It is also declared that the protection of water and land of the state against pollution or the escape of oil or gas is in the public interest. In the exercise of the police power of the state, it is necessary and desirable to provide additional means so that wells that are drilled for the exploration, development, or production of oil or gas, or as injection or salt water disposal wells, and that have been abandoned and are leaking salt water, oil, gas, or other deleterious substances into freshwater formations or on the surface of the land, may be plugged, replugged, or repaired by or under the authority and direction of the commission.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2553, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

[Sections 89.014 to 89.040 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER C. POWERS AND DUTIES OF THE COMMISSION§ 89.041. Determining Proper Plugging

If it comes to the attention of the commission that a well that has been abandoned or is not being operated is causing or is likely to cause pollution of fresh water above or below the ground or if gas or oil is escaping from the well, the commission shall determine at a hearing, after due notice, whether or not the well was properly plugged as provided in Section 89.011, Section 89.012, or Section 89.013 of this code.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2553, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

(b) If the operator cannot be found or is no longer in existence or has no assets with which to properly plug the well, the commission shall order the nonoperators to plug the well according to the rules of the commission in effect at the time the order is issued.

(c) If the nonoperators cannot be found or are no longer in existence or have no assets with which to properly plug the well, the commission shall order the landowners to properly plug the well according to the rules of the commission in effect at the time the order is issued.

If the commission determines at a hearing under Section 89.041 of this code that a well has not been properly plugged or needs replugging, the commission, through its employees or through a person acting as agent for the commission, may plug or replug the well if:

(1) the well was properly plugged according to rules in effect at the time the well was abandoned or ceased to be operated; or

(2) neither the operator, nonoperator, nor the landowner properly plugged the well, and

(A) neither the operator, nonoperator, nor the landowner can be found; or

(B) neither the operator, nonoperator, nor the landowner has assets with which to properly plug the well.

[Sections 89.046 to 89.080 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER D. COSTS OF PLUGGING WELLS

§ 89.081. Cause of Action for Disproportionate Share of Cost

If an operator, nonoperator, or landowner owns only a partial interest in the well, oil and gas, or land and the operator, nonoperator, or landowner pays a larger proportion of the cost of plugging the well than his proportionate interest in the well, oil and gas, or land, he has a cause of action against the other operators, nonoperators, or landowners for their proportionate shares of the cost of plugging. [Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2554, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 89.082. Cause of Action If Landowner Plugs

(a) If a landowner plugs or replugs a well under Section 89.013 of this code, the landowner has a cause of action against the operator and nonoperator or either of them in any court of competent jurisdiction for all reasonable costs and expenses incurred in the plugging or replugging of the well, to be secured by a lien on the interest of the operator and the nonoperator or either of them in:

- (1) the oil and gas underlying the lease on which the well is located; and
- (2) the fixtures, machinery, and equipment found or used on the lease.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of Subsection (a) of this section, if the landowner is responsible for the well not being plugged properly, the landowner does not have a cause of action under this chapter. [Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2554, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 89.083. Cause of Action If Commission Plugs

If the commission plugs a well under the provisions of Sections 89.043 through 89.044 of this code, the state has a cause of action for all reasonable expenses incurred in plugging or replugging the well according to the rules of the commission in effect at the time the well is plugged or replugged. The cause of action is:

- (1) first, against the operator, to be secured by a lien on his interest in the oil and gas in the land and his fixtures, machinery, and equipment found or used on the land where the well is located;
- (2) second, against the nonoperator at the time the well should have been plugged, to be secured by a lien on his interest in the oil and gas in the land; and
- (3) third, against the landowner, to be secured by a lien on his interest in the land.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2555, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 89.084. Money Paid Commission by Private Person

(a) The commission may accept money from private persons and use the money to plug or replug a well.

(b) Paying money to the commission is not an admission that the person paying the money is obligated to plug or replug the well. Evidence that a person has paid money to the commission is not admissible against the person in a suit in which the person's obligation to plug a well is an issue and introducing the evidence is a compulsory ground for mistrial.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2555, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2555, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2557, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 90.007. Text of Compact

The Interstate Compact to Conserve Oil and Gas reads as follows:

AN INTERSTATE COMPACT TO CONSERVE OIL AND GAS

ARTICLE I

This agreement may become effective within any compacting state at any time as prescribed by that state, and shall become effective within those states ratifying it whenever any three (3) of the States of Texas, Oklahoma, California, Kansas and New Mexico have ratified, and Congress has given its consent. Any oil-producing state may become a party hereto as hereinafter provided.

ARTICLE II

The purpose of this Compact is to conserve oil and gas by the prevention of physical waste thereof from any cause.

ARTICLE III

Each state bound hereby agrees that within a reasonable time it will enact laws, or if laws have been enacted, then it agrees to continue the same in force, to accomplish within reasonable limits the prevention of:

- (a) The operation of any oil well with an inefficient gas-oil ratio;
- (b) The drowning with water of any stratum capable of producing oil or gas, or both oil and gas, in paying quantities;
- (c) The avoidable escape into the open air or the wasteful burning of gas from a natural gas well;
- (d) The creation of unnecessary fire hazards;
- (e) The drilling, equipping, locating, spacing, or operating of a well or wells so as to bring about physical waste of oil or gas or loss in the ultimate recovery thereof;
- (f) The inefficient, excessive, or improper use of the reservoir energy in producing any well.

The enumeration of the foregoing subjects shall not limit the scope of the authority of any state.

ARTICLE IV

Each state bound hereby agrees that it will, within a reasonable time, enact statutes, or if such statutes have been enacted then that it will continue the same in force, providing in effect that oil produced in violation of its valid order and/or gas conservation statutes or any valid rule, order, or regulation promulgated thereunder, shall be denied access to commerce; and providing for stringent penalties for the waste of either oil or gas.

ARTICLE V

It is not the purpose of this Compact to authorize the states joining herein to limit the production of oil or gas for the purpose of stabilizing or fixing the price thereof, or create or perpetuate monopoly, or to promote regimentation, but is limited to the purpose of conserving oil and gas and preventing the avoidable waste thereof within reasonable limitations.

ARTICLE VI

Each state joining herein shall appoint a representative to a Commission hereby constituted and designated as The Interstate Oil Compact Commission, the duty of which said Commission shall be to make inquiry and ascertain from time to time such methods, practices, circumstances, and conditions as may be disclosed for bringing about conservation and the prevention of physical waste of oil and gas; and at such intervals as said Commission deems beneficial it shall report its findings and recommendations to the several states for adoption or rejection.

The Commission shall have power to recommend the coordination of the exercise of the police powers of the several states within their several jurisdictions to promote the maximum ultimate recovery from the petroleum reserves of said states, and to recommend measures for the maximum ultimate recovery of oil and gas. Said Commission shall organize and adopt suitable rules and regulations for the conduct of its business.

No action shall be taken by the Commission, except: (1) by the affirmative votes of the majority of the whole number of the compacting states, represented at any meeting; and (2) by a concurring vote of a majority in interest of the compacting states at said meeting, such interest to be determined as follows: Such vote of each state shall be in the decimal proportion fixed by the ratio of its daily average production during the preceding calendar half-year to the daily average production of the compacting states during said period.

ARTICLE VII

No state by joining herein shall become financially obligated to any other state, nor shall the breach of the terms hereof by any state subject such state to financial responsibility to the other states joining herein.

ARTICLE VIII

This Compact shall expire September 1, 1937. But any state joining herein may, upon sixty (60) days notice, withdraw herefrom.

The representatives of the signatory states have signed this agreement in a single original, which shall be deposited in the archives of the Department of State of the United States, and a duly certified copy shall be forwarded to the Governor of each of the signatory states.

This Compact shall become effective when ratified and approved as provided in Article I. Any oil-producing state may become a party hereto by affixing its signature to a counterpart to be similarly deposited, certified, and ratified.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2557, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

SUBCHAPTER B. DUTIES RELATING TO OIL AND GAS WELLS

§ 91.011. Casing

Before drilling into the oil or gas bearing rock, the owner or operator of a well being drilled for oil or gas shall encase the well with good and sufficient wrought iron or steel casing in a manner that will exclude surface or fresh water from the lower part of the well from penetrating the oil or gas bearing rock, and if the well is drilled through the first into the lower oil or gas bearing rock, the well shall be cased in a manner that will exclude fresh water above the last oil or gas bearing rock penetrated. [Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2560, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 91.012. Water in Wells

(a) In boring any well for oil or gas, if a person pierces any cap rock or other geological formation in a manner that will cause a flow of salt water or fresh water injurious to an already bored oil well or any oil or gas deposits and that will probably result in the injury of the oil or gas field or already bored oil or gas well, the person shall abandon immediately all work on the well if the flow of water cannot be cased off and shall plug and fill the well in a manner and with materials that will stop the flow of the water.

(b) No well owner or person boring a well described under Subsection (a) of this section may remove the casing from the drilled well until the flow of water is stopped either by casing off or plugging the well.

(c) The provisions of this section apply only if the cap rock or other formation is pierced at a depth below the horizon at which oil or gas has been discovered already.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2560, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 91.013. Plugging and Shutting in Wells by Others

(a) If the owner of a well described in Subsection (a) of Section 91.012 of this code neglects or refuses to have the well plugged or shut in for more than 20 days after written notice is given to him, the owner or operator of adjacent or neighboring land may enter the premises on which the well is located and have the well plugged if it is an abandoned well or shut in if it is not abandoned, in the manner provided by law.

(b) Notice may be given to the owner of the well either by personal service on the owner or by posting the notice at a conspicuous place at or near the well.

(c) The reasonable cost and expense incurred in plugging or shutting in the well shall be paid by the owner of the well and may be recovered as debts of like amount are recovered under the law.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2560, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 91.014. Petition to Restrain Waste

(a) In addition to any other penalties, a district judge, in term time or vacation time, shall hear and determine any petition that is filed to restrain the waste of gas in violation of this subchapter and may issue mandatory or restraining orders that in his judgment are necessary.

(b) The petition may be filed by any citizen of this state and does not have to allege further financial interest of the petitioner in the state's natural resources than that possessed in common with all citizens of the state.

