facts material to the legality of the applicant's confinement. If the convicting court decides that there are no such issues, the clerk shall immediately transmit to the Court of Criminal Appeals a copy of the petition, any answers filed, and a certificate reciting the date upon which that finding was made. Failure of the court to act within the allowed 20 days shall constitute such a finding.

(d) If the convicting court decides that there are controverted, previously unresolved facts which are material to the legality of the applicant's confinement, it shall enter an order within 20 days of the expiration of the time allowed for the state to reply, designating the issues of fact to be resolved. To resolve those issues the court may order affidavits, depositions, interrogatories, and hearings, as well as using personal recollection. Also, the convicting court may appoint an attorney or a magistrate to hold a hearing and make findings of fact. An attorney so appointed shall be compensated as provided in Article 26.05 of this code. It shall be the duty of the reporter who is designated to transcribe a hearing held pursuant to this article to prepare a transcript within 15 days of its conclusion. After the convicting court makes findings of fact or approves the findings of the person designated to make them, the clerk of the convicting court shall immediately transmit to the Court of Criminal Appeals, under one cover, the petition, any answers filed, any motions filed, transcripts of all depositions and hearings, any affidavits, and any other matters such as official records used by the court in resolving issues of fact.

shall inquire as to the existence of any plea bargaining agreements between the state and the defendant and, in the event that such an agreement exists, the court shall inform the defendant whether it will follow or reject such agreement in open court and before any finding on the plea. Should the court reject any such agreement, the defendant shall be permitted to withdraw his plea of guilty or nolo contendere, and no statement or other evidence received during such hearing on the defendant's plea of guilty or nolo contendere may be admitted against the defendant on the issue of guilt or punishment in any subsequent criminal proceeding.

(b) No plea of guilty or plea of nolo contendere shall be accepted by the court unless it appears that the defendant is mentally competent and the plea is free and voluntary.

The court shall notify the defendant by certified mail, return receipt requested, of the amount of any fine assessed in the case. The defendant shall pay any fine assessed before the 31st day after receiving notice of the fine.

(c) In a misdemeanor case arising out of a moving traffic violation for which the maximum possible

Art. 32A.01. Trial Priorities

Insofar as is practicable, the trial of a criminal action shall be given preference over trials of civil cases, and the trial of a criminal action against a defendant who is detained in jail pending trial of the action shall be given preference over trials of other criminal actions.

[Added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1970, ch. 787, § 1, eff. July 1, 1978.]

Section 5 of the 1977 Act provided: "The effective date of this Act shall be July 1, 1978."

Art. 32A.02. Time Limitations

Sec. 1. A court shall grant a motion to set aside an indictment, information, or complaint if the state is not ready for trial within:

(1) 120 days of the commencement of a criminal action if the defendant is accused of a felony;

(2) 90 days of the commencement of a criminal action if the defendant is accused of a misdemeanor punishable by a sentence of imprisonment for more than 180 days;

(3) 60 days of the commencement of a criminal action if the defendant is accused of a misdemeanor punishable by a sentence of imprisonment for 180 days or less; or

(4) 30 days of the commencement of a criminal action if the defendant is accused of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine only.

Sec. 2. (a) Except as provided in subsections (b) and (c) of this section, a criminal action commences for purposes of this article when an indictment, information, or complaint against the defendant is filed in court, unless prior to the filing the defendant is either detained in custody or released on bail or personal bond to answer for the same offense or any other offense arising out of the same transaction, in which event the criminal action commences when he is arrested.

(b) If a defendant is to be retried following a mistrial, an order granting a new trial, or an appeal or collateral attack, a criminal action commences for purposes of this article on the date of the mistrial, the order granting a new trial, or the remand.

(c) If an indictment, information, or complaint is dismissed on motion of the defendant, a criminal action commences for the purposes of the article when a new indictment, information, or complaint against the defendant is filed in court, unless the defendant is either detained in custody or released on bail or personal bond to answer for the same offense or any other offense arising out of the same transaction, in which event the criminal action commences when he is detained or released.

Sec. 3. The failure of a defendant to move for discharge under the provisions of this article prior to trial or entry of a plea of guilty constitutes a waiver of the rights accorded by this article.

Sec. 4. In computing the time by which the state must be ready for trial, the following periods shall be excluded:

(1) a reasonable period of delay resulting from other proceedings involving the defendant, including but not limited to proceedings for the determination of competence to stand trial, hearing on pretrial motions, appeals, and trials of other charges;

(2) any period during which the defendant is incompetent to stand trial;

(3) a period of delay resulting from a continuance granted at the request or with the consent of the defendant or his counsel, except that a defendant without counsel is deemed not to have consented to a continuance unless the court advised him of his right to a speedy trial and of the effect of his consent;

(4) a period of delay resulting from the absence of the defendant because his location is unknown and:

(A) he is attempting to avoid apprehension or prosecution; or

(B) the state has been unable to determine his location by due diligence;

(5) a period of delay resulting from the unavailability of the defendant whose location is known to the state but whose presence cannot be obtained by due diligence or because he resists being returned to the state for trial;

(6) a reasonable period of delay resulting from a continuance granted at the request of the state if the continuance is granted:

(A) because of the unavailability of evidence that is material to the state's case, if the state has exercised due diligence to obtain the evidence and there are reasonable grounds to believe the evidence will be available within a reasonable time; or

(B) to allow the state additional time to prepare its case and the additional time is justified because of the exceptional circumstances of the case;

(7) if the charge is dismissed upon motion of the state or the charge is disposed of by a final judgment and the defendant is later charged with the same offense or another offense arising out of the same transaction, the period of delay from the date of dismissal or the date of the final judgment to the date the time limitation would commence running on the subsequent charge had there been no previous charge;

(8) a reasonable period of delay when the defendant is joined for trial with a codefendant as to whom the time for trial has not run, if there is good cause for not granting a severance;

(9) a period of delay resulting from detention of the defendant in another jurisdiction, if the state is aware of the detention and exercises due diligence to obtain his presence for trial; and

(10) any other reasonable period of delay that is justified by exceptional circumstances.

TRIAL AND ITS INCIDENTS

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE. FORMATION OF THE JURY

Article

35.24. [Repealed].

Art. 35.16. Reasons for Challenge for Cause

(a) A challenge for cause is an objection made to a particular juror, alleging some fact which renders him incapable or unfit to serve on the jury. A challenge for cause may be made by either the state or the defense for any one of the following reasons:

1. That he is not a qualified voter in the state and county under the Constitution and laws of the state; provided, however, the failure to pay a poll tax or register to vote shall not be a disqualification;

2. That he has been convicted of theft or any felony;

3. That he is under indictment or other legal accusation for theft or any felony;

4. That he is insane or has such defect in the organs of feeling or hearing, or such bodily or mental defect or disease as to render him unfit for jury service, or that he is legally blind and either the court or the state in its discretion or the defendant or the prospective juror in his discretion is not satisfied that he is fit for jury service in that particular case;

5. That he is a witness in the case;

6. That he served on the grand jury which found the indictment;

7. That he served on a petit jury in a former trial of the same case;

8. That he has a bias or prejudice in favor of or against the defendant;

9. That from hearsay, or otherwise, there is established in the mind of the juror such a conclusion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant as would influence him in his action in finding a verdict. To ascertain whether this cause of challenge exists, the juror shall first be asked whether, in his opinion, the conclusion so established will influence his verdict. If he answers in the affirmative, he shall be discharged without further interrogation by either party or the court. If he answers in the negative, he shall be further examined as to how his conclusion was formed, and the extent to which it will affect his action; and, if it appears to have been formed from reading newspaper accounts, communications, statements or reports or mere rumor or hearsay, and if the juror states that he feels able, notwithstanding such opinion, to render an impartial verdict upon the law and the evidence, the court, if satisfied that he is impartial and will render such verdict, may, in its discretion, admit him as competent to serve in such case. If the court, in its discretion, is not satisfied that he is impartial, the juror shall be discharged;

10. That he cannot read or write.

No juror shall be impaneled when it appears that he is subject to the second, third or fourth grounds of challenge for cause set forth above, although both parties may consent. All other grounds for challenge may be waived by the party or parties in whose favor such grounds of challenge exist.

In this subsection, "legally blind" shall mean having not more than 20/200 of visual acuity in the better eye with correcting lenses, or visual acuity greater than 20/200 but with a limitation in the field of vision such that the widest diameter of the visual field subtends an angle no greater than 20 degrees.

BEFORE THE JURY

Art. 36.14. Charge of Court

Subject to the provisions of Article 36.07 in each felony case and in each misdemeanor case tried in a court of record, the judge shall, before the argument begins, deliver to the jury, except in pleas of guilty, where a jury has been waived, a written charge distinctly setting forth the law applicable to the case; not expressing any opinion as to the weight of the evidence, not summing up the testimony, discussing the facts or using any argument in his charge calculated to arouse the sympathy or excite the passions of the jury. Before said charge is read to the jury, the defendant or his counsel shall have a reasonable time to examine the same and he shall present his objections thereto in writing, distinctly specifying each ground of objection. Said objections may embody errors claimed to have been committed in the charge, as well as errors claimed to have been committed by omissions therefrom or in failing to charge upon issues arising from the facts, and in no event shall it be necessary for the defendant or his counsel to present special requested charges to preserve or maintain any error assigned to the charge, as herein provided. The requirement that the objections to the court's charge be in writing will be complied with if the objections are dictated to the court reporter in the presence of and with the consent of the court, before the reading of the court's charge to the jury, and are subsequently transcribed, endorsed with the court's ruling and official signature, and filed with the clerk in time to be included in the transcript. Compliance with the provisions of this Article is all that is necessary to preserve, for review, the exceptions and objections presented to the charge and any amendment or modification thereof. In no event shall it be necessary for the defendant to except to the action of the court in over-ruling defendant's exceptions or objections to the charge.

Art. 38.07. Testimony in Corroboration of Victim of Sexual Offense

A conviction under Chapter 21, Penal Code,¹ is supportable on the uncorroborated testimony of the victim of the sexual offense if the victim informed any person, other than the defendant, of the alleged offense within six months after the date on which the offense is alleged to have occurred. The court shall instruct the jury that the time which lapsed between the alleged offense and the time it was reported shall be considered by the jury only for the purpose of assessing the weight to be given to the testimony of the victim.

Subsection 7(b) of the 1975 amendatory act provided: "Sections 3 and 6 of this Act apply to the prosecution of criminal offenses committed but not brought to trial before the effective date of this Act."

Art. 38.21. Statement

A statement of an accused may be used in evidence against him if it appears that the same was freely and voluntarily made without compulsion or persuasion, under the rules hereafter prescribed.

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 935, ch. 348, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 38.22. When Statements May be Used

Sec. 1. In this article, a written statement of an accused means a statement signed by the accused or a statement made by the accused in his own handwriting or, if the accused is unable to write, a statement bearing his mark, when the mark has been witnessed by a person other than a peace officer.

Sec. 2. No written statement made by an accused as a result of custodial interrogation is admissible as evidence against him in any criminal proceeding unless it is shown on the face of the statement that:

(a) the accused, prior to making the statement, either received from a magistrate the warning provided in Article 15.17 of this code or received from the person to whom the statement is made a warning that:

(1) he has the right to remain silent and not make any statement at all and that any statement he makes may be used against him at his trial;

(2) any statement he makes may be used as evidence against him in court;

(3) he has the right to have a lawyer present to advise him prior to and during any questioning;

(4) if he is unable to employ a lawyer, he has the right to have a lawyer appointed to advise him prior to and during any questioning; and

(5) he has the right to terminate the interview at any time; and

(b) the accused, prior to and during the making of the statement, knowingly, intelligently, and voluntarily waived the rights set out in the warning prescribed by Subsection (a) of this section.

Sec. 3. (a) An oral statement of an accused made as a result of custodial interrogation is admissible against the accused in a criminal proceeding for the purpose of impeachment only and when:

(1) an electronic recording, which may include motion picture, video tape, or other visual recording, is made of the statement;

(2) prior to the statement but during the recording the accused is told that a recording is being made;

(3) prior to the statement but during the recording the accused is given the warning in Subsection (a) of Section 2 above and the accused knowingly, intelligently, and voluntarily waives any rights set out in the warning;

(4) the recording device was capable of making an accurate recording, that the operator was competent, and that the recording is accurate and has not been altered;

(5) the statement is witnessed by at least two persons; and

(6) all voices on the recording are identified.

(b) Every electronic recording of any statement made by an accused during custodial interrogation must be preserved until its destruction is permitted by order of a district court of this state.

(c) Subsection (a) of this section shall not apply to any statement which contains assertions of facts or circumstances that are found to be true and which conduce to establish the guilt of the accused, such as the finding of secreted or stolen property or the instrument with which he states the offense was committed.

Sec. 4. When any statement, the admissibility of which is covered by this article, is sought to be used in connection with an official proceeding, any person who swears falsely to facts and circumstances which, if true, would render the statement admissible under this article is presumed to have acted with intent to deceive and with knowledge of the statement's meaning for the purpose of prosecution for aggravated perjury under Section 37.03 of the Penal Code. No person prosecuted under this subsection shall be eligible for probation.

Sec. 5. Nothing in this article precludes the admission of a statement made by the accused in open court at his trial, before a grand jury, or at an examining trial in compliance with Articles 16.03 and 16.04 of this code, or of a statement that is the res gestae of the arrest or of the offense, or of a statement that does not stem from custodial interrogation, or of a voluntary statement, whether or not the result of custodial interrogation, that has a bearing upon the credibility of the accused as a witness, or of any other statement that may be admissible under law.

Sec. 6. In all cases where a question is raised as to the voluntariness of a statement of an accused, the court must make an independent finding in the absence of the jury as to whether the statement was made under voluntary conditions. If the statement has been found to have been voluntarily made and held admissible as a matter of law and fact by the court in a hearing in the absence of the jury, the court must enter an order stating its conclusion as to whether or not the statement was voluntarily made, along with the specific finding of facts upon which the conclusion was based, which order shall be filed among the papers of the cause. Such order shall not be exhibited to the jury nor the finding thereof made known to the jury in any manner. Upon the finding by the judge as a matter of law and fact that the statement was voluntarily made, evidence pertaining to such matter may be submitted to the jury and it shall be instructed that unless the jury believes beyond a reasonable doubt that the statement was voluntarily made, the jury shall not consider such statement for any purpose nor any evidence obtained as a result thereof. In any case where a motion to suppress the statement has been filed and evidence has been submitted to the court on this issue, the court within its discretion may reconsider such evidence in his finding that the statement was voluntarily made and the same evidence submitted to the court at the hearing on the motion to suppress shall be made a part of the record the same as if it were being presented at the time of trial. However, the state or the defendant shall be entitled to present any new evidence on the issue of the voluntariness of the statement prior to the court's final ruling and order stating its findings.

Sec. 7. When the issue is raised by the evidence, the trial judge shall appropriately instruct the jury, generally, on the law pertaining to such statement. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 935, ch. 348, § 2, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Section 3 of the 1977 amendatory act provided: "This Act applies only to statements made on or after its effective date."

PROCEEDINGS AFTER VERDICT

CHAPTER FORTY. NEW TRIALS

Art. 40.09. The Record on Appeal

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 1 and 2]

3. Statement of Facts and Other Proceedings

The record may include a transcription of all or any part of the proceedings shown by notes of the reporter to have occurred before, during or after the trial and the same will constitute the statement of facts for the appeal. A transcription applicable to any proceeding occurring before or within a period of ninety days after notice of appeal shall be filed with the clerk for inclusion in the record not later than the end of such period. A transcription of notes applicable to any proceeding occurring after the end of such period shall be filed with the clerk for inclusion in the record not later than thirty days after the end of such proceeding.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 4 and 5]

6. Bills of Exception

(a) A party desiring to have the record disclose some action, testimony, evidence, proceeding, objection, exception or other event or occurrence not otherwise shown by the record may utilize a bill of exception for this purpose. Bills of exception must be filed with the clerk and presented to the trial judge within ninety days after notice of appeal is given. The clerk shall notify the court of each bill immediately upon its being filed. The court shall either approve the bill without qualification or shall approve it subject to qualification or refuse it, setting forth in the qualification or refusal any reasons that may seem proper to the judge. Notice of the court's action in qualifying or refusing a bill shall be immediately given by the clerk to the party filing the bill or to his counsel, and such party, if unwilling to accept the court's qualification or refusal may not later than fifteen days after receipt of such notice, file a bystander's bill of exception, and the clerk shall include same in the record. A bill of exception will be deemed approved without qualification if it be not acted upon by the trial judge within a period of 100 days after notice of appeal is given and no extension of time for filing has been granted; provided, however, if an extension of time for filing has been granted, a bill of exception will be deemed approved without qualification if it be not acted upon by the trial judge within a period of 10 days after the actual filing of the bill.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 6(b) to 8]

9. Defendant's Brief

Within thirty days after approval of the record by the court, the defendant shall file with the clerk of the trial court his appellate brief and sufficient copies of said brief so that each Judge and Commissioner of the Court of Criminal Appeals individually will be provided with a copy of the brief. This brief shall set forth separately each ground of error of which the defendant desires to complain on appeal and may set forth such arguments as he deems appropriate. Each ground of error shall briefly refer to that part of the ruling of the trial court, charge given to the jury, or charge refused, admission or rejection of evidence or other proceedings which are designated to be complained of in such way so that the point of objection can be clearly identified and understood by the court. If the defendant includes in his brief arguments supporting a particular ground of error, they shall be construed with it in determining what point of objection is sought to be presented by such ground of error; and if the court, upon consideration of such ground of error in the light of arguments made in support thereof in the brief, can identify and understand such point of objection, the same shall be reviewed notwithstanding any generality, vagueness or any other technical defect that may exist in the language employed to set forth such ground of error.

10. The State's Brief

Within thirty days after defendant files his brief with the clerk of the trial court, the State shall file with the clerk of the trial court its brief and sufficient copies of said brief so that each Judge and Commissioner of the Court of Criminal Appeals individually will be provided with a copy of the brief. Each party, upon filing his brief with the clerk of the trial court, shall cause a true copy thereof to be delivered to the opposing party or to the latter's counsel.

16. Extensions of Time

Extensions of time for meeting the limits prescribed in Sections 3, 6, 9, and 10 of this Article for either the appellant or the State may be granted by the Court of Criminal Appeals or a judge of the Court for good cause shown on timely application to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 1 to 4]

Sec. 5. (a) Where jail time has been awarded, the trial judge may, when in his or her discretion the ends of justice would best be served and upon written motion of the defendant, sentence the defendant to serve his or her sentence during his or her off-work hours, or on weekends. When such a sentence is permitted by the trial judge it must be served on consecutive days or consecutive weekends. The trial judge may require bail of the defendant to insure the faithful performance of the sentence. The trial judge may attach conditions regarding the employment, travel, and other conduct of the defendant during the performance of such a sentence.

(b) The court may impose as a condition to permitting a defendant to serve the jail time assessed during off-work hours or on weekends a requirement that the defendant execute a letter and direct it to his or her employer directing the employer to deduct from the defendant's salary an amount directed by the court, which is to be sent by the employer to the clerk of the court. The money directed by the court under this section may be used to pay the following expenses as directed by the court:

- (1) the support of the prisoner's dependents, if necessary;
- (2) the prisoner's personal, business, and travel expenses;
- (3) reimbursement of the general fund of the county for the maintenance of the prisoner in jail; and
- (4) installment payments on restitution, fines, and court costs ordered by the court.

The condition shall not be binding on the employer and his or her compliance shall be on a voluntary basis.

(d) The court may impose as a condition to permitting a defendant to serve the jail time assessed during off-work hours or on weekends a requirement that the defendant execute a letter and direct it to his or her employer directing the employer to deduct from the defendant's salary an amount directed by the court, which is to be sent by the employer to the clerk of the court and credited against any arrears of child support payments. Art. 42.07. Reasons to Prevent Sentence

Before pronouncing sentence, the defendant shall be asked whether he has anything to say why the sentence should not be pronounced against him. The only reasons which can be shown, on account of which sentence cannot be pronounced, are:

1. That the defendant has received a pardon from the proper authority, on the presentation of which, legally authenticated, he shall be discharged.
2. That the defendant is incompetent to stand trial; and if evidence be shown to support a finding of incompetency to stand trial, no sentence shall be pronounced, and the court shall proceed under Article 46.02 of this code;
3. Where there has not been a motion for a new trial or a motion in arrest of judgment made, the defendant may answer that he has good grounds for either or both of these motions and either or both motions may be immediately entered and disposed of, although more than ten days may have elapsed since the rendition of the verdict; and
4. When a person who has been convicted escapes after conviction and before sentence and an individual supposed to be the same has been arrested he may before sentence is pronounced, deny that he is the person convicted, and an issue be accordingly tried before a jury as to his identity.

If a defendant is convicted of a felony and his sentence is a term of ten years or less and he gives notice of appeal, he shall be transferred to the Department of Corrections on a commitment pending a mandate from the Court of Criminal Appeals upon request in open court or upon written request to the sentencing court. Art. 42.12. Adult Probation, Parole, and Mandatory Supervision Law

A. Purpose of Article and Definitions

Sec. 1. It is the purpose of this Article to place wholly within the State courts of appropriate jurisdiction the responsibility for determining when the imposition of sentence in certain cases shall be suspended, the conditions of probation, and the supervision of probationers, in consonance with the powers assigned to the judicial branch of this government by the Constitution of Texas. It is also the intent of this Article to provide for the release of persons on parole and for the method thereof, to designate the Board of Pardons and Paroles as the responsible agency of State government to recommend determination of paroles and to further designate the Board of Pardons and Paroles as responsible for the investigation and supervision of persons released on parole. It is the intent of this Article to aid all prisoners to readjust to society upon completion of their period of incarceration by providing a program of mandatory supervision for those prisoners not released on parole or through executive clemency and to designate the Board of Pardons and Paroles as the agency of government responsible for the program. It is the final purpose of this Article to remove from existing statutes the limitations, other than questions of constitutionality, that have acted as barriers to effective systems of probations and paroles in the public interest.

Sec. 2. This Article may be cited as the "Adult Probation, Parole, and Mandatory Supervision Law".

Unless the context otherwise requires, the following definitions shall apply to the specified words and phrases as used in this Article:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 2(a) to 2(c)]

d. "Mandatory supervision" shall mean the release of a prisoner from imprisonment but not on parole and not from the legal custody of the State, for rehabilitation outside of prison walls under such conditions and provisions for disciplinary supervision as the Board of Pardons and Paroles may determine. Mandatory supervision may not be construed as a commutation of sentence or any other form of executive clemency;

e. "Probation officer" shall mean either a person duly appointed by one or more courts of record having original criminal jurisdiction, to supervise defendants placed on probation; or a person designated by such courts for such duties on a part-time basis;

f. "Parole officer" shall mean a person duly appointed by the Director of the Division of Parole Supervision and assigned the duties of investigating and supervising paroled prisoners and prisoners released to mandatory supervision to see that the conditions of parole or mandatory supervision are complied with;

g. "Board" shall mean the Board of Pardons and Paroles;

h. "Division" shall mean the Division of Parole Supervision of the Board of Pardons and Paroles; and

i. "Director" shall mean the Director of the Division of Parole Supervision.

B. Probations

Sec. 3. The judges of the courts of the State of Texas having original jurisdiction of criminal actions, when it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court that the ends of justice and the best interests of the public as well as the defendant will be subserved thereby, shall have the power, after conviction or a plea of guilty for any crime or offense, where the maximum punishment assessed against the defendant does not exceed ten years imprisonment, to suspend the imposition of the sentence and may place the defendant on probation or impose a fine applicable to the offense committed and also place the defendant on probation as hereinafter provided. In all cases where the punishment is assessed by the Court it may fix the period of probation without regard to the term of punishment assessed, but in no event may the period of probation be greater than 10 years or less than the minimum prescribed for the offense for which the defendant was convicted. Any such person placed on probation, whether in a trial by jury or before the court, shall be under the supervision of such court.

Sec. 3a. Where there is a conviction in any court of this State and the punishment assessed by the jury shall not exceed ten years, the jury may recommend probation for a period of any term of years authorized for the offense for which the defendant was convicted, but in no event for more than ten years, upon written sworn motion made therefor by the defendant, filed before the trial begins. When the jury recommends probation, it may also assess a fine applicable to the offense for which the defendant was convicted. When the trial is to a jury, and the defendant has no counsel, the court shall inform the defendant of his right to make such motion, and the court shall appoint counsel to prepare and present same, if desired by the defendant. In no case shall probation be recommended by the jury except when the sworn motion and proof shall show, and the jury shall find in their verdict that the defendant has never before been convicted of a felony in this or any other State. This law is not to be construed as preventing the jury from passing on the guilt of the defendant, but he may enter a plea of not guilty. In all eligible cases, probation shall be granted by the court, if the jury recommends it in their verdict, for the period recommended by the jury.

If probation is granted by the jury the court may impose only those conditions which are set forth in Section 6 hereof.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 3b and 3c]

Sec. 3d. (a) When in its opinion the best interest of society and the defendant will be served, the court may, after receiving a plea of guilty or plea of nolo contendere, hearing the evidence, and finding that it substantiates the defendant's guilt, defer further proceedings without entering an adjudication of guilt, and place the defendant on probation on reasonable terms and conditions as the court may require and for a period as the court may prescribe not to exceed 10 years. However, upon written motion of the defendant requesting final adjudication filed within 30 days after entering such plea and the deferment of adjudication, the court shall proceed to final adjudication as in all other cases.

(b) On violation of a condition of probation imposed under Subsection (a) of this section, the defendant may be arrested and detained as provided in Section 8 of this Article. The defendant is entitled to a hearing limited to the determination by the court of whether it proceeds with an adjudication of guilt on the original charge. No appeal may be taken from this determination. After an adjudication of guilt, all proceedings, including assessment of punishment, pronouncement of sentence, granting of probation, and defendant's appeal continue as if the adjudication of guilt had not been deferred.

(c) On expiration of a probationary period imposed under Subsection (a) of this section, if the court has not proceeded to adjudication of guilt, the court shall dismiss the proceedings against the defendant and discharge him. The court may dismiss the proceedings and discharge the defendant prior to the expiration of the term of probation if in its opinion the best interest of society and the defendant will be served. A dismissal and discharge under this section may not be deemed a conviction for the purposes of disqualifications or disabilities imposed by law for conviction of an offense, except that upon conviction of a subsequent offense, the fact that the defendant had previously received probation shall be admissible before the court or jury to be considered on the issue of penalty.

Sec. 3e. (a) For the purposes of this section, the jurisdiction of the courts in this state in which a sentence requiring confinement in the Texas Department of Corrections is imposed for conviction of a felony shall continue for 120 days from the date the execution of the sentence actually begins. After the expiration of 60 days but prior to the expiration of 120 days from the date the execution of the sentence actually begins, the judge of the court that imposed such sentence may, on his own motion or on written motion of the defendant, suspend further execution of the sentence imposed and place the defendant on probation under the terms and conditions of this article, if such sentence is otherwise eligible for probation under this article and prior to the execution of such sentence, the defendant had never been incarcerated in a penitentiary serving a sentence for a felony and in the opinion of the judge the defendant would not benefit from further incarceration in a penitentiary. Probation may be granted under this section only if the offense for which the defendant was sentenced was an offense other than criminal homicide, rape, or robbery.

(b) When the defendant files a written motion requesting suspension by the court of further execution of the sentence and placement on probation, or when requested to do so by the judge, the clerk of the court shall request a copy of the defendant's record while incarcerated from the Texas Department of Corrections. Upon receipt of such request, the Texas Department of Corrections shall forward to the court, as soon as possible, a full and complete copy of the defendant's record while incarcerated.

Sec. 3f. (a) The provisions of Sections 3 and 3c of this Article do not apply:

(1) to a defendant adjudged guilty of an offense defined by the following sections of the Penal Code:

- (A) Section 19.03 (Capital murder);
 - (B) Section 20.04 (Aggravated kidnaping);
 - (C) Section 21.03 (Aggravated rape);
 - (D) Section 21.05 (Aggravated sexual abuse);
 - (E) Section 29.03 (Aggravated robbery);
- or

(2) to a defendant when it is shown that the defendant used or exhibited a deadly weapon as defined in Section 1.07(a)(11), Penal Code, during the commission of a felony offense or during immediate flight therefrom. Upon affirmative finding that the defendant used or exhibited a deadly weapon during the commission of an offense or during immediate flight therefrom, the trial court shall enter the finding in the judgment of the court. Upon an affirmative finding that the deadly weapon the defendant used or exhibited was a firearm, the court shall enter that finding in its judgment.

(b) If there is an affirmative finding that the defendant convicted of a felony of the second degree or higher used or exhibited a firearm during the commission or flight from commission of the offense and the defendant is granted probation, the court may order the defendant confined in the Texas Department of Corrections for not less than 60 and not more than 120 days. At any time after the defendant has served 60 days in the custody of the Department of Corrections, the sentencing judge, on his own motion or on motion of the defendant, may order the defendant released to probation. The Department of Corrections shall release the defendant to probation after he has served 120 days.

Sec. 4. When directed by the court, a probation officer shall fully investigate and report to the court in writing the circumstances of the offense, criminal record, social history and present condition of the defendant. Whenever practicable, such investigation shall include a physical and mental examination of defendant. Defendant, if not represented by counsel, counsel for defendant and counsel for the state shall be afforded an opportunity to see a copy of the report upon request. If a defendant is committed to any institution the probation officer shall send a report of such investigation to the institution at the time of commitment.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 5]

Sec. 6. The court having jurisdiction of the case shall determine the terms and conditions of probation and may, at any time, during the period of probation alter or modify the conditions; provided, however, that the clerk of the court shall furnish a copy of such terms and conditions to the probationer, and shall note the date of delivery of such copy on the docket. Terms and conditions of probation may include, but shall not be limited to, the conditions that the probationer shall:

k. Remain under custodial supervision in a community-based facility, obey all rules and regulations of such facility, and pay a percentage of his income to the facility for room and board;

l. Pay a percentage of his income to his dependents for their support while under custodial suspension in a community-based facility; and

m. Pay a percentage of his income to the victim of the offense, if any, to compensate the victim for any property damage or medical expenses sustained by the victim as a direct result of the commission of the offense.

Sec. 6a. (a) A court granting probation may fix a fee not exceeding $15 per month to be paid to the court by the probationer during the probationary period. The court may make payment of the fee a condition of granting or continuing the probation.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 6a(b)]

Sec. 6b. (a) When the court having jurisdiction of the case grants probation to the defendant, in addition to the conditions imposed under Section 6 of this article, the court may require as a condition of probation that the defendant submit to a period of detention in a penal institution to serve a term of imprisonment not to exceed 30 days or one-third of the sentence whichever is lesser.

(b) The imprisonment imposed shall be treated as a condition of probation, and in the event of a sentence of imprisonment upon the revocation of probation, the term of imprisonment served hereunder shall be credited toward service of such subsequent imprisonment.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 7]

Sec. 8. (a) At any time during the period of probation the court may issue a warrant for violation of any of the conditions of the probation and cause the defendant to be arrested. Any probation officer, police officer or other officer with power of arrest may arrest such defendant without a warrant upon the order of the judge of such court to be noted on the docket of the court. A probationer so arrested may be detained in the county jail or other appropriate place of detention until he can be taken before the court. Such officer shall forthwith report such arrest and detention to such court. If the defendant has not been released on bail, on motion by the defendant the court shall cause the defendant to be brought before it for a hearing within 20 days of filing of said motion, and after a hearing without a jury, may either continue, modify, or revoke the probation. The court may continue the hearing for good cause shown by either the defendant or the state. If probation is revoked, the court may proceed to dispose of the case as if there had been no probation, or if it determines that the best interests of society and the probationer would be served by a shorter term of imprisonment, reduce the term of imprisonment originally assessed to any term of imprisonment not less than the minimum prescribed for the offense of which the probationer was convicted.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 8(b)]

(c) In a probation revocation hearing at which it is alleged that the probationer violated the conditions of probation by failing to pay compensation paid to appointed counsel, probation fees, court costs, restitution, or reparations, the inability of the probationer to pay as ordered by the court is an affirmative defense to revocation, which the probationer must prove by a preponderance of evidence.

[Text of section effective September 1, 1978]

Sec. 10. (a) For the purpose of providing adequate probation services, the district judge or district judges having original jurisdiction of criminal actions in each judicial district in this state shall establish a probation office and employ, in accordance with standards set by the commission, district personnel as may be necessary to conduct presentence investigations, supervise and rehabilitate probationers, and enforce the terms and conditions of misdemeanor and felony probation. If two or more judicial districts serve a county, or a district has more than one county, one district probation department shall serve all courts and counties in the districts.

(b) Where more than one probation officer is required, the judge or judges shall appoint a chief adult probation officer or director, who, with their approval, shall appoint a sufficient number of assistants and other employees to carry on the professional, clerical, and other work of the court.

(c) To be eligible for appointment as an adult probation officer, a person who is not an adult probation officer on the effective date of this Act:

(1) must have acquired a bachelor's degree conferred by a college or university accredited by an accrediting organization recognized by the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System; and

(A) one year of graduate study in criminology, corrections, counseling, law, social work, psychology, sociology, or a related field that has been approved by the Texas Adult Probation Commission;¹ or

(B) one year of experience in full-time case work, counseling, or community or group work in a social, community, corrections, or juvenile agency that deals with offenders or disadvantaged persons that has been approved by the Texas Adult Probation Commission; and

(2) must not be otherwise disqualified by Section 31 of this article.

(d) The same person serving as a probation officer for juveniles may not be required to serve as a probation officer for adults and vice versa.

(e) Probation officers shall be furnished transportation or, alternatively, shall be entitled to an automobile allowance for use of personal automobile on official business.

(f) Personnel of the respective district probation departments shall not be deemed state employees and the responsible judge or judges of a district probation department shall negotiate a contract with the most populous county within the judicial district for all district probation department staff to participate in that county's group insurance program; retirement plan; and personnel policies with regard to vacation credit, sick leave credit, holiday schedule, credit union, jury leave, military leave, etc. It shall be the responsibility of the county or counties comprising the judicial district or geographical area served by such district probation department to provide physical facilities, equipment, and utilities for an effective and professional adult probation and adult community-based correctional service.

(g) Where a judicial district has criminal jurisdiction in two or more counties, those counties may enter into agreement that the total expenses of such facilities, equipment, and utilities be distributed approximately in the same proportion as the population in each county bears to the total population of all those counties, according to the last preceding or any future federal census.

(h) The salaries of personnel, and other expenses essential to the adequate supervision of probationers, shall be paid from the funds of the judicial district. In all the instances of employment of probation officers, the responsible judges are authorized to accept state-aid, grants or gifts from other political subdivisions of the state or associations and foundations, for the sole purpose of financing adequate and effective probationary programs and community-based correctional facilities other than jails or prisons in the various parts of the district. For the purposes of this Act, the municipalities of this state are specifically authorized to grant and allocate such sums of money as their respective governing bodies may approve to their appropriate county governments for the support and maintenance of effective programs. All grants, gifts, and allocations of the character and purpose described in this section shall be handled and accounted for separately from other public funds of the county.

C. Pardons

Sec. 12. The Board of Pardons and Pardons created by Article 4, Section 11 of the Constitution of this State, shall administer the provisions of this Act respecting determinations of which prisoners shall be paroled from an institution operated by the Department of Corrections, the conditions of parole and mandatory supervision, and may recommend the revocation of releases to mandatory supervision, paroles, and conditional pardons by the Governor. Keeping the goals of this Act in mind, the Board shall have the authority to determine the degree and intensity of supervision a prisoner released on parole or released to mandatory supervision should receive.

Sec. 12a. The Board of Pardons and Pardons is subject to the Texas Sunset Act,¹ but it is not abolished under that Act. The board shall be reviewed under the Texas Sunset Act during the period in which state agencies abolished effective September 1 of 1987 and of every 12th year after 1987 are reviewed.

Sec. 13. The members of the Board shall give full time to the duties of their office and shall be paid such salaries as the Legislature may determine in Appropriation Acts. The members of the Board shall elect one of their number as chairman, who shall serve for a period of two years and until his successor is elected and qualified.

The Board shall meet at the call of the chairman and from time to time as may otherwise be determined by majority vote of the Board. A majority of the Board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of all business.

The Board shall adopt an official seal of which the courts shall take judicial notice. Decisions of the Board shall be by majority vote.

The Board shall keep a record of its acts and shall notify each institution of its decision relating to the persons who are confined therein. At the close of each fiscal year the Board shall submit to the Governor and to the Legislature a report with statistical and other data of its work.

All minutes of the Board and decisions relating to mandatory supervision, parole, pardon, and clemency shall be matters of public record and subject to public inspection at all reasonable times.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 14]

Sec. 14A. (a) To aid and assist the Board of Pardons and Pardons in parole and mandatory supervision decisions, provision is hereby made for the appointment of parole commissioners.

(b) There shall be appointed no less than six commissioners.

(c) One-third of the commissioners shall be appointed by the governor; one-third of the commissioners by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas; and one-third of the commissioners by the Presiding Judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals. One of the commissioners appointed by each of the appointing authorities shall reside in Walker County.

(d) Each commissioner shall hold office for a term of six years; provided that of the commissioners first appointed, the commissioners appointed by one of the appointing authorities shall serve for two years; the commissioners appointed by one of the appointing authorities shall serve for four years; and the other one-third of the commissioners shall serve for six years. Prior to appointment, the appointing authority shall draw lots for the length of the first term for his respective appointees. All terms shall begin on September 1, 1975.

(e) In matters of parole and mandatory supervision revocation decisions, the commissioners shall have the same duties and authority as the board members. A parole panel, as hereinafter provided, may recommend the granting, denying, or revocation of parole, the revocation of mandatory supervision status, and may conduct parole revocation hearings and mandatory supervision revocation hearings. The commissioners may interview inmates for parole consideration, and they shall perform their duties as directed by the board in its rules and regulations affecting these commissioners.

(f) The board may provide and promulgate a written plan for the administrative review of actions taken by a parole panel.

(g) The commissioners shall be compensated while holding office at a salary to be set by the legislature. They shall be reimbursed for their expenses in the same manner and in the same amount as are board members.

(h) The board members shall continue to exercise their responsibility for the administrative operation of the board of pardons and paroles.

(i) In matters of parole and release to mandatory supervision, the board members and commissioners may act in panels comprised of three persons in each panel. The composition of the respective panels shall be designated by the board. A majority of each panel shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of its business, and its decisions shall be by a majority vote. The functions given to the board throughout Article 42.12, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended, may be enlarged and extend to the parole panels, as provided by board rules. The powers of the board and the board members can be delegated by the board to the parole panels and to the commissioners as needed for the convenience of and assistance to the board.

(j) In case of a vacancy among the parole commissioners, the appointing authority who appointed the commissioner now absent shall fill the vacancy with another appointment, and the person so appointed shall continue in office for the unexpired portion of the term for which the commissioner so vacating his office has been appointed.

Sec. 15. (a) The Board is authorized to release on parole, with the approval of the Governor, any person confined in any penal or correctional institution of this State who is eligible for parole under Subsection (b) of this Section. The period of parole shall be equivalent to the maximum term for which the prisoner was sentenced less calendar time actually served on the sentence. All paroles shall issue upon order of the Board, duly adopted and approved by the Governor.

(b) A prisoner under sentence of death is not eligible for parole. If a prisoner is serving a sentence for the offenses listed in Section 3f(a)(1) of this Article or if the judgment contains an affirmative finding under Section 3f(a)(2) of this Article, he is not eligible for release on parole until his actual calendar time served, without consideration of good conduct time, equals one-third of the maximum sentence or 20 calendar years, whichever is less, but in no event shall he be eligible for release on parole in less than two calendar years. All other prisoners shall be eligible for release on parole when their calendar time served plus good conduct time equals one-third of the maximum sentence imposed or 20 years, whichever is less.

(c) A prisoner who is not on parole, except a person under sentence of death, shall be released to mandatory supervision by order of the Board when the calendar time he has served plus any accrued good conduct time equal the maximum term to which he was sentenced. A prisoner released to mandatory supervision shall, upon release, be deemed as if released on parole. To the extent practicable, arrangements for the prisoner's proper employment, maintenance, and care shall be made prior to his release to mandatory supervision. The period of mandatory supervision shall be for a period equivalent to the maximum term for which the prisoner was sentenced less calendar time actually served on the sentence. The time served on mandatory supervision is calculated as calendar time. Every prisoner while on mandatory supervision shall remain in the legal custody of the institution from which he was released but shall be amenable to the orders of the Board.

(d) A prisoner who has not been released to mandatory supervision and has 180 calendar days or less remaining on his sentence may be released by order of the Board to mandatory supervision.

(e) Within one year after a prisoner's admittance to the penal or correctional institution and at such intervals thereafter, as it may determine, the Board shall secure and consider all pertinent information regarding each prisoner, except any under sentence of death, including the circumstances of his offense, his previous social history and criminal record, his conduct, employment and attitude in prison, and his physical and mental health.

(f) Before ordering the parole of any prisoner, the Board may have the prisoner appear before it and interview him. A parole shall be ordered only for the best interest of society, not as an award of clemency; it shall not be considered to be a reduction of sentence or pardon. A prisoner shall be placed on parole only when arrangements have been made for his proper employment or for his maintenance and care, and, as may be, in part, evidenced by the prisoner's having made, in whole or in part, restitution or reparation to the victim of his crime, the total amount of such restitution or reparation as may be established by the court and entered in the judgment of the court which sentenced the prisoner to his term of imprisonment, and when the Board believes that he is able and willing to fulfill the obligations of a law-abiding citizen. Every prisoner while on parole shall remain in the legal custody of the institution from which he was released but shall be amenable to the orders of the Board.

(g) The Board may adopt such other reasonable rules not inconsistent with law as it may deem proper or necessary with respect to the eligibility of prisoners for parole and mandatory supervision, the conduct of parole and mandatory supervision hearings, or conditions to be imposed upon parolees and persons released to mandatory supervision. Each person to be released on parole shall be furnished a written statement and contract setting forth in clear and intelligible language the conditions and rules of parole. The conditions may include the making of restitution or reparation to the victim of the prisoner's crime, the total amount of such restitution or reparation as may be established by the court and entered in the judgment of the court which sentenced the prisoner to his term of imprisonment. Acceptance, signing, and execution of the contract by the inmate to be paroled shall be a precondition to release on parole. Persons to be released on mandatory supervision shall be furnished a written statement setting forth in clear and intelligible language the conditions and rules of mandatory supervision.

(h) It shall be the duty of the Board at least ten days before ordering the parole of any prisoner or upon the granting of executive clemency by the Governor to notify the sheriff, the district attorney and the district judge in the county where such person was convicted that such parole or clemency is being considered by the Board or by the Governor.

(i) If no parole officer has been assigned to the locality where a person is to be released on parole, mandatory supervision, or executive clemency the Board shall notify the chairman of the Voluntary Parole Board of such county prior to the release of such person. The Board shall request such Voluntary Parole Board, in the absence of a parole officer, for information which would herein be required of such duly appointed parole officer. This shall not, however, preclude the Board from requesting information from any public agency in such locality.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 16 to 19]

Sec. 20. The Board shall have the power and duty to make rules for the conduct of persons placed on parole and of persons released to mandatory supervision.

Sec. 21. (a) A warrant for the return of a paroled prisoner, a prisoner released to mandatory supervision, a prisoner released on emergency reprieve or on furlough, or a person released on a conditional pardon to the institution from which he was paroled, released, or pardoned may be issued by the Board on order by the Governor when there is reason to believe that he has committed an offense against the laws of this State or of the United States, violated a condition of his parole, mandatory supervision, or conditional pardon, or when the circumstances indicate that he poses a danger to society that warrants his immediate return to incarceration. Such warrant shall authorize all officers named therein to take actual custody of the prisoner and return him to the institution from which he was released. Pending hearing, as hereinafter provided, upon any charge of parole violation or violation of the conditions of mandatory supervision, the prisoner shall remain incarcerated.

(b) A prisoner for whose return a warrant has been issued by the Board shall, after the issuance of such warrant, be deemed a fugitive from justice and if it shall appear that he has violated the conditions or provisions of his mandatory supervision or parole, then the time from the issuing of such warrant to the date of his arrest shall not be counted as any part of the time to be served under his sentence. The law now in effect concerning the right of the State of Texas to extradite persons and return fugitives from justice, and Article 42.11 of this Code concerning the waiver of all legal requirements to obtain extradition of fugitives from justice, from other states to this State, shall not be impaired by this Act and shall remain in full force and effect.

Sec. 22. Whenever a prisoner or a person granted a conditional pardon is accused of a violation of his parole, mandatory supervision, or conditional pardon on information and complaint by a law enforcement officer or parole officer, he shall be entitled to be heard on such charges before the Board or its designee under such rules and regulations as the Board may adopt; providing, however, said hearing shall be a public hearing and shall be held within ninety days of the date of arrest under a warrant issued by the Board of Pardons and Paroles or the Governor and at a time and place set by the Board. When the Board has heard the facts, it may recommend to the Governor that the parole, mandatory supervision, or conditional pardon be continued, or revoked, or modified in any manner the evidence may warrant. When the Governor revokes a person's parole, mandatory supervision, or conditional pardon, that person may be required to serve the portion remaining of the sentence on which he was released, such portion remaining to be calculated without credit for the time from the date of his release to the date of revocation. When a warrant is issued by the Board of Pardons and Paroles or the Governor charging a violation of release conditions, the sentence time credit shall be suspended until a determination is made by the Board of Pardons and Paroles or the Governor in such case and such suspended time credit may be re-instated by the Board of Pardons and Paroles should such parole, mandatory supervision, or conditional pardon be continued.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 23]

Sec. 24. When any prisoner who has been paroled or released to mandatory supervision has complied with the rules and conditions governing his release until the end of the term to which he was sentenced, and without a revocation of his parole or mandatory supervision, the Board shall make a final order of discharge and issue the prisoner a certificate of discharge.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 25]

Sec. 26. The Board of Pardons and Paroles shall have general responsibility for the investigation and supervision of all prisoners released on parole and to mandatory supervision. For the discharge of this responsibility, there is hereby created with the Board of Pardons and Paroles, a Division of Parole Supervision. Subject to the general direction of the Board of Pardons and Paroles, the Division of Parole Supervision, including its field staff shall be responsible for obtaining and assembling any facts the Board of Pardons and Paroles may desire in considering parole eligibility, in establishing a mandatory supervision plan, and for investigating and supervising paroled prisoners and prisoners released to mandatory supervision to see that the conditions of parole and mandatory supervision are complied with, and for making such periodic reports on the progress of parolees and prisoners released to mandatory supervision as the Board may desire.

Sec. 27. All information obtained in connection with inmates of the Texas Department of Corrections subject to parole, release to mandatory supervision, or executive clemency or individuals who may be on mandatory supervision or parole and under the supervision of the division, or persons directly identified in any proposed plan of release for a prisoner, shall be confidential and privileged information and shall not be subject to public inspection; provided, however, that all such information shall be available to the Governor and the Board of Pardons and Paroles upon request. It is further provided, that statistical and general information respecting the parole and mandatory supervision program and system, including the names of paroled prisoners, prisoners released to mandatory supervision, and data recorded in connection with parole and mandatory supervision services, shall be subject to public inspection at any reasonable time.

Sec. 28. Salaries of all employees of the Division of Parole Supervision shall be governed by Appropriation Acts of the Legislature. The Board of Pardons and Paroles shall appoint a Director of the division, and all other employees shall be selected by the Director, subject to such general policies and regulations as the Board may approve.

It is expressly provided, however, that no person may be employed as a parole officer or supervisor, or be responsible for the investigations or supervision of persons on parole or mandatory supervision, unless he meets the following qualifications together with any other qualifications that may be specified by the Director of the Division, with the approval of the Board of Pardons and Paroles; four years of successfully completed education in an accredited college or university, and two years of full time paid employment in responsible correctional work with adults or juveniles, social welfare work, teaching, or personnel work. Additional experience in the above categories may be substituted year for year for the required college education, with a maximum substitution for two years.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 29]

Sec. 30. In order to provide supervision of parolees, persons released to mandatory supervision, and persons granted executive clemency who reside in sparsely settled areas of the State and in localities not served by regularly employed parole officers, the Governor of this State is authorized to appoint chairmen of Voluntary Parole Boards for such areas or localities. The appointed chairman may, with the advice and approval of the Director of the Division of Parole Supervision, appoint additional members of such Voluntary Parole Boards. The term of service by such appointed chairmen of Voluntary Parole Boards shall not exceed the term of office of the appointing Governor; and the terms of service of locally appointed additional members of such Voluntary Parole Boards shall not exceed the terms of office of the director. However, it is expressly provided that the terms of service by such chairmen and additional members of Voluntary Parole Boards may be continued by appropriate reappointments. The chairman of the Voluntary Parole Board shall be responsible for assigning supervision of parolees and of persons released to mandatory supervision to the members of such board.

Sec. 31. No person who is serving as a sheriff, deputy sheriff, constable, deputy constable, city policeman, Texas Ranger, state highway patrolman, or similar law enforcement officer, or as a prosecuting attorney, shall act as a parole officer or be responsible for the supervision of persons on parole or released to mandatory supervision.

Probation Authorized in Misdemeanor Cases

Sec. 3. (a) A defendant who has been found guilty of a misdemeanor wherein the maximum permissible punishment is by confinement in jail or by a fine in excess of $200.00 or by both such fine and imprisonment may be granted probation if:

(1) he applies by written motion under oath to the court for probation before trial;

(2) he has not been granted probation nor been under probation under this Act or any other Act in the preceding 5 years; provided that the court may grant probation regardless of the prior probation of the defendant, except for a like offense within the last 5 years;

(3) he has paid all costs of his trial and so much of any fine imposed as the court directs; and

(4) the court believes that the ends of justice and the best interests of society and of the defendant will be served by granting him probation.

(b) If a defendant satisfies all the requirements of Section 3(a)(1), (2), (3) and (4) of this Article, and the jury hearing his case recommends probation in its verdict, the court must grant the defendant probation. The court may grant the defendant probation regardless of the recommendation of the jury or the prior conviction of the defendant, except for a like offense within the last five years. The court may, however, extend the term of the probationary period to any length of time not exceeding the maximum time of confinement allowed by law. In the event probation is revoked in accordance with Section 6, the judgment of the court shall not prescribe any penalty in excess of that imposed by the jury.

(c) A defendant's application for probation must be made under oath and must also contain statements (1) either that he has never before been convicted in this or another jurisdiction of a felony or of a misdemeanor for which the maximum permissible punishment is by confinement in jail or by a fine in excess of $200 or by both such fine and imprisonment, or, if he has been so convicted, setting forth such fact and specifying the time and place of such conviction, the nature of the offense for which he was convicted, and the final punishment assessed therein; and (2) that he has not been granted probation nor been under probation under this Article or any other Article in the preceding five years, or if he has been granted probation or been under probation in the preceding five years, setting forth such fact and specifying the time and place of such probation, and the nature of the offense for which he was placed on probation. The application may contain what other information the court directs.

(d) When a defendant has applied for probation, the court during the trial of his case must receive competent evidence concerning the defendant's entitlement to probation.

Jurisdiction to Suspend Execution of Sentence and Place Defendant on Probation

Sec. 3A. (a) For the purposes of this section, the jurisdiction of the courts in this state in which a sentence requiring confinement in a jail is imposed for conviction of a misdemeanor shall continue for a period of 90 days from the date the execution of the sentence actually begins. After the expiration of 10 days but prior to the expiration of 90 days from the date the execution of the sentence actually begins, the judge of the court that imposed such sentence may, on his own motion or on the motion of the defendant, suspend further execution of the sentence imposed and place the defendant on probation under the terms and conditions of this article if, prior to the execution of that sentence, the defendant had never been incarcerated in a penitentiary or jail serving a sentence for a felony or misdemeanor and in the opinion of the judge the defendant would not benefit from further incarceration in a jail.

(b) When the defendant files a written motion with the court requesting suspension of further execution of the sentence and placement on probation, or when requested to do so by the judge, the clerk of the court shall request a copy of the defendant's record while incarcerated from the agency operating the jail where the defendant is incarcerated. Upon receipt of such request, the agency operating the jail where the defendant is incarcerated shall forward to the court, as soon as possible, a full and complete copy of the defendant's record while incarcerated.

Sec. 5.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 5(a) to 5(b)(10)]

The clerk shall send such fingerprints to the Texas Department of Public Safety, which shall return a certificate to the court in which the defendant was tried, which certificate shall contain any criminal record of the defendant or record with the Department, or if no record exists, then a certificate from the Texas Department of Public Safety showing the absence of any previous criminal record. The Texas Department of Public Safety shall, in addition to its present responsibilities, keep a record of all misdemeanor arrests within the purview of this section and the deposition of such cases.

The terms may require the probationer to reimburse the county in which the prosecution was instituted for compensation paid to appointed counsel for defending him in the case, if counsel was appointed.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 5(c) and 5(d)]

Sec. 6.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of 6(a) and 6(b)]

(c) In a probation revocation hearing at which it is alleged that the probationer violated the conditions of probation by failing to pay compensation paid to appointed counsel, probation fees, court costs, restitution, or reparations, the inability of the probationer to pay as ordered by the court is an affirmative defense to revocation, which the probationer must prove by a preponderance of evidence.

Art. 43.14. Execution of Convict

Whenever the sentence of death is pronounced against a convict, the sentence shall be executed at any time before the hour of sunrise on the day set for the execution not less than thirty days from the day of sentence, as the court may adjudge, by intravenous injection of a substance or substances in a lethal quantity sufficient to cause death and until such convict is dead, such execution procedure to be determined and supervised by the Director of the Department of Corrections.

APPEAL AND WRIT OF ERROR

CHAPTER FORTY-FOUR. APPEAL AND WRIT OF ERROR

Art. 44.02. Defendant May Appeal

A defendant in any criminal action has the right of appeal under the rules hereinafter prescribed, provided, however, before the defendant who has been convicted upon either his plea of guilty or plea of nolo contendere before the court and the court, upon the election of the defendant, assesses punishment and the punishment does not exceed the punishment recommended by the prosecutor and agreed to by the defendant and his attorney may prosecute his appeal, he must have permission of the trial court, except on those matters which have been raised by written motion filed prior to trial. This article in no way affects appeals pursuant to Article 44.17 of this chapter.

Art. 44.04. Bond Pending Appeal

(a) Pending the appeal from any misdemeanor conviction, the defendant is entitled to be released on reasonable bail, and if a defendant charged with a misdemeanor is on bail, is convicted, and appeals that conviction, his bond is not discharged until his conviction is final or in the case of an appeal to a court where a trial de novo is held, he files an appeal bond as required by this code for appeal from the conviction.

(b) The defendant may not be released on bail pending the appeal from any felony conviction where the punishment exceeds 15 years confinement but shall immediately be placed in custody and the bail discharged.

(c) Pending the appeal from any felony conviction where the punishment does not exceed 15 years confinement, the trial court may deny bail and commit the defendant to custody if there then exists good cause to believe that the defendant would not appear when his conviction became final or is likely to commit another offense while on bail, permit the defendant to remain at large on the existing bail, or, if not then on bail, admit him to reasonable bail until his conviction becomes final. The court may impose reasonable conditions on bail pending the finality of his conviction. On a finding by the court on a preponderance of the evidence of a violation of a condition, the court may revoke the bail.

(d) After conviction, either pending determination of any motion for new trial or pending final determination of the appeal, the court in which trial was had may increase or decrease the amount of bail, as it deems proper, either upon its own motion or the motion of the State or of the defendant.

(e) Any bail entered into after conviction and the sureties on the bail must be approved by the court where trial was had. Bail is sufficient if it substantially meets the requirements of this code and may be entered into and given at any term of court.

(f) In no event shall the defendant and the sureties on his bond be released from their liability on such bond or bonds until the defendant is placed in the custody of the sheriff.

(g) The right of appeal to the Court of Criminal Appeals of this state is expressly accorded the defendant for a review of any judgment or order made hereunder, and said appeal shall be given preference by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

MISCELLANEOUS PROCEEDINGS
AS DEFENSE

Article

46.03. Insanity Defense [NEW].

Art. 46.02. Incompetency to Stand TrialIncompetency to Stand Trial

Sec. 1. (a) A person is incompetent to stand trial if he does not have:

(1) sufficient present ability to consult with his lawyer with a reasonable degree of rational understanding; or

(2) a rational as well as factual understanding of the proceedings against him.

(b) A defendant is presumed competent to stand trial and shall be found competent to stand trial unless proved incompetent by a preponderance of the evidence.

Raising the Issue of Incompetency to Stand Trial

Sec. 2. (a) The issue of the defendant's incompetency to stand trial shall be determined in advance of the trial on the merits if the court determines there is evidence to support a finding of incompetency to stand trial on its own motion or on written motion by the defendant or his counsel filed prior to the date set for trial on the merits asserting that the defendant is incompetent to stand trial.

(b) If during the trial evidence of the defendant's incompetency is brought to the attention of the court from any source, the court must conduct a hearing out of the presence of the jury to determine whether or not there is evidence to support a finding of incompetency to stand trial.

Examination of the Defendant

Sec. 3. (a) At any time the issue of the defendant's incompetency to stand trial is raised, the court may, on its own motion or motion by the defendant, his counsel, or the prosecuting attorney, appoint disinterested experts experienced and qualified in mental health or mental retardation to examine the defendant with regard to his competency to stand trial and to testify at any trial or hearing on this issue.

(b) The court may order any defendant to submit to examination for the purposes described in this article. If the defendant is free on bail, the court in its discretion may order him to submit to examination. If the defendant fails or refuses to submit to examination, the court may order him to custody for examination for a reasonable period not to exceed 21 days. The court may not order a defendant to a facility operated by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation for examination without the consent of the head of that facility or for a period exceeding 21 days. If a defendant who has been ordered to a facility operated by Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation for examination remains in such facility for a period of time exceeding 21 days, the head of that facility shall cause the defendant to be immediately transported to the committing court and placed in the custody of the sheriff of the county in which the committing court is located. That county shall reimburse the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation facility for the mileage and per diem expenses of the personnel required to transport the defendant calculated in accordance with the state travel regulations in effect at the time.

(c) The court shall advise any expert appointed pursuant to this section of the facts and circumstances of the offense with which the defendant is charged and the meaning of incompetency to stand trial.

(d) A written report of the examination shall be submitted to the court within 30 days of the order of examination, and the court shall furnish copies of the report to the defense counsel and the prosecuting attorney. The report shall include a description of the procedures used in the examination, the examiner's observations and findings pertaining to the defendant's competency to stand trial, and recommended treatment. If the examiner concludes that the defendant is incompetent to stand trial, the report shall include the examiner's observations and findings about whether there is a substantial probability that the defendant will attain the competence to stand trial in the foreseeable future. The examiner shall also submit a separate report setting forth his observations and findings concerning:

(1) whether the defendant is mentally ill and requires observation and/or treatment or hospitalization in a mental hospital for his own welfare and protection or the protection of others; or

(2) whether the defendant is a mentally retarded person as defined in The Mentally Retarded Persons Act (Article 3871b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes)¹ and requires commitment to a mental retardation facility.

(e) If the examiner is a physician and concludes that the defendant is mentally ill, he shall complete and submit to the court a Certificate of Medical Examination for Mental Illness. If the examiner concludes that the defendant is a mentally retarded person and the examination has been conducted at a facility of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation or at a diagnostic center approved by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, the examiner shall submit to the court an affidavit setting forth the conclusions reached as a result of the diagnostic examination.

(f) The appointed experts shall be paid by the county in which the indictment was returned or information was filed. A facility operated by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation which accepts a defendant for examination under Subsection (a) of this section shall be reimbursed by the county in which the indictment was returned or information was filed for such expenses incurred as are determined by the department to be reasonably necessary and incidental to the proper examination of the defendant.

(g) No statement made by the defendant during the examination or hearing on his competency to stand trial may be admitted in evidence against the defendant on the issue of guilt in any criminal proceeding.

(h) When a defendant wishes to be examined by a psychiatrist or other expert of his own choice, the court on timely request shall provide the examiner with reasonable opportunity to examine the defendant.

(i) The experts appointed under this section to examine the defendant with regard to his competency to stand trial also may be appointed by the court to examine the defendant with regard to the insanity defense pursuant to Section 3 of Article 46.03 of this code, but separate written reports concerning the defendant's competency to stand trial and the insanity defense shall be filed with the court.

Incompetency Hearing

Sec. 4. (a) If the court determines that there is evidence to support a finding of incompetency to stand trial, a jury shall be impaneled to determine the defendant's competency to stand trial. This determination shall be made by a jury that has not been selected to determine the guilt or innocence of the defendant. If the defendant is found incompetent to stand trial, a further hearing may be held to determine whether or not the defendant is mentally ill and requires observation and/or treatment or hospitalization in a mental hospital for his own welfare and protection or the protection of others or whether he is a mentally retarded person as defined in The Mentally Retarded Persons Act (Article 3871b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and requires commitment to a mental retardation facility.

(b) The defendant is entitled to counsel at the competency hearing. If the defendant is indigent and the court has not yet appointed counsel to represent the defendant, the court shall appoint counsel prior to the competency hearing.

(c) If the issue of incompetency to stand trial is raised other than by written motion in advance of trial pursuant to Subsection (a) of Section 2 of this article and the court determines that there is evidence to support a finding of incompetency to stand trial, the court shall set the issue for determination at any time prior to the sentencing of the defendant. If the competency hearing is delayed until after a verdict on the guilt or innocence of the defendant is returned, the competency hearing shall be held as soon thereafter as reasonably possible, but a competency hearing may be held only if the verdict in the trial on the merits is "guilty." If the defendant is found incompetent to stand trial after the beginning of the trial on the merits, the court shall declare a mistrial in the trial on the merits. A subsequent trial and conviction of the defendant for the same offense is not barred and jeopardy does not attach by reason of a mistrial under this section.

(d) Instructions submitting the issue of incompetency to stand trial shall be framed to require the jury to state in its verdict:

(1) whether the defendant is incompetent to stand trial; and

(2) if found incompetent to stand trial, whether there is no substantial probability that the defendant will attain the competency to stand trial within the foreseeable future.

(e) If the jury is unable to agree on a unanimous verdict after a reasonable opportunity to deliberate, the court shall declare a mistrial of the incompetency hearing, discharge the jury, and impanel another jury to determine the incompetency of the defendant to stand trial.

(f) If the defendant is found competent to stand trial, the court shall dismiss the jury that decided the issue and may continue the trial on the merits before the court or with the jury selected for that purpose.

(g) If the defendant is found incompetent to stand trial and it is determined that there is a substantial probability that he will attain the competency to stand trial within the foreseeable future, the court shall proceed under Section 5 of this article.

(h) If the defendant is found incompetent to stand trial and there is found no substantial probability that he will become competent within the foreseeable future, and the court determines there is evidence that the defendant is mentally ill or is a mentally retarded person, and all charges pending against the defendant are not then dismissed, the court shall proceed under Section 6 of this article or shall release the defendant.

(i) If the defendant is found incompetent to stand trial and there is found no substantial probability that he will become competent within the foreseeable future, and the court determines there is evidence that the defendant is mentally ill or is a mentally retarded person, and all charges pending against the defendant are then dismissed, the court shall proceed under Section 7 of this article or shall release the defendant.

Criminal Commitment

Sec. 5. (a) When a defendant has been determined incompetent to stand trial, and absent a determination that there is no substantial probability that the defendant will attain competency to stand trial in the foreseeable future, the court shall enter an order committing the defendant to the maximum security unit of Rusk State Hospital, to the maximum security unit of any other facility designated by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, to an agency of the United States operating a mental hospital, or to a Veterans Administration hospital for a period of at least 60 days, but not to exceed 18 months, and placing him in the custody of the sheriff for transportation to the facility to be confined therein for further examination and treatment toward the specific objective of attaining competency to stand trial. The court shall order that a transcript of all medical testimony received by the jury be forthwith prepared by the court reporter and that such transcript, together with a statement of the facts and circumstances surrounding the alleged offense, shall accompany the patient to the facility.

(b) No person shall be committed to a mental health or mental retardation facility under this section except on competent medical or psychiatric testimony.

(c) The facility to which the defendant is committed shall develop an individual program of treatment and shall report on the defendant's progress towards achieving competency to the court at least every 90 days.

(d) Nothing in this section precludes the court from allowing the defendant to be released on bail if the court determines that the defendant can be adequately treated on an outpatient basis for the purpose of attaining competency to stand trial.

(e) If the charges pending against a defendant are dismissed, the committing court shall send a copy of the order of dismissal to the head of the facility in which the defendant is held and the defendant shall then be discharged.

(f) The head of a facility to which a person has been committed pursuant to Subsection (a) of this section shall promptly notify the committing court:

(1) when he is of the opinion that the defendant has attained competency to stand trial; or

(2) when he is of the opinion that there is no substantial probability that the defendant will attain the competency to stand trial in the foreseeable future; or

(3) when an 18-month commitment is due to expire, such notice to be given 14 days prior to such expiration.

(g) On notification to the committing court under Subsection (f) of this section, the sheriff of the county in which the committing court is located shall forthwith transport the defendant to the committing court; provided, however, that if the defendant remains in the maximum security unit of a facility of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation 14 days following receipt by the committing court of such notification, the head of that facility shall cause the defendant to be immediately transported to the committing court and placed in the custody of the sheriff of the county in which the committing court is located. That county shall reimburse the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation facility for the mileage and per diem expenses of the personnel required to transport the defendant calculated in accordance with the state travel regulations in effect at the time.

(h) Upon the defendant's return to court, if he has no counsel and the court determines that the defendant is indigent, the court shall appoint counsel to represent him.

(i) When the head of a facility to which the defendant is committed discharges the defendant and the defendant is returned to court, a final report shall be filed with the court documenting the applicable reason therefor under Subsection (f) of this section, and the court shall furnish copies to the defense counsel and the prosecuting attorney. If the head of such facility is of the opinion that the defendant is mentally ill and requires observation and/or treatment or hospitalization in a mental hospital for his own welfare and protection or the protection of others, he shall complete and submit to the court a Certificate of Medical Examination for Mental Illness. If the head of such facility is of the opinion that the defendant is mentally retarded, he shall submit to the court an affidavit setting forth the conclusions reached as a result of the diagnostic examination. When the report is filed with the court, the court is authorized to make a determination based solely on the report with regard to the defendant's competency to stand trial, unless the prosecuting attorney or the defense counsel objects in writing or in open court to the findings of the report within 15 days from the time the report is served on the parties. In the event of objection, the issue shall be set for a hearing before the court or, on motion by the defendant, his counsel, the prosecuting attorney, or the court, the hearing shall be held before a jury. The hearing shall be held within 30 days following the date of objection unless continued for good cause.