Operators, contractors, drillers, pipeline companies, and gas distributing companies that drill for or produce oil or gas or pipe oil or gas for any purpose shall use every possible precaution in accordance with the most approved methods to stop and prevent waste of oil, gas, or both oil and gas in drilling and producing operations, storage, piping, and distribution and shall not wastefully use oil or gas or allow oil or gas to leak or escape from natural reservoirs, wells, tanks, containers, or pipes.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2561, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 91.016. Confining Gas to Original Stratum

(a) If gas located in a gas-bearing stratum known to contain gas in paying quantities is encountered in a well drilled for oil or gas in this state, the gas shall be confined to its original stratum until it can be produced and used without waste.

(b) Gas-bearing strata shall be adequately protected from infiltrating water.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2561, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 91.017. Using Gas in the Open Air

(a) Any person who uses gas in lights in the open air or in or around derricks shall turn off the gas not later than 8 a. m. of each day the lights are burning or are used and shall not turn the lights on or relight them between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m.

(b) The person consuming the gas and using the burners in the open air shall enclose them in glass globes or lamps.

SUBCHAPTER C. STANDARD GAS MEASUREMENT

§ 91.051. Title

This subchapter may be cited as the Standard Gas Measurement Law.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2561, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 91.052. Definition

(a) The term "cubic foot of gas" or "standard cubic foot of gas" means the volume of gas contained in one cubic foot of space at a standard pressure base and at a standard temperature base.

(b) The standard pressure base shall be 14.65 pounds per square inch absolute, and the standard temperature base shall be 60 degrees Fahrenheit. If the conditions of pressure and temperature differ from this standard, conversion of the volume from these conditions to the standard conditions shall be made in accordance with the ideal gas laws, corrected for deviation.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2562, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 91.053. Commission Determination

The commission shall determine the average temperature of gas as produced in each oil and gas field in Texas, other variable factors necessary to calculate the metered volumes in accordance with the ideal gas laws, and the variable factors to correct for deviation from the ideal gas laws in each of the oil and gas fields in the state.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2562, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 91.054. Notice and Hearing

On making the determination, the commission promptly shall make its findings and shall adopt reasonable field rules that may be necessary to effectuate the provisions of this subchapter.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2562, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 91.056. Use of Findings and Field Rules

(a) Any person may use the findings and field rules of the commission for any purposes under this subchapter.

(b) If the findings or field rules are not used as provided in Subsection (a) of this section in determining volumes under this subchapter, the volumes otherwise determined shall be corrected to the basis of the standard cubic foot of gas as defined in Section 91.052 of this code.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2562, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

A person required to report volumes of gas under the laws of this state shall report the volumes in number of standard cubic feet calculated and determined under the provisions of this subchapter.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2562, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

(a) Each sale, purchase, delivery, and receipt of gas by volume made in this state by, for, or on behalf of an oil and gas lease owner, royalty owner under a lease, or other mineral interest owner shall be made and the gas shall be measured, calculated, purchased, delivered, and accounted for on the basis of a standard cubic foot of gas as defined in this subchapter and determined under this subchapter.

(b) If the provisions of this subchapter operate to change the basis of measurement provided in existing contracts, the price for gas, including royalty gas, provided for in the contracts shall be adjusted to compensate for the change in the method of measuring the volume of gas delivered under the contracts if either the purchaser or seller so desires.

(c) This section is intended to protect parties to contracts in existence on October 4, 1949, so that the total amount of money paid for a volume of gas purchased or required to be accounted for under these contracts shall remain unaffected by this subchapter.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2562, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 91.060. Penalty

(a) Any person who, as purchaser, shall knowingly fail or refuse to measure, calculate, or account in the manner required in this subchapter for any gas purchased is subject to a penalty of not less than $10 nor more than $500 for each offense.

(b) The penalty is recoverable in the name of the state in a district court in Travis County.

(c) Each day a violation is committed constitutes a separate offense.

(d) It is a defense to a claim for the penalty that the commission has not made the findings under Section 91.055 of this code with regard to the particular field in question.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2563, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2563, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 91.062. Applicability of Certain Provisions

None of the provisions of Sections 91.058 through 91.061 of this code affect or apply to purchases or sales made on any basis other than a volume basis.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2563, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2564, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 101.003. Applicability

None of the provisions in this chapter impair the power of the commission to prevent waste under the oil and gas conservation laws of the state except as provided in Section 101.004 of this code or repeal, modify, or impair any of the provisions of Sections 85.002 through 85.003, 85.041 through 85.055, 85.056 through 85.064, 85.125, 85.201 through 85.207, 85.241 through 85.243, 85.249 through 85.252, or 85.381 through 85.385 of this code or Subchapters E and J of Chapter 85 of this code, relating to oil and gas conservation.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2566, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 101.004. Conflict With Antitrust Acts

(a) Agreements and operations under agreements which are in accordance with the provisions in this chapter, being necessary to prevent waste and conserve the natural resources of this state, shall not be construed to be in violation of the provisions of Chapter 15, Business & Commerce Code, as amended.

(b) If a court finds a conflict between the provisions in this chapter and Chapter 15, Business & Commerce Code, as amended, the provisions in this chapter are intended as a reasonable exception to that law, necessary for the public interests stated in Subsection (a) of this section.

(c) If a court finds that a conflict exists between the provisions in this chapter and Chapter 15, Business & Commerce Code, as amended, and finds that the provisions in this chapter are not a reasonable exception to said Chapter 15, it is the intent of the legislature that the provisions in this chapter, or any conflicting portion of them, shall be declared invalid rather than declaring Chapter 15, Business & Commerce Code, as amended, or any portion of it, invalid.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2567, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

[Sections 101.005 to 101.010 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER B. COOPERATIVE AGREEMENTS
IN SECONDARY RECOVERY OPERATIONS

§ 101.011. Authorized Agreements for Separately Owned Properties

Subject to the approval of the commission, as provided in this chapter, persons owning or controlling production, leases, royalties, or other interests in separate property in the same oil field, gas field, or oil and gas field may voluntarily enter into and perform agreements for either or both of the following purposes:

(1) to establish pooled units, necessary to effect secondary recovery operations for oil or gas, including those known as cycling, recycling, repressuring, water flooding, and pressure maintenance and to establish and operate cooperative facilities necessary for the secondary recovery operations;

(2) to establish pooled units and cooperative facilities necessary for the conservation and use of gas, including those for extracting and separating the hydrocarbons from the natural gas or casinghead gas and returning the dry gas to a formation underlying any land or leases committed to the agreement.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2567, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 101.012. Persons Bound by Agreements

Agreements for pooled units and cooperative facilities do not bind a landowner, royalty owner, lessor, lessee, overriding royalty owner, or any other person who does not execute them. The agreements bind only the persons who execute them, their heirs, successors, assigns, and legal representatives. No person shall be compelled or required to enter into such an agreement.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2567, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 101.013. Commission Approval

(a) Agreements for pooled units and cooperative facilities are not legal or effective until the commission finds, after application, notice, and hearing:

(1) that the agreement is necessary to accomplish the purposes specified in Section 101.011 of this code;

(2) that it is in the interest of the public welfare as being reasonably necessary to prevent waste and to promote the conservation of oil or gas or both;

(3) that the rights of the owners of all the interests in the field, whether signers of the unit agreement or not, would be protected under its operation;

(4) that the estimated additional cost, if any, of conducting the operation will not exceed the value of additional oil and gas so recovered, by or on behalf of the several persons affected, including royalty owners, owners of overriding royalties, oil and gas payments, carried interests, lien claimants, and others as well as the lessees;

(5) that other available or existing methods or facilities for secondary recovery operations or for the conservation and utilization of gas in the particular area or field concerned or for both are inadequate for the purposes; and

(6) that the area covered by the unit agreement contains only that part of the field that has reasonably been defined by development, and that the owners of interests in the oil and gas under each tract of land in the area reasonably defined by development are given an opportunity to enter into the unit on the same yardstick basis as the owners of interests in the oil and gas under the other tracts in the unit.

(b) A finding by the commission that the area described in the unit agreement is insufficient or covers more acreage than is necessary to accomplish the purposes of this chapter is grounds for the disapproval of the agreement.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2568, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 101.014. Jointly Owned Properties

None of the provisions in this chapter shall be construed to require the approval of the commission of voluntary agreements for the joint development and operation of jointly owned property.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2568, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 101.015. Commission Regulation

An agreement executed under the provisions of this chapter is subject to any valid order or rule of the commission relating to location, spacing, proration, conservation, or other matters within the authority of the commission, whether adopted prior to or subsequent to the execution of the agreement.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2568, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 101.016. Permissible Provisions

(a) An agreement authorized by this chapter may provide for the location and spacing of input wells and for the extension of leases covering any part of land committed to the unit as long as operations for drilling or reworking are conducted on the unit or as long as production of oil or gas in paying quantities is had from any part of the land or leases committed to the unit. However, no agreement may relieve an operator from the obligation to develop reasonably the land and leases as a whole committed to the unit.

(b) An agreement authorized by this chapter may provide that the dry gas after extraction of hydrocarbons may be returned to a formation underlying any land or leases committed to the agreement and may provide that no royalties are required to be paid on the gas so returned.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2568, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 101.017. Prohibited Provisions

(a) No agreement authorized by this chapter may attempt to contain the field rules for the area or field, or provide for or limit the amount of production of oil or gas from the unit properties, those provisions being solely the province of the commission.

(b) No agreement authorized by this chapter may provide directly or indirectly for the cooperative refining of crude petroleum, distillate, condensate, or gas, or any by-product of crude petroleum, distillate, condensate, or gas. The extraction of liquid hydrocarbons from gas, and the separation of the liquid hydrocarbons into propanes, butanes, ethanes, distillate, condensate, and natural gasoline, without any additional processing of any of them, is not considered to be refining.

(c) No agreement authorized by this chapter may provide for the cooperative marketing of crude petroleum, condensate, distillate, or gas, or any by-products of them.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2569, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 101.018. Effect of Approval Outside of Unit

The approval of an agreement authorized by this chapter shall not of itself be construed as a finding that operations of a different kind or character in the portion of the field outside of the unit are wasteful or not in the interest of conservation. [Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2569, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

[Sections 101.019 to 101.050 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER C. PUBLIC LAND

§ 101.051. Authority of Commissioner of General Land Office

Subject to the approval specified in Section 101.052 of this code, the Commissioner of the General Land Office, in behalf of the State of Texas or of any fund belonging to the state, may execute contracts committing to the agreements declared lawful by the provisions of this chapter the royalty interests in oil or gas or both reserved to the state, or any fund of the state, by law, in any patent, in any contract of sale, or under the terms of any oil and gas lease lawfully issued by an official, board, agent, agency, or authority of the state.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2569, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 101.052. Necessary Approval by Other Persons and State Agencies

(a) An agreement that commits the royalty interests in land set apart by the constitution and laws of this state for the permanent free school fund and the several asylum funds, in river beds, inland lakes, and channels, and the area within tidewater limits, including islands, lakes, bays, inlets, marshes, reefs, and the bed of the sea, must be approved by the School Land Board.

(b) An agreement that covers land leased for oil and gas under the Relinquishment Act, codified as Subchapter F in Chapter 52 of this code, must be executed by the owners of the soil.

(c) An agreement that commits the royalty interests in land or areas other than those covered by Subsections (a) and (b) of this section must be approved by the board, official, agent, agency, or authority of the state vested with authority to lease or to approve the leasing of the land or areas for oil and gas.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2569, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

[Sections 102.005 to 102.010 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER B. REQUIREMENTS AND PROCEDURE FOR POOLING

§ 102.011. Authority of Commission

When two or more separately owned tracts of land are embraced in a common reservoir of oil or gas for which the commission has established the size and shape of proration units, whether by temporary or permanent field rules, and where there are separately owned interests in oil and gas within an existing or proposed proration unit in the common reservoir and the owners have not agreed to pool their interests, and where at least one of the owners of the right to drill has drilled or has proposed to drill a well on the existing or proposed proration unit to the common reservoir, the commission, on the application of an owner specified in Section 102.012 of this code and for the purpose of avoiding the drilling of unnecessary wells, protecting correlative rights, or preventing waste, shall establish a unit and pool all of the interests in the unit within an area containing the approximate acreage of the proration unit, which unit shall in no event exceed 160 acres for an oil well or 640 acres for a gas well plus 10 percent tolerance.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2571, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 102.012. Owners Authorized to Apply for Pooling

The following interested owners may apply to the commission for the pooling of mineral interests:

(1) the owner of any interest in oil and gas in an existing proration unit or with respect to a proposed unit;

(2) the owner of any working interest; or

(3) any owner of an unleased tract other than a royalty owner.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2571, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 102.013. Required Voluntary Pooling Offer

(a) The applicant shall set forth in detail the nature of voluntary pooling offers made to the owners of the other interests in the proposed unit.

(b) The commission shall dismiss the application if it finds that a fair and reasonable offer to pool voluntarily has not been made by the applicant.

(c) An offer by an owner of a royalty or any other interest in oil or gas within an existing proration unit to share on the same yardstick basis as the other owners within the existing proration unit are then sharing shall be considered a fair and reasonable offer.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2572, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 102.014. Productive Acreage Equal to Standard Proration Unit

(a) The commission shall not require the owner of a mineral interest, the productive acreage of which is equal to or in excess of the standard proration unit for the reservoir, to pool his interest with others unless requested by the holder of an adjoining mineral interest, the productive acreage of which is smaller than such pattern, who has not been provided a reasonable opportunity to pool voluntarily.

(b) If the conditions specified in Subsection (a) of this section exist, the commission shall pool the smaller tract with adjacent acreage on a fair and reasonable basis and may authorize a larger allowable for the unit if it exceeds the size of the standard proration unit for the reservoir.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2572, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 102.015. Prohibited Provisions in Operating Agreement

A pooling agreement, offer to pool, or pooling order is not considered fair and reasonable if it provides for an operating agreement containing any of the following provisions:

- (1) preferential right of the operator to purchase mineral interests in the unit;
- (2) a call on or option to purchase production from the unit;
- (3) operating charges that include any part of district or central office expense other than reasonable overhead charges; or
- (4) prohibition against nonoperators questioning the operation of the unit.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2572, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 102.016. Notice of Hearing

On the filing of an application for pooling of interests into a unit under the provisions of this chapter, at least 30 days notice before hearing on the application shall be given to all interested parties, including notice by publication if there are unknown owners or owners whose whereabouts are unknown. The notice shall be given in the manner and form prescribed by the commission.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2572, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 102.017. Pooling Order

(a) After notice and hearing, all orders effecting the pooling shall be made on terms and conditions that are fair and reasonable and will afford the owner or owners of each tract or interest in the unit the opportunity to produce or receive his fair share.

(b) Each order shall:

- (1) describe the land included in the unit, identifying the reservoir to which it applies;

(2) designate the location of the well; and

(3) appoint an operator for the unit.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2572, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 102.018. Acreage Subject to Pooling

The commission shall pool only the acreage which at the time of its order reasonably appears to lie within the productive limits of the reservoir.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2573, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

[Sections 102.019 to 102.050 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER C. RIGHTS IN A POOLED UNIT

§ 102.051. Ownership of Production

(a) For the purpose of determining the portions of production owned by the persons owning interests in the pooled unit, the production shall be allocated to the respective tracts within the unit in the proportion that the number of surface acres included within each tract bears to the number of surface acres included in the entire unit.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions in Subsection (a) of this section, if the commission finds that allocation on a surface-acreage basis does not allocate to each tract its fair share, the commission shall allocate the production so that each tract will receive its fair share, which for any nonconsenting owner shall be no less than he would receive under a surface-acreage allocation.

§ 102.052. Drilling and Completion Costs

(a) As to an owner who elects not to pay his proportionate share of the drilling and completion costs in advance, the commission shall make provision in the pooling order for reimbursement solely out of production, to the parties advancing the costs, of all actual and reasonable drilling, completion, and operating costs plus a charge for risk not to exceed 100 percent of the drilling and completion costs.

(b) If there is a dispute relative to the costs, the commission shall determine the proper costs and their allocation among working interest owners after due notice to interested parties and a hearing on the costs.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2573, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 102.053. Effect of Operations

(a) The operations on and production from any portion of a unit for which a pooling order has been entered shall be considered for all purposes the conduct of the operations on and production from each separately owned tract in the pooled unit. If a gas well on a pooled unit is shut-in, it shall be considered that the shut-in gas well is on each separately owned tract in the pooled unit.

(b) If only part of a tract is included in the unit, operations on, production from, or a shut-in gas well on the unit shall maintain an oil and gas lease on the tract as to the part excluded from the unit only if the lease would be maintained had the unit been created voluntarily under the provisions of the lease. [Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2573, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

[Sections 102.054 to 102.080 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER D. DISSOLUTION OF UNIT

§ 102.081. Dissolved With Consent of Owners

A unit established by order of the commission under this chapter may not be modified or dissolved subsequently without the consent of all mineral owners affected, except as necessary to permit its enlargement as provided in Subchapter B of this chapter.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2573, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 102.082. Automatic Dissolution

A unit is automatically dissolved:

- (1) one year after its effective date if no production or drilling operations have been had on the unit;
- (2) six months after the completion of a dry hole on the unit; or
- (3) six months after cessation of production from the unit.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2574, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 102.083. Termination of Pooled Lease

On termination of a lease pooled by order of the commission under authority granted by this chapter, interests covered by the lease are considered pooled as unleased mineral interests.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2574, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

[Sections 102.084 to 102.110 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER E. JUDICIAL REVIEW

§ 102.111. Right to Appeal

A person affected by an order of the commission adopted under the authority of this chapter is entitled to judicial review of that order in a manner other than by trial de novo.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2574, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 102.112. Venue

Appeal shall be to the district court of the county in which the land or any part of the land covered by the order is located and not elsewhere, notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 85.241 through 85.243 of this code.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2574, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

(b) A common carrier shall not discriminate in the transportation of crude petroleum produced or purchased by itself directly or indirectly.

(c) In this connection, a pipeline is a shipper of the crude petroleum produced or purchased by itself directly or indirectly and handled through its facilities.

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 131.001. Short Title

This chapter may be cited as the Texas Surface Mining and Reclamation Act.
 [Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2607, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 131.002. Declaration of Policy

The legislature finds and declares that:

(1) the extraction of minerals by surface mining operations is a basic and essential activity making an important contribution to the economic well-being of the state and nation;

(2) proper reclamation of surface-mined land is necessary to prevent undesirable land and water conditions that would be detrimental to the general welfare, health, safety, and property rights of the citizens of this state;

(3) surface mining takes place in diverse areas where the geologic, topographic, climatic, biological, and social conditions are significantly different and that reclamation operations and the specifications for reclamation operations must vary accordingly;

(4) it is not always possible to extract minerals required by our society without disturbing the surface of the earth and producing waste materials, and the very character of certain types of surface mining operations occasionally precludes complete restoration of the affected land to its original condition;

(5) unregulated surface mining may destroy or diminish the utility of land for commercial, industrial, residential, recreational, agricultural, and forestry purposes by causing erosion and landslides, by contributing to floods, by polluting the water, by destroying fish and wildlife habitats, by impairing natural beauty, by damaging the property of citizens, by creating hazards dangerous to life and property, by degrading the quality of life in local communities, and by counteracting governmental programs and efforts to conserve soil, water, and other natural resources, which results are declared to be inimical to the public interest and destructive to the public health, safety, welfare, and economy of the State of Texas;

(6) due to its unique character or location, some land within the state may be unsuitable for all or certain types of surface mining operations; and

(7) reclamation of surface-mined land as provided by this chapter will allow the mining of valuable minerals in a manner designed for the protection and subsequent beneficial use of land.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2607, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 131.003. Purposes

It is declared to be the purpose of this chapter:

(1) to prevent the adverse effects to society and the environment resulting from unregulated surface mining operations as defined in this chapter;

(2) to assure that the rights of surface landowners and other persons with a legal interest in the land or appurtenances to the land are protected from unregulated surface mining operations;

(3) to assure that surface mining operations are not conducted where reclamation as required by this chapter is not possible;

(4) to assure that surface mining operations are conducted in a manner that will prevent unreasonable degradation of land and water resources; and

(5) to assure that reclamation of all surface-mined land is accomplished as contemporaneously as practicable with the surface mining, recognizing that the extraction of minerals by responsible mining operations is an essential and beneficial economic activity.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2608, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 131.004. Definitions

In this chapter:

(1) "Minerals" means coal, lignite, uranium, and uranium ore.