(j) No defendant who has been committed to a facility under Subsection (a) of this section may be recommitted to a facility under that subsection in connection with the same offense.

(k) If the defendant is found competent to stand trial, criminal proceedings against him may be resumed.

(l) If the defendant is found incompetent to stand trial, and all charges pending against the defendant are not then dismissed, the court shall proceed under Section 6 of this article or shall release the defendant.

(m) If the defendant is found incompetent to stand trial, and all charges pending against the defendant are then dismissed, the court shall proceed under Section 7 of this article or shall release the defendant.

Civil Commitment—Charges Pending

Sec. 6. (a) If a defendant is found incompetent to stand trial and there is found no substantial probability that he will become competent in the foreseeable future, or if the defendant is found incompetent to stand trial and he has been previously committed to a facility under Subsection (a) of Section 5 of this article in connection with the same offense, and, in either event, all charges pending against the defendant are not then dismissed, the court shall determine whether there is evidence to support findings that the defendant is mentally ill or is mentally retarded and requires commitment to a mental health or mental retardation facility.

(b) If it appears to the court that the defendant may be mentally ill and there is on file with the court Certificates of Medical Examination for Mental Illness by two physicians, at least one of whom must not be employed by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, who have examined the defendant within 45 days of the date of the commitment hearing, each stating that the defendant is mentally ill and requires observation and/or treatment or hospitalization in a mental hospital, the court shall impanel a jury to determine whether the defendant shall be committed to a mental health facility or such hearing may be held before the jury impaneled to determine the defendant's competency to stand trial.

(1) If there has not been filed with the court two such Certificates of Medical Examination for Mental Illness, the judge shall appoint the necessary physicians, at least one of whom shall be a psychiatrist if one is available in the county, to examine the defendant and file certificates with the court. The judge may order the defendant to submit to the examination.

(2) The Texas Mental Health Code (Article 5547-1 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) shall govern proceedings for commitment of the defendant to a mental health facility insofar as the provisions of that code are applicable and not in conflict herewith, except that the criminal court shall conduct the proceedings whether or not the criminal court is also the county court.

(3) If the defendant has not been under observation and/or treatment in a mental hospital for at least 60 days under the provisions of Section 5(a) above or under an Order of Temporary Commitment pursuant to the provisions of the Texas Mental Health Code (Article 5547-1 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) within the 12 months immediately preceding the date of the hearing, the instructions submitting the issue shall be framed to require the jury to state in its verdict:

(i) whether the defendant is mentally ill, and if so

(ii) whether he requires observation and/or treatment in a mental hospital for his own welfare and protection or the protection of others.

(4) If the jury finds that the defendant is not mentally ill or does not require observation and/or treatment in a mental hospital, the court shall order the immediate release of the defendant.

If the jury finds that the defendant is mentally ill and requires observation and/or treatment in a mental hospital for his own welfare and protection or the protection of others, the court shall order that the defendant be committed as a patient for observation and/or treatment in a state mental hospital for a period not exceeding 90 days.

(5) If the defendant has been under observation and/or treatment in a mental hospital for at least 60 days under the provisions of Section 5(a) above or under an Order of Temporary Commitment pursuant to the provisions of the Texas Mental Health Code (Article 5547-1 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) within the 12 months immediately preceding the date of the hearing, the instructions submitting the issue shall be framed to require the jury to state in its verdict:

(i) whether the defendant is mentally ill, and if so

(ii) whether he requires hospitalization in a mental hospital for his own welfare and protection or the protection of others, and if so

(iii) whether he is mentally incompetent.

(6) If the jury finds that the defendant is not mentally ill or that he does not require hospitalization in a mental hospital for his own welfare and protection or the protection of others, the court shall enter an order discharging the defendant.

If the jury finds that the defendant is mentally ill and requires hospitalization in a mental hospital for his own welfare and protection or the protection of others, the court shall order that the defendant be committed as a patient to a state mental hospital for an indefinite period.

(7) If the court enters an order committing the defendant to a state mental hospital, the defendant shall be treated and released in conformity to the Texas Mental Health Code except as may be provided in this article.

(c) If it appears to the court that the defendant may be mentally retarded and there is on file with the court an Affidavit of Examination of Alleged Mentally Retarded Person based upon an examination conducted at a facility of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation or at a diagnostic center approved by that department, the court shall impanel a jury to determine whether the defendant is a mentally retarded person or such hearing may be held before the jury impaneled to determine the defendant's competency to stand trial.

(1) If such affidavit is not on file with the court, the judge shall arrange for such diagnostic examination of the defendant by a facility of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation or by a diagnostic center approved by that department. The judge may order the defendant to submit to the examination. The county shall reimburse the facility or center which conducts the examination for the reasonable and necessary expenses incurred in conducting such examination.

(2) The Mentally Retarded Persons Act (Article 3871b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) shall govern proceedings for commitment of the defendant to a mental retardation facility insofar as the provisions of that Act are applicable and not in conflict herewith, except that the criminal court shall conduct the proceedings whether or not the criminal court is also a county court.

(3) The instructions submitting the issue of mental retardation to the jury shall be framed to require the jury to state in its verdict whether the defendant is a mentally retarded person as defined in the Mentally Retarded Persons Act, and if so, whether he requires commitment to a mental retardation facility.

(4) If the jury finds that the defendant is not a mentally retarded person as defined in the Mentally Retarded Persons Act, or that he does not require commitment to a mental retardation facility, the court shall enter an order discharging the defendant.

(5) If the jury finds that the defendant is a mentally retarded person as defined in the Mentally Retarded Persons Act, and requires commitment to a mental retardation facility, the court shall enter an order declaring that fact and that the person is committed to a mental retardation facility of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

(d) In the proceedings conducted under this section:

(1) no Application for Temporary Hospitalization, Petition for Indefinite Commitment or Application to have the defendant declared a mentally retarded person shall be required;

(2) the provisions of the Texas Mental Health Code and the Mentally Retarded Persons Act relating to notice of hearing shall not be applicable;

(3) appeals from the criminal court proceedings under this section shall be to the court of civil appeals as in the proceedings for temporary hospitalization or for indefinite commitment under the Texas Mental Health Code.

Civil Commitment—Charges Dismissed

Sec. 7. If a defendant is found incompetent to stand trial and there is found no substantial probability that he will become competent in the foreseeable ble future, or if the defendant is found incompetent to stand trial and he has been previously committed to a facility under Section 5 of this article and all charges pending against the defendant are then dismissed, the court shall determine whether there is evidence to support findings that the defendant is either mentally ill or is a mentally retarded person. If it appears to the court that there is evidence to support either of such findings, the court shall enter an order transferring the defendant to the appropriate court for civil commitment proceedings, stating that all charges pending against the defendant in that court have been dismissed, and may order the defendant detained in jail or other suitable place pending the prompt initiation and prosecution by the attorney for the state or other person designated by the court of appropriate civil proceedings to determine whether the defendant will be committed to a mental health or mental retardation facility; provided, however, that a patient placed in a facility of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation pending civil hearing under this section may be detained in such facility only pursuant to an Order of Protective Custody issued pursuant to the provisions of the Texas Mental Health Code and with the consent of the head of the facility, or the court may give the defendant into the care of a responsible person on satisfactory security being given for his proper care and protection; otherwise, the defendant shall be discharged.

General

Sec. 8. (a) A person committed to a mental health or mental retardation facility as a result of the proceedings initiated pursuant to Section 6 or Section 7 of this article shall be committed to the maximum security unit of Rusk State Hospital or to the maximum security unit of any other facility designated by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation. Within 60 days following arrival at the maximum security unit, the person shall be transferred to a nonsecurity unit of a mental health or mental retardation facility designated by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation unless the person is determined to be manifestly dangerous by a review board with the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation. The Commissioner of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation shall appoint three psychiatrists who are licensed to practice medicine in the State of Texas to determine whether the person is manifestly dangerous. If the superintendent of the facility at which the maximum security unit is located disagrees with the determination, then the matter will be referred to the Commissioner of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation who will resolve the disagreement by deciding whether the person is manifestly dangerous.

(b) The court shall order that a transcript of all medical testimony received in both the criminal proceedings and the civil commitment proceedings be prepared forthwith by the court reporters and that such transcripts, together with a statement of the facts and circumstances surrounding the alleged offense, shall accompany the patient to the mental health or mental retardation facility.

(c) If the head of a mental health facility determines that a patient committed to a state mental hospital for a period not exceeding 90 days as a result of proceedings initiated pursuant to Section 6 or Section 7 of this article requires indefinite commitment to a mental hospital for his own welfare and protection or the protection of others, he shall notify the court from which the patient was committed in writing at least 30 days prior to the expiration of the temporary commitment. The court from which the patient was committed shall order the sheriff of the county in which the court is located to return the patient for a Hearing for Indefinite Commitment or shall make arrangements for the hearing to be held in an appropriate court of the county in which the patient is hospitalized. Provided, however, that if the patient has not received a Hearing for Indefinite Commitment by the date on which the temporary commitment expires, the head of the facility in which the patient is hospitalized shall cause the patient to be immediately transported to the committing court and placed in the custody of the sheriff of the county in which the court is located. That county shall reimburse the facility of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation for the mileage and per diem expenses of the personnel required to transport the defendant calculated in accordance with the state travel regulations in effect at the time.

(d) The head of a mental health or mental retardation facility to which a person has been committed or transferred as a result of the proceedings initiated pursuant to Section 6 of this article and who has received written notice from a court or prosecuting attorney that criminal charges are pending against the person shall notify the court in writing at least 14 days prior to the discharge of the person unless the notice provided for in (c) above has been given. A written report as to the competency of the person to stand trial shall accompany the notice of discharge.

(e) On written notice by the head of a mental health or mental retardation facility that in his opinion a person who has been civilly committed to that facility and against whom criminal charges are pending is competent to stand trial, or on good cause shown by the defendant, his counsel, or the prosecuting attorney, the court in which the criminal charges are pending may hold a hearing to determine the competency of the defendant to stand trial. The hearing shall be before a jury unless waived by agreement of the parties. The order setting the hearing shall order the defendant placed in the custody of the sheriff for transportation to the court. The court may appoint disinterested experts to examine the defendant in accordance with the provisions of Section 3 of this article. If the defendant is found to be competent to stand trial, the proceedings on the criminal charges may be continued. If the defendant is found incompetent to stand trial and is under an order of commitment to a mental health or mental retardation facility, the court shall order him placed in the custody of the sheriff for transportation to that facility.

Time Credited

Sec. 9. The time a person charged with a criminal offense is confined in a mental health or mental retardation facility pending trial shall be credited to the term of his sentence on subsequent sentencing or resentencing.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1095, ch. 415, § 1, eff. June 19, 1975; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1458, ch. 596, § 1, Sept. 1, 1977.]

Section 10 of the 1977 amendatory act provided:

"If any portion of this Act is declared invalid or unconstitutional, it is the intention of the legislature that the other portions shall remain in full force and effect, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable."

Art. 46.03. Insanity Defense

The Insanity Defense

Sec. 1. (a) The insanity defense provided in Section 8.01 of the Penal Code shall be submitted to the jury only if supported by competent evidence.

(b) When the insanity defense is submitted, the trier of facts shall determine and include in the verdict or judgment or both whether the defendant is guilty, not guilty, or not guilty by reason of insanity.

(c) A defendant who has been found not guilty by reason of insanity shall stand acquitted of the offense charged and may not be considered a person charged with a criminal offense.

Raising the Insanity Defense

Sec. 2. (a) A defendant planning to offer evidence of the insanity defense shall file a notice of his intention to offer such evidence with the court and the prosecuting attorney:

(1) at least 10 days prior to the date the case is set for trial; or

(2) if the court sets a pretrial hearing before the 10-day period, the defendant shall give notice at the hearing; or

(3) if the defendant raises the issue of his incompetency to stand trial before the 10-day period, he shall at the same time file notice of his intention to offer evidence of the insanity defense.

(b) Unless notice is timely filed pursuant to Subsection (a) of this section, evidence on the insanity defense is not admissible unless the court finds that good cause exists for failure to give notice.

Examination of the Defendant

Sec. 3. (a) If notice of intention to raise the insanity defense is filed under Section 2 of this article, the court may, on its own motion or motion by the defendant, his counsel, or the prosecuting attorney, appoint disinterested experts experienced and qualified in mental health and mental retardation to examine the defendant with regard to the insanity defense and to testify thereto at any trial or hearing on this issue.

(b) The court may order any defendant to submit to examination for the purposes described in this article. If the defendant is free on bail, the court in its discretion may order him to submit to examination. If the defendant fails or refuses to submit to examination, the court may order him to custody for examination for a reasonable period not to exceed 21 days. The court may not order a defendant to a facility operated by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation for examination without the consent of the head of that facility or for a period exceeding 21 days. If a defendant who has been ordered to a facility operated by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation for examination remains in such facility for a period of time exceeding 21 days, the head of that facility shall cause the defendant to be immediately transported to the committing court and placed in the custody of the sheriff of the county in which the committing court is located. That county shall reimburse the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation facility for the mileage and per diem expenses of the personnel required to transport the defendant calculated in accordance with the state travel regulations in effect at that time.

(c) The court shall advise any expert appointed pursuant to this section of the facts and circumstances of the offense with which the defendant is charged and the elements of the insanity defense.

(d) A written report of the examination shall be submitted to the court within 30 days of the order of examination, and the court shall furnish copies of the report to the defense counsel and the prosecuting attorney. The report shall include a description of the procedures used in the examination and the examiner's observations and findings pertaining to the insanity defense. The examiner shall also submit a separate report setting forth his observations and findings concerning:

(1) whether the defendant is presently mentally ill and requires observation and/or treatment or hospitalization in a mental hospital for his own welfare and protection or the protection of others; or

(2) whether the defendant is a mentally retarded person as defined in the Mentally Retarded Persons Act (Article 3871b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).¹

(e) The appointed experts shall be paid by the county in which the indictment was returned or information was filed. A facility operated by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation which accepts a defendant for examination under Subsection (a) of this section shall be reimbursed by the county in which the indictment was returned or information was filed for such expenses incurred as are determined by the department to be reasonably necessary and incidental to the proper examination of the defendant.

(f) When a defendant wishes to be examined by a psychiatrist or other expert of his own choice, the court on timely request shall provide the examiner with reasonable opportunity to examine the defendant.

(g) The experts appointed under this section to examine the defendant with regard to the insanity defense also may be appointed by the court to examine the defendant with regard to his competency to stand trial pursuant to Section 3 of Article 46.02 of this code, provided that separate written reports concerning the defendant's competency to stand trial and the insanity defense shall be filed with the court.

Civil Commitment

Sec. 4. (a) If a defendant is found not guilty by reason of insanity in the trial of a criminal offense, the court shall determine whether there is evidence to support findings that the defendant is either mentally ill or is a mentally retarded person. If the court determines that there is evidence to support either of such findings, the court shall transfer the defendant to the appropriate court for civil commitment proceedings and may order the defendant detained in jail or other suitable place pending the prompt initiation and prosecution by the attorney for the state or other person designated by the court of appropriate civil proceedings to determine whether the defendant shall be committed to a mental health or mental retardation facility; provided, however, that a patient placed in a facility of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation pending civil hearing under this section shall only be detained pursuant to the provisions for an Order of Protective Custody as set out in the Texas Mental Health Code and with the consent of the head of the facility, or the court may give the defendant into the care of a responsible person on satisfactory security being given for his proper care and protection; otherwise, the defendant shall be discharged.

(b) A person committed to a mental health or mental retardation facility as a result of the proceedings initiated pursuant to Subsection (a) of this section shall be committed to the maximum security unit of Rusk State Hospital or the maximum security unit of any other facility designated by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation. Within 60 days following arrival at the maximum security unit, the person shall be transferred to a nonsecurity unit of a mental health or mental retardation facility designated by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation unless the person is determined to be manifestly dangerous by a review board within the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation. The Commissioner of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation shall appoint three psychiatrists who are licensed to practice medicine in the State of Texas to determine whether the person is manifestly dangerous. If the superintendent of the facility at which the maximum security unit is located disagrees with the determination, then the matter will be referred to the Commissioner of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation who will resolve the disagreement by deciding whether the person is manifestly dangerous.

(c) The court shall order a transcript of all medical testimony received in both the criminal proceedings and the civil commitment proceedings be prepared forthwith by the court reporters and that such transcripts, together with a statement of the facts and circumstances surrounding the alleged offense, shall accompany the patient to the mental health or mental retardation facility.

CHAPTER FORTY-NINE. INQUESTS UPON DEAD BODIES

Art. 49.03. Autopsies and Tests

The justice of the peace may in all cases call in the County Health Officer, or if there be none or if his services are not then obtainable, then a duly licensed and practicing physician, and shall procure their opinions and their advice on whether or not to order an autopsy to determine the cause of death. If upon his own determination he deems an autopsy necessary, the justice of the peace shall, by proper order, request the County Health Officer, or if there be none or if it be impracticable to secure his service, then some duly licensed and practicing physician who is trained in pathology to make an autopsy in order to determine the cause of death, and whether death was from natural causes or resulting from violence, and the nature and character of either of them. The county in which such autopsy and inquest is held shall pay the physician making such autopsy a reasonable fee, the amount to be determined by the Commissioners Court after ascertaining the amount and nature of the work performed in making such autopsy. In those cases where a complete autopsy is deemed unnecessary by the justice of the peace to ascertain the cause of death, he may by proper order, order the taking of blood samples or any other samples of fluids, body tissues or organs in order to ascertain the cause of death or whether any crime has been committed. In the case of a body of a human being whose identity is unknown, the justice of the peace may, by proper order, authorize such investigative and laboratory tests and processes as are required to determine the identity as well as the cause of death.

CHAPTER FIFTY-ONE. FUGITIVES FROM JUSTICE

Article

51.14. Interstate Agreement on Detainers [NEW].

Art. 51.14. Interstate Agreement on Detainers

This article may be cited as the "Interstate Agreement on Detainers Act." This agreement on detainers is hereby enacted into law and entered into by this state with all other jurisdictions legally joined therein in the form substantially as follows:

The contracting states solemnly agree that:

ARTICLE I.

The party states find that charges outstanding against a prisoner, detainers based on untried indictments, informations, or complaints, and difficulties in securing speedy trial of persons already incarcerated in other jurisdictions, produce uncertainties which obstruct programs of prisoner treatment and rehabilitation. Accordingly, it is the policy of the party states and the purpose of this agreement to encourage the expeditious and orderly disposition of such charges and determination of the proper status of any and all detainees based on untried indictments, informations, or complaints. The party states also find that proceedings with reference to such charges and detainees, when emanating from another jurisdiction, cannot properly be had in the absence of cooperative procedures. It is the further purpose of this agreement to provide such cooperative procedures.

ARTICLE II.

As used in this agreement: (a) "State" shall mean a state of the United States; the United States of America; a territory or possession of the United States; the District of Columbia; the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

(b) "Sending state" shall mean a state in which a prisoner is incarcerated at the time that he initiates a request for final disposition pursuant to Article III hereof or at the time that a request for custody or availability is initiated pursuant to Article IV hereof.

ARTICLE III.

(a) Whenever a person has entered upon a term of imprisonment in a penal or correctional institution of a party state, and whenever during the continuance of the term of imprisonment there is pending in any other party state any untried indictment, information, or complaint on the basis of which a detainee has been lodged against the prisoner, he shall be brought to trial within 180 days after he shall have caused to be delivered to the prosecuting officer and the appropriate court of the prosecuting officer's jurisdiction written notice of the place of his imprisonment and his request for a final disposition to be made of the indictment, information, or complaint; provided that for good cause shown in open court, the prisoner or his counsel being present, the court having jurisdiction of the matter may grant any necessary or reasonable continuance. The request of the prisoner shall be accompanied by a certificate of the appropriate official having custody of the prisoner, stating the term of commitment under which the prisoner is being held, the time already served, the time remaining to be served on the sentence, the amount of good time earned, the time of parole eligibility of the prisoner, and any decision of the state parole agency relating to the prisoner.

(b) The written notice and request for final disposition referred to in Paragraph (a) hereof shall be given or sent by the prisoner to the warden, commissioner of corrections, or other official having custody of him, who shall promptly forward it together with the certificate to the appropriate prosecuting official and court by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested.

(c) The warden, commissioner of corrections, or other official having custody of the prisoner shall promptly inform him of the source and contents of any detainer lodged against him and shall also inform him of his right to make a request for final disposition of the indictment, information, or complaint on which the detainer is based.

(d) Any request for final disposition made by a prisoner pursuant to Paragraph (a) hereof shall operate as a request for final disposition of all untried indictments, informations, or complaints on the basis of which detainees have been lodged against the prisoner from the state to whose prosecuting official the request for final disposition is specifically directed. The warden, commissioner of corrections, or other official having custody of the prisoner shall forthwith notify all appropriate prosecuting officers and courts in the several jurisdictions within the state to which the prisoner's request for final disposition is being sent of the proceeding being initiated by the prisoner. Any notification sent pursuant to this paragraph shall be accompanied by copies of the prisoner's written notice, request, and the certificate. If trial is not had on any indictment, information, or complaint contemplated hereby prior to the return of the prisoner to the original place of imprisonment, such indictment, information, or complaint shall not be of any further force or effect, and the court shall enter an order dismissing the same with prejudice.

(e) Any request for final disposition made by a prisoner pursuant to Paragraph (a) hereof shall also be deemed to be a waiver of extradition with respect to any charge or proceeding contemplated thereby or included therein by reason of Paragraph (d) hereof, and a waiver of extradition to the receiving state to serve any sentence there imposed upon him after completion of his term of imprisonment in the sending state. The request for final disposition shall also constitute a consent by the prisoner to the production of his body in any court where his presence may be required in order to effectuate the purposes of this agreement and a further consent voluntarily to be returned to the original place of imprisonment in accordance with the provisions of this agreement. Nothing in this paragraph shall prevent the imposition of a concurrent sentence if otherwise permitted by law.

(f) Escape from custody by the prisoner subsequent to his execution of the request for final disposition referred to in Paragraph (a) hereof shall void the request.

ARTICLE IV.

(a) The appropriate officer of the jurisdiction in which an untried indictment, information, or complaint is pending shall be entitled to have a prisoner against whom he has lodged a detainer and who is serving a term of imprisonment in any party state made available in accordance with Paragraph (a) of Article V hereof upon presentation of a written request for temporary custody or availability to the appropriate authorities of the state in which the prisoner is incarcerated; provided that the court having jurisdiction of such indictment, information, or complaint shall have duly approved, recorded, and transmitted the request; and provided further that there shall be a period of 30 days after receipt by the appropriate authorities before the request be honored, within which period the governor of the sending state may disapprove the request for temporary custody or availability, either upon his own motion or upon motion of the prisoner.

(b) Upon receipt of the officer's written request as provided in Paragraph (a) hereof, the appropriate authorities having the prisoner in custody shall furnish the officer with a certificate stating the term of commitment under which the prisoner is being held, the time already served, the time remaining to be served on the sentence, the amount of good time earned, the time of parole eligibility of the prisoner, and any decisions of the state parole agency relating to the prisoner. Said authorities simultaneously shall furnish all other officers and appropriate courts in the receiving state who have lodged detainers against the prisoner with similar certificates and with notices informing them of the request for custody or availability and of the reasons therefor.

(c) In respect of any proceeding made possible by this article, trial shall be commenced within 120 days of the arrival of the prisoner in the receiving state, but for good cause shown in open court, the prisoner or his counsel being present, the court having jurisdiction of the matter may grant any necessary or reasonable continuance.

(d) Nothing contained in this article shall be construed to deprive any prisoner of any right which he may have to contest the legality of his delivery as provided in Paragraph (a) hereof, but such delivery may not be opposed or denied on the ground that the executing authority of the sending state has not affirmatively consented to or ordered such delivery.

(e) If trial is not had on any indictment, information, or complaint contemplated hereby prior to the prisoner's being returned to the original place of imprisonment pursuant to Paragraph (e) of Article V hereof, such indictment, information, or complaint shall not be of any further force or effect, and the court shall enter an order dismissing the same with prejudice.

ARTICLE V.

(a) In response to a request made under Article III or Article IV hereof, the appropriate authority in a sending state shall offer to deliver temporary custody of such prisoner to the appropriate authority in the state where such indictment, information, or complaint is pending against such person in order that speedy and efficient prosecution may be had. If the request for final disposition is made by the prisoner, the offer of temporary custody shall accompany the written notice provided for in Article III of this agreement. In the case of a federal prisoner, the appropriate authority in the receiving state shall be entitled to temporary custody as provided by this agreement or to the prisoner's presence in federal custody at the place of trial, whichever custodial arrangement may be approved by the custodian.

(b) The officer or other representative of a state accepting an offer of temporary custody shall present the following upon demand:

(1) proper identification and evidence of his authority to act for the state into whose temporary custody this prisoner is to be given;

(2) a duly certified copy of the indictment, information, or complaint on the basis of which the detainer has been lodged and on the basis of which the request for temporary custody of the prisoner has been made.

(c) If the appropriate authority shall refuse or fail to accept temporary custody of said person, or in the event that an action on the indictment, information, or complaint on the basis of which the detainer has been lodged is not brought to trial within the period provided in Article III or Article IV hereof, the appropriate court of the jurisdiction where the indictment, information, or complaint has been pending shall enter an order dismissing the same with prejudice, and any detainer based thereon shall cease to be of any force or effect.

(d) The temporary custody referred to in this agreement shall be only for the purpose of permitting prosecution on the charge or charges contained in one or more untried indictments, informations, or complaints which form the basis of the detainer or detainers or for prosecution on any other charge or charges arising out of the same transaction. Except for his attendance at court and while being transported to or from any place at which his presence may be required, the prisoner shall be held in a suitable jail or other facility regularly used for persons awaiting prosecution.

(e) At the earliest practicable time consonant with the purposes of this agreement, the prisoner shall be returned to the sending state.

(f) During the continuance of temporary custody or while the prisoner is otherwise being made available for trial as required by this agreement, time being served on the sentence shall continue to run but good time shall be earned by the prisoner only if, and to the extent that, the law and practice of the jurisdiction which imposed the sentence may allow.

(g) For all purposes other than that for which temporary custody as provided in this agreement is exercised, the prisoner shall be deemed to remain in the custody of and subject to the jurisdiction of the sending state and any escape from temporary custody may be dealt with in the same manner as an escape from the original place of imprisonment or in any other manner permitted by law.

(h) From the time that a party state receives custody of a prisoner pursuant to this agreement until such prisoner is returned to the territory and custody of the sending state, the state in which the one or more untried indictments, informations, or complaints are pending or in which trial is being had shall be responsible for the prisoner and shall also pay all costs of transporting, caring for, keeping, and returning the prisoner. The provisions of this paragraph shall govern unless the states concerned shall have entered into a supplementary agreement providing for a different allocation of costs and responsibilities as between or among themselves. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to alter or affect any internal relationship among the departments, agencies, and officers of and in the government of a party state, or between a party state and its subdivisions, as to the payment of costs, or responsibilities therefor.

ARTICLE VI.

(a) In determining the duration and expiration dates of the time periods provided in Articles III and IV of this agreement, the running of said time periods shall be tolled whenever and for as long as the prisoner is unable to stand trial, as determined by the court having jurisdiction of the matter.

(b) No provision of this agreement, and no remedy made available by this agreement shall apply to any person who is adjudged to be mentally ill.

ARTICLE VII.

Each state party to this agreement shall designate an officer who, acting jointly with like officers of other party states, shall promulgate rules and regulations to carry out more effectively the terms and provisions of this agreement, and who shall provide, within and without the state, information necessary to the effective operation of this agreement.

ARTICLE VIII.

This agreement shall enter into full force and effect as to a party state when such state has enacted the same into law. A state party to this agreement may withdraw herefrom by enacting a statute repealing the same. However, the withdrawal of any state shall not affect the status of any proceedings already initiated by inmates or by state officers at the time such withdrawal takes effect, nor shall it affect their rights in respect thereof.

ARTICLE IX.

(a) This agreement shall be liberally construed so as to effectuate its purposes. The provisions of this agreement shall be severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence, or provision of this agreement is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any party state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person, or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this agreement and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person, or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this agreement shall be held contrary to the constitution of any state party hereto, the agreement shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters.

(b) As used in this article, "appropriate court" means a court of record with criminal jurisdiction.

(c) All courts, departments, agencies, officers, and employees of this state and its political subdivisions are hereby directed to enforce this article and to cooperate with one another and with other party states in enforcing the agreement and effectuating its purpose.

(d) Any prisoner escapes from lawful custody while in another state as a result of the application of this article shall be punished as though such escape had occurred within this state.

(e) The governor is empowered to designate the officer who will serve as central administrator of and information agent for the agreement on detainees pursuant to the provisions of Article VII hereof.

(f) Copies of this article, upon its enactment, shall be transmitted to the governor of each state, the Attorney General and the Secretary of State of the United States, and the council of state governments. [Added by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 920, ch. 343, § 1, eff. June 19, 1975.]

CHAPTER FIFTY-FIVE. EXPUNCTION OF CRIMINAL RECORDS [NEW]

- 55.02. Procedure for Expunction.
- 55.03. Effect of Expunction.
- 55.04. Violation of Expunction Order.
- 55.05. Notice of Right to Expunction.

Art. 55.01. Right to Expunction

A person who has been arrested is entitled to have all records and files relating to the arrest expunged if:

- (1) an indictment or information has not been presented against him for an offense arising out of the transaction for which he was arrested;
- (2) he has been released and the charge, if any, has been dismissed; and
- (3) he has not been convicted of a felony in the five years preceding the date of the arrest.

[Added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1880, ch. 747, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 55.02. Procedure for Expunction

Sec. 1. (a) A person who is entitled to expunction of records and files under this chapter may file a petition for expunction in a district court for the county in which he was arrested.

(b) The petitioner shall include in the petition a list of all law enforcement agencies, jails or other detention facilities, magistrates, courts, prosecuting attorneys, correctional facilities, central state depositories of criminal records, and any other officials or agencies or other entities of this state or of any political subdivision of this state and of all central federal depositories of criminal records that the petitioner has reason to believe have records or files that are subject to expunction.

Sec. 2. The court shall set a hearing on the matter and shall give reasonable notice of the hearing to each official or agency or other entity named in the petition, and such entity may be represented by the attorney responsible for providing such agency with legal representation in other matters.

Sec. 3. If the court finds that the petitioner is entitled to expunction of any records and files that are the subject of the petition, it shall enter an order directing expunction and directing any state agency that sent information concerning the arrest to a central federal depository to request such depository to return all records and files subject to the order of expunction. The clerk of the court shall send a certified copy of the order to each official or agency or other entity of this state or of any political subdivision of this state named in the petition that there is reason to believe has any records or files that are subject to the order. The clerk shall also send a certified copy of the order to any central federal depository of criminal records that there is reason to believe has any of the records, together with an explanation of the effect of the order and a request that the records in possession of the depository, including any information with respect to the proceeding under this article, be destroyed or returned to the court.

Sec. 4. (a) If the state establishes that the petitioner is still subject to conviction for an offense arising out of the transaction for which he was arrested because the statute of limitations has not run and there is reasonable cause to believe that the state may proceed against him for the offense, the court may provide in its order that the law enforcement agency and the prosecuting attorney responsible for investigating the offense may retain any records and files that are necessary to the investigation.

(b) Unless the petitioner is again arrested for or charged with an offense arising out of the transaction for which he was arrested, the provisions of Articles 55.03 and 55.04 of this code apply to files and records retained under this section.

ASP Sec. 5. (a) On receipt of the order, each official or agency or other entity named in the order shall:

[Sections 11.006 to 11.020 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER B. RIGHTS IN STATE WATER

§ 11.021. State Water

(a) The water of the ordinary flow, underflow, and tides of every flowing river, natural stream, and lake, and of every bay or arm of the Gulf of Mexico, and the storm water, floodwater, and rainwater of every river, natural stream, canyon, ravine, depression, and watershed in the state is the property of the state.

(b) Water imported from any source outside the boundaries of the state for use in the state and which is transported through the beds and banks of any navigable stream within the state or by utilizing any facilities owned or operated by the state is the property of the state.

§ 11.022. Acquisition of Right to Use State Water

The right to the use of state water may be acquired by appropriation in the manner and for the purposes provided in this chapter. When the right to use state water is lawfully acquired, it may be taken or diverted from its natural channel.

§ 11.023. Purposes for Which Water May be Appropriated

(a) State water may be appropriated, stored, or diverted for:

- (1) domestic and municipal uses, including water for sustaining human life and the life of domestic animals;
- (2) industrial uses, meaning processes designed to convert materials of a lower order of value into forms having greater usability and commercial value, including the development of power by means other than hydroelectric;
- (3) irrigation;
- (4) mining and recovery of minerals;
- (5) hydroelectric power;
- (6) navigation;
- (7) recreation and pleasure;
- (8) stock raising;
- (9) public parks; and
- (10) game preserves.

(b) State water also may be appropriated, stored, or diverted for any other beneficial use.

(c) Unappropriated storm water and floodwater may be appropriated to recharge underground fresh-water bearing sands and aquifers in the portion of the Edwards underground reservoir located within Kinney, Uvalde, Medina, Bexar, Comal, and Hays counties if it can be established by expert testimony that an unreasonable loss of state water will not occur and that the water can be withdrawn at a later time for application to a beneficial use. The normal or ordinary flow of a stream or watercourse may never be appropriated, diverted, or used by a permittee for this recharge purpose.

(d) When it is put or allowed to sink into the ground, water appropriated under Subsection (c) of this section loses its character and classification as storm water or floodwater and is considered percolating groundwater.

(e) The amount of water appropriated for each purpose mentioned in this section shall be specifically appropriated for that purpose, subject to the preferences prescribed in Section 11.024 of this code.

(f) The water of any arm, inlet, or bay of the Gulf of Mexico may be changed from salt water to sweet or fresh water and held or stored by dams, dikes, or other structures and may be taken or diverted for any purpose authorized by this chapter.

The text of this section incorporates the amendment to former § 5.023 by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 249, ch. 116, § 1.

§ 11.024. Appropriation: Preferences

In order to conserve and properly utilize state water, the public welfare requires not only recognition of beneficial uses but also a constructive public policy regarding the preferences between these uses, and it is therefore declared to be the public policy of this state that in appropriating state water preference shall be given to the following uses in the order named:

- (1) domestic and municipal uses, including water for sustaining human life and the life of domestic animals;
- (2) industrial uses, meaning processes designed to convert materials of a lower order of value into forms having greater usability and commercial value, including the development of power by means other than hydroelectric;
- (3) irrigation;
- (4) mining and recovery of minerals;
- (5) hydroelectric power;
- (6) navigation;
- (7) recreation and pleasure; and
- (8) other beneficial uses.

§ 11.025. Scope of Appropriative Right

A right to use state water under a permit or a certified filing is limited not only to the amount specifically appropriated but also to the amount which is being or can be beneficially used for the purposes specified in the appropriation, and all water not so used is considered not appropriated. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2207, ch. 870, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 11.026. Perfection of an Appropriation

No right to appropriate water is perfected unless the water has been beneficially used for a purpose stated in the original declaration of intention to appropriate water or stated in a permit issued by the commission or one of its predecessors.

§ 11.027. Rights Between Appropriators

As between appropriators, the first in time is the first in right.

§ 11.028. Exception

Any appropriation made after May 17, 1931, for any purpose other than domestic or municipal use is subject to the right of any city or town to make further appropriations of the water for domestic or municipal use without paying for the water. However, this section does not apply to any stream which constitutes or defines the international boundary between the United States of America and the Republic of Mexico.

§ 11.029. Title to Appropriation by Limitation

When an appropriator from a source of water supply has used water under the terms of a certified filing or a permit for a period of three years, he acquires title to his appropriation by limitation against any other claimant of water from the same source of water supply and against any riparian owner on the same source of water supply.

§ 11.030. Forfeiture of Appropriation

If any lawful appropriation or use of state water is wilfully abandoned during any three successive years, the right to use the water is forfeited and the water is again subject to appropriation.

§ 11.031. Annual Report

(a) Not later than March 1 of every year, every person who takes water during the preceding calendar year from a stream or reservoir shall submit a written report to the department on a form prescribed by the department. The report shall contain all information required by the department to aid in administering the water law and in making inventory of the state's water resources. However, with the exception of public utilities and political subdivisions which furnish water for municipal uses, no report is required of persons who take water solely for domestic or livestock purposes.

(b) A person who fails to file an annual report with the department as required by this section is liable to a penalty of $25, plus $1 per day for each day he fails to file the statement after March 1. However, the maximum penalty under this section is $150. The state may sue to recover the penalty. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2207, ch. 870, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 11.032. Records

(a) A person who owns and operates a system of waterworks used for a purpose authorized by this code shall keep a detailed record of daily operations so that the quantity of water taken or diverted each calendar year can be determined.

(b) If the water is used for irrigation, the record must show the number of acres irrigated, the character of the crops grown, and the yield per acre. No survey is required to determine the exact number of acres irrigated.

§ 11.033. Eminent Domain

The right to take water necessary for domestic and municipal supply purposes is primary and fundamental, and the right to recover from other uses water which is essential to domestic and municipal supply purposes is paramount and unquestioned in the policy of the state. All political subdivisions of the state and constitutional governmental agencies exercising delegated legislative powers have the power of eminent domain to be exercised as provided by law for domestic, municipal, and manufacturing uses and for other purposes authorized by this code, including the irrigation of land for all requirements of agricultural employment.

§ 11.034. Reservoir Site: Land and Rights-of-Way

An appropriator who is authorized to construct a dam or reservoir is granted the right-of-way, not to exceed 100 feet wide, and the necessary area for the site, over any public school land, university land, or asylum land of this state and the use of the rock, gravel, and timber on the site and right-of-way for construction purposes, after paying compensation as determined by the commission. An appropriator may acquire the reservoir site and rights-of-way over private land by contract.

§ 11.035. Condemnation of Private Property

(a) An appropriator may obtain rights-of-way over private land and may obtain the land necessary for pumping plants, intakes, headgates, and storage reservoirs by condemnation.

(b) The party obtaining private property by condemnation shall cause damages to be assessed and paid for as provided by the statutes of this state relating to eminent domain.

(c) If the party exercising the power granted by this section is not a corporation, district, city, or town, he shall apply to the department for the condemnation.

(d) The executive director shall have the proposed condemnation investigated. After the investigation, the commission may give notice to the party owning the land proposed to be condemned and hold a hearing on the proposed condemnation.

(e) If after a hearing the commission determines that the condemnation is necessary, the executive director may institute condemnation proceedings in the name of the State of Texas for the use and benefit of the party who applied for the condemnation and all others similarly situated.

(f) The parties at whose instance a condemnation suit is instituted shall pay the costs of the suit and condemnation in proportion to the benefits received by each party as fixed by the commission. Before using any of the condemned rights or property, a party receiving the rights or property shall pay the amount of costs fixed by the commission.

(g) If, after the costs of the condemnation proceedings have been paid, a party seeks to take the benefits of the condemnation proceedings, he shall apply to the department for the benefits. The commission may grant the application and fix the fees and charges to be paid by the applicant.

§ 11.036. Conserved or Stored Water: Supply Contract

(a) A person, association of persons, corporation, or water improvement or irrigation district having in possession and control any storm water, floodwater, or rainwater that is conserved or stored as authorized by this chapter may contract to supply the water to any person, association of persons, corporation, or water improvement or irrigation district having the right to acquire use of the water.

(b) The price and terms of the contract shall be just and reasonable and without discrimination, and the contract is subject to the same revision and control as provided in this code for other water rates and charges. If any person uses the stored or conserved water without first entering into a contract with the party that conserved or stored it, the user shall pay for the use at a rate determined by the commission to be just and reasonable, subject to court review as in other cases.

§ 11.037. Water Suppliers: Rules and Regulations

Every person, association of persons, corporation, or irrigation district conserving or supplying water for any of the purposes authorized by this chapter shall make and publish reasonable rules and regulations relating to:

- (1) the method of supply;
- (2) the use and distribution of the water; and
- (3) the procedure for applying for the water and paying for it.

§ 11.038. Rights of Owners of Land Adjoining Canal, Etc.

(a) A person who owns or holds a possessory interest in land adjoining or contiguous to a canal, ditch, flume, lateral, dam, reservoir, or lake constructed and maintained under the provisions of this chapter and who has secured a right to the use of water in the canal, ditch, flume, lateral, dam, reservoir, or lake is entitled to be supplied from the canal, ditch, flume, lateral, dam, reservoir, or lake with water for irrigation of the land and for mining, milling, manufacturing, development of power, and stock raising, in accordance with the terms of his contract.

(b) If the person, association of persons, or corporation owning or controlling the water and the person who owns or holds a possessory interest in the adjoining land cannot agree on a price for a permanent water right or for the use of enough water for irrigation of the person's land or for mining, milling, manufacturing, development of power, or stock raising, then the party owning or controlling the water, if he has any water not contracted to others, shall furnish the water necessary for these purposes at reasonable and nondiscriminatory prices.

§ 11.039. Distribution of Water During Shortage

(a) If a shortage of water in a water supply results from drouth, accident, or other cause, the water to be distributed shall be divided among all customers pro rata, according to the amount each may be entitled to, so that preference is given to no one and everyone suffers alike.

(b) Nothing in Subsection (a) of this section precludes the person, association of persons, or corporation owning or controlling the water from supplying water to a person who has a prior vested right to the water under the laws of this state.

If the applicant is not exempted from payment of the filing fee under Section 12.112 of this code, he shall pay the filing fee prescribed by Section 12.111(b) of this code at the time he files the application. The commission shall not record, file, or consider the application until the executive director certifies to the commission that the fee is paid. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2207, ch. 870, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 11.129. Review of Application; Amendment

The commission shall determine whether the application, maps, and other materials comply with the requirements of this chapter and the rules of the board. The commission may require amendment of the application, maps, or other materials to achieve necessary compliance.

§ 11.130. Recording Applications

(a) The executive director shall have all applications for appropriations recorded in a well-bound book kept for that purpose in the department's office.

(b) The executive director shall have the applications indexed alphabetically in the name of:

- (1) the applicant;
- (2) the stream or source from which the appropriation is sought to be made; and
- (3) the county in which the appropriation is sought to be made.

§ 11.131. Examination and Denial of Application Without Hearing

(a) The commission shall make a preliminary examination of the application, and if it appears that there is no unappropriated water in the source of supply or that the proposed appropriation should not be allowed for other reasons, the commission may deny the application.

(b) If the commission denies the application under this section and the applicant elects not to proceed further, the commission may order any part of the fee submitted with the application returned to the applicant.

(4) identify the source of supply and the place where the water is to be stored or taken or diverted from the source of supply;

(5) specify the time and place of the hearing; and

(6) give any additional information the commission considers necessary.

(c) If the proposed use is for irrigation, the commission shall include in the notice a general description of the location and area of the land to be irrigated.

(e) The commission shall also mail a copy of the notice by first-class mail, postage prepaid, to each claimant or appropriator of water from the source of water supply, the record of whose claim or appropriation has been filed in the office of the commission. The notice shall also be mailed by first-class mail, postage prepaid, to all navigation districts within the watershed concerned. The inadvertent failure of the commission to mail a notice to a navigation district which is not a claimant or appropriator of water does not prevent the hearing on the application.

(f) The notice shall be mailed and first published not less than 20 days before the date set for the hearing.

§ 11.133. Hearing

At the time and place stated in the notice, the commission shall hold a hearing on the application. Any person may appear at the hearing in person or by attorney or may enter his appearance in writing. Any person who appears may present objection to the issuance of the permit. The commission may receive evidence, orally or by affidavit, in support of or in opposition to the issuance of the permit, and it may hear arguments.

§ 11.134. Action on Application

(a) After the hearing, the commission shall make a written decision granting or denying the application. The application may be granted or denied in whole or in part.

(b) The commission shall grant the application only if:

- (1) the application conforms to the requirements prescribed by this chapter and is accompanied by the prescribed fee;

(2) unappropriated water is available in the source of supply; and

(3) the proposed appropriation:

(A) contemplates the application of water to any beneficial use;

(B) does not impair existing water rights or vested riparian rights; and

(C) is not detrimental to the public welfare.

§ 11.135. Issuance of Permit

(a) On approval of an application, the commission shall issue a permit to the applicant. The applicant's right to take and use water is limited to the extent and purposes stated in the permit.

(b) The permit shall be in writing and attested by the seal of the commission, and it shall contain substantially the following information:

(1) the name of the person to whom the permit is issued;

(2) the date the permit is issued;

(3) the date the original application was filed;

(6) a general description of the source of supply from which the appropriation is proposed to be made;

(7) the time within which construction or work must begin and the time within which it must be completed; and

(8) any other information the board prescribes.

(c) If the appropriation is for irrigation, the commission shall also place in the permit a description and statement of the approximate area of the land to be irrigated.

§ 11.136. Recording of Permit

(a) The commission shall transmit the permit by registered mail to the county clerk of the county in which the appropriation is to be made.

(b) When the county clerk receives the permit and is paid the recording fee (as prescribed by Article 3930, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended), he shall file and record the permit in a well-bound book kept for that purpose. He shall index the permit alphabetically in the name of the applicant and of the stream or source of water supply. After he has recorded the permit, the county clerk shall deliver the permit, on demand, to the applicant.

(c) When the permit is filed in the office of the county clerk, it is constructive notice of:

(1) the filing of the application;

(2) the issuance of the permit; and

(3) all the rights arising under the filing of the application and the issuance of the permit.

§ 11.138. Temporary permits

(a) The commission may issue temporary permits for beneficial purposes to the extent that they do not interfere with or adversely affect prior appropriations or vested rights on the stream from which water is to be diverted under such temporary permit. The commission may, by appropriate order, authorize any member of the commission or its executive director to approve and issue temporary permits without notice and hearing if it appears to such issuing party that sufficient water is available at the proposed point of diversion to satisfy the requirements of the temporary permit as well as all existing rights. No temporary permit issued without notice and hearing shall authorize more than 10 acre-feet of water, nor may it be for a term in excess of one year.

(b) The commission may prescribe rules governing notice and procedure for the issuance of temporary permits.

(c) As between temporary permits, the one applied for first has priority.

(d) The commission may not issue a temporary permit for a period exceeding three calendar years.

(e) A temporary permit does not vest in its holder a permanent right to the use of water.

(f) A temporary permit expires and shall be cancelled by the commission in accordance with the terms of the permit.

(g) The board may prescribe by rule the fees to be paid for issuance of temporary permits, but no fee for issuance or extension of a temporary permit shall exceed $500.

§ 11.139. Emergency Permits

(a) The commission may grant an emergency permit for the diversion and use of water for a period of not more than 30 days if it finds that emergency conditions exist which threaten the public health, safety, and welfare and which override the necessity to comply with established statutory procedures.

(b) An emergency permit may be granted for a period of not more than 30 days, and no extension or additional emergency permit may be granted at the expiration of the original permit.

(c) An emergency permit may be granted under this section without the necessity to comply with statutory and other procedures required for granting other permits issued by the commission.

(d) The board may prescribe rules and adopt fees which are necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

(e) An emergency permit does not vest in the permittee any right to the diversion and use of water and shall expire and be cancelled in accordance with its terms.

§ 11.140. Permits for Storage for Project Development

The commission may issue permits for storage solely for the purpose of optimum development of projects. The commission may convert these permits to permits for beneficial use if application to have them converted is made to the commission.

§ 11.141. Date of Priority to do so. He may obtain a regular permit, a seasonal permit, or a permit for a term of years. He may elect to obtain the permit by proceeding under this section or under the other provisions of this chapter governing issuance of permits.

(7) the approximate surface area, to the nearest acre, of the reservoir when it is full and the average depth in feet when it is full; and

(8) the approximate number of square miles in the drainage area above the dam or reservoir.

(1) state the name and post-office address of the applicant;

(2) state the date the application was filed;

(3) state the purpose and extent of the proposed appropriation of water;

(4) identify the source of supply and the place where the water is stored; and

(5) specify the time and place of the hearing.

(f) The notice shall be published only once, at least 20 days before the date stated in the notice for the hearing on the application, in a newspaper having general circulation in the county where the dam or reservoir is located. At least 15 days before the date set for the hearing, the commission shall transmit a copy of the notice by first-class mail to each person whose claim or appropriation has been filed with the department and whose diversion point is downstream from that described in the application.

(g) The applicant shall pay the filing fee prescribed by Section 12.111(b) of this code at the time he files the application.

(h) The commission shall approve the application and issue the permit as applied for in whole or part if it determines that:

A detailed statement and plans for alterations or changes shall be filed with the department and approved by the commission before the alterations or changes are made. This section does not apply to the ordinary maintenance or emergency repair of the facility.

He shall work diligently and continuously to the completion of the construction. The commission may, by entering an order of record, extend the time for beginning construction for a period not to exceed 12 months after the date the permit was issued.

The commission, by entering an order of record, may extend the time for beginning construction. The board may fix fees, not to exceed $1,000, for extending the time to begin construction of reservoirs. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2207, ch. 870, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

(d) After the hearing, the commission by entering an order of record may cancel the appropriation in whole or part. The commission shall immediately transmit a certified copy of the cancellation order by certified mail to the county clerk of the county in which the permit is recorded. The county clerk shall record the cancellation order.

(e) If a permit has been issued for the use of water, the water is not subject to a new appropriation until the permit has been cancelled in whole or part as provided by this section.

(f) Except as provided by Subchapter E of this chapter, none of the provisions of this code may be construed as intended to impair, cause, or authorize or may impair, cause, or authorize the forfeiture of any rights acquired by any declaration of appropriation or by any permit if the appropriator has begun or begins the work and development contemplated by his declaration of appropriation or permit within the time provided by the law under which the declaration of appropriation was made or the permit was granted and has prosecuted or continues to prosecute it with all reasonable diligence toward completion.

(2) the holder has not used reasonable diligence in applying the unused portion of the water to an authorized beneficial use; and

(3) the holder has not been justified in the nonuse or does not then have a bona fide intention of putting the unused water to an authorized beneficial use within a reasonable time after the hearing.

SUBCHAPTER F. ARTESIAN WELLS

§ 11.201. Artesian Well Defined

An artesian well is an artificial water well in which the water, when properly cased, will rise by

§ 11.202. Right to Drill Artesian Well

A person is entitled to drill an artesian well on his own land for domestic purposes or for stock raising without complying with the general provisions of this code regulating the use of water. However, he shall have the well properly and securely cased, and when water is reached containing mineral or other substances injurious to vegetation or agriculture, he shall have the well securely capped or its flow controlled so as not to injure another person's land or shall fill the well so as to prevent the water from rising above the first impervious stratum below the surface of the ground.

§ 11.203. Artesian Well: Drilling Record

§ 11.205. Wasting Water From Artesian Well

(a) Unless the water from an artesian well is used for a purpose and in a manner in which it may be lawfully used on the owner's land, it is waste to wilfully cause or knowingly permit the water to run off the owner's land or to percolate through the stratum above which the water is found.

(b) It is not waste to use water from an artesian well, if suitable, for proper irrigation of trees on a street, road, or highway or for ornamental ponds or fountains or for the propagation of fish.

(c) A person who commits waste as defined in this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction is punishable by a fine of not more than $500 or by confinement in the county jail for not more than 90 days or by both.

§ 11.206. Improperly Cased Well: Nuisance

An artesian well that is not tightly cased, capped, and furnished with mechanical appliances that readily and effectively prevent water from flowing out of the well and running over the surface of the ground about the well or wasting through the strata through which it passes is a public nuisance and subject to abatement by the commission.

§ 11.207. Annual Report

(a) Not later than March 1 of each year, a person who during any part of the preceding calendar year owned or operated an artesian well for any purpose other than domestic use shall file a report to the department on a form supplied by the department.

(b) The report shall state:

- (1) the quantity of water which was obtained from the well;
- (2) the nature of the uses to which the water was applied;
- (3) the change in the level of the well's water table; and
- (4) other information required by the department.

(c) If water from the well was used for irrigation, the report shall also state the acreage and yield of each crop irrigated.

SUBCHAPTER G. WATER RIGHTS ADJUDICATION ACT

§ 11.301. Short Title

This subchapter may be cited as the Water Rights Adjudication Act.

§ 11.302. Declaration of Policy

The conservation and best utilization of the water resources of this state are a public necessity, and it is in the interest of the people of the state to require recordation with the commission of claims of water rights which are presently unrecorded, to limit the exercise of these claims to actual use, and to provide for the adjudication and administration of water rights to the end that the surface-water resources of the state may be put to their greatest beneficial use. Therefore, this subchapter is in furtherance of the public rights, duties, and functions mentioned in this section and in response to the mandate expressed in Article XVI, Section 59 of the Texas Constitution and is in the exercise of the police powers of the state in the interest of the public welfare.

§ 11.303. Recordation and Limitation of Certain Water Rights Claims

(a) This section applies to:

- (1) claims of riparian water rights;
- (2) claims under Section 11.143 of this code to impound, divert, or use state water for other than domestic or livestock purposes, for which no permit has been issued;
- (3) claims of water rights under the Irrigation Acts of 1889 and 1895¹ which were not filed with the State Board of Water Engineers in accordance with the Irrigation Act of 1913,² as amended; and
- (4) other claims of water rights except claims under permits or certified filings.

(b) Any claim to which this section applies shall be recognized only if valid under existing law and only to the extent of the maximum actual application of water to beneficial use without waste during any calendar year from 1963 to 1967, inclusive. However, in any case where a claimant of a riparian right has prior to August 28, 1967, commenced or completed the construction of works designed to apply a greater quantity of water to beneficial use, the right shall be recognized to the extent of the maximum amount of water actually applied to beneficial use without waste during any calendar year from 1963 to 1970, inclusive.

(c) On or before September 1, 1969, every person claiming a water right to which this section applies shall file with the commission a statement setting forth:

- (1) the name and address of the claimant;
- (2) the location and the nature of the right claimed;
- (3) the stream or watercourse and the river basin in which the right is claimed;
- (4) the date of commencement of works;
- (5) the dates and volumes of use of water; and
- (6) other information the commission may require to show the nature and extent of the claim.

(d) A person who files a statement as provided in this section shall certify under oath that the statements made in support of his claim are true and correct to the best of his knowledge and belief.

(e) A claimant who desires recognition of a right based on use from 1968 to 1970, inclusive, as provided in Subsection (b) of this section shall file an additional sworn statement on or before July 1, 1971.

(f) The commission shall prescribe forms for the sworn statements required by this section, but use of the commission forms is not mandatory.

(g) On or before January 1, 1968, and June 1, 1969, the commission shall cause notice of the requirements of this section to be published once each week for two consecutive weeks in newspapers having general circulation in each county of the state and by first-class mail to each user of surface water who has filed a report of water use with the commission.

(h) On sworn petition, notice, and hearing as prescribed for applications for permits and upon finding of extenuating circumstances and good cause shown for failure to timely file, the commission may authorize the filing of the sworn statement or statements required by this section until entry of a preliminary determination of claims of water rights in accordance with Section 11.309 of this code which includes the area described in the petition or, if a preliminary determination has not been entered, until September 1, 1974.

(i) Since the filing of all claims to use public water is necessary for the conservation and best utilization of the water resources of the state, failure to file a sworn statement in substantial compliance with this section extinguishes and bars any claim of water rights to which this section applies.

(j) A sworn statement submitted under this section is binding on the person submitting it and his successors in interest, but is not binding on the commission or any other person in interest.

(k) Nothing in this section shall be construed to recognize any water right which did not exist before August 28, 1967.

(l) This section does not apply to use of water for domestic or livestock purposes.

§ 11.304. Adjudication of Water Rights

The water rights in any stream or segment of a stream may be adjudicated as provided in this subchapter:

- (1) on the commission's own motion;
- (2) on petition to the commission signed by 10 or more claimants of water rights from the source of supply; or
- (3) on petition of the board.

§ 11.305. Investigation

(a) Promptly after a petition is filed under Section 11.304 of this code, the commission shall investigate the facts and conditions necessary to determine whether the adjudication would be in the public interest. If the commission finds that an adjudication would be in the public interest, it shall enter an order to that effect, designating the stream or segment to be adjudicated. The executive director shall have an investigation made of the area involved in order to gather relevant data and information essential to the proper understanding of the claims of water rights involved. The results of the investigation shall be reduced to writing and made a matter of record in the commission's office.

(b) In connection with the investigation, the executive director shall have a map or plat made showing with substantial accuracy the course of the stream or segment and the location of reservoirs, diversion works, and places of use, including lands which are being irrigated or have facilities for irrigation.

§ 11.306. Notice of Adjudication

(a) The commission shall prepare a notice of adjudication which describes the stream or segment to be adjudicated and the date by which all claims of water rights in the stream or segment shall be filed with the commission. The date shall not be less than 90 days after the date the notice is issued.

(b) The notice shall be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in one or more newspapers having general circulation in the counties in which the stream or segment is located.

(c) The notice shall also be sent by first-class mail to each claimant of water rights whose diversion is within the stream or segment to be adjudicated, to the extent that the claimants can reasonably be ascertained from the records of the department.

§ 11.307. Filing of Sworn Claims

(a) Every person claiming a water right of any nature, except for domestic or livestock purposes, from the stream or segment under adjudication shall file a sworn claim with the commission within the time prescribed in the notice of adjudication, including any extensions of the prescribed time, setting forth:

(1) the name and post-office address of the claimant;

(2) the location and nature of the right claimed, including a description of any permit or certified filing under which the claim is made;

(3) the purpose of the use;

(4) a description of works and irrigated land; and

(5) all other information necessary to show the nature and extent of the claim.

(b) The commission shall prescribe forms for claims, but use of the commission forms is not mandatory.

The commission shall set a time and a place for hearing all claims. Not less than 30 days before commencement of the hearings, the commission shall give notice of the hearings by certified mail to all persons who have filed claims in accordance with Section 11.307 of this code, or this notice may be included in the notice of adjudication provided in Section 11.306 of this code. The hearings shall be conducted as provided in Section 11.337 of this code.

§ 11.309. Preliminary Determination of Claims

(a) On completion of the hearings, the commission shall make a preliminary determination of the claims to water rights under adjudication.

(b) One copy of the preliminary determination shall be furnished without charge to each person who filed a claim in accordance with Section 11.307 of this code. Additional copies of the preliminary determination shall be made available for public inspection at convenient locations throughout the river basin, as designated by the commission. Copies shall also be made available to other interested persons at a reasonable price, based on the cost of reproduction.

§ 11.310. Evidence Open to Inspection

All evidence presented to or considered by the commission shall be open to public inspection for a period of not less than 60 days, as fixed by the commission, after the notice prescribed in Section 11.312 of this code is issued.

§ 11.311. Date for Filing Contests

§ 11.312. Notice of Preliminary Determination; Copies

(a) Promptly after the preliminary determination is made as provided in Section 11.309 of this code, the commission shall publish notice of the determination once a week for two consecutive weeks in one or more newspapers having general circulation in the river basin in which the stream or segment that is the subject of the adjudication is located.

(b) The commission shall also send notice by first-class mail to each claimant of water rights within the river basin in which the stream or segment is located, to the extent that the claimants can be reasonably ascertained from the records of the department.

(c) Each notice shall state:

(1) the place and the period of time that the preliminary determination and evidence presented to or considered by the commission will be open for public inspection;

(2) the locations throughout the river basin where copies of the preliminary determination will be available for public inspection;

(3) the method of ordering copies of the preliminary determination and the charge for copies;

(4) the date by which contests on the preliminary determination must be filed.

§ 11.313. Filing Contests

(a) Any water right claimant affected by the preliminary determination, including any claimant to water rights within the river basin but outside the stream or segment under adjudication, who disputes the preliminary determination may within the time for filing contests prescribed by the commission in the notice, including any extension of the time, file a written contest with the commission, stating with reasonable certainty the grounds of his contest.

(b) The statement filed to contest a preliminary determination must be verified by an affidavit of the contestant, his agent, or his attorney.

(c) If the contest is directed against the preliminary determination of the water rights of other claimants, a copy shall be served on each of these claimants or his attorney by certified mail, and proof of service shall be filed with the commission.

§ 11.314. Hearing on Contest; Notice

After the time for filing contests has expired, the commission shall prepare a notice setting forth the part of the preliminary determination to which each contest is directed and the time and place of a hearing on the contest. The notice shall be sent to each claimant of water rights within the river basin in which the stream or segment is located, to the extent that the claimants can be reasonably ascertained from the records of the commission. The hearing shall be conducted as provided in Section 11.337 of this code.

§ 11.315. Final Determination

On completion of the hearings on all contests, the commission shall make a final determination of the claims to water rights under adjudication. The commission shall send a copy of the final determination and any modification of the final determination to each claimant whose rights are adjudicated and to each contesting party.

§ 11.316. Application for Rehearing

Within 30 days from the date of the final determination, any affected party may apply to the commission for a rehearing. Applications for rehearing which in the opinion of the commission are without merit may be denied without notice to other parties, but no application for rehearing shall be granted without notice to each claimant whose rights are adjudicated and to each contesting party.

§ 11.317. Filing Final Determination With District Court

(a) As soon as practicable after the disposition of all applications for rehearing, the commission shall file a certified copy of the final determination, together with all evidence presented to or considered by the commission, in a district court of any county in which the stream or segment under adjudication is located. However, if the stream or segment under adjudication includes all or parts of three or more counties and if 10 or more affected persons who appeared in the proceedings petition the commission to do so, the commission shall file the action in a convenient district court of a judicial district which is not within the river basin of the stream or segment under adjudication.

(b) The commission shall obtain an order from the court fixing a time not less than 30 days from the date of the order for the filing of exceptions to the final determination and also fixing a time not less than 60 days from the date of the order for the commencement of hearings on exceptions.

(c) The commission shall immediately give written notice of the court order by certified mail to all parties who appeared in the proceedings before the commission. The commission shall file proof of the service with the court.

§ 11.318. Exceptions to Final Determination

(a) Any affected person who appeared in the proceeding before the commission may file exceptions to the final determination. An exception must state with a reasonable degree of certainty the grounds for the exception and must specify the particular paragraphs and pages of the determination to which the exception is taken.

(b) Three copies of the exceptions shall be filed in court, and a copy shall be served on the commission. The commission shall make copies of all exceptions available at a reasonable price, based on the cost of reproduction.

§ 11.319. Hearings on Exceptions

(a) The court shall hear any exceptions that have been filed. The commission and all affected persons who appeared in the proceedings before the commission are entitled to appear and be heard on the exceptions. The court may permit other parties in interest to appear and be heard for good cause shown.

(b) The court may conduct nonjury hearings and proceedings at any convenient location within the state. Actual expenses incurred by the court outside its judicial district shall be taxed as costs.

§ 11.320. Scope of Judicial Review

(a) In passing on exceptions, the court shall determine all issues of law and fact independently of the commission's determination. The substantial evidence rule shall not be used. The court shall not consider any exception which was not brought to the commission's attention by application for rehearing. The court shall not consider any issue of fact raised by an exception unless the record of evidence before the commission reveals that the question was genuinely in issue before the commission.

(b) A party in interest may demand a jury trial of any issue of fact, but the court may in its discretion have a separate trial with a separate jury of any such issue.

(c) The legislature declares that the provisions of this section are not severable from the remainder of this subchapter and that this subchapter would not have been passed without the inclusion of this section. If this section is for any reason held invalid, unconstitutional, or inoperative in any way, the holding applies to the entire subchapter so that the entire subchapter is null and void.

§ 11.321. Evidence

Any exception heard by the court without a jury may be resolved on the record of evidence before the commission, or the court may take additional evidence or direct that additional evidence be heard by the commission.

§ 11.322. Final Decree

(a) After the final hearing, the court shall enter a decree affirming or modifying the order of the commission.

(b) The court may assess the costs as it deems just.

(c) An appeal may be taken from the decree of the court in the same manner and with the same effect as in other civil cases.

(d) The final decree in every water right adjudication is final and conclusive as to all existing and prior rights and claims to the water rights in the adjudicated stream or segment of a stream. The decree is binding on all claimants to water rights outside the adjudicated stream or segment of a stream.

(e) Except for domestic and livestock purposes or rights subsequently acquired by permit, a water right is not recognized in the adjudicated stream or segment of a stream unless the right is included in the final decree of the court.

§ 11.323. Certificate of Adjudication

(a) When a final determination of the rights to the waters of a stream has been made in accordance with the procedure provided in this subchapter and the time for a rehearing has expired, the commission shall issue to each person adjudicated a water right a certificate of adjudication, signed by the chairman and bearing the seal of the commission.

(b) In the certificate, the commission shall include:

- (1) a reference to the final decree;
- (2) the name and post-office address of the holder of the adjudicated right;
- (3) the priority, extent, and purpose of the adjudicated right and, if the right is for irrigation, a description of the irrigated land; and

§ 11.324. Recordation of Certificate

(a) The commission shall transmit the certificate of adjudication or a true copy to the county clerk of each county in which the appropriation is made.

(b) On receipt of the recording fee from the holder of the certificate, the county clerk shall file and record the certificate in a well-bound book provided and kept for that purpose only. The clerk shall index the certificate alphabetically under the name of the holder of the certificate of adjudication and under the name of the stream or source of water supply.

(c) When a certificate of adjudication is filed and recorded as provided in this section, the county clerk shall deliver the certificate on demand to the holder. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2207, ch. 870, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 11.325. Water Divisions

The board shall divide the state into water divisions for the purpose of administering adjudicated water rights. Water divisions may be created from time to time as the necessity arises. The divisions shall be constituted to secure the best protection to the holders of water rights and the most economical supervision on the part of the state.

§ 11.326. Appointment of Watermaster

(a) The executive director may appoint one watermaster for each water division.

(b) A watermaster holds office until a successor is appointed. The executive director may remove a watermaster at any time.

(c) The executive director may employ assistant watermasters and other employees necessary to aid a watermaster in the discharge of his duties.

(d) In a water division in which the office of watermaster is vacant, the executive director has the powers of a watermaster.

(e) The executive director shall supervise and generally direct the watermaster in the performance of his duties. A watermaster is responsible to the executive director for the proper performance of his duties.

(f) A person dissatisfied with any action of a watermaster may apply to the executive director for relief.

§ 11.327. Duties of Watermaster

(a) A watermaster shall divide the water of the streams or other sources of supply of his division in accordance with the adjudicated water rights.

(b) A watermaster shall regulate or cause to be regulated the controlling works of reservoirs and diversion works in time of water shortage, as is necessary because of the rights existing in the streams of his division, or as is necessary to prevent the waste of water or its diversion, taking, storage, or use in excess of the quantities to which the holders of water rights are lawfully entitled.

(c) A watermaster may regulate the distribution of water from any system of works that serves users whose rights have been separately determined.