(2) "Surface mining" means the mining of minerals by removing the overburden lying above the natural deposit of minerals and mining directly from the natural deposits that are exposed and those aspects of underground mining having significant effects on the surface.

(3) "Exploration activity" means the disturbance of the surface or subsurface for the purpose of or related to determining the location, quantity, or quality of a mineral deposit, except those exploration activities associated with the drilling of test holes or core holes that are not required by federal law.

(4) "Affected land" or "land affected" means:

(A) the area from which any materials are to be or have been displaced in a surface mining operation;

(B) the area on which any materials that are displaced are to be or have been deposited;

(C) the haul roads and impoundment basins within the surface mining area; and

(D) other land whose natural state has been or will be disturbed as a result of the surface mining operations.

(5) "Surface mining operation" means the activities conducted at a mining site, including extraction, storage, processing, and shipping of minerals and reclamation of the land affected.

(6) "Operator" means the individual or entity, including any public or governmental agency, that is to engage or that is engaged in a surface mining operation, including any individual or entity whose permit has expired or been suspended or revoked.

(7) "Overburden" means all materials displaced in a mining operation which are not, or will not be, removed from the affected area.

(8) "Reclamation" means the process of restoring an area affected by a surface mining operation to its original or other substantially beneficial condition, considering past and possible future uses of the area and the surrounding topography.

(9) "Topsoil" means the unconsolidated mineral matter naturally present on the surface of the earth which has been subjected to and influenced by genetic and environmental factors of parent material, climate, macroorganisms and microorganisms, and topography, all acting over a period of time, and which is necessary for the growth and regeneration of vegetation on the surface of the earth.

(10) "Surface mining permit" means the written certification by the commission that the named operator may conduct the surface mining operations described in the certification during the term of the surface mining permit and in the manner established in the certification.

(11) "Person affected" means any person who is a resident of a county or any county adjacent or contiguous to the county in which a mining operation is or is proposed to be located, including any person who is doing business or owns land in the county or adjacent or contiguous county and any local government and who demonstrates that he has suffered or will suffer actual injury or economic damage.

(12) "Commission" means the Railroad Commission of Texas.

(13) "Fund" means the Land Reclamation Fund.

(14) "Toxic material" means any substance present in sufficient concentration or amount to cause injury or illness to plant, animal, or human life.

(15) "Approximate original contour" means that surface configuration achieved by backfilling and grading of the surface-mined area so that it resembles the surface configuration of the land prior to mining and blends into and complements the drainage pattern of the surrounding terrain, with all highwalls, spoil piles, and depressions eliminated, although the new contour may subsequently be at a moderately lower or higher elevation than existed prior to the surface mining operation.

(16) "Person" means an individual, partnership, society, jointstock company, firm, company, corporation, business organization, governmental agency, or any organization or association of citizens.

(17) "Party to the administrative proceedings" means any person who has participated in a public hearing or filed a valid petition or timely objection pursuant to any provision of this chapter.

(18) "Permit area" means all the area designated as such in the permit application and shall include all land affected by the surface mining operations during the term of the permit and may include any contiguous area that the operator proposes to surface mine after that time.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2608, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

Amendment by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1320, ch. 524, § 1

Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1320, ch. 524, § 1, purports to amend subs. (2) and (5) of § 4 of Civil Statutes, art. 5920-10 [now, subs. (2) and (5) of this section], without reference to repeal of said article by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2690, ch. 871, art. I, § 2(a)(5). As so amended, subs. (2) and (5) read:

"(2) 'Surface mining' means the mining of minerals by removing the overburden lying above the natural deposit thereof and mining directly from the natural deposits thereby exposed, those aspects of underground mining having significant effects on the surface and in situ gasification of coal and lignite; provided, however, nothing herein shall be construed to include in situ mining activities associated with the removal of uranium or uranium ore."

"(5) 'Surface mining operation' means those activities conducted at or near the mining site and concomitant with the surface mining, including extraction, storage, processing, and shipping of minerals and reclamation of the land affected."

§ 131.005. Reclamation

(a) The basic objective of reclamation is to reestablish on a continuing basis, where required, vegetation and other natural conditions consistent with the anticipated subsequent use of the affected land.

(b) The process of reclamation may require contouring, terracing, grading, backfilling, resoiling, revegetation, compaction and stabilization and settling ponds, water impoundments, diversion ditches, and other water treatment facilities in order to minimize water diminution to existing water sources, pollution, soil and wind erosion, or flooding resulting from mining or any other activity that may be considered necessary to accomplish the reclamation of the land affected to a substantially beneficial condition.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2610, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 131.006. Exclusions and Exemptions

The provisions of this chapter do not apply to the following:

(1) surface mining operations conducted on public land regulated by the General Land Office if the land is reclaimed in a manner consistent with this chapter; and

(2) land on which the overburden has been removed and minerals have been produced before June 21, 1975.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2610, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

Amendment by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1323, ch. 524, § 7

“(a) The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any of the following activities or areas:

“(1) surface mining operations conducted on public lands regulated by the General Land Office; provided that such affected lands are reclaimed in a manner consistent with the provisions of this Act; and

“(2) any land where the overburden has been removed and any minerals have been produced prior to the date of enactment of the Act.

“(b) In situ mining operations permitted by the Texas Water Quality Board prior to January 1, 1978, shall not require a permit pursuant to this Act until such time as the Texas Water Quality Board issued permit expires or is revised in accordance with this Act. On January 1, 1978, the permits issued pursuant to the authority of the Texas Water Quality Board shall be transferred to the commission and administered by the commission.”

[Sections 131.007 to 131.020 reserved for expansion]

(2) the operations will result in significant damage to important areas of historic, cultural, or archaeological value or to important natural systems;

(3) the operations will affect renewable resource land that includes aquifers and aquifer recharge areas, resulting in a substantial loss or reduction of long-range productivity of water supply or food or fiber products;

(4) the operations are located in an area subject to frequent flooding or an area that is geologically unstable and may reasonably be expected to endanger life and property;

(5) the operations will adversely affect any national park, national monument, national historic landmark, property listed on the national register of historic places, national forest, national wilderness area, national wildlife refuge, national wild and scenic river area, state park, state wildlife refuge, state forest, recorded Texas historic landmark, state historic site, state archaeological landmark, or city or county park; or

(e) Any person affected may intervene before the public hearing by filing allegations of facts with supporting evidence that would tend to establish the allegations.

(f) Within 60 days after the hearing, the commission shall issue and furnish to the petitioner and any other party to the hearing a written decision regarding the petition and the reasons for the decision.

(c) The plaintiff shall pursue his action with reasonable diligence, and if the plaintiff does not prosecute his action within one year after the action is filed, the court shall presume that the action has been abandoned. The court shall dismiss the suit on a motion for dismissal made by the attorney general unless the plaintiff, after receiving due notice, can show good and sufficient cause for the delay.

(d) The court shall hear the complaint solely on the record made before the commission. The findings of the commission, if supported by substantial evidence on the record considered as a whole, shall be upheld.

(e) The court may, under conditions it may prescribe, grant temporary relief that it considers appropriate pending final determination of the proceedings.

SUBCHAPTER C. PLANS AND STANDARDS

§ 131.101. Reclamation Plan

(a) A reclamation plan shall be developed in a manner consistent with local, physical, environmental, and climatological conditions and current mining and reclamation technologies.

(b) A reclamation plan submitted as part of a permit application shall include:

(1) the identification of the entire area to be mined and affected over the estimated life of the mining operation;

(2) the condition of the land to be covered by the permit prior to any mining, including:

(A) the uses existing at the time of the application, and if the land has a history of previous mining, the uses, if reasonably ascertainable, that immediately preceded any mining; and

(B) the capability of the land prior to any mining to support a variety of uses giving consideration to soil and foundation characteristics, topography, and vegetative cover;

(3) the capacity of the land to support its anticipated use following reclamation, including a discussion of the capacity of the reclaimed land to support alternative uses;

(4) a description of how the proposed post-mining land condition is to be achieved and the necessary support activities that may be needed to achieve the condition, including an estimate of the cost per acre of the reclamation;

(5) the steps taken to comply with applicable air and water quality and water rights laws and regulations and any applicable health and safety standards, including copies of any pertinent permit applications;

(6) a general timetable that the operator estimates will be necessary for accomplishing the major events included in the reclamation plan; and

(7) other information the commission, by rule, determines to be reasonably necessary to effectuate the purposes of this chapter.

(c) The operator may revise or amend the reclamation plan at any time in accordance with the requirements of this code.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2616, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 131.102. Reclamation Standards

(a) A permit issued under this chapter to conduct surface mining operations shall require that the surface mining operations meet all applicable reclamation standards of this chapter and any other requirements that the commission establishes by rule.

(b) Reclamation standards shall apply to all surface mining and reclamation operations that are not exempted or excluded and shall require the operator as a minimum to:

(1) conduct surface mining operations in a manner consistent with prudent mining practice, so as to maximize the utilization and conservation of the resource being recovered so that re-affecting the land in the future through surface mining can be minimized;

(2) restore the land affected to the same or a substantially beneficial condition considering the present and past uses of the land, so long as the condition does not present any actual or probable hazard to public health or safety or pose an actual or probable threat of water diminution or pollution, and the permit applicants' declared anticipated land use following reclamation is not considered to be impractical or unreasonable, to involve unreasonable delay in implementation, or to violate federal, state, or local law, provided that a variety of postmining land conditions that differ from the land condition immediately preceding the surface mining operation, including but not limited to stock ponds, fishing or recreational lakes, school or park sites, industrial, commercial, or residential sites, or open space uses, may be approved by the commission if the proposed condition is determined to be substantially beneficial and complies with the provisions of this section;

(3) reduce all highwalls, spoil piles, and banks to a degree to control erosion effectively and sufficiently to sustain vegetation, where required, consistent with the anticipated subsequent use of the affected land, provided that backfilling, compacting, and grading shall be required to restore the approximate original contour where required by federal law and for uranium and uranium ore where the volume of overburden is large in comparison to the volume of mineral deposit and the commission considers the requirement to be practical;

(4) stabilize and protect all surface areas affected by the mining and reclamation operation effectively to control erosion and attendant air and water pollution;

(5) remove the topsoil, if any, from the land in a separate layer, replace it on the backfill area, or if not utilized immediately, segregate it in a separate pile from other spoil and when the topsoil is not replaced on a backfill area within a time short enough to avoid deterioration of the topsoil, maintain a successful cover by quick growing plants or other means so that the topsoil is preserved from wind and water erosion, remains free of any contamination by acid or other toxic material, and is in a usable condition for sustaining vegetation when restored during reclamation, except if topsoil is of insufficient quantity or of poor quality for sustaining vegetation and if other strata can be shown to be as suitable for vegetation requirements, then the operator shall remove, segregate, and preserve in a like manner the other strata which is best able to support vegetation, provided that the requirements of this provision shall not apply if a mixing of strata can be shown to be equally suitable for revegetation requirements;

(6) replace the topsoil or the best available subsoil, if any, on top of the land to be reclaimed;

(7) fill any auger holes with an impervious material in order to prevent drainage;

(8) minimize the disturbances to the prevailing hydrologic balance at the mine site and in associated offsite areas and to the quality and quantity of water in surface and groundwater systems both during and after surface mining operations and during reclamation by:

(A) avoiding acid or other toxic mine drainage by such measures as:

(i) preventing or removing water from contact with toxic-producing deposits,

(ii) treating drainage to reduce toxic content,

(iii) casing, sealing, or otherwise managing boreholes, shafts, and wells to keep acid or other toxic drainage from entering ground and surface water;

(B) conducting surface mining operations in a manner to prevent unreasonable additional contributions of suspended solids to streamflow or runoff outside the permit area above natural levels under seasonal flow conditions;

(C) removing temporary or large siltation structures from drainways consistent with good water conservation practices after disturbed areas are revegetated and stabilized; or

(D) other actions as the commission may prescribe pursuant to its rules;

(9) stabilize any waste piles;

(10) refrain from surface mining in proximity to active and abandoned underground mines in which mining would cause breakthroughs or would endanger the health or safety of miners;

(11) incorporate with respect to the use of impoundments for the disposal of mine wastes, processing wastes, or other liquid or solid wastes current engineering practices for the design and construction of water retention facilities which, at a minimum, shall be compatible with the requirements of Section 6.0731,¹ Water Code, and applicable federal laws, ensure that leachate will not pollute surface or groundwater, and locate impoundments so as not to endanger public health and safety should failure occur;

(12) ensure that all debris, acid-forming materials, toxic materials, or materials constituting a fire hazard are treated or disposed of in a manner designed to prevent contamination of ground or surface water or combustion;

(13) ensure that any explosives are used only in accordance with existing state and federal law and rules promulgated by the commission;

(14) ensure that all reclamation efforts proceed as contemporaneously as practicable with the surface mining operations;

(15) ensure that construction, maintenance, and postmining conditions of access roads into and across the site of operations will minimize erosion and siltation, pollution of air and water, damage to fish or wildlife or their habitat, or public or private property, provided that the commission may permit the retention after mining of certain access roads if compatible with the approved reclamation plan;

(16) refrain from the construction of roads or other access ways up a streambed or drainage channel or in proximity to such channel where such construction would seriously alter the normal flow of water;

(17) establish on all affected land, where required in the approved reclamation plan, a diverse vegetative cover native to the affected land where vegetation existed prior to mining and capable of self-regeneration and plant succession equal in extent of cover to the natural vegetation of the area, except that introduced species may be used in the revegetation process where desirable or necessary to achieve the approved reclamation plan;

(18) assume responsibility for successful revegetation for a period of four years beyond the first year in which the vegetation has been successfully established as evidenced by the land being used as anticipated in the reclamation plan, provided that the four-year period of responsibility shall commence no later than two complete growing seasons after the vegetation has been successfully established as determined by the commission;

(19) ensure with respect to permanent impoundments of water as part of the approved reclamation plan that:

(A) the size of the impoundment and the availability of water are adequate for its intended purpose;

(B) the impoundment dam construction will meet the requirements of Section 6.0731, Water Code, and applicable federal laws;

(C) the quality of impounded water will be suitable on a permanent basis for its intended use and the discharges from the impoundment will not degrade the water quality in the receiving stream;

(D) final grading will provide adequate safety and access for anticipated water users; and

(E) the water impoundments will not result in the diminution of the quality or quantity of water utilized by adjacent or surrounding landowners for agricultural, industrial, recreational, or domestic uses; and

(20) meet other criteria pursuant to the commission's rules as are necessary to achieve reclamation in accordance with the purposes of this chapter, taking into consideration the physical, climatological, and other characteristics of the site.

(c) The purpose of this section is to have land affected restored to the same condition as the land that existed enjoyed before the mining or some substantially beneficial condition.

(d) A method of reclamation other than that provided in this section may be approved by the commission after public hearing if the commission determines that any method of reclamation required by this section is not practicable and that the alternative method will provide for the affected land to be restored to a substantially beneficial condition.

(e) If an alternative method of reclamation is generally applicable to all surface mining operations involving a particular mineral, the commission shall promulgate rules in the manner provided in Section 131.033 of this code.

SUBCHAPTER D. SURFACE MINING PERMITS

§ 131.131. Permit Required for Operation

(a) No person may conduct a surface mining operation unless he first obtains a surface mining permit issued by the commission under this subchapter.

(b) An operator who was conducting a surface mining operation in this state after the expiration of 180 days following the promulgation of the initial rules under Section 131.026 of this code and who has filed a permit application in accordance with the provisions of this subchapter may continue to conduct the surface mining operation until the commission approves or denies his application.

On issuance of a final order revoking an operator's permit for failure to comply with an order of the commission to take action as required by this chapter or rules adopted under this chapter, the operator's performance bond shall be forfeited if it is determined that forfeiture is necessary to reclaim land disturbed by the operator's surface mining operation.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2628, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

(b) The advertisement shall be considered part of any bond release application and shall include:

- (1) notice of the location and boundaries of the land affected;

(b) The evaluation shall consider among other things:

- (1) the degree of difficulty to complete remaining reclamation;
- (2) whether pollution of surface and subsurface water is occurring;
- (3) the probability of continuance or future occurrence of pollution; and
- (4) the estimated cost of abating pollution.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2628, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 131.211. Basis for Release of Bond or Deposit

The commission may release in whole or part the bond or deposit if it is satisfied that reclamation covered by the bond or deposit or a portion of the bond or deposit has been accomplished as required by this chapter according to the following schedule:

- (1) when the operator completes required backfilling, regrading, and drainage control of a bonded area as provided in his approved reclamation plan, the commission may authorize the release of up to 75 percent of the bond or substitute collateral for the applicable permit area, provided the amount of the unreleased portion of the bond or substitute collateral is not less than the amount necessary to assure completion of the reclamation work by a third party in the event of forfeiture; and

(2) when the operator has successfully completed the remaining reclamation activities, but not before the expiration of the period specified for operator responsibility in Section 131.102 of this code, the commission may release the remaining portion of the bond or substitute collateral, provided that no bond is fully released until all reclamation requirements of this chapter are fully met.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2628, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

(b) The objections must be filed with the commission within 30 days after the last publication of notice as provided in Section 131.209 of this code.

(c) If the commission determines that the application is of a significance sufficient to warrant a public hearing considering the objections that have been filed, the commission shall hold a public hearing.

SUBCHAPTER G. ENFORCEMENT

§ 131.261. Conditions, Practices, and Violations Creating Imminent Danger or Causing Imminent Harm

(a) On the basis of any inspection, if the commission or its authorized representative or agent determines that a condition or practice exists or that a permittee is in violation of a requirement of this chapter or a permit condition required by this chapter, and that this condition, practice, or violation also creates an imminent danger to the health or safety of the public or is causing or can reasonably be expected to cause significant imminent harm to land, air, or water resources, a member of the commission shall immediately order a cessation of surface mining operations on the portion of the area relevant to the condition, practice, or violation.

(b) The cessation order shall set a time and place for a hearing to be held before the commission and shall be held as soon after the order is issued as is practicable.

(c) The requirements of Section 131.159 of this code relating to time for notice, newspaper notice, and method of giving notice do not apply to a hearing under this section, but general notice shall be given in the manner that the commission judges to be practicable under the circumstances.

(d) No more than 24 hours after the commencement of the hearing and without adjournment, the commission shall affirm, modify, or set aside the order.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2630, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

(a) On the basis of an inspection, if the commission or its authorized representative or agent determines that a permittee is in violation of a requirement of this chapter or a permit condition required by this chapter, but the violation does not create an imminent danger to the health or safety of the public or is not causing or reasonably expected to cause significant imminent harm to land, air, or water resources, the commission shall issue a notice to the permittee or his agent setting a reasonable time not to exceed 30 days for the abatement of the violation.

(b) If, on expiration of the period of time as originally set or subsequently extended, for good cause shown, and on written finding of the commission, the commission finds that the violation has not been abated, it may order a cessation of surface mining operations on the portion of this area relevant to the violation. However, if requested by the operator, a hearing must be held prior to a commission finding or order.

(c) The cessation order shall remain in effect until the commission determines that the violation has been abated or until modified, vacated, or terminated by the commission under Section 131.263 of this code.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2631, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 131.263. Continuous Violations

(a) On the basis of an inspection, if the commission has reason to believe that a pattern of violations of any requirements of this chapter or any permit conditions required by this chapter exists or has existed, and if the commission also finds that these violations are caused by the unwarranted failure of the permittee to comply with requirements of this chapter or permit conditions or that the violations are wilfully caused by the permittee, the commission shall issue an order to the permittee forthwith to show cause as to why the permit should not be suspended or revoked.

(b) The order shall set a time and place for a public hearing to be held in accordance with the notice and procedural requirements of Sections 131.159 through 131.164 of this code.