§ 11.328. Watermaster's Notice Posted

If, in the performance of his duties, a watermaster regulates diversion works or the controlling works of reservoirs, he shall attach to the works a written notice, properly dated and signed, stating that the works have been properly regulated and are wholly under his control. The notice is legal notice to all parties interested in the diversion and distribution of the water served by the diversion works or reservoir.

§ 11.329. Compensation and Expenses of Watermaster

(a) The department shall pay the compensation and necessary expenses of a watermaster, assistant watermasters, and other necessary employees, but the holders of water rights that have been determined or adjudicated and are to be administered by the watermaster shall reimburse the department for the compensation and expenses.

(b) After the adjudication decree becomes final, the executive director shall notify each holder of water rights under the decree of the amount of compensation and expenses that will be required annually for the administration of the water rights so determined.

(c) The commission shall hold a public hearing to determine the apportionment of the costs of administration of adjudicated water rights among the holders of the rights. After a public hearing, the commission shall issue an order assessing the annual cost against the holders of water rights to whom the water will be distributed under the final decree. The commission shall equitably apportion the costs. The executive director may provide for payments in installments and shall specify the dates by which payments shall be made to the department.

(d) The executive director shall transmit all collections under this section to the State Treasurer.

(e) No water shall be diverted, taken, or stored by, or delivered to, any person while he is delinquent in the payment of his assessed costs.

(f) An order of the commission assessing costs remains in effect until the commission issues a further order. The commission may modify, revoke, or supersede an order assessing costs with a subsequent order. The commission may issue supplementary orders from time to time to apply to new diversions. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2207, ch. 870, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 11.330. Outlet for Free Passage of Water

The owner of any works for the diversion or storage of water shall maintain to the satisfaction of the commission a substantial headgate at the point of diversion, or a gate on each discharge pipe of a pumping plant, constructed so that it can be locked at the proper place by the watermaster, or a suitable outlet in a dam to allow the free passage of water that the owner of the dam is not entitled to divert or impound, the suitability of the outlet to be determined by the commission.

§ 11.331. Measuring Devices

The commission may require the owner of any works for the diversion, taking, storage, or distribution of water to construct and maintain suitable measuring devices at points that will enable the watermaster to determine the quantities of water to be diverted, taken, stored, released, or distributed in order to satisfy the rights of the respective users.

§ 11.332. Installation of Flumes

The commission may order flumes to be installed along the line of any ditch if necessary for the protection of water rights or other property.

§ 11.333. Failure to Comply With Commission Directions

If the owner of waterworks using state water refuses or neglects to comply with the directions of the commission given pursuant to Section 11.330, 11.331, or 11.332 of this code, the commission, after 10 days notice or after a period of additional time that is reasonable under the circumstances, may order the watermaster to make adjustments of the control works to prevent the owner of the works from diverting, taking, storing, or distributing any water until he has fully complied with the order of the commission.

§ 11.334. Suit Against Department for Injury

Any person who is injured by an act of the department under this subchapter may bring suit against the commission to review the action or to obtain an injunction. If the water right involved has been adjudicated as provided in this subchapter, the court shall issue an injunction only if it is shown that the department has failed to carry into effect the decree adjudicating the water right.

§ 11.335. Administration of Water Rights Not Adjudicated

(a) If any area in which water rights of record in the office of the department have not been adjudicated, the claimants of the rights and the commission may enter into a written agreement for their administration.

(b) An agreement made under authority of this section shall provide:

(1) the basis and manner of distribution of the water to which the agreement relates;

(2) the services of a special watermaster, and assistants if necessary, to carry out the agreement; and

(3) the allocation, collection, and payment of the annual costs of administration.

(c) An agreement to administer unadjudicated water rights shall be recorded in the offices of the department and of the county clerk of each county in which any of the works or lands affected by the agreement are located.

(d) The administration of water rights by agreement is governed by the provisions of this subchapter except as regards allocation and payment of the expenses of the administration.

(e) No agreement authorized by this section impairs any vested right to the use of water or creates any additional rights to the use of water.

(e) The commission may adjourn its proceedings from time to time and from place to place.

(f) When a proceeding before the commission is concluded, the commission shall render a decision as to the matters concerning which the proceeding was held.

§ 11.340. Abatement of Certain Civil Suits

(a) Nothing in this subchapter prevents or precludes a person who claims the right to divert water from a stream from filing and prosecuting to a conclusion a suit against other claimants of the right to divert or use water from the same stream. However, if the commission has ordered a determination of water rights as provided in this subchapter or if the commission orders such a determination within 90 days after notice of the filing of a suit, the suit shall be abated on the motion of the commission or any party in interest as to any issues involved in the water rights determination.

(b) If a suit is abated as provided in Subsection (a) of this section, the court may grant or continue any temporary relief necessary to preserve the status quo pending a final determination of the water rights involved.

The provisions of this subchapter apply to a suit if:

(1) the state is a party;

(2) the purpose of the suit is to determine the right of the parties to divert or use water of a surface stream; and

(3) rights are asserted to use water in, or divert water to, not more than four counties.

§ 11.402. Appointment and Authority of Watermaster

(a) A court having jurisdiction over a suit described in Section 11.401 of this code may appoint a watermaster with power to allocate and distribute, under the supervision of the court, the water taken into judicial custody.

(b) The court may not appoint a watermaster with authority to act both upstream and downstream from an existing reservoir on any surface stream of the state. However, once a watermaster is appointed, the construction of a new reservoir does not invalidate his appointment or restrict his authority over that portion of the stream contemplated by the original order of appointment.

(c) Under terms and conditions prescribed by the court, the watermaster may incur necessary expenses, appoint necessary deputies and assistants, and perform duties and assume responsibilities delegated to him by the court.

(a) The trial court shall assess the costs and expenses of the watermaster and his staff against all persons receiving an allocation of the water in judicial custody. The court shall assess the costs and expenses monthly or at other time intervals ordered by the court.

(b) The court shall assess the costs and expenses on the basis of:

- (1) acreage;
- (2) acre-feet of allocated water;
- (3) per capita; or
- (4) any other formula the court, after notice and hearing, determines to be the most equitable.

(c) During the pendency of an appeal, the trial court, in its discretion, may assess costs against some parties on one basis and against other parties on another basis.

(d) The costs and expenses are not to be taxed as ordinary court costs, but are to be considered costs necessary to protect the rights and privileges of the parties receiving allocations of water during the litigation and are to be paid by those parties. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2207, ch. 870, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 11.405. Failure to Pay Assessed Costs

If the costs and expenses assessed are not paid within the time prescribed by the court, the court after notice and hearing may withdraw or limit allocations of water to any party failing or refusing to pay his share until all costs and expenses assessed against him are paid in full.

§ 11.406. Judicial Custody of Water During Appeal

If a party appeals the judgment of the trial court, that court may retain custody of the water which it has previously taken into judicial custody and over which it has appointed a watermaster. Until final judgment is entered in the case, the trial court has exclusive jurisdiction to administer, allocate, and distribute the water retained in its custody, as provided in Section 11.407 of this code.

§ 11.407. Allocation and Distribution of Water During Appeal

During the pendency of an appeal, the trial court shall limit the allocation and distribution of the water in its custody to the parties adjudicated to have a valid right to use the water. However, if any party prosecutes an appeal and files a supersedeas bond, the trial court shall make any necessary adjustments in the water allocations and allocate to that party the same amount of water that he received during the proceedings in the trial court. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2207, ch. 870, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 11.408. Retention of Watermaster During Appeal

During the pendency of an appeal, the trial court may retain the watermaster in office with the same authority he had during the trial proceedings.

§ 11.409. Violations of Court Orders

If a party violates any order of the trial court either during trial proceedings or during an appeal, the trial court may limit or withdraw his allocation of water until he corrects the violation to the satisfaction of the court.

or study of the water resources of Texas or the United States.

(b) When the governor receives an engineering report submitted by a federal agency seeking the governor's approval of a federal project, he shall immediately forward the report to the department for its study concerning the feasibility of the federal project.

(c) The board shall hold a public hearing to receive the views of persons and groups who might be affected by the proposed federal project. The board shall publish notice of the time, date, place, nature, and purpose of the public hearing once each week for two consecutive weeks before the date stated in the notice in a newspaper having general circulation in the section of the state where the federal project is to be located or the work done.

(d) After hearing all the evidence both for and against approval of the federal project, the board shall enter its order approving or disapproving the feasibility of the federal project, and the order shall include the board's reasons for approval or disapproval.

(e) In determining feasibility, the board shall consider, among other relevant factors:

(1) the effect of the federal project on water users on the stream as certified by the commission;

(2) the public interest to be served;

(3) the development of damsites to the optimum potential for water conservation;

(4) the integration of the federal project with other water conservation activities;

(5) the protection of the state's interests in its water resources; and

(6) the engineering practicality of the federal project, including cost of construction, operation, and maintenance.

(f) The board shall forward to the governor a certified copy of its order. The board's finding that the federal project is either feasible or not feasible is final, and the governor shall notify the federal agency that the federal project has been either approved or disapproved.

(g) The provisions of this section do not apply to the state soil conservation board as long as that board is designated by the governor as the authorized state agency having supervisory responsibility to approve or disapprove of projects designed to effectuate watershed-protection and flood-prevention programs initiated in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture.

The state may recover the penalty by suit brought for that purpose in the district court of Travis County.

(d) Nothing in this section or in rules or orders made by the department shall be construed to relieve an owner or operator of a dam or reservoir of the legal duties, obligations, or liabilities incident to ownership or operation.

and its manager. If, within 10 days after the notice is mailed, the board of the district does not take steps to insure that the project is being constructed in accordance with the approved plans and specifications, the executive director shall give written notice of that fact to the attorney general.

(h) After the attorney general receives the notice, he may bring an action for injunctive relief, or he may bring quo warranto proceedings against the directors. Venue for either of these actions is exclusively in the district of Travis County.

(g) The fee for other uses of water not specifically named in this section is $1 per acre-foot.

"(b) If the Texas Water Rights Commission determines that any fees prescribed by applicable statute have not been paid in connection with any permit issued prior to the effective date of this Act by the commission or its predecessors, the commission shall submit a written statement of charges to the permittee. If such charges are not paid in full within 30 days of receipt of the statement by the permittee, then this section is not applicable for the validation, ratification, approval, or confirmation of the permit."

(b) The board shall make the same determinations with respect to the sale of water as are required in Section 16.190 of this code with respect to the sale or lease of facilities.

(c) The board shall not compete with any political subdivision in the sale of water when this competition jeopardizes the ability of the political subdivi-

SUBCHAPTER I. FLOOD INSURANCE

§ 16.311. Short Title

This subchapter may be cited as the Flood Control and Insurance Act.

§ 16.312. Purpose

The State of Texas recognizes the personal hardships and economic distress caused by flood disasters since it has become uneconomic for the private insurance industry alone to make flood insurance available to those in need of such protection on reasonable terms and conditions. Recognizing the burden of the nation's resources, congress enacted the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, as amended (42 U.S.C. Sections 4001 through 4127), whereby flood insurance can be made available through coordinated efforts of the federal government and the private insurance industry, by pooling risks, and the positive cooperation of state and local government. The purpose of this subchapter is to evidence a positive interest in securing flood insurance coverage under this federal program and to so procure for those citizens of Texas desiring to participate and in promoting the public interest by providing appropriate protection against the perils of flood losses and in encouraging sound land use by minimizing exposure of property to flood losses.

by Commission

(a) Except as provided in Subsection (b) of this section, the board shall not deliver funds pursuant to an application for financial assistance until the political subdivision has furnished the board a resolution adopted by the commission certifying:

- (1) that an applicant proposing surface-water development has the necessary water right authorizing it to appropriate and use the water which the project will provide; or
- (2) that an applicant proposing underground water development has the right to use water that the project will provide.

(b) If an application includes a proposal for a waste water treatment plant, the part of the application relating to the waste water treatment plant does not need to be certified by the commission, but the board may not deliver funds for the waste water treatment plant until the political subdivision has obtained written evidence of approval of the plans for the waste water treatment plant from the executive director.

§ 17.124. Considerations in Passing on Application

In passing on an application from a political subdivision for financial assistance, the board shall consider:

- (1) the needs of the area to be served by the project and the benefit of the project to the area in relation to the needs of other areas requiring state assistance in any manner and the benefits of those projects to the other areas;
- (2) the availability of revenue to the political subdivision, from all sources, for the ultimate repayment of the cost of the project, including interest;
- (3) whether the political subdivision can reasonably finance the project without assistance from the state;
- (4) the relationship of the project to the overall, statewide water needs; and
- (5) the relationship of the project to the state water plan.

§ 17.125. Approval of Application

The board by resolution may approve an application if, after considering the factors listed in Section 17.124 of this code and any other relevant factors, the board finds:

- (1) that the public interest requires state participation in the project;
- (2) that the political subdivision cannot reasonably finance the project without state assistance in the amount finally approved by the board; and
- (3) that in its opinion the revenue or taxes pledged by the political subdivision will be sufficient to meet all the obligations assumed by the political subdivision during the succeeding period of not more than 50 years.

§ 17.126. Method of Financial Assistance

The board may provide financial assistance by using money in the water development account to purchase bonds or other securities issued by the political subdivision to finance the project. The board may purchase bonds or securities that are secondary or subordinate to other bonds or securities issued by the political subdivision to finance the same project. The board may purchase outstanding prior lien bonds previously issued by the political subdivision when this will avoid or reduce the necessity for issuing junior lien bonds for subsequent sale to the board. However, the security for both prior lien and junior lien bonds shall be pledged from substantially the same sources of revenue.

§ 17.127. Bond Maturity

The board may not purchase bonds or other securities which have a maturity date more than 50 years from the date of issuance.

§ 17.128. Interest Rate

(a) Except as provided in Subsection (b) of this section, bonds and securities purchased by the board on or after September 1, 1977, with money derived from the sale of bonds issued under this chapter shall bear interest at the lending rate. The bonds shall bear coupons evidencing interest at a rate or combination of rates that will approximate the lending rate as nearly as the board deems practicable. The lending rate shall be affected by the payment of premiums or the deduction of discounts as necessary.

(b) Bonds and securities purchased by the board pursuant to applications for financial assistance approved by the board prior to September 1, 1977, shall bear interest at the rate prescribed by Subsection (a) of this section prior to this amendment. Outstanding prior lien bonds purchased by the board under Section 17.126 of this code need not bear the interest rate provided in Subsection (a) of this section, but the board may pay such price or prices for outstanding prior lien bonds which in its discretion will accomplish the objective of Section 17.126 of this code.

The bonds or other securities issued by a political subdivision are valid, binding, and incontestable after:

- (1) approval by the attorney general;
- (2) registration by the comptroller; and
- (3) purchase by and delivery to the board.

§ 17.131. Security for Bonds

(a) Bonds purchased by the board shall be supported by:

- (1) all or part of the net revenue from the operation of the project;
- (2) taxes levied by the political subdivision for the purpose; or
- (3) a combination of taxes and net revenue, and revenue from other available sources.

(b) The board may require that the bonds be supported both by taxes and by net revenue from the operation of the project in any ratio the board considers necessary to fully secure the investment. The board shall establish other conditions and requirements it considers to be consistent with sound investment practices and in the public interest.

(c) As used in this section, "net revenue" means gross revenue less the amount necessary to provide for principal, interest, and reserve requirements of bonds superior to those purchased by the board and the amount necessary to pay the cost of maintaining and operating the project.

§ 17.132. Default

(a) In the event of a default in payment of the principal of or interest on bonds purchased by the board or any other default as defined in the proceedings or indentures authorizing the issuance of the bonds, the attorney general shall institute appropriate proceedings by mandamus or other legal remedies to compel the political subdivision or its officers, agents, and employees to cure the default by performing those duties which they are legally obligated to perform. These proceedings shall be brought and venue shall be in a district court of Travis County.

(b) The provisions of this section are cumulative of any other rights or remedies to which the bondholders may be entitled.

§ 17.133. Sale of Bonds by Board

(a) The board may sell or dispose of bonds purchased with money in the water development account. The board may not sell the bonds for less than amortized value and accrued interest.

(b) The board shall first offer the bonds at their amortized value plus accrued interest to the issuing political subdivision at least 30 days before the date of requesting competitive bids.

(c) If the political subdivision fails to give notice to the board of its desire to acquire the bonds at amortized value and accrued interest within the 30-day period, then the board shall give notice of the sale of the bonds, receive competitive bids, and conduct the sale, all in the manner provided for the sale of bonds, except the board may waive any requirement for good faith checks.

§ 17.134. Proceeds From Sale

The proceeds from the sale of political subdivision bonds held by the board shall be credited to the water development account, except that accrued interest shall be credited to the interest and sinking fund.

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2207, ch. 870, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

- (3) that payment of the 10 percent remaining due upon completion of the contract shall be made only after:

(A) approval by the engineer for the political subdivision as required under the bond proceedings; and

(B) certification by the board that the work to be done under the contract has been completed and performed in a satisfactory manner and in accordance with sound engineering principles and practices.

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2207, ch. 870, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

- (1) the contractor is substantially complying with the engineering plans of the project as submitted when approval of the feasibility of the project was sought; and
- (2) the contractor is constructing the project in accordance with sound engineering principles.

(b) Inspection of a project by the department does not subject the state to any civil liability.

§ 17.138. Alteration of Plans

- (2) failure to construct the works in accordance with sound engineering principles; or
- (3) failure to comply with any term of the contract.

§ 17.228. Conditions for Obtaining Financial Assistance

Before financial assistance is provided to a political subdivision, the following conditions must be met:

- (1) the project must be approved by the board and the appropriate federal agency if applicable;
- (2) the political subdivision must adopt any necessary ordinance, rule, order, or resolution which in the judgment of the board is necessary to comply with the contract and requirements of the federal government.

§ 17.230. Direct Loans

(a) If a political subdivision in the judgment of the board is unable to issue bonds or other obligations for a project in the state for which a federal grant is to be made under the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, as amended,¹ then the board may provide financial assistance to the political subdivision by agreeing to pay from water quality enhancement funds the amount required by federal law of the estimated reasonable cost of the project.

(b) Before the delivery of any water quality enhancement funds to the political subdivision, the board with the advice of the development fund manager and the political subdivision shall execute a loan agreement which shall provide that the political subdivision shall pay into the appropriate account not less than the amount necessary to repay the principal of and interest on the loan over the period of time and under the terms and conditions which are mutually agreeable to the board and the political subdivision. The contract may also include any other terms and conditions which the board may require.

(c) Each political subdivision may charge and collect necessary fees, rentals, rates, and charges for the use, occupancy, and availability of its treatment works and any of its other properties, buildings, structures, operations, utilities, systems, activities, and facilities so that it may make all payments required by its loan agreement. The political subdivision shall pledge such amounts to make those payments.

(d) The political subdivision may pledge its ad valorem taxes, if any, and levy and collect the taxes for the purpose of making all or any part of the payments required by its loan agreement. The taxes shall be in addition to all other ad valorem taxes permitted by law but may not exceed, together with other ad valorem taxes, any maximum imposed by the Texas Constitution.

(e) Each loan agreement executed pursuant to this subchapter and the appropriate proceedings authorizing its execution shall be submitted to the attorney general for examination before the delivery of the money to the political subdivision. If he finds that the loan agreement has been authorized and executed in accordance with law, that the provisions are valid, and that the political subdivision has demonstrated to his reasonable satisfaction that the payments required by the agreement can be made from the sources pledged, he may approve the agreement. When bonds or other obligations are purchased or a loan agreement is approved by the attorney general, water quality enhancement funds shall be delivered to the political subdivisions entitled to receive them and shall be used only to pay for construction costs of treatment works approved as provided in this subchapter. The purchase of bonds and other obligations as provided in this code and the making of direct loans as provided in Section 17.230 of this code together constitute payment by the state of the amount required by federal law of the estimated reasonable construction costs of all projects in the state for which federal grants are to be made under the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, as amended,¹ or any similar law.

The petition must be filed with the clerk of each county within 30 days immediately following the first publication of notice. The election shall be held within 21 days after the petition is received to determine whether or not the qualified voters in the target area or operational area approve the issuance of the permit. Immediately on calling the election, the clerk of each county within the target area or operational area shall notify the board of the date of the election.

(e) The petition for the election shall read substantially as follows: "The following qualified voters of _____ County request the Commissioners Court of _____ County to call an election at which the qualified voters shall be asked to vote on the proposition of whether or not they approve of the issuance of a weather modification permit that includes authorization for hail suppression (description of area)." Each qualified voter signing the petition shall give his full name and address and voter registration number. Within five days after receiving a petition under this section, the commissioners court shall have the county clerk of the county check the names on the petition against the voter registration lists of the county and certify to the commissioners court the number of qualified voters signing the petition as reflected by checking the county's voter registration lists. If only a part of a county is included in the target area or operational area, the county clerk shall also certify that those signing the petition reside in an election precinct in the county totally or partially included in the target area or operational area. On certification by the county clerk, the petition shall be filed with the official records of the county and shall be available for public inspection.

(f) A person filing a petition with the county judge shall deposit with the county judge an amount of money estimated by the county clerk to be sufficient to cover the costs of the election, to be held by the county judge until the result of the election to approve or disapprove the issuance of the permit is officially announced. If the result of the election is against the issuance of the permit, the county judge shall return the deposit to the person filing the petition or his agent or attorney, but if the result of the election favors the issuance of the permit, the county judge shall pay the cost and expenses of the election from the deposit and return the balance of the deposit to the person filing the petition or his agent or attorney.

(g) The ballots for an election under this section shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The issuance of a permit providing for weather modification including authorization for hail suppression and control in (description of area)."

(h) The order calling the election shall provide for the time and place or places for holding the election, the form of the ballots, and the presiding judge for each voting place.

(i) The commissioners court shall publish a copy of the election order in a newspaper of general circulation in the county or in the part of the county within the target area or operational area at least once before the seven-day period immediately preceding the day of the election. Absentee voting shall be conducted beginning the second day after the day of the publication of the election order as provided for elsewhere in this subsection and continuing through the day immediately preceding the day of the election, the provisions of any other statute of this state notwithstanding.

(j) The presiding judge of each voting place shall supervise the counting of all votes cast and shall certify the results to the commissioners court within five days after the election. A copy of the results are to be filed with the county clerk and become a public record.

(k) Within five days after the results are filed, the commissioners court shall declare the results.

(l) The commissioners court of each county holding an election shall send certified copies of the results of the election to the board within 24 hours after the results are declared under Subsection (j) of this section.

(m) If a majority of the qualified voters voting in the election precincts which are wholly within the target area vote in favor of issuance of the permit, the board may issue the permit as provided in this subchapter. If a majority of the qualified voters voting in any election precinct any part of which is located in the operational area vote against the issuance of the permit, that part of the county shall be excluded from the coverage of the permit, but if the board finds that a weather modification and control operation is still feasible, a permit may be issued covering areas in which no election is requested and areas in which the voters give their approval as provided in this section.

(n) If a permit is denied under Subsection (m) of this section, no application for a permit covering all or part of the same target area or operational area so denied may be considered, and no permit under that application may be issued by the board, for a period of two years following the date of the election.

(o) If a permit including authorization for hail suppression is to cover only a part of a county, only those qualified voters residing in an election precinct or precincts of the county included in the target area or operational area are eligible to sign a petition and to vote at an election under this section, and in computing the vote, only a majority of those qualified voters residing in such areas and voting in the election shall be necessary to carry the proposition in that county.

(p) No permit shall be issued which provides for or allows the seeding of clouds for hail suppression outside the target area, except that seeding may be done in the operational area where it is reasonably calculated to take effect only within the target area. This shall not prohibit the observation of cloud and cloud formations.

(q) The board may monitor any program under such conditions as the board deems advisable.

(r) The provisions of this section do not apply to any permits in effect at the time this section becomes law.

(s) Upon petition as provided in this section, the commissioners court of any county outside but adjacent to a county included in the operational area of an existing or proposed permit shall call and hold an election on the proposition of whether or not the qualified voters of the county approve of the issuance of any permit authorizing hail suppression in the county. If the county voters voting in such election disapprove the issuance of permits authorizing hail suppression, the board may not issue any such permit covering the county until the proposition has been approved by a subsequent election. (5) the credit of the State of Texas shall not be pledged to finance such a port; and

(6) the Texas Deepwater Port Authority be created to implement this policy.

The authority shall include this pledge and agreement of the state in any agreements it makes with the holders of the bonds or notes.

(c) If notice of the hearing is required by this chapter to be given to a person, the notice shall be served personally or mailed not less than 20 days before the date set for the hearing to the person at his last address known to the commission. (3) the holders of permits from the commission to discharge waste into or adjacent to the water in question.

No permit shall be issued authorizing the discharge of any radiological, chemical, or biological warfare agent or high-level radioactive waste. The commission may refuse to issue a permit when the commission finds that issuance of the permit would violate the provisions of any state or federal law or rule or regulation promulgated thereunder, or when the commission finds that issuance of the permit would interfere with the purpose of this chapter.

(b) A person desiring to obtain a permit or to amend a permit shall submit an application to the department containing all information reasonably required by the department.

(c) A person may not commence construction of a treatment facility until the commission has issued a permit to authorize the discharge of waste from the facility, except with the approval of the commission.

(d) The commission may not require under this chapter any permit for the placing of dredged or fill materials into or adjacent to water in the state for the purpose of constructing, modifying, or maintaining facilities or structures, but this does not change or limit any authority the commission may have with respect to the control of water quality. The commission may adopt rules and regulations to govern and control the discharge of dredged or fill materials consistent with the purpose of this chapter.

(a) Except as provided in Subsection (b) of this section, a public hearing shall be held on an application for a permit or to amend a permit. Notice of the hearing shall be given to the persons who in the judgment of the commission may be affected.

(b) An application to amend a permit to improve the quality of waste authorized to be discharged may be set for consideration and may be acted on by the commission at a regular meeting without the necessity of holding a public hearing if the applicant does not seek to increase significantly the quantity of waste authorized to be discharged or change materially the pattern or place of discharge. Notice of the application shall be mailed to the mayor and health authorities for the city or town, and the county judge and health authorities for the county, in which the waste is or will be discharged, at least 10 days before the commission meeting, and they may present information to the commission on the application.

- (2) the location of the point of discharge of the waste;
- (3) the maximum quantity of waste that may be discharged under the permit at any time and from time to time;
- (4) the character and quality of waste that may be discharged under the permit; and
- (5) any monitoring and reporting requirements prescribed by the commission for the permittee.

(b) After a public hearing, notice of which shall be given to the permittee, the commission may require the permittee, from time to time, for good cause, in conformance with applicable laws, to conform to new or additional conditions.

(c) A permit does not become a vested right in the permittee. After a public hearing in conformance with applicable laws, notice of which shall be given to the permittee, the commission may revoke or suspend a permit for good cause on any of the following grounds:

- (1) the permittee has failed or is failing to comply with the conditions of the permit;
- (2) the permit is subject to cancellation or suspension under Section 26.084 of this code;
- (3) the permit or operations under the permit have been abandoned;
- (4) the permit is no longer needed by the permittee;
- (5) the commission finds that a change in conditions requires elimination of the discharge;
- (6) revocation or suspension is necessary in order to maintain the quality of water in the state consistent with the objectives of this chapter; or
- (7) the permit was obtained by misrepresentation or failure to disclose fully all relevant facts.

(d) The notice required by Subsections (b) and (c) of this section shall be sent to the permittee at his last known address as shown by the records of the department.

§ 26.030. Permit: Effect on Recreational Water

In considering the issuance of a permit to discharge effluent into any body of water having an established recreational standard, the commission shall consider any unpleasant odor quality of the effluent and the possible adverse effect that it might have on the receiving body of water, and the commission may consider the odor as one of the elements of the water quality of the effluent.

§ 26.031. Private Sewage Facilities

(a) As used in this section and Section 26.032 of this code, "private sewage facilities" means septic tanks, pit privies, cesspools, sewage holding tanks, injection wells used to dispose of sewage, chemical toilets, treatment tanks, and all other facilities, systems, and methods used for the disposal of sewage other than disposal systems operated under a permit issued by the commission.

(b) Whenever it appears that the use of private sewage facilities in an area is causing or may cause pollution or is injuring or may injure the public health, the commission may hold a public hearing in or near the area to determine whether an order should be entered controlling or prohibiting the installation or use of private sewage facilities in the area.

(c) Before the commission enters its order, the executive director shall consult with the Director of Health Resources for recommendations concerning the impact of the use of private sewage facilities in the area on public health and present the recommendations at the hearing.

(d) If the commission finds after the hearing that the use of private sewage facilities in an area is causing or may cause pollution or is injuring or may injure the public health, the commission may enter an order as it may consider appropriate to abate or prevent pollution or injury to public health.

(e) The order may, without limitation, do one or more of the following:

- (1) limit the number and kind of private sewage facilities which may be used in the area;
- (2) prohibit the installation and use of additional private sewage facilities or kinds of private sewage facilities in the area;
- (3) require modifications or improvements to existing private sewage facilities or impose limitations on their use; and
- (4) provide for a gradual and systematic reduction of the number or kinds of private sewage facilities in the area.

(f) The commission may provide in the order for a system of licensing of private sewage facilities in the area, including procedures for cancellation of a license for violation of this section, the license, or the orders or rules of the department. The commission may also provide in the system of licensing for periodic renewal of the licenses, but this may not be required more frequently than once a year.

(g) The commission may delegate the licensing function and the administration of the licensing system to the executive director or to any local government whose boundaries include the area or which has been designated by the commission under Sections 26.081 through 26.086 of this code as the agency to develop a regional waste disposal system which includes the area or to any district or authority created and existing under Article XVI, Section 59 or Article III, Section 52 of the Texas Constitution, which owns or operates a dam or reservoir project within the area regulated.

(h) The board also may prescribe and require the payment of reasonable license fees by an applicant for a license, including fees for periodic renewal of a license. The board may change the amount of the license fees from time to time. The amount of the fees shall be based on the reasonable cost of performing the licensing function and administering the licensing system, including, where applicable, costs of soil percolation and other tests to determine the suitability of using a particular type or types of private sewage facilities in the area or at any location within the area, field inspections, travel, and other costs directly attributable to performing the licensing function and administering the licensing system.

(i) If the commission or the executive director has the responsibility for performing the licensing function, the license fees shall be paid to the department. Those fees shall not be deposited in the General Revenue Fund of the state but shall be deposited in a special fund for use by the department in performing the licensing function and administering the licensing system, and the fees so deposited are hereby appropriated to the department to use for those purposes only.

(j) If a local government has the responsibility for performing the licensing function, the fees shall be paid to the local government.

§ 26.032. Control by Counties

(a) Whenever it appears to the commissioners court of any county that the use of private sewage facilities in an area within the county is causing or may cause pollution or is injuring or may injure the public health, the county may proceed in the same manner and in accordance with the same procedures as the commission to hold a public hearing and enter an order, resolution, or other rule as it may consider appropriate to abate or prevent pollution or injury to public health.

(b) The order, resolution, or other rule may provide the same restrictions and requirements as are authorized for an order of the commission entered under this section.

(c) Before the order, resolution, or other rule becomes effective, the county shall submit it to the commission and obtain the commission's written approval.

(d) In the event of any conflict within an area between an order adopted by the commission and an order, resolution, or other rule adopted by a county under this section, the order of the commission shall take precedence.

(e) Where a system of licensing has been ordered by the commission or the commissioners court of a county, no person may install or use private sewage facilities required to be licensed without obtaining a license.

§ 26.033. Rating of Waste Disposal Systems

(a) After consultation with the Texas Department of Health Resources, the board shall provide by rule for a system of approved ratings for municipal waste disposal systems and other waste disposal systems which the board may designate.

(b) The owner or operator of a municipal waste disposal system which attains an approved rating has the privilege of erecting signs of a design approved by the board on highways approaching or inside the boundaries of the municipality, subject to reasonable restrictions and requirements which may be established by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

(c) In addition, the owner or operator of any waste disposal system, including a municipal system, which attains an approved rating has the privilege of erecting signs of a design approved by the board at locations which may be approved or established by the board, subject to such reasonable restrictions and requirements which may be imposed by any governmental entity having jurisdiction.

(d) If the waste disposal system fails to continue to achieve an approved rating, the commission may revoke the privilege. On due notice from the commission, the owner or operator of the system shall remove the signs.

§ 26.034. Approval of Disposal System Plans

(a) This section applies to all sewer systems, treatment facilities, and disposal systems, except those public sewage disposal systems for which plans are subject to review and approval by the Texas Department of Health Resources.

(b) Before beginning construction, every person who proposes to construct or materially alter the efficiency of any sewer system, treatment facility, or disposal system to which this section applies shall submit completed plans and specifications to and obtain the approval of the plans by the board.

(c) The board shall approve the plans and specifications if they conform to the waste discharge requirements and water quality standards established by the commission and the board respectively.

§ 26.035. Federal Grants

The executive director with the approval of the board may execute agreements with the United States Environmental Protection Agency or any other federal agency that administers programs providing federal cooperation, assistance, grants, or loans for research, development, investigation, training, planning, studies, programming, and construction related to methods, procedures, and facilities for the collection, treatment, and disposal of waste or other water quality control activities. The department may accept federal funds for these purposes and for other purposes consistent with the objectives of this chapter and may use the funds as prescribed by law or as provided by agreement.

(a) The executive director shall develop and prepare, and from time to time revise, comprehensive water quality management plans for the different areas of the state, as designated by the board.

(b) The executive director may contract with local governments, regional planning commissions, planning agencies, other state agencies, colleges and universities in the state, and any other qualified and competent person to assist the department in developing and preparing, and from time to time revising, water quality management plans for areas designated by the board.

(c) With funds provided for the purpose by legislative appropriation, the board may make grants or interest-free loans to, or contract with, local governments, regional planning commissions, and planning agencies to pay administrative and other expenses of such entities for developing and preparing, and from time to time revising, water quality management plans for areas designated by the board. The period of time for which funding under this provision may be provided for developing and preparing or for revising a plan may not exceed three consecutive years in each instance. Any loan made pursuant to this subsection shall be repaid when the construction of any project included in the plan is begun.

(d) Any person developing or revising a plan shall, during the course of the work, consult with the department and with local governments and other federal, state, and local governmental agencies which in the judgment of the executive director may be affected by or have a legitimate interest in the plan.

(e) Insofar as may be practical, the water quality management plans shall be reasonably compatible with the other governmental plans for the area, such as area or regional transportation, public utility, zoning, public education, recreation, housing, and other related development plans.

§ 26.037. Approval of Plans

(a) After a water quality management plan has been prepared or significantly revised as authorized in Section 26.036 of this code, it shall be submitted to the board and to such local governments and other federal, state, and local governmental agencies as in the judgment of the executive director may be affected by or have a legitimate interest in the plan.

(b) After a reasonable period of time as determined by the board for the persons to whom the plan was submitted to review and consult on the plan, a public hearing shall be held on whether the plan should be approved or whether the plan should be modified in any way. Notice of the hearing shall be given to the person or persons who prepared or revised the plan and to the persons to whom the plan was submitted for review.

(c) After the public hearing if the board finds that the plan complies with the policy and purpose of this chapter and the rules and policies of the board, it shall approve the plan. If the board does not so find, it may disapprove the plan, modify the plan as necessary so that it will comply, or return it for further development and later resubmission to the board, in accordance with the procedure in Section 26.036 of this code.

(d) When a water quality management plan has been approved as provided in this section, the plan may be furnished to the Federal Environmental Protection Agency, the Federal Water Quality Administration, or any other federal official or agency in fulfillment of any federal water quality management planning requirement specified for any purpose by the federal government.

(e) The board and the commission may use an approved water quality management plan or a plan in progress but not completed or approved in reviewing and making determinations on applications for permits and on applications for financial assistance for construction of treatment works.

§ 26.038. Fiscal Control on Water Quality Management Planning

In administering the program for making grants and loans to and contracting with local governments, regional planning commissions, and planning agencies as authorized in Subsection (c) of Section 26.036 of this code, the board shall adopt rules and procedures for the necessary engineering review and supervision, fiscal control, and fund accounting. The fiscal control and fund accounting procedures are supplemental to other procedures prescribed by law. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2207, ch. 870, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 26.039. Accidental Discharges and Spills

(a) As used in this section:

(1) "Accidental discharge" means an act or omission through which waste or other substances are inadvertently discharged into water in the state.

(2) "Spill" means an act or omission through which waste or other substances are deposited where, unless controlled or removed, they will drain, seep, run, or otherwise enter water in the state.

(3) "Other substances" means substances which may be useful or valuable and therefore are not ordinarily considered to be waste, but which will cause pollution if discharged into water in the state.

(b) Whenever an accidental discharge or spill occurs at or from any activity or facility which causes or may cause pollution, the individual operating, in charge of, or responsible for the activity or facility shall notify the department as soon as possible and not later than 24 hours after the occurrence.

(c) Activities which are inherently or potentially capable of causing or resulting in the spillage or accidental discharge of waste or other substances and which pose serious or significant threats of pollution are subject to reasonable rules establishing safety and preventive measures which the board may adopt or issue. The safety and preventive measures which may be required shall be commensurate with the potential harm which could result from the escape of the waste or other substances.

(d) The provisions of this section are cumulative of the other provisions in this chapter relating to waste discharges, and nothing in this section exempts any person from complying with or being subject to any other provision of this chapter. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2207, ch. 870, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 26.040. Control of Certain Waste Discharges by Rule

Whenever the board determines that the quality of water in an area is adversely affected or threatened by the combined effects of several relatively small-quantity discharges of wastes being made for which it is not practical to issue individual permits or that the general nature of a particular type of activity which produces a waste discharge is such that requiring individual permits is unnecessarily burdensome both to the waste discharger and the department, the board may by rule regulate and set the requirements and conditions for the discharges of waste.

§ 26.041. Health Hazards

The department may use any means provided by this chapter to prevent a discharge of waste that is injurious to public health.

§ 26.042. Monitoring and Reporting

(a) The board may prescribe reasonable requirements for a person making discharges of any waste or of any pollutant to monitor and report on his activities concerning collection, treatment, and disposal of the waste or pollutant.

(b) The board may, by regulation, order, permit, or otherwise require the owner or operator of any source of a discharge of pollutants into any water in the state or of any source which is an industrial user of a publicly owned treatment works to:

- (1) establish and maintain such records;
- (2) make such reports;
- (3) sample any discharges in accordance with such methods, at such locations, at such intervals, and in such manner as the board shall prescribe; and
- (4) provide such other information relating to discharges of pollutants into any water in the state or to introductions of pollutants into publicly owned treatment works as the board may reasonably require.

(c) When in the judgment of the commission significant water quality management benefits will result or water quality management needs justify, the commission may also prescribe reasonable requirements for any person or persons making discharges of any waste or of any pollutant to monitor and report on the quality of any water in the state which the commission has reason to believe may be materially affected by the discharges.

§ 26.043. The State of Texas Water Pollution Control Compact

(a) The legislature recognizes that various river authorities and municipal water districts and authorities of the state have signed, and that others are authorized to sign and may sign, a document entitled "The State of Texas Water Pollution Control Compact" (hereinafter called the "compact"), which was approved by Order of the Texas Water Quality Board on March 26, 1971, and which is now on file in the official records of the department, wherein each of the signatories is by law an official agency of the state, created pursuant to Article XVI, Section 59 of the Texas Constitution and operating on a multiple county or regional basis, and that collectively those signatories constitute an agency of the state authorized to agree to pay, and to pay, for and on behalf of the state not less than 25 percent of the estimated costs of all water pollution control projects in the state, wherever located, for which federal grants are to be made pursuant to Clause (7), Subsection (b), Section 1158,¹ Federal Water Pollution Control Act, as amended (33 U.S.C. Section 1158), or any similar law, in accordance with and subject to the terms and conditions of the compact. The compact provides a method for taking advantage of increased federal grants for water pollution control projects by virtue of the state payment which will be made from the proceeds from the sale of bonds by the signatories to the compact. The compact is hereby ratified and approved, and it is hereby provided that Section 30.026 of this code shall not constitute a limitation or restriction on any signatory with respect to any contract entered into pursuant to the compact or with respect to any water pollution control project in the state, wherever located, for which the aforesaid federal grants are to be made, and such signatory shall not be required to obtain the consent of any other river authority or conservation and reclamation district which is not a signatory with respect to any such contract or project. Each signatory to the compact is empowered and authorized to do any and all things and to take any and all action and to execute any and all contracts and documents which are necessary or convenient in carrying out the purposes and objectives of the compact and issuing bonds pursuant thereto, with reference to any water pollution control project in the state, wherever located, for which the aforesaid federal grants are to be made.

(b) It is further found, determined, and enacted that all bonds issued pursuant to said compact and all bonds issued to refund or refinance same are and will be for water quality enhancement purposes, within the meaning of Article III, Section 49-d-1, as amended, of the Texas Constitution and any and all bonds issued by a signatory to said compact to pay for all or any part of a project pursuant to the compact and any bonds issued to refund or refinance any such bonds may be purchased by the Texas Water Development Board with money received from the sale of Texas Water Development Board bonds pursuant to said Article III, Section 49-d-1, as amended, of the Texas Constitution. The bonds or refunding bonds shall be purchased directly from any such signatory at such price as is necessary to provide the state payment and any other part of the cost of the project or necessary to accomplish the refunding, and all purchases shall constitute loans for water quality enhancement. The bonds or refunding bonds shall have the characteristics and be issued on such terms and conditions as are acceptable to the board. The proceeds received by any such signatory from the sale of any such bonds shall be used to provide the state payment pursuant to the compact and any other part of the cost of the project, and the proceeds from the sale of any such refunding bonds to refund any outstanding bonds issued pursuant to the compact shall be used to pay off and retire the bonds being refunded thereby.

(c) This subsection is not intended to interfere in any way with the operation of Article III, Section 49-d-1, as amended, of the Texas Constitution or the enabling legislation enacted pursuant thereto, and the aforesaid compact shall constitute merely a complementary or supplemental method for providing the state payment solely in instances that it is deemed necessary or advisable by the board.

§ 26.044. Disposal of Boat Sewage

(a) As used in this section, "boat" means any vessel or other watercraft, whether moved by oars, paddles, sails, or other power mechanism, inboard or outboard, or any other vessel or structure floating on water in this state, whether or not capable of self-locomotion, including but not limited to cabin cruisers, houseboats, barges, marinas, and similar floating objects.

(b) The board shall issue rules concerning the disposal of sewage from boats located or operated on inland fresh waters in this state. The rules of the board shall include but not be limited to provisions for the establishment of standards for sewage disposal devices, the certification of sewage disposal devices, including on-shore pump-out facilities, and the visible and conspicuous display of evidence of certification of sewage disposal devices on each boat equipped with such device and on each on-shore pump-out device.

(c) The board may delegate the administration and performance of the certification function to the executive director or to any other governmental entity. The board may prescribe and require the payment, by applicants for certification, of reasonable fees based on the costs of administering and performing the certification function. All certification fees shall be paid to the entity performing the certification function. All fees collected by any state agency shall be deposited in a special fund for use by that agency in administering and performing the certification function and shall not be deposited in the General Revenue Fund of the state.

(d) Before issuing any rules under Subsection (b) of this section, the board or any person authorized by it under Section 26.021 of this code shall hold hearings thereon in Austin and in five other locations in the state in order to provide the best opportunity for all citizens of the state to appear and present evidence to the board.

(e) Notice of the hearing in Austin shall be published at least once in one or more newspapers having general circulation in the state. Notice of each of the other hearings shall be published at least once in one or more newspapers having general circulation in the region in which each hearing is to be held.

(f) Copies of each rule issued by the board under this section shall be filed in the offices of the department in Austin, Texas, in the office of the Secretary of State in Austin, and the office of the county clerk in each county in the state. § 26.045. Pump-Out Facilities for Boat Sewage

(a) In this section:

(1) "Boat" means the same as defined in Section 26.044(a), Water Code.

(2) "Boat pump-out station" means any private or public shoreside installation either independent of or in addition to an organized waste collection, treatment, and disposal system used to receive boat sewage.

(3) "Shoreside installation" means marinas and other installations servicing boats on fresh water of Texas.

(4) "Fresh water" means as geographically applied all of the surface lakes, streams, and reservoirs of the state, exclusive of the extent of ordinary tidal action on this water.

(b) After a public hearing and after making every reasonable effort to bring about the establishment of an adequate number of boat pump-out stations on fresh water, the commission may enter an order requiring the establishment of boat pump-out stations by a local government that has any jurisdiction over at least a portion of the fresh water or over land immediately adjacent to the fresh water.

(c) If a local government is authorized to issue authorization for the operation of shoreside installations, the local government may require the installation and operation of boat pump-out stations where necessary. The local government shall require the installation and operation of boat pump-out stations if required by the commission.

(d) A local government responsible for establishing boat pump-out stations may issue bonds or may use general revenue funds from normal operations to finance the construction and operation of the pump-out facilities. Pump-out stations established as a result of this section will be self-sustaining with respect to costs and revenues collected from users of said facilities, and local governments are authorized to levy reasonable, appropriate charges or fees to recover cost of installation and operation of the pump-out stations. Nothing in this section is to be construed to require any local government to rebate to the State of Texas funds collected pursuant to this program.

(e) The hearings required by this section and other acts of the commission in carrying out the provisions of this section shall be handled as provided in the rules of the board.

§ 26.046. Hearings on Protection of Edwards Aquifer From Pollution

(a) As used in this section, "Edwards Aquifer" means that portion of an arcuate belt of porous, waterbearing limestones composed of the Comanche Peak, Edwards, and Georgetown formations trending from west to east to northeast through Kinney, Uvalde, Medina, Bexar, Kendall, Comal, and Hays counties, respectively, and as defined in the most recent order of the commission for the protection of the quality of the potable underground water in those counties.

(b) Annually, the commission shall hold a public hearing in Kinney, Uvalde, Medina, Bexar, Kendall, Comal, or Hays County, and a hearing in any other of those counties whose commissioners court requests that a hearing be held in its county, to receive evidence from the public on actions the commission should take to protect the Edwards Aquifer from pollution.

(1) Notice of the public hearing shall be given and the hearing shall be conducted in accordance with the rules of the commission.

(2) The hearings examiner, appointed by the commission, shall convene the public hearing at an hour convenient for the public to attend, but not later than 10 a. m. of the day set for the public hearing and shall close the public hearing no later than 6 p. m. of the same day.

[§ 26.047.]¹ Permit Conditions and Pretreatment Standards Concerning Publicly Owned Treatment Works

(a) The board shall impose as conditions in permits for the discharge of pollutants from publicly owned treatment works requirements for information to be provided by the permittee concerning new introductions of pollutants or substantial changes in the volume or character of pollutants being introduced into such treatment works.

(b) The board is authorized to impose as conditions in permits for the discharge of pollutants from publicly owned treatment works appropriate measures to establish and insure compliance by industrial users with any system of user charges required under state or federal law or any regulations or guidelines promulgated thereunder.

(c) The board is authorized to apply, and to enforce pursuant to Subchapter E of this code,² against industrial users of publicly owned treatment works, toxic effluent standards and pretreatment standards for the introduction into such treatment works of pollutants which interfere with, pass through, or otherwise are incompatible with such treatment works.

[§ 26.048.]¹ Federal Grants for the Construction of Treatment Works; Processing Fees

(a) The board may execute agreements with the United States Environmental Protection Agency or its successor agency and any other federal agency that administers programs providing federal grants to local governments for the construction of treatment works, as defined in Section 21.602² of this code. The board may exercise all duties and responsibilities required for the administration by the board of the federal construction grant program.

(b) Each applicant for a federal construction grant, under a grant program administered by the board, shall pay to the board a reasonable grant processing fee as prescribed by the board. The grant processing fee charged by the board shall be cost-eligible under the grant program and shall not exceed one-half of one percent of the total eligible project cost, including the planning, design, and construction phases, for any one project. The board shall promulgate regulations establishing schedules for timely payment of grant processing fees. For grants awarded in steps under a federal program, the time schedule for payment of grant processing fees shall provide for payment reasonably apportioned among each step grant awarded. The grant processing fee for each step grant or for any other grant not awarded in steps shall be due and payable immediately following the award of such grant. No grant processing fee shall be levied for any grant awarded prior to the effective date of this Act; but the grant processing fee established in this Subsection (b) shall be levied on grants awarded on or after the effective date of this Act where the board has processed the grant pursuant to an agreement with the United States Environmental Protection Agency, or its successor agency, or any other federal agency that administers programs providing federal grants to local governments for the construction of treatment works.

(c) All grant processing fees collected by the board shall be deposited in a special fund of the state treasury for use by the board in processing and administering the grant programs, and shall not be deposited in the general revenue fund of the state.

SUBCHAPTER C. REGIONAL AND AREA-WIDE SYSTEMS

§ 26.081. Regional or Area-Wide Systems; General Policy

(a) The legislature finds and declares that it is necessary to the health, safety, and welfare of the people of this state to implement the state policy to encourage and promote the development and use of regional and area-wide waste collection, treatment, and disposal systems to serve the waste disposal needs of the citizens of the state and to prevent pollution and maintain and enhance the quality of the water in the state.

(b) Within any standard metropolitan statistical area in the state, the department is authorized to implement this policy in the manner and in accordance with the procedure provided in Sections 26.081 through 26.086 of this code.

(c) In those portions of the state which are not within a standard metropolitan statistical area, the department shall observe this state policy by encouraging interested and affected persons to cooperate in developing and using regional and area-wide systems. The department may not use the procedure specified in Sections 26.081 through 26.086 of this code in these areas to implement this policy. However, this does not affect or diminish any authority which the department may otherwise have and exercise under other provisions of this chapter.

(d) The term "standard metropolitan statistical area," as used in this section, means an area consisting of a county or one or more contiguous counties which is officially designated as such by the United States Office of Management and Budget or its successor in this function.

§ 26.082. Hearing to Define Area of Regional or Area-Wide Systems

(a) Whenever it appears to the board that because of the existing or reasonably foreseeable residential, commercial, industrial, recreational, or other economic development in an area a regional or area-wide waste collection, treatment, or disposal system or systems are necessary to prevent pollution or maintain and enhance the quality of the water in the state, the board may hold a public hearing in or near the area to determine whether the policy stated in Section 26.081 of this code should be implemented in that area.

(b) Notice of the hearing shall be given to the local governments which in the judgment of the board may be affected.

If a majority of the votes cast in the election are against the creation of the regional or area-wide system or systems operated by the designated regional entity, then the board shall declare that the regional system was defeated and enter the result in its minutes.

(g) The order canvassing the results of the confirmation election shall contain a description of the regional system's boundaries and shall be filed in the deed records of the county or counties in which the regional system is located.

The application shall contain the exception or modifications desired, the reasons the exception or modifications are needed, and the grounds authorized in this subsection on which the commission should grant the application. A public hearing on the application shall be held in or near the territorial area of the local government, and notice of the hearing shall be given to the local government. If after the hearing the commission in its judgment determines that the volume, type, character, and quality of the waste of the users of the system or of a particular user or class of users of the system do not warrant the enactment and enforcement of rules containing the requirements prescribed in Subsections (a) and (b) of this section or that the enactment and enforcement of the rules would be impractical or unreasonably burdensome on the local government in relation to the public benefit to be derived, then the commission in its discretion may enter an order granting an exception to those requirements or modifying those requirements in any particular in response to circumstances shown to exist.

(d) At any time and from time to time as circumstances may require, the commission may amend or revoke any order it enters pursuant to Subsection (c) of this section. Before the commission amends or revokes such an order, a public hearing shall be held in or near the territorial area of the local government in question, and notice of the hearing shall be given to the local government. If after the hearing the commission in its judgment determines that the circumstances on which it based the order have changed significantly or no longer exist, the commission may revoke the order or amend it in any particular in response to the circumstances then shown to exist.

(e) In the event of any conflict between the provisions of this section and any other laws or parts of laws, the provisions of this section shall control. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2207, ch. 870, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 26.177. Water Pollution Control Duties of Cities

The city shall employ or retain an adequate number of personnel on either a part-time or full-time basis as the needs and circumstances of the city may require, who by virtue of their training or experience are qualified to perform the water pollution control and abatement functions required to enable the city to carry out its duties and responsibilities under this section.

(b) The water pollution control and abatement program of a city shall encompass the entire city and may include areas within its extraterritorial jurisdiction which in the judgment of the city should be included to enable the city to achieve the objectives of the city for the area within its territorial jurisdiction. The city shall include in the program the services and functions which, in the judgment of the city or as may be reasonably required by the commission, will provide effective water pollution control and abatement for the city, including the following services and functions:

(1) the development and maintenance of an inventory of all significant waste discharges into or adjacent to the water within the city and, where the city so elects, within the extraterritorial jurisdiction of the city, without regard to whether or not the discharges are authorized by the department;

(2) the regular monitoring of all significant waste discharges included in the inventory prepared pursuant to Subdivision (1) of this subsection;

(3) the collecting of samples and the conducting of periodic inspections and tests of the waste discharges being monitored to determine whether the discharges are being conducted in compliance with this chapter and any applicable permits, orders, or rules of the department, and whether they should be covered by a permit from the commission;

(4) in cooperation with the department, a procedure for obtaining compliance by the waste dischargers being monitored, including where necessary the use of legal enforcement proceedings; and

(5) the development and execution of reasonable and realistic plans for controlling and abating pollution or potential pollution resulting from generalized discharges of waste which are not traceable to a specific source, such as storm sewer discharges and urban runoff from rainwater.

Each river authority may make contracts authorized by this chapter with any person, including any public agency situated wholly or partly inside its boundaries and any public agency situated wholly or partly inside the river basin and any public agency situated wholly or partly inside the coastal basins adjoining its boundaries, but a river authority may not make contracts to serve a public agency situated wholly inside the boundaries of another river authority or to serve facilities of a person situated wholly within the boundaries of another river authority, except with the consent of the other river authority.

§ 30.027. Contract With Public Agency

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2207, ch. 870, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

- (1) duration of the contract for a specified period or until issued and unissued bonds and refunding bonds of the district are paid;
- (2) assuring equitable treatment of parties who contract with the district for waste collection, transportation, treatment, and disposal services from the same disposal system;
- (3) requiring the public agency to regulate the quality and strength of waste to be handled by the disposal system;

(4) sale or lease to or use by a district of all or part of a disposal system owned or to be acquired by the public agency;

(5) the district operating all or part of a disposal system owned or to be acquired by the public agency; and

(6) other terms the district or the governing body of the public agency consider appropriate or necessary.

(b) The contract shall specify the method for determining the amounts to be paid by the public agency to the district.

(c) A contract made by a city may provide that the district shall have the right to use the streets, alleys, and public ways and places inside the city during the term of the contract.

§ 30.029. Continued Use of District Facilities

§ 30.030. Source of Contract Payments

(a) A public agency may pay for the waste collection, transportation, treatment, and disposal services with income from its waterworks system, sanitary sewer system, or both systems, or its combined water and sanitary sewer system, as prescribed by the contract. In the alternative, a joint board defined as a public agency in Section 30.003, Subdivision (3), may pay for these services from any revenue or other funds within its control specified in the contract if the city councils of the cities which created the joint board approve, by ordinance, the contract between the joint board and the district. These payments constitute an operating expense of each system whose revenue is so used.

(b) The obligation of contract payments on the income of the public agency's water system is subordinate to the obligation imposed by any bonds that are payable solely from the water system net revenue and that are outstanding at the time the contract is made, unless the ordinance or resolution authorizing the bonds expressly reserved the right to give the contract payments a priority over the bond requirements.

(c) If a public agency having taxing power holds an election substantially according to the applicable provisions of Chapter 1, Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended,¹ relating to the issuance of bonds by cities and it is determined that the public agency is authorized to levy an ad valorem tax to make all or part of the payments under a contract with a district, then the contract is an obligation against the taxing power of the public agency to the extent authorized, and payments under the contract may be payable from and constitute solely an obligation against the taxing powers of the city or may be payable both from taxes and from revenue prescribed in the contract. Otherwise, neither the district nor the holders of the district's bonds are entitled to demand payment of the public agency's obligation out of any tax revenue.

§ 30.031. Rates

(a) When all or part of the payments under a contract are to be made from revenue of the waterworks system, sanitary sewer system, both systems, or a combination of both systems, the public agency shall establish, maintain, and periodically adjust the rates charged for services of the systems, so that the revenue, along with any taxes levied in support of the indebtedness, will be sufficient to pay:

(1) the expenses of operating and maintaining the systems;

(2) the obligations to the district under the contract; and

(3) the obligations of bonds that are secured by revenue of the systems.

(b) The contract may require the use of consulting engineers and financial experts to advise the public agency on the need for adjusting rates.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter or any other law to the contrary, a district may use the proceeds of bonds issued for the purpose of constructing a waste disposal system or systems, and payable wholly or in part from ad valorem taxes, for the purchase of capacity in, or a right to have the wastes of the district treated in, a waste collection, treatment, or disposal system and facilities owned or to be owned exclusively or in part by another public agency, and a district may issue bonds payable wholly or in part from ad valorem taxes specifically for such purpose if a majority of the resident electors of the district have authorized the governing body of the district to issue bonds for that purpose or for the purpose of constructing a waste disposal system or systems. The bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of, and shall be subject to the same terms and conditions of, the laws authorizing the district to issue bonds for the purpose of constructing waste collection, treatment, and disposal systems, except as otherwise provided in this subsection.

§ 30.032. Service to More Than One Public Agency

A contract or group of contracts may provide for the district to render services concurrently to more than one person through constructing and operating a disposal system and may provide that the cost of these services be allocated among the persons as provided in the contract or group of contracts. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2207, ch. 870, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

(b) To accomplish the purposes of the chapter, a district may exercise the power of eminent domain to acquire all or any interest in property inside or outside the boundaries of the district. The power shall be exercised according to the laws applicable or available to the district.

§ 30.034. Cost of Relocating, Altering, Etc.

If a district makes necessary the relocating, raising, rerouting, changing the grade of, or altering the construction of any highway, railroad, electric transmission line, pipeline, or telephone or telegraph properties or facilities in the exercise of powers granted under this chapter, the district shall pay all of the actual cost of the relocating, raising, rerouting, changing in grade, or altering of construction and shall pay all of the actual cost of providing comparable replacement of facilities without enhancement, less the net salvage value of the facilities.

§ 30.035. Elections

The board may agree to deposit this money in a separate fund as a first charge on the gross revenue received each year from sales of water, and which shall not be used for any other purpose.

(c) The board may agree in the lease to pay all expenses of operating and maintaining the leased properties from the fund provided by the board each year for the maintenance and operation expenses of the district so that the gross revenue from sale of water will be available exclusively for payment of rentals until the amount required for rentals each year is paid into the separate rental fund.

(d) If the board includes this agreement in the lease, the board shall provide for the payment of sums into the maintenance fund from sources other than the remaining portions of the gross revenue from the sale of water not required to pay rentals which are sufficient each year to pay all expenses of operating the district and maintaining and operating its properties and facilities, including the leased properties.

(c) The board also may use revenue from taxation or from the issuance and sale of bonds to pay all or part of the amount due under the encumbrance if a majority of the electors of the district voting at an election on this proposition approve its use.

(b) The proceeds of the tax shall be devoted exclusively to the payment of the principal and interest on the interim bonds.

(c) None of the provisions of this subchapter relating to interim bonds shall be construed as prohibiting the sale of bonds deposited to the credit of the interest and sinking fund to pay interim bonds or of any other bonds of the district, but if any of these bonds are sold, the district depository shall apply the proceeds to the payment of principal and accrued interest on the interim bonds and the remainder to the purposes for which the bonds were authorized.

(d) If none of the bonds are sold at the time an installment on the principal and interest of interim bonds matures, the depository shall cancel the deposited bonds and attached interest coupons in an amount equal to the principal and interest of the interim bonds paid off and discharged.

[Added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1537, ch. 627, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

(a) At the option of the board, interim bonds may be redeemed at any time or times before maturity on payment by the district of the principal and accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption by the board.

(b) When interim bonds are called for redemption before maturity, the secretary shall give written notice of the redemption to the bank or banking house named as the place of payment in the bonds or to its successor or assign.

(c) In the notice, the secretary shall designate the bond or bonds called for redemption and payment and shall state the number or numbers of the bonds.

(d) The notice shall include the redemption date which shall not be more than 60 days after the date notice of call for payment is made.

§ 58.480. Alternate Methods for Paying Bonds

(a) As used in this section and in Sections 58.481-58.484 of this code, "net revenue" means income or increment which may come from ownership and operation of the improvements which are encumbered less the proportion of the district's revenue income reasonably required to provide for administration, efficient operation, and adequate maintenance of the district's services and facilities which are encumbered. Net revenue does not include money derived from taxation.

(b) A district which expects net revenue from operations may secure its bonds in any one of the following:

(1) as provided in Section 58.463 of this code;

(2) by entering into a contract to pledge the net revenue of the district and to mortgage and encumber part or all of the property and facilities, franchise, revenue, and income from operations, and everything acquired or to be acquired by the district; or

(3) as provided in both Subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection.

§ 58.481. Taxes to Secure Certain Bonds

(a) If bonds are secured as provided in Section 58.480(b)(3) of this code, at the time that net revenue together with money derived from taxes accumulates a surplus in the sinking fund equal to the amount required in the succeeding year to liquidate the interest and principal on the district's bonds maturing in that year, the district's annual tax levies may be lowered to produce not less than 25 percent of the bond maturities for the succeeding year.

(b) If three successive years demonstrate that this net revenue is adequate to protect the district's bonds as they mature, the district's tax may be discontinued until further experience demonstrates the necessity to continue the tax to avoid default in the payment of the district's bonds as they mature. [Added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1537, ch. 627, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

§ 58.482. Election

(a) If the district proposes to issue bonds which will be secured under either Section 58.480(b)(2) or 58.480(b)(3) of this code, the proposition shall be presented at an election held under Section 58.443 of this code.

(b) The ballots for the election shall be printed to provide for voting for or against one of the following propositions:

- (1) "The issuance of bonds and the pledge of net revenue for the payment of the bonds.";
- (2) "The issuance of bonds, the pledge of net revenue, and the creation of a lien on physical property to secure payment of the bonds."; or
- (3) "The issuance of bonds, the pledge of net revenue, and the levy of adequate taxes to pay the bonds."

§ 58.483. Hearing and Election on Certain Bonds

(a) A district which plans to issue bonds payable from and secured by a pledge of net revenue and a lien on the physical property, either or both, without the levy of taxes, is not required to hold a hearing to exclude land or adopt a plan of taxation.

(b) The proposition for issuance of bonds may be submitted at the election held to confirm the creation of the district or at an election called by the board.

§ 58.484. Hearing Before Issuing Certain Bonds

If a district issues its original bonds under Section 58.480(b)(2) of this code and later desires to issue bonds payable in whole or in part from taxes or to levy a tax for maintenance purposes, the district shall hold a hearing to exclude land, and at the time provided by law, shall hold another hearing to adopt a plan of taxation. These hearings shall be held before an election is called to approve the issuance of tax-supported bonds or the levy of a maintenance tax.

[Added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1537, ch. 627, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

(c) The board may make the designation in a contract to provide, administer, maintain, and operate the desired improvements, facilities, or service for the designated area or property, and the designated area or property shall be subject to a tax lien in an amount to retire the obligations incurred by the district to provide the facilities, improvements, or service and to cover the expenses necessary to administer, maintain, and operate the improvements and facilities under the contract.

(d) The contract may not violate the law of this state or the United States and may not result in impairing a vested right or causing the district to fail to serve fully and permanently water demands in the district in the order of preference of uses.

(e) The contract may provide that one governing body may establish the contractual and statutory tax lien in behalf of the district and may levy, assess, and collect the tax for and on behalf of the district.

(f) The district may not issue bonds pledging the full faith and credit of the district under this section or under Section 58.517 of this code without submitting the proposition to the electors of the whole district under the provisions of this subchapter or under the provisions authorizing the issuance of construction bonds.

(b) The ballots for the election shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "Uniform assessment of benefits of $___ per acre on all irrigable land in the district."

(c) The board shall determine the amounts to fill the space in the proposition. The amount of charge per acre may be found by dividing the number of acres of land into the amount of debt to be incurred by the district in providing for irrigation.

(d) If a majority of the persons voting in the election vote in favor of the proposition, it shall be adopted.

§ 58.651. Setting Annual Value of Land Unnecessary

If the district adopts the uniform acreage valuation for taxation, the valuation shall be applied to all irrigable land and it is not necessary for the assessor and collector or the board of equalization to annually fix the value of the land or equalize the values. It is also unnecessary for the board to appoint a commission to ascertain or fix the value of the improvement to particular land.

§ 58.652. Preparing Tax Rolls

The board of equalization shall add to the tax roll any property which was left off or was not rendered for taxation and shall examine, correct, and certify the tax roll.

(b) Any property owner may protest to the board of equalization that his property has not been properly classified. The board of equalization shall con-

Land which is taxed on the uniform acreage valuation shall be rendered for taxation as subject to irrigation. When land is rendered, the value need not be stated, and it is unnecessary for the person rendering the property to include the value of the land in an affidavit or for the assessor and collector to set a value on the land.

§ 58.655. Irrigating Nonirrigable Land

If land which is classified as nonirrigable is later irrigated by the district, before the owner of the land receives the water, he shall pay to the district an amount equal to the entire amount that would have been charged to the owner if the land had been originally classified as irrigable.

SUBCHAPTER N. ADDING AND EXCLUDING TERRITORY AND CONSOLIDATING DISTRICTS

§ 58.691. Excluding Land from District

After a district is organized, preliminary surveys are completed, and plans adopted by the district for the construction of a plant and improvements, and before the board calls an election for the authorization of construction bonds, the board must exclude land or other property from the district under the provisions of Sections 58.692-58.701 of this code, if the exclusions are practicable, just, or desirable.

§ 58.692. Hearing to Announce Proposed Exclusions and to Receive Petitions

Before the election to authorize construction bonds, the board shall give notice of a time and place of a hearing to announce its own conclusions relating to land or other property to be excluded and to § 58.694. Petition

(a) A petition for exclusion of land must accurately describe by metes and bounds the land to be excluded. A petition for exclusion of other property must describe the property to be excluded for identification.

(b) A petition for exclusion shall be filed with the district at least 10 days before the hearing and shall state clearly the particular grounds on which the exclusion is sought. Only the stated grounds shall be considered.

§ 58.695. Grounds for Exclusion

Exclusions from the district may be made on the grounds that:

(1) to retain certain land or other property within the district's taxing power would be arbitrary, would be unnecessary to conserve the public welfare, would impair or destroy the value of the property desired to be excluded, and would constitute the arbitrary imposition of a confiscatory burden;

(2) to retain any given land or other property in the district and to extend to it, either presently or in the future, the benefits, service, or protection of the district's facilities would create an undue and uneconomical burden on the remainder of the district; or

(3) the land desired to be excluded cannot be served with water or drained so as to make it useful for irrigation purposes, or otherwise benefited by the district's proposed improvements.

§ 58.696. Hearing Procedure

The board may adjourn the hearing from one day to another and until all persons desiring to be heard are heard. The board immediately shall specifically describe all property which it proposes to exclude on its own motion and shall hear first any protests and evidence against exclusions proposed on the board's own motion.

After considering all engineering data and other evidence presented to it, the board shall determine whether the facts disclose the affirmative of the propositions stated in Subdivision (1) or (2) or, if appropriate, in Subdivision (3) of Section 58.695 of this code. If the affirmative exists, the board shall enter an order excluding all land or other property falling within the conditions defined by the respective subdivisions and shall redefine the boundaries of the district in the order to embrace all land not excluded.

§ 58.698. Suit to Review, Etc.

Any person owning an interest in land affected by the order may file a petition within 20 days after the effective date of the order to review, set aside, modify, or suspend the order.

§ 58.699. Venue of Suit

The venue in any action shall be in any district court which has jurisdiction in the county in which the district is located. If the district includes land in more than one county, the venue shall be in the district court having jurisdiction in the county in which the major portion of the acreage of the land sought to be excluded from the district is located.

[Added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1537, ch. 627, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

The trial shall be strictly de novo with no presumption of validity or reasonableness or presumption of any character in favor of the order.

(b) The decision shall be made on a preponderance of the evidence and facts found in the trial as in other civil cases, independently of any action taken by the board.

(c) The procedure for the trial and the determination of the orders and judgments to be entered shall be governed solely by the rules of law, evidence, and procedure of the state courts according to the constitution, statutes, and rules of procedure for the trial of civil actions.

(d) The so-called "substantial evidence" rule enunciated by the courts for orders of other administrative or quasi-judicial agencies shall not apply in the trial.

§ 58.701. Appeal

After the district is organized, acquires facilities with which to function as an irrigation district, and votes, issues, and sells bonds for the purposes for which the district was organized, land within the district subject to taxation which is not agricultural land or cannot be irrigated in a practicable manner may be excluded from the district by complying with the provisions of Sections 58.703-58.713 of this code. The land may also be excluded pursuant to the provisions contained in either Chapter 119, Acts of the 47th Legislature, Regular Session, 1941, as amended, or Chapter 86, Acts of the 62nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1971,¹ in the same manner as if the district was a water control and improvement district.

§ 58.704. Substituting Land of Equal Acreage and Value

Each application shall set forth the facts concerning the land to be excluded from and the land to be added to the district, including evidence of their reasonable market value.

The owner of the new land to be added shall submit an application setting forth that the owner of the new land assumes the payment of all taxes to be levied on his land by the district after the date the land is added to the district. The application also shall set forth an agreement by the owner of the new land that the land will be subject to future taxes for bond tax and flat rate and all other assessments levied and assessed by the district as though the land had been incorporated originally in the district. The application also shall contain an agreement by the owner of the new land that the land will be subject to the same liens and provisions as all other land in the district and subject to the statutes governing all other land in the district.

§ 58.707. Consent of Outstanding Bondholders

(a) The board shall communicate the contents of the applications to exclude nonagricultural or nonirrigable land and to include an equal amount of irrigable land to the holders of outstanding bonds voted, issued, sold, and delivered by the district and payable from taxes levied on property in the district.

(b) If the consent in writing of 95 percent or more of the bondholders to the plan is filed with the board, the board may hold a hearing on the applications.

§ 58.710. Board's Resolution to Substitute Land

If the board finds that all the conditions provided for the exclusion of land and inclusion of other land in the district exist, it may adopt and enter in its minutes a resolution to exclude land which is nonagricultural or nonirrigable in a practicable manner and include land which may be irrigated from the facilities of the district in a practicable manner.

§ 58.713. Right to Serve New Land Included in District

The district has the same right to furnish water service to the included land that it previously had to furnish service to the excluded land. The mere inclusion of a larger total acreage than that excluded

If the board finds on hearing the petition that the addition would be of benefit to the district and that the water supply, canals, and other improvements are sufficient to supply the added territory without injuring the land already in the district, it may add the territory to the district by resolution entered in its minutes. The board does not have to include all the territory described in the petition if it finds that a modification or change is necessary or desirable.

The agreement may provide that the added land will be taxed on a uniform acreage basis or on the plan of a definite annual payment.

(b) The board, in its order adding land to the district, shall set the amount of the debts to be paid by the owner of the added land and levy annual taxes against the land to pay the debts. The taxes assessed by the board constitute a lien against the added land in the same manner and to the same extent as if the land had been a part of the district at the time the indebtedness was incurred or authorized by an election held for that purpose.

(c) The added land is a part of the district and is liable for debts subsequently incurred by the district in the same manner as other land in the district. [Added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1537, ch. 627, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

(b) The directors of each district shall order the election to be held on the same day in each district and shall give notice of the election for at least 20 days in the manner provided by law for other elections.

(c) The districts may be consolidated only if the electors in each district vote in favor of the consolidation. [Added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1537, ch. 627, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

(b) Land which is sold or leased shall be declared surplus land and shall not be needed for use by the district in connection with the development of a navigation project.

(c) Sale or lease of land shall be made as provided by Sections 60.039–60.042 of this code.

CHAPTER 61. ARTICLE III, SECTION 52, NAVIGATION DISTRICTS

SUBCHAPTER D. POWERS AND DUTIES

§ 61.116. Lease of State Owned Lands and Flats

(a) Any district organized under this chapter or any special law or any general law under which navigation districts may be created may apply for a lease from the State of Texas of the surface estate of any lands and flats belonging to the state which are covered or partly covered by the water of any of the bays or other arms of the sea; however, any navigation district created after the effective date of this Act may not lease the surface estate of any such lands or flats which are located within 10 miles of the boundary of any navigation district in existence on the effective date of this Act, without first receiving the written approval of the district now in existence. The words "navigation district," "district," or "districts" as used in Sections 61.116, 61.117, and 60.038 of the Texas Water Code shall apply to any incorporated city in this state which owns and operates wharves, docks, and other marine port facilities.

(b) The state, through the School Land Board, may lease these state owned lands or flats to eligible navigation districts only for purposes reasonably related to the promotion of navigation. The term "navigation" as used herein refers to marine commerce and immediately related activities, including but not limited to port development; channel construction and maintenance; commercial and sport fishing; recreational boating; industrial site locations; transportation, shipping, and storage facilities; pollution abatement facilities; and all other activities necessary or appropriate to the promotion of marine commerce; but specifically does not refer to residential development.

(c) In making application for a lease of state owned lands or flats, the district shall include the following information:

(1) a description of the lands or flats sought to be leased;

(2) a plan showing how it proposes to utilize the land and a timetable indicating approximately when such utilization will take place;

(3) a draft environmental impact statement assessing the effect of the proposed use on the environment, which statement shall generally conform to the requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act,¹ until such time as the legislature shall impose different requirements; however, a draft environmental impact statement shall not be required if the proposed use requires no dredging, filling, or bulkheading. If the proposed use does require dredging, filling, or bulkheading, but² the lease shall be processed as provided in Subsections (d), (e), and (f) of this section without the filing of a draft environmental impact statement if the applicant so requests in writing; but in such a case, the School Land Board shall include in the lease provisions requiring (i) that the draft environmental impact statement required by federal law be filed with the School Land Board before the district makes any use of such lands or flats which requires dredging, filling, or bulkheading; (ii) that approval of such use be obtained from the School Land Board after copies of the summary of the draft environmental impact statement and a description of the proposed use are circulated for comment and a hearing held as provided in Subsections (d) and (e) of this section and the School Land Board shall be authorized to give its approval to make such amendments to the lease as may then be deemed necessary by it as a result of information developed in the draft environmental impact statement; and (iii) that the lease shall cease to be effective at a time specifically stated in the lease unless prior to that time accord concerning environmental issues has been reached between the district and the School Land Board;

(4) proof satisfactory to the board establishing the public convenience and necessity for acquisition of lands sought to be leased.

(d) Upon receipt of an application and accompanying information, the School Land Board shall submit copies thereof to the member agencies of the Interagency Council on Natural Resources and the Environment and all other appropriate state agencies for review and comment. In addition, the board shall submit for review and comment the proposed terms and conditions of the lease. The board shall allow 30 days for such review and comment, and may extend the review period for an additional 30 days upon written request by the executive director of any state agency.

(e) Following the expiration of the period provided for review and comment, or following the expiration of the 30 day extension of such period, if applicable, the School Land Board shall cause a hearing to be held in the county in which the land proposed to be leased is located. Notice of the hearing shall be given by publication for at least three days, not less than two weeks nor more than four weeks prior to the hearing, in the daily paper having the greatest circulation in the county. Members of the board or their designated representatives shall conduct the hearing, at which any party may offer testimony in support of or in opposition to the application, and the board shall consider the record of the hearing in making a decision on the application.

(f) After submission of all evidence, the School Land Board shall authorize the issuance or denial of the proposed lease and shall determine the reasonable cost to the district, term of years, special limitations, if any, and other conditions necessary to best serve the interest of the general public. In establishing the consideration to be paid to the state for the lease, due weight shall be given to the depth of the water over the submerged land, its proximity to development activities, and its proposed use. Final action shall be taken by the board no more than 60 days following the public hearing.

(g) The funds derived from the lease shall be paid to the General Land Office for transfer to the proper funds of the state.

(h) Districts may sublease lands leased from the state under the provisions of this section to third parties for activities reasonably related to navigation, but such sublease shall be subject to the approval of the School Land Board according to the procedures, requirements, and criteria set forth in Subsections (c) and (d) of Section 61.116 of this code; provided, however, that no approval by the School Land Board shall be required if the sublease is for a purpose contemplated by the district and approved by the board in the district's original lease. It is further provided that no environmental impact statement shall ever be necessary for any sublease which requires no dredging, filling, or bulkheading, and which would not have a substantial impact upon the environment, or which requires only insubstantial dredging, filling, or bulkheading, as determined by the board; nor shall a district in obtaining approval for a sublease under any circumstances be required to reveal the name of the tenant to whom the sublease is to be made.

(i) If lands or flats leased from the state under the provisions of this section are utilized by the district or its sublessee for any purpose or use not approved by the School Land Board, the district shall be given notice and an opportunity to change and correct the use. If the use is not changed and corrected within a reasonable time after receipt of such notice, the lease may be terminated by the School Land Board and the lands or flats shall revert to the State of Texas.

Sections 4 and 5 of the 1975 amendatory act provided:

"Sec. 4. Venue for any action arising under this Act brought by or against the State of Texas, or involving the state's claim to title to land conveyed or sought to be conveyed under this Act, shall lie in a district court of Travis County, Texas."

"Sec. 5. Any and all laws or parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this Act are repealed to the extent of such conflict."

§ 61.117. Limitations on Sales and Use of State Lands and Flats

(a) The State of Texas shall retain its rights in all mines and minerals, including oil, gas, and geothermal resources, in and under the land, together with the right to enter the land for the purpose of development when it leases land under Section 61.116 of this code.

(b) All leases of land under Section 61.116 are subject to oil, gas, or mineral leases in existence at the time of the lease to the district.

(c) Any land which has been franchised or leased or is being used by any navigation district or by the United States for the purpose of navigation, industry, or other purpose incident to the operation of a port shall not be entered or possessed by the State of Texas or by anyone claiming under the State of Texas for the purpose of exploring for oil, gas, or other minerals except by directional drilling. No easement, lease, or permit may be granted on land which has been leased to a navigation district which will interfere with the proposed use of the land by the navigation district, and the prior approval of the navigation district shall be obtained for such purpose.

(d) No surface drilling location may be nearer than 660 feet and special permission from the Commissioner of the General Land Office is necessary to make any surface location nearer than 2,160 feet, measured at right angles from the nearest bulkhead line designated by a navigation district or the United States as the bulkhead line or from the nearest dredged bottom edge of any channel, slip, or turning basin which has been dredged, or which has been authorized by the United States as a federal project for future construction, whichever is nearer.

(e) In the event land is leased to a navigation district for construction of a navigation project, the School Land Board may in the lease designate the district to be the agent of the State of Texas with authority to grant to the United States of America such easements for dredging and disposal of dredged material as may be required for federal participation in the project. In designating the district to be the agent of the State of Texas for the purpose of granting spoil easements, the board may include a requirement that the district obtain the approval of the board before granting any such easement. Such approval may be given in the form of accepting a master plan for spoil disposal.

(f) Districts which, prior to the enactment of this provision, have obtained patents to state owned lands or flats under Article 8225, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925,¹ or under any general or special act, and which still claim title to any such lands or flats, may not hereafter dispose of any such lands or flats which were conveyed to them by the State of Texas and may not lease such lands or flats for a use for which districts are not authorized to lease their other lands; however, in the event a district possesses lands it finds to be in excess of its needs, it may sell such surplus lands or flats back to the State of Texas for the same consideration as originally paid to the state or exchange them for other lands with the State of Texas. It is further provided that the limitation on resale of lands or flats acquired from the State of Texas shall not prevent a district from exchanging such lands or flats for land, or rights in land, of an adjacent littoral owner for the purpose of adjusting or straightening the boundary between such lands. All such exchanges made after December 31, 1973, shall be subject to the approval of the School Land Board.

(g) Any district which, prior to the effective date of this Act has maintained, and which at the effective date of this Act is maintaining, any channel, dredged material disposal site, or other navigational aid or improvement on state owned lands to which the district holds no patent or lease from the state shall notify the General Land Office of the boundaries of such submerged land used by furnishing a map or other drawing acceptable to the General Land Office.

A. As used in this Act, unless the context otherwise requires, the term:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 1 to 18]

(19) "Conspicuous" or "conspicuously", when prescribed for information appearing on a certificate for shares or other securities, means the location of such information or use of type of sufficient size, color, or character that a reasonable person against whom such information may operate should notice it. For example, a printed or typed statement in capitals, or boldface or underlined type, or in type that is larger than or that contrasts in color with that used for other statements on the same certificate, is "conspicuous."

PART TWO

Art. 2.01. Purposes

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of A]

(a) The business of raising cattle and owning land therefor, and the business of operating stockyards and of slaughtering, refrigerating, canning, curing or packing meat. Owning and operating feed lots and feeding cattle shall not be considered as engaging in "the business of raising cattle and owning land therefor" within the purview of this paragraph of this subsection.

(b) The business of engaging in the petroleum oil producing business in this State and the business of engaging directly in the oil pipe line business in this State: provided, however, that a corporation engaged in the oil producing business in this State which owns or operates private pipe lines in and about its refineries, fields or stations or which owns stock of corporations engaged in the oil pipe line business shall not be deemed to be engaging directly in the oil pipe line business in this State; and provided that any corporation engaged as a common carrier in the pipe line business for transporting oil, oil products, gas, salt brine, fuller's earth, sand, clay, liquefied minerals or other mineral solutions, shall have all of the rights and powers conferred by Sections 111.019 through 111.022, Natural Resources Code.

tained in the articles of incorporation, or (2) shall conspicuously state on the face or back of the certificate that (a) such a statement is set forth in the articles of incorporation on file in the office of the Secretary of State and (b) the corporation will furnish a copy of such statement to the record holder of the certificate without charge on request to the corporation at its principal place of business or registered office.

F. Repealed by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 322, ch. 134, § 22, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.

G. In the event any restriction on the transfer, or registration of the transfer, of shares shall be imposed or agreed to by the corporation, as permitted by this Act, each certificate representing shares so restricted (1) shall conspicuously set forth a full or summary statement of the restriction on the face of the certificate, or (2) shall set forth such statement on the back of the certificate and conspicuously refer to the same on the face of the certificate, or (3) shall conspicuously state on the face or back of the certificate that such a restriction exists pursuant to a specified document and (a) that the corporation will furnish to the record holder of the certificate without charge upon written request to the corporation at its principal place of business or registered office a copy of the specified document, or (b) if such document is one required or permitted to be and has been filed under this Act, that such specified document is on file in the office of the Secretary of State and contains a full statement of such restriction. Unless such document was on file in the office of the Secretary of State at the time of the request, a corporation which fails within a reasonable time to furnish the record holder of a certificate upon such request and without charge a copy of the specified document shall not be permitted thereafter to enforce its rights under the restriction imposed on the shares represented by such certificate.

Art. 2.22. Transfer of Shares and Other Securities and Restrictions on Transfer

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of A and B]

C. Any restriction on the transfer or registration of transfer of a security of a corporation, if reasonable and noted conspicuously on the security may be enforced against the holder of the restricted security or any successor or transferee of the holder including an executor, administrator, trustee, guardian, or other fiduciary entrusted with like responsibility for the person or estate of the holder. Unless noted conspicuously on the security, a restriction, even though otherwise enforceable, is ineffective except against a person with actual knowledge of the restriction.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of D]

E. A corporation that has adopted a bylaw, or is a party to an agreement, restricting the transfer of its shares or other securities may file such bylaw or agreement as a matter of public record with the Secretary of State, as follows:

(1) The corporation shall file a copy of the bylaw or agreement in the office of the Secretary of State together with an attached statement setting forth:

- (a) the name of the corporation;
- (b) that the copy of the bylaw or agreement is a true and correct copy of the same; and
- (c) that such filing has been duly authorized by the board of directors or, in the case of a close corporation managed by its shareholders pursuant to Article 2.30-1, by its shareholders.

(2) Such statement shall be executed in duplicate by the corporation by its president or a vice-president and verified by the officer signing such statement, and shall be delivered to the Secretary of State with copies of such bylaw or agreement restricting the transfer of shares or other securities attached thereto. If the Secretary of State finds that such statement conforms to law and all franchise taxes and fees have been paid as prescribed by law, he shall:

- (a) endorse on each of such duplicate originals the word "Filed", and the month, day, and year of the filing thereof;
- (b) file one of such duplicate originals in his office; and
- (c) return the other duplicate original to the corporation or its representative.

(3) After the filing of such statement by the Secretary of State, the bylaw or agreement restricting the transfer of shares or other securities shall become a matter of public record and the fact of such filing shall be stated on any certificate representing the shares or other securities so restricted if required by Section G, Article 2.19, of this Act.

F. A corporation that is a party to an agreement restricting the transfer of its shares or other securities may make such agreement part of its articles of incorporation without restating the provisions of such agreement therein by complying with the provisions of Part Four of this Act for amendment of the articles of incorporation. If such agreement shall alter any provision of the original or amended articles of incorporation, the articles of amendment shall identify by reference or description the altered provision. If such agreement is to be an addition to the original or amended articles of incorporation, the articles of amendment shall state that fact. The articles of amendment shall have attached thereto a copy of the agreement restricting the transfer of shares or other securities, and shall state that the attached copy of such agreement is a true and correct copy of the same and that its inclusion as part of the articles of incorporation has been duly authorized in the manner required by this Act to amend the articles of incorporation.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 306, ch. 134, §§ 4 and 5, Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 2.30-1. The Close Corporation: Definition; Formation; Election to Become; Termination of the Election; Management by Shareholders

A. As used in this Act, a "close corporation" means a domestic corporation which (i) is organized under or is subject to this Act and (ii) has elected to be a close corporation by including in its articles of incorporation (whether original or amended or restated), in addition to the provisions required by Article 3.02 of this Act, the following:

- (1) a statement that it is a close corporation;
- (2) a statement that no shares of any class and no securities evidencing the right to acquire shares of the close corporation shall be issued by means of any public offering, solicitation, or advertisement;

(3) a statement that all of the issued shares of each class and all of the issued securities evidencing the right to acquire shares of the close corporation shall be subject to one or more of the restrictions on transfer permitted by Articles 2.22 or 2.30-2 of this Act, and if such restrictions on transfer are being imposed on the articles of incorporation or in an agreement permitted by this Act to be set forth in full in or made a part of the articles of incorporation, the statement shall be followed either by (i) the provisions of the articles of incorporation or amendment thereto that impose such restrictions, (ii) the agreement if it is being set forth in full in the articles of incorporation, or (iii) a reference to such agreement if it is being made a part of the articles of incorporation; and

(4) a statement that all of the issued shares of all classes, excluding treasury shares, and all of the issued securities evidencing the right to acquire shares of the close corporation shall be held of record by no more than a specified number of persons, not exceeding thirty-five (35) in the aggregate. To determine the number of holders of record for purposes of this definition, shares and securities evidencing rights to acquire shares which are held (1) by husband and wife as (a) community property, (b) joint tenants (with or without right of survivorship), or (c) tenants by the entirety, or (2) by an estate of a decedent or an incompetent, or (3) by an express trust, partnership, association, or corporation created or organized and existing other than for the primary purpose of holding shares or securities evidencing rights to acquire shares in a close corporation, shall be treated as held by one person. Nothing in this definition shall be deemed to affect the right of any corporation which has not elected to be a close corporation as provided in this Article, or its shareholders, directors, or officers to exercise any power or right, granted or permitted by any provision of this Act. To the extent not inconsistent with any provision of this Act dealing specifically with a close corporation, all other provisions of this Act shall apply to a close corporation.

B. The articles of incorporation also may set forth the qualifications of shareholders and/or security-holders, either by specifying classes of persons who shall be entitled to be holders of record of any class of shares or securities, or by specifying classes of persons who shall not be entitled to be holders of record of any class of shares or securities, or both.

C. Nothing contained in this Article shall be deemed to prohibit or preclude the inclusion of any other matters required or permitted to be set forth in articles of incorporation by this Act, to the extent they are not inconsistent with the matters actually set forth in articles of incorporation of a close corporation pursuant to Sections A and B of this Article.

D. To form a close corporation, all of the initial subscribers to the corporation's shares and securities evidencing the right to acquire its shares shall serve as incorporators and the articles of incorporation, in addition to the matters required or permitted to be set forth therein by this Act, also shall include a statement that the incorporators include all such subscribers. The filing of the articles of incorporation by the Secretary of State shall constitute acceptance by the close corporation of the subscriptions of all such subscribers.

E. If an existing corporation desires to become a close corporation, it shall adopt articles of amendment in the manner provided by this Act which state that it has elected to become a close corporation and which make such other amendments to its articles of incorporation as may be required in order that the articles of incorporation, as so amended, shall set forth the matters required of a close corporation by this Act. The articles of amendment may include any other matter permitted to be set forth in the articles of incorporation of a close corporation by this Act and, to the extent not inconsistent with its status as a close corporation, any other matter that may be set forth in articles of incorporation. The election to become a close corporation and any amendments in connection therewith shall be approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of all of the outstanding shares of each class, whether or not entitled to vote thereon by the articles of incorporation.

F. If a close corporation desires to terminate its status as a close corporation, it shall adopt articles of amendment in the manner provided by this Act which state that it has elected to terminate its status as a close corporation and which delete the provisions required or permitted to be set forth in the articles of incorporation of a close corporation under this Act that are not permitted for corporations generally. Such election to terminate its status as a close corporation and amendments required in connection therewith shall be approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the outstanding shares of each class, whether or not entitled to vote thereon by the articles of incorporation, unless a greater or lesser vote is required or permitted by the articles of incorporation for such termination. Any provision of the articles of incorporation requiring a greater vote for such termination shall not be amended, repealed, or modified by any vote less than that required to terminate the corporation's status as a close corporation. Any provision restricting the transfer of the shares or other securities evidencing the right to acquire shares contained in or made part of the articles of incorporation pursuant to Article 2.30-2 of this Act, shall remain in effect to the extent not prohibited by other provisions of this Act whether or not thereafter contained in or made a part of the articles of incorporation or bylaws unless, in connection with the adoption of articles of amendment to terminate the corporation's status as a close corporation, a resolution is adopted or an agreement is entered into terminating or amending such restrictions on transfer by the number or percentage of shareholders and/or security-holders (whether or not entitled to vote in the case of a resolution) required by the articles of incorporation, bylaws or agreement for termination or amendment of such restrictions on transfer.

G. If the articles of incorporation of a close corporation expressly so state and if each certificate representing its issued and outstanding shares so conspicuously states, the business and affairs of such close corporation shall be managed by the shareholders of the close corporation rather than by a board of directors, and the following provisions shall apply:

(1) Whenever the context requires, the shareholders of such close corporation shall be deemed directors of such corporation for purposes of applying any of the provisions of this Act.

(2) The shareholders of such close corporation shall be subject to the liabilities imposed by this Act or by law for any action taken or neglected to be taken by directors of a corporation.

(3) Any action required or permitted by this Act to be taken by the board of directors of a corporation shall or may be taken by action of the shareholders of such close corporation at a meeting thereof or in the manner permitted by this Act without a meeting. Any such action taken shall be on the basis of the vote, cast in person or by proxy, by the holders of shares having a majority of the total voting power of all outstanding shares entitled to vote with respect to such action, unless the articles of incorporation either in general or on specified matters provide (a) for a greater vote or (b) for a vote on the basis of one or some other specified number of votes per such shareholder. In addition, any action consented to by all the shareholders shall be binding upon the corporation. Such consent may be evidenced (a) by the full knowledge of such action by all the shareholders and their failure to object thereto in a timely manner or (b) a consent in writing to such action in accordance with Article 9.10 of this Act or any other writing executed by or on behalf of all the shareholders reasonably evidencing such consent or (c) by any other means reasonably evidencing such consent.

H. A close corporation that is managed by its shareholders in accordance with this Act may elect to have its business and affairs managed by a board of directors by amending its articles of incorporation in the manner provided in this Act. At the meeting of shareholders to approve such amendment, there shall be elected such number of directors specified in the articles of amendment or provided for in the bylaws. The name and post office address of each person who is to serve as a director on the amendment becoming effective shall be set forth in the articles of amendment.

I. If any event occurs as a result of which one or more of the provisions or conditions included in a close corporation's articles of incorporation pursuant to Section A of this Article to qualify it as a close corporation has been breached:

(1) The corporation's status as a close corporation shall terminate unless:

(a) within thirty (30) days after the occurrence of the event, or within thirty (30) days after the event has been discovered, whichever is later, the corporation (i) files with the Secretary of State a certificate, executed by the corporation by its president or a vice-president and verified by the officer signing such statement, setting forth (A) the name of such corporation, and (B) a statement that a specified provision or condition included in its articles of incorporation pursuant to Section A of this Article to qualify it as a close corporation has been breached, and (ii) delivers to each shareholder of record, either personally or by mail (if mailed, in accordance with the requirements of the second sentence of Article 2.25), a copy of such certificate; and

(b) the corporation, within sixty (60) days after the filing of such certificate, takes such steps as are necessary to correct the situation which threatens its status as a close corporation, including, without limitation, the refusal to register the transfer of any shares which have been wrongfully transferred, or commencement in a court of competent jurisdiction of a proceeding to prevent the corporation from losing its status as a close corporation or to restore its status as such, as permitted by Article 2.30-3 of this Act.

(2) When the situation which threatens the status of the corporation as a close corporation has been remedied, and if the corporation has not amended its articles of incorporation in accordance with Section F of this Article, the corporation shall file with the Secretary of State a certificate, executed by the corporation's president or a vice-president and verified by the officer signing such statement, setting forth (a) the name of such corporation, (b) a reference to the statement previously filed with the Secretary of State by such corporation pursuant to paragraph (a) of Subsection (1) of this Section, and (c) a statement that no breach of any of the provisions or conditions included in its articles of incorporation pursuant to Section A of this Article exists.

(3) If within the sixty (60) day period provided in Subsection (1)(b) of this Section, the situation which threatened the status of such corporation as a close corporation is not remedied, the corporation's status as a close corporation shall thereafter be terminated, unless its status as a close corporation has been stayed by a court of competent jurisdiction pending final adjudication in a proceeding under Article 2.30-3 or in any other proceeding that will result in the corporation being unable to maintain or being restored to its status as a close corporation. If pursuant to Section G of this Article the business and affairs of such corporation are being managed by its shareholders rather than by a board of directors, the president shall call a meeting of the shareholders entitled to vote thereon to elect a board of directors; and if he fails to call such a meeting within thirty (30) days from the date when the corporation's status as a close corporation so terminated, any shareholder, whether or not entitled to vote, may call such meeting with the same rights and powers as are provided in this Act with respect to the call of an annual meeting of shareholders by a shareholder. At such meeting there shall be elected such number of directors as have been specified in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws of such corporation or, if no such number is specified, one (1) director shall be elected. During the period until such director(s) is elected, the person or persons to whom management of the corporation has been delegated by the shareholders shall act as a board of directors and the business and affairs of the corporation shall be conducted in the manner provided for corporations generally under this Act.

J. A corporation which met the definition of a close corporation immediately prior to the effective date of the 1975 amendment to this Article 2.30-1 shall retain its status as a close corporation for a period of one year after such effective date, provided it continues during such one-year period to meet all the requirements of a close corporation set forth in Section A of this Article, as amended, other than the inclusion of the required statements in its articles of incorporation. After such one-year period, a corporation no longer shall have the status of a close corporation unless during such year it shall have amended its articles of incorporation to set out the matters required to be stated therein by Section A of this Article; provided, however, that nothing in this Article shall require a close corporation to so amend its articles of incorporation if, before the effective date of the 1975 amendment to this Article, the articles of incorporation of such corporation provided that its business and affairs were to be managed by its shareholders or granted any shareholder or other holders of any specified number or percentage of shares of any class of shares an option to dissolve the close corporation. Should any such corporation subsequently amend its articles of incorporation, the matters required to be stated by Section A shall be set forth in the articles of amendment and approved in the manner required by that Section. No agreement among the shareholders of a close corporation as heretofore permitted to be entered into by Article 2.30-2, or any other act performed by or in behalf of such corporation, before the effective date of the 1975 amendment to this Article 2.30-1, shall be invalidated or otherwise affected by such corporation electing to become a close corporation in the manner provided by this Article.

Art. 2.30-2. Agreements Among Shareholders of a Close Corporation

A. The shareholders of a close corporation or the subscribers to its shares, if no shares have been issued, may enter into a written agreement executed by all the holders of and subscribers to shares of the corporation to regulate any phase of the business and affairs of the corporation or the relations of the holders of or subscribers to shares of the corporation, including, but not limited to, the following:

(1) Management of the business and affairs of the corporation whether by the board of directors in a manner otherwise than provided in this Act or by one or more of the shareholders or one or more other parties to be selected by the shareholders;

(2) Restrictions on the transfer of shares or other securities more restrictive than otherwise would be permitted to be imposed by Article 2.22, if not manifestly unreasonable;

(3) Exercise or division of voting requirements or power beyond those that would otherwise be permitted by this Act;

(4) Terms and conditions of employment of any shareholder, director, officer, or employee regardless of the length of time of such employment;

(5) Persons who shall or may be directors and officers of the corporation;

(6) Declaration and payment of dividends or division of profits;

(7) Arbitration of issues as to which the shareholders are deadlocked in voting power or as to which the directors or other parties managing the corporation are deadlocked in the event the shareholders are unable to break the deadlock; or

(8) Treatment of the business and affairs of the corporation as if it were a partnership or arrangement of the relations among the shareholders or between the shareholders and the corporation in a manner that would otherwise be appropriate only among partners.

B. Such shareholders' agreement shall either (1) be set forth in or made part of the original or amended articles of incorporation; or (2) be set forth in or made part of the bylaws of the corporation, provided such bylaws and a counterpart of the agreement be placed on file by the corporation at its principal place of business and its registered office and shall be subject to the same right of examination by a shareholder of the corporation, in person, or by agent, attorney, or accountant, as are the books and records of the corporation. If the agreement is set forth in or made part of the original articles of incorporation, all of the parties to the agreement at the time of incorporation who shall have subscribed to shares of the corporation shall serve as incorporators of the close corporation. If set forth in or made part of an amendment to the articles of incorporation, the provisions of this Act for amendment of the articles of incorporation shall be complied with. In addition, such amendment shall have been adopted by an affirmative vote of all of the subscribers to shares if no shares have been issued, or of the holders of all outstanding shares, whether or not entitled to vote by the articles of incorporation. If set forth in or made part of the bylaws of the corporation either when originally adopted or later amended, such provision of the bylaws shall have been adopted, amended, or ratified by an affirmative vote of all the subscribers to shares, if no shares have been issued, or of the holders of all outstanding shares, whether or not entitled to vote by the articles of incorporation. Once such agreement has been set forth in or made part of the articles of incorporation or bylaws as provided herein, it may not be amended or removed therefrom, unless otherwise provided by the articles of incorporation or the bylaws, as the case may be, except by the affirmative vote or consent of all of the subscribers to shares, if no shares have been issued, or of the holders of all outstanding shares, whether or not entitled to vote by the articles of incorporation. If these provisions are not complied with, such agreement, even though otherwise enforceable among the parties thereto, shall not be enforceable by any party thereto who is knowingly responsible for such noncompliance nor against any transferee of shares except one who has actual knowledge of the existence of the agreement or who has acquired his shares by gift, bequest, or inheritance from a party to the agreement.

C. Each certificate representing shares issued by a close corporation whose shareholders have entered into an agreement permitted by this Article shall (1) set forth conspicuously a full or summary statement of such agreement on the face of the certificate; or (2) set forth such statement on the back of the certificate and conspicuously refer to the same on the face of the certificate; or (3) if the agreement has been set forth in or made part of the articles of incorporation, conspicuously state on the face or back of the certificate that such shares are subject to an agreement among all the shareholders of the close corporation and that the corporation will furnish to the record holder of the certificate without charge upon written request to the corporation at its principal place of business or registered office a copy of such agreement and that such agreement either is set forth in the articles of incorporation or it is made a part thereof and is on file in the office of the Secretary of State; or (4) if the agreement has been set forth in or made part of the bylaws and a counterpart of the agreement placed on file by the corporation at its principal place of business and its registered office, conspicuously state on the face or back of the certificate that such shares are subject to an agreement among all the shareholders of the close corporation and that the corporation will furnish to the record holder of the certificate without charge upon written request to the corporation at its principal place of business or registered office a copy of such bylaw or agreement. An agreement permitted by this Article, which is noted conspicuously on the certificates representing shares of a close corporation in the manner prescribed in the preceding paragraph, shall be binding on and enforceable against a holder of such a certificate or any successor or transferee of such holder, including an executor, administrator, trustee, guardian, or other fiduciary entrusted with like responsibility for the person or estate of such holder. Unless noted conspicuously on the certificates representing shares of the close corporation in the manner prescribed in the preceding paragraph, an agreement permitted by this Article, even though otherwise enforceable, shall be ineffective except against a person with actual knowledge of such agreement.

D. If an agreement authorized by this Article contains any provisions which would not be valid under other provisions of the Act, such provisions shall be valid only so long as the corporation maintains its status as a close corporation under this Act. No other provision of the agreement shall be affected unless the parties thereto otherwise provide.

E. In the event a close corporation shall have a board of directors, the effect of an agreement authorized by this Article shall be to relieve the director or directors of, and to impose upon the shareholders who are parties to or are bound by the agreement and who voted for or assented to the transaction in question, the liabilities imposed by this Act or by law for action taken or neglected to be taken by directors to the extent that and so long as the discretion or powers of the directors in their management of corporate affairs is controlled by any such provision.

F. The provisions of this Article shall not be construed to prohibit any other agreements among two or more shareholders or security-holders permitted by other provisions of this Act.

Art. 2.30-3. Proceedings to Prevent Loss of Close Corporation Status or to Enforce Agreements Among Shareholders of a Close Corporation

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of A and B]

C. Any court of competent jurisdiction in which a proceeding provided for in Section A of this Article may be brought may enjoin or set aside any transfer or threatened transfer of shares or any securities of a close corporation which will adversely affect its status as a close corporation, or which is contrary to restrictions on the transfer of such shares permitted by Article 2.22 or 2.30-2 of this Act, and may enjoin any public offering, solicitation, or advertisement of shares or securities evidencing the right to acquire shares of the close corporation.

D. Nothing contained in this Article shall be construed to prevent or impair the ability of the close corporation or its shareholders or security-holders from properly terminating its status as a close corporation and from terminating or amending any restrictions on the transfer of shares or securities evidencing the right to acquire shares of the corporation in accordance with Article 2.30-1 of this Act, or shall impair the power of any court of competent jurisdiction in any proceeding properly brought before it to enforce any restriction on the transfer of shares or other securities permitted by Article 2.22 or 2.30-2 of this Act or any agreement among any number of holders of the shares or securities of a corporation or any number of the holders of such shares or securities and the corporation not provided for in Article 2.30-2 of this Act and to grant whatever remedies may be properly available in such proceedings.

Art. 2.36. Executive and Other Committees

A. If the articles of incorporation or the bylaws so provide, the board of directors, by resolution adopted by a majority of the full board of directors, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, each of which, to the extent provided in such resolution or in the articles of incorporation or in the bylaws of the corporation, shall have and may exercise all of the authority of the board of directors, except that no such committee shall have the authority of the board of directors in reference to amending the articles of incorporation, approving a plan of merger or consolidation, recommending to the shareholders the sale, lease, or exchange of all or substantially all of the property and assets of the corporation otherwise than in the usual and regular course of its business, recommending to the shareholders a voluntary dissolution of the corporation or a revocation thereof, amending, altering, or repealing the bylaws of the corporation or adopting new bylaws for the corporation, filling vacancies in the board of directors or any such committee, electing or removing officers or members of any such committee, fixing the compensation of any member of such committee, or altering or repealing any resolution of the board of directors which by its terms provides that it shall not be so amendable or repealable; and, unless such resolution, the articles of incorporation, or the bylaws of the corporation expressly so provide, no such committee shall have the power or authority to declare a dividend or to authorize the issuance of shares of the corporation. The designation of such committee and the delegation thereto of authority shall not operate to relieve the board of directors, or any member thereof, of any responsibility imposed by law.

Art. 2.43. Removal of Officers

A. Any officer or agent or member of a committee elected or appointed by the board of directors may be removed by the board of directors whenever in its judgment the best interests of the corporation will be served thereby, but such removal shall be without prejudice to the contract rights, if any, of the person so removed. Election or appointment of an officer or agent or member of a committee shall not of itself create contract rights.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 314, ch. 134, § 10, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

PART THREE

Art. 3.01. Incorporators

A. Any natural person of the age of eighteen (18) years or more, or any partnership, corporation, association, trust, or estate (without regard to place of residence, domicile, or organization) may act as an incorporator of a corporation by signing, verifying, and delivering in duplicate to the Secretary of State articles of incorporation for such corporation.

Art. 3.02. Articles of Incorporation

A. The articles of incorporation shall set forth:

- (1) The name of the corporation;

- (3) The purpose or purposes for which the corporation is organized which may be stated to be, or to include, the transaction of any or all lawful business for which corporations may be incorporated under this Act;

(5) If the shares are to be divided into classes, the designation of each class and statement of the preferences, limitations, and relative rights in respect of the shares of each class;

(6) If the corporation is to issue the shares of any preferred or special class in series, then the designation of each series and a statement of the variations in the relative rights and preferences as between series insofar as the same are to be fixed in the articles of incorporation, and a statement of any authority to be vested in the board of directors to establish series and fix and determine the variations in the relative rights and preferences as between series;

(7) A statement that the corporation will not commence business until it has received for the issuance of shares consideration of the value of a stated sum which shall be at least One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00), consisting of money, labor done, or property actually received;

(8) Any provision limiting or denying to shareholders the preemptive right to acquire additional or treasury shares of the corporation;

(9) If a corporation elects to become a close corporation as defined and governed by this Act any provision required or permitted by this Act to be stated in articles of incorporation of a close corporation, or setting out in full or making a part of the articles of incorporation an agreement among subscribers permitted by Article 2.30-2, but any such provision shall be preceded by a statement that the provision shall be subject to the corporation remaining a close corporation as defined by this Act;

(10) Any provision, not inconsistent with law, including any provision which under this Act is required or permitted to be set forth in the bylaws, which the incorporators elect to set forth in the articles of incorporation for the regulation of the internal affairs of the corporation;

(12) The number of directors constituting the initial board of directors and the names and addresses of the person or persons who are to serve as directors until the first annual meeting of shareholders or until their successors be elected and qualify, or, in the case of a close corporation whose business and affairs are to be managed by its shareholders, the names and addresses of the person or persons who have subscribed for shares to be issued by the close corporation and who will perform the functions of the initial board of directors provided for by this Act;

(13) The name and address of each incorporator.

PART FOUR

Art. 4.01. Right to Amend Articles of Incorporation

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of A]

B. In particular, and without limitation upon such general power of amendment, a corporation may amend its articles of incorporation, from time to time so as:

- (1) To change its corporate name.
- (2) To change its period of duration.
- (3) To change, enlarge, or diminish its corporate purposes.
- (4) To increase or decrease the aggregate number of shares of any class which the corporation has authority to issue.
- (5) To increase or decrease the par value of the authorized shares of any class having a par value, whether issued or unissued.
- (6) To exchange, classify, or reclassify all or any part of its shares, whether issued or unissued or to cancel all or any part of its outstanding shares.

TITLE 32

CORPORATIONS

PART TWO

Article

1302-2.10. Corporations Discounting with Federal Intermediate Credit Bank; Interest Rate [NEW].

PART TWO

Art. 1302-2.02. Notice by Firm

A. Whenever any banking, mercantile or other business firm desires to become incorporated without a change of firm name, such firm shall, in addition to the notice of dissolution required at Common Law, give notice of such intention to become incorporated for at least four (4) consecutive weeks in some newspaper published in the county in which such firm has its principal business office, if there be a newspaper in such county; and, if not, then in some newspaper published in some adjoining county; provided, however, that such notice shall only be published one (1) day in each week during the said four (4) weeks. Until such notice has been so published for the full period above-named, no change shall take place in the liability of such firm or the members thereof to those dealing with the firm or its members. It shall be a defense that a claimant had actual notice or knowledge of such incorporation.

Art. 1302-2.06. Consideration for Indebtedness; Guaranties

A. No corporation, domestic or foreign, doing business in this state shall create any indebtedness whatever except for money paid, labor done, which is reasonably worth at least the sum at which it was taken by the corporation, or property actually received, reasonably worth at least the sum at which it was taken by the corporation, subject to the provisions of Sections B and C of this Article. In the absence of fraud in the transaction, the judgment of the Board of Directors or the shareholders, as the case may be, as to the value of the consideration received for any such indebtedness shall be conclusive.

B. Notwithstanding Section A of this Article, any corporation, domestic or foreign, doing business in this state shall have the power and authority to make a guaranty if the guaranty reasonably may be expected to benefit, directly or indirectly, the guarantor corporation. For purposes of this section and Section C of this Article, "guaranty" means a guaranty, mortgage, pledge, security agreement, or other agreement making the guarantor corporation or its assets responsible respecting the contracts, securities, or other obligations of any person (including, but not limited to, any domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, association, joint venture, or trust, but excluding any officer or director of such guarantor corporation). The decision of the Board of Directors that the guaranty may reasonably be expected to benefit, directly or indirectly, the guarantor corporation shall be binding upon the guarantor corporation, and no guaranty made by a corporation in accordance with the provisions of this Section B shall be invalid or unenforceable as against such corporation, unless such guaranty is sought to be enforced by a person who participated in a fraud on the guarantor corporation resulting in the making of the guaranty or by a person who had notice of such fraud before he acquired his rights under the guaranty. Nothing herein contained shall prevent a suit (1) prior to the making of a guaranty by a corporation, by a shareholder in a representative suit against the guarantor corporation, to enjoin the making of such guaranty on the ground that such guaranty could not reasonably be expected to benefit, directly or indirectly, the guarantor corporation, or (2) after the making of a guaranty by a corporation, by the guarantor corporation, whether acting directly or through a receiver, trustee, or other legal representative or through a shareholder in a representative suit, against the directors who voted for or assented to the making of such guaranty for damages or other appropriate relief on the ground that such guaranty could not reasonably have been expected to benefit, directly or indirectly, the guarantor corporation, but such directors shall be entitled to assert any defenses which they may have under law.

C. In addition to the power and authority granted in Section B of this Article, any domestic or foreign corporation doing business in the state has the power and authority to make a guaranty respecting any subsidiary, parent, or affiliated corporation if the action is approved by the Board of Directors of the guarantor corporation. For the purposes of this section only:

(1) "subsidiary corporation" means a corporation, 100 percent of whose outstanding shares are owned at the time of the action:

- (a) by the guarantor corporation itself;
- (b) by one or more of the guarantor corporation's subsidiary corporations; or
- (c) by the guarantor corporation and one or more of its subsidiary corporations;

(2) "parent corporation" means a corporation that at the time of the action owns 100 percent of the outstanding shares of the guarantor corporation:

- (a) by itself;
- (b) through one or more of its subsidiary corporations; or
- (c) with one or more of its subsidiary corporations; and

(3) "affiliated corporation" means a corporation, 100 percent of whose outstanding shares are owned at the time of the action:

- (a) by the parent corporation of the guarantor corporation;
- (b) by one or more of the parent corporation's subsidiary corporations; or
- (c) by the parent corporation and one or more of its subsidiary corporations.

D. Nothing in Section B or C of this Article is intended or shall be construed to limit or deny to any corporation, domestic or foreign, the right or power to do or perform any act which it is or may be empowered or authorized to do or perform under any other laws of the State of Texas now in force or hereafter enacted. Provided, however, Sections B and C of this Article shall not apply to nor enlarge the powers of any corporation, domestic or foreign, that does business pursuant to any provision of the Insurance Code of Texas, whether licensed in Texas or not, nor shall those sections allow or permit any corporation, not licensed under the Insurance Code of Texas, to engage in any character, type, class, or kind of fidelity, surety, or guaranty business or transaction subject to regulation under the Insurance Code.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Part, it shall be lawful for such surplus lands to be conveyed and acquired by another corporation which may have among its purposes the acquisition, development and sale of such surplus lands, provided, however, that any such acquiring corporation shall in good faith sell and convey any such land on or before the expiration of the aforesaid fifteen-year period just as the conveying corporation would have had to do if it had not conveyed such land to such acquiring corporation, and if such acquiring corporation does not so convey such land on or before such time, it shall thereafter hold the same subject to the same forfeiture and escheat provisions provided for in this Part as though such lands were still held by the conveying corporation.

Application of Voting Provisions in This Act to Voting by Delegates

(a) An association shall be managed by a board of not less than five directors, who are elected for a term fixed in the by-laws not to exceed three years, by and from the members of the association, and who hold office until their successors are elected or until removed. Vacancies which occur in the board of directors, other than by removal or expiration of term, are filled in the manner the by-laws provide.

Any two or more offices may be held by the same person, except the offices of president and secretary. The officers of an association may be designated by such other titles as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the by-laws. A committee duly designated may perform the functions of any office, and the functions of any two or more officers may be performed by a single committee, including the functions of both president and secretary. The officers are elected annually by the directors unless the by-laws provide otherwise.

Removal of Directors and Officers

Sec. 23. A director or officer may be removed with cause by a vote of a majority of the members voting at a regular or special meeting. The director or officer involved shall be given an opportunity to be heard at the meeting. A vacancy caused by removal is filled by the vote provided in the by-laws for election of directors.

Referendum

Sec. 24. The articles or by-laws may provide that within a specified period of time any action taken by the directors must be referred to the members for approval or disapproval if demanded by petition of at least 10 percent of all the members or by vote of at least a majority of the directors. Rights of third parties which have vested between the time of the action and the referendum are not impaired by the results of the referendum.

Limitations on the Return on Capital

Sec. 25. (a) Investment dividends will not exceed eight percent on investment capital unless otherwise provided for in the by-laws and the investment dividend will not be cumulative unless otherwise provided for in the by-laws.

(b) Total investment dividends distributed for a fiscal year may not exceed 50 percent of the net savings for the period.

Eligibility and Admission to Membership

Sec. 26. A natural person, association, incorporated or unincorporated group organized on a cooperative basis, or a nonprofit group, may be admitted to membership in an association if it meets the qualifications for eligibility stated in the articles or by-laws.

Subscribers

Sec. 27. A natural person or group eligible for membership and legally obligated to purchase a share or shares of, or membership in, an association shall be deemed a subscriber. The articles or by-laws may determine whether and the conditions under which voting rights or other rights of membership are granted to subscribers.

Share and Membership Certificates: Issuance and Contents

Sec. 28. (a) No certificates for membership capital may be issued until its par value, if any, has been paid in full. Each certificate issued by an association shall bear a full or condensed statement of the requirements of Sections 16, 17, and 29(a) of this Act.

(b) No certificate for invested capital may be issued until its par value, if any, has been paid in full. Each certificate for invested capital issued by an association shall bear a full or condensed statement of restrictions on transferability if specifically provided for in the by-laws of the association.

Transfer of Shares and Membership: Withdrawal

Sec. 29. (a) If a member decides to withdraw from the association, the member shall offer his membership certificates to the directors in writing and the directors may purchase such holdings within a 90-day period following receipt of notice by paying the member the par value. The directors shall then reissue or cancel those shares. A vote of the majority of the members voting at a regular or special meeting may order the directors to exercise this power to purchase.

(b) If an investor owning investor certificates desires to sell, assign, or convey his certificates, he must do so in accordance with the by-laws of the association; otherwise such investment certificates shall be repurchased by the association upon written notice to the directors within a 90-day period following receipt of notice by paying the investor the par value of the certificate, together with any investment dividend accrued.

Share and Membership Certificates: Recall

Sec. 30. (a) The by-laws may give the directors the power to use the reserve funds to recall, at par value, the membership certificates of any member in excess of the amount requisite for membership, and may also provide that if any member has failed to patronize the association during a time specified and in accordance with the by-laws, the directors may recall the member's membership certificates, thereby terminating his membership in the association. When membership certificates are recalled, they shall be either reissued or cancelled. No recall may be made if the solvency of the association would be jeopardized.

(b) The directors shall have the power to use the reserve funds to recall and repurchase at par value, together with any investment dividends due on the investment certificates of any investor. The by-laws may establish specific procedures, terms and conditions for such recall and repurchase.

Certificates: Attachment

Sec. 31. The holdings of any member of an association, to the extent of the minimum amount necessary for membership, but not to exceed $50, are exempt from attachment, execution, or garnishment for the debts of the owner. If any holdings in excess of this amount are subjected to attachment, execution, or garnishment, the directors of the association may either admit the purchaser to membership, or may purchase the holdings at par value.

Liability of Members

Sec. 32. Members are not jointly or severally liable for debts of the association, nor is a subscriber liable, except to the extent of the unpaid amount on the membership certificates or on the invested capital certificates subscribed by him. No subscriber may be released from liability by assignment of his interest in the membership capital certificates or the invested capital certificates, but he is jointly and severally liable with the assignee until the membership certificates or investor certificates are fully paid up.

Expulsion

Sec. 33. A member may be expelled by the vote of a majority of the members voting at a regular or special meeting. The member against whom the charges are to be preferred shall be informed of the charges in writing at least 10 days in advance of the meeting, and shall be given an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel at the meeting. If the association votes to expel a member, the board of directors shall purchase the member's capital holdings at par value if and when such purchases may be made without jeopardizing the solvency of the association.

Allocation and Distribution of Net Savings

Sec. 34. (a) At least once each year the members or the directors, as the articles or by-laws may provide, shall apportion the net savings of the association in the following order:

(1) investment dividends, within the limitations of Section 25 may be paid on invested capital, or if the by-laws so provide, on the membership certificates, but the investment dividends may be paid only out of the surplus of the aggregate of the assets over the aggregate of the liabilities;

(2) a portion of the remainder, as determined by the articles or by-laws, may be allocated to an educational fund to be used in teaching cooperation, and a portion may also be allocated to funds for the general welfare of the members of the association;

(3) a portion of the remainder may be allocated to retained earnings;

(4) the remainder shall be allocated at the same uniform rate to all patrons of the association in proportion to their individual patronage as follows:

(A) in the case of a member patron, the proportionate amount of savings return distributed to the member may be in the form of cash, property, membership certificates, investment certificates or in any combination of these;

(B) in the case of a subscriber patron, his proportionate amount of savings returns as the articles or by-laws provide, may be distributed to him or credited to his account until the amount of capital subscribed for has been fully paid.

(b) This section does not prevent an association engaged in rendering services from disposing of the net savings from the rendering of services in a manner calculated to lower the fees charged for services or otherwise to further the common benefit of the members.

(c) This section does not prevent an association from adopting a system in which the payment of savings returns which would otherwise be distributed are deferred for a fixed period of time, nor from adopting a system in which the savings returns distributed are partly in cash, partly in shares, with the shares to be retired at a fixed future date, in the order of their serial number or date of issue.

Recordkeeping

Sec. 35. (a) To record its business operation, every association shall keep a set of books according to standard accounting practices.

(b) A written report shall be submitted to the annual meeting of the association which shall include the following:

(1) a balance sheet, and income and expense statement;

(2) the amount and nature of the association's authorized, subscribed, and paid-in capital, the number of its shareholders, and the number of shareholders who were admitted or withdrew

during the year, the par value of its shares, and the rate at which any return on capital has been paid; and

(3) for nonshare associations, the total number of members, the number of members who were admitted or withdrew during the year, and the amount of membership fees received.

(c) The directors shall appoint a review committee, composed of members who are not principal bookkeepers, accountants, or employees of the association.

(d) The committee shall report on the quality of the annual report and the bookkeeping system at the annual meeting.

Annual Report

Sec. 36. (a) Every association having 100 or more members or an annual business amounting to $20,000 or more shall prepare, within 120 days of the close of its operations each year, a report of its condition, sworn to by the president and secretary, which shall be filed in its registered office. The report shall state:

(1) the name and principal address of the association;

(2) the names, addresses, occupations, and date of expiration of the terms of the officers and directors, and their compensation, if any;

(3) the amount and nature of the association's authorized, subscribed, and paid-in capital, the number of its shareholders and the number of shareholders who were admitted or withdrew during the year, the par value of its shares, and the rate at which any investment dividends have been paid;

(4) for nonshare associations, the total number of members, the number of members who were admitted or withdrew during the year, and the amount of membership fees received; and

(5) the receipts, expenditures, assets, and liabilities of the association.

(b) Every association having 3,000 or more members or an annual business amounting to $750,000 or more shall file a copy of the report with the secretary of state.

(c) A person who subscribes or verifies a report containing a materially false statement, known to the person to be false, commits a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $200, or by confinement in the county jail for not less than 30 days nor more than one year, or by both.

Notice of Delinquent Reports

Sec. 37. (a) If an association required by Section 36 of this Act to file a report with the secretary of state fails to do so in the prescribed time, the secretary of state shall notify the association of the delinquency by registered letter mailed to its principal office within 60 days after the report becomes delinquent. If an association required by Section 36 of this Act to file a report at its registered office but not required to file a copy with the secretary of state fails to do so in the prescribed time, the secretary of state or any member may notify the association of the delinquency by registered letter mailed to its principal office.

(b) If the association fails to file the report within 60 days from the date of notice under Subsection (a) of this section, a member of the association or the attorney general may seek a writ of mandamus against the association and the appropriate officer or officers to compel the filing to be made, and in the court shall require the association or the officers at fault to pay all the expenses of the proceeding including attorney fees.

Dissolution

Sec. 38. (a) An association may, at a regular or special meeting legally called, be directed to dissolve by a vote of two-thirds of the entire membership. If it is directed to dissolve, by a vote of a majority of the members voting, three of their number shall be designated as trustees, who shall liquidate, on behalf of the association and within a time fixed in their designation or within any extension of time, its assets, and shall distribute them in the manner set forth in this section.

(b) A suit for involuntary dissolution of an association organized under this Act may be instituted for the causes and prosecuted in the manner set forth in Articles 7.01 to 7.12, Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act (Articles 1396-7.01 through 1396-7.12, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), except that any distribution of assets shall be in the manner set forth in this section.

(c) When an association is dissolved, its assets shall be distributed in the following manner and order:

(1) by paying its debts and expenses;

(2) by returning to the investors the par value of their capital;

(3) by returning to the subscribers to invested capital the amounts paid on their subscriptions;

(4) by returning to patrons the amount of patronage dividends credited to their accounts;

(5) by returning to members their membership capital; and

(6) by distributing any surplus in either or both of the following ways, as the articles may provide: either among those patrons who have been members or subscribers at anytime during the six years preceding dissolution, on the basis of patronage during that period, or as a gift to any cooperative association or other non-profit enterprise which may be designated in the articles.

Use of Name "Cooperative"

Sec. 39. (a) Only an association organized under this Act, a group organized on a cooperative basis under any other law of this state, or a foreign corporation operating on a cooperative basis and authorized to do business in this state under this or any other law of this state may use the term "cooperative," or any abbreviation or derivation of the term "cooperative," as part of its business name, or represent itself, in advertising or otherwise, as conducting business on a cooperative basis.

(c) The attorney general may sue to enjoin a violation of this section.

(d) If a court of competent jurisdiction renders judgment that a person, firm, or corporation which employed the name "cooperative" prior to this Act, is not organized on a cooperative basis, but may nonetheless continue to use the word "cooperative," the business shall always place immediately after its name the words "does not comply with the cooperative association law of Texas" in the same kind of type, and in letters not less than two-thirds as large, as those used in the word "cooperative."

(a) A person, firm, or corporation that used the term "cooperative" or any abbreviation or derivation of the term "cooperative" as part of its business name, or that represented itself, in advertising or otherwise, as conducting business on a cooperative basis on September 1, 1975, may use the term, abbreviation, or derivation as part of its business name and may so represent itself until September 1, 1978.

(b) This section does not affect a conviction under Subsection (b) of Section 39 of this Act that became final before the effective date of this section. A person, firm, or corporation may not be convicted under Subsection (b) of Section 39 of this Act for any act authorized by this section if not finally convicted of that act before the effective date of this section.

(c) A court order enjoining an act authorized by Subsection (a) of this section is not effective from the effective date of this section to September 1, 1978. A person, firm, or corporation using a term authorized by Subsection (a) of this section is not required to place the words "does not comply with the cooperative association law of Texas" after that term while this section is in effect.

(d) This section expires September 1, 1978.

(a) No association may use its funds, directly or indirectly, issue shares, or incur indebtedness for the payment of compensation for the organization of the association, except necessary legal fees, or for the payment of promotion expenses, in excess of five percent of the amount paid for the shares or membership certificates involved in the promotion transaction.

(b) An officer, director, or agent of an association who gives, or any person, firm, corporation or association who receives a promotion commission in violation of this section commits a misdemeanor and may be punished by a fine of not less than $25, nor more than $200, or by confinement in the county jail for not less than 30 days nor more than one year, or by both.

Sec. 4. Without limiting the general scope and application of Section 3 of this Act:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 4(1)]

Joint Powers Agency

Sec. 4a. (a) In order to more readily accomplish the purposes of this Act, two or more public entities by concurrent ordinances may create a joint powers agency to be known as a municipal power agency, without taxing power, as a separate municipal corporation, a political subdivision of the state, and body politic and corporate, to have and exercise all of the powers which are by Chapter 10 of Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended,¹ and this Act, conferred upon a public entity or entities, provided that such agency shall not be authorized to engage in any utility business other than generation, transmission, and sale or exchange of electric energy to the participating public entities and to private entities who are joint owners with the agency of an electric generating facility located within the state. A public entity, at the time of the passage of such concurrent ordinance, must be one which has the authority to and is engaged in the generation of electric energy for sale to the public upon the effective date of this Act, but such entity may thereafter dispose of its electric generating capabilities. Prior to the passage of a concurrent ordinance to create a joint powers agency, the governing body of each public entity shall cause notice of its intention to adopt such ordinance to be published once a week for two consecutive weeks, the date of the first publication to be at least 14 days prior to the date set for the passage of the concurrent ordinance. The notice shall state the date, time, and place such governing body proposes to pass such ordinance, and that upon the effective date of the concurrent ordinances, the public entities so adopting them shall have created a public powers agency. If, prior to the day set for the passage of a concurrent ordinance, 10 percent of the qualified electors of the particular public entity shall present a petition to such governing body requesting a referendum election be called, then such ordinance shall not become effective until the qualified electors of such entity have approved such ordinance. The election shall be called and held in conformity with the Texas Election Code, the provisions of Chapter 1 of Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended,² and this Act. Except as herein provided, a concurrent ordinance shall not be subject to a referendum election.

(b) Public entities which establish a joint powers agency may, by concurrent ordinances, provide for the re-creation of such agency by the addition and deletion, either or both, of a public entity so long as there is no impairment of obligation of any existing obligation of the agency, provided that no agency may be re-created by the addition of a public entity from and after April 1, 1976, unless a majority of the participating qualified electors of the entity seeking to be added to the agency approve the same by a majority vote in an election called for that purpose, and provided further that no agency may be created from and after January 1, 1977, unless a majority of the participating qualified electors of each entity seeking to create such agency approve such creation by a majority vote in an election called for that purpose. Notice of such election shall be given as provided by Article 704, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

(c) Concurrent ordinances are ordinances or orders adopted by the governing bodies of more than one public entity which contain identical provisions with respect to the creation or re-creation of a public powers agency.

(d) The public entities which create, or provide for re-creation by addition or deletion of a public entity, a joint powers agency shall by concurrent ordinances (1) define the boundaries of the agency, to include the territory within the limits of such public entities, (2) designate the name of the Municipal Power Agency, (3) designate the number of directors (not less than four) that will constitute the board of directors of the agency and the initial term (so as to initially provide staggered terms) as may be agreed upon by the said public entities as evidenced by such concurrent ordinances, and (4) specify the manner in which such directors shall be appointed, but in any event each public entity shall be entitled to appoint at least one director.

(e) Directors shall serve by places and the concurrent ordinances shall specify the director for which place (and his successors) the governing body of the particular public entity may appoint. A director shall be a qualified elector and reside within the boundary of the agency at the time of execution of his constitutional oath of office. Directors shall serve without compensation, and an employee, officer, or member of the governing body of a public entity may serve as a director of the agency, but shall have no personal interest, other than as may exist as an employee or officer or member of the governing body of a public entity, in any contract executed by the agency.

(f) The agency is empowered to make contracts, leases, and agreements with, and accept grants and loans from, the United States of America, its departments and agencies, the State of Texas, its agencies, counties, municipalities, and political subdivisions, and public or private corporations and persons, and may generally perform all acts necessary for the full exercise of the powers vested in it; to participate through appropriate contracts in power pooling and power exchange arrangements with other entities either through direct or indirect system interconnections and each entity is given full authority to purchase electric energy from the agency or to sell, dispose of, or exchange electric energy to the agency. The agency may sell, lease, convey, or otherwise dispose of any of its rights, interests, or properties which are, in its judgment, not needed for the efficient operation and maintenance of its electric facilities. The responsibility of the management, operation, and control of the properties belonging to the agency shall be vested in the board of directors.

(g) Contracts for the sale or exchange of energy by the agency may be entered whereby the purchaser is obligated to pay for the same irrespective of whether such energy is produced or delivered to the purchaser. The agency is likewise empowered to establish and maintain rates and charges for energy delivered, transmitted, or exchanged, which shall be reasonable and in accordance with prudent utility practices. In the absence of a contract whereby a purchaser of energy waives such right, the rates and charges for power and energy sold or exchanged by the agency shall be based upon periodic "cost of service studies" and be subject to modification. The rates and charges schedule or contract payments shall be developed with regard to the recovery of the cost of producing and transmitting, if such service is performed, such electric power and energy, including the amortization of the capital investment.

(h) The State of Texas reserves its power to regulate and control such rates and charges for electric energy supplied by the electric facilities, but does hereby pledge to and agree with the purchasers and successive holders of the obligations issued hereunder that the state will not limit or alter the powers hereby vested in the agency to establish and collect such rates and charges as will produce revenues sufficient to pay for (1) all necessary operational and maintenance expenses, (2) all interest and principal on obligations issued by the agency, (3) all sinking funds and reserve fund payments, and (4) for any other charges necessary to fulfill the terms of any agreements theretofore made or in any way to impair the rights or remedies of the holders of the obligations, until the obligations, together with the interest thereon, with interest on unpaid installments of interest, and any other obligations of the agency in connection therewith, are fully met and discharged.

(i) To the payment of obligations issued by it, the agency may pledge the revenues of all or part of its electric facilities, including or not including those thereafter acquired, as the agency may determine, but the expense of operation and maintenance, including salaries, labor, materials, and repairs necessary to render efficient service, of the facilities whose revenues are so encumbered and pledged shall be a first lien on and charge against such revenues.

(j) The agency shall have the full power to issue revenue bonds or notes, herein sometimes referred to as obligations, from time to time for the accomplishment of its purposes within the interest rate limitations of Chapter 3, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969, as amended (Article 717k-2, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(k) From the proceeds from the sale of obligations of the agency, the agency may set aside amounts for payments into the interest and sinking fund and reserve funds, and for interest and operating expenses during construction and development, as may be specified in the authorizing proceedings. Bond proceeds may be invested pending their use for the purpose for which issued, in such securities or interest bearing certificates or in time deposits as may be specified in such authorizing proceedings.

(l) Prior to delivery thereof, all obligations authorized to be issued hereunder and the records relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas for examination, and if he finds that they have been issued in accordance with the constitution and this Act, and that they will be binding special obligations of the agency issuing same, he shall approve them, and thereupon they shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and after such approval and registration and the sale and delivery of the bonds or notes to the purchaser, they shall be incontestable.

(m) Refunding bonds or notes may be issued for the purposes and in the manner now or hereafter provided by general law, including, without limitation, Chapter 503, Acts of the 54th Legislature, Regular Session, 1955, as amended (Article 717k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and Chapter 784, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969 (Article 717k-3, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as presently enacted or hereafter amended.

(n) All obligations issued by an agency pursuant to this Act shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, and insurance companies and shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas, and such obligations shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of the principal amount thereof, or their value on the market, whichever is the lesser, when accompanied by all unmatured coupons, if any, appurtenant thereto.

(o) The agency may adopt, and from time to time amend, rules and regulations to govern the operation of the agency, its employees, facilities, and service, but contracts for the construction of improvements which involve the expenditure of more than $20,000 shall be awarded by the agency only after notice of intent to receive competitive bids has been published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the state, the date of the first publication being at least 14 days prior to the date set for the receipt of bids, but contracts awarded by another entity, which is a joint owner of the facilities to be constructed or an agent of any of the joint owners shall be let under its contracting procedures. An entity may negotiate and enter into contract for the purchase of electric energy from the agency and payments for such energy purchased shall be an operating expense of the electric system of the purchaser.

(p) The agency may elect to utilize the Uniform System of Accounts Prescribed For Utilities and Licenses prescribed by the Federal Power Commission.

(q) The bonds or notes shall be signed by the presiding officer or the assistant presiding officer of the agency, shall be attested by its secretary, and shall bear the seal of the agency. It is provided, however, that such signatures may be printed or lithographed on the bonds and notes if authorized by the agency, and such may be impressed on the bonds or notes or may be printed or lithographed thereon. The agency may adopt or use for any purpose the signature of any person who shall have been an officer, notwithstanding the fact that he may have ceased to be such officer at the time when bonds or notes shall be delivered to a purchaser or purchasers. The bonds or notes shall mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed 50 years, from their respective dates of issuance, may be sold, within interest rate limitations herein provided, at a public or private sale at a price or under terms determined by the agency to be the most advantageous reasonably obtainable, within the discretion of the agency, may be made callable prior to maturity at such times and prices as approved by the agency, and may be in coupon form with or without provisions for registration as to principal or may be registrable as to both principal and interest.