(b) The action shall be brought in a district court in Travis County or in the county in which the greater portion of the surface mining and reclamation operation is located.

(c) The court has jurisdiction to provide the relief that is appropriate, and relief granted by the court to enforce Subdivision (1) of Subsection (a) of this section shall continue in effect until the completion or final termination of all proceedings for review of the order under this chapter unless before that time the district court granting the relief sets the order aside or modifies it.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2632, ch. 871, art. I, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

§ 132.002. Text of Compact

The Interstate Mining Compact reads as follows:

INTERSTATE MINING COMPACT

ARTICLE I. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES

(a) The party states find that:

(1) Mining and the contributions thereof to the economy and well-being of every state are of basic significance.

(2) The effects of mining on the availability of land, water, and other resources for other uses present special problems which properly can be approached only with due consideration for the rights and interests of those engaged in mining, those using or proposing to use these resources for other purposes, and the public.

(3) Measures for the reduction of the adverse effects of mining on land, water, and other resources may be costly and the devising of means to deal with them are of both public and private concern.

(4) Such variables as soil structure and composition, physiography, climatic conditions, and the needs of the public make impracticable the application to all mining areas of a single standard for the conservation, adaptation, or restoration of mined land, or the development of mineral and other natural resources, but justifiable requirements of law and practice relating to the effects of mining on land, water, and other resources may be reduced in equity or effectiveness unless they pertain similarly from state to state for all mining operations similarly situated.

(5) The states are in a position and have the responsibility to assure that mining shall be conducted in accordance with sound conservation principles and with due regard for local conditions.

(b) The purposes of this compact are to:

(1) advance the protection and restoration of land, water, and other resources affected by mining;

(2) assist in the reduction or elimination or counteracting of pollution or deterioration of land, water, and air attributable to mining;

(3) encourage, with due recognition of relevant regional, physical, and other differences, programs in each of the party states which will achieve comparable results in protecting, conserving, and improving the usefulness of natural resources, to the end that the most desirable conduct of mining and related operations may be universally facilitated;

(4) assist the party states in their efforts to facilitate the use of land and other resources affected by mining, so that such use may be consistent with sound land use, public health, and public safety, and to this end to study and recommend, wherever desirable, techniques for the improvement, restoration, or protection of such land and other resources;

(5) assist in achieving and maintaining an efficient and productive mining industry and in increasing economic and other benefits attributable to mining.

ARTICLE II. DEFINITIONS

As used in this compact, the term:

(a) "Mining" means the breaking of the surface soil in order to facilitate or accomplish the extraction or removal of minerals, ores, or other solid matter, any activity or process constituting all or part of a process for the extraction or removal of minerals, ores, and other solid matter from its original location, and the preparation, washing, cleaning, or other treatment of minerals, ores, or other solid matter so as to make them suitable for commercial, industrial, or construction use; but shall not include those aspects of deep mining not having significant effect on the surface, and shall not include excavation or grading when conducted solely in aid of on-site farming or construction.

(b) "State" means a state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or a territory or possession of the United States.

ARTICLE III. STATE PROGRAMS

Each party state agrees that within a reasonable time it will formulate and establish an effective program for the conservation and use of mined land, by the establishment of standards, enactment of laws, or the continuing of the same in force, to accomplish:

(a) the protection of the public and the protection of adjoining and other landowners from damage to their land and the structures and other property thereon resulting from the conduct of mining operations or the abandonment or neglect of land and property formerly used in the conduct of such operations;

(b) the conduct of mining and the handling of refuse and other mining wastes in ways that will reduce adverse effects on the economic, residential, recreational, or aesthetic value and utility of land and water;

(c) the institution and maintenance of suitable programs of adaptation, restoration, and rehabilitation of mined land;

(d) the prevention, abatement, and control of water, air, and soil pollution resulting from mining, present, past, and future.

ARTICLE IV. POWERS

In addition to any other powers conferred on the Interstate Mining Commission established by Article V of this compact, such commission shall have power to:

(a) study mining operations, processes, and techniques for the purpose of gaining knowledge concerning the effects of such operations, processes, and techniques on land, soil, water, air, plant and animal life, recreation, and patterns of community or regional development or change;

(b) study the conservation, adaptation, improvement, and restoration of land and related resources affected by mining;

(c) make recommendations concerning any aspect or aspects of law or practice and governmental administration dealing with matters within the purview of this compact;

(d) gather and disseminate information relating to any of the matters within the purview of this compact;

(e) cooperate with the federal government and any public or private entities having interest in any subject coming within the purview of this compact;

(f) consult, on the request of a party state and within resources available therefor, with the officials of such state in respect to any problem within the purview of this compact;

(g) study and make recommendations with respect to any practice, process techniques, or course of action that may improve the efficiency of mining or the economic yield from mining operations;

(h) study and make recommendations relating to the safeguarding of access to resources which are or may become the subject of mining operations to the end that the needs of the economy for the products of mining may not be adversely affected by unplanned or inappropriate use of land and other resources containing minerals or otherwise connected with actual or potential mining sites.

ARTICLE V. THE COMMISSION

(a) There is hereby created an agency of the party states to be known as the "Interstate Mining Commission," hereinafter called "the commission." The commission shall be composed of one commissioner from each party state who shall be the governor thereof. Pursuant to the laws of his party state, each governor shall have the assistance of any advisory body (including membership from mining industries, conservation interests, and such other public and private interests as may be appropriate) in considering problems relating to mining and in discharging his responsibilities as the commissioner of his state on the commission. In any instance where a governor is unable to attend a meeting of the commission or perform any other function in connection with the business of the commission, he shall designate an alternate, from among the members of the advisory body required by this paragraph, who shall represent him and act in his place and stead. The designation of an alternate shall be communicated by the governor to the commission in such manner as its bylaws may provide.

(b) The commissioners shall be entitled to one vote each on the commission. No action of the commission making a recommendation pursuant to Articles IV(c), IV(g), and IV(h) of this compact, or requesting, accepting, or disposing of funds, services, or other property pursuant to this paragraph or Article V(g), V(h), or VII of this compact, shall be valid unless taken at a meeting at which a majority of the total number of votes on the commission is cast in favor thereof. All other action shall be by a majority of those present and voting; provided that action of the commission shall be only at a meeting at which a majority of the commissioners, or their alternates, is present. The commission may establish and maintain such facilities as may be necessary for the transacting of its business. The commission may acquire, hold, and convey real and personal property and any interest therein.

(c) The commission shall have a seal.

(d) The commission shall elect annually, from among its members, a chairman, a vice-chairman, and a treasurer. The commission shall appoint an executive director and fix his duties and compensation. Such executive director shall serve at the pleasure of the commission. The executive director, the treasurer, and such other personnel as the commission shall designate shall be bonded. The amount or amounts of such bond or bonds shall be determined by the commission.

(e) Irrespective of the civil service, personnel, or other merit system laws of any of the party states, the executive director with the approval of the commission, shall appoint, remove, or discharge such personnel as may be necessary for the performance of the commission's functions, and shall fix the duties and compensation of such personnel.

(f) The commission may establish and maintain independently or in conjunction with a party state, a suitable retirement system for its employees. Employees of the commission shall be eligible for social security coverage in respect of old age and survivor's insurance provided that the commission takes such steps as may be necessary pursuant to the laws of the United States, to participate in such program of insurance as a governmental agency or unit. The commission may establish and maintain or participate in such additional programs of employee benefits as it may deem appropriate.

(g) The commission may borrow, accept, or contract for the services of personnel from any state, the United States, or any other governmental agency, or from any person, firm, association, or corporation.

(h) The commission may accept for any of its purposes and functions under this compact any and all donations, and grants of money, equipment, supplies, materials, and service, conditional or otherwise, from any state, the United States, or any other governmental agency, or from any person, firm, association, or corporation, and may receive, utilize, and dispose of the same. Any donation or grant accepted by the commission pursuant to this paragraph or services borrowed pursuant to Paragraph (g) of this article shall be reported in the annual report of the commission. Such report shall include the nature, amount, and conditions, if any, of the donation, grant, or services borrowed and the identity of the donor or lender.

(i) The commission shall adopt bylaws for the conduct of its business and shall have the power to amend and rescind these bylaws. The commission shall publish its bylaws in convenient form and shall file a copy thereof and a copy of any amendment thereto, with the appropriate agency or officer in each of the party states.

(j) The commission annually shall make to the governor, legislature, and advisory body required by Article V(a) of each party state a report covering the activities of the commission for the preceding year, and embodying such recommendations as may have been made by the commission. The commission may make such additional reports as it may deem desirable.

ARTICLE VI. ADVISORY, TECHNICAL, AND REGIONAL COMMITTEES

The commission shall establish such advisory, technical, and regional committees as it may deem necessary, membership on which shall include private persons and public officials, and shall cooperate with and use the services of any such committees and the organizations which the members represent in furthering any of its activities. Such committees may be formed to consider problems of special interest to any party states, problems dealing with particular commodities or types of mining operations, problems related to reclamation, development, or use of mined land, or any other matters of concern to the commission.

ARTICLE VII. FINANCE

(a) The commission shall submit to the governor or designated officer or officers of each party state a budget of its estimated expenditures for such period as may be required by the laws of that party state for presentation to the legislature thereof.

(b) Each of the commission's budgets of estimated expenditures shall contain specific recommendations of the amount or amounts to be appropriated by each of the party states. The total amount of appropriations requested under any such budget shall be apportioned among the party states as follows: one-half in equal shares, and the remainder in proportion to the value of minerals, ores, and other solid matter mined. In determining such values, the commission shall employ such available public source or sources of information as, in its judgment, present the most equitable and accurate comparisons among the party states. Each of the commission's budgets of estimated expenditures and requests for appropriations shall indicate the source or sources used in obtaining information concerning value of minerals, ores, and other solid matter mined.

(c) The commission shall not pledge the credit of any party state. The commission may meet any of its obligations in whole or in part with funds available to it under Article V(h) of this compact; provided that the commission takes specific action setting aside such funds prior to incurring any obligation to be met in whole or in part in such manner. Except where the commission makes use of funds available to it under Article V(h) of this compact, the commission shall not incur any obligation prior to the allotment of funds by the party states adequate to meet the same.