(r) Bonds and notes issued under the provisions of this Act, and coupons, if any, representing interest thereon, when made payable from (i) revenues of the agency, or (ii) anticipated bond proceeds shall when delivered be deemed and construed to be a "security" within the meaning of Chapter 8, Investment Securities, of the Uniform Commercial Code (Chapter 785, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967),³ and shall constitute obligations which must be submitted to the attorney general under the provisions of Subsection (J) of this section. Nonnegotiable purchase money notes, payable in installments, issued by the agency for the acquisition of land or fuel resources shall not be a security or obligation within the aforesaid provisions; such notes shall be secured by the properties being acquired, with the right in the agency to substitute collateral, and may be further secured by a pledge and undertaking to thereafter issue bonds or bond anticipation notes for their ultimate payment. Bond anticipation notes may be issued, with the same limitations and conditions prescribed herein for bonds, for any purpose for which the agency may issue bonds or for the purpose of refunding or paying off previously issued bond anticipation notes or nonnegotiable purchase money notes, and the agency may covenant with the purchaser of bond anticipation notes that the proceeds of one or more particular series of bonds will be used to provide for the ultimate payment or refunding of such notes.

(s) This Act shall be liberally construed to carry out the purpose of its adoption and shall be in full and complete authority for the creation and operation of public powers agencies and the performance of the public duties imposed upon them. Insofar as this Act is inconsistent with any other laws, including Chapter 10 of Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, or others regulating the affairs of municipal corporations, or with any home-rule charter provisions, then the provisions of this Act shall control.

"Nothing in this Act shall be construed to violate any provision of the federal or state constitutions, and all acts done under this Act shall be in such manner as will conform thereto, whether expressly provided or not. Where any procedure hereunder may be held by any court to be violative of either of such constitutions, the agency shall have the power by resolution to provide an alternative procedure conformable with such constitutions. If any provision of this Act should be invalid, such fact shall not affect the validity of any other provisions of this Act, and the legislature hereby declares that it would have enacted the valid provisions of this Act notwithstanding the invalidity of any other provision or provisions hereof."

Art. 1435b. Joint Acquisition, Construction, and Operation of Electric Utility Facilities

Sec. 1. Two or more political subdivisions heretofore or hereafter created are authorized to join together to finance, construct, complete, acquire, or operate electric utility facilities so that the same (or an undivided interest therein) will be jointly owned as cotenants or coowners with such ownership shares in such facilities as may be approved by their governing bodies and set forth in an agreement authorized by said governing bodies. Such agreement may provide for any political subdivision to increase its present or future ownership share of the facilities by installment purchase payments and for any other political subdivision party to such agreement to transfer, in consideration of such installment purchase payments, all or any portion of its present or future ownership share of such facilities to the political subdivision, so increasing its present or future ownership share as aforesaid. Payments made to acquire an ownership interest shall not be treated as a maintenance and operating expense but shall be treated as a capital cost in the same manner as if such political subdivision had issued bonds to construct or acquire such ownership interest, unless otherwise set forth in the agreement of the parties. All agreements by and between political subdivisions establishing an ownership interest in facilities (or undivided interest therein) executed pursuant to this Act shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas (in connection with any proceedings to finance said contractual obligation by the issuance of bonds) and when approved as to legality by such officer shall be incontestable.

Sec. 2. In the event the facilities financed, acquired, constructed, or completed constitute a part of a utility system or a combined utility system of a political subdivision, the obligation to make the said contract payments to acquire an ownership interest shall constitute a lien on the revenues of such system or combined system on a parity with outstanding bonds of such system or combined system to the extent permitted in the ordinance, resolution, deed of trust, or indenture authorizing or securing the payment of such outstanding bonds. In instances in which the ordinance, resolution, or deed of trust or trust indenture authorizing or securing such revenue bonds (whether such bonds have been issued prior to the passage of this Act or may be hereafter issued) provides for the subsequent issuance of additional bonds or incurring of such contractual obligation and that the payments to be made for the security or payment thereof are to be on a parity with or of equal dignity to the previously issued revenue bonds (whether an original issue or a refunding issue) or bonds then to be issued, such entity shall have the power to authorize, issue, and sell additional bonds or incur such contractual obligation from time to time and in different series payable from the entire revenues of such system or combined systems on a parity with bonds previously issued or then to be issued and secured by a lien on the revenues of such system or combined systems on a parity with and of equal dignity with the lien securing the bonds previously issued or then to be issued, subject to such conditions as may be contained in the ordinance, resolution, deed of trust, or trust indenture providing for or securing such issue of original bonds or refunding bonds.

The pledge of revenues of a utility system or a combined utility system for the payment of such contract payments to acquire an ownership interest is hereby approved and authorized.

Sec. 3. The powers and authority granted by this Act shall be in addition to and in substitution for any powers and authority granted to political subdivisions under the laws of this state, and the exercise by any political subdivision of the powers and authority granted hereby and the performance or effectuation of any agreements entered into pursuant to the provisions hereof shall be deemed to constitute additional public purposes of such political subdivision (including the power to issue bonds, notes, or other obligations for the accomplishment of such purposes), notwithstanding the existence of any express or implied limitations of the powers, authority, or purposes under any other general or special laws or charter provisions.

As to municipal corporations, this law shall be given effect as though originally contained in Chapter 10 of Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, so as to provide full authority for the execution of agreements contemplated by the provisions hereof, and this law shall prevail over any charter provisions or general or special law.

Sec. 4. All agreements heretofore executed by and between political subdivisions whereby the parties will jointly own electric utility facilities or whereby one political subdivision agrees to pay the other as a maintenance and operating expense of all or part of its utility systems for services supplied or to be supplied from facilities owned by the other are hereby validated, ratified, and confirmed provided that such agreements have been heretofore submitted to the Attorney General of Texas in connection with the issuance of bonds and are on file in the office of the comptroller of public accounts and provided further that such agreements are not in litigation upon the effective date of this Act.

Sec. 5. If any word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, portion, or provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, the remainder of the Act shall nevertheless be valid, and the legislature hereby declares that this Act would have been enacted without such invalid or unconstitutional word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, portion, or provision.

8. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Art. 1446c. Public Utility Regulatory Act

ARTICLE I. SHORT TITLE, LEGISLATIVE POLICY, AND DEFINITIONS

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act may be referred to as the "Public Utility Regulatory Act."

Legislative Policy and Purpose

Sec. 2. This Act is enacted to protect the public interest inherent in the rates and services of public utilities. The legislature finds that public utilities are by definition monopolies in the areas they serve; that therefore the normal forces of competition which operate to regulate prices in a free enterprise society do not operate; and that therefore utility rates, operations and services are regulated by public agencies, with the objective that such regulation shall operate as a substitute for such competition. The purpose of this Act is to establish a comprehensive regulatory system which is adequate to the task of regulating public utilities as defined by this Act, to assure rates, operations, and services which are just and reasonable to the consumers and to the utilities.

Definitions

Sec. 3. (a) The term "person," when used in this Act, includes natural persons, partnerships of two or more persons having a joint or common interest, and mutual or cooperative associations and corporations, as herein defined.

(b) The term "municipality," when used in this Act, includes cities and incorporated villages or towns existing, created, or organized under the general, home-rule, or special laws of the state.

natural gas, the sale of natural gas in or within the vicinity of the field where produced, the distribution or sale of liquified petroleum gas, and the transportation, delivery, or sale of natural gas for fuel for irrigation wells or any other direct use in agricultural activities is not included.

(4) the transmitting, storing, distributing, selling, or furnishing of potable water to the public or for resale to the public for any use, or the collection, transportation, treatment, or disposal of sewage, or other operation of a sewage disposal service for the public, other than equipment or facilities owned and operated for either purpose by a city, town or other political subdivision of this state. The term "public utility" or "utility" includes any municipally owned gas or electric utility, whether owned separately or in conjunction with other municipalities operated by a board of trustees which as of May 1, 1975, was not directly appointed by the governing body of the municipality, and does not include any other municipally owned utility unless otherwise provided in this Act. (7) any person or corporation that the commission or railroad commission, after notice and hearing determines is actually exercising such substantial influence over the policies and action of the public utility in conjunction with one or more persons or corporations with which they are related by ownership or blood relationship, or by action in concert, that together they are affiliated with such public utility within the meaning of this section, even though no one of them alone is so affiliated.

Sec. 4. The Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act¹ applies to all proceedings under this Act except to the extent inconsistent with this Act.

ARTICLE II. ORGANIZATION OF COMMISSION

Creation of Commission; Appointment and Terms; Chairman

Sec. 5. A commission, to be known as the "Public Utility Commission of Texas" is hereby created. It shall consist of three commissioners, who shall be appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the members of the senate present, and who shall have and exercise the jurisdiction and powers herein conferred upon the commission. Immediately after this Act takes effect, the governor shall, with the advice and consent of the senate, appoint one commissioner whose term shall expire two years after appointment; one commissioner whose term shall expire four years after appointment; and one commissioner whose term shall expire six years after appointment. At the expiration of each of the above named terms, there shall be appointed, in the same manner, one commissioner to hold office for a term of six years. Each commissioner shall hold office until his successor is appointed and qualified. At its first meeting following the biennial appointment and qualification of a commissioner, the commission shall elect one of the commissioners chairman.

Application of Sunset Act

Sec. 5a. The Public Utility Commission of Texas is subject to the Texas Sunset Act;¹ and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the commission is abolished, and this Act expires effective September 1, 1983.

Qualifications; Oath and Bond; Prohibited Activities

Sec. 6. (a) To be eligible for appointment as a commissioner, a person must be a qualified voter, not less than 30 years of age, a citizen of the United States, and a resident of the State of Texas. No person is eligible for appointment as a commissioner if at any time during the two-year period immediately preceding his appointment he personally served as an officer, director, owner, employee, partner, or legal representative of any public utility or any affiliated interest, or he owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, stocks or bonds of any class with a value of $10,000, or more in a public utility or any affiliated interest. Each commissioner shall qualify for office by taking the oath prescribed for other state officers and shall execute a bond for $5,000 payable to the state and conditioned on the faithful performance of his duties.

(b) No commissioner or employee of the commission may do any of the following during his period of service with the commission and for two years thereafter:

(1) have any pecuniary interest, either as an officer, director, partner, owner, employee, attorney, consultant, or otherwise, in any public utility or affiliated interest, or in any person or corporation or other business entity a significant portion of whose business consists of furnishing goods or services to public utilities or affiliated interests, but not including a nonprofit group or association solely supported by gratuitous contributions of money, property or services;

(2) own or control any securities in a public utility or affiliated interest, either directly or indirectly;

(3) accept any gift, gratuity, or entertainment whatsoever from any public utility or affiliated interest, or from any person, corporation, agent, representative, employee, or other business entity a significant portion of whose business consists of furnishing goods or services to public utilities or affiliated interests, or from any agent, representative, attorney, employee, officer, owner, director, or partner of any such business entity or of any public utility or affiliated interest; provided, however, that the receipt and acceptance of any gifts, gratuities, or entertainment after termination of service with the commission whose cumulative value in any one-year period is less than $100 shall not constitute a violation of this Act.

(c) The prohibited activities of this section do not include contracts for public utility products and services or equipment for use of public utility products when a member or employee of the commission is acting as a consumer.

(d) No commissioner or employee of the commission may directly or indirectly solicit or request from or suggest or recommend to, any public utility, or to any agent, representative, attorney, employee, officer, owner, director, or partner thereof, the appointment to any position or the employment in any capacity of any person by such public utility or affiliated interest.

(e) No public utility or affiliated interest or any person, corporation, firm, association, or business that furnishes goods or services to any public utility or affiliated interest, nor any agent, representative, attorney, employee, officer, owner, director, or partner of any public utility or affiliated interest, or any person, corporation, firm, association, or business furnishing goods or services to any public utility or affiliated interest may give, or offer to give, any gift, gratuity, employment, or entertainment whatsoever to any member or employee of the commission except as allowed by Subdivision (3) of Subsection (b) of this section, nor may any such public utility or affiliated interest or any such person, corporation, firm, association, or business aid, abet, or participate with any member, employee, or former employee of the commission in any activity or conduct that would constitute a violation of this subsection or Subdivision (3) of Subsection (b) of this section.

(f) It shall not be a violation of this section if a member of the commission or a person employed by the commission, upon becoming the owner of any stocks or bonds or other pecuniary interest in a public utility or affiliated interest under the jurisdiction of the commission otherwise than voluntarily, informs the commission and the attorney general of such ownership and divests himself of the ownership or interest within a reasonable time. In this section, a "pecuniary interest" includes income, compensation and payment of any kind, in addition to ownership interests. It is not a violation of this section if such a pecuniary interest is held indirectly by ownership of an interest in a retirement system, institution, or fund which in the normal course of business invests in diverse securities independently of the control of the commissioner or employee.

(g) Unless specifically authorized by this Act for disposition of ex parte matters, no member or employee of the commission assigned to render a decision or to make findings of fact and conclusions of law in a proceeding may communicate, directly or indirectly, in connection with any issue of fact or law with any party or his representative, except on notice and opportunity for all parties to participate.

(h) No member of the commission may seek nomination or election to any other civil office of the State of Texas or of the United States while he is a commissioner. If any member of the commission files for nomination for or election to any civil office of the State of Texas or of the United States, his office as commissioner immediately becomes vacant, and the governor shall appoint a successor.

Vacancies

Sec. 7. Whenever a vacancy in the office of commissioner occurs, it shall be filled in the manner provided herein with respect to the original appointment, except that the governor may make interim appointments to continue until the vacancy can be filled in the manner provided. Any person appointed with the advice and consent of the senate to fill a vacancy shall hold office during the unexpired portion of the term.

Employees

Sec. 8. (a) The commission shall employ such officers, hearing examiners, investigators, lawyers, engineers, economists, consultants, statisticians, accountants, inspectors, clerical staff, and other employees as it deems necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act. All employees receive such compensation as is fixed by the legislature. Pending legislative determination, commission employees shall be paid the same salary as employees of the Railroad Commission holding comparable positions.

(b) The commission shall employ:

(1) a director of public utilities who has wide experience in utility regulation and rate determination;

(c) The general counsel and his staff are responsible for the gathering of information relating to all matters within the authority of the commission.

The duties of the general counsel include:

(1) accumulation of evidence and other information from public utilities and from the accounting and technical and other staffs of the commission and from other sources for the purposes specified herein;

(2) preparation and presentation of such evidence before the commission or its appointed examiner in proceedings;

(8) such other activities as are reasonably necessary to enable him to perform his duties.

Salary

Sec. 9. The annual salary of the commissioners shall be determined by the legislature. Pending legislative determination, the commissioners shall be paid the same salary as members of the Railroad Commission.

Office; Meetings

Sec. 10. The principal office of the commission shall be located in the City of Austin, Texas, and shall be open daily during the usual business hours, Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excepted. The commission shall hold meetings at its office and at such other convenient places in the state as shall be expedient and necessary for the proper performance of its duties.

Seal

Sec. 11. The commission shall have a seal bearing the following inscription: "Public Utility Commission of Texas." The seal shall be affixed to all records and authentications of copies of records and to such other instruments as the commission shall direct. All courts of this state shall take judicial notice of said seal.

Quorum

Sec. 12. A majority of the commissioners shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, for the performance of any duty, or for the exercise of any power of the commission. No vacancy or disqualification shall prevent the remaining commissioner or commissioners from exercising all the powers of the commission.

Orders; Transcript and Exhibits; Public Records

Sec. 13. All orders of the commission shall be in writing and shall contain detailed findings of the facts upon which they are passed. The commission shall retain a copy of the transcript and the exhibits in any matter in which the commission issues an order. All files pertaining to matters which were at any time pending before the commission and to records, reports, and inspections required by Article V hereof shall be public records, subject to the terms of the Texas Open Records Act, Chapter 424, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973 (Article 6252-17a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Annual Report

Sec. 14. (a) The commission shall publish an annual report to the governor, summarizing its proceedings, listing its receipts and the sources of its receipts, listing its expenditures and the nature of such expenditures, and setting forth such other information concerning the operations of the commission and the public utility industry as it considers of general interest.

(b) In the annual report issued in the year preceding the convening of each regular session of the legislature, the commission shall make such suggestions regarding modification and improvement of the commission's statutory authority and for the improvement of utility regulation in general as it may deem appropriate for protecting and furthering the interest of the public.

Attorney General to Represent Commission

Sec. 15. The Attorney General of the State of Texas shall represent the commission in all matters before the state courts, and any court of the United States, and before any federal public utility regulatory commission.

ARTICLE III. JURISDICTION

General Power; Rules; Hearings

Sec. 16. The commission has the general power to regulate and supervise the business of every public utility within its jurisdiction and to do all things, whether specifically designated in this Act or implied herein, necessary and convenient to the exercise of this power and jurisdiction. The commission shall make and enforce rules reasonably required in the exercise of its powers and jurisdiction, including rules governing practice and procedure before the commission. The commission may call and hold hearings, administer oaths, receive evidence at hearings, issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers and documents, and make findings of fact and decisions with respect to administering the provisions of this Act or the rules, orders, or other actions of the commission.

Jurisdiction of Municipality; Surrender; Original and Appellate Jurisdiction of Commission

Sec. 17. (a) Subject to the limitations imposed in this Act, and for the purpose of regulating rates and services so that such rates may be fair, just, and reasonable, and the services adequate and efficient, the governing body of each municipality shall have exclusive original jurisdiction over all electric, water, and sewer utility rates, operations, and services provided by an electric, water, and sewer utility within its city or town limits.

(b) At any time after two years have passed from the date this Act becomes effective, a municipality may elect to have the commission exercise exclusive original jurisdiction over electric, water, or sewer utility rates, operations, and services within the incorporated limits of the municipality. The governing body of a municipality may by ordinance elect to surrender its original jurisdiction to the commission, or the governing body may submit the question of the surrender to the qualified voters at a municipal election. Upon receipt of a petition signed by the lesser of 20,000 or ten percent of the number of qualified voters voting in the last preceding general election in that municipality, the governing body shall submit the question of the surrender of the municipality's original jurisdiction to the commission at a municipal election.

(c) A municipality that surrenders its jurisdiction to the commission may at any time, by vote of the electorate, reinstate the jurisdiction of the governing body; provided, however, that any municipality which reinstates its jurisdiction shall be unable to surrender that jurisdiction for five years after the date of the election at which the municipality elected to reinstate its jurisdiction. No municipality may, by vote of the electorate, reinstate the jurisdiction of the governing body during the pendency of any case before the commission involving the municipality.

(d) The commission shall have exclusive appellate jurisdiction to review orders or ordinances of such municipalities as provided in this Act.

(e) The commission shall have exclusive original jurisdiction over electric, water, and sewer utility rates, operations, and services not within the incorporated limits of a municipality exercising exclusive original jurisdiction over those rates, operations, and services as provided in this Act.

Telecommunications Utilities

Sec. 18. Subject to the limitations imposed in this Act, and for the purpose of regulating rates, operations, and services so that such rates may be just, fair, and reasonable, and the services adequate and efficient, the commission shall have exclusive original jurisdiction over the business and property of all telecommunications utilities in this state.

Gas Utilities

Sec. 19. (a) Subject to the limitations imposed in this Act, and for the purpose of regulating rates and services so that such rates may be fair, just, and reasonable, and the services adequate and efficient, the governing body of each municipality shall have exclusive original jurisdiction over all gas utility rates, operations, and services provided by any gas utility within its city or town limits.

(b) The railroad commission shall have exclusive appellate jurisdiction to review all orders or ordinances of municipalities as provided in this Act. The railroad commission shall have exclusive original jurisdiction over the rates and services of gas utilities distributing natural gas or synthetic natural gas in areas outside the limits of municipalities, and it shall also have exclusive original jurisdiction over the rates and services of pipelines transmitting, transporting, delivering, or selling natural gas or synthetic natural gas to gas utilities engaged in distributing such gas to the public.

(c) The provisions of this Act shall be deemed to be in addition to all existing laws relating to the jurisdiction, power, or authority of the railroad commission over gas utilities and, except as specifically in conflict with this Act, such laws shall not be deemed to be limited hereby. Provisions of this Act applicable to gas utilities within the jurisdiction of the railroad commission shall apply to all such gas utilities, including those that are within the jurisdiction, power, or authority of the railroad commission by virtue of laws other than this Act.

Municipally Owned Utilities

Sec. 20. Nothing in this article shall be construed to confer on the commission or railroad commission power or jurisdiction to regulate or supervise the rates or service of any utility owned and operated by any municipality within its boundaries either directly or through a municipally owned corporation, or to affect or limit the power, jurisdiction, or duties of the municipalities that have elected to regulate and supervise public utilities within their boundaries, except as provided in this Act.

ARTICLE IV. MUNICIPALITIES

Franchises

Sec. 21. Nothing in this Act shall be construed as in any way limiting the rights and powers of a municipality to grant or refuse franchises to use the streets and alleys within its limits and to make the statutory charges for the use thereof, but no provision of any franchise agreement shall limit or interfere with any power conferred on the commission or railroad commission by this Act. If a municipality performs regulatory functions under this Act, it may make such other charges as may be provided in the applicable franchise agreement, together with any other charges permitted by this Act.

Local Utility Service; Exempt and Nonexempt Areas

Sec. 22. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, municipalities shall continue to regulate each kind of local utility service inside their boundaries until the commission has assumed jurisdiction over the respective utility pursuant to this Act. If a municipality does not surrender its jurisdiction, local utility service within the boundaries of the municipality shall be exempt from regulation by the commission under the provisions of this Act to the extent that this Act applies to local service, and the municipality shall have, regarding service within its boundaries, the right to exercise the same regulatory powers under the same standards and rules as the commission, or other standards and rules not inconsistent therewith. Notwithstanding any such election, the commission may consider a public utility's revenues and return on investment in exempt areas in fixing rates and charges in nonexempt areas, and may also exercise the powers conferred necessary to give effect to orders under this Act, for the benefit of nonexempt areas. Likewise, in fixing rates and charges in the exempt area, the governing body may consider a public utility's revenues and return on investment in nonexempt areas. Utilities serving exempt areas shall be subject to the reporting requirements of this Act. Such reports shall be filed with the governing body of the municipality as well as with the commission. Nothing in this section shall limit the duty and power of the commission to regulate service and rates of municipally regulated utilities for service provided to other areas in Texas.

Rate Determination

Sec. 23. Any municipality regulating its public utilities pursuant to this Act shall require from those utilities all necessary data to make a reasonable determination of rate base, expenses, investment, and rate of return within the municipal boundaries. The standards for such determination shall be based on the procedures and requirements of this Act and said municipality shall retain any and all personnel necessary to make the determination of reasonable rates required under this Act.

Authority of Governing Body; Cost Reimbursement

Sec. 24. The governing body of any municipality shall have the right to select and engage rate consultants, accountants, auditors, attorneys, engineers, or any combination thereof, to conduct investigations, present evidence, advise and represent the governing body, and assist with litigation on public utility ratemaking proceedings; and the public utility engaged in such proceedings shall be required to reimburse the governing body for the reasonable costs of such services.

Assistance by Commission or Railroad Commission

Sec. 25. The commission or the railroad commission may advise and assist municipalities upon request in connection with questions and proceedings arising under this Act. Such assistance may include aid to municipalities in connection with matters pending before the commission, the railroad commission, or the courts, or before the governing body of any municipality, including making members of the staff available as witnesses and otherwise providing evidence to them.

Appeal

Sec. 26. (a) Any party to a rate proceeding before the governing body of a municipality may appeal the decision of the governing body to the commission or railroad commission.

(b) Citizens of a municipality may appeal the decision of the governing body in any rate proceeding to the commission or railroad commission through the filing of a petition for review signed by the lesser of 20,000 or 10 percent of the number of qualified voters of such municipality.

(c) Ratepayers of a municipally owned gas or electric utility outside the municipal limits may appeal any action of the governing body affecting the rates of the municipally owned gas or electric utility through filing with the commission or railroad commission, as appropriate, petition for review signed by the lesser of 10,000 or 5 percent of the ratepayers served by such utility outside the municipal limits. For purposes of this subsection each person receiving a separate bill shall be considered as a ratepayer. But no person shall be considered as being more than one ratepayer notwithstanding the number of bills received. Such petition for review shall be considered properly signed if signed by any person, or spouse of any such person, in whose name residential utility service is carried.

(d) The appeal process shall be instituted within 30 days of the final decision by the governing body with the filing of a petition for review with the commission or railroad commission and copies served on all parties to the original rate proceeding.

(e) The commission or railroad commission shall hear such appeal de novo and by its final order shall fix such rates as the municipality should have fixed in the ordinance from which the appeal was taken.

ARTICLE V. RECORDS, REPORTS, INSPECTIONS, RATES AND SERVICES

Records of Public Utility; Rates, Methods and Accounts

Sec. 27. (a) Every public utility shall keep and render to the regulatory authority in the manner and form prescribed by the commission or railroad commission uniform accounts of all business transacted. The commission or railroad commission may also prescribe forms of books, accounts, records, and memoranda to be kept by such public utilities, including the books, accounts, records, and memoranda of the rendition of and capacity for service as well as the receipts and expenditures of moneys, and any other forms, records, and memoranda which in the judgment of the commission or railroad commission may be necessary to carry out any of the provisions of this Act. In the case of any public utility subject to regulations by a federal regulatory agency, compliance with the system of accounts prescribed for the particular class of utilities by such agency may be deemed a sufficient compliance with the system prescribed by the commission or railroad commission; provided, however, that the commission or railroad commission may prescribe forms of books, accounts, records, and memoranda covering information in addition to that required by the federal agency. The system of accounts and the forms of books, accounts, records, and memoranda prescribed by the commission or railroad commission for a public utility or class of utilities shall not conflict nor be inconsistent with the systems and forms established by a federal agency for that public utility or class of utilities.

(b) The commission or railroad commission shall fix proper and adequate rates and methods of depreciation, amortization, or depletion of the several classes of property of each public utility, and shall require every public utility to carry a proper and adequate depreciation account in accordance with such rates and methods and with such other rules and regulations as the commission or railroad commission prescribes. Such rates, methods, and accounts shall be utilized uniformly and consistently throughout the ratesetting and appeal proceedings.

(c) Every public utility shall keep separate accounts to show all profits or losses resulting from the sale or lease of appliances, fixtures, equipment, or other merchandise. No such profit or loss shall be taken into consideration by the regulatory authority in arriving at any rate to be charged for service by any such public utility, to the extent that such merchandise is not integral to the provision of utility service.

(d) Every public utility is required to keep and render its books, accounts, records, and memoranda accurately and faithfully in the manner and form prescribed by the commission or railroad commission, and to comply with all directions of the regulatory authority relating to such books, accounts, records, and memoranda. The regulatory authority may require the examination and audit of all accounts.

(e) In determining the allocation of tax savings derived from application of such methods as liberalized depreciation and amortization and the investment tax credit, the regulatory authority shall equitably balance the interests of present and future customers and shall apportion such benefits between consumers and the public utilities accordingly. Where any portion of the investment tax credit has been retained by a public utility, that same amount shall be deducted from the original cost of the facilities or other addition to the rate base to which the credit applied, to the extent allowed by the Internal Revenue Code.

(f) For the purposes of this section, "public utility" includes "municipally owned utility."

Powers of Commission and Railroad Commission

Sec. 28. (a) The commission and the railroad commission shall have the power to:

(1) require that public utilities report to it such information relating to themselves and affiliated interests both within and without the State of Texas as it may consider useful in the administration of this Act;

(2) establish forms for all reports;

(3) determine the time for reports and the frequency with which any reports are to be made;

(4) require that any reports be made under oath;

(5) require that a copy of any contract or arrangement between any public utility and any affiliated interest be filed with it. It may require any such contract or arrangement not in writing to be reduced to writing and filed with it;

(6) require that a copy of any report filed with any federal agency or any governmental agency or body of any other state be filed with it; and

(7) require that a copy of annual reports showing all payments of compensation (other than salary or wages subject to the withholding of federal income tax) to residents of Texas, or with respect to legal, administrative, or legislative matters in Texas, or for representation before the Texas Legislature or any governmental agency or body.

(b) On the request of the governing body of any municipality, the commission or railroad commission may provide sufficient staff members to advise and consult with such municipality on any pending matter.

Inspections; Examination Under Oath; Compelling Production of Records; Inquiry into Management and Affairs

Sec. 29. (a) Any regulatory authority, and when authorized by the regulatory authority, its counsel, agents, and employees, shall have the right, at reasonable times and for reasonable purposes, to inspect and obtain copies of the papers, books, accounts, documents, and other business records, and to inspect the plant, equipment, and other property of any public utility within its jurisdiction. The regulatory authority may examine under oath, or it may authorize the person conducting such investigation to examine under oath, any officer, agent, or employee of any public utility in connection with such investigation. The regulatory authority may require, by order or subpoena served on any public utility, the production within this state at the time and place it may designate, of any books, accounts, papers, or records kept by that public utility outside the state, or verified copies in lieu thereof if the commission or railroad commission so orders. Any public utility failing or refusing to comply with any such order or subpoena is in violation of this Act.

(b)(1) A member, agent, or employee of the regulatory authority may enter the premises occupied by a public utility to make inspections, examinations, and tests and to exercise any authority provided by this Act.

(2) A member, agent, or employee of the regulatory authority may act under this section only during reasonable hours and after giving reasonable notice to the utility.

(3) The public utility is entitled to be represented when inspections, examinations, and tests are made on its premises. Reasonable time for the utility to secure a representative shall be allowed before commencing an inspection, examination, or test.

(c) The regulatory authority may inquire into the management and affairs of all public utilities, and shall keep itself informed as to the manner and method in which the same are conducted.

Reporting of Advertising or Public Relations Expenses

Sec. 30. The regulatory authority may require an annual reporting from each utility company of all its expenditures for business gifts and entertainment, and institutional, consumption-inducing and other advertising or public relations expenses. The regulatory authority shall not allow as costs or expenses for rate-making purposes any of these expenditures which the regulatory authority determines not to be in the public interest. The cost of legislative-advocacy expenses shall not in any case be allowed as costs or expenses for rate-making purposes. Reasonable charitable or civic contributions may be allowed not to exceed the amount approved by the regulatory authority.

Unlawful Rates, Rules and Regulations

Sec. 31. It shall be unlawful for any utility to charge, collect, or receive any rate for public utility service or to impose any rule or regulation other than as herein provided.

Filing Schedule of Rates, Rules and Regulations

Sec. 32. Every public utility shall file with each regulatory authority schedules showing all rates which are subject to the original or appellate jurisdiction of the regulatory authority and which are in force at the time for any public utility service, product, or commodity offered by the utility. Every public utility shall file with, and as a part of such schedules, all rules and regulations relating to or affecting the rates, public utility service, product, or commodity furnished by such utility.

Office of Public Utility; Records; Removal From State

Sec. 33. Every public utility shall have an office in a county of this state in which its property or some part thereof is located in which it shall keep all books, accounts, records, and memoranda required by the commission or railroad commission to be kept in the state. No books, accounts, records, or memoranda required by the regulatory authority to be kept in the state shall be removed from the state, except on conditions prescribed by the commission or railroad commission.

Communications by Public Utilities With Regulatory Authority; Regulations and Records

Sec. 34. (a) The regulatory authority shall prescribe regulations governing communications by public utilities, their affiliates and their representatives, with the regulatory authority or any member or employee of the regulatory authority.

(b) Such records shall contain the name of the person contacting the regulatory authority or member or employee of the regulatory authority, the name of the business entities represented, a brief description of the subject matter of the communication, and the action, if any, requested by the public utility, affiliate, or representative. These records shall be available to the public on a monthly basis.

Standards of Service

Sec. 35. (a) Every public utility shall furnish such service, instrumentalities, and facilities as shall be safe, adequate, efficient, and reasonable.

(b) The regulatory authority after reasonable notice and hearing had on its own motion or on complaint, may ascertain and fix just and reasonable standards, classifications, regulations, or practices to be observed and followed by any or all public utilities with respect to the service to be furnished; ascertain and fix adequate and reasonable standards for the measurement of the quantity, quality, pressure, initial voltage, or other condition pertaining to the supply of the service; prescribe reasonable regulations for the examination and testing of the service and for the measurement thereof; and establish or approve reasonable rules, regulations, specifications, and standards to secure the accuracy of all meters, instruments and equipment used for the measurement of any service of any public utility. Any standards, classifications, regulations, or practices now or hereafter observed or followed by any public utility may be filed by it with the regulatory authority, and the same shall continue in force until amended by the public utility or until changed by the regulatory authority as herein provided.

Examination and Test of Equipment

Sec. 36. (a) The regulatory authority may examine and test any meter, instrument, or equipment used for the measurement of any service of any public utility and may enter any premises occupied by any public utility for the purpose of making such examinations and tests and exercising any power provided for in this Act and may set up and use on such premises any apparatus and appliances necessary therefor. The public utility shall have the right to be represented at the making of the examinations, tests, and inspections. The public utility and its officers and employees shall facilitate the examinations, tests, and inspections by giving every reasonable aid to the regulatory authority and any person or persons designated by the regulatory authority for the duties aforesaid.

(b) Any consumer or user may have any meter or measuring device tested by the utility once without charge, after a reasonable period to be fixed by the regulatory authority by rule, and at shorter intervals on payment of reasonable fees fixed by the regulatory authority. The regulatory authority shall declare and establish reasonable fees to be paid for other examining and testing such meters and other measuring devices on the request of the consumer. If the test is requested to be made within the period of presumed accuracy as fixed by the regulatory authority since the last such test of the same meter or other measuring device, the fee to be paid by the consumer or user at the time of his request shall be refunded to the consumer or user if the meter or measuring device is found unreasonably defective or incorrect to the substantial disadvantage of the consumer or user. If the consumer's request is made at a time beyond the period of presumed accuracy fixed by the regulatory authority since the last such test of the same meter or measuring device, the utility shall make the test without charge to the consumer or user.

ARTICLE VI. PROCEEDINGS BEFORE THE REGULATORY AUTHORITY

Power to Insure Compliance; Rate Regulation

Sec. 37. Subject to the provisions of this Act, the commission or railroad commission is hereby vested with all authority and power of the State of Texas to insure compliance with the obligations of public utilities in this Act. For this purpose the regulatory authority is empowered to fix and regulate rates of public utilities, including rules and regulations for determining the classification of customers and services and for determining the applicability of rates. No rule or order of the regulatory authority shall be in conflict with the rulings of any federal regulatory body.

Just and Reasonable Rates

Sec. 38. It shall be the duty of the regulatory authority to insure that every rate made, demanded, or received by any public utility, or by any two or more public utilities jointly, shall be just and reasonable. Rates shall not be unreasonably preferential, prejudicial, or discriminatory, but shall be sufficient, equitable, and consistent in application to each class of consumers. For ratemaking purposes, the commission or railroad commission may treat two or more municipalities served by a public utility as a single class wherever the commission or railroad commission deems such treatment to be appropriate.

Fixing Overall Revenues

Sec. 39. In fixing the rates of a public utility the regulatory authority shall fix its overall revenues at a level which will permit such utility to recover its operating expenses together with a reasonable return on its invested capital.

Fair Return; Burden of Proof

Sec. 40. (a) The regulatory authority shall not prescribe any rate which will yield more than a fair return upon the adjusted value of the invested capital used and useful in rendering service to the public.

(b) In any proceeding involving any proposed change of rates, the burden of proof to show that the proposed change, if proposed by the utility, or that the existing rate, if it is proposed to reduce the rate, is just and reasonable shall be on the public utility.

Components of Adjusted Value of Invested Capital and Net Income

Sec. 41. The components of adjusted value of invested capital and net income shall be determined according to the following rules:

(a) Adjusted Value of Invested Capital. Utility rates shall be based upon the adjusted value of property used by and useful to the public utility in providing service including where necessary to the financial integrity of the utility construction work in progress at cost as recorded on the books of the utility. The adjusted value of such property shall be a reasonable balance between original cost less depreciation and current cost less an adjustment for both present age and condition. The regulatory authority shall have the discretion to determine a reasonable balance that reflects not less than 60% nor more than 75% original cost, that is, the actual money cost, or the actual money value of any consideration paid other than money, of the property at the time it shall have been dedicated to public use, whether by the utility which is the present owner or by a predecessor, less depreciation, and not less than 25% nor more than 40% current cost less an adjustment for both present age and condition. The regulatory authority may consider inflation, deflation, quality of service being provided, the growth rate of the service area, and the need for the public utility to attract new capital in determining a reasonable balance.

(b) Separations and Allocations. Costs of facilities, revenues, expenses, taxes, and reserves shall be separated or allocated as prescribed by the regulatory authority.

(c) Net Income. By "net income" is meant the total revenues of the public utility less all reasonable and necessary expenses as determined by the regulatory authority. The regulatory authority shall determine expenses and revenues in a manner consistent with the following:

(1) Transactions with Affiliated Interests. Payment to affiliated interests for costs of any services, or any property, right or thing, or for interest expense shall not be allowed either as capital cost or as expense except to the extent that the regulatory authority shall find such payment to be reasonable. Any such finding of reasonableness shall include specific statements setting forth the cost to the affiliate of each item or class of items in question and a finding that the price to the utility is no higher than prices charged by the supplying affiliate to its other affiliates or divisions for the same item or items, or to unaffiliated persons or corporations.

(2) Income Taxes. If the public utility is a member of an affiliated group that is eligible to file a consolidated income tax return, and if it is advantageous to the public utility to do so, income taxes shall be computed as though a consolidated return had been so filed and the utility had realized its fair share of the savings resulting from the consolidated return, unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the regulatory authority that it was reasonable to choose not to consolidate returns. The amounts of income taxes saved by a consolidated group of which a public utility is a member by reason of the elimination in the consolidated return of the intercompany profit on purchases by the public utility from an affiliate shall be applied to reduce the cost of the property or services so purchased. The investment tax credit allowed against federal income taxes, to the extent retained by the utility, shall be applied as a reduction in the rate based contribution of the assets to which such credit applies, to the extent and at such rate as allowed by the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) Expenses Disallowed. The regulatory authority may promulgate reasonable rules and regulations with respect to the allowance or disallowance of certain expenses for ratemaking purposes.

Unreasonable or Violative Existing Rates; Investigating Costs of Obtaining Service from Another Source

Sec. 42. Whenever the regulatory authority, after reasonable notice and hearing, on its own motion or on complaint by any affected person, finds that the existing rates of any public utility for any service are unreasonable or in any way in violation of any provision of law, the regulatory authority shall determine the just and reasonable rates, including maximum or minimum rates, to be thereafter observed and in force, and shall fix the same by order to be served on the public utility; and such rates shall constitute the legal rates of the public utility until changed as provided in this Act. Whenever a public utility does not itself produce or generate that which it distributes, transmits, or furnishes to the public for compensation, but obtains the same from another source, the regulatory authority shall have the power and authority to investigate the cost of such production or generation in any investigation of the reasonableness of the rates of such public utility.

Statement of Intent to Change Rates; Major Changes; Hearing; Suspension of Rate Schedule; Determination of Rate Level

Sec. 43. (a) No utility may make changes in its rates except by filing a statement of intent with the regulatory authority having original jurisdiction at least 35 days prior to the effective date of the proposed change. The statement of intent shall include proposed revisions of tariffs and schedules and a statement specifying in detail each proposed change, the effect the proposed change is expected to have on the revenues of the company, the classes and numbers of utility consumers affected, and such other information as may be required by the regulatory authority's rules and regulations. A copy of the statement of intent shall be mailed or delivered to the appropriate officer of each affected municipality, and notice shall be given by publication in conspicuous form and place of a notice to the public of such proposed change once in each week for four successive weeks in a newspaper having general circulation in each county containing territory affected by the proposed change, and to such other affected persons as may be required by the regulatory authority's rules and regulations.

(b) The regulatory authority, for good cause shown, may, except in the case of major changes, allow changes in rate to take effect prior to the end of such 35 day period under such conditions as it may prescribe, subject to suspension as provided herein. All such changes shall be indicated immediately upon its schedules by such utility. "Major changes" shall mean an increase in rates which would increase the aggregate revenues of the applicant more than the greater of $100,000 or two and one-half percent, but shall not include changes in rates allowed to go into effect by the regulatory authority or made by the utility pursuant to an order of the regulatory authority after hearings held upon notice to the public.

(c) Whenever there is filed with the Regulatory Authority any schedule modifying or resulting in a change in any rates then in force, the Regulatory Authority shall on complaint by any affected person or may on its own motion, at any time within 30 days from the date when such change would or has become effective, and, if it so orders, without answer or other formal pleading by the utility, but on reasonable notice, including notice to the governing bodies of all affected municipalities and counties, enter on a hearing to determine the propriety of such change. The Regulatory Authority shall hold such a hearing in every case in which the change constitutes a major change in rates, provided that an informal proceeding may satisfy this requirement if no complaint has been received before the expiration of 45 days after notice of the change shall have been filed.

(d) Pending the hearing and decision, the Regulatory Authority, after delivery to the affected utility of a statement in writing of its reasons therefor, may suspend the operation of the schedule for a period not to exceed 120 days beyond the date on which the schedule of rates would otherwise go into effect. If the Regulatory Authority finds that a longer time will be required for a final determination, the Regulatory Authority may further extend the period for an additional 30 days. If the Regulatory Authority does not make a final determination concerning any schedule of rates within a period of 150 days after the time when the schedule of rates would otherwise go into effect, the schedule shall be deemed to have been approved by the Regulatory Authority. This approval is subject to the authority of the Regulatory Authority thereafter to continue a hearing in progress. The Regulatory Authority may in its discretion fix temporary rates for any period of suspension under this section. During the suspension by the Regulatory Authority as above provided, the rates in force when the suspended schedule was filed shall continue in force unless the Regulatory Authority shall establish a temporary rate. The Regulatory Authority shall give preference to the hearing and decision of questions arising under this section over all other questions pending before it and decide the same as speedily as possible.

(e) If the regulatory authority fails to make its final determination of rates within 90 days from the date that the proposed change otherwise would have gone into effect, the utility concerned may put a changed rate, not to exceed the proposed rate, into effect upon the filing with the regulatory authority of a bond payable to the regulatory authority in an amount and with sureties approved by the regulatory authority conditioned upon refund and in a form approved by the regulatory authority. The utility concerned shall refund or credit against future bills all sums collected during the period of suspension in excess of the rate finally ordered plus interest at the current rate as finally determined by the regulatory authority.

(f) If, after hearing, the Regulatory Authority finds the rates to be unreasonable or in any way in violation of any provision of law, the Regulatory Authority shall determine the level of rates to be charged or applied by the utility for the service in question and shall fix the same by order to be served upon the utility; these rates are thereafter to be observed until changed, as provided by this Act.

Rates for Areas Not Within Municipality

Sec. 44. Public utility rates for areas not within any municipality shall not exceed without commission or railroad commission approval 115 percent of the average of all rates for similar services of all municipalities served by the same utility within the same county.

Unreasonable Preference or Prejudice as to Rates or Services

Sec. 45. No public utility may, as to rates or services, make or grant any unreasonable preference or advantage to any corporation or person within any classification, or subject any corporation or person within any classification to any unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage. No public utility may establish and maintain any unreasonable differences as to rates of service either as between localities or as between classes of service.

Equality of Rates and Services

Sec. 46. No public utility may, directly or indirectly, by any device whatsoever or in any manner, charge, demand, collect, or receive from any person a greater or less compensation for any service rendered or to be rendered by the utility than that prescribed in the schedule of rates of the public utility applicable thereto when filed in the manner provided in this Act, nor may any person knowingly receive or accept any service from a public utility for a compensation greater or less than that prescribed in the schedules, provided that all rates being charged and collected by a public utility upon the effective date of this Act may be continued until schedules are filed. Nothing in this Act shall prevent a cooperative corporation from returning to its members the whole, or any part of, the net earnings resulting from its operations in proportion to their purchases from or through the corporation.

Discrimination; Restriction on Competition

Sec. 47. No public utility may discriminate against any person or corporation that sells or leases equipment or performs services in competition with the public utility, nor may any public utility engage in any other practice that tends to restrict or impair such competition.

Payments in Lieu of Taxes

Sec. 48. No payments made in lieu of taxes by a public utility to the municipality by which it is owned may be considered an expense of operation for the purpose of determining, fixing, or regulating the rates to be charged for the provision of utility service to a school district or hospital district. No rates received by a public utility from a school district or hospital district may be used to make or to cover the cost of making payments in lieu of taxes to the municipality by which the public utility is owned.

ARTICLE VII. CERTIFICATES OF CONVENIENCE AND NECESSITY

Definitions

Sec. 49. For the purposes of this article only: (a) "Retail public utility" means any person, corporation, municipality, political subdivision or agency, or cooperative corporation, now or hereafter operating, maintaining, or controlling in Texas facilities for providing retail utility service.

(b) "Public utility" does not include any person, corporation, municipality, political subdivision or agency; or cooperative corporation under the jurisdiction of the Railroad Commission.

Certificate Required

Sec. 50. Beginning one year after the effective date of this Act, unless otherwise specified:

(1) No public utility may in any way render service directly or indirectly to the public under any franchise or permit without first having obtained from the commission a certificate that the present or future public convenience and necessity require or will require such installation, operation, or extension.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this article no retail public utility may furnish, make available, render, or extend retail public utility service to any area to which retail utility service is being lawfully furnished by another retail public utility on or after the effective date of this Act, without first having obtained a certificate of public convenience and necessity that includes the area in which the consuming facility is located.

Exceptions for Extension of Service

Sec. 51. (a) A public utility is not required to secure a certificate of public convenience and necessity for:

(1) an extension into territory contiguous to that already served by it and not receiving similar service from another public utility and not within the area of public convenience and necessity of another utility of the same kind;

(2) an extension within or to territory already served by it or to be served by it under a certificate of public convenience and necessity; or

(3) operation, extension, or service in progress on the effective date of this Act.

(b) Any extensions allowed by Subsection (a) of this section shall be limited to devices for interconnection of existing facilities or devices used solely for transmitting public utility services from existing facilities to customers of retail utility service.

Application; Maps; Evidence of Consent

Sec. 52. (a) A public utility shall submit to the commission an application to obtain a certificate of public convenience and necessity or an amendment thereof.

(b) On or before 90 days after the effective date of this Act, or at a later date on request in writing by a public utility when good cause is shown, or at such later dates as the commission may order, each public utility shall file with the commission a map or maps showing all its facilities and illustrating separately facilities for generation, transmission, and distribution of its services.

(c) Each applicant for a certificate shall file with the commission such evidence as is required by the commission to show that the applicant has received the required consent, franchise, or permit of the proper municipality or other public authority.

Prior Construction or Operation

Sec. 53. On application made to the commission within six months after the effective date of this Act, the commission shall issue a certificate of public convenience and necessity for the construction or operation then being conducted to any public utility actually providing service to any geographical area on the effective date of this Act, or to any person or corporation actively engaged on the effective date of this Act in the construction, installation, extension, or improvement of, or addition to, any facility or system used or to be used in providing public utility service.

Notice and Hearing; Issuance or Refusal; Factors Considered

Sec. 54. (a) When an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity is filed, the commission shall give notice of such application to interested parties and, if requested, shall fix a time and place for a hearing and give notice of the hearing. Any person interested in the application may intervene at the hearing.

(b) Except for certificates for prior operations granted under Section 53, the commission may grant applications and issue certificates only if the commission finds that the certificate is necessary for the service, accommodation, convenience, or safety of the public. The commission may issue the certificate as prayed for, or refuse to issue it, or issue it for the construction of a portion only of the contemplated system or facility or extension thereof, or for the partial exercise only of the right or privilege.

(c) Certificates of convenience and necessity shall be granted on a nondiscriminatory basis after consideration by the commission of the adequacy of existing service, the need for additional service, the effect of the granting of a certificate on the recipient of the certificate and on any public utility of the same kind already serving the proximate area, and on such factors as community values, recreational and park areas, historical and aesthetic values, environmental integrity, and the probable improvement of service or lowering of cost to consumers in such area resulting from the granting of such certificate.

Area Included Within City, Town or Village

Sec. 55. (a) If an area has been or shall be included within the boundaries of a city, town, or village as the result of annexation, incorporation, or otherwise, all public utilities certified or entitled to certification under this Act to provide service or operate facilities in such area prior to the inclusion shall have the right to continue and extend service in its area of public convenience and necessity within the annexed or incorporated area, pursuant to the rights granted by its certificate and this Act.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a public utility shall have the right to continue and extend service within its area of public convenience and necessity and to utilize the roads, streets, highways, alleys, and public property for the purpose of furnishing such retail utility service, subject to the authority of the governing body of a municipality to require any public utility, at its own expense, to relocate its facilities to permit the widening or straightening of streets by giving to the public utility 30 days' notice and specifying the new location for the facilities along the right-of-way of the street or streets.

(c) This section may not be construed as limiting the power of cities, towns, and villages to incorporate or extend their boundaries by annexation, nor may this section be construed as prohibiting any city or town from levying taxes and other special charges for the use of the streets as are authorized by Article 11.03, Title 122A, Taxation—General, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

Contracts Valid and Enforceable

Sec. 56. Contracts between retail public utilities designating areas to be served and customers to be served by those utilities, when approved by the commission, shall be valid and enforceable and shall be incorporated into the appropriate areas of public convenience and necessity.

Preliminary Order for Certificate

Sec. 57. If a public utility desires to exercise a right or privilege under a franchise or permit which it contemplates securing but which has not as yet been granted to it, such public utility may apply to the commission for an order preliminary to the issuance of the certificate. The commission may thereupon make an order declaring that it will, on application, under such rules as it prescribes, issue the desired certificate on such terms and conditions as it designates, after the public utility has obtained the contemplated franchise or permit. On presentation to the commission of evidence satisfactory to it that the franchise or permit has been secured by the public utility, the commission shall issue the certificate.

Continuous and Adequate Service; Discontinuance, Reduction or Impairment of Service

Sec. 58. (a) The holder of any certificate of public convenience and necessity shall serve every consumer within its certified area and shall render continuous and adequate service within the area or areas.

(b) Unless the commission issues a certificate that neither the present or future convenience and necessity will be adversely affected, the holder of a certificate shall not discontinue, reduce, or impair service to a certified service area or part thereof except for:

(1) nonpayment of charges;

(2) nonuse; or

(3) other similar reasons in the usual course of business.

(c) Any discontinuance, reduction, or impairment of service, whether with or without approval of the commission, shall be in conformity with and subject to such conditions, restrictions, and limitations as the commission shall prescribe.

Sale, Assignment or Lease of Certificate

Sec. 59. If the commission determines that a purchaser, assignee, or lessee is capable of rendering adequate service, a public utility may sell, assign, or lease a certificate of public convenience and necessity or any rights obtained under the certificate. The sale, assignment, or lease shall be on the conditions prescribed by the commission.

Interference with Other Public Utility

Sec. 60. If a public utility in constructing or extending its lines, plant, or system interferes or attempts to interfere with the operation of a line, plant, or system of any other public utility, the commission may issue an order prohibiting the construction or extension or prescribing terms and conditions for locating the lines, plants, or systems affected.

Improvements in Service; Interconnecting Service; Extended Area Toll-free Telephone Service

Sec. 61. After notice and hearing, the commission may:

(1) order a public utility to provide specified improvements in its service in a defined area, if service in such area is inadequate or is substantially inferior to service in a comparable area and it is reasonable to require the company to provide such improved service;

(2) order two or more public utilities to establish specified facilities for the interconnecting service; and

(3) order a telephone company or telephone companies to provide extended area toll-free service within a specified metropolitan area where there is a sufficient community of interest within the area and such service can reasonably be provided.

Revocation or Amendment of Certificate

Sec. 62. (a) The commission at any time after notice and hearing may revoke or amend any certificate of convenience and necessity if it finds that the certificate holder has never provided or is no longer providing service in the area, or part of the area, covered by the certificate.

(b) When the certificate of any public utility is revoked or amended, the commission may require one or more public utilities to provide service in the area in question.

ARTICLE VIII. SALE OF PROPERTY AND MERGERS

Report of Sale, Merger, etc.; Investigation; Disallowance of Transaction

Sec. 63. No public utility may sell, acquire, lease, or rent any plant as an operating unit or system in this state for a total consideration in excess of $100,000 or merge or consolidate with another public utility operating in this state unless the public utility reports such transaction to the commission or railroad commission within a reasonable time. On the filing of a report with the commission or railroad commission, the commission or railroad commission shall investigate the same with or without public hearing, to determine whether the action is consistent with the public interest. In reaching its determination, the commission or railroad commission shall take into consideration the reasonable value of the property, facilities, or securities to be acquired, disposed of, merged or consolidated. If the commission or railroad commission finds that such transactions are not in the public interest, the commission or railroad commission shall take the effect of the transaction into consideration in the rate-making proceedings and disallow the effect of such transaction if it will unreasonably affect rates or service. The provisions of this section shall not be construed as being applicable to the purchase of units of property for replacement or to the addition to the facilities of the public utility by construction.

Purchase of Voting Stock in Another Public Utility; Report

Sec. 64. No public utility may purchase voting stock in another public utility doing business in Texas, unless the utility reports such purchase to the commission or railroad commission.

Loans to Stockholders; Report

Sec. 65. No public utility may loan money, stocks, bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness to any corporation or person owning or holding directly or indirectly any stock of the public utility unless the public utility reports the transaction to the commission or railroad commission within a reasonable time.

Gas Reserve Rights: Approval of Sale, Conveyance, etc.

ARTICLE IX. RELATIONS WITH AFFILIATED INTERESTS

Jurisdiction Over Affiliated Interests

Sec. 67. The commission or railroad commission shall have jurisdiction over affiliated interests having transactions with public utilities under the jurisdiction of the commission or railroad commission to the extent of access to all accounts and records of such affiliated interests relating to such transactions, including but in no way limited to accounts and records of joint or general expenses, any portion of which may be applicable to such transactions.

Disclosure of Substantial Interest in Voting Securities

Sec. 68. The commission or railroad commission may require the disclosure of the identity and respective interests of every owner of any substantial interest in the voting securities of any public utility or its affiliated interest. One percent or more is a substantial interest within the meaning of this section.

ARTICLE X. JUDICIAL REVIEW

Right to Judicial Review; Evidence

Sec. 69. Any party to a proceeding before the commission is entitled to judicial review under the substantial evidence rule. The issue of confiscation shall be determined by a preponderance of the evidence.

On a finding by the court that an action under this article was groundless and brought in bad faith and for the purpose of harassment, the court may award to the defendant public utility the reasonable attorneys' fees.

Sec. 74. (a) Any person or persons who willfully and knowingly violate the provisions of this Act shall be guilty of a third degree felony.

(b) All penalties accruing under this Act shall be cumulative and a suit for the recovery of any penalty shall not be a bar to or affect the recovery of any other penalty, or be a bar to any criminal prosecution against any public utility or any officer, director, agent, or employee thereof or any other corporation or person.

Contempt Proceedings

Sec. 75. If any person fails to comply with any lawful order of the commission or railroad commission or with any subpoena or subpoena duces tecum or if any witness refuses to testify about any matter on which he may be lawfully interrogated, the commission or railroad commission may apply to any court of competent jurisdiction to compel obedience by proceedings for contempt.

Sec. 2. After January 1, 1978, no incorporated city or town, including a home-rule city or other political subdivision of the state, may issue a permit, certificate, or other authorization for the construction or occupancy of a new apartment house or conversion to a condominium unless the construction plan provides for individual metering by the utility company or submetering by the owner of each dwelling unit for the measurement of the quantity of electricity, if any, consumed by the occupants within that dwelling unit.

Sec. 3. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, the Public Utility Commission of Texas shall promulgate rules, regulations, and standards under which any owner, operator, or manager of an apartment house which is not individually metered for electricity for each dwelling unit may install submetering equipment for each individual dwelling unit for the purpose of fairly allocating the cost of each individual dwelling unit's electrical consumption. In addition to other appropriate safeguards for the tenant, such rules and regulations shall require (a) that an apartment house owner shall not impose on the tenant any extra charges, over and above the cost per kilowatt hour which is charged by the utility company to the owner, and (b) that the apartment house owner shall maintain adequate records regarding submetering and shall make such records available for inspection by the tenant during reasonable business hours. Sec. 4. If, during the 90-day period preceding the installation of individual meters or submeters, an owner, operator, or manager of an apartment house has increased rental rates and such increase is attributable to increased costs of utilities, then such owner, operator, or manager shall immediately reduce the rental rate by the amount of such increase and shall refund all of such increase that has previously been collected within said 90-day period.

(b) The Banking Commissioner of Texas shall have authority to examine or cause to be examined each such corporation annually or more often if he deems it necessary. Such corporation shall pay the actual traveling expenses, hotel bills, and all other actual expenses incident to such examination and a fee not exceeding $50 per day per person engaged in such examination. If such corporation has not sold in Texas, and does not offer for sale or sell in Texas, any of its securities which have been registered or with respect to which a permit authorizing their sale has been issued under the Securities Act, as presently in force or hereafter amended, the Banking Commissioner of Texas, in lieu of an examination, shall accept the financial statement filed by such corporation pursuant to the first paragraph of this Section. Such fees, together with all other fees, penalties and revenues collected by the Banking Department, shall be retained by the department and shall be expended only for the expenses of the department.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 1 to 3]

Powers of Corporation

Sec. 4. Each corporation shall have power:

- (1) To sue and be sued, complain and defend, in its corporate name;
- (2) To have perpetual succession unless a limited period of duration is stated in its articles of incorporation;
- (3) To adopt a corporate seal which may be altered at pleasure, and to use it, or a facsimile thereof, as required by law;

(4) To furnish, improve and expand telephone service to its members, to governmental agencies and political subdivisions, and to other persons not in excess of ten per centum (10%) of the number of its members, provided, however, that, without regard to said ten per centum (10%) limitation, telephone service may be made available by a corporation through interconnection of facilities to any number of subscribers of other telephone systems, and through pay stations to any number of users; and provided, further, that a corporation which acquires existing telephone facilities may continue service to persons, not in excess of forty per centum (40%) of the number of its members, who are already receiving service from such facilities without requiring such persons to become members but such persons may become members upon such terms as may be prescribed in the by-laws; provided there shall be no duplication of services where reasonably adequate telephone services are available.

(5) To construct, purchase, lease as lessee, or otherwise acquire, and to improve, expand, install, equip, maintain, and operate, and to sell, assign, convey, lease as lessor, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of or encumber, telephone lines, facilities or systems, lands, buildings, structures, plants and equipment, exchanges, and any other real or personal property, tangible or intangible, which shall be deemed necessary, convenient or appropriate to accomplish the purpose for which the corporation is organized; provided that no cooperative shall furnish local telephone exchange service within the boundaries of any incorporated or unincorporated city, town or village within this State having a population in excess of one thousand five hundred (1,500) inhabitants according to the last preceding Federal Census, except where the governing body (the City Council of an incorporated area and Commissioners Court in an unincorporated area) after published notice and public hearing determines the population of such incorporated or unincorporated city, town or village has decreased below one thousand five hundred (1,500) inhabitants since taking and publishing the last preceding Federal Census, which order shall be entered of record in the official minutes of said governing body and shall be accepted as a true and correct determination of such population for all purposes hereunder unless contest thereof be filed within sixty (60) days from date of such order, or the official entry thereof, by any company or person at interest or living in the affected area, in a court of competent jurisdiction, in which event the question shall abide the result of such contest; and provided further that the corporation may continue to furnish telephone exchange service within the boundaries of any incorporated or unincorporated city, town, or village within this State having a population in excess of one thousand five hundred (1,500) inhabitants according to the latest Federal Census, if the area was previously receiving local telephone exchange service from the corporation prior to the time that the area increased in population to more than one thousand five hundred (1,500) inhabitants or the area became annexed to an incorporated city, town, or village having a population in excess of one thousand five hundred (1,500) inhabitants; and provided further that this Subsection shall not be considered as a limitation or expansion of the provisions of Subsection (4) of Section 4.

(6) To connect and interconnect its telephone lines, facilities or systems with other telephone lines, facilities or systems;

(7) To make its facilities available to persons furnishing telephone service within or without this State;

(8) To purchase, lease as lessee, or otherwise acquire, and to use, and exercise and to sell, assign, convey, mortgage, pledge or otherwise dispose of or encumber, franchises, rights, privileges, licenses and easements;

(9) To issue membership certificates as hereinafter provided;

(10) To borrow money and otherwise contract indebtedness, and to issue or guarantee notes, bonds, and other evidences of indebtedness, and to secure the payment thereof by mortgage, pledge, or deed of trust of, or any other encumbrance upon, any or all of its real or personal property, assets, franchises, or revenues;

(11) To construct, maintain and operate telephone lines along, upon, under and across publicly owned lands and public thoroughfares, including all roads, highways, streets, alleys, bridges and causeways, subject, however, to the same restrictions and obligations required of electric transmission cooperatives in House Bill No. 393, Acts of the Fifty-first Legislature, Regular Session.¹

(12) To exercise the power of eminent domain in the manner provided by the laws of this State for the exercise of such power by other corporations constructing or operating telephone lines, facilities or systems.

(13) To conduct its business and exercise its powers within or without this State;

(14) To adopt, amend and repeal by-laws;

(15) To make any and all contracts necessary, convenient or appropriate for the full exercise of the powers herein granted; and

(16) To do and perform any other acts and things, and to have and exercise any other powers which may be necessary, convenient or appropriate to accomplish the purpose for which the corporation is organized.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 14(a) and (b)]

(c) Instead of electing all the directors annually, the by-laws may provide that the directors, other than those named in the articles of incorporation to serve until the first annual meeting of the members, shall be elected by the members for a term not to exceed three (3) years. If a term other than one (1) year is provided by the by-laws, then a staggered term will be provided with one-half (1/2) of the directors (or the number nearest thereto) being elected annually when a two (2) year term is provided, and one-third (1/3) of the directors (or the number nearest thereto) being elected annually when a three (3) year term is provided. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1476, ch. 600, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 1.01-1. Election Code Revision Commission

Text of article effective until May 29, 1979

Creation; membership; vacancy; quorum

Sec. 1. (a) There is created the Texas Election Code Revision Commission, composed of the following members:

(1) the secretary of state, as an ex officio member, who shall be chairman of the commission;

(2) the chairman of the house committee on elections and the chairman of the subcommittee on elections of the senate committee on state affairs, as ex officio members, who shall be joint vice-chairmen;

(3) one member of the senate, chosen by the lieutenant governor;

(4) one member of the house of representatives, chosen by the speaker;

(5) one member of the legal staff of the attorney general's office, chosen by the attorney general;

(6) the president, or a person designated by the president, of each of the following organizations: the State Bar of Texas, the Association of County and District Clerks of Texas, the Association of Tax Assessor-Collectors of Texas, and the Association of City Clerks and Secretaries of Texas;

(7) the state chairman, or a person designated by the chairman, of each political party that will be required to make nominations by primary elections in 1978; and

(8) two citizens of the state, chosen by the governor.

(b) Each person who is a member of the commission as originally constituted, except the ex officio members, may continue to serve until the commission is dissolved, regardless of any change in status that removes the member from the office or class of officers he represents. Any vacancy on the committee shall be filled in the same manner as in the original membership, by the person holding the position, at the time the vacancy is to be filled, which entitles him to serve as a member or to designate a member.

(c) A majority of the members of the commission constitutes a quorum. The chairman and vice-chairmen, whether presiding or not, are entitled to vote on any question before the commission.

Preparation of revision

Sec. 2. The commission shall cause to be prepared a proposed draft of a complete revision of the present Texas Election Code, in a format complying with the rules which have been adopted for implementation of the statutory revision program authorized by Chapter 448, Acts of the 58th Legislature, 1963 (Article 5429b-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). The commission is authorized to incorporate into the draft any changes (including substantive changes) which in its opinion are needed to eliminate conflicts within the code itself or between the code and other statutes of the state, to clarify vague and ambiguous provisions in the code, or to improve the elective processes and procedures which are regulated by the code.

Texas Legislative Council services

Sec. 3. The Texas Legislative Council shall furnish the staff, printing, postage, and other services needed by the commission for the performance of its work.

Organization; meetings and hearings; committee; advisory panels

Sec. 4. (a) As soon as practicable after this Act takes effect and the composition of the commission is completed, the commission shall meet at the call of the chairman for the purpose of organizing and promulgating the rules of procedure by which it will function. Subsequent meetings shall be called by the chairman after consultation with the vice-chairmen.

(b) The commission may hold meetings and conduct hearings anywhere within the state. It is authorized to create committees and subcommittees and to delegate to them or to individual members the authority to conduct hearings and to make other investigations for the purpose of developing information on topics under consideration by the commission.

(c) The commission is directed to encourage the various organizations represented on the commission, and such other organizations as it sees fit, to form advisory panels of their own members to work with the commission through the organization's representative on the commission or a representative designated by the organization for that purpose.

Proposed draft; dissolution of commission

Sec. 5. (a) The commission is directed to complete its work before the convening of the 66th Legislature and to submit its proposed draft to the 66th Legislature, along with a complete and detailed report of all substantive changes which are embodied in the draft and a table showing the disposition of the existing provisions of the Election Code in the draft.

(b) The commission may continue in existence until the completion of the regular session of the 66th Legislature to assist and advise that body in the consideration of the proposed draft. It is dissolved by operation of law upon expiration of the regular session if it has not been dissolved by the affirmative vote of a majority of its members before that time.

Reimbursement for expenses

Sec. 6. Members of the commission shall be reimbursed for their actual and necessary travel expenses incurred in carrying out the purposes of this Act. Reimbursement to the secretary of state and to the staff member of the attorney general's office shall be paid from the appropriations to those offices. Legislative members shall be reimbursed from the expense fund of the house of the legislature in which they serve. Reimbursement to all other members of the commission shall be paid from the expense fund of the house and the contingent expense fund of the senate equally, not to exceed $6,000 from each fund.

Expiration of Act

Sec. 7. This Act expires on May 29, 1979. However, its expiration does not affect the payment of claims arising under the Act which are still unpaid at the time it expires.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 880, ch. 331, §§ 1 to 7, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 1.03. Secretary of State as Chief Election Officer

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 1]

Subd. 2. At least 35 days before each general election for state and county officers, the Secretary of State shall prescribe forms of all blanks necessary under this code and shall furnish same to each county clerk. The Secretary of State shall at the same time certify to each county clerk a list of all the candidates who have been nominated for state and district offices and all other candidates whose names have been certified to the Secretary of State to be placed on the general election ballot.

Subd. 3. Upon petition of fifteen or more resident citizens of any one county to the Secretary of State, the Secretary of State shall, or may at any time upon his own initiative, appoint inspectors to observe all functions, activities, or procedures conducted pursuant to the election laws of this State. Any such inspectors shall be subject to the direction of and responsible to the Secretary of State and he may terminate any appointment at any time. Any such inspectors may be present at, observe, and take reasonable steps to evidence all activities, functions, and procedures (except for the marking of any ballot by a voter, unless being assisted by an election officer) at any polling place, place of canvass, central counting station, or other place where official election or registration functions take place. The Secretary of State or any member of his staff may, upon the initiative of the Secretary of State alone, whether any violation of election laws is suspected or not, be present at, observe, and take reasonable steps to evidence any activities, functions, and procedures at any polling place, place of canvass, central counting station, or other place where official election or registration functions take place. Any inspectors appointed under this provision shall report to the Secretary of State any violations of law observed and the Secretary of State may refer the violation to the Attorney General or a prosecuting attorney for appropriate action.

Art. 1.05. Ineligibility

Subd. 1. No person shall be eligible to be a candidate for, or to be elected or appointed to, any public elective office in this state unless he is a citizen of the United States eligible to hold such office under the Constitution and laws of this state, is not mentally incompetent as determined by a court, has not been convicted of a felony for which he has not been pardoned or had his full rights of citizenship restored by other official action, and will be 18 years of age or older on the commencement of the term to be filled at the election or on the date of his appointment, and unless he will have resided in this state for a period of 12 months next preceding the applicable date specified below, and for any public office which is less than statewide, shall have resided for six months next preceding such date in the district, county, precinct, municipality or other political subdivision for which the office is to be filled:

(1) For a candidate whose name is printed on the ballot for a general (first) primary election, the applicable date is the last day on which any candidate for the office involved could file his application to have his name printed on the ballot for that primary election.

(2) For an independent or nonpartisan candidate in a general or special election, the applicable date is the last day on which the candidate's application for a place on the ballot could be delivered to the appropriate officer for receiving the application.

(3) For a write-in candidate, the applicable date is the day of the election at which the candidate's name is written in.

(4) For a party nominee who is nominated by any method other than by primary election, the applicable date is the day on which the nomination is made.

(5) For an appointee to an office, the applicable date is the day on which the appointment is made.

Subd. 2. The foregoing requirements do not apply to any office for which the Constitution or statutes of the United States or of this state prescribe the exclusive qualifications for the office or prescribe qualifications in conflict herewith, and in such case the provisions of such other laws control.

Subd. 2a. In the circumstances described in this subdivision, the residence requirements stated herein supersede the six-month precinct residence requirement stated in Subdivision 1 of this section. If the date of an order changing the boundaries of county commissioners precincts or justice of the peace precincts is less than seven months before the applicable date stated in Subdivision 1 of this section, a candidate for a precinct office in a precinct whose boundaries are affected by the order (including any newly created precinct) must have been a resident of the county in which the precinct is situated for six months next preceding the applicable date stated in Subdivision 1 and must be a resident of the precinct on that date. When a precinct office of an affected precinct is to be filled by an appointment to take effect on or after the date on which the boundary changes become effective but less than seven months after the date of the order making the changes, the appointee must have been a resident of the county for six months next preceding the effective date of the appointment and must be a resident of the precinct on that date.

For the purpose of the first paragraph of this subdivision, the date of the order changing the precinct boundaries means the appropriate date defined in this paragraph, as follows:

(1) If the change is made by an order of the commissioners court which is not challenged in a judicial proceeding brought before the applicable date stated in Subdivision 1 of this section, the date of the order means the date on which the commissioners court entered its order setting out the new boundaries.

(2) If the change is made, confirmed, or modified by a judicial decree or if judicial review of an order of the commissioners court is denied before the applicable date stated in Subdivision 1, the date of the order means the date of entry of the decree (including an order denying a motion for new trial, motion for rehearing, or similar motion) finally concluding the legal action establishing or confirming the boundary lines or denying review of the order establishing the lines.

(3) If on the applicable date stated in Subdivision 1 of this section a final decree concluding legal action has not been entered but there is an outstanding judicial decree putting a change in boundaries into effect or refusing to enjoin or to stay enforcement of an order establishing new boundary lines pending final disposition of the action, the date of the order means the date of entry of that decree.

Subd. 3. A home-rule city by charter may prescribe for its elective officers different age and residence requirements from those prescribed in Subdivision 1 of this section, but a charter may not set a minimum age greater than 21 years or a minimum length of residence in the state or city greater than 12 months next preceding the election.

Subd. 4. Except as provided in Section 104 of this code (Article 8.22, Vernon's Texas Election Code), no ineligible candidate shall ever have his name placed upon the ballot at any primary, general or special election. No ineligible candidate shall ever be voted upon nor have votes counted for him at any such primary, general or special election for the purpose of nominating or electing him, but votes cast for an ineligible candidate shall be taken into account in determining whether any other candidate received the necessary vote for nomination or election.

Subd. 5. No person who advocates the overthrow by force or violence or change by unconstitutional means of the present constitutional form of government of the United States or of this state shall be eligible to have his name printed on any official ballot in any general, special or primary election in this state.

Art. 1.05-1. Repealed by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2098, ch. 682, § 28, eff. Sept. 1, 1975

Art. 1.08a. Bilingual Election Materials in English and Spanish

Elections and Areas in Which Bilingual Materials are Required

Subd. 1. (a) In every general, special, or primary election, by whatever authority held, which is held within a county in which five percent or more of the inhabitants are persons of Spanish origin or descent, according to the federal census specified in Paragraph (b) of this subdivision, the election materials enumerated in Subdivision 3 of this section shall be printed in both English and Spanish for use at the polling place in each election precinct that is not exempt from this requirement under Subdivision 2. In the elections of a political subdivision that includes territory in more than one county, the bilingual materials must be used in each precinct that includes territory lying within a county to which this subdivision applies unless the precinct is exempt under Subdivision 2.

(b) The census used for determining the percentage of persons of Spanish origin or descent is the last preceding federal decennial census for which the enumeration date was more than two years before January 1 of the calendar year in which the election is held.

Election Precincts Exempt from Requirement

Subd. 2. (a) An election precinct situated in a county to which Subdivision 1 applies is exempt from the requirement for bilingual election materials if official census information or other information shows that persons of Spanish origin or descent comprise less than five percent of the inhabitants of the precinct. The authority holding the election has the burden of establishing entitlement to the exemption. Unless otherwise ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction, the officer or body responsible for obtaining the supplies for the election is relieved of the duty to furnish bilingual materials for those precincts for which there has been filed with the clerk or secretary of the political subdivision responsible for the expenses of the election, at least 30 days before the date of the election, a certificate executed by the presiding officer of the governing body of the political subdivision and approved by the governing body, identifying the precinct or precincts for which the exemption is claimed, together with an abstract of the official census information or other information relied on to support the exemption and a map or maps showing the precinct boundaries and the boundaries of the census enumeration areas referred to in the abstract. An authenticated copy of the resolution or other document evidencing the governing body's approval must be filed with the certificate.

(b) A new certificate and new supporting information must be filed following each decennial census. The supporting information must be revised following a change in election precinct boundaries, and a revised certificate must be filed if the certificate on file no longer correctly reflects the exempt precincts.

(c) In the case of a primary election held by a political party, the exempt precincts are those reflected in a certificate executed by the county judge or the secretary of state and filed in the office of the county clerk. The secretary of state is authorized to file a certificate for a county whenever the county judge has not filed a certificate by the 60th day before the date of the primary or whenever the certificate on file does not correctly reflect the exempt precincts.

Enumeration of Required Bilingual Materials; Preparation of the Materials

Subd. 3. (a) At each polling place where election materials in English and Spanish are required, the following materials shall be provided in bilingual form:

(1) Instruction cards for the information of voters shall be printed in both English and Spanish, either on separate cards to be posted side by side or on the same card with the Spanish text alongside the English text.

(2) Where voting machines or voting devices are used, a Spanish translation of the instructions for operating the machines or devices shall be posted in the compartment or booth that the voter occupies.

(3) All ballots and ballot labels may be printed with all ballot instructions, office titles, and propositions appearing in both Spanish and English. If the bilingual listing on the face of the ballot is not utilized, then a Spanish translation of the ballot shall be posted in each compartment or booth, and a statement shall be placed on the face of the ballot in Spanish to inform the voter that the Spanish translation is posted in the compartment or booth; and where paper ballots are used and booths are not provided for all voters, copies of the Spanish translation shall also be made available at the table where the voter selects his ballot, and a sign printed in Spanish shall be displayed at the table, informing the voter that he may take a copy of the Spanish translation for his use in preparing his ballot.

(4) All affidavit forms or other forms that voters are required to sign may have a Spanish translation printed beneath the English text or on the reverse side of the printed matter appearing on the form. If this translation is not utilized, then a Spanish translation of the affidavit shall be made available, and a statement shall be placed on the affidavit in Spanish that a Spanish translation is available upon request.

(b) The secretary of state shall prepare the Spanish translation for all bilingual materials required by Subdivisions 3 and 4 of this section, except ballot forms for local elections. The secretary of state shall prepare the Spanish translation of the ballot propositions for proposed constitutional amendments and other measures submitted by the legislature if the legislature fails to provide a Spanish text. The officer having the duty to make up the ballot for a local election shall prepare the Spanish translation of ballot material if the governing body of the political subdivision fails to provide a Spanish text.

Bilingual Materials for Absentee Voting

Subd. 4. In any countywide election, or in any election held in a political subdivision other than a county, in which bilingual election materials are required at any polling place in the county or other political subdivision, the absentee voting materials shall be printed in both English and Spanish. The forms for applying for an absentee ballot, the ballot envelopes and carrier envelopes, and any other instructions or forms furnished to the voters shall be printed in English with a Spanish translation on the face of the instrument or furnished separately along with the instrument. All ballots and ballot labels used for absentee voting shall be printed in the manner described in Subdivision 3; and whenever the Spanish translation of ballot propositions is printed separately from the ballot, a copy of the translation shall be furnished to each voter who votes by mail. In the conduct of absentee voting by personal appearance, any other materials enumerated in Subdivision 3 which are used in the voting shall be in bilingual form.

Optional Use of Bilingual Materials

Subd. 5. In any election held in a county to which Subdivision 1 of this section does not apply, or at any polling place where bilingual materials are not made mandatory under Subdivision 1, the governing body of the political subdivision responsible for the costs of the election may require the use of bilingual ballots and such other items of election materials enumerated in Subdivisions 3 and 4 as the governing body specifies, for any or all of the polling places as specified by the governing body; and the election officers of the political subdivision shall furnish bilingual materials in accordance with the resolution, ordinance, or other document by which their use is required. The governing body may provide for use of the bilingual materials on a continuing basis or on an election-by-election basis, as it sees fit.

[Added by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 511, ch. 213, § 1, eff. May 16, 1975.]

Art. 1.08b. Encouragement to Vote of Non-English-Speaking Citizens

[Text as added by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2078, ch. 681, § 18]

Sec. 8b. It is the intent of the legislature that non-English-speaking citizens, like all other citizens, should be encouraged to vote. Therefore, appropriate efforts should be made to minimize obstacles to voting by citizens who lack sufficient skill in English to vote without assistance.

The presiding judge of a voting precinct in which the election materials provided in Section 8a of this code¹ are required to be used shall make reasonable efforts to appoint election clerks who are fluent in both English and Spanish.

Whenever an application or petition of a candidate or a political party for a place on a ballot, or any other instrument authorized or required by this code, contains more than 1,000 signatures or names which need verification, the officer with whom the instrument is filed (including officers of political parties as well as public officers) may employ any reasonable statistical sampling method in determining whether the instrument contains the required number of names meeting the prescribed qualifications for signers or for names which may be listed thereon. However, in no event may the sample be less than one percent of the total number of names appearing on the instrument.

Art. 1.08d. Contracts for election services

Subd. 1. As used in this section "county officer in charge of election duties" means the county elections administrator in a county which has that office and the county clerk in a county which does not have the separate office of county elections administrator; and "contracting officer" means the county officer in charge of election duties.

Subd. 2. (a) The county officer in charge of election duties may contract with the governing body of any city, school district, water district, or other political subdivision situated wholly or partly within the county to conduct or supervise the conduct of any single election or series of elections to be held by the political subdivision and to perform or supervise the performance of any or all of the functions enumerated in Subdivision 3 of this section in connection with the holding of the election or elections.

(b) The county officer in charge of election duties may contract with the county executive committee of any political party holding primary elections in the county to conduct or supervise the conduct of the party's general primary election or runoff primary election, or both, to be held within the county in an election year. The contract must be approved by the secretary of state before any duties may be performed or any payments may be made under the terms of the contract.

(c) When requested to do so by a political subdivision or political party, the county elections administrator shall enter into a contract to furnish the services requested in accordance with a cost schedule mutually agreed upon by the contracting parties. If a mutual agreement cannot be reached, the secretary of state shall prescribe the agreement, to which both parties are bound, or, in his discretion, the secretary of state may instruct the county elections administrator to decline to enter into a contract with the requesting party. The county clerk in counties not having the office of county elections administrator is not required to enter into a contract with a political subdivision or political party requesting services, but he may do so at his discretion.

Subd. 3. A contract with a political subdivision pursuant to Subdivision 2 of this section may include any or all of the following services, and a contract with a political party may include any or all of such services that pertain to a party primary:

(1) Recommendations on the formation of election precincts and the location of polling places and preparation of the appropriate documents for establishing the precincts and polling places.

(2) Preparation of election orders, resolutions, notices, and other pertinent documents for adoption or execution by the appropriate officer or body.

(3) Posting or publication of election notices.

(4) Preparation of lists of persons to recommend for appointment as election judge or clerk and the recruiting and training of the judges and clerks.

(5) Procurement and distribution of election supplies, including the preparation, printing, and distribution of ballots.

(6) Assembly and editing of the lists of registered voters to be used in conducting the election, in conformity with the boundaries of the political subdivision and the election precincts established for the election.

(7) Procurement, preparation, and distribution of election equipment and transportation of equipment to and from the polling places.

(8) The conduct of absentee voting, subject to the provisions of Subdivision 4 of this section.

(9) Arrangements for use of polling places on election day.

(10) In an election using electronic voting equipment, arrangements for use of a central counting station and for the personnel and equipment needed at the counting station and assistance in preparation of programs and test materials for tabulation of the ballots.

(11) Supervision of the handling and disposition of election returns, voted ballots, etc., and tabulation of unofficial returns and assistance in preparing the tabulation for the official canvass.

(12) Information services for voters and election officers.

(13) General overall supervision of the elections and advisory services in connection with decisions to be made and actions to be taken by officers of the political subdivision or political party holding the election.

(14) Preparation of submissions on voting changes to be made to the United States Department of Justice under the federal Voting Rights Act of 1965, as amended.¹

(15) Preparation of data to support exemptions from the requirements for bilingual materials under Section 8a (Article 1.08a) of this code.

Subd. 4. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the contracting officer or any regular or temporary employee of the contracting officer may be designated as the absentee voting clerk for any political subdivision other than a municipality. The contracting officer may not replace the city secretary or clerk as the absentee voting clerk for a city election, but a contract may provide that the contracting officer is to supervise the conduct of the absentee voting and/or is to supply personnel to serve as deputy absentee voting clerks for the election.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, where a contract provides that the contracting officer is to serve as absentee voting clerk or that the contracting officer is to supply personnel to serve as deputy absentee voting clerks, residence within the county of the contracting officer satisfies the residence requirements for the positions filled under the contract.

Subd. 5. Nothing in this section authorizes or permits a change in the officer with whom or the place at which any document or record relating to an election is to be filed, or the place at which any function is to be carried out, or the officers to make the official canvass of the election returns, or the officer to serve as custodian of voted ballots or other election records, except that in elections held by a political subdivision other than a municipality, the contract may provide that the contracting officer will be custodian of the voted ballots as is permitted under Section 111a (Article 8.29a) of this code.

Subd. 6. A contract may provide that the contracting officer will pay the expenses payable to third persons which are incurred for an election or that the authority holding the election will make the payments directly to the claimants. If the contract provides that the authority holding the election is to pay the claimants, the contracting officer becomes the agent of the authority holding the election and he may contract with third persons in the name of the authority with respect to expenses within the scope of his duties. The contracting officer is not liable for the default of the authority holding the election. If the contract provides that the contracting officer is to pay the expenses, the authority holding the election is not liable for defaults of the contracting officer.

Subd. 7. (a) The contracting officer shall file with the county treasurer a copy of each contract for services to be performed under this section and shall file another copy with the county auditor or, in a county not having an auditor, with the county judge as presiding officer of the commissioners court.

(b) Contracts executed pursuant to this section need not be submitted to the commissioners court for approval. All moneys received by the contracting officer under such contracts shall be deposited in the county treasury in a special fund separate from any other funds, and shall be subject to expenditure by the contracting officer to defray the costs of carrying out the contracts without prior budgeting or appropriation by the commissioners court. However, all claims against the fund shall be audited and approved in the same manner as other claims against the county before they are paid. Salaries of personnel regularly employed by the contracting officer shall be paid from funds regularly budgeted and appropriated for that purpose, but salaries and wages paid to persons especially employed to perform duties under a contract and all other expenses directly attributable to the contract which are charged to the contracting officer shall be paid out of the special fund. From time to time, as surplus amounts accumulate in the special fund, the contracting officer may direct the treasurer to transfer the surplus, in specified amounts, to the special fund created by Section 51b (Article 5.19b) of this code.

Subd. 8. Any of the services to be performed by the contracting officer may be performed by deputies or other employees assigned by him to perform the services. In a county which does not have the separate office of county elections administrator, the county clerk may establish an elections division in his office and assign a deputy clerk to oversee the operation of the division and may delegate to the deputy the power to enter into contracts under this section.

2.01b. Dates for Holding General and Special Elections [NEW].

2.01c. Joint Elections of Political Subdivisions [NEW].

2.06a. Municipal and School District Election Dates [NEW].

2.06-1. [Expired].

Art. 2.01. Time and Place

A general election shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A.D. 1964, and every two years thereafter, at such places as may be prescribed by law after notice as prescribed by law. Special elections shall be held at such times and places as may be fixed by law providing therefor. In all elections, general, special, or primary, the polls shall be open from seven o'clock a. m. to seven o'clock p. m.; provided, that in any county having a population of one million or more, according to the last preceding federal census, the polls may be opened one hour earlier at six o'clock a. m. on order of the commissioners court of such county entered in the minutes thereof. The foregoing authority of the commissioners court shall extend to all elections held within the county, by whatever authority the election may be ordered, but the court may exercise this authority with respect to such elections as it deems necessary or desirable without advancing the opening hour for other elections, subject to the requirement that the court's order must apply uniformly to comparable types of elections held on the same day; and the order shall specify the elections to which it applies. The election shall be held for one day only.

All persons who are within the polling place and all persons who are waiting to enter the polling place at seven o'clock p. m. shall be allowed an opportunity to present themselves for voting in the same manner as if they had appeared and offered themselves for voting during regular voting hours. The presiding judge shall take necessary precautions to prevent voting by any person not present and waiting to vote at the time for official closing of the polls. If feasible, all persons waiting to vote at the time for official closing of the polls shall be required to enter the polling place, and the door to the polling place shall be closed and locked, and each such person shall remain inside the polling place until he has voted. If such procedure is not feasible, numbered identification cards or tokens shall be distributed to identify those persons waiting to vote at the time for official closing of the polls.

Art. 2.01b. Dates for Holding General and Special Elections

(a) Except as provided in Subsections (b) and (e) of this section, every general (regular) or special election held by the state or by any county, city, school district, water district, or any other political subdivision or agency of this state must be held on one of the following dates: the third Saturday in January, the first Saturday in April, the second Saturday in August, or the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. Provided, however, that in even-numbered years the only issues which may be included on the ballot of the election held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November shall be the election of state and county officers, the election of officers of a general-law city wherein the governing body of said city finds that the religious tenets of more than 50 percent of the registered voters of said city prohibit the adherents from voting in an election held on Saturday, and amendments to the constitution of this state submitted to the voters by the legislature. This requirement does not apply to runoff elections, political subdivisions using the convention method of election, elections held under Chapter 467, Acts of the 44th Legislature, 2nd Called Session, 1935, as amended,¹ elections for bonds and school maintenance taxes, or to the biennial party primary elections held to nominate candidates for public office. An election held on an unauthorized date is void.

(b) When a vacancy in office is to be filled at a special election, the election must be called for a date specified in Subsection (a) unless the governor finds the existence of an emergency that warrants calling the election for an earlier date. When the governing body of a political subdivision wishes to call an emergency special election to fill a vacancy, the governing body shall submit a request to the governor for permission to call the election, and the governor may grant permission if he finds that an emergency exists.

(c) In even-numbered years the only issues which may be included on the ballot of the election held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November shall be the election of state and county officers, the election of officers of a general-law city wherein the governing body of said city finds that the religious tenets of more than 50 percent of the registered voters of said city prohibit the adherents from voting in an election held on Saturday, and constitutional amendments submitted to the people by the legislature. The governing body of local political subdivisions shall be allowed to choose for their permanent election day any of the above four election dates. The filing deadline for candidates, the dates for canvassing the returns of the election, the date for commencement of terms of office filled at the election, and any other date incidental to the election shall fall on the date that has the same relationship to the date of the election as provided under the preexisting law. Where by preexisting law the terms of office are set to commence on a specified calendar date and the date of the election is changed by this section, the governing board of the political subdivision shall set the date on which the terms begin until otherwise provided by law. A runoff election, when required, shall be held on a date that provides the same time interval with relation to the main election as provided under the preexisting law.

(d) When under the provisions of Subsection (c) the beginning date for a term of office is changed to fall on an earlier date, the current term on the effective date of this section is shortened accordingly, and the holder of the current term shall surrender the office to his successor on the beginning date of the succeeding term or as soon thereafter as the successor has qualified. When the beginning date is changed to fall on a later date, the incumbent in office at the expiration of the current term as set by preexisting law shall continue to perform the duties of the office, as required by Section 17 of Article XVI of the Texas Constitution, until the successor has qualified for the succeeding term.

(e) When a preexisting law requires that a special election be called within a specified time period after the occurrence of a certain event, the election shall be called for a date authorized in Subsection (a) of this section that falls within that time period; or if there is no authorized date within the period that allows sufficient time to comply with other requirements of law, the election shall be called for the first authorized date after its expiration, except that the election shall be called for some other date within the time period where the constitution requires it. ¹V.A.T.S. Penal Auxiliary Laws, art. 666-1 et seq. (repealed; see, now, Alcoholic Beverage Code).

Section 2 of the 1975 Act added art. 2.01c; § 3(a) provided that the Act shall take effect on January 1, 1976; § 3(b) thereof, providing that the Act shall no longer be in effect after the first Monday after the third Saturday in January, 1978, was repealed by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2032, ch. 811, § 1.

Section 3 of the 1977 Act provided:

"The provisions of Sections 9b and 9c, Texas Election Code (Articles 2.01b and 2.01c, Vernon's Texas Election Code), enacted by Chapter 715, Acts of the 64th Legislature, 1975, supersede any inconsistent or conflicting provision of any other statute enacted before the regular session of the 65th Legislature, provided, that nothing contained herein shall be construed as superseding the provisions of Subsection (i), Section 130.082, Texas Education Code, as amended. They also supersede any inconsistent or conflicting provision of any other statute enacted at the regular session of the 65th Legislature, regardless of the relative order of passage with respect to this Act, unless the other statute expressly states that its provisions prevail over the provisions of Sections 9b and 9c."

Art. 2.01c. Joint Elections of Political Subdivisions

(a) When two or more political subdivisions of this state are holding elections on the same day in all or part of the same territory, the governing bodies of any two or more of the political subdivisions may agree to hold their elections jointly in the election precincts that can be served by common polling places. When any other statute makes a joint election mandatory, a joint election must be held in accordance with the terms of the statute; and if any other political subdivisions are holding elections in any part of the same territory, any or all of them may also join in the agreement for a joint election.

(b) When a joint election is to be held, a resolution reciting the terms of the agreement, including the method for allocating the expenses for the election, shall be adopted by the governing body of each of the participating political subdivisions. The agreement may provide for use of a single ballot form at each polling place, to contain all the offices or propositions to be voted on at that polling place, or for separate ballot forms; provided, however, that no voter shall be given a ballot containing any office or proposition on which the voter is ineligible to vote. One set of election officers may be appointed to conduct the joint election, and any person who is qualified to serve as an election officer in the election of any one of the participating political subdivisions may be appointed to serve in the joint election. Poll lists, tally lists, return forms, and other records for the various elections may be combined in any manner convenient and adequate to record and report the results of each election. Where paper ballots or punchcard ballots are used, one set of ballot boxes and one stub box may be used for receiving all ballots and ballot stubs for the joint election. Returns on joint or separate forms may be made to, and the canvass made by, each officer, board, or body designated by law to receive and canvass the returns for each election, or one of such officers, boards, or bodies may be designated to receive and canvass the returns for the joint election and to report the results of each election to the proper authority. Where other records are combined, the officer designated by law to be the custodian of the records for any participating subdivision may be designated in the agreement to be the custodian of the combined records. Where the counted ballots for more than one subdivision are deposited in a single ballot box, the officer designated by law to be the custodian of the voted ballots for any one of the subdivisions may be designated in the agreement to be the custodian.

[Added by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2297, ch. 715, § 2, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 2.02. Formation of Election Precincts; Consolidation for Certain Elections

Unless a specific statute provides otherwise, the following rules shall govern the establishment of election precincts and the designation of polling places for the conduct of the various kinds of elections held within this state.

(a) County-wide elections held at the expense of the county. In general elections for state and county officers, special elections called by the Governor (including both county-wide elections and elections to fill vacancies in offices elected by districts which are less than county-wide), and in all other county-wide elections held at the expense of the county other than elections coming within Subsection (d) of this section, the election precincts shall be the regular election precincts established by the commissioners court pursuant to Section 12 of this code (Article 2.04, Vernon's Texas Election Code). The commissioners court shall designate the polling place for each regular precinct, in accordance with the following procedure. The county officer in charge of election duties (the county elections administrator in a county which has that office and the county clerk in a county which does not have the separate office of county elections administrator) shall recommend to the commissioners court the location of the polling place for each precinct, and the commissioners court shall designate as the polling place the location so recommended unless good cause exists for rejecting the recommendation.

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1508, ch. 609, § 6, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 2.04. County Election Precincts Formed by Commissioners Court

(b) No election precinct shall be formed out of two or more justice precincts or commissioners precincts, nor out of the parts of two or more justice precincts or commissioners precincts; and no election precinct shall be formed out of two or more congressional districts or state senatorial districts or state representative districts, nor out of the parts of two or more such districts. If in September of any year there exists any election precinct in the county which does not comply with the foregoing requirements, the commissioners court shall make the necessary changes before the first day of October, either at a regular meeting or at a special meeting called for that purpose; and the order shall be published as provided in Paragraph (a) of this section. Subject to the provisions of the first sentence of this paragraph, no election precinct shall have resident therein less than 100 nor more than 2000 voters as ascertained by the number of registered voters for the last preceding presidential general election year; provided, however, that in counties of less than 100,000 population according to the last preceding federal census, the commissioners court may establish precincts of less than 100 but not less than 50 voters; and provided further, that in counties of less than 50,000 population according to the last preceding federal census, the commissioners court may establish precincts of less than 50 voters upon the petition of 25 or more registered voters within the county. In precincts in which voting machines or devices have been adopted for use in accordance with Section 79 or Section 80 of this Code,¹ the maximum number of voters shall be 3000. There shall be a minimum of one election precinct wholly contained within each commissioners precinct.

(c) In cities and towns having ten thousand or more inhabitants, each ward shall constitute an election precinct unless there are more than two thousand registered voters residing in the ward. In such cities and towns, no precinct shall be made out of parts of two wards; and no precinct shall include territory outside the corporate limits of the city or town unless the Commissioners Court finds that adjacent unincorporated territory is so situated that it cannot be formed into or included within an election precinct wholly outside the city, of suitable size and shape and containing a suitable number of voters. If the Commissioners Court finds this condition to exist, it may include such territory in a precinct or precincts formed within the city or town, and the finding of the Commissioners Court shall be conclusive. If on September 15 of any year there exists any election precinct in the county which does not comply with the requirements of this paragraph, the Commissioners Court shall make the necessary changes before the first day of October, either at a regular meeting or at a special meeting called for that purpose; and the order shall be published as provided in Paragraph (a) of this Section.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (d)]

(e) Changes in election precincts shall not become operative in the holding of elections until the beginning of the following voting year. The Commissioners Court shall cause to be made out and delivered to the County Tax Collector before the first day of each September a certified copy of such last order for the year following; provided, however, that any order entered during the month of September, as provided in Paragraphs (b) and (c) of this Section, shall be delivered to the Tax Collector forthwith.

Art. 2.06a. Municipal and School District Election Dates

In counties where voting machines or electronic voting systems are used, all municipal and school district elections in which candidates are running for office, including without limitation, elections in home-rule cities and independent, municipal, and county school districts, otherwise scheduled to be held within 14 days of the date on which a proposed amendment or amendments to the Constitution of Texas are to be submitted to a vote of the electorate, may be held on the same date as the constitutional amendment election if the governing body of the municipality or the school district so provides. If the governing body changes the date of the elections as authorized by this Act, it may set the date of any second or runoff primary which may be necessary for any date not earlier than the 14th day after the first election and not later than the latest date which would have been permissible if the date of the first election had not been changed. This Act shall make no change in the term of office or commencement thereof in any election affected hereby. [Added by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2108, ch. 638, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Article

3.09b. Training of Election Officers [NEW].

Art. 3.01. Appointment of Election Officers

(a) For county elections. The commissioners court at its July term shall appoint from among the citizens of each election precinct one qualified voter as presiding judge of elections held at the expense of the county in that precinct and one qualified voter as alternate presiding judge, each of whom shall continue to act until his successor is appointed. Whenever a vacancy arises in either of such offices, the commissioners court may fill the vacancy at any regular or special term of court. All orders appointing judges and alternates shall be entered of record. Each presiding judge shall appoint two voters, who are eligible for appointment, to serve as election clerks, and shall appoint for each election as many additional clerks as he deems necessary for the proper conduct of the election, not to exceed the maximum number authorized by the commissioners court. The commissioners court shall fix the maximum number of clerks that may be appointed for each precinct, and may fix different maximums depending on the type of election. The clerks shall be selected from different political parties, when practicable. The chairman of the county executive committee of each of the two parties whose candidate for Governor received the most votes statewide in the last prior gubernatorial general election may submit a list of not less than two eligible nominees who are members of that party to each election judge at least 30 days prior to the date of a general election or 10 days prior to the date of a special election. If any such list is submitted to him, the election judge shall appoint at least one clerk from each list submitted. For the purpose of this section, the term "members of that party" means persons who affiliated with the party in the manner prescribed in Section 179a of this code. (Article 13.01a, Vernon's Texas Election Code) during the last preceding set of primary elections and conventions.

(a-1) List of recommended appointees for judges of county precincts. Prior to the time at which the commissioners court makes its appointment of election judges pursuant to Subsection (a) of this section, the county officer in charge of election duties as defined by Section 8d of this code¹ shall select a presiding judge and an alternate presiding judge for each county election precinct to recommend for appointment to those offices and shall present a list of his selections to the commissioners court. The court shall give due consideration to these recommendations in making its appointments. This procedure shall also be followed whenever a vacancy is to be filled in the office of presiding judge or alternate presiding judge.

Art. 3.02. Duties and Working Hours of Clerks

(a) In all elections, general, special, or primary, the presiding judge shall be in charge of the management of the polling place and the conduct of the election. He shall designate the working hours and assign the duties to be performed by the clerks. Clerks may be assigned to work for different lengths of time and to begin work at different hours during the day while the polls are open or during the time necessary for counting the ballots after the polls are closed. Clerks who begin work at any time before closing of the polls shall remain on duty without leaving the polling place while the polls are open, except for such periods of absence for meals and other necessary reasons as may be permitted by the presiding judge.

(b) One or more clerks shall be assigned to assist in checking the names of voters on the list of registered voters and performing such other duties as are necessary in receiving the voters and supervising the deposit of the voted ballots. At every election there shall be kept a poll list in the number of copies required by law on which an election officer shall enter the name of each voter at the time he votes. In lieu of a poll list, the signature roster, together with any other forms, may be combined with the list of registered voters in the format prescribed by the secretary of state.

(c) In elections where paper ballots are used, the ballots shall be counted by one or more sets of counting officers, each set to consist of one judge or clerk who shall read the ballots, and one or more clerks who shall enter the votes on tally lists prepared for the election. As a safeguard in the accuracy of the tallying, the votes shall be entered on three original tally lists, and during the progress of the counting the lists shall be compared and errors and discrepancies shall be corrected, and at the close of the counting the tally clerks shall certify officially to the correctness of the lists.

(d) The clerks may be assigned to perform such other duties as the presiding judge directs.

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 590, ch. 209, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 3.03. Qualifications of Judges, Clerks and Watchers

(a) All judges of any general, special, or primary election shall be qualified voters of the election precinct in which they are named to serve. Unless otherwise provided in a statute pertaining to the specific type of election being held, in any general, special, or primary election all clerks and watchers shall be qualified voters of the county if the election is countywide, and shall be qualified voters of the city or other political subdivision in which the election is held if less than countywide, but it shall not be necessary that they reside within the election precinct in which they are named to serve.

(b) No person shall serve as a judge or a clerk in any general, special, or primary election who is employed by any candidate whose name appears on the ballot in that election either for a public office or for the party office of county chairman, or who is related to such candidate within the second degree either by affinity or consanguinity. Within the meaning of this section, a governmental employee is employed by the officer or officers who head the department or agency in which he is employed.

(c) No watcher shall be an employee or employer of any election judge or clerk in the election precinct in which he is named to serve or related to any such election officer within the second degree either by affinity or consanguinity.

He shall also be permitted to be present when assistance is given by any election judge in the marking of the ballot of any voter not able to mark his own ballot, to see that the ballot is marked in accordance with the wishes of the voter, but he must remain silent except in cases of irregularity or violation of the law. He shall not be permitted to enter into any conversation with the judges or clerks regarding the election while it is progressing, except to call the attention of the judges or clerks to any irregularity or violation of the law that he may observe. The watcher shall call the attention of officers holding the election to any fraud, irregularity or mistake, illegal voting attempted, or other failure to comply with the laws governing such election at the time it occurs, if practicable and if he has knowledge thereof at the time, and such complaint shall be reduced to writing and a copy delivered to the election judge. Preventing a poll watcher from observing any activity including, but not limited to, the tallying of ballots at any polling place, place of canvass, or central counting station shall constitute a Class A misdemeanor.

Art. 3.08. Pay of Judges and Clerks

(a) In all elections, general, special, or primary, by whatever authority conducted, the rate of pay for judges and clerks of the election shall be determined by the appropriate authority, but shall not exceed $2.50 per hour for each judge or clerk. In precincts where voting machines are used, no judge or clerk shall be paid for any period of time subsequent to two hours after the official time for closing the polls or subsequent to two hours after voting is concluded by all voters offering themselves for voting during regular voting hours, whichever is the later. The judge who delivers the returns of election may be paid an amount not to exceed $15 for that service; provided, also, he shall make returns of ballots, ballot boxes, and election supplies not used when he makes returns of the election.

Art. 3.09b. Training of Election Officers

Subd. 1. The governing body of each county, city, or other political subdivision which holds elections and the county executive committee of a political party which holds primary elections may require that persons appointed to serve as judge or alternate judge in its elections be trained in election law and procedure prior to their appointment or prior to their service and may adopt minimum standards for the amount of training that the person must receive to be eligible for service. The governing body of a political subdivision may appropriate funds to pay its judges and alternate judges for attending training schools at an hourly rate not to exceed the maximum amount that may be paid for their service as judge or clerk and to pay the costs for conducting the schools, including payment for the services of instructors. With the approval of the secretary of state, the county executive committee of a political party may make like payments for the training of judges and alternate judges to serve in its primary elections, to be allowed as authorized expenditures for the conduct of the elections.

Subd. 2. A political party or a political subdivision may conduct its own schools of instruction or other training programs, either independently or in conjunction with other entities. Beginning on March 1, 1979, the county executive committee of a political party or the governing body of a political subdivision other than a county may also contract with the county officer in charge of election duties for the training of its election officers, as authorized in Section 8d of this code.¹

CHAPTER FOUR. ORDERING ELECTIONS

Art. 4.10. Vacancy: Application to Get on Ballot

Subd. 1. (a) Any person desiring his name to appear upon the official ballot at any special election held for the purpose of filling a vacancy, when no party primary has been held, may do so by presenting his application to the proper authority. Such application shall set forth:

- (1) The name of the office sought;
- (2) His occupation, his postoffice address, and the county of his residence;
- (3) His age, place of birth, kind of citizenship, and length of residence in the county and state.

(b) In any special election for a statewide or district office which is regularly filled at the general election for state and county officers, the application shall also set forth the candidate's political party affiliation or shall state that the candidate is not affiliated with any political party.

Subd. 2. Such application must be filed not later than 5 p. m. of the 31st day before any such special election, and shall not be considered filed unless it has actually been received by the officer with whom it is to be filed.

Subd. 3. (a) The application must be filed with the Secretary of State in the case of a statewide or district special election. It must be accompanied with a fee of $1,000 for a statewide office, including without limitation the office of United States Senator, a fee of $500 for the district office of United States Representative, a fee of $400 for the district office of State Senator, and a fee of $200 for the district office of State Representative; or, in lieu of the filing fee, the application must be accompanied with a petition signed by at least 5,000 registered voters of the state in the case of a statewide office, and by at least 500 registered voters of the district in the case of a district office. A petition must show the address, voter registration number, and date of signing for each signer. No person may sign the petition of more than one candidate for the same office, and if a person signs the petition of more than one candidate, the signature is void as to all such petitions. A petition may be in multiple parts. To each part, which may consist of one or more sheets, there must be attached the affidavit of some registered voter, giving his address and voter registration number, and stating that each signature appearing in that part of the petition was affixed in the presence of the affiant and that to the best knowledge and belief of the affiant each signature is genuine and each person signing was a registered voter at the time of signing. A petition so verified is prima facie evidence that the signatures thereon are genuine and that the persons signing it are registered voters. Fees received under this subdivision shall be deposited in the general revenue fund of the state.

(b) Upon receipt of an application which conforms to the above requirements, the Secretary of State shall issue his instruction to the county clerks of the state, or of the district in the case of a district vacancy, directing that the name of the applicant be printed on the official ballot.

(c) The party affiliation of the candidate shall be printed on the official ballot following the name of the candidate. If the candidate has stated in his application that he is not affiliated with any political party, the word "Independent" shall be printed on the ballot following the candidate's name. In other respects, the ballot shall be printed as indicated in Section 61 of this code (Article 6.05, Vernon's Texas Election Code) for a special election in which no party nomination has been made.

Subd. 4. The application must be filed with the city secretary or clerk in the case of a municipal special election. A home-rule city by charter may require that the application be accompanied with a reasonable filing fee or a petition of voters in lieu of the filing fee.

(a) Every person subject to none of the foregoing disqualifications who is a citizen of the United States and a resident of this state and is eighteen years of age or older, and who has complied with the registration requirements of this code, is a qualified voter. No person may vote in an election held by a county, municipality, or other political subdivision unless he is a resident of the subdivision on the day of the election; and, except, as expressly permitted by some other provision of this code or another statute of this state, no person may vote in an election precinct other than the one in which he resides. Art. 5.05. Absentee Voting

Who May Vote Absentee

Subd. 1. (a) Any qualified voter of this state who expects to be absent from the county of his residence on the day of the election, or who will be 65 years of age or older on the day of the election, or who because of sickness, physical disability, confinement in jail, or religious belief cannot appear at the polling place in the election precinct of his residence on the day of the election, or who expects to serve as an election clerk or as a poll watcher on election day in an election precinct other than the precinct of his residence, may nevertheless cause his vote to be cast at any election held in this state by compliance with the applicable method herein provided for absentee voting. If a voter's religious belief prohibits him from voting during any part of the time during which the polls are open on the day of the election, he shall nevertheless be entitled to vote absentee even though the prohibition does not operate throughout the entire time that the polls are open. A voter who is confined in jail is entitled to vote absentee if at the time of applying for an absentee ballot he is:

- (1) serving a misdemeanor sentence which extends through election day;
- (2) being held for trial after a denial of bail;
- (3) being held without bail pending the appeal of a felony conviction; or
- (4) being held for trial or pending an appeal on a bailable charge but he expects not to have been released on bail by the date of the election.

(b) Absentee voting shall be conducted by two methods:

- (1) voting by personal appearance at the clerk's office, and
- (2) voting by mail.

All voters coming within the foregoing provisions of this subdivision may vote by personal appearance at the clerk's office if they are able to make such appearance within the period for absentee voting. Where the ground for voting absentee is confinement in jail, it is not mandatory that the voter be allowed to make a personal appearance, but the officer in charge of the jail, in his discretion is authorized to make the necessary arrangements to permit the voter to vote by personal appearance.

(c) The following persons, and no other, may vote by mail:

- (i) Qualified voters who will be 65 years of age or older on the day of the election, or who because of sickness or physical disability, or because of religious beliefs, cannot appear at the polling place on the day of the election. The application for an absentee ballot shall be made not more than sixty days before the day of the election. It must be mailed to the clerk, and the clerk shall preserve the envelope in which it is received. If the application is delivered to the clerk by any method other than by mailing it to him, the ballot shall be void and shall not be counted. The voter shall state in his application the address to which the ballot is to be mailed to him, which must be either his permanent residence address or the address at which he is temporarily living. If the ballot is furnished to the voter by any method other than by mailing it to him, or if it is mailed to any address other than one of the foregoing, it shall be void and shall not be counted. The marked ballot must be mailed to the clerk, and if returned in any other manner it shall be void and shall not be counted.

(ii) Qualified voters who, before the beginning of the period for absentee voting, make application for an absentee ballot on the ground of expected absence from the county of their residence on election day, and who expect to be absent from the county during the clerk's regular office hours for the entire period of absentee voting. The voter must state in his application that he expects to be absent from the county of his residence on election day and during the clerk's regular office hours for the entire period for absentee voting. The application shall be made not more than sixty days before the day of the election, and may be mailed to the clerk or delivered to him by the voter in person, but the clerk shall not furnish a ballot to the voter by any method other than by mailing it to him. Applications made under this paragraph may be mailed either from within or without the county of the voter's residence, but in every case the ballot must be mailed to the voter at an address outside the county. The ballot shall not be counted unless the carrier envelope in which the ballot is returned to the clerk is postmarked from a point outside the county and the affidavit on the carrier envelope is certified by an officer other than an officer of the county of the voter's residence.

(iii) Qualified voters who, after the beginning of the period for absentee voting, apply for an absentee ballot on the ground of expected absence from the county and who are absent from such county at the time of applying for an absentee ballot and expect to be absent from such county during the clerk's regular office hours for the remainder of the period for absentee voting. The voter must state in his application that he is absent from the county at the time of making the application and expects to be absent on election day and during the clerk's regular office hours for the remainder of the period for absentee voting. The clerk shall not mail a ballot to any such voter unless the envelope in which the application is received is postmarked from a point outside the county, and the ballot must be mailed to the voter at an address outside the county. The ballot shall not be counted unless the envelope in which the application is received and the carrier envelope in which the ballot is returned to the clerk are each postmarked from a point outside the county and the affidavit on the carrier envelope is certified by an officer other than an officer of the county of the voter's residence.

(iv) Qualified voters who are confined in jail under one of the circumstances listed in the first paragraph of this subdivision. The application for an absentee ballot shall be made not more than twenty days before the day of the election. It must be enclosed in an envelope and either mailed to the clerk or delivered to him by the jailer or one of his deputies or assistants, who shall place his signature on the envelope at the time of its delivery. The clerk shall preserve the envelope in which the application is received. If the application is delivered to the clerk by any method other than as expressly authorized herein, the ballot shall be void and shall not be counted. The clerk shall mail the ballot to the voter in care of the jail where he is confined; and if the ballot is furnished to the voter by any method other than by mailing it to him, or if it is mailed to any other address, it shall be void and shall not be counted. The marked ballot must be mailed to the clerk, and if returned in any other manner it shall be void and shall not be counted.

(d) An application for an absentee ballot to be voted by mail shall state the applicant's permanent address and the address to which the absentee ballot is to be mailed to the applicant, and shall also state the address to which his voter registration certificate is to be mailed back to him.

Application for Ballot

Subd. 2. (a) The secretary of state shall prescribe the form or forms for an application for an absentee ballot to be voted by personal appearance and of an application for a ballot to be voted by mail. The application for a ballot to be voted by mail shall be in the form of a postcard. Each clerk for absentee voting shall obtain and keep on hand a supply of the application forms to furnish to voters who request them. The secretary of state shall keep on hand a supply of the application forms for voting by mail and shall furnish the forms in reasonable quantities to individuals and organizations requesting them for use in furnishing the forms to voters who wish to vote absentee by mail. A voter desiring to vote absentee shall make written application on the appropriate form for an official ballot to the absentee voting clerk for the election in which the voter wishes to vote, which application shall be signed by the voter, or by a witness at the direction of the voter if for any reason the voter is unable to sign his name. The application shall state the ground on which the applicant is entitled to vote absentee, and in case of an application by mail, it shall also state the additional information required by Subdivision 1 of this section.

(b) The application shall contain a space for the voter to enter his voter registration certificate number or, in case the voter does not have his certificate in his possession at the time of making the application, to indicate whether the certificate has been lost or mislaid, has been left at the voter's home (where he is applying from a temporary address), or has been used for applying for an absentee ballot in another election (stating the nature and date of the election) and has not been returned to him. Before furnishing a ballot to a voter, the clerk shall verify the voter's registration certificate number, or in case the number is not stated on the application, the clerk shall enter it from the list of registered voters. If the ground of application is sickness or physical disability by reason of which the voter cannot appear at the polling place on election day, a certificate of a duly licensed physician or chiropractor or accredited Christian Science practitioner certifying to such sickness or physical disability shall accompany the application, which certificate shall be in substantially the following form:

This is to certify that I have personal knowledge of the physical condition of _____, and that because of sickness or physical disability he (she) will be unable to appear at the polling place for an election to be held on the _____ day of _____, 19__.

Witness my hand at _____, Texas, this _____ day of _____, 19__.

(Signature of Practitioner)

(c) Expected or likely confinement for childbirth on election day shall be sufficient to entitle a voter to vote absentee on the ground of sickness or physical disability, and a physician executing a certificate for a pregnant woman may state in the certificate that because of pregnancy and possible delivery she will be or may be unable to appear at the polling place on election day.

Any person who requests a physician, chiropractor, or Christian Science practitioner to execute a certificate for another person without having been directed by such other person to do so, and any physician, chiropractor, or Christian Science practitioner who knowingly executes a certificate except upon the request of the voter named therein or upon request of someone at the voter's direction, or who knowingly delivers a certificate except by delivering it to the voter in person or by mailing it to the voter at his permanent residence address or the address at which he is temporarily living, or who knowingly falsifies a certificate, is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not more than Five Hundred Dollars or imprisoned in the county jail for not more than thirty days, or both so fined and imprisoned.

(d) A voter who gives false information in his application for an absentee ballot is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished as provided in Section 347 of this code (Article 15.47, Vernon's Texas Election Code). Printed application forms furnished to voters by the county clerk shall contain the following statement immediately preceding the space for the voter's signature: "I certify that the information given in this application is true, and I understand that the giving of false information in the application is a crime." An informal application need not contain the statement, but a voter who gives false information is subject to the criminal penalty regardless of whether the statement appears on the application.

This is to certify that I have personal knowledge of the physical condition of _____, and that because of sickness or physical disability he (she) will be unable to appear at the polling place for an election to be held on the _____ day of _____, 19__.

Witness my hand at _____, Texas, this _____ day of _____, 19__.

(d) If the applicant is not currently registered through the registrar of voters, the clerk shall examine the information on the federal post card application, and if it shows that the applicant possesses the qualifications for voting at that election in the precinct of his residence, the clerk shall enter his name on a list headed "Absentee voters registering by FPCA for the _____ election held on _____" and shall also enter thereon the voter's local permanent address and election precinct number, the address to which the ballot is mailed, and the date on which it is mailed. The list shall be made up in duplicate and shall be kept up from day to day. After the election is held, one copy shall be filed as a record of the clerk's office if the clerk conducting the absentee voting is a county clerk or a city secretary or city clerk, and as a record of the authority which appointed the clerk for absentee voting in other instances, to be preserved for a period of two years, after which it may be destroyed. The other copy shall be placed with the records of the election which are delivered into the custody of the officer designated in Paragraph (a)(2) of Section 111b of this code (Article 8.29b, Vernon's Texas Election Code), to be subject to the same regulations as those records.

Voting by Personal Appearance in County-wide Elections

Subd. 3a. (a) In a county-wide election, or in an election less than county-wide where the authority holding the election has provided that absentee voting by personal appearance shall be conducted on a voting machine or that absentee paper ballots shall be counted by a special canvassing board, upon receipt of an application for an absentee ballot to be voted by personal appearance, if the clerk is satisfied as to the right of the applicant to vote, the clerk shall place a notation on the list of registered voters showing that the particular person has voted absentee and shall enter the voter's name on a poll list of absentee voters. The application shall be preserved in the clerk's office for the length of time provided by law for preservation of voted ballots.

(b) In the conduct of absentee voting under this subdivision, the clerk shall possess the same power as a presiding judge with respect to examination and acceptance of a voter. If the right of an applicant to vote is challenged, the procedure prescribed in Section 91 of this Code (Article 8.09, Vernon's Texas Election Code) shall be followed.

(c) Where paper ballots are used for absentee voting, after a voter has been accepted, the clerk shall furnish the voter with an official ballot which has been prepared in accordance with law for use in such election. The voter shall then and there, in the office of the clerk, mark his ballot and detach and sign the ballot stub, and shall deposit the ballot in a ballot box and the stub in a stub box in the manner provided in Section 97 of this Code (Article 8.15, Vernon's Texas Election Code). The ballots shall be deposited in a ballot box locked with two locks, the keys of one of which shall be kept during the period for absentee voting by the sheriff and the keys of the other by the county clerk. The stubs shall be deposited in a stub box prepared in accordance with Section 97 of this Code (Article 8.15, Vernon's Texas Election Code).

(d) Where a voting machine is used for absentee voting by personal appearance, after a voter has been accepted, he shall then be permitted to cast his ballot on the voting machine. Returns of absentee votes cast on a voting machine shall be made under the appropriate provision of Section 79 of this Code (Article 7.14, Vernon's Texas Election Code).

Voting by Personal Appearance in Election Less Than County-wide

Subd. 3b. (a) In an election less than county-wide in which absentee paper ballots are to be sent to the regular polling places for counting, upon receipt of an application for an absentee ballot to be voted by personal appearance, the clerk shall thereupon furnish to the voter the following absentee voting supplies:

(1) One official ballot which has been prepared in accordance with law for use in such election.

(2) One ballot envelope, which shall be a plain envelope, without any markings except the words "Ballot Envelope" printed on the face thereof, followed by the instructions contained in this subdivision and Subdivision 4 for marking the ballot, for placing it in the carrier envelope, and for returning a ballot to be voted by mail, together with a statement of the deadline for placing the ballot in the mail and for delivery to the clerk's office in that election, the text of the provisions in Subdivision 15 of this section which relate to assistance to the voter in preparing his ballot, and the text of Section 330 of this code (Article 15.30, Vernon's Texas Election Code). The textual material may be continued onto the reverse side of the envelope if necessary.

(3) One carrier envelope, upon the face of which there shall appear the words "Carrier Envelope for Absentee Ballot" and the name, official title, and post-office address of the county clerk, upon the other side there shall appear spaces for showing the nature and date of the election and the number or name of the election precinct in which the voter resides (which the clerk shall fill in before he furnishes the supplies to the voter), and a certificate in substantially the following form:

"I certify that the enclosed ballot expresses my wishes, independent of any dictation or undue persuasion of any person and that I did not use any memorandum or device to aid me in the marking of the ballot.

(Signature of voter)

By: _____

(Signature of person who assisted voter. See Ballot Envelope for restrictions and penalties.)

(b) The voter shall then and there, in the office of the clerk, mark the ballot, sign his name on the back of the ballot stub, detach the stub from the ballot, fold the ballot and place it in the envelope marked "Ballot Envelope" and seal the same. The voter shall then place the stub and the ballot envelope in the carrier envelope, seal the same and sign the certificate on the carrier envelope, and deliver the carrier envelope to the clerk.

Absentee Voting by Sick or Disabled Voter after Close of Regular Period

Subd. 3e. (a) The provisions of this subdivision apply only to county-wide elections and to elections less than county-wide where the authority holding the election has provided that absentee ballots shall be counted by a special canvassing board. In such an election, a voter who because of sickness or physical disability originating on or after the fifth day preceding election day will be unable to attend the polling place on election day may vote absentee under the procedure outlined in this subdivision. The voter shall make a written request signed by him, or signed by a witness at the voter's direction if the voter is unable to sign his name, and presented to the absentee voting clerk at his office, that the clerk send him a ballot by the person who presents the request to the clerk. The voter may select any person 18 years of age or older who shall not be employed by nor related within the third degree of consanguinity or affinity to any person whose name appears on the ballot, to act as his representative in presenting the request or delivering the marked ballot back to the clerk. No person may serve as the representative to present the request for a ballot or to deliver the marked ballot back to the clerk for more than one absentee voter in any election held under the provision of the Texas Election Code as amended. The voter's request must state in effect that sickness or physical disability will prevent the voter from appearing at the polling place on election day, giving the date of the election or otherwise identifying the election for which the ballot is requested, and that the inability to attend the polling place originated after the fifth day preceding the day of the election. The request must be accompanied by a certificate of a duly licensed physician or chiropractor or accredited Christian Science practitioner in substantially the following form:

"This is to certify that I have personal knowledge of the physical condition of _____; that because of sickness or physical disability he (she) will be unable to appear at the polling place for an election to be held on the _____ day of _____, 19____; and that the inability to attend the polling place originated after the fifth day preceding the day of the election.

Witness my hand at _____, Texas, this _____ day of _____, 19____.

The request must state in effect that sickness or physical disability will prevent the voter from appearing at the polling place on election day, giving the date of the election or otherwise identifying the election for which the ballot is requested, and that the inability to attend the polling place arose on or after the fifth day preceding the day of the election. The request must be accompanied by the voter's voter registration certificate or his signed statement (either separately or included in the signed request) that the certificate has been lost or mislaid, has been left at the voter's home (when he is applying from a hospital or other temporary address), or has been used for applying for an absentee ballot in another election (stating the nature and date of the election) and has not been returned to him. Upon receiving a request that complies with the foregoing conditions at any time after the close of business on the fourth day preceding election day and before 12 noon on election day, the clerk shall deliver to the voter's representative the balloting materials used for voting absentee by mail, but before doing so he shall record the representative's name and address on the request and shall require the representative to place his signature alongside his name.

(b) The clerk shall add to the list of absentee voters described in Subdivision 11 of this section the name of each voter to whom an absentee ballot is sent under this subdivision, with a notation that the ballot was sent to the voter through a representative, but the clerk is not required to include the names of these voters on the precinct lists of absentee voters sent to the presiding election judges.

(c) After receiving the balloting materials, the voter shall follow the procedure prescribed in Subdivision 4 of this section for voting absentee by mail, except that the marked ballot shall be hand-delivered to the clerk by the voter's representative instead of being mailed to the clerk. The ballot must be delivered to the clerk by the deadline for receiving ballots voted by mail. It must be delivered by the person who delivered the request to the clerk. Upon receiving the marked ballot, the clerk shall make a notation on the carrier envelope of the name and address of the person who delivered it and shall require the person to place his signature alongside his name on the envelope. The clerk shall then follow the same procedure as for a ballot received by mail. He shall return the voter's registration certificate to him by mailing it to his permanent address.

(d) A voter who gives false information in his request for an absentee ballot is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished as provided in Section 347 of this code (Article 15.47, Vernon's Texas Election Code).

Voting by Mail

Subd. 4. (a) The period for absentee voting by mail shall begin on the twentieth day preceding the date of the election. An application for an absentee ballot to be voted by mail must be received in the clerk's office not later than the close of business on the fourth day preceding election day. In county-wide elections and in elections less than county-wide where the authority holding the election has provided that absentee ballots shall be counted by a special canvassing board, the marked ballot must be received in the clerk's office before one o'clock p. m. on election day, except that in an election in which the offices of president and vice president of the United States appear on the ballot, the deadline for receipt of the ballot in the clerk's office is the official time of closing of the polls on the day of the election. In all other elections which are less than county-wide, the marked ballot must be received in the clerk's office before ten o'clock a. m. on the second day preceding election day. The ballot may be marked by the voter at any time after he receives it.

(b) On the twentieth day preceding election day, or as soon thereafter as possible, the clerk shall mail an official ballot, ballot envelope, and carrier envelope, as described in Subdivision 3b of this section, to each voter who has theretofore made application for a ballot in compliance with this section. On applications which are received between the twentieth day and the fourth day preceding election day, the clerk shall forthwith mail the absentee voting supplies to the voter.

(c) The voter shall mark the ballot, sign his name on the back of the ballot stub, detach the stub from the ballot, fold the ballot, and place it in the envelope marked "Ballot Envelope" and seal the same. The voter shall then place the stub and the ballot envelope in the carrier envelope, seal the same and sign the certificate on the carrier envelope. The carrier envelope shall then be mailed, postage prepaid, to the county clerk.

Counting of Ballots in County-wide Elections

Subd. 6. (a) In all countywide elections, and in elections less than countywide where the authority holding the election has provided that absentee paper ballots shall be counted by a special canvassing board, on the day of the election the ballot box and stub box used for absentee voting by personal appearance, the keys to the ballot box, the jacket envelopes containing the ballots voted by mail and accompanying papers, the poll list for absentee voting on which the clerk has entered the names of persons voting by personal appearance, and the list of registered voters used by the county clerk, shall be delivered to a special canvassing board consisting of a presiding judge and two or more election clerks appointed in the same manner as provided for appointment of the election officers for regular polling places at that election. The county clerk shall deliver the ballots to the canvassing board at such hour as the presiding judge shall direct, but not earlier than the hour at which the polls are opened and not later than the hour specified in Subdivision 4 of this section as the deadline for returning the marked ballots to the clerk's office. If delivered before the deadline, the clerk shall deliver in like manner to the board, immediately following the deadline, all ballots received by mail before the deadline which have not previously been delivered to the board.

(b) This special canvassing board shall open the jacket envelopes, announce the voter's name, and ascertain in each case if he is qualified to vote at that election and if he has complied with all applicable provisions of this section to entitle his ballot to be cast. On ballots voted by mail, the board shall compare the signatures on the application and the carrier envelope, and in case the board finds that the signatures correspond, that the application and the certificate on the carrier envelope are duly executed, that the voter is a qualified elector, and that he has voted in a manner authorized in this section, they shall enter his name on the official poll list (on which voters voting by mail shall be listed separately from those who have voted by personal appearance) and shall open the carrier envelope so as not to deface the certificate thereon, and shall place the sealed ballot envelope in the ballot box and the stub in the stub box. The carrier envelope, application, and accompanying papers shall be replaced in the jacket envelope and returned to the county clerk at the same time the voted ballots are returned, and shall be preserved for the length of time provided by law for the preservation of the voted ballots.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 6(c) to 6(f)]

(g) After the absentee ballots are counted, the ballot box containing the voted ballots and the returns and other records of the election shall be delivered to the proper officers as provided by law for regular polling places.

Records of Absentee Voters; Inspection of Applications, etc.

Subd. 11. (a) The county clerk and each other clerk for absentee voting designated in accordance with Subdivision 1a of this section shall maintain in his main office a complete record, in card-index or list form, of persons who have voted absentee by personal appearance and of persons to whom absentee ballots have been sent by mail (or, if authorized by some provision of law, have been sent by some other method of transmission). The record shall contain the voter's name, address, precinct of residence, voter registration number, a notation of whether the voter voted by personal appearance or was furnished a ballot to be returned by mail (or by other means of transmission, if authorized), and the date on which the voter voted, if by personal appearance, or on which the ballot was transmitted to the voter. The record shall be kept up from day to day.

(b) On or before the day preceding election day, the clerk for absentee voting shall deliver to each presiding election judge, in person or by mail, a list containing the name, address, and voter registration number of each resident of the precinct in which the judge serves, who has voted absentee by personal appearance or has been furnished an absentee ballot to be returned by mail. Before the hour for opening the polls on election day, the presiding judge shall cause the notation "absentee voter" to be placed by the name of each such voter on the list of registered voters to be used in accepting voters for voting at the polling place.

(c) The clerk's records of absentee voters and the applications for absentee ballots and accompanying papers shall be open to public inspection during the clerk's regular office hours, but under such reasonable rules and regulations as the clerk may adopt to safeguard the records and papers and to economize his own time. The clerk may require a person to present proof of identity before permitting him to inspect the records. The clerk must accept a current Texas voter registration certificate, Texas driver's license, or Department of Public Safety personal identification certificate as sufficient proof of identity.

Branch Offices for Absentee Voting by Personal Appearances
Subd. 14.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (a) and (b)]

(c) Any voter eligible to vote absentee by personal appearance in the main office of the clerk may vote in any branch office. The deputy clerk in charge of absentee voting at each branch office shall transmit to the clerk at the close of each day of absentee voting the names of all persons who have voted absentee in the branch office on that day, together with other necessary information as provided in Subdivision 11, for inclusion in the record of absentee voters maintained in the main office. During the period for absentee voting by personal appearance, the applications and ballots of persons who have voted absentee may be retained in the branch office or may be delivered to the main office from time to time, but all applications and ballots shall be delivered to the main office not later than one o'clock p. m. on the third day prior to election day. Except as otherwise provided in this subdivision, the voting in a branch office shall be subject to the same regulations as the voting in the main office.

Branch Offices for Absentee Voting by Personal Appearance in Counties Having a Population of More Than 1,500,000

Subd. 14a.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (a) and (b)]

(c) The list of voters who vote absentee in each election suboffice each day shall be available for inspection the next day both in the election suboffice in which the voter voted and in the main office, with the list of each election suboffice being maintained in the main office separate and apart from the lists of the other election suboffices. Each such list of voters shall be compiled in accordance with statutory requirements.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (d) to (e)]

Assistance to Voter; Use of English Language

Subd. 15. (a) No assistance shall be given a voter in marking his absentee ballot except where the voter is unable to prepare the same himself because of his inability to read the language in which the ballot is printed or because of some bodily infirmity which renders him physically unable to write or to see or to operate the voting equipment. If a voter who is voting by personal appearance is entitled to assistance, he may be assisted by the clerk or a deputy clerk or by any qualified voter of the political subdivision in which the election is held, selected by the voter. If a voter who is voting by mail is entitled to assistance, he may be assisted by any person 18 years of age or older, selected by the voter. The person assisting the voter shall not suggest, by word or sign or gesture, how the voter shall vote, and shall confine the assistance to answering the voter's questions, to stating the propositions to be voted on, and to naming the candidates and the political parties to which they belong, and the person shall prepare the ballot as the voter directs. Where any assistance is rendered in marking an absentee ballot other than as allowed in this subdivision, the ballot shall not be counted but shall be void for all purposes.

(b) In absentee voting by personal appearance at the clerk's office, any voter unable to speak or understand the English language may communicate with the clerk in some other language, and if the clerk is unable to speak or understand the language used by the voter or if he requests that the voter communicate through an interpreter, the voter shall be entitled to communicate through an interpreter of his choice, who shall be a qualified voter in the county. Before acting as interpreter, the person chosen by the voter shall take the following oath, to be administered by the clerk: "I solemnly swear that I will correctly interpret and translate each question, answer, or statement addressed to the voter by the clerk and each question, answer, or statement addressed to the clerk by the voter." When any language other than the English language is used either by the voter or by the clerk, any watcher present shall be entitled to request and receive a translation into the English language of anything spoken in some other language.

Art. 5.05b. Voting by Former Residents of State in Presidential Elections

Former Residents Eligible to Vote

Subd. 1. A former resident of this state who has become a legal resident of another state of the United States or of the District of Columbia may vote for presidential and vice presidential electors in the county of his former residence if:

(1) on the day of the election he will not have resided in the state of his present residence for a period of 30 days and will not be eligible to vote in that state, and

(2) he otherwise possesses the substantive qualifications of an elector in this state, as defined in Section 34 of this code (Article 5.02, Vernon's Texas Election Code), except the requirement of residence, and

(3) at the time of his removal he was registered as a voter in this state, and

(4) he complies with the provisions of this section.

Application for Presidential Ballot

Subd. 2. (a) A person eligible to vote under the provisions of this section may vote either by personal appearance or by mail. The voter shall make a written, signed application to the county clerk of the county of his former residence for a ballot permitting him to vote for president and vice president only, on a form to be prescribed by the secretary of state and furnished by the county clerk.

Procedure for Voting by Mail

Subd. 3. When a voter desires to vote a ballot by mail, the procedure for absentee voting by mail in a countywide election shall be followed insofar as it can be made applicable and is not inconsistent with this section. The clerk shall mail the voter a ballot from which the clerk has stricken all offices and propositions other than the offices of president and vice president, together with a ballot envelope and a carrier envelope containing such markings and instructions as the secretary of state prescribes. When the election officer checks the voter's name on the list of registered voters and enters his name on the poll list, the officer shall add a notation that the voter is voting under this section, in the presidential race only. The ballots cast under this section shall be counted and return made thereof along with and on the same forms as the other absentee ballots.

Procedure for Voting by Personal Appearance

Subd. 4. A voter may vote by personal appearance at the clerk's office at any time that the office is open to the public, beginning on the 20th day preceding the election and ending on the day of the election. When the voter appears in person, the clerk shall furnish him with a ballot, ballot envelope, and carrier envelope prepared in accordance with Subdivision 3 of this section, and the ballot shall be processed and counted along with the absentee ballots voted by mail.

Cancellation of Registration

Subd. 5. When the registrar receives a list of registered voters containing a notation that a voter has voted under this section, he shall cancel the registration if it is still in the active file in his records.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2089, ch. 682, § 12, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 5.05c. Voting Limited Ballot After Removal to Another County

Definition of Limited Ballot

Subd. 1. The term "limited ballot" is used to mean a ballot listing only the offices and propositions on which a voter is entitled to vote under the procedure outlined in this section during a period not exceeding 90 days after his removal from one county to another county within the state. The term includes the ballot for any election at which the voter is entitled to vote, even though at some special or runoff elections the ballot may be identical with the full ballot for that election. For the purposes of this section, the day of arrival in the county of new residence is counted as the first day after removal.