(d) The commission shall keep accurate accounts of all receipts and disbursements. The receipts and disbursements of the commission shall be subject to the audit and accounting procedures established under its bylaws. All receipts and disbursements of funds handled by the commission shall be audited yearly by a qualified public accountant and the report of the audit shall be included in and become part of the annual report of the commission.

(e) The accounts of the commission shall be open at any reasonable time for inspection by duly constituted officers of the party states and by any persons authorized by the commission.

SUBCHAPTER A. PURPOSE AND POLICY

§ 1.001. Purpose of Code

(a) This code is enacted as a part of the state's continuing statutory revision program, begun by the Texas Legislative Council in 1963 as directed by the legislature in Chapter 488, Acts of the 58th Legislature, 1963 (Article 5429b—1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). The program contemplates a topic-by-topic revision of the state's general and permanent statute law without substantive change.

(b) Consistent with the objectives of the statutory revision program, the purpose of this code is to make the general and permanent parks and wildlife law more accessible and understandable by:

- (1) rearranging the statutes into a more logical order;
- (2) employing a format and numbering system designed to facilitate citation of the law and to accommodate future expansion of the law;
- (3) eliminating repealed, duplicative, unconstitutional, expired, executed, and other ineffective provisions; and
- (4) restating the law in modern American English to the greatest extent possible.

[Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1405, ch. 545, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

SUBCHAPTER A. PUBLIC AND PRIVATE OYSTER BEDS

§ 76.001. Natural Oyster Bed

(a) A natural oyster bed exists when at least five barrels of oysters are found within 2,500 square feet of any position on a reef or bed.

(b) In this section, a barrel of oysters is equal to three boxes of oysters in the shell. The dimensions of a box are 10 inches by 20 inches by 13-½ inches. In filling a box for measurement, the oysters may not be piled more than 2-½ inches above the height of the box at the center. Two gallons of shucked oysters without shells equals one barrel of oysters in the shell.

[Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1405, ch. 545, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

§ 76.002. Designation of Public and Private Beds

(a) All natural oyster beds are public.

(b) All oyster beds not designated as private are public.

[Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1405, ch. 545, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

§ 76.003. Beds Subject to Location

Except as provided in Section 76.004 of this code, an oyster bed or reef, other than a natural oyster bed, is subject to location by the department. This section does not apply to a bed or reef that has been exhausted within an eight-year period.

[Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1405, ch. 545, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

§ 76.004. Riparian Rights

(a) The lawful occupant of a grant of land in this state has the exclusive right to use any creek, bayou, lake, or cove included within the metes and bounds of the original grant for the planting or sowing of oysters.

(b) If the creek, bayou, lake, or cove is not included in the original grant, a riparian owner has an exclusive right in the creek, bayou, lake, or cove for the planting and sowing of oysters to the middle of the creek, bayou, lake, or cove or to 100 yards from the shore, whichever distance is shorter.

(c) The right of a riparian owner of land along any bay shore in this state to plant oysters extends 100 yards into the bay from the high-water mark or from where the land survey ceases. The right to a natural oyster bed under this subsection is not exclusive.

[Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1405, ch. 545, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

§ 76.005. Affidavit of Riparian Rights

(a) The department may require the owner of riparian rights described in Section 76.004 of this code when offering oysters for sale to make an affidavit stating that the oysters were produced on his property.

(b) The failure of an owner of riparian rights described in Section 76.004(a) of this code to have an affidavit when required by the department or to show it to a game management officer on request or to the person to whom the oysters are offered for sale when required by the department is prima facie evidence that the oysters were produced from public beds.

[Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1405, ch. 545, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

§ 76.006. Application for Location; Fee

No person may own, lease, or control more than 100 acres of land covered by water under certificates of location.

[Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1405, ch. 545, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

§ 76.008. Lease or Control by Foreign Corporation Prohibited

(a) In making a location, the surveyor shall plant two iron stakes or pipes having a diameter of not less than two inches on the shoreline nearest to the proposed location, so that one stake or pipe is at each end of the location. The stakes or pipes shall be set at least three feet in the ground and with reference to bearings of at least three permanent objects or natural landmarks.

(b) The locator shall place and maintain, under the direction of the department, a buoy at each corner of the location farthest from the land.

[Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1405, ch. 545, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

§ 76.012. Locator's Certificate

(a) The department shall issue to each locator a certificate signed and sealed by the director.

(b) The certificate must contain:

- (1) the date of the application;
- (2) the date of the survey; and

§ 76.013. Survey Fee

(a) Before delivery of the certificate, the locator shall pay to the department the surveyor's fee and other costs of establishing the location.

(b) The amount of the fee required by Section 76.006(c) of this code may be deducted from the amount owed to the department under this section.

(c) If the amount paid under Section 76.006(c) of this code exceeds the amount owed under this section, the difference shall be returned to the locator.

certificate with the county clerk of the county of the location.

(b) The clerk shall file the certificate in a well-bound book kept for that purpose and shall return the original certificate and a registration receipt to the locator. The clerk is entitled to receive as a fee for filing the certificate the same fee as for recording deeds.

(c) The original certificate and certified copies of it are admissible in court under the same rules governing the admissibility of deeds and certified copies of deeds.

[Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1405, ch. 545, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

§ 76.015. Rights of Locator

(a) The holder of a certificate of location as provided for in Section 76.012 of this code is protected in his possession of the location against trespass in the same manner as are freeholders.

(b) This section applies only as long as the stakes or pipes and buoys required by this chapter are maintained in their correct positions and the locator complies with the law and the regulations governing the fish and oyster industries.

[Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1405, ch. 545, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

§ 91.008. Text of Compact

The Gulf States Marine Fisheries Compact reads as follows:

GULF STATES MARINE FISHERIES COMPACT

The contracting states solemnly agree:

ARTICLE I

Whereas the Gulf Coast States have the proprietary interest in and jurisdiction over fisheries in the waters within their respective boundaries, it is the purpose of this compact to promote the better utilization of the fisheries, marine, shell and anadromous, of the seaboard of the Gulf of Mexico, by the development of a joint program for the promotion and protection of such fisheries and the prevention of the physical waste of the fisheries from any cause.

ARTICLE II

This compact shall become operative immediately as to those states ratifying it whenever any two or more of the states of Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas have ratified it and the Congress has given its consent, pursuant to Article I, Section 10 of the Constitution of the United States. Any state contiguous to any of the aforementioned states or riparian upon waters which flow into waters under the jurisdiction of any of the aforementioned States and which are frequented by anadromous fish or marine species, may become a party hereto as hereinafter provided.

ARTICLE III

Each state joining herein shall appoint three representatives to a commission hereby constituted and designated as the Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission. One shall be the head of the administrative agency of such State charged with the conservation of the fishery resources to which this compact pertains; or, if there be more than one officer or agency, the official of that State named by the Governor thereof. The second shall be a member of the Legislature of such State designated by such Legislature, or in the absence of such designation, such legislator shall be designated by the Governor thereof; provided that if it is constitutionally impossible to appoint a legislator as a commissioner from such State, the second member shall be appointed in such manner as may be established by law. The third shall be a citizen who shall have a knowledge of and interest in the marine fisheries, to be appointed by the Governor. This commission shall be a body corporate with the powers and duties set forth herein.

ARTICLE IV

The duty of the said commission shall be to make inquiry and ascertain from time to time such methods, practices, circumstances and conditions as may be disclosed for bringing about the conservation and the prevention of the depletion and physical waste of the fisheries, marine, shell and anadromous, of the Gulf Coast. The commission shall have power to recommend the coordination of the exercise of the police powers of the several States within their respective jurisdictions to promote the preservation of these fisheries and their protection against over-fishing, waste, depletion or any abuse whatsoever, and to assure a continuing yield from the fishery resources of the aforementioned States. To that end the commission shall draft and recommend to the Governors and Legislatures of the various signatory States, legislation dealing with the conservation of the marine, shell and anadromous fisheries of the Gulf seaboard. The commission shall from time to time present to the Governor of each compacting State its recommendations relating to enactments to be presented to the Legislature of that State in furthering the interest and purposes of this compact. The commission shall consult with and advise the pertinent administrative agencies in the States party hereto with regard to problems connected with the fisheries, and recommend the adoption of such regulations as it deems advisable. The commission shall have power to recommend to the States party hereto the stocking of the waters of such States with fish and fish eggs or joint stocking by some or all of the States party hereto, and when two or more States shall jointly stock waters the commission shall act as the coordinating agency for such stocking.

ARTICLE V

The commission shall elect from its number a chairman and vice-chairman and shall appoint, and at its pleasure remove or discharge, such officers and employees as may be required to carry the provisions of this compact into effect and shall fix and determine their duties, qualifications and compensation. Said commission shall adopt rules and regulations for the conduct of its business. It may establish and maintain one or more offices for the transaction of its business, and may meet at any time or place; but must meet at least once a year.

ARTICLE VI

No action shall be taken by the commission in regard to its general affairs except by the affirmative vote of a majority of the whole number of compacting States. No recommendation shall be made by the commission in regard to any species of fish except by the affirmative vote of a majority of the compacting States which have an interest in such species. The commission shall define what shall be an interest.

ARTICLE VII

The Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior of the Government of the United States shall act as the primary research agency of the Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission, cooperating with the research agencies in each State for that purpose. Representatives of the said Fish and Wildlife Service shall attend the meetings of the commission. An advisory committee to be representative of the commercial salt water fishermen and the salt water anglers and such other interests of each State as the commissioners deem advisable may be established by the commissioners from each State for the purpose of advising those commissioners upon such recommendations as it may desire to make.

ARTICLE VIII

When any State, other than those named specifically in Article II of this compact, shall become a party hereto for the purpose of conserving its anadromous fish or marine species in accordance with the provisions of Article II, the participation of such State in the action of the commission shall be limited to such species of fish.

ARTICLE IX

Nothing in this compact shall be construed to limit the powers of the proprietary interest of any signatory State, or to repeal or prevent the enactment of any legislation or the enforcement of any requirement by a signatory State, imposing additional conditions and restrictions to conserve its fisheries.