Who is Eligible to Vote a Limited Ballot

Subd. 2. (a) Where a registered voter moves from one county to another county in the state, during the first 90 days after the removal he is entitled to vote, under the procedure outlined in this section, on all offices, questions, or propositions to be voted on by the electors throughout the state, if on the day of the election (1) he would have been eligible to vote in the county of his former residence except for the removal, and (2) a registration in the county of new residence has not become effective. He may also vote on all district offices for any district of which he was a resident before the removal and continues to be a resident after the removal. The term "district office" refers to the district offices which are regularly filled at the general election provided for in Section 9 of this code (Article 2.01, Vernon's Texas Election Code). After a new registration in the county of new residence becomes effective, he must thereafter vote under the normal procedures for voters registered in that county. In no event may he vote under the procedure outlined in this section after 90 days following the removal.

(b) Voting rights and registration requirements in other elections after removal from one county to another are governed by Subdivision 3 of Section 50a of this code (Article 5.18a, Vernon's Texas Election Code).

Application for Limited Ballot; Procedure for Voting

Subd. 3. A person who is entitled to vote a limited ballot, as described in Subdivision 2 of this section, shall be permitted to vote upon making a written, signed application for a limited ballot to the county clerk of the county of his residence at the time of the election, upon an official application form to be prescribed by the Secretary of State and furnished by the county clerk. The voter shall state in his application that he was registered in the county of his former residence at the time of his removal, and he shall accompany his application with his voter registration certificate from that county or shall state in his application that the certificate has been lost or misplaced. The procedure for voting a limited ballot shall be similar to the procedure for absentee voting. If the voter meets the requirements of Section 37 of this code (Article 5.05, Vernon's Texas Election Code) for voting an absentee ballot by mail, he shall be permitted to vote the limited ballot by mail under the procedure for absentee voting by mail upon submitting both an application for a limited ballot and an application for an absentee ballot. Otherwise, he shall vote by personal appearance during the period for absentee voting by personal appearance and under the procedure for voting by personal appearance in countywide elections insofar as it can be made applicable and is not inconsistent with this section. Ballots cast under this section shall be counted and return made thereof along with and on the same forms as the absentee ballots."

Art. 5.05d. General Provisions on Voting by Persons Lacking Full Voting Rights

Record of Applicants

Subd. 1. The county clerk shall maintain in his office, for public inspection, a complete record of persons who have applied for a ballot under Section 37b or 37c of this code (Article 5.05b or 5.05c, Vernon's Texas Election Code), stating thereon the applicant's name, address, precinct of residence, the section of this code under which the application was made, and the date on which the ballot was delivered or mailed, which record shall be kept up from day to day. The record is subject to the same regulations as the record of absentee voters under Subdivision 11 of Section 37 of this code (Article 5.05, Vernon's Texas Election Code). The names of persons voting under Section 37c shall be included on the precinct lists of absentee voters which the clerk furnishes to the presiding judges of the election, as provided in Subdivision 11 of Section 37, with a notation by each name to indicate that the voter received a limited ballot under Section 37c.

Preservation of Applications; Inspection

Subd. 2. Applications and accompanying papers received pursuant to Sections 37b and 37c of this code (Articles 5.05b and 5.05c, Vernon's Texas Election Code) shall be preserved in the clerk's office for the length of time provided by law for preservation of voted ballots and shall be open to public inspection under the same rules as apply to applications for absentee ballots.

Art. 5.09a. Register of Voters

Subd. 1. Unless the county commissioners court makes a different designation as authorized in Section 41b or Section 56a of this code, the county tax assessor-collector of each county in this State is the registrar of voters in that county.

Subd. 2. The registrar of voters shall be responsible for the registration of voters, the keeping of records, the preparation of lists of registered voters, and such other duties incident to voter registration as are placed upon him by law. Any of the duties of the registrar, except the hearing of appeals on denial of registration and the hearing of challenges of registration, may be performed through a deputy or deputies. The registrar shall not make any charge against a voter for performing any duty incident to voter registration unless expressly authorized by law to do so. The registrar is authorized to administer oaths and certify thereto under the seal of his office in every case where an oath is required in complying with any portion of this code connected with his official duties. The registration records, the applications for registration, and the duplicate registration certificates on file in the registrar's office shall be open for public inspection at all times when the office is open.

Subd. 3. The expenses of the registrar in excess of the reimbursements received from the state under Section 51b of this code (Article 5.19b, Vernon's Texas Election Code) shall be borne by the county. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1497, ch. 609, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 5.09b. County Clerk as Registrar

Subd. 1. The commissioners court of any county in this state may designate the county clerk to be the registrar of voters for that county, by order recorded in its minutes. If some other officer is the registrar at the time the order is adopted, the order shall state the date on which the transfer of registration duties to the county clerk becomes effective. The commissioners court may rescind the order at any time after two years have elapsed from the date of its adoption, by a rescission order recorded in its minutes, to become effective on a date stated in the order. Thereafter, the duties of the registrar of voters shall be performed by the county tax assessor-collector unless the commissioners court establishes the office of county elections administrator and transfers the duties to that officer, as authorized in Section 56a of this code.¹ Within three days after the entry of an order transferring registration duties to the county clerk or after the entry of an order, rescinding an order of transfer, the county clerk shall send a copy of the order to the secretary of state and the comptroller of public accounts.

Subd. 2. In a county where the commissioners court has designated the county clerk to serve as the registrar of voters, all references to the county tax assessor-collector in Sections 3, 12, 64, 199, 301, 321, and 335 of this code (Articles 1.03, 2.04, 6.09, 13.21, 15.01, 15.25, and 15.35, Vernon's Texas Election Code), and in any other statutes pertaining to voter registration, mean the county clerk.

Subd. 3. Where the county clerk is the registrar of voters, the amount appropriated by the commissioners court for the registration duties of the registrar shall not be less than the amount previously appropriated to the county tax assessor-collector for the registration duties formerly performed by him, with additional appropriations, if required, to compensate for the effects of inflation and rising costs of supplies, equipment, and personnel.

Subd. 4. The secretary of state shall prepare advisory budgetary guidelines for the establishment and operation of a division of elections in the county clerk's office for administering the consolidated election duties of the clerk as provided in this section and for the establishment and operation of the separate office of county elections administrator as provided in Section 56a of this code. In preparing the guidelines the secretary of state shall consider and accommodate the differing needs of counties and their differing capabilities for financing the administration of the consolidated duties.

Art. 5.10a. Persons Entitled to Register

A person is entitled to register as a voter in the precinct in which he has his legal residence (i. e., domicile), as defined in Section 40 of this code (Article 5.08, Vernon's Texas Election Code), if:

- (1) on the date of applying for registration he is a citizen of the United States and is subject to none of the disqualifications, other than nonage, stated in Section 33 of this code (Article 5.01, Vernon's Texas Election Code); and
- (2) within 60 days after applying for registration he will be 18 years of age or older.

However, no person may vote at any election unless he fulfills all the qualifications of an elector for that election.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 750, ch. 296, § 1, eff. May 27, 1975.]

Art. 5.11a. Expired

This article, as amended by Acts 1971, 62nd Leg., p. 2509, ch. 827, § 3 and Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 751, ch. 296, § 2, provided for an initial registration period for permanent registration to begin on November 5, 1975 and continue through January 31, 1976. Subdivision 2 of this article provided: "This section expires on March 2, 1976."

See, now, art. 5.13a.

Art. 5.13a. Mode of Applying for Registration; Period for Which Registration is Effective

Subd. 1. Registration shall be conducted at all times the registrar's office is open for business. A person may apply for registration in person or by mail. Each applicant shall submit to the registrar of the county in which he resides a written application which supplies all the information required by Section 45b of this code (Article 5.13b, Vernon's Texas Election Code). The Secretary of State shall prescribe the application form. The application for registration by mail shall be in the form of a business reply postcard, or other suitable form, with postage to be paid by the state. The Secretary of State shall make necessary arrangements with the United States Postal Service for obtaining a permit for use of the business reply mail form, or other suitable form, and for payment of the postal charges through warrants issued by the comptroller of public accounts. The Secretary of State shall be authorized to use any form or system made available by the United States Postal Service if such other form or system will be less costly than business reply, and he shall be authorized to implement any procedures necessary to accommodate such other form or system. The application shall be available to individuals, organizations, businesses, and political subdivisions in reasonable quantities. No fee shall ever be charged for voter registration applications. The Secretary of State may prescribe one or more forms for use in counties using electronic data processing methods for issuing voter registration certificates and a different form for use in counties not using those methods, but the registrar in each county shall accept any application made upon any form prescribed by the Secretary of State which supplies all the necessary information for registration. In addition to other requirements, the application form shall contain the following statement: "I understand that the giving of false information to procure the registration of a voter is a felony." It shall also contain a space for recording the number of the voter's registration certificate.

Subd. 2. The application shall be signed by the applicant or his agent. However, if the person making the application is unable to sign his name either because of physical disability or illiteracy, he shall affix his mark, if able to do so, which shall be attested by a witness, whose signature and address shall be shown on the application. If a person making the application is physically unable to make a mark, the witness shall so state on the application.

Subd. 3. The husband, wife, father, mother, son, or daughter of a person entitled to register may act as agent for such person in applying for registration, without the necessity of written authorization therefor, may sign for the applicant, and may receive the registration certificate. However, none of these persons may act as agent unless he is a qualified elector of the county. No person other than those mentioned in this subdivision may act as agent for a person in applying for registration. Except as permitted in this subdivision, a person who wilfully acts as agent for another in applying for registration or in obtaining a registration certificate is guilty of a Class B misdemeanor.

Subd. 4. A registration becomes effective on the 30th day after the date on which the registrar receives the application or on the day that the registrant attains the age of 18 years (the day before his 18th birthday), whichever is later. An application by mail is deemed to have been received by the registrar when it is actually placed into the possession of the registrar or his agent by a post-office employee, or is deposited in the registrar's mail box, or is left at the usual place of delivery for the registrar's official mail. If the registrar is unable to determine the exact date on which the application is deposited in his mail box, he shall treat it as having been deposited on the date of the last previous removal of mail from the box. Every registration of a voter which becomes effective on or after March 1, 1976, shall continue in effect until cancelled under some provision of this code.

Subd. 5. Any person who applies for registration of any person, or who signs an application purporting to be the application for registration of any person, either real or fictitious, other than the person making the application or affixing the signature, or someone for whom he may lawfully act as agent, or someone who is unable to sign and who requests him to sign for such other person, is guilty of a felony of the third degree.

(2) The applicant's sex.

(8) The registrant's complete current permanent residence address (including apartment number, if any); or, if none, a concise description of the location of the registrant's residence.

(9) The address to which the registration certificate is to be mailed, but only if mail cannot be delivered to the registrant's permanent residence.

(10) If the application is made by an agent, a statement of the agent's relationship to the applicant.

Optional Information

Subd. 2. The application form shall contain a space for showing the election precinct in which the applicant resides, but an application is not deficient for failure to list the number or name of the precinct or for listing an incorrect number or name where the applicant's correct permanent residence address is given. It shall also contain a space for the applicant's social security number and telephone number, but an application is not deficient for failure to list these numbers. However, should it be made possible for the state to require that a registrant provide his social security number when applying for a registration certificate, the providing of such a number by all those applicants who possess such a number may be made mandatory by directive of the Secretary of State in the exercise of his authority pursuant to the provisions of Section 3, Texas Election Code (Article 1.03, Vernon's Texas Election Code). The registrar shall not transcribe, copy, or record any telephone number furnished on an application for registration. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 752, ch. 296, § 4, eff. Art. 5.13c. Voter Registration Forms in Spanish

The secretary of state shall prescribe a voter registration application form that is printed in Spanish. In each county in which five percent or more of the inhabitants are persons of Spanish origin or descent, according to the last preceding federal decennial census, the registrar shall keep a supply of these, and shall keep a notice in Spanish posted at the place in his office where voter registration is conducted, stating that application forms in Spanish are available. Registrars in other counties may also use this form if they wish to do so. Every registrar in the state is required to accept and process applications that are tendered to him on the bilingual form, in the same manner as other applications. [Added by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 513, ch. 213, § 2, eff. May 16, 1975.]

Art. 5.14a. Registration Certificate Forms; Issuance of Certificates; Information Required on Certificate

Registration Certificate Forms

Subd. 1. (a) The form for a voter registration certificate shall be prescribed by the Secretary of State. He may prescribe one or more forms for use in counties using electronic data processing methods for issuing certificates and a different form for use in counties not using those methods. A certificate form prescribed by the Secretary of State shall be valid for use only during a two-year period, such two-year period to begin on March 1 of even-numbered years, unless rescinded by the Secretary of State.

(b) The registration certificates for each county may be numbered or labeled in any manner which will enable the registrar to efficiently and accurately maintain the voter registration rolls. However, the Secretary of State may establish a standardized numbering or labeling system and require its adoption by the various counties.

Issuance of Certificates

Subd. 2. (a) When a properly executed application is received by the registrar, he shall make out an initial registration certificate in duplicate and shall mail the original copy to the voter at his regular mailing address, or if none, at his permanent residence address, in time for him to receive it before his registration becomes effective. The registrar may also deliver the original copy to the voter personally, or to an agent making the application under Section 45a of this code (Article 5.13a, Vernon's Texas Election Code). The duplicate copy shall be retained by the registrar. At the time he prepares the initial registration certificate, the registrar shall enter the certificate number in an appropriate space on the voter's application for registration.

(b) Between November 1 and November 15 of each year in which no general election is held, beginning in 1977, the registrar shall prepare and mail to each registered voter in the county as of the preceding October 31 a registration certificate for use during the succeeding two voting years. The certificate shall be mailed to the permanent residence address shown on the voter's registration application; or, if provided, the mailing address. It shall not be sent in the same envelope as the voter's tax statement. Attached to or made a part of the registration certificate shall be adequate space for the voter to insert any change of information other than that printed on the certificate. If the voter has noted such changes, the notice shall be signed and affirmed by the voter and returned to the registrar for correction of the records and issuance of a corrected certificate to the voter.

The registration certificate or envelope containing the certificate shall be marked with a direction to the postal authorities not to forward it to any other address and to return it to the registrar if the addressee is no longer at that address. In the event the certificate is returned, the registrar shall cancel the voter's registration. The registrar shall maintain a list of all returned and cancelled registration certificates showing the name, address, birth date, and registration number of the person to whom the certificate was issued. The list shall be kept in the registrar's office and shall be open to public inspection at all times during regular office hours of the registrar, subject to reasonable regulations and to proper safeguards against alterations, mutilation, or removal. The registrar shall furnish a copy of such list to any person requesting it and shall be permitted to charge One Dollar ($1) for each 10,000 names contained on the list, to be paid by the person so ordering such list. Any money collected pursuant to this subdivision shall be accounted for as official fees of office.

Prior to the succeeding January 15, the registrar shall send to the Secretary of State a list of all the persons, along with all corresponding information available and required by the Secretary of State, whose registration certificates were cancelled as a result of the provisions of this section. Such list shall be in computer readable form. The Secretary of State shall furnish a copy of such list to any person requesting it and shall be permitted to charge One Dollar ($1) for each 10,000 names contained on the list, to be paid by the person so ordering such list. Funds collected by the Secretary of State pursuant to this subdivision shall be used by the Secretary of State to defray any expenses incurred in the preparation of such list.

Any person who uses information obtained under this subdivision for any purpose other than informing voters about candidates for public offices or public issues or for voter registration purposes is guilty of a Class A misdemeanor.

(c) Each voter whose registration becomes effective after October 31 of an odd-numbered year, beginning with 1977, but before the following March 1 shall be issued an initial certificate valid for the remainder of that voting year and a certificate valid for use during the two-year period beginning the following March 1.

(d) A registrar of voters who knowingly issues, mails, or delivers a registration certificate to a person other than the applicant therefor or his lawful agent as provided in Section 45a of this code (Article 5.13a, Vernon's Texas Election Code), is guilty of a felony of the third degree.

(e) Any person whose registration is cancelled under the provision of this section shall be required to reregister in the same manner as an initial regis-trant. The secretary of state shall prescribe forms for the various documents required by this section.

Information Required on Certificate

Subd. 3. (a) Each certificate shall show the voter's name, permanent residence address, mailing address if any, sex, election precinct number, and if an initial certificate, the effective date of the registration. It shall contain a blank space for political party affiliation of the voter, to be completed as provided in Section 179a, of this code (Article 13.01a, Vernon's Texas Election Code). It shall not show the voter's telephone number or social security number. The certificate shall have a place for the voter's signature, and shall contain or be accompanied by a written instruction to the voter that the certificate is to be signed by the voter personally immediately upon receipt, if the voter is able to sign his name. Each certificate shall clearly indicate the two-year period for which it is issued, and shall contain a statement that the voter shall receive a new certificate every two years so long as such voter does not become disqualified under some provision of the election laws. Each certificate shall contain a statement giving notice that voting by use of the certificate by any person other than the person in whose name the certificate is issued is a felony. Voting by use of certificate which has been issued to another is hereby expressly made a felony of the third degree.

(b) Each certificate may contain a notice to the voter to correct and return the certificate to the registrar in case any of the information thereon changes or is incorrect. It may be accompanied by a more detailed explanation of the registrant's rights and duties under this code, including, but not limited to: a statement that his registration is permanent unless cancelled under some provision of the election laws; the procedure by which he will receive a new certificate every two years; the need to reregister if he moves to another county; the period during which he may vote a limited ballot after removal from the county; the need to notify the registrar to transfer his registration if he moves to a new precinct within the county; the period during which he may vote in his old precinct after removal to another precinct within the county; his right to vote without a certificate; and the procedure for obtaining a replacement for a lost certificate.

Art. 5.15a. Registration Files

Subd. 1. (a) The applications on which registration certificates are issued shall be filed in an active application file and shall remain in that file as long as the registration continues in effect. The active application file shall be maintained in alphabetical order by voter name for the entire county, except that if the registrar regularly obtains a list of registrants in that order through use of electronic data processing equipment, he may keep the file in numerical order by certificate number.

(b) The registrar shall also maintain an inactive application file. The registrar shall place in alphabetical order into this file all applications which are rejected. He shall also transfer to a separate inactive file the application of each voter whose registration is cancelled. The registrar shall enter on the application form the date on which the registration is rejected or the date on which the registration is cancelled before filing an application in the inactive file. The application shall be kept in the inactive file for a period of two years from the date of rejection or cancellation, after which it may be destroyed.

Subd. 2. (a) After the registrar adds a voter's name to the list of registered voters from the duplicate registration certificate, he shall file the duplicate in an active duplicate registration certificate file. An active file shall be maintained in numerical order for the entire county.

(b) When a registration is cancelled, the registrar shall enter the date of and reason for cancellation on the duplicate certificate and shall transfer it to an inactive file arranged numerically for each voting year. The duplicate shall be kept in the inactive file for a period of two years from the date of cancellation, after which it may be destroyed.

Subd. 3. Applications and duplicate registration certificates may be removed from the registrar's office temporarily, under proper safeguards, for use in preparing registration certificates, lists of registered voters, and other registration papers by electronic data processing methods, but they may not be removed for any other purpose. Except as permitted in the preceding sentence, the applications, and the duplicate registration certificates shall be kept in the registrar's office at all times in a place and in such a manner as to be properly safeguarded. The files shall be open to public inspection at all times during regular office hours of the registrar, subject to reasonable regulations and to proper safeguards against alteration, mutilation, or removal.

Art. 5.15b. Service Program of Secretary of State; Copies of Master State Voter File

Subd. 1. The secretary of state is hereby authorized to provide a service program to assist registrars in efficiently maintaining accurate and current lists of registered voters. Such service program shall provide for, but is not limited to:

(a) obtaining initial lists of registered voters and other necessary information from the registrars of voters in order to create master files of such information;

(b) obtaining periodic information from registrars and from any other available sources for the following purposes:

(1) to maintain the master files,

(2) to aid in the determination of the proper status of persons on the lists of registered voters,

(3) to aid in the determination of the proper registration information to be associated with each registrant;

(c) conducting the various procedures necessary or proper for the implementation of the service program by utilization of automatic data processing equipment or by other means;

(d) furnishing information which may be useful to the registrars in the performance of their duties;

(e) contracting with political subdivisions of this state to provide such other services as are necessary to the performance of the duties of election officials. Fees collected through such contracts shall be retained by the secretary of state to defray expenses of the service program.

Subd. 2. Implementation of this program shall be by directive of the secretary of state. The secretary of state shall make a full report to the legislature which convenes in January of 1977 of all steps taken to implement this program. He shall include in his report a description of any difficulties encountered and his recommendations, if any, for corrective legislation.

Subd. 3. Each March 1 and September 1 the secretary of state shall prepare a copy of the master state voter file on magnetic tape, which shall include each voter's county, voting precinct number, name, permanent residence address, mailing address if any, sex, year of birth, and registration number. It shall not include any voter's social security number or telephone number. The secretary of state shall furnish a copy of this tape to any person requesting it. Each person requesting a copy shall submit an affidavit that the information obtained will be used only for the purpose of informing voters about candidates for public office or about public issues, and will not be used to advertise or promote commercial products or services. The secretary of state shall provide the copy within 15 days of the date on which he receives the request. He shall exact a uniform charge against each person to whom he furnishes a copy of the tape. The charge shall not be greater than an amount deemed sufficient to reasonably reimburse the secretary of state for his actual expense in furnishing the copy, and in any event shall not exceed five cents per hundred names furnished.

Subd. 4. Any person who uses information obtained under Subdivision 3 of this section for any purpose other than informing voters about candidates for public office or about public issues is guilty of a Class A misdemeanor.

Sections 17 and 18 of the 1975 Act provided:

"Sec. 17. The secretary of state is hereby authorized to utilize any funds previously appropriated for the biennium ending August 31, 1975, for the purpose of publication of constitutional amendment explanatory statements, but which have not and will not be expended for that purpose, in connection with the implementation of the service program described in Section 7 of this Act.

"Sec. 18. Sections 1, 7, and 17 of this Act take effect immediately upon passage or as soon thereafter as permitted by law. All other sections preceding this section take effect on November 5, 1975."

Art. 5.16a. Correction of Errors on Certificates; Lost Certificates

Correction of Error

Subd. 1. When after issuance of a registration certificate it is discovered that an error has been made in filling out the blanks on the certificate through mistake of the registrar or through mistake of the voter in supplying the information, the voter may present the certificate to the registrar for correction and the registrar shall issue a corrected certificate and correct the information on the registration records on file in his office.

Error in Election Precinct

Subd. 2. Except as permitted in Section 50a of this code,¹ no person is entitled to vote in a precinct of which he is not a resident and an election officer shall not knowingly permit a voter to do so. However, where a voter is erroneously registered in a precinct in which he does not reside and the election officer permits him to vote without knowing of the erroneous registration, in an election contest a ballot cast in that precinct shall be given effect as to any offices or propositions on which the voter would have been entitled to vote in the precinct in which he resides unless it is proved that the voter intentionally gave false information to procure his registration in the wrong precinct, in which event the ballot is void for all purposes.

If an error in the election precinct has not been corrected at the time the voter offers to vote, he may vote in the precinct of his residence, if otherwise qualified, by making and leaving with the presiding judge an affidavit, in any form authorized by the secretary of state, that he is or has been during the previous 90 days a resident of the precinct and is voting only one ballot in this election and that the error was not intentional.

Cancelled Voter Registration Certificate

Subd. 3a. Cancelled voter registration certificate. For elections held between March 1 and no later than June 30 in even-numbered years, where a voter's name is not shown on the precinct list of registered voters but does appear on the precinct list of cancelled voter registration certificates, the election officer shall permit such voter to cast a ballot, provided such voter submits a completed voter registration application to the election officer and an affidavit that he still resides within the county for county administered and primary elections or within the municipality or other political subdivision if administered by such authority. In the event the runoff primary election occurs within 29 days after the date of the general primary, the voter may vote at the election under the procedure outlined in this subdivision, except that the voter shall inform the presiding judge that he voted under this procedure at a previous election, and the presiding judge shall note that fact on the application. When the registrar receives such an application, he shall attach it to the application previously received.

All affidavits required by this subdivision shall contain the content and be in the form prescribed by the Secretary of State. The date on which the election officer accepts an application is considered to be the date on which the registrar receives it, and the registration becomes effective for voting in other elections on the 30th day after that date.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 4 and 5]

Replacement of Lost Certificate

Subd. 6. (a) If a voter to whom a registration certificate has been issued presents to the registrar his signed statement that the certificate has been lost or destroyed, the registrar shall issue to the voter a replacement certificate as a single-copy document, showing the same registration number and the same information as shown on the original certificate. The registrar shall make a notation on the face of the certificate showing it to be a replacement. He shall attach the statement to the voter's application.

A person who states in a request for a replacement certificate that his registration certificate has been lost or destroyed, knowing the statement to be false, is guilty of a Class A misdemeanor.

(b) A replacement certificate issued after October 31 in an odd-numbered year shall be valid for use during the two-year period beginning on the following March 1. But it shall bear a notation that it may be used beginning on the date of issuance, except that a corrected replacement certificate shall be dated for use beginning on the 30th day following receipt by the registrar of the voter's old certificate or statement of loss.

Art. 5.18a. Change of Residence; Cancellation or Transfer of Registration

Change of Residence Within Precinct

Subd. 1. A registered voter who changes his place of residence within the election precinct shall give written notice to the registrar of the change of address and obtain a corrected certificate as provided in Subdivision 1 of Section 48a of this code (Article 5.16a, Vernon's Texas Election Code).

Change of Residence to Another Precinct Within County

Subd. 2. A registered voter who changes his residence to another election precinct within the county may vote a full ballot in the precinct of his former residence, if otherwise qualified, during the first 90 days after the removal, but not thereafter, in any election in which there is listed on the ballot any office or proposition on which he is eligible to vote at his new residence.

If he obtains a transfer of his registration to the precinct of his new residence during the 90-day period, he may vote only in the precinct of his new residence after the 29th day following the transfer. He may not vote in the precinct of his new residence before the 30th day following the transfer.

To obtain a transfer of his registration, the voter shall present the registrar with a written, signed request that his registration be transferred to the precinct of his new residence. Upon receiving a request for transfer, the registrar shall make the necessary changes on the registration records in his office and shall issue a new corrected registration certificate to the voter. He shall attach the request to the registrant's original application.

Change of Residence to Another County

Subd. 3. (a) A registered voter who moves from one county to another within the State must reregister in the county of his new residence in the same manner as an initial registrant. However, during the first 90 days after removal the voter may vote a limited ballot, as provided in Section 37c of this code (Article 5.05c, Vernon's Texas Election Code), if a reregistration in the county of new residence has not become effective.

(b) Where a registered voter who resides in a municipality or other political subdivision which is situated in more than one county moves from one county to another within the political subdivision, if the election precincts of the political subdivision are so constituted that the voter lives in the same precinct, he may continue to vote on the registration in the county of former residence at elections held by that political subdivision so long as that registration continues in effect. If he resides in a different precinct, during the first 90 days after the removal he may continue to vote in the precinct of his former residence at elections held by the political subdivision, on the registration in the county of former residence, if a reregistration in the county of new residence has not become effective.

Notification to Registrar in County of Former Residence

Subd. 4. When the registrar receives an application for registration of a voter who is registered in some other county, he shall notify the registrar of that county, giving him the voter's name, former registration certificate number if known, and former residence address. Upon receipt of notice, the registrar of the county wherein the voter was formerly registered shall cancel the registration in that county. When the registrar receives an application for registration of a voter who was registered in the previous two-year certificate period in any county and has not received a current registration certificate, he shall notify the registrar of that county, if different from the registrar's county, giving him the voter's name, former residence address, birth date, and social security number if available, and may also include a copy of the voter's signature. Upon receipt of such notice, the registrar of the county wherein the voter was formerly registered shall remove the voter from the list of cancelled voter registration certificates of the appropriate election precinct. If the voter's name is on a list of cancelled voter registration certificates in the county wherein he is attempting to register, the registrar of such county shall cause the voter's name to be removed from the appropriate precinct list. The name of any person shall not be removed from the list of cancelled voter registration certificates until such registration is effective.

Subd. 5. (a) The registrar may utilize any means available to determine whether a registered voter's current legal residence may be other than that indicated as the voter's legal residence on the registration records.

(b) Upon receiving information indicating that a registrant has a residence other than that shown on the registrant's registration records, or that indicates the existence of any grounds of disqualification other than death, the registrar shall send a notice to such person by forwardable mail at the permanent residence address or, if provided, the mailing address on the registrant's registration application and any new address of the registrant, if known, requesting a verification of the registrant's current residence address, or other relevant information which would be determinative of the registrant's right to retain his current registered status, and providing information of the necessity for the registrant to amend the registration records subsequent to a change in legal residence or to provide information establishing his right to retain his current registered status. The notice shall state that the registrant's registration will be cancelled if the registrar does not receive an appropriate reply within 60 days from the date on which the notice is mailed. If the registrant replies to the notice, the registrar shall take the appropriate action indicated by the reply. If no reply is timely received, the registrar shall cancel the registration. Notice of such cancellation shall be sent to the registrant at the new address, if it is known; otherwise it shall be sent to the residence or mailing address on the registration records. If the notice mailed to the permanent residence address on the registrant's application is returned to the registrar with no forwarding address information available, the registrar shall cancel the registration.

(c) In the event the registrar cancels a voter's registration pursuant to Paragraph (b) of this subdivision, such voter may, within 10 days after the date of cancellation by the registrar, request, in writing, a hearing before the registrar. The registrar, upon notice to the voter, shall conduct a hearing within five days of receipt of the request from the voter, or at any later time upon the consent of the voter. The registrar shall then determine whether to cancel the registration. The voter may appeal from a decision to cancel his registration to a district court of the county of registration within 29 days after the registrar's decision, and the decision of the district court shall be final. A voter who appeals a cancellation of his registration under the provisions of this paragraph may continue to vote until a final decision is made cancelling his registration.

Subd. 6. The Secretary of State shall prescribe forms for the various documents required by this section. However, the registrar may also accept and use forms other than those prescribed by the Secretary of State.

Art. 5.18b. Repealed by Arts. 1975, 64th Leg., p. 750, ch. 296, § 16, eff. Nov. 5, 1975

Art. 5.18d. Change of Name

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 1]

Subd. 2. If otherwise qualified, a voter whose name is changed is eligible to vote under the new registration at any election held more than 29 days after the registrar makes the change on the registration records. He may vote under the former registration at any election held within 29 days after the new registration, upon making an affidavit that his certificate of registration under the former name has been surrendered to the registrar. The voter shall sign the form for the affidavit of a lost certificate, and the election officer shall add a notation in explanation of the circumstances.

Art. 5.19a. List of Registered Voters

(1) The registrar shall prepare for each election precinct of the county a certified list of registered voters who are registered as of the 30th day prior to the first election in each voting year. Each precinct list shall be arranged alphabetically by the names of the voters and showing each voter's name, residence address, sex, date of birth and registration number. The Secretary of State may prescribe the content and format of the precinct list. The registrar shall deliver to each board, executive committee, or other authority having the duty of furnishing supplies for any general, special, or primary election to be held within the county during the voting year for which the list is prepared, one set of such lists for all precincts in the county if any election which may be held by such authority is countywide, and one set of such lists for all precincts wholly or partially within the boundaries of the particular political subdivision if all elections which may be held by such authority are less than countywide. The registrar shall also furnish to each such authority an updated supplemental list of the voters in each precinct who will have been registered for 29 days on the day of the election and whose names do not appear on the original list. In the event the prescribed combination form in accordance with Section 16 of this code¹ has been furnished, before the first day of absentee voting in any subsequent election held by the authority during that voting year, the registrar shall furnish to the authority in either the prescribed combination form or simple list form, another copy of the original list and an updated supplemental list of the voters in each precinct who will have been registered for 29 days on the day of the election and whose names do not appear on the original list, except that in the case of a runoff election the registrar may furnish a copy of the supplemental list prepared for the preceding election and a supplemental list of the voters who will have been registered for 29 days on the day of the runoff election and whose names do not appear on the original list or the supplemental list prepared for the preceding election instead of preparing a single updated supplemental list for that election. In every instance, instead of preparing a supplemental list or lists, the registrar may prepare a revised original list consolidating into it the names of the voters that would have been included on the supplemental list or lists.

With each supplemental list or revised original list the registrar shall also furnish a list of persons whose registration information has been changed or corrected or whose registration has been cancelled or transferred to another precinct since preparation of the last set of lists. The authority shall furnish to the presiding judge in each precinct the original and supplemental lists of voters in his precinct at the time it furnishes other election supplies. Prior to the opening of the polls, the presiding judge shall strike from the registration list the names of persons whose registration has been cancelled or transferred to another precinct, and shall correct the list for persons whose registration information has been changed or corrected.

Before the first day of April in each even-numbered year and whenever appropriate thereafter, the registrar shall attach to each list herein required an alphabetical corresponding certified list of all the persons whose registration certificates were cancelled, pursuant to the provisions of Section 46a of this code,² and such list shall remain attached to the election precinct list for three months thereafter. The precinct lists may be combined with the corresponding lists of cancelled registrations in accordance with the form and content prescribed by the Secretary of State.

(2) In addition to the lists to be furnished under Subsection (1) of this section, the registrar shall furnish without charge to each clerk having the duty of conducting absentee voting in any election the appropriate lists for use in the conduct of absentee voting for the election. He shall also maintain in his office for a period of three years one set of the original lists and one set of the supplemental lists prepared for each county-wide election, which shall be public records available for public inspection at all times that his office is open.

Art. 5.19b. Reimbursement of County by State

Subd. 1. Before April 1 of each year, the registrar shall submit to the Comptroller of Public Accounts a certified statement of the total number of new registrants, together with the total number of registration certificates which were cancelled under the provisions of Section 50a of this code (Article 5.18a, Vernon's Texas Election Code), during the 12-month period ending February 1 of the year in which the statement is submitted. Before April 1 of each even-numbered year, the registrar shall include, in addition to the above statement, a certified statement of the total number of registered voters shown on the precinct registration lists as of March 1 of that year.

Subd. 2. Before June 1 of the year in which the statement is submitted, the Comptroller shall issue a warrant to each county in the aggregate of the following amounts:

(1) 40 cents multiplied by the total number of new registrants, and

(2) 40 cents multiplied by the number of voter registration certificates cancelled under the provisions of Section 50a of this code (Article 5.18a, Vernon's Texas Election Code), as shown by the certified statement required by Subdivision 1 of this section, and

(3) when the total number of registered voters is supplied in accordance with Subdivision 1 of this section, 40 cents multiplied by the difference between the total number of registered voters and the total number of new registrants under this Act during the two 12-month periods prior to the statement in each county. However, before issuing a warrant the Comptroller may require additional proof to substantiate the certified statement.

Subd. 3. The Secretary of State shall determine whether the registrar has complied with the provisions of Section 46a of this code¹ and he shall notify the comptroller. The comptroller shall not issue the warrant provided for in Subdivision 2 of this section until notified by the Secretary of State that the registrar is in compliance.

Subd. 4. The disbursements prescribed by this section shall be made from the general revenue fund as provided by legislative appropriations. Art. 5.24a. County Elections Administrator

Subd. 1. Creation of office. In any county in this state, the commissioners court by order recorded in its minutes may establish the appointive office of county elections administrator of the county, who shall perform the duties and functions specified in Subdivision 3 of this section. The order of the commissioners court shall state the date on which the creation of the office of administrator becomes effective, but the date may not be earlier than March 1, 1979. The order may provide for placing the administrator-designate on the county payroll at a date not more than 90 days before the effective date for creation of the office so that he may make suitable plans for assuming his duties on the effective date. Within three days after the entry of the order, the county clerk shall send a copy of the order to each member of the county elections commission and to the secretary of state and the comptroller of public accounts.

Subd. 2. Appointment of administrator; county elections commission

(a) Composition of the commission. Where the office of county elections administrator is created in a county, the office shall be filled by appointment of the county elections commission of the county, which shall consist of the following members: the county judge of the county as chairman of the commission; the county clerk of the county as vice-chairman of the commission; the tax assessor-collector of the county as clerk of the commission; and the chairman of the county executive committee of each political party whose nominees at the last general election for state and county officers were nominated by primary election. In any county in which the offices of sheriff and tax assessor-collector are combined, the sheriff shall hold the position specified for the tax assessor-collector. In any county in which a party which nominates by primary election does not have a county organization, the membership of the commission is reduced accordingly. A majority of the total membership of the commission constitutes a quorum. The affirmative vote of a majority of the total membership of the commission is necessary for the selection of an administrator. Each member of the commission who is present at a meeting, including the presiding officer, is entitled to vote. Each appointment made by the commission shall be evidenced by a written resolution or order signed by the number of members necessary to make the appointment, and the resolution or order shall be filed as a public record in the office of the county clerk. Within three days after the filing, the county clerk shall forward a copy of the resolution or order to the secretary of state.

(b) Meetings of the commission. Meetings of the commission shall be called by the chairman. If the chairman fails to call a meeting within 10 days after the entry of the order creating the office of county elections administrator or within 10 days after a vacancy arises in the office, or if he fails to call a meeting by January 15 of an odd-numbered year, preceding the expiration of the administrator's term of office, the vice-chairman shall call the meeting. The person who calls a meeting shall set the time and place for the meeting and shall give written notice of the time and place to each other member at least three days in advance of the meeting date.

(c) Qualifications for administrator. (1) The person appointed as administrator must be a resident of this state but need not be a resident of the county at the time of his appointment; but after he assumes the office, he must maintain his residence in the county during his tenure in office.

(2) He must be a registered voter at his place of residence.

(3) He may not be a candidate for public office, as defined by Chapter 14 of this code, while holding the office of county elections administrator. Filing for candidacy constitutes an automatic resignation from the position of county elections administrator effective at the time of filing.

(4) He may not actively support or contribute to any candidate for public office, any officeholder, or any political party while holding the office of county elections administrator. Violation of this provision is a Class A misdemeanor and conviction produces automatic removal from office. A person so convicted is ineligible for appointment as county elections administrator in any county in the state.

(d) Time of appointment; rescission. The county elections commission may make the initial appointment of an administrator at any time after the entry of the commissioners court's order creating the of-office, regardless of the length of time remaining between the date of the appointment and the effective date of the creation of the office, and it may make an appointment to fill an anticipated vacancy arising from a resignation to take effect at a future date at any time after the resignation is accepted. After an appointment is made and accepted, it may not be rescinded without the consent of the appointee, regardless of any changes that may occur in the membership of the commission before the appointee assumes his duties.

Subd. 3. Duties of administrator

(a) Registration of voters. On the effective date of an order entered pursuant to Subdivision 1 of this section, or as soon thereafter as an administrator has been appointed and has qualified, the county elections administrator shall assume and thereafter perform all the duties and functions to be performed by the registrar of voters, pursuant to Section 41a of this code (Article 5.09a, Vernon's Texas Election Code).

(b) Conduct of elections. In addition to the duties and functions specified in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, the administrator shall perform all the duties and functions which are placed upon the county clerk by any provision of this code or any other statute of this state in connection with the conduct of elections, as more fully defined in Section 56b of this code.¹

Subd. 4. Salary of administrator; office staff; operating expenses. Where the office of county elections administrator is created, the commissioners court shall fix his salary, and shall also fix the number, grade, and salaries of paid deputies, assistants, and other persons that he may employ. However, the administrator may appoint unpaid deputies to assist in voter registration, as authorized in Section 52a of this code (Article 5.20a, Vernon's Texas Election Code), without the approval of the commissioners court. The salary of the administrator shall not exceed the salary paid to the county clerk of that county, and the salaries paid to his employees shall not exceed the salaries paid to the employees of the county clerk in comparable positions. The commissioners court may allow such automobile expense as it deems necessary to the administrator and to any of his employees in the performance of their official duties. The commissioners court shall make provision for furnishing the administrator with suitable office space and with the necessary equipment and operating expenses for the proper conduct of his office. The amount appropriated by the commissioners court for the administrator's office shall not be less than the amounts previously appropriated to the county clerk and the county tax assessor-collector for the duties formerly required of them but now assigned to the administrator, with additional appropriations, if required, to compensate for the effects of inflation and rising costs of supplies, equipment, and personnel.

Subd. 5. Term of office. The initial appointment of the county elections administrator shall be until the beginning of the first regular term thereafter. The regular term of office for the administrator is for a period of two years beginning on March 1 in each odd-numbered year. Between January 1 and January 15 preceding the expiration of the term, the chairman of the county elections commission shall call a meeting of the commission for the purpose of making an appointment for the succeeding term. Any vacancy in the office shall be filled by the commission for the remainder of the unexpired term. The administrator may be removed from office in the same manner and on the same grounds as provided by general law for removal of county officers or as provided for under paragraph (c) of Subdivision 2 of this section.

Subd. 6. Bond of administrator and deputies. Before entering into the duties of his office, the county elections administrator shall take and subscribe to the official oath and shall give an official bond in an amount to be fixed by the commissioners court, made payable to the county judge and approved by the commissioners court, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office. Either the commissioners court or the administrator may require his deputies to give a similar bond in an amount not exceeding the amount of the administrator's bond.

Subd. 7. Seal of administrator. The administrator shall provide himself with an official seal, on which shall be inscribed a star with five points surrounded by the words "County Elections Administrator, _____ County, Texas" (the blank to be filled in with the name of the county), for use in certifying documents which are required to be impressed with the seal of the certifying officer.

Subd. 8. Transfer of records. As soon as practicable after the effective date of the order creating the office of county elections administrator, the officer formerly serving as the registrar of voters shall transfer to the administrator all records and papers pertaining to voter registration, and the county clerk shall transfer to him all voting equipment and supplies of which the clerk has custody and all records and papers in his possession which pertain to an uncompleted election. The commissioners court shall determine which records of prior elections are to be transferred to the administrator and which are to remain in the county clerk's office.

Subd. 9. Abolishment of office. The commissioners court may abolish the office of county elections administrator at any time after two years have elapsed from the date of the order creating it by having an order entered into the minutes of the court to become effective at the expiration of the current term of the administrator. If the office is abolished, voter registration duties thereafter shall be performed by the county tax assessor-collector and the other duties shall be performed by the county clerk, except that the commissioners court may designate the county clerk to be the registrar of voters and to perform the duties assigned to the registrar, as authorized in Section 41b of this code.² Within three days after the entry of an order abolishing the office of county elections administrator, the county clerk shall send a copy of the order to the secretary of state and the comptroller of public accounts.

Section 11 of the 1977 Act provided: "Sections 3 and 4 of this Act take effect 90 days after the adjournment of the regular session of the 65th Legislature for the purpose of authorizing the creation of the office of county elections administrator and the promulgation of rules with respect to the duties transferred to the administrator, but an appointment to that office or a transfer of duties to the administrator may not become effective before March 1, 1979."

Art. 5.24b. Election Duties of County Clerk Transferred to County Elections Administrator

Subd. 1. (a) Where the office of county elections administrator is created, in addition to performing the duties of the registrar of voters, the administrator shall perform all duties and functions which are placed upon the county clerk by any provision of this code or any other statute of this state in connection with the calling or holding of elections, the preparation of ballots, the preparation and furnishing of election equipment and supplies, the conduct of voting, the canvass of election returns, the custody of voted ballots and other election records, the filing of instruments relating to primary elections, conventions, or other affairs of political parties, and the filing of instruments under Chapter 14 of this code (the Political Funds Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1975).

(b) The enumeration in paragraph (a) of this subdivision states the general guidelines for determining what duties and functions are to be transferred from the county clerk to the administrator. In order to eliminate possible uncertainties in several types of situations, the rules stated in Subdivision 2 of this section establish the division of duties in the specific areas covered by those rules.

(c) The guidelines and rules stated in this section apply in the construction of statutes enacted or amended after the enactment of this section as well as to those previously enacted, unless the statute expressly states that the county clerk is to perform the function in counties having the office of administrator as well as in other counties.

Subd. 2. (a) This subdivision states rules for the division of duties between the county clerk and the county elections administrator in a county which has the office of administrator.

(b) With respect to every meeting of the commissioners court, including meetings at which the only business to be conducted pertains to election matters, the county clerk shall continue to perform all duties regularly performed by that officer in giving notice of meetings of the commissioners court and making up the agenda for the meetings, in attending the meetings and making a record of the proceedings and preparing and maintaining the minutes of the court, and in filing and preserving copies of the court's orders. The administrator shall cooperate with the county clerk in supplying the information on election matters which are to be brought before the court, and he shall attend or be represented at the meetings of the court at which such matters are to be considered. The county clerk shall furnish to the administrator a copy of each order of the court which pertains to or affects any election, and the administrator shall maintain in his office a file of all such orders, in addition to the record maintained by the county clerk.

(c) Every reference in this code to the county clerk or the clerk of the commissioners court which relates to the performance of any function or the receipt or filing of any instrument by that officer is to be construed as referring to the administrator, except for Subsection (3) of Section 208 of this code (Article 13.30), relating to service of process on the county clerk in a contest of a primary election under certain circumstances. References to the clerk of the county court are not to be construed as referring to the administrator.

(d) Certificates and supporting documents filed under Subdivision 2, Section 8a (Article 1.08a) of this code for the exemption of election precincts from requirements for bilingual materials in primary elections and in elections held at the expense of the county are to be filed in the office of the administrator.

(e) When any statute, including Section 28 (Article 4.05) of this code, provides for the filing or posting of an election notice in the office of the county clerk, the notice shall be filed or posted in the office of the administrator. When a statute provides for the filing of proof of posting, publication, or issuance of an election notice in the office of the county clerk, it shall be filed in the office of the administrator.

(f) Under the supervision of the county election board, the administrator shall make the record of blank ballots furnished for an election which is required by Section 64 (Article 6.09) of this code and shall file the record in his office, in lieu of recordation in the minutes of the commissioners court.

(g) The administrator shall have custody of and be responsible for maintaining the book for recording in detail the results of elections, as provided in Section 116 (Article 8.34) of this code.

(h) When a statute provides that the return of an election notice is to be recorded in the minutes of the commissioners court, in lieu of that procedure the return shall be filed in the office of the administrator.

(i) When a statute provides that an order declaring the outcome of an election on a question or proposition is to be filed in the office of the county clerk, the order shall be filed both in the office of the county clerk and in the office of the administrator.

(j) When a statute provides for the calling of an election on a question or proposition by the commissioners court or the county judge upon the presentation or filing of a petition therefor, the administrator shall perform, in addition to the duties and functions directly relating to the holding of the election, all duties and functions which the statute places on the county clerk or the clerk of the commissioners court, either expressly or by implication, in connection with the filing of the petition and the determination of its sufficiency, and any other preliminary matters which precede the entry of the order calling the election.

(k) The application for issuance of a petition seeking a local option election on the sale of alcoholic beverages and the signed petition for the election shall be filed with the administrator; and the administrator shall perform all duties relating to the election which are placed upon the county clerk or the clerk of the commissioners court through and including the canvassing of the returns, the posting of the order declaring the result of the election where required, and certification of the results to the proper authorities. A copy of the order declaring the result of the election shall be entered of record in the office of the county clerk and a copy shall also be filed in the office of the administrator.

(l) When a statute prescribing the procedure for creation of a special district provides for the calling of an election as a step in completing the creation, in addition to performing the duties directly related to the holding of such an election after it is called, the administrator shall also perform all acts which otherwise would be performed by the county clerk in connection with all preliminary matters leading up to the entry of the order on whether the election will be called, including but not limited to the presentation or filing of the petition for creation of the district, the holding of any hearing on the proposal, the filing of any report or other document that is a step in the procedure, and the taking of an appeal from the order on whether the election is to be called. When the holding of an election is not one of the steps in the creation, the county clerk shall continue to perform all duties placed by statute upon that officer in connection with the creation of a district, including duties relating to a petition for its creation.

(m) The county clerk is the proper officer to receive and post copies of proposed constitutional amendments under Article XVII, Section 1, of the Texas Constitution. However, the secretary of state shall send an information copy of each proposed amendment to the administrator also.

Subd. 3. (a) In keeping with the general guidelines and the specific statutory rules stated in Subdivisions 1 and 2 of this section, the secretary of state shall promulgate rules, as necessary, classifying the various statutes according to which of the two offices of county clerk or county elections administrator is to perform the duties and functions prescribed therein. The secretary of state's classification has the force of law unless or until the legislature enacts a statute expressly providing for a different assignment of that specific function.

(b) The secretary of state may initiate the promulgation of a rule on his own motion, and he may promulgate rules at any time after this section becomes law, regardless of whether the office of administrator has yet been created in any county. Whenever the county clerk or the administrator in any county in which the office of administrator has been created is uncertain as to which officer should perform a function under a statute for which the secretary of state has not made a classification, the officer shall request the secretary of state to promulgate a rule classifying that function, and the secretary of state shall comply with the request as expeditiously as possible.

(c) In addition to other notice of a proposed rule or of an adopted rule which is required by law, the secretary of state shall mail a copy of each rule proposed under this section to the county clerk and the county elections administrator in each county having the office of administrator within five days after notice of the proposal is published in the Texas Register and shall mail a copy of each adopted rule to those officers within five days after the certified copy of the rule is filed in the secretary of state's office. However, failure to mail the notice to these officers does not invalidate any actions taken or rules adopted.

(d) Upon receiving notification of the creation of the office of administrator in a county, the secretary of state shall mail to the county clerk a complete set of the rules previously promulgated under this section; and upon receiving notification of the appointment of the administrator, the secretary of state shall mail a complete set of rules to the administrator.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the secretary of state may adopt an emergency rule under the emergency provisions of the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act¹ whenever a determination of the classification of a function is needed in a shorter time than that provided by normal procedures. The prior notice requirements prescribed in paragraph (c) of this subdivision do not apply to the promulgation of an emergency rule; however, notification of the adoption of an emergency rule is to be given in accordance with those provisions.

Subd. 4. (a) When an instrument which should be filed with the county elections administrator is mailed to the county clerk, or vice versa, the officer receiving the instrument shall make a notation thereon of the time of its receipt and shall promptly deliver it to the proper officer. If the statute does not specify that the instrument is to be filed with the administrator in a county which has that office, the misdirection does not prejudice the timeliness of the filing where time of mailing or time of receipt is material, and timeliness is determined by the time of mailing or the time of receipt by the officer to whom the instrument is addressed.

(b) When an instrument which should be filed with the county elections administrator is tendered in person to the county clerk, or vice versa, the officer to whom the instrument is tendered shall direct the person making the tender to take it to the proper office.

(c) Notwithstanding paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subdivision, where a statute specifies that an instrument is to be filed with the county clerk, without specifying that it is to be filed with a county elections administrator in a county which has that office, but the place of filing is changed to the office of the administrator by virtue of this section, if the county clerk accepts and files the instrument, the filing has the same legal effect as if the instrument had been filed with the administrator.

(d) Where a statute specifies that an action is to be taken by the county clerk, without specifying that it is to be taken by the county elections administrator in a county which has that office, but the officer to act is changed to the administrator by virtue of this section, action taken by the county clerk without objection from the administrator has the same legal effect as action taken by the administrator.

Subd. 5. Statutes prescribing criminal penalties against the county clerk or his deputies or other employees for acts or omissions relating to duties which are transferred to the county elections administrator are to be construed as applying to the administrator or his deputies or employees, as the case may be.

CHAPTER SIX. OFFICIAL BALLOT

Art. 6.01. Official Ballot

In all elections by the people, the vote shall be by official ballot, which shall be numbered and elections so guarded and conducted as to detect fraud and preserve the purity of the ballot. No ballot shall be used in voting at any general, primary or special election held to elect public officers, select candidates for office or determine questions submitted to a vote of the people, except the official ballot, unless otherwise authorized by law. At the top of the official ballot shall be printed in large letters the words "Official Ballot." It shall contain the printed names of all candidates whose nominations for an elective office have been duly made and properly certified. The names shall appear on the ballot under the head of the party that nominates them, except as otherwise provided by this Code. No name shall appear on the official ballot except that of a candidate who was actually nominated (either as a party nominee or as a non-partisan or independent candidate) in accordance with the provisions of this Code. The name of no candidate shall appear more than once upon the official ballot, except (a) as a candidate for two or more offices permitted by the Constitution to be held by the same person; or (b) when a candidate has been duly nominated for the office of President or Vice-President of the United States and also for an office requiring a state-wide vote for election. The name of no candidate of any political party that cast 20 percent or more of the votes for governor at the last preceding general election for that office shall be printed on any official ballot for a general election, unless nominated by primary election, on primary election day, except as otherwise provided in this code.

Art. 6.04. Removing or Substituting Names on Printed Ballots

Subd. 1. If the ballots for an election have already been printed when notice of a substitute nomination for an office is received, instead of having new ballots printed, the official board charged with the duty of furnishing the supplies for the election may make the necessary change in either of the following methods: (1) by having the ballots overprinted to blot or line out the name of the former nominee and to print above, below, or alongside it the name of the new nominee, if space on the ballot permits use of this method, or (2) by printing pasters or stickers bearing the name of the new nominee, to be pasted over the name of the former nominee.

Subd. 2. If after the ballots are printed it becomes necessary to remove the name of a nominee for whom a substitute nomination has not been made or to remove the name of an independent candidate in order to comply with Section 233 of this code, instead of having new ballots printed, the officer or board charged with the duty of furnishing the supplies for the election may make the change either by having the ballots overprinted to blot out the name of the candidate (and also the square beside the name in the case of paper ballots) or by furnishing blank pasters or stickers to be pasted over the name and square.

Subd. 3. When pasters are used, a paster shall be affixed to each ballot before the presiding judge of the precinct, or the absentee voting clerk, endorses his name on the ballot for identification, or before the opening of the polls where the voting is by use of a voting machine or a voting device to which ballot labels are attached. As used in this section, the term "ballots" includes ballot labels.

Art. 6.05. Form of the Ballot

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 1]

Subd. 2. The designation of the election (e. g., "General Election, Travis County, Texas") and the date on which the election is held shall be printed at the top of the ballot, above the words "Official Ballot." All ballots prepared for the election shall be numbered consecutively beginning with No. 1 in each county if the election is to be held in a single county or part thereof, or is to be held in more than one county or part thereof and the result in each county is to be canvassed separately prior to the final canvass. In elections held by a city or other political subdivision of the State, all ballots for the election shall be numbered consecutively beginning with No. 1. The numbers shall be printed or stamped in consecutive order on all the ballots prepared for any election, with a separate number for each ballot, at the time of printing and before they are divided up and delivered to the election judges.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 3]

Subd. 4. When presidential electors are to be voted upon, their names shall not appear on the official ballot, but the names of the candidates for president and vice-president, respectively, of the political parties shall appear at the head of their respective tickets, printed as one race, and the names of each set of independent candidates for president and vice-president, printed as one race, shall be printed at the head of the independent column in the order determined under Subdivision 3 of Section 61c of this Code (Article 6.05c, Vernon's Texas Election Code). The votes for presidential candidates shall be canvassed, counted, and returns made in accordance with Section 171 and Section 172 of this Code (Articles 11.02 and 11.03, Vernon's Texas Election Code).

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 5 to 7]

Subd. 8. When constitutional amendments or other propositions are to be voted on, they shall appear once on each ballot in uniform style and type. Each proposition shall be submitted by printing the word "FOR" and beneath it the word "AGAINST" on the left-hand side of a single statement of the proposition, with a brace or parallel horizontal lines or other suitable device to show clearly to which proposition each "FOR" and "AGAINST" belongs. A square shall be printed on the left-hand side of the word "FOR" and of the word "AGAINST" in the statements submitting each proposition, and the following instruction note shall be printed immediately above the propositions: "Place an 'X' in the square beside the statement indicating the way you wish to vote." The provisions of this subdivision shall supersede all existing statutes on the form in which propositions are to be submitted in all elections where paper ballots are used except local option elections held under the provisions of the Alcoholic Beverage Code, and shall also supersede any conflicting enactment passed by the 60th Legislature at its regular session unless such enactment expressly excepts it from the operation of this subdivision. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 557, ch. 194, § 3, eff. Sept. 1, 1977; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 649, ch. 240, § 6, eff. Aug. 29, 1977; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 657, ch. 247, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 6.05b. Order of Party Columns on the Ballot

In any election held at the expense of the county, in which party columns appear on the official ballot, the columns shall be arranged in the following order, beginning on the left-hand side of the ballot:

(1) columns of parties with state organization which have nominated candidates to be voted on at the election, arranged in the order of the number of votes cast throughout the state for each party's candidate for Governor at the last preceding general election for that office, with the party whose candidate for Governor received the highest vote being placed in the first column;

(2) columns of parties without state organization which have nominated candidates to be voted on at the election;

- (3) a column for independent candidates;
- (4) a column for write-in candidates.

If there is no independent or nonpartisan candidate whose name is to be printed on the ballot, the column for independent candidates shall be omitted.

Where voting machines are used in the election and the columns on the ballot are arranged horizontally, the columns shall appear on the ballot in the order herein provided, beginning at the top of the ballot instead of on the left-hand side.

Order of Names of Candidates

Subd. 3.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 3(a) and 3(b)]

(c) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this subdivision apply to every runoff election following a general or special election, except runoff elections which are governed by Section 81 of this code (Article 7.16, Vernon's Texas Election Code) and runoff elections in home-rule cities which have charter provisions specifying a different method for determining the order of the names on the ballot in a runoff election. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1682, ch. 664, § 2, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 6.06. How to Mark Ballot

In all elections, general, special, or primary, the voter shall place an "X" in the square beside the name of each candidate for whom he wishes to vote; provided, however, that if the voter places a plus sign (+) or a check mark (✓) or any other mark that clearly shows his intention, in such space, it shall be counted as a vote for that candidate, provided that no more names are thus marked than there are places to be filled. When party columns appear on the ballot, a voter desiring to vote a straight ticket may do so by placing an "X" or other clear mark in the square at the head of the column of the party for which he wishes to vote. If the name of the person for whom the voter wishes to vote is not printed on the ballot, the voter shall write in the name of the candidate for whom he wishes to vote, in the write-in column under the appropriate office title in elections where party columns appear on the ballot, and in an appropriate space under the title of the office in other elections; provided, however, that a voter shall not be entitled to vote for any candidate whose name is not printed on the ballot in any runoff election for nominating candidates or electing officers, and a space for write-in votes shall not be provided on the ballot for such elections. A voter shall also not be entitled to vote for any candidate whose name is not printed on the ballot in any other type of election where the law expressly prohibits votes for write-in candidates. In all elections where questions or propositions are to be voted on except local option elections held under the provisions of the Alcoholic Beverage Code, the voter shall place an "X" or other clear mark in the square beside the statement indicating the way he wishes to vote on each proposition. The failure of a voter to mark his ballot in strict conformity with these directions or failure to vote a full ballot shall not invalidate the ballot, and a ballot shall be counted on all races and propositions wherein the intention of the voter is clearly ascertainable, except where the law expressly prohibits the counting of the ballot. It is specifically provided that the election officers shall not refuse to count a ballot because of the voter's having marked his ballot by scratching out the names of candidates for whom or the statement of propositions for which he does not wish to vote.

Art. 6.06b. Write-in Candidate for Public Office; Declaration of Candidacy

Elections to Which Applicable; Procedure for Filing Declaration

Subd. 1. In the general election for state and county officers held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of even-numbered years, no write-in vote may be counted for a person unless that person files a declaration of write-in candidacy within the time specified in Subdivision 2 or Subdivision 3 of this section, whichever is applicable. The declaration shall be filed with the same person with whom an independent candidate for the same office files his application to have his name printed on the ballot. It shall contain the same information as that required on the application of a candidate whose name is to be printed on the ballot, but shall state that the person is running as a write-in candidate instead of requesting that his name be printed on the ballot.

Filing Deadline

Subd. 2. Except as provided in Subdivision 3 of this section, the declaration of write-in candidacy must be filed not later than 5 p. m. of the last day which is not a Saturday, a Sunday, or an official state holiday, preceding the beginning of the period for absentee voting in the election. The declaration must reach the office of the appropriate officer by that deadline, and a mailing without a delivery by the deadline is not sufficient.

Extended Deadline

Subd. 3. Where a candidate whose name is to be printed on the ballot dies or is declared ineligible to hold this office on or after the second day preceding the filing deadline stated in Subdivision 2 of this section, a write-in candidate may file his declaration at any time before 12 noon of the day preceding election day. Absentee ballots voted before the death or ineligibility or before the filing of the declaration of write-in candidacy shall be counted in the same manner as if the write-in candidate had filed under Subdivision 2.

Certification of Filing

Subd. 4. On a declaration which is filed under Subdivision 2 of this section, the officer with whom it is filed shall certify the name of the write-in candidate to the clerk for absentee voting in the election (or to each clerk, if there is more than one), before the absentee voting begins. On a declaration which is filed under Subdivision 3, he shall notify the clerk for absentee voting immediately if the period for applying for an absentee ballot has not expired. He shall also certify the name of each write-in candidate to the officer who is in charge of distribution of ballots to the presiding judges of the election.

Notification to Presiding Election Judges

Subd. 5. (a) Before election day, the officer having charge of distribution of the ballots for the election shall furnish to each presiding judge a sufficient number of copies of a list of the names of write-in candidates who have qualified under this section so that the presiding judge shall be able to comply with the requirements of Subsection (b) of this subdivision.

(b) Each presiding judge shall post a copy of the list of write-in candidates in the same locations where instruction cards are posted in accordance with Section 80, Texas Election Code (Article 7.15, Vernon's Texas Election Code) and Section 85, Texas Election Code (Article 8.03, Vernon's Texas Election Code), or in the same location where sample ballots are posted in accordance with Section 80, Texas Election Code (Article 7.15, Vernon's Texas Election Code) and Section 79, Texas Election Code (Article 7.14, Vernon's Texas Election Code).

Art. 6.07. Constitutional Amendments and Other Questions

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 1]

Subd. 2. A notice of each proposed constitutional amendment shall be published, under the authority of the Secretary of State, as required by Section 1, Article XVII, Constitution of Texas. The Secretary of State shall contract with the eligible newspapers for the publication of the notices; shall furnish affidavit forms, in duplicate, to be executed by the owner, editor or publisher of the newspaper, when two publications have been made; shall furnish one approved copy of each executed affidavit to the Comptroller, who shall then authorize the Treasurer to issue a warrant in the amount specified. Executed affidavits must be returned from the owner, editor, or publisher of the newspaper to the Secretary of State within 30 days from the date of the last publication; unless this time limit is observed, the Secretary of State shall refrain from approving affidavits for payment. Provided, however, if the Secretary of State deems it more expeditious or economical, he may make a written contract with any state-wide association of daily and weekly newspapers in Texas for the publication of the notices of such constitutional amendments in newspapers eligible to publish them. Such association shall cause such notices to be published in the eligible newspapers in the manner required by the Constitution; shall furnish such materials as are necessary for a correct and uniform publication of such notices; shall furnish affidavit forms, in duplicate, to such newspapers, to be executed by the owner, editor, or publisher thereof, when two publications have been made; shall make an itemized report to the Secretary of State showing the names of all the newspapers in which such notices were published, the number of column inches submitted to each publication, the cost of publication in each newspaper, together with a clipping for such newspaper, and any other information desired by the Secretary of State pertaining to such task; shall return within 30 days from the date of the last publication all affidavits executed by the owner, editor, or publisher of such newspapers, together with an affidavit executed in duplicate by the general manager of such association that the notices have been published by said newspapers as required by the Constitution, to the Secretary of State, who shall, after satisfying himself as to the proper publication of such notices, furnish one approved copy of the executed affidavit of the general manager of the association to the Comptroller, who shall authorize the Treasurer to issue a warrant in the amount specified to the association. The Comptroller and Treasurer shall forthwith perform their duties in this connection, so that undue length of time shall not elapse between publication and payment therefor. The Legislature shall appropriate a sufficient fund for such publication, such fund to be estimated by the Secretary of State.

Subd. 2a. (a) Where the Secretary of State contracts directly with the newspapers for publication of notices of proposed constitutional amendments, each newspaper which publishes a notice is entitled to be paid for the publication an amount computed at the rate of 85 percent of the newspaper's published national rate for advertising per column inch if the Secretary of State furnishes to the newspaper a copy of the notice in the form of a camera-ready paste-up proof, a matrix, or a printing plate, and an amount computed at the full rate of the newspaper's published national rate for advertising per column inch if the Secretary of State does not furnish a copy of the notice in that form.

(b) Where the Secretary of State contracts with a state-wide association of newspapers for the publication of the notices, the association is entitled to be paid an amount equal to the sum of the cost of publication in each newspaper, computed at the full rate of each newspaper's national rate for advertising per column inch. The commission retained by the association shall be on a percentage basis uniformly applied to all newspapers, and the percentage shall be stipulated in the contract between the Secretary of State and the association.

However, if a voter is unable to read the language in which the ballot is printed or if because of some bodily infirmity he is physically unable to operate the machine or to see, he may be assisted by two election officials, or by a person selected by the voter, who shall operate the machine so as to vote the ballot in accordance with the voter's wishes, and he shall be permitted to keep the curtain of the machine closed no longer than five minutes. Arrangement of Ballot and Write-in Vote in Certain Counties Sec. 16a.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (a)]

(b) In any election in which, pursuant to the authorization in paragraph (a) hereof, the ballot is so arranged that the write-in slot on the voting machine cannot be utilized, and the election is one in which write-in voting is permitted, a sufficient supply of write-in ballots as described herein shall be provided at each polling place. The ballots shall bear the heading prescribed in Subdivision 2 of Section 61 of this code, as amended (Article 6.05, Vernon's Texas Election Code), with the substitution of the words "Official Write-in Ballot" for "Official Ballot," and shall bear the following instruction note: "Do not cast a vote on the voting machine for the office for which you cast a ballot herewith by way of a write-in." The instruction note for the write-in ballot for a general election for state and county officers shall contain the following additional sentence: "If you pull the straight-party lever of a political party that has a nominee for the office for which you are casting a write-in vote, be sure to turn up the selector key by the name of the nominee before you pull the voting lever." Beneath the instruction note there shall appear the following:

FOR _____
(Name of write-in candidate)

For the office of:

(Title of office)

If an open write-in campaign is being conducted for more than one office, the ballots shall provide as many spaces as there are offices for which write-in campaigns are being conducted.

Each voter is entitled, but is not required, to receive one official write-in ballot. The procedure outlined in Section 93 of this code, as amended (Article 8.11, Vernon's Texas Election Code), shall be observed in the authentication and delivery of the ballot to the voter. After filling in the write-in ballot, the voter shall deposit the ballot in a ballot box prepared for that purpose in the manner provided for elections conducted by use of paper ballots. No write-in ballot shall be cast or counted for any person whose name appears on the ballot on the voting machine.

Provided however, that the following affidavit shall be signed by any voter who receives an official write-in ballot.

STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF _____

Before me, the undersigned authority, on this day personally appeared _____, who, having been by me first duly sworn, upon his oath, did depose and say:

Making Out the Returns and Proclamation of the Result

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (a) and (b)]

(c) If the machine is provided with a device which produces a printed record of the numbers registered on the counters, the procedure outlined herein shall be followed in lieu of the procedure set out above for preparation of the statements of canvass. The presiding judge, in the presence of at least two clerks and two watchers of opposed interest (if such there be) and of any other person lawfully present who wishes to observe, shall take the necessary steps to secure a printed record from each machine. Ample opportunity shall be given to all persons lawfully entitled to be present at the polling place to examine the printed record. The printed record shall then be signed by the presiding judge and two clerks and by two watchers of opposed interest (if such there be), certifying that the printed record was obtained from the machine designated thereon, and the certified printed record shall constitute the official statement of canvass for that machine.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 1]

Definitions

Subd. 2. As used in this section, unless otherwise specified:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 2(a)]

(b) "Automatic tabulating equipment" or "tabulating equipment" means any apparatus which automatically examines and counts voted ballots and tabulates the results.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 2(c)]

(d) "Ballot card" means a card which is used in conjunction with ballot labels and which is marked or pierced by the voter in the process of voting an official ballot.

(e) "Ballot labels" means a booklet or one or more pages or sheets of paper or other material containing the names of offices, candidates and parties, and statements of measures to be voted on, and which is used in conjunction with ballot cards.

(f) "Ballot" may refer to paper ballots which are counted by automatic tabulating equipment and which contain the matters to be voted on and the voter marks, stamps, or otherwise indicates his choices directly on the ballot itself, or it may refer to ballot cards, ballot labels, or combinations of ballot cards and ballot labels, or it may refer to ordinary manually-counted paper ballots, depending on the context.

Examination and Approval of Electronic Voting Systems
Subd. 3.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 3(a)]

(b) Before making and filing his report, the Secretary of State shall require the system to be examined by three examiners to be appointed by the Secretary of State for such purpose, one of whom shall be expert in patent law, one of whom shall be expert in electronic data processing, and one of whom shall be expert in election law and procedure, and shall require from them a written report on their examination, which shall be attached to the Secretary of State's report and kept on file. Each examiner shall receive one hundred and fifty dollars as his compensation and expenses in making the examination and report. Neither the Secretary of State nor any examiner shall have any pecuniary interest in any electronic voting system. When a system has been approved, every improvement or change must be filed with the Secretary of State. The Secretary of State may, at any time, in his discretion, reexamine an electronic voting system. Any electronic voting system not approved as herein provided cannot be used at any election in this state.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 4]

Adoption by Commissioners Court

Subd. 5. (a) The commissioners court of any county in the state may adopt one or more kinds of approved electronic voting systems for use in elections in part or all of the election precincts in the county or in part or all of the conduct of absentee voting, or both. If a particular system is not adopted for use throughout the county, the commissioners court shall designate the precincts in which such system is to be used, and any other authorized method of voting may be used in the remaining precincts. In any precinct designated for use of a particular electronic voting system, the voting in that precinct may be supplemented by use of some other authorized method of voting when in any election it appears that the number of available units of the system designated for use in that precinct is inadequate for that election; and the officer or board charged with the duty of furnishing supplies of the election may make such supplementation under those conditions.

(b) The commissioners court at any time may rescind or modify its previous order or orders adopting any electronic voting system and may discontinue use of the system altogether.

(c) The electronic voting system adopted by the commissioners court shall be used at the biennial general elections for state and county officers in precincts and for absentee voting as designated by the court for use of such system. In all other elections, general, special, or primary, the authority holding the election shall determine within its discretion whether the voting for the particular election shall be by use of such system or by some other authorized method of voting. The determination shall be made by the commissioners court in elections held at the expense of the county, by the governing body of the municipality or political subdivision in elections held by municipalities and other political subdivisions, and by the county executive committee of the party holding the election in primary elections of political parties.

Experimental Use of Electronic Voting Systems

Subd. 6. The commissioners court of any county in the state may secure, for experimental use in elections in one or more precincts or for absentee voting, without formal adoption thereof, any kind of electronic voting system approved by the Secretary of State, and its use at any election in designated precincts or for absentee voting within the period specified by the commissioners court for experimental use of such electronic voting system shall be as valid for all purposes as if it has been formally adopted; provided, however, that the period for experimental use shall not exceed two years from the date of the order authorizing its use.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 7 and 8]

Absentee Voting

Subd. 9. (a) When an electronic voting system has been adopted by the commissioners court, then the system may be used in any election for absentee voting by personal appearance or by mail, or both. The authority charged with holding the election may within its discretion determine by proper resolution or order whether or not an electronic voting system will be used for absentee voting by personal appearance or by mail, or both, at such election. If an electronic voting system is to be used for such absentee voting and more than one kind of system has been adopted by the commissioners court, the authority shall specify what kind is to be used.

(b) If the authority holding the election determines that an electronic voting system shall be used for absentee voting, the necessary ballots and voting equipment shall be provided in the clerk's office. The procedure for absentee voting where ordinary paper ballots are used shall be followed insofar as it can be made applicable. If an electronic voting system is used for voting by personal appearance and the absentee ballots voted by mail are counted manually, such ballots shall be counted by a special canvassing board as provided in Subdivision 6 of Section 37 of this code (Subdivision 6, Article 5.05, Vernon's Texas Election Code), except that the county clerk shall deliver the ballots to the canvassing board when the presiding judge so directs. The board shall also prepare the voted electronic voting system ballots for delivery to the central counting station in the manner provided in Subdivision 19 of this section, and such ballots shall be delivered to the central counting station and there tabulated, as provided in Subdivisions 19 and 20 of this section. The presiding judge of the central counting station shall add and attach the results of any manually counted ballots and attach the results of any write-in votes to the tabulation made on the automatic tabulating equipment, and shall make returns showing the totals thus obtained.

(c) When absentee ballots voted by personal appearance or by mail are to be marked with an ordinary pen or pencil in the manner that ordinary paper ballots are marked, and the absentee ballots are to be counted manually, the ballots shall be handled in the manner provided in Section 37 of this code (Subdivision 6, Article 5.05, Vernon's Texas Election Code) for the handling of absentee paper ballots, and shall be counted and tallied by a special canvassing board in the same way that ordinary paper ballots are tallied.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 9(d) and (e) to 10a]

Form of the Ballot

Subd. 11.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 11(a) to (b)(3)]

(4) Repealed by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 661, ch. 247, § 11, eff. Aug. 29, 1977

(5) In elections in which party columns appear on the ordinary paper ballot, the following method of showing party affiliations may be used in lieu of party columns. The title of each office shall be printed on the ballot followed by the names of the candidates for that office and their party affiliations, if any. Provision shall be made at the head of the ballot for voting a straight party ticket, and the candidate of the party which is printed in the first party column on ordinary paper ballots shall be printed in the first position under the office title, the candidate of the party which is printed in the second column on ordinary paper ballots shall be printed in the second position, and so on. Uncontested races may be listed separately from contested races under the heading "Uncontested Races," and may be voted on as a bloc.

(c) This paragraph (c) shall govern the form of the ballot to be used with electronic voting systems in which the names of offices, candidates and parties and statements of measures to be voted on are set forth on ballot labels and the voter records his vote by marking or punching a ballot card which is used in conjunction with the ballot labels.

(1) Ballot cards may be of such size, composition, texture and color (other than yellow, which shall be used for sample ballots only) and may be printed in any type of ink or combinations of ink that will be suitable for use in the automatic tabulating equipment in which they are intended to be placed. Ballot labels may be of such size, composition, texture and color (other than yellow) that will be suitable for the intended manner of use. Printing on the ballot label shall be of such size that it will be clearly legible when read by the voter in the manner contemplated by the voting system being used.

(2) Ballot cards may contain printed code marks or prepunched holes to assure that the card is properly positioned in the voting device, if the ballot labels are attached to a voting device, or to assure that the card is placed in correct reading position in the tabulating equipment, but the code marks or prepunched holes shall not be used in any way that will reveal the identity of the voters voting the ballots.

(3) The names of candidates, offices, parties and statements of issues to be voted on may be printed on two or more ballot labels. Where all candidates for the same office or all party columns cannot conveniently be placed on the same face of the same label, the candidates or columns may be carried on more than one page, but in such event the first page of the sequence shall contain a statement that the names of other candidates or other parties appear on the following page or pages. If the ballot is printed on more than one ballot label, different tints of paper, other than yellow, may be used for different pages of the ballot labels, and other suitable means may be adopted to facilitate the use of the ballot labels with the ballot card. When party columns appear on the ballot, there shall be printed at the head of the ballot the names of the parties and a space for voting a straight ticket.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 11(c)(4)]

(5) The ballot card may have attached at the top an unnumbered detachable stub, which may contain the designation and date of the election and the instructions for marking the ballot and depositing it in the ballot box. The stub shall contain an instruction to the voter not to detach the stub; however, detachment of the stub before the ballot is deposited in the ballot box does not invalidate the ballot card. The election officers who prepare the voted ballot cards for counting shall detach and discard the stubs at the time they examine the ballots as provided in paragraph (a) of Subdivision 19 of this section.

(6) If the number of candidates and/or propositions to be voted upon in any election exceeds the capacity of one ballot card, the ballot may be divided into parts and a different ballot card used for each of the separate parts, but in all cases where more than one card is necessary to accommodate the entire ballot, the names of all candidates for any particular office shall be placed on the same part. A separate voting device shall be provided for each part at each polling place. Each ballot card shall bear the ballot number, and other appropriate provisions may be made for identifying the related ballot cards. In lieu of using separate ballot parts for listing the ballot, uncontested races may be listed separately under the heading "Uncontested Races," with the name of each candidate appearing under the title of the office for which he is a candidate, and if the election is one in which party columns appear on the ballot, the party affiliation of the candidate shall be indicated by printing the name of the party which nominated him (or the word "Independent" if he is an independent candidate) after the candidate's name; and all such uncontested races may be voted on as a bloc.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 11(c)(7)]

(8) A separate write-in ballot, which may be in the form of a card, ballot, or envelope which the voter places with his ballot or ballot card after voting, shall be provided to permit voters to vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot.

(d) This paragraph (d) shall apply to the form of the ballot for all electronic voting systems.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 11(d)(1)]

(2) The statement of propositions and measures submitted to the voters may be abbreviated on the ballot if necessary, provided there is displayed at the polling place the verbatim statement on each proposition or measure as it appears on paper ballots. Abbreviation of matter to be voted on throughout the state shall be done by the Secretary of State.

Preparation of Ballot and Program

Subd. 11a. (a) The ballots to be used at an election shall be prepared and procured under the same regulations as ordinary paper ballots, except that the officer responsible for making up the ballot may determine the number of ballots or ballot cards needed for the election based on the turnout for similar elections in the past and shall confer with the programmer for that election before ordering the ballots printed, to make sure that the ballot is properly prepared for counting by means of the electronic tabulating equipment which will be used.

(b) The authority charged with the duty to provide ballots shall select a competent person to prepare the program for the electronic tabulating equipment. The programmer may be one of the persons appointed or approved by the commissioners court under Paragraph (b), Subdivision 20 of this section or some other person, but if the program is prepared by anyone other than the tabulation supervisor, it must be submitted to the tabulation supervisor for his approval at least 10 days before the election.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 12 and 13]

Assistance to Voter

Subd. 14. If a voter is unable to read the language in which the ballot is printed or if because of some bodily infirmity he is physically unable to operate the voting equipment or to see, he may be assisted by two election officers, or by a person selected by the voter, who shall mark the ballot in accordance with the voter's wishes. The provisions of Section 95 of this code govern the assistance rendered insofar as they can be made applicable.

Ballot boxes

Subd. 15. For each polling place where an electronic voting system is used, there shall be supplied two ballot boxes for the deposit of voted ballots, which shall be of suitable design and with a suitable opening for placing the ballots therein in such manner that the ballots will not be damaged or rendered unfit for counting on the tabulating equipment. There shall also be supplied suitable containers for transporting the voted ballots to the central counting station.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 16]

Conduct of the Voting

Subd. 17. (a) The procedure at the polls where voting is by use of an electronic voting system shall be the same as at polling places where paper ballots are used, except as provided in this section. Where the portion of the ballot to be marked by the voter consists of more than one page or ballot card, the related parts may be placed in an envelope or otherwise secured so that the parts will not become separated before delivery to the voter. When a voter selects his ballot, he shall be instructed to use only the voting equipment provided for marking the ballot and that he is not to mark his ballot in any other way and is not to place any other marks thereon, except for write-ins. After a voter has marked his ballot, he shall deposit it in the ballot box provided for the deposit of voted ballots.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 17(b)]

Procedure while Polls are Open

Subd. 18. (a) At any time after the expiration of one hour after the voting has begun, the presiding judge may direct the receiving officers to deliver ballot box No. 1 to the clerks preparing the ballots for the central counting station, who shall immediately deliver in its place ballot box No. 2, which shall be opened and examined and securely closed and locked; and until the boxes are again interchanged, the voters shall deposit their ballots in box No. 2. In this manner, ballot boxes No. 1 and No. 2 may be interchanged periodically as directed by the presiding judge, but the box for receiving the ballots shall not be exchanged and the ballots shall not be removed from it at any time before the polls are closed unless there are more than 10 ballots in the box. Once the box for receiving the ballots is delivered to the clerks preparing the ballots for the central counting station, they shall remove the voted ballots from the ballot box and carry out the procedures prescribed in Subdivision 19 of this section preparatory to making the ballots, envelopes, and other materials ready for delivery to the central counting station.

(b) The authority holding the election may in its discretion also provide that voted ballots of designated precincts shall be delivered by authorized election officials, in the presence of watchers, to a central counting station at stated intervals during the day and that the processing of such ballots in accordance with the procedures prescribed in Subdivision 20 may begin prior to the close of the polls. Such processing may be limited by the authority holding the election to procedures preparatory to the counting and tabulating of ballots, or the authority holding the election may also permit the preliminary counting and tabulating of ballots with automatic tabulating equipment; but in no event shall any results be disclosed prior to the close of the polls, and all persons connected with the handling and tabulating of the ballots shall be subject to the provisions of Section 105 of this code (Article 8.23, Vernon's Texas Election Code) with respect to revealing information as to the results of the election.

Procedure after Polls are Closed

Subd. 19.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 19(a) to (e)]

(f) After the election officers at the polling place have delivered all ballots to the central counting station, the ballot label assemblies and all other election supplies and records, including all duplicate certificates and unused seals, shall be delivered to the proper authority designated by law to receive them.

In all cities and towns in this State, whether incorporated under General and Special Law, (including home rule cities) having a population in excess of two hundred thousand (200,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding or future Federal Census the election of candidates for all municipal offices shall be determined in the following manner:

(b) In the event any candidate for either of said offices fails to receive a majority of all votes cast for all the candidates for such office at such election the Mayor of said city shall, on the first day following the completion of the official count of the ballots cast at said first election, issue a call for a second election to be held in said city within thirty (30) days following the issuance of such call, at which said second election the two (2) candidates receiving the highest number of votes for any such office in the first election at which no one was elected at said first election by receiving a majority of all votes cast for all candidates for such office, shall again be voted for. The official ballot to be used at said second election shall be prepared by the City Clerk or City Secretary and the name of no person shall appear thereon unless he was a candidate for the office designated at said first election, and the two (2) persons receiving at said first election the first and second highest number of votes cast for candidates for such office at such first election shall be entitled to have their names printed on said official ballot in the order of their standing in the computation of the votes cast for such candidates at said first election as candidates at said second election for such office; provided, however, that in the event any person who was a candidate at said first election and who shall be entitled to become a candidate at such second election shall fail to request that his name shall appear on the official ballot therefor at such second election as herein provided, the candidate for such office standing next highest in the computation of votes shall succeed to the rights of such candidate who failed to request that his name appear upon the ballot at said second election; provided further, that two (2) candidates for such office at said first election shall be entitled to become candidates therefor at said second election, which two (2) candidates shall be those two (2) among such candidates as shall stand highest respectively in the computation of all votes cast for all the candidates for such office at said first election as shall file written request to be placed on the official ballot as candidates for such office at said second election. In the event of a tie in the vote for the two (2) leading candidates for any office at said first election, said office shall be filled at a second election as herein provided for, at which such candidates so tied in said first election may again become candidates. In the event such candidates who tied in said first election, or either or them, shall fail so to do, the two (2) candidates for such office who are next highest in the computation of votes therefor and who desire to become candidates therefor at said second election shall be entitled so to do in order of the number of votes they respectively received at said first election. In the event of a tie between the two (2) candidates for any office at said second election, they shall cast lots to determine who shall be elected to such office.

Sec. 2. Notwithstanding any provision in Section 1 of this statute, when in any municipal election nominations have been made by one or more political parties and the names of the candidates are listed on the ballot in party columns in conformity with the provisions of this code applicable to the method of voting used in the election, if any party nominee is a candidate in a succeeding runoff election, the ballot for the runoff election shall also be arranged in party columns in the same relative order as they appeared on the ballot for the first election, omitting any column in which no candidate's name is to be printed on the runoff ballot. If all candidates whose names appear on the runoff ballot are independent candidates, the ballot shall be made up without party columns, and the names of the two candidates in each race shall be printed on the ballot in the order of their standing in the computation of the votes cast at the first election.

Sec. 3. Whenever any home-rule city whose charter provides for election of more than one member of its governing body from the same list of candidates attains a population in excess of 200,000 inhabitants, not later than the 90th day before the first regular election at which the provisions of this section are applicable, the governing body of the city shall assign a place number to each such position, identifying it by the name of the incumbent member at the time the designation is made; and thereafter one person to fill each such position shall be elected separately by place number until such time as the charter is amended to provide for some other method of election that is consistent with an election by majority vote.

Sec. 4. This law does not apply to any city whose charter provides for the selection of its officers by means of a preferential type of ballot or to any city whose charter requires that its officers be elected by majority vote and specifies the procedures for conducting a runoff election.

The 1977 amendatory act repealed former § 3 of this article, renumbered and amended former § 2 as § 4 and added new §§ 2 and 3.

Art. 7.17a. Secretary of State to Certify Voting Devices

(a) Any person, firm, or corporation owning or controlling any voting device or system and desiring to have the same adopted for use in this state may apply to the secretary of state to have such device or system examined under the provisions of this section if in the opinion of the secretary of state the device or system cannot be adequately examined under either Section 79 or Section 80 of this code (Article 7.14 or Article 7.15, Vernon's Texas Election Code). Before the examination the applicant shall pay to the secretary of state the sum of $450. The secretary of state shall cause the device or system to be examined as hereinafter provided and shall make and file and keep on file in the office of the secretary of state a report of such examination, which shall show whether the kind of device or system so examined can safely be used by the voters under the conditions hereinafter provided. If the report states that the device or system can be so used, it shall be deemed approved and the device or system may be adopted for use in any election held in this state. Before making and filing such report, the secretary of state shall require the voting device or system to be examined by three examiners to be appointed by the secretary of state for such purpose, one of whom shall be an expert in patent law and the other two shall be mechanical experts or electronics experts, as may be appropriate, and shall require each of them to make a written report on such device or system, which reports shall be attached to the secretary of state's report and kept on file. Each examiner shall receive the sum of $150 as his compensation and expenses in making an examination and report as to each voting device or system examined by him. Neither the secretary of state nor any examiner may have any pecuniary interest in any voting device or system. When a device or system has been approved, every improvement or change must be filed with the secretary of state. The secretary of state may, at any time, in his discretion, reexamine a device or system approved under this section. Any form of voting device or system not approved under either this section or Section 79 or 80 of this code cannot be used at any election in this state.

(b) A voting device or system approved by the secretary of state must be so constituted as to provide facilities for voting for such candidates as may be legally placed on an official ballot in any election in this state. It must also permit a voter in a general election to vote for any person for any office, whether or not nominated as a candidate by any party but whose name is legally on the ballot as an independent candidate, and must permit voting in absolute secrecy. It also must be so constituted that a voter cannot vote for a candidate or on a proposition for whom or on which he is not lawfully entitled to vote. It also must be so constituted as to prevent a voter from having his vote counted for more than one person for the same office, unless permitted by law, and at the same time preventing his vote from being counted for the same person twice. It must also permit each voter to vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, in any election and for any office where write-in votes are permitted by law. It must also permit the voter to vote by means of a single mark or punch or other appropriate act for all the candidates of one party or to vote a split ticket as he desires. No voting device or system shall be approved by the secretary of state unless he finds that it is suitable for the purpose for which it is intended, and that it will operate efficiently and accurately and provide adequate safeguards against fraudulent manipulation under the conditions under which it is intended to be used.

(c) In the event a voting system is approved under this section for which this code prescribes no applicable or suitable procedures concerning its use, the secretary of state shall, upon certification of such system, issue a directive prescribing the procedures, limitations, and conditions for the implementation of such system.

CHAPTER EIGHT. CONDUCTING ELECTIONS AND RETURNS THEREOF

Article

- 8.19b. Tallying Votes of Write-in Candidates [NEW].
 8.36a. County Chairmen to Send Lists of Elected Party Nominees to State Chairman [NEW].

Art. 8.07. Present Registration Certificate

No citizen shall be permitted to vote, except as provided in the Constitution of Texas unless he first presents to the judge of election his registration certificate unless the same has been lost or mislaid, or left at home, in which event he shall make an affidavit of that fact, to be left with the judges and sent by them with the returns of the election; provided, that, if since he obtained his certificate he removes from the precinct or county of his residence, he may vote on complying with other provisions of this Code. The affidavit may be incorporated into any combination signature roster and list of registered voters as prescribed by the secretary of state. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 592, ch. 209, § 4, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 8.08. Procedure for Accepting Voter; Signature Roster

Subd. 1. An election officer shall receive from the voter his registration certificate, when he presents himself to vote. If the voter has lost or mislaid his certificate or left it at home, he shall make an affidavit of that fact. For elections held on or after April 1 and no later than June 30 in even-numbered years, if any voter who is a resident of a county in a primary election or of a county, municipality, or district which is conducting any other election has failed to receive a certificate for the current two-year registration period, the election officer shall determine if the name of such voter appears on the list of cancelled voter registration certificates for the particular election precinct, and, if so, the election officer shall allow such voter to cast a ballot in the manner stated in Section 48a of this code. The election officer shall announce the voter's name in an audible voice and shall ascertain that his name appears on the list of registered voters or shall satisfy himself, in the manner stated in Section 48a of this code, that the voter is a registered voter and is entitled to vote in that precinct. He shall then require the voter to sign the signature roster provided for in Subdivision 3 of this section. If the voter has presented his registration certificate, the election officer shall compare the signature on the roster with the signature on the certificate to see that it is the same. If he finds that the signatures do not correspond, he shall not allow the voter to vote unless the voter complies with the procedure prescribed in Section 91 of this code for acceptance of a challenged voter.

Subd. 2. When a voter is accepted for voting, the election officer shall place a notation on the list of registered voters showing that he has voted and shall enter the voter's name on the poll list or shall use a combination signature roster and list of registered voters in the manner and format prescribed by the secretary of state. If a separate poll list is used, the names on the poll list shall be entered in the same order as the names on the signature roster. The officer shall return the registration certificate to the voter and shall allow him to select his ballot. The voter shall then immediately retire to a voting booth or a place prepared for voting by the election officers, and there prepare his ballot in the manner provided by law.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 3]

Subd. 4. Notwithstanding any other provision of this code which prescribes a criminal penalty, an election officer who knowingly violates any provision of this section shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail not more than 90 days, or be both so fined and imprisoned.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2079, ch. 681, § 20, eff. June 20, 1975; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 593, ch. 209, § 5, eff. Aug. 29, 1977; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1215, ch. 468, § 4, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 8.09. Vote Challenged

When a person offering to vote at any general, special, or primary election shall be objected to by an election judge or clerk, a poll watcher, or any other person, the presiding judge shall examine him upon oath touching the points of such objection, and if such person establishes his right to vote to the satisfaction of the presiding judge, he shall be permitted to vote, and the word "sworn" shall be written upon the poll list or on the prescribed combination form opposite the name of the voter. If upon his own oath the person fails to establish his right to vote to the satisfaction of the presiding judge, his vote shall not be accepted unless in addition to his own oath he submits proof by the oath of one well-known resident of the precinct that he is a qualified voter at such election and in such precinct. When such proof is submitted, his vote shall be accepted, and the word "challenged" and the name and address of the person testifying under oath as to the voter's qualifications shall be written on the poll list or on the prescribed combination form opposite the name of the voter.

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 593, ch. 209, § 6, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 8.13. Aid to Voter

Subd. 1. Not more than one person at the same time shall be permitted to occupy any one compartment, voting booth or place prepared for a voter, nor shall any assistance be given a voter in preparing his ballot, except when a voter is unable to prepare the same because of the voter's inability to read the language in which the ballot is printed or because of some bodily infirmity which renders the voter physically unable to write or to see, in which case two officers of such election shall assist the voter (with the aid of an interpreter, when necessary), they having first sworn that they will not suggest, by word or sign or gesture, how such voter shall vote; that they will confine their assistance to answering the voter's questions, to stating the propositions to be voted on, and to naming candidates and the political parties to which they belong; and that they will prepare the voter's ballot as such voter directs. If the election is a general election, the election officers who assist such voters shall be of different political parties, if there be such officers present. One or more watchers may be present when the assistance herein permitted is being given by election officers, but each watcher must remain silent except in cases of irregularity or violation of the law.

Subd. 2. Instead of being assisted by two election officers as hereinabove provided, a voter who is entitled to assistance may select any qualified voter residing in the precinct to assist him, and no other person shall be permitted to be present while the ballot is being prepared. Before assisting the voter, the person selected shall take the following oath, which shall be administered by one of the election officers: "I solemnly swear that I will not suggest, by word or sign or gesture, how the voter shall vote; I will confine my assistance to answering the voter's questions, to stating propositions to be voted on and to naming candidates and the political parties to which they belong; and I will prepare the voter's ballot as the voter directs."

Subd. 3. Where any assistance is rendered in preparing a ballot other than as herein allowed, the ballot shall not be counted, but shall be void for all purposes.

Art. 8.15. Deposit of Ballot

Subd. 1. After the voter has prepared his ballot, he shall fold it so as to conceal the printing thereon and so as to expose the signature of the presiding judge on the back of the ballot (except that ballot cards and certain other types of ballots used in electronic voting systems should not be folded), and then deposit it in the proper ballot box.

Subd. 2. The ballot stub to be signed by the voter and the stub box for the deposit of the signed stub, formerly provided for in this and other sections of this code, are eliminated by amendments enacted by the 65th Legislature at its regular session in 1977. All statutory provisions relating to the use of ballot stubs and stub boxes which appear in other statutes enacted at the regular session of the 65th Legislature, regardless of whether they are enacted before or after this amendment, or enacted at any prior session, except provisions relating to stubs attached to ballot cards used in an electronic voting system, are to be treated as void.

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 660, ch. 247, § 7, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Section 12 of the 1977 amendatory act provided:

"The statutory provisions relating to the preservation, examination, and destruction of ballot stubs which were in effect on the date of the election continue to apply to the ballot stubs for elections held before the effective date of this Act."

Art. 8.17. Bystanders Excluded

From the time of opening the polls until the announcement of the results of the canvass of votes cast and the signing of the official returns, the boxes and official ballots shall be kept at the polling place in the presence of one or more of the judges, and watchers, if any. No person, except those admitted to vote, shall be admitted within the room where the election is being held, except the judges, clerks, persons admitted by the presiding judge to preserve order, inspectors, watchers, and children under 10 years old who accompany a parent who is admitted to vote. Notwithstanding any other provision of this code, the child or children may also be present in the voting booth or compartment while the parent is voting.

Art. 8.19b. Tallying Votes for Write-in Candidates

In the general election for state and county officers held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of even-numbered years, before the counting begins the presiding judge shall furnish the counting officers with the list of write-in candidates who have qualified for the election as provided in Section 62b of this code.¹ Only the names of the candidates printed on the ballot and the names of write-in candidates appearing on the list shall be entered on the tally sheets, and a write-in vote for any other person shall not be tallied.

Art. 8.22. Death or Ineligibility of Candidate Before Election

(a) When the name of a deceased or ineligible candidate is printed on the ballot for a general or special election, as provided in Section 233 of this code,¹ the votes cast for him shall be counted and return made thereof; and if he receives a plurality of the votes cast for the office where a plurality is sufficient for election, or if he receives a majority of the votes cast for the office where a majority is required for election, the vacancy shall be filled as in the case of a vacancy occurring after the election. If he is one of the two highest candidates in an election where a majority is required and no one has a majority, the two candidates with the highest votes other than the deceased or ineligible candidate shall be certified as the two highest candidates for the runoff election.

(b) If after the 45th day preceding the first primary election, a candidate in that primary dies or is declared ineligible to be elected to the office, his name shall be printed on the first primary ballot and the ballots cast for him shall be counted and a return made thereof. If such a deceased or ineligible candidate receives a majority of the votes, the proper executive committee shall choose a nominee and certify such name to the proper officer, as provided in Section 233 of this code, to be printed on the general election ballot. If such a deceased or ineligible candidate is one of the two highest candidates in that race in the first primary and if no one has a majority vote, the two candidates with the highest votes, other than the deceased or ineligible candidate, shall be certified to have their names printed on the second primary ballot. If a candidate whose name is to appear on the second primary ballot dies between the dates of the first and second primaries, his name shall be printed on the second primary ballot and the votes cast for him shall be counted and returned for him; and if such a deceased candidate receives a majority of the votes in the second primary, the proper executive committee shall choose a nominee and certify his name to the proper officer, as provided in Section 233 of this code, to be printed on the general election ballot. Withdrawal of a candidate in the second primary is regulated by Section 204a of this code.

Art. 8.29b. Copies of Returns, Poll Lists or Combination Forms, and Tally Lists; Distribution

(a) In precincts using paper ballots. In all general, special, and primary elections, the number of copies of the returns, poll list or prescribed combination form, and tally list required for each precinct in which paper ballots are used shall be as follows: four copies of the returns, three copies of the poll list or prescribed combination form, and three copies of the tally list. These records shall be distributed as follows:

(1) One copy of the returns and tally list shall be delivered to the presiding officer of the authority which canvasses the returns (the county judge in elections held by the county; the mayor in city elections; the presiding officer of the governing board in elections held by other political subdivisions; and the chairman of the county executive committee in county primary elections) and shall be preserved by the canvassing authority for sixty days from the day of the election.

(2) One copy of the returns, poll list, or prescribed combination form, and tally list shall be delivered to the proper officer (the county clerk in elections held by the county and in county primary elections; the city secretary or clerk in municipal elections; and the presiding officer of the governing board in elections held by other political subdivisions), to be kept by him in his office open to inspection by the public for sixty days from the day of the election.

(3) One copy of the returns, poll list, or prescribed combination form, and tally list shall be placed in the ballot box containing the voted ballots.

(4) The presiding judge shall retain in his custody one copy of the returns and one copy of the poll list or prescribed combination form of the election, and shall keep the same for sixty days after the day of the election, subject to the inspection of anyone interested in such election.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (b) and (c)]

(d) The presiding judge shall deliver all applications for registration received pursuant to Section 48a of this code¹ to the officer who receives the election records that are open to public inspection at the same time that he delivers those records. Within five days after the election, this latter officer shall forward the applications from all election precincts to the county registrar of voters, who shall process the applications and issue registration certificates thereon in the same manner as other applications.

Art. 9.38b. Compelling Voter to Testify how He Voted

In an election contest or criminal proceeding in which the issue is relevant, any voter who fraudulently or illegally casts a ballot or who casts a fraudulent or illegal ballot at any general, special, or primary election may be required and compelled, after the fraud or illegality has been established by competent evidence before a tribunal of competent jurisdiction, to disclose in testimony before the tribunal having jurisdiction of the matter the name of any candidate for whom he voted and the way he voted on any question at the election. The voter's testimony may be impeached by the testimony of other witnesses in regard to statements by the voter, either before or after the election, or by other competent evidence; and the issue of how the voter voted shall be decided on the basis of all the evidence before the tribunal. In an election contest, instead of undertaking to determine how individual voters voted, the tribunal may declare the election void and order another election if the number of illegal votes is sufficient to change the outcome of the election. This section applies to election contests and criminal proceedings instituted under any provision of this code or under any other statute of this state.

CHAPTER ELEVEN. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION

Article

11.01b. Independent Candidate for President [NEW].

11.01c. Write-in Candidate for President.

Art. 11.01. Time of Election; Qualifications of Electors

Subd. 1. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November in the year 1980 and every four years thereafter, there shall be elected by the voters of the State as many electors for President and Vice-President of the United States as the State of Texas may at that time be entitled to elect.

Subd. 2. Each elector at the time of nomination as a presidential elector candidate, at the time of election, and at the time of the convening of the electors must be a registered, qualified voter of this state and must not hold the office of senator or representative in congress, or any office of trust or profit under the United States.

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 647, ch. 240, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 11.01b. Independent Candidate for President

Subd. 1. Any person eligible to hold the office of President of the United States may have his name and the name of a vice-presidential running mate printed on the ballot as independent candidates in the presidential race by complying with the provisions of this section.

Subd. 2. A person desiring to become an independent candidate for president shall file with the Secretary of State, not later than the second Monday in July before the general election at which his name will appear on the ballot:

- (1) an application to have his name and the name of an eligible vice-presidential candidate as his running mate printed on the ballot on a form prescribed by the Secretary of State;
- (2) the signed written consent of the person designated as the vice-presidential candidate to have his name printed on the ballot in that capacity;
- (3) a list of the names and addresses of persons to represent the applicant as presidential elector candidates in the number to be elected, together with the signed written consent of each such person to become a candidate; and
- (4) a petition of voters signed by qualified voters of the state in a number equal to not less than one percent of the entire vote of the state cast for president and vice-president at the last preceding presidential general election.

Subd. 3. A petition may not be circulated for signatures until after the date of the general primary election in that election year, and any signature obtained on or before that date is void. A voter who voted in the general primary of any political party that held a presidential primary that year is ineligible to sign the petition of an independent candidate for president. The following statement shall appear at the head of each page of a petition: "I certify that I did not vote this year in the general primary election of any political party that held a presidential primary."

Subd. 4. The Secretary of State shall prescribe the form for the petition of voters to be filed by an independent candidate for president. For each signer the petition shall show the signer's address, the county of issuance and number of his voter registration certificate, and the date of signing. The petition may be in multiple parts. To each part shall be attached an affidavit of the person who circulated it, stating that he witnessed the affixing of each signature, that he called the attention of each signer to the statement at the head of the page before the person signed the petition, that the correct date of signing is shown on the petition, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief each signature is the genuine signature of the person whose name is signed. A petition so verified is prima facie evidence that the signatures thereon are genuine and that the persons signing it are registered voters. [Added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 647, ch. 240, § 2, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 11.01c. Write-in Candidate for President

Subd. 1. Any person eligible to hold the office of President of the United States may become a write-in candidate for the office by complying with the provisions of this section. No write-in vote cast for the office may be counted unless the person whose name is written in has complied with these requirements. The Secretary of State shall certify to the county clerks the names of write-in candidates who have complied with this section at the same time that he certifies the names of the presidential candidates to be printed on the ballot.

Subd. 2. A person desiring to become a write-in candidate for president shall file with the Secretary of State, not later than the 45th day before the general election:

(1) a declaration that he is a write-in candidate for the office of president;

(2) the name of an eligible vice-presidential candidate as his running mate and the signed written consent of that person to the candidacy; and

(3) a list of the names and addressees of persons to represent the write-in presidential candidate as presidential elector candidates in the number to be elected, together with the signed written consent of each such person to become a candidate.

[Added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 648, ch. 240, § 3, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 11.02. Effect of Votes for Presidential Candidates

A vote for the set of candidates of any political party or for a set of independent or write-in candidates for both President and Vice-President of the United States shall be conclusively deemed to be a vote for the presidential elector candidates representing that party or that set of independent or write-in candidates, and shall be so counted and recorded for such electors as the state shall be empowered to elect. No vote shall be counted unless the voter has cast his vote for both the candidate for President and the candidate for Vice-President of the same political party or set of independent candidates. A ballot on which a voter has written in the name of a presidential candidate who has filed a declaration of write-in candidacy in accordance with this section shall be counted as a vote for the presidential elector candidates representing that write-in candidate, regardless of whether the name of the corresponding vice-presidential candidate is written in.

Art. 11.03. Canvass of Votes and Returns

The canvass of the votes for candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States and the returns thereof shall be a canvass and return of the votes cast for the electors of the same party or set of independent or write-in candidates, respectively, and the certificate of such election made by the Governor shall be in accord with such return.

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 649, ch. 240, § 5, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 11.04. Certification of Candidates

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (1) to (3)]

(4) An applicant for party affiliation shall become a qualified member of a political party which is holding primary elections when he has voted within that party's primary or has taken part in a convention of that party prior to a primary. At the head of the signature roster for each primary election there shall be printed the following statement: "I swear that I have not voted at a primary election or participated in a convention of any other political party during this voting year." The presiding judge or another election officer designated by him shall place each voter under oath and require him to swear to this statement before he signs the roster. The first time a voter presents his voter registration certificate at a primary election, the election officer shall stamp the appropriate party designation within the party affiliation space on the face of the certificate. If the voter is voting on a statement of a lost registration certificate, the presiding judge shall issue to him a certificate of his having voted, in the following form:

Date _____
_____ has voted on this date in the (Name of Voter) primary election of the _____ Party.

Presiding Judge, Precinct No. _____,
_____ County, Texas.

When a voter votes by absentee ballot in a primary election, the county clerk shall stamp the appropriate party designation on the voter's registration certificate; or if the voter is voting on a statement of a lost or unreturned certificate, the clerk shall deliver or mail to the voter, at the time specified by law for returning a registration certificate to an absentee voter, a certificate of his having voted by absentee ballot in the primary.

(5) To become qualified to participate in any party convention of a party which does not hold a primary or to become qualified for party membership for any party convention held prior to a primary, each voter who desires to participate in the convention shall present to the precinct chairman his affidavit that he has not participated in the primary or convention of any other party during that voting year. Thereupon, the precinct chairman shall stamp the appropriate party designation on the voter's registration certificate if the voter presents it, and if the registration certificate is not presented, the chairman shall issue to the voter a certificate in the following form:

Date _____
(Name of Voter)
the _____ Party for the current year.

Precinct Chairman, Precinct No. _____,
_____ County, Texas.

Each precinct chairman is authorized to administer the oath required by this subsection. Within 10 days after the precinct convention, he shall arrange the affidavits in alphabetical order and deliver them to the county clerk. If he receives an affidavit after the date of the precinct convention, he shall deliver it to the county clerk within 10 days after he receives it. The county clerk shall keep the affidavits on file in alphabetical order within each precinct for a period of two years after the end of the voting year in which they are filed. The county clerk shall maintain a separate file for each political party.

(6) A voter registration certificate which has been stamped with a party designation, a certificate of having voted in a primary election, or a certificate of party affiliation issued by a precinct chairman, all as provided in this section, shall serve as evidence that the person whose name appears on the certificate is affiliated with the party designated on the certificate and is therefore eligible to participate in that party's conventions.

Art. 13.07a. Repealed by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2054, ch. 675, § 8, eff. Sept. 1, 1975

Art. 13.08. Conduct of the Primary Elections

(a) The primary election held by a political party pursuant to Sections 180 and 181 of this code (Articles 13.02 and 13.03, Vernon's Texas Election Code) shall be conducted through the party's state executive committee and county executive committees in accordance with the procedures detailed in this code.

(b) In order for a candidate to have his name placed on the ballot for the general primary election, his application for a place on the ballot must be accompanied by a filing fee or a nominating petition in compliance with Subsection (c) or (d) of this section.

(c) The schedule of fees for either a full term or an unexpired term for the various offices is as follows:

United States Senator	$2,000
All other statewide offices	1,500
United States representative	1,500
State senator	750

County of 200,000 or more inhabitants	500
County under 200,000 inhabitants -----	200
Public weigher -----	50

No fee shall be charged for any office of a political party.

(d) In lieu of the payment of a filing fee, a candidate may file a nominating petition which may be in multiple parts and must be signed by the qualified voters eligible to vote for the office for which the candidate is running as follows:

For statewide office, 5,000 signatures.

For district, county, precinct, or other political subdivisions, equal in number to at least two percent of the number of votes cast in the territory for that party's candidate for governor in the last preceding gubernatorial general election. However, in no event shall the number required be more than 500; and if two percent of the votes cast in the territory was less than 25, the number required is the lesser of 25 signatures or 10 percent of the number of votes cast.

Where a candidate is running in a district, county, or precinct which has been created or the boundaries of which have been changed since the last gubernatorial general election, he may request that the secretary of state in the case of a district or county office, or the county clerk of the county in which the precinct is situated in the case of a precinct office, make an estimate in advance of the filing deadline of the number of votes cast for that party's candidate for governor within that territory at the last gubernatorial election. Not later than the 15th day after receiving such a request, the officer shall make the estimate and notify the candidate, and also the officer with whom the candidate files his application. The estimate shall be used as the official basis for computing the number of signatures required on a petition. If an advance estimate is not requested, the officer with whom the petition is filed shall make the estimate, whenever necessary, before he acts on the sufficiency of the petition. In every instance, the candidate may challenge the accuracy of the estimate, and if he is dissatisfied with the final decision of the officer he may appeal the decision to any district court having jurisdiction in the territory involved.

The following statement shall appear at the head of each page of the petition: "I know the contents of this petition. I am a qualified voter eligible to vote in the forthcoming primary election of the (fill in name) Party for the office for which (fill in name) is a candidate. I have not signed the petition of a candidate who is running for any office² the primary of any other party. I understand that by signing this petition I become ineligible to affiliate with any other party or to participate in the primary elections, conventions, or other party affairs of any other party, including a party which is not holding a primary election, during the voting year in which this election is held, and that I am guilty of a misdemeanor if I attempt to do so."

To each part of the petition shall be attached an affidavit of the person who circulated it, stating that he called each signer's attention to the statement and read it to him before the signer affixed his signature to the petition, and further stating that he witnessed the affixing of each signature, that the correct date of signing is shown on the petition, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief each signature is the genuine signature of the person whose name is signed. A petition so verified is prima facie evidence that the signatures thereon are genuine and the persons signing it are registered voters.

The petition must show the following information with respect to each signer: His address (including his street address if residing in a city, and his rural route address if not residing in a city), his current voter registration certificate number (also showing the county of issuance if the office includes more than one county), and the date of signing. The secretary of state shall prescribe a form for the petition before the 30th day prior to the filing deadline and provide copies of that form to the state chairman and the county chairmen of each party holding a primary election. However, a candidate may use any other form which complies with the requirements of this section. It is the specific intent of the legislature that there shall be no requirement for the administering of an oath to any person signing a petition under the provisions of this section.

A petition filed under this section shall be filed with the same officer with whom an application for a place on the ballot for the office being sought is to be filed and must be filed at the same time as such an application.

(e) The fees paid to the county chairman on applications filed with him pursuant to the provisions of Section 190 of this code, as amended (Article 13.12, Vernon's Texas Election Code), the apportionment of fees received from the state chairman pursuant to this subsection, and any contributions made to the county chairman or the county executive committee for the specific purpose of helping defray the costs of the primary elections shall be deposited to the credit of the primary fund referred to in Section 196 of this code, as amended (Article 13.18, Vernon's Texas Election Code), and shall be applied to payment of the costs of the primary elections. The county chairman and the committee may also use any other available funds toward defraying costs. The remaining costs incurred shall be borne by the state except as otherwise provided by procedures outlined in this code. Within five days after the regular filing deadline, the chairman of the state executive committee shall forward to the secretary of state an itemized listing of all filing fees for statewide offices and for district offices collected on applications filed with him pursuant to Section 190. At the same time, the state chairman shall also forward all filing fees for district offices collected by him pursuant to Section 190 to the county chairmen for the counties lying partially or wholly within such district. The amount forwarded to each county chairman shall be equal to the quotient obtained upon dividing the appropriate filing fee by the number of counties in the district of the candidate paying the fee. The state chairman shall retain all filing fees for statewide offices and all filing fees for district offices paid to him under filing deadlines falling after the regular deadline and shall apply them to the sole use of helping defray the costs incurred by the state chairman and the state executive committee in conducting the primary elections.

(f) In each county in which voting machines or an electronic voting system has been adopted, the county commissioners court shall permit the county-owned voting machines or voting equipment to be used for the primary elections, including the conduct of absentee voting for the elections, at a charge for use at each election not exceeding $16 per unit for voting machines adopted under Section 79 (Article 7.14, Vernon's Texas Election Code), and not exceeding $3 per unit for voting equipment adopted under Section 80 (Article 7.15, Vernon's Texas Election Code); provided, however, that the county commissioners court shall not be required to provide voting machines or equipment for use in any election precinct in which fewer than 100 votes were cast in the preceding first or general primary or runoff primary election. The maximum amount fixed in this subsection includes the lease price for the use of the unit, and also the charge for its preparation and maintenance if the county provides these services. The county is entitled to reimbursement for the cost of transporting the machines or equipment to and from the polling places if the county provides this service. Where voting is by an electronic voting system, the county may not charge for use of county-owned automatic tabulating equipment at the central counting station; but all actual expenditures incidental and necessary to operation of the central counting station in counting the ballots are payable out of the primary fund.

(g) All expenses of the county clerk in conducting absentee voting in the primary elections, including the employment of additional deputies where necessary, shall be paid by the county. A county is not entitled to reimbursement for any expenditure of county funds in connection with absentee voting or any other services rendered by the county clerk in the primary elections, except for voting machines and/or punch card units used in conducting the absentee voting or any other services for which reimbursement is specifically authorized by law.

(h) The secretary of state is authorized to promulgate rules under which compensation is limited to polling places at which voters of more than one election precinct cast their votes, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 10(g) (Article 2.02(g), Vernon's Texas Election Code). The rules for such common polling places shall provide for adequate public notice by the county chairman to the voters in election precincts affected by the application of such rules and shall provide for an adequate number of polling places taking into account all other relevant factors including distances of polling places from parts of the precincts served, estimated voter turnout, and geographic or other boundaries. However, the secretary of state may not require that there be less than one polling place for each commissioner's precinct for reimbursement purposes.

(i) The secretary of state is authorized to promulgate rules in regard to the maximum number of election clerks who may be compensated for their services at a polling place and the maximum number of other necessary office personnel employed to assist in the performance of the duties placed upon the county chairman, taking into account the number of registered voters in the election precinct or precincts, the number of votes cast in the precinct, county, or state in previous elections, the method of voting, and any other relevant factors. The secretary of state must allow compensation for the presiding judge, alternate judge, and at least one clerk for each precinct. The secretary of state may allow compensation for clerks and other necessary office personnel employed in excess of the applicable limits set by his rules if he finds that the employment of additional clerks or other office personnel was justified by a good cause. The total compensation paid to the county chairman and the secretary of the county executive committee (where the executive committee has named a secretary) in the performance of the duties placed upon the chairman shall not exceed five percent of the amount actually spent in holding the primary elections for the year; provided, however, that in no case shall the total compensation paid be less than $300 nor more than $8,000.

(j) The secretary of state is authorized to promulgate any other reasonable rules which will minimize the costs of the primary elections. The secretary of state shall furnish a copy of all rules promulgated pursuant to this section to each county chairman at least 10 days before the election to which the rules apply.

(k) The county chairman shall account for the primary fund in the manner provided in Section 196 of this code.

(l) The secretary of state shall not approve any expenditure of state funds to any county organization that practices discrimination based on race, sex, age, creed, or national origin. The attorney general shall be specifically responsible for the enforcement of this section.

(m) In the event a court of competent jurisdiction declares any portion of this section or any other provision of this code relating to the financing of primary elections to be invalid, the secretary of state shall promulgate reasonable rules for the enforcement of the intent of the legislature, consistent with the court's judgment and the valid portions of the code. Such authority of the secretary of state shall include authority to promulgate a schedule of filing fees, if necessary, and that schedule shall be substituted for the statutory schedule until the legislature enacts a new schedule.

Section 2 of Acts 1977, 65th Leg., ch. 502, provided:

"If any filing fee amended by this Act is declared invalid, then the amount of such filing fee shall be the amount prescribed by prior law."

Art. 13.08a. State Financing

(a) Each county chairman of each political party in the state which is holding primary elections shall submit to the secretary of state at least 30 days before the first primary election a sworn itemized estimate of the costs for conducting the first primary election in his county, together with a sworn statement of the filing fees and contributions received by the chairman, for such primary elections to and including the date of such sworn statement. The secretary of state shall review the estimate and shall notify the chairman of any items which he has disallowed as unauthorized or excessive expenditures. Expenditures may be allowed only for those purposes which are properly payable out of the primary fund under existing law as established by the statutes, court decisions, and administrative rulings of this state. Any other provisions of this code notwithstanding, the secretary of state shall pay for expenditures which, in his discretion, are reasonably necessary for the proper conduct and supervision of the primary elections under the provisions of this code. The secretary of state is authorized to set forth guidelines to determine the necessity of expenditures in conducting primary elections. The secretary of state shall subtract from the approved estimate any balance remaining from previous primary elections in the appropriate primary fund, and any amount of the fees and contributions received by the chairman for the conduct and financing of the primary elections for the particular year, and shall certify to the comptroller of public accounts the net estimated amount which is payable out of the state funds, together with the secretary of state's calculation of three-fourths of that amount. The comptroller shall forthwith issue a warrant to the chairman for three-fourths of the certified amount.

(b) In each county in which a second or runoff primary is necessary, within 10 days after the first primary the county chairman shall submit to the secretary of state a sworn itemized estimate of the costs of the runoff primary. As in the case of the first primary, the secretary of state shall notify the chairman of items which he disallows, and shall certify to the comptroller the approved estimated amount which is payable out of state funds, together with the secretary of state's calculation of three-fourths of that amount; and the comptroller shall issue a warrant to the chairman for three-fourths of the certified amount.

(c) Within 20 days after the date of the runoff primary, the county chairman shall submit to the secretary of state a sworn itemized report of the actual costs, filing fees collected, and contributions received for the primary election or elections (as the case may be) held by his party in his county. If the actual expenditure for an item exceeded the estimated amount, the chairman shall submit an explanation of the reason for the increased expenditure, and the secretary of state shall allow the increase if good cause is shown. The secretary of state shall certify to the comptroller the difference between the total amount payable out of state funds and the amount which has already been transmitted to the chairman. If the total amount of fees and contributions and the payments from the state exceeds the actual expenditures incurred, the chairman shall retain the difference in the primary fund referred to in Section 196 of this code (Article 13.18, Vernon's Texas Election Code). The exact amount of the balance in the primary fund shall be reported to the secretary of state in the actual expense report provided by this section and said amount shall be a beginning balance on hand for the next ensuing primary conducted by the chairman or his successor. If the primary fund is invested as authorized in Section 196, the beginning balance on hand for the next ensuing primary shall be the amount of the primary fund after termination of the investment.

(d) Each county chairman shall deposit to the credit of the primary fund all warrants received by him under this section. Expenses properly incurred by or on behalf of the county executive committee for the conduct of the primary elections shall be paid from the primary fund, in the manner authorized by the committee.

(e) The county chairman is responsible for payment of claims for primary election expenses, and the state is not liable to any claimant for failure of the county chairman to pay a claim. No county chairman shall be personally liable, nor shall a county executive committee be liable for any debts incurred in the administration of the primary but unpaid because the appropriation provided by the legislature was not sufficient to cover the actual expenditures made.

(f) A county chairman may request that the secretary of state approve an expenditure for the purposes of the auditing of the expenditures made out of the primary fund; however, the secretary of state shall not be required to approve such an expenditure. The secretary of state may require an audit of the primary fund, without such a request, when, in his discretion, he believes a valid purpose will be served by such a procedure.

(g) The secretary of state shall prescribe and shall furnish to the county chairmen the forms which they are to use in submitting statements and reports to the secretary of state.

(h) Wherever the word "county chairman" is used in this section, it shall apply to the county chairman or his successor in office, and such county chairman shall not be personally liable except for the misapplication of funds.

(i) In any case in which the secretary of state disallows an item of expenditure under Subsection (a) or (b) of this section, or refuses to allow an increase under Subsection (c) of this section, the county chairman may appeal to the district court of Travis County by filing a petition within 20 days after the date the notification is received from the secretary of state, and the district court shall allow such expenditures as are properly payable out of the primary fund under existing law. Any item not certified to the comptroller of public accounts within 15 days after its submission to the secretary of state may be considered disallowed for this purpose.

Art. 13.08a-1. State Financing of Primary Expenses of State Executive Committee

(a) If the state executive committee of a political party which is holding primary elections wishes to obtain state financing of the expenses incurred by the state chairman and the committee in conducting the primary elections in addition to the filing fees retained by the state chairman under Section 186 of this code, as amended (Article 13.08, Vernon's Texas Election Code), the state chairman shall submit to the secretary of state at least 30 days before the first primary election a sworn itemized estimate of the costs for conducting the first primary, together with an itemized statement of any filing fees received by him under filing deadlines falling after the regular deadline to and including the date of the estimate and a statement of the amount of any balance remaining from previous primary elections. The secretary of state shall review the estimate and shall notify the chairman of any items which he has disallowed as unauthorized or excessive expenditures. No expenditure in connection with a party convention or with any party activity other than the conduct of a primary election may be allowed. The secretary of state is authorized to set forth guidelines to determine the necessity of expenditures in conducting primary elections. The secretary of state shall subtract from the approved estimate the amount of the fees collected and retained by the state chairman for that election year and any balance remaining from previous primary elections and shall certify to the comptroller of public accounts the net estimated amount which is payable out of state funds, together with the secretary of state's calculation of three-fourths of that amount. The comptroller shall forthwith issue a warrant to the chairman for three-fourths of the certified amount.

(b) When a runoff for any statewide or district office is necessary, within 15 days after the first primary the state chairman shall submit to the secretary of state a sworn itemized estimate of the state executive committee's costs for the runoff primary. As in the case of the first primary, the secretary of state shall notify the chairman of items which he disallows and shall certify to the comptroller the approved estimated amount which is payable out of state funds, together with the secretary of state's calculation of three-fourths of that amount; and the comptroller shall issue a warrant to the chairman for three-fourths of the certified amount.

(c) Within 20 days after the date of the runoff primary, the state chairman shall submit to the secretary of state a sworn itemized report of the actual costs incurred by the state chairman and the state executive committee in conducting the primary election or elections (as the case may be) and of any filing fees not previously reported. If the actual expenditure for an item exceeded the estimated amount, the chairman shall submit an explanation of the reason for the increased expenditure, and the secretary of state shall allow the increase if good cause is shown. The secretary of state shall certify to the comptroller the difference between the total amount payable out of state funds and the amount which has already been transmitted to the chairman. If the total amount of fees retained and the payments from the state exceed the actual expenditures incurred, the chairman shall retain the difference, to be used as a beginning balance on hand for the next ensuing primary conducted by the party.

(d) In any case in which the secretary of state disallows an item of expenditure under Subsection

(a) or (b) of this section or refuses to allow an increase under Subsection (c), the state chairman may appeal to the district court of Travis County by filing a petition within 20 days after the date the notification is received from the secretary of state, and the district court shall allow such expenditures as are properly payable under existing law. Any item not certified to the comptroller of public accounts within 15 days after its submission to the secretary of state may be considered disallowed for this purpose.

Art. 13.08b. Refund Upon Death of Candidate

No refund of a filing fee shall be made except to a candidate who dies or is declared ineligible to be a candidate for the office before the date of the first or general primary election, in which case the fee paid by the candidate shall be refunded to the candidate or to his estate, as appropriate.

Funds for the administration of the primary financing provisions of this code shall be supplied from the General Revenue Fund or any special fund which the legislature may direct by the General Appropriations Act. Said funds shall be appropriated for the 1976 primary elections and for subsequent primary elections thereafter, and shall be an amount payable from the General Revenue Fund or any special fund which the legislature may direct to pay all necessary expenses of primary elections approved by the secretary of state under the provisions of this code. The secretary of state is authorized to expend funds appropriated in the General Appropriations Act for the administration of primary elections for seasonal and part-time help, consumable supplies and materials, travel expenses, professional fees and services, and current and recurring operating expenses in an amount not to exceed $60,000.

Art. 13.09. Balloting at Primaries: Write-in Votes Permitted for Party Offices Only

(a) The vote at all primary elections shall be by official ballot, which shall conform to the provisions of this section and other provisions of this code relating to the official ballot for a primary election that are applicable to the method of voting used in the election. The provisions of this section which are expressed in terms applicable to paper ballots

¹ Article 13.17.

Art. 13.12. Application for Place on Ballot; Filing; Deadline; Extension; Withdrawal; Notice

(a) The application to have the name of any person affiliating with a party placed on the official ballot for a general primary as a candidate for the nomination of such party for any office for which a nomination may be made at such primary shall be governed by the rules stated in this section.

(b) Such application shall be in writing, indicating the office for which nomination is sought and whether for a full term or for an unexpired term, signed and duly acknowledged by the person desiring such nomination, or by twenty-five qualified voters. It shall state the occupation, county of residence, and post-office address of such person, and if made by him shall also state his age. If the application is made by qualified voters, there shall be endorsed on the application or filed in a separate instrument, before the deadline for filing applications, a statement signed by the candidate showing his consent to such candidacy.

(c) The application shall be filed with the state chairman in the case of all statewide offices and all district offices which are filled by the choice of voters residing in more than one county. It shall be filed with the county chairman of the particular county in the case of county and precinct offices and district offices which are filled by the choice of voters residing in only one county or less than one county. Except as provided in Subsection (d) of this section, the application shall be filed not later than 6 p. m. on the first Monday in February preceding such primary.

(d) The filing deadline stated in Subsection (c) of this section shall be extended for the particular party primary and office involved, as provided in this subsection:

(i) if between the fifth day preceding the filing deadline stated in Subsection (c) and the 45th day preceding the general primary, both dates included, any candidate for an office dies, if the candidate had complied with all prerequisites for having his name placed on the ballot which he was required to perform by the date of his death;

(ii) if between the filing deadline stated in Subsection (c) and the 45th day preceding the general primary, both dates included, any candidate who is seeking nomination to an office which he then holds withdraws or is declared ineligible for election to that office; or

(iii) if between the filing deadline stated in Subsection (c) and the 45th day preceding the general primary, both dates included, the only candidate who has filed for a particular office in the primary of that party withdraws or is declared ineligible. In the enumerated circumstances, the name of the deceased, withdrawn, or ineligible candidate shall not be printed on the ballot, and applications for that party's nomination for that office may be filed not later than 6 p. m. on the 15th day following the death, withdrawal, or declaration of ineligibility of the candidate; provided, however, that where the death, withdrawal, or declaration of ineligibility occurs less than 15 days before the 40th day preceding the primary, the deadline for filing shall be 6 p. m. on the 40th day preceding the primary. Notwithstanding the provisions of Subsection (e) of this section, an application which is not received by the chairman until after 6 p. m. on the 40th day shall not be timely, and applications mailed but not actually received by that time shall not be accepted for filing.

(e) Except as otherwise provided in Subsection (d), an application filed under either Subsection (c) or (d) of this section shall be considered filed if sent to the proper chairman at his post-office address by registered or certified mail from any point in this state not later than the day on which the filing deadline falls, as shown by the postmark, provided, however, that if the deadline falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or holiday observed by the post office, it must be postmarked not later than the next regular business day for the post office. Any application not received by the chairman before the deadline does not comply with this law unless it has been mailed by registered or certified mail as herein provided, and it shall not be sufficient to send the application by any other type of mail unless it is delivered before the deadline.

(f) A candidate may withdraw by filing with the chairman with whom his application was filed, a signed request, duly acknowledged by him, that his name not be printed on the primary ballot. Whenever a filing period is extended by the death, withdrawal, or ineligibility of a candidate, each county chairman with whom the candidate's application was filed shall give notice of the opening of the filing and of the deadline to file by mailing or delivering a news release within 48 hours after his first knowledge of the death, withdrawal, or ineligibility, to each newspaper, as defined in Article 28a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, as amended, which is published in the county. Where the application was filed with the state chairman, he shall give notice in like manner by mailing or delivering the release to at least three daily newspapers which maintain news representatives in the State Capitol. The failure of a county chairman or state chairman to comply with this requirement shall be ground for his removal from office by the committee of which he is chairman.

(g) A candidate shall not be permitted to withdraw after the 45th day preceding the general primary. If after the 45th day preceding the general primary a candidate dies or is declared ineligible, the procedure detailed in Section 104 of this code¹ shall be followed. Except as provided in that section, the name of a deceased, withdrawn, or ineligible candidate shall not be printed on the ballot.

(h) Within ten days after the first Monday in February, the state chairman shall file with the Secretary of State, and each county chairman shall file with the county clerk of his county a list of the names of all candidates, arranged by office for which nomination is sought, whose applications have been timely received. In like manner each chairman shall file, within three days after any extended filing deadline under Subsection (d) of this section, a supplemental list of candidates whose applications were timely received after the original list was prepared. Each county chairman shall forward to the chairman of the state executive committee a copy of each list which he files with the county clerk.

(i) On the second Monday in March preceding each general primary, the state committee shall meet at some place to be designated by its chairman, who shall not less than three days prior to such meeting notify by mail all members of the committee and all persons whose names have been requested to be placed upon the official ballot of such designation. Such committee at this meeting by resolution shall direct their chairman to certify to each county chairman the names of such candidates as shown by the applications received by him. Copies of such certificates shall be immediately furnished to each newspaper in the state desiring to publish same, and one copy shall at once be mailed to the chairman of the executive committee of each county.

(j) The terms of this law shall apply to the county chairman and precinct committeemen, and the names of such candidates shall not be printed on the primary ballot unless such application shall have been filed as provided herein.

Art. 13.12a. Nomination and Election to Fill Unexpired Term

(a) Offices to which applicable; occurrence of vacancy. The provisions of this section shall govern nomination for and election to unexpired terms which are to be filled by election at the general election, in state, district, county and precinct offices where the vacancy occurs by reason of the creation of a new office or the death, resignation, or removal from office of the incumbent in an existing office, and the length of the unexpired term to be filled at the election extends beyond the first day of January following the election. This section does not apply to offices, vacancies which are to be filled by special election, nor does it apply to the office of United States Senator, which is governed by Section 177 of this code.¹ For the purpose of this section, where a new office is created to come into existence at a date subsequent to the effective date of the statute or date of entry of the order creating it, the vacancy shall be deemed to occur as of the effective date of the statute or date of entry of the order, and where the incumbent of an office has submitted a resignation to become effective at a future date, the vacancy shall be deemed to occur upon acceptance of the resignation.

(b) Nominations by parties holding primary elections. For any party holding primary elections for nominating candidates for the ensuing general election, nominations for unexpired terms shall be made in accordance with the following provisions.

(1) If the vacancy occurs more than five days prior to the regular deadline for filing an application for a place on the general primary ballot, as provided in Section 190 of this Code,² nomination for the unexpired term shall be made by primary election in the same manner and under the same rules applicable to nominations for full terms.

(2) If the vacancy occurs on or after the fifth day preceding the regular filing deadline and on or before the 45th day before the day of the general primary election, nomination for the unexpired term shall be made by primary election, and candidates shall have until the end of the 40th day preceding the day of the general primary in which to file applications for a place on the primary ballot. The applications must be received and filed in the office of the proper chairman before the deadline, and applications mailed but not actually received before the deadline shall not be accepted for filing. Except as otherwise provided herein, the application shall conform to the requirements of Section 190 of this Code and shall be accompanied by the filing fee or petition provided for in Section 186 of this Code.³ Immediately following the deadline for filing applications, the state chairman shall certify to the county chairman the names of candidates, if any, who have filed applications with him and paid their filing fee or filed a petition in accordance with this paragraph. Whenever the name of more than one candidate for the same office is to be placed on the ballot pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph, the county chairman shall call a meeting of the primary committee, in time to allow printing of the ballots before commencement of absentee voting in the general primary, and the primary committee shall determine by lot, in open meeting, the order in which the names of the candidates shall be printed on the ballot. If there is not more than one candidate for the same office, the county chairman shall make any necessary changes in the ballot as previously made up by the primary committee.

(3) If the vacancy occurs after the 45th day preceding the day of the general primary and on or before the 45th day before the day of the general election, the state executive committee in the case of state offices, the appropriate district executive committee in the case of district offices, the county executive committee in the case of county offices, and the appropriate precinct committee in the case of precinct offices, shall have the power to name a nominee for such office, and a nomination shall not be made by any other method; provided, however, that in any case where a district committee empowered to name a nominee fails to do so because it is unable to agree upon a nominee by majority vote, the state executive committee of that political party may name a candidate for such office and certify the name of the nominee to the proper officer.

(c) Nominations by parties not holding primary elections. For any party which is authorized to make nominations by party conventions, as provided in this Code, a nomination for the unexpired term shall be made at the appropriate party convention having power to make nominations for the particular office if the vacancy occurs more than two days prior to the date on which the convention is held. If the vacancy occurs on or after the second day preceding the convention and on or before the 45th day before the day of the general election, the appropriate executive committee of the party shall have the power to name a nominee, and a nomination shall not be made by any other method.

(d) Nominations by executive committees. The nomination must be made and certified to the proper officer not later than the 40th day before the day of the general election. Nominations for state offices and for district offices (including districts composed of only one county or part of one county) shall be certified to the Secretary of State, and nominations for county and precinct offices shall be certified to the county clerk. The certificate of nomination shall be signed and acknowledged by the chairman of the committee making the nomination, and shall set forth the name of the nominee, the office for which he was nominated, and when, where, by whom, and how the nomination was made.

(e) Independent and nonpartisan candidates. If the vacancy occurs on or before the date of the second primary election, applications of independent or nonpartisan candidates must be filed in accordance with the provisions of Section 227 of this Code,⁴ not later than thirty days after the second primary election day. If the vacancy occurs after the second primary election day, and on or before the 45th day before the day of the general election, independent or nonpartisan candidates may file applications in the manner provided in Section 227, except that the application shall be filed not later than the 40th day before the day of the general election. No person shall sign an application prior to the occurrence of the vacancy, and any signature before that time shall be void.

(f) Write-in candidates. If the vacancy occurs on or before the 45th day before the day of the general election, the title of the office shall be printed on the ballot for the general election regardless of whether any nominations have been made for the unexpired term, and each voter may write in the name of the candidate of his choice.

(g) When election not to be held. If a vacancy occurs after the 45th day before the day of the general election, no one shall be elected to the unexpired term at that election, and the person appointed to fill the vacancy shall continue to hold office until the next succeeding general election and until a successor has been elected and has qualified.

(h) In all nominations made by an executive committee under this section or under Section 233 of this code,⁵ or under any other provision of law, a majority of the members of the committee must participate in making the nomination, and all nominations must be made by a majority vote of those members participating in the nomination.