ARTICLE X

It is agreed that any two or more States party hereto may further amend this compact by acts of their respective Legislatures, subject to approval of Congress as provided in Article I, Section X, of the Constitution of the United States, to designate the Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission as a joint regulating authority for the joint regulation of specific fisheries affecting only such States as shall so compact, and at their joint expense. The representatives of such States shall constitute a separate section of the Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission for the exercise of the additional powers so granted, but the creation of such section shall not be deemed to deprive the States so compacting of any of their privileges or powers in the Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission as constituted under the other Articles of this compact.

ARTICLE XI

Continued absence of representation or of any representative on the commission from any State party hereto, shall be brought to the attention of the Governor thereof.

ARTICLE XII

The operating expenses of the Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission shall be borne by the States party hereto. Such initial appropriation as set forth below shall be made available yearly until modified as hereinafter provided:

Florida	$3,500.00
Alabama	1,000.00
Mississippi	1,000.00
Louisiana	5,000.00
Texas	2,500.00
Total	$13,000.00

The proration and total cost per annum of Thirteen Thousand ($13,000.00) Dollars, above mentioned, is estimative only, for initial operations, and may be changed when found necessary by the commission and approved by the Legislatures of the respective States. Each State party hereto agrees to provide in the manner most acceptable to it, the travel costs and necessary expenses of its commissioners and other representatives to and from meetings of the commission or its duly constituted sections or committees.

ARTICLE XIII

This compact shall continue in force and remain binding upon each compacting State until renounced by Act of the Legislature of such State, in such form as it may choose; provided that such renunciation shall not become effective until six months after the effective date of the action taken by the Legislature. Notice of such renunciation shall be given the other States party hereto by the Secretary of State of compacting State so renouncing upon passage of the Act.

PENAL CODE

TITLE 10. OFFENSES AGAINST PUBLIC HEALTH, SAFETY, AND MORALS

Chapter Section
48. Conduct Affecting Public Health [NEW] --48.01

TITLE 11. ORGANIZED CRIME [NEW]

71. Organized Crime [NEW] -----71.01

TITLE 1. INTRODUCTORY PROVISIONS

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 1.07. Definitions

(a) In this code:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of (1)]

(2) "Suspect" means a person whose criminal responsibility is in issue in a criminal action. Whenever the term "actor" is used in this code, it means "suspect".

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of (3) to (9)]

(9.1) "Corporation" includes nonprofit corporations, professional associations created pursuant to statute, and joint stock companies.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of (10) to (b)]

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 912, ch. 342, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2123, ch. 848, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Saving provisions. Section 17 of the 1975 Act provided:

"(a) Except as provided in Subsections (b) and (c) of this section, this Act applies only to offenses committed on or after its effective date, and a criminal action for an offense committed before this Act's effective date is governed by the law existing before the effective date, which law is continued in effect for this purpose, as if this Act were not in force. For purposes of this section, an offense is committed on or after the effective date of this Act if any element of the offense occurs on or after the effective date.

"(b) Conduct constituting an offense under existing law that is repealed by this Act and that does not constitute an offense under this Act may not be prosecuted after the effective date of this Act. If, on the effective date of this Act, a criminal action is pending for conduct that was an offense under the laws repealed by this Act and that does not constitute an offense under this Act, the action is dismissed on the effective date of this Act. However, a conviction existing on the effective date of this Act for conduct constituting an offense under laws repealed by this Act is valid and unaffected by this Act. For purposes of this section, "conviction" means a finding of guilt in a court of competent jurisdiction, and it is of no consequence that the conviction is not final.

"(c) In a criminal action pending on or commenced on or after the effective date of this Act, for an offense committed before the effective date, the defendant, if adjudged guilty, shall be assessed punishment under this Act if he so elects by written motion filed with the trial court before the sentencing hearing begins."

CHAPTER 2. BURDEN OF PROOF

§ 2.05. Presumption

When this code or another penal law establishes a presumption with respect to any fact, it has the following consequences:

(1) if there is sufficient evidence of the facts that give rise to the presumption, the issue of the existence of the presumed fact must be submitted to the jury, unless the court is satisfied that the evidence as a whole clearly precludes a finding beyond a reasonable doubt of the presumed fact; and

(2) if the existence of the presumed fact is submitted to the jury, the court shall charge the jury, in terms of the presumption and the specific element to which it applies, as follows:

(A) that the facts giving rise to the presumption must be proven beyond a reasonable doubt;

(B) that if such facts are proven beyond a reasonable doubt the jury may find that the element of the offense sought to be presumed exists, but it is not bound to so find;

(C) that even though the jury may find the existence of such element, the state must prove beyond a reasonable doubt each of the other elements of the offense charged; and

(D) if the jury has a reasonable doubt as to the existence of a fact or facts giving rise to the presumption, the presumption fails and the jury shall not consider the presumption for any purpose.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 912, ch. 342, § 2, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

For saving provisions see note set out under Section 1.07.

(2) a violation of a penal statute cognizable under Chapter 302, Acts of the 55th Legislature, Regular Session, 1957, as amended, except conduct which violates the laws of this state prohibiting driving while intoxicated or under the influence of intoxicating liquor (first or subsequent offense) or driving while under the influence of any narcotic drug or of any other drug to a degree which renders him incapable of safely driving a vehicle (first or subsequent offense); or

(3) a violation of a motor vehicle traffic ordinance of an incorporated city or town in this state.

(c) Unless the juvenile court waives jurisdiction and certifies the individual for criminal prosecution, a person who has been alleged in a petition for an adjudication hearing to have engaged in delinquent conduct or conduct indicating a need for supervision may not be prosecuted for or convicted of any offense alleged in the juvenile court petition or any offense within the knowledge of the juvenile court judge as evidenced by anything in the record of the juvenile court proceedings.

(d) No person may, in any case, be punished by death for an offense committed while he was younger than 17 years.

(1) the device is not designed to cause, or known by the actor to create a substantial risk of causing, death or serious bodily injury; and

(2) use of the device is reasonable under all the circumstances as the actor reasonably believes them to be when he installs the device.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 1 for text of (a)]

(2) $10,000 if the offense is a Class A or Class B misdemeanor; or

(3) $2,000 if the offense is a Class C misdemeanor.

(c) In lieu of the fines authorized by Subsections (a) and (b)(1) and (b)(2) of this section, if a court finds that the corporation or association gained money or property or caused personal injury, property damage, or other loss through the commission of a felony or Class A or Class B misdemeanor, the court may sentence the corporation or association to pay a fine in an amount fixed by the court, not to exceed double the amount gained or caused by the corporation to be lost, whichever is greater.

(d) In addition to any sentence that may be imposed by this section, a corporation that has been adjudged guilty of an offense may be ordered by the court to give notice of the conviction to any person the court deems appropriate.

CHAPTER 15. PREPARATORY OFFENSES

(a) A person commits an offense if, with specific intent to commit an offense, he does an act amounting to more than mere preparation that tends but fails to effect the commission of the offense intended.

(b) If a person attempts an offense that may be aggravated, his conduct constitutes an attempt to commit the aggravated offense if an element that aggravates the offense accompanies the attempt.

§ 21.09. Rape of a Child

(a) A person commits an offense if he has sexual intercourse with a female not his wife and she is younger than 17 years.

(b) It is a defense to prosecution under this section that the female was at the time of the alleged offense 14 years or older and had, prior to the time of the alleged offense, engaged promiscuously in sexual intercourse or deviate sexual intercourse.

sexual abuse, and aggravated sexual abuse) only if, and only to the extent that, the judge finds that the evidence is material to a fact at issue in the case and that its inflammatory or prejudicial nature does not outweigh its probative value.

(b) If the defendant proposes to ask any question concerning specific instances, opinion evidence, or reputation evidence of the victim's sexual conduct, either by direct examination or cross-examination of any witness, the defendant must inform the court out of the hearing of the jury prior to asking any such question. After this notice, the court shall conduct an in camera hearing, recorded by the court reporter, to determine whether the proposed evidence is admissible under Subsection (a) of this section. The court shall determine what evidence is admissible and shall accordingly limit the questioning. The defendant shall not go outside these limits nor refer to any evidence ruled inadmissible in camera without prior approval of the court without the presence of the jury.

(c) The court shall seal the record of the in camera hearing required in Subsection (b) of this section for delivery to the appellate court in the event of an appeal.

(d) This section does not limit the right of the state or the accused to impeach credibility by showing prior felony convictions nor the right of the accused to produce evidence of promiscuous sexual conduct of a child 14 years old or older as a defense to rape of a child, sexual abuse of a child, or indecency with a child. If evidence of a previous felony conviction involving sexual conduct or evidence of promiscuous sexual conduct is admitted, the court shall instruct the jury as to the purpose of the evidence and as to its limited use.

An agreement constituting conspiring to commit may be inferred from the acts of the parties.

[Added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 922, ch. 346, § 1, eff. June 10, 1977.]

§ 71.02. Engaging in Organized Criminal Activity

(c) Conspiring to commit an offense under this section is of the same degree as the most serious offense listed in Subdivisions (1) through (5) of Subsection (a) of this section that the person conspired to commit.

[Added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 922, ch. 346, § 1, eff. June 10, 1977.]

(2) one or more members of the combination have been acquitted, have not been prosecuted or convicted, have been convicted of a different offense, or are immune from prosecution;

(3) a person has been charged with, acquitted, or convicted of any offense listed in Subsection (a) of Section 71.02 of this code; or

(b) Renunciation is not voluntary if it is motivated in whole or in part:

(1) by circumstances not present or apparent at the inception of the actor's course of conduct that increase the probability of detection or apprehension or that make more difficult the accomplishment of the objective; or

(2) by a decision to postpone the criminal conduct until another time or to transfer the criminal act to another but similar objective or victim.

(c) Evidence that the defendant withdrew from the combination before commission of an offense listed in Subdivisions (1) through (5) of Subsection (a) of Section 71.02 of this code and made substantial effort to prevent the commission of an offense listed in Subdivisions (1) through (5) of Subsection (a) of Section 71.02 of this code shall be admissible as mitigation at the hearing on punishment if he has been found guilty under Section 71.02 of this code, and in the event of a finding of renunciation under this subsection, the punishment shall be one grade lower than that provided under Section 71.02 of this code.
